If the "Good" Samaritan had used his "helping an Israelite" as a passport to enter into the congregation of Israel it would have been a clear Law violation. He did not do this. The lesson is clear; Stranger's who obey God's Law are to be treated Lawfully; those who violate God's law are to be treated as Law breakers.

Jesus Blesses The Rule

To reinforce the matter, we again repeat the basic rule that Jesus used:

> "Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not. But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Math 10:5.

One is to be as helpful to all as long as they do not step over the line and violate God's Commandments.

Two Kind's Of Missionaries

The Lawful Saxon is his own missionary to teach wayward Saxons to separate from all others and obey The WORD so that they might survive ("be saved"). Only when the Saxon is under the protective wings of The WORD will he be safe. Saxons who venture outside of The WORD's protection will die.[4]

The Empire sends missionaries for an entirely different reason. They are sent to teach the world the emperor's benign religious episcopacy, and learn to accept the emperor's wishes as if they were handed down by God.

Empire Religions

There are many empire religions today who are engaged in a never ending fight for supremacy.

Hindu - All empire religions, with modifications, use the Hindu religion as its model. It is the most ancient, the most sophisticated, the best organized, the most experienced, and it is believed to be the wealthiest. Its original home is in India and it is a union of over 5000 religions and over 400,000,000 gods. The key that keeps the various Hindu religions from fighting among themselves is Dharma.

4 "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

Buddhism - Buddhism is the Hindu missionary sect organized by King Asoka that took Dharma all over the world.

Tibetan Buddhist - Tibet has many monasteries and many missionaries. On several occasions Tibetan missionaries have gone to China and subverted the allegiance of the Chinese people from their rulers. To protect themselves China's rulers have been forced to kill many tens of millions of Chinese who chose to obey Tibetan monks rather than their own leaders. Recently, they occupied Tibet, destroyed many of its monasteries and temples. The Chinese have set up their own Chinese Tibetan Buddhist episcopacy and have appointed their own in-house Dali Lama.

Roman Catholic East - Both China and Japan permitted Jesuit missionaries to enter their lands and teach their empire religion. In both lands the result was the same. The converts preferred to obey the god of the missionaries rather than their own rulers. Two law systems were in operation at one time. The problem was solved by the extermination of millions of Catholic converts. To this day the Chinese government appoints their own Catholic bishops.

Roman Catholic West - The Roman Empire had many gods. The Roman emperor refereed their squabbles. This made the Roman emperor greater than the gods he judged. The Law handed down by the Roman Emperor was THE law. The system worked until the Christian sect grew in importance. They had their own Law system called The WORD. On-going conflict between Roman law and Christian Law almost brought Roman trade to a standstill. The matter was solved when Emperor Constantine incorporated Christianity as an empire religion with himself as its head. He appointed the popes and bishops and from then on god spoke the words of the emperor. The reading of the Christian Bible containing God's Commandments was banned. Rome then had one law, again.

Anglicanism - Rome claimed the lands of Europe and appointed kings to rule taxable entities called "countries". Roman Catholicism supported the king and the king sent tithes and taxes to Rome.

In England the king grew powerful and broke away from Rome. He appointed his own bishops, made himself pope, kept the taxes, destroyed the Catholic monasteries, suppressed the Catholic "gunpowder plot" to blow up the entire Anglican parliament, and made his own Law the only law of the land. The Catholic Church went underground for 200 years.

Presbyterianism - The Catholic Church owned Scotland. John Knox brought the Reformation to Scotland and the Scots signed the Covenant. They set up presbytery churches (rule from the bottom up) and called themselves Presbyterians. Their Law came straight from the Bible. Even the Scottish king bent his knee to The WORD.

Episcopal England took over presbytery Scotland. Two sets of Laws vied for supremacy. Anglican priests preached to great empty churches. Presbyterian ministers met in small overflowing churches, homes, and barns, and taught The WORD. The Scots listened, believed, and as a result they revolted against the episcopal law of the king - time after time. The episcopal English banned presbyterian meetings and churches were burned or boarded up. Meetings were then held in fields and forests. Revolts still continued. Presbyterian preachers were locked up en mass.[5] Renegade preachers still held "woods-coventicles", "field-coventicles", and "homecoventicles". Those caught attending these services were imprisoned, killed on the spot, or brought in chains to Edinburgh Castle. Large rewards were posted for renegade Presbyterian preachers who had escaped the general dragnet - dead or alive. Some escaped to America where they taught Patrick Henry and Tom Jefferson. Britain's inability to reconcile two law systems in one country caused the revolt that devastated Scotland and caused her loss of America.

English episcopalianism finally prevailed over Scottish presbyterianism. Scotland's Presbyterian Church in time gradually mutated into an obedient branch of Britain's empire religion which tolerated all religions and gods.

England - In England almost the identical thing happened as in Scotland. There was a rising of puritans demanding the right to live under God's Commandments. This was a direct challenge to the king. After initial success they were betrayed by the commander of their army, Oliver Cromwell, and were confiscated, imprisoned, and banished to America. An empire will not tolerate God's Law System because God's Law System excludes empire. The empire will do whatever is necessary to exist.

Lutheranism - The Roman Church was corrupt. It owned the land of Europe and was a tyrannical landlord both to the kings it had appointed and to the people. Reform minded Catholic priests, protected by local kings, began a Reformation. Teachers taught the people God's Commandments. Learning their rights, the people rose and demanded that Church land which once belonged to their ancestors be divided among them. The local kings wanted the church land for themselves, and threatened to abandon the reformers. The German religious reformer was forced to choose between the kings and the people. He chose the kings - and the kings promptly exterminated the revolting peasants. Reform Catholicism, now called Lutheranism, became a state religion whose leaders were appointed by the local kings and spoke with the voice of the kings.

The Protestant kings and the Catholic kings then waged a 30 year war over who was to rule the church lands and whose laws were to prevail. This war of "state-religion" vs "empire-religion" killed 90% of Germany's population and left the land destitute. It ended when there were not enough peasants left to fight the war. The terms were that Catholics living under Protestant rulers could leave and go to Catholic countries, or they could convert. Protestants living under Catholic Kings could leave to go to Protestant countries or they too could convert.

The alternative was to leave mixed populations of Protestants and Catholics each with their own set of Laws. Two sets of Laws would result in conflict. This is the reason that most German states are either almost entirely Catholic or Protestant today.

Methodism - The Anglican church grew corrupt. Anglican reformers organized and called themselves Methodists. It was another episcopal group - rule from the top down. Methodist missionaries were accepted where Anglican missionaries weren't. This group's missionaries made converts among many important Chinese government officials.

Scandinavia - Learning from history, the government of Sweden banned missionaries. The state religion is Lutheranism. Few attend the state church and the people are open to any belief - especially exotic beliefs of the Orient. They are also susceptible to the Judeo Christianity heard through the media.

Judeo-Christianity - The international merchant owned the media. He wished to expand and consolidate his markets without hindrance from local religious zealots.

To help do this he extended the use of his media to selected preachers on condition that follow their policies. One was that they teach Dharma - "without regard to race, creed, or national origin" - to the general population.

Another policy to be taught was that Jesus Christ was a Jew. Not a Judean, Israelite, or Hebrew, but a Jew! A people who once knew the difference between Edomites and Israelites, forgot.

The "rapture" was also agreeable. This 19th century heresy teaches that before the prophesied evil times come the "church" will be raptured. Thus, instead of staying to fight evil, Judeo- Christian converts can look to being raptured away from the world's problems.[6]

A third policy is that - never, never, NEVER will God's Commandment's be taught on the media. Parables - yes. Commandments - NO! The punishment for homosexuality, murder, kidnaping, or child molestation is never heard because when one repeats God's Commandments he is calling upon The WORD, and that is a strange God to the media owner. The stranger's god does not permit the calling on other strange gods.

The last policy is that the media owner, his people, or his policies and programs are never to be criticized - and they aren't. A cheap price to pay for the riches gained. The largest "christian" sect follows a god who did not exist in the last century.

Conclusion

An empire will not tolerate God's Law System because God's Law System excludes an empire. To exist, the empire will do whatever is necessary to suppress God's Kingdom.

The Hindu system of integrating opposing gods and converting them into friendly gods is the easiest way to suppress hostile religions. To do this the merchant makes available substantial endowments for colleges and seminaries that include Dharma in their curriculums. The result is that these colleges and seminaries churn out an army of fanatical Janissaries, who call themselves Christians, who war against God's Kingdom. These are the officers. Their followers are media converts. A less expensive or more fanatical army was never organized in such a short period of time.

One must distinguish between a teacher of The WORD and the counterfeit Empire priest. There are several ways;

* Fighting God - If a speaker argues against capital punishment when God's Law orders capitol punishment - he is an empire agent. A traitor to God. If he argues for God's Law, especially those Commandments disapproved by the king, he speaks for God. It must be either the one or the other. One cannot support God's Law System and the king's law system at the same time. The one excludes the other.

The Scottish presbyterian preachers of yesteryear knew their fate; follows of The WORD know theirs; an empire will not tolerate God's Law System because God's Law System excludes the empire. To exist, the empire will do whatever is necessary to suppress God's Law.

Until God's Kingdom is finally in place, two systems will exist on earth, each with its own priests; one will prevail. One must distinguish between the two, distinguish friend from foe.

> "The enemy is eager to destroy all that call upon the Lord. For he knoweth that upon the day that Israel shall repent, the kingdom of the enemy shall be brought to an end." Testament of Dan 2:16-17.

Empires self-destruct. Our present empire will self-destruct. When that happens we must stand ready to rebuild - and not rebuild another empire, but rebuild a Kingdom in the image of the The WORD - which is the God of the Saxon.

Letter From South Africa

The release of the names of whites being murdered daily is very demoralizing. I think that the real reason for releasing the names is to demoralize the Whites.

The black S. African army invaded Lesotho, a small sovereign mountain country. Lesotho's small army waited for them and shot them to pieces. The Lesothoans did not want them there. The communists in Lesotho had asked for help from our communist regime.

The grandiose ideas this regime has are really something. Mandela and Mbeki are forever flying somewhere to mediate other countries' problems. In the old days, we used to say a black will spend his bit of money to ride on a train. Now-a-days it seems they spend our last money to fly somewhere.

The Truth commission released a four volume report. Old Tutu in his bishop's apparel along with Mandela, did a "Mandela shuffle" on stage at the presentation. Tutu lifted his dress revealing spindly legs while doing the African rhythm. It caused a lot of hilarity.

The Dutch Reformed Church had their annual general synod. There is no difference here between these religious leaders and many corrupt politicians. Prof Pieter Potgieter with Johan Heynes were at the World Council of Churches in Canberra as observers. Heynes said that they longed to be back in the fold.

F.W. deKlerk married the Greek woman, Elita Georgiades, last Saturday. There are few standards left.

There was a meeting between Mandela and the SA Agriculture Union, supposedly about the violence against the farmers. Mandela spoke and said that all the problems are the farmer's own fault.

The ordinary schools are getting worse and private schools are thriving. We always had the old English private schools, then Afrikaans schools were established. Of late, we have many new white English colleges where former English schools are being swamped by blacks. There seems to be a limit to how much liberalism the English can endure.

With best wishes, K.J.

WHY? "Dear Richard Hoskins: In my heart I accept The WORD. My dilemma is that I know that it was Charlemagne bringing Christianity to Europe, as well as the Jews, that made us an on- your-knees soft people more concerned with the Stranger rather than our own people. Comments? G.M. - Florida

RKH: You are right. The religion of the conquered Germans was far closer to The WORD than the "empire religion" Emperor Charlemagne brought to help him rule. Empire religion is a one law system designed to rule different peoples and has little to do with Christianity. All kings try to install a state religion so that god will speak with the king's voice. Empires install "universalism" or an integrationist religion that includes everyone. Dissent is discouraged by eliminating competing religions and peoples as Charlemane did. Hinduism plus Dharma allows different religions to co-exist as long as they agree to obey the king and respect other religions. It avoids the rough stuff that went with Charlemagne's rule. The WORD has its own people made in its own image. Both The WORD and the "man" made in its image are the enemies of all other gods and all other religions. This is the problem today.

YUGOSLAVIA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; please explain to me why American politicians seem so intent on sticking their noses into the affairs of Yugoslavia?" H.J. - Indiana

RKH: Yugoslavia, China, and Europe are potential foes for the next war. Capitalism must always have an enemy waiting. After a country goes through its inflationary stage, and people have no more un-mortgaged property to pledge to borrow money into existence, prices drop and commerce stagnates. The people must be made to borrow money into existence even when they don't want to. What better way than a war? A tank costs a million and a plane ten million. It's quick cash. It's the only way capitalism knows to get out of a depression. See WAR CYCLES/PEACE CYCLES, Hoskins.

RELIGIOUS PC TRAINING: "67% of Lutherans agree or probably agree with the statement 'Although there are many religions in the world, most of them lead to the same God.' Also, 56% of respondents agree or probably agree with the statement 'God is satisfied if a person lives the best one can'" says the recently released "Lutheran Brotherhood's Survey of Lutheran Beliefs and Practices." (Christian News)

JEWISH ROOTS: "This is the third part of of a trilogy, having been preceded by biographies of Stalin and Trotsky. The author, a former orthodox Communist and three- star general in the Soviet Army ... became a Russian MP of liberal views. ... The Lenin biography is by far the sharpest in its criticism. ...

There is also an investigation into Lenin's ethnic origin. Here Volkogonov was able to come up with the fact that the founder of the Soviet state was the great-grandson of Moishe Itkovich Blank and the grandson of Srul Moishevick Blank. At his baptism Blank changed his name and patronymic to Aleksandr Dmitrievich. ... In a letter to Stalin, Anna, Lenin's elder sister, wrote: 'It is probably no secret for you that the research on our grandfather shows that he came from a poor Jewish family, that he was, as his baptismal certificate says, the son of a 'Zhitmir burgher, Moishe Blank'. ... Lenin's Jewish origins were 'further confirmation of the exceptional abilities of the Semitic tribe ... GUN CONTROL: From July 1, 1996 to June 30, 1997, armed robbery in Queensland increased by 23%. The disarmed home owners are not safer under the new uniform gun laws. The proponent of the gun legislation (Howard) attends public meetings in a flak jacket and goes jogging with gun toting bodyguards. (National Interest, Tony Pitt, ed. 79 Ferry

THE EMPIRE WAR AGAINST MAN

"God[1] said, Let us make man[2] in our image, after our likeness ... So God created man in his own image (the WORD), in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." Gen 1:26- 27. God made man to be both king and priest and to rule the world. God ruled supreme as King of Kings ruling man with his Commands.[3]

1 "His name is called The Word of God." Re 19:13

2 Heb: Adam - "He who blushes red." Strong's Concordance.

3 "Fear God and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccl: 12:13; "He that keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him." I John 2:4; "Keep all his commandments." Deu 26:18; "Keep my commandments and live." Pr 4:4; "If you love me, keep my commandments." John 14:15

In the event that God's Commandments were disobeyed - strict instructions were given as to how disobedience was to be punished.[4]

Kings Arrive

The WORD which was God was the supreme ruler and man was appointed to rule the earth as both king and priest under God's direction. The chain of authority was complete.

But, evil days came. Fallen angels called Devils came to earth and took daughters of man for wives and raised up a race of Naphidem-giants, giant in evil powers. These Strangers fought among themselves and they fought man. They taught man abortion, murder and weapons of war. They came in multitudes, each group having a king directing his subjects to their evil tasks. War was their avocation. With a king to direct them Strangers were formidable.

Nimrod

Sons of Man learned their evil ways. They, too, chose a king to rule them - one named Nimrod. Nimrod set the pattern for all kings who were to follow down through the ages. Here is his story:

> "And Cush the son of Ham the son of Noah, took a wife ... and she bare a son and they called his name Nimrod. ...

4 "Mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27; "Moses called the people together, with the women and children ... that they might engage themselves to the observation of these laws. ... that in case any one of their own blood, or any city, should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution of government, they should take vengeance upon them, both all in general, and each person in particular ... but that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills. So the multitude bound themselves by oath so to do." Antiquities 4:8:45

"And Nimrod ... fought the battles of his brethren against all their enemies round about. ... and ... all his brethren ... assembled to make him king over them ... And he set over his subjects and people, princes, judges and rulers, as is the custom amongst kings.

"(Nimrod's) kingdom became very great. And all nations and tongues ... brought him offerings, and he became their lord and king and they all dwelt with him in the city of Shinar, and Nimrod reigned in the earth over all the sons of Noah, and they were all under his power and counsel.

"... but Nimrod ... rebelled against the Lord, and taught all his subjects and the people of the earth his wicked ways." Jasher 7:23-46[5]

This has been the story of kings from the beginning until now. Kings are first made kings because they fight the battles of their people. Once they become kings they become as gods. They appoint princes, judges and rulers to rule their formerly free neighbors, who are now called subjects. They collect tribute (taxes) from these subjects. They conquer other peoples and tongues and build cities to stockpile these peoples. The conquered peoples also become their wage-slave servants, and as wage-slave-servants they no longer own their own self-sufficient- farms. The kings have taken them and given them to their favorites.

Lastly, kings are wicked. It is an occupational hazard. To do what kings do violates God's Commandments from the first. They fight God to continue doing what kings do.

5 "And king Nimrod reigned securely, and all the earth was under his control, and all the earth was of one tongue and words of union. And all the princes of Nimrod ... took counsel ... come let us build ourselves a city and in it a strong tower, and its top reaching heaven ... so that we may reign upon the whole world .... Whilst they were building against the Lord God of heaven, they imagined in their hearts to war against him and to ascend into heaven. ... (And the Lord smote them) And they ceased building the city and the tower; therefore he called that place Babel, for there the Lord confounded the language of the whole earth." Jasher 9:20-37

Man's Dilemma

In this manner Man is placed on the horns of a dilemma. To obey God man must oppose the king, which is to invite death. But, obey the king and oppose God is worse since the Scriptures say "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb 10:31. The Scriptures go on to say, "Fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Matt 10:28

Given this fearful choice - Man is forced to choose the one or the other. One man will choose to serve the king and win his earthly rewards; another will choose to serve God, believing "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

Israel Demands A King

Man did not learn from Nimrod's example. When a king of the Strangers confronted the Israelites with 900 chariots of iron and a great multitude of soldiers, the Israelites demanded a king to fight their battles for them.

In I Samuel 8:5 (1040 B.C.), the prophet Samuel commented on this wickedness of demanding a king.

> "When ye saw that Nahash the king of the children of Ammon came against you, ye said unto me, Nay; but a king shall reign over us: when the Lord your God was your king." I Samuel 12:12. He said; "Your wickedness is great, which ye have done in the sight of the Lord, in asking you a king." I Sam 12:17

God told Israel that if they insisted on having a king other than himself, evil things would result.[6]

Kings And Their Laws

Once again, each and every king has his own set of laws. If you have two kings ruling at the same time, each with his own set of Laws, there are two Law systems in force at the same time. Conflict is certain as the two law systems struggle for supremacy.

The Solution To Having Two Law Systems

God's solution to the evil of having earthly kings ruling man was to have the earthly kings study God's Law day and night[7] so that they might have the wisdom to rule. This is what kings are supposed to do. Obedience to God's WORD keeps kings from doing what they want to do. Power tends to corrupt and absolute power corrupts absolutely. History shows, with few exceptions, kings demand their way even when it defies God's Commandments.

6 "This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.... And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. ... He shall take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." I Sam 8:11-18

7 "When he sitteth upon the throne... he shall write a copy of this law... and he shall read therein... to keep all the words of this law... That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren." Deu 17:18-20

Buddhism - Religion Of Kings

Kings tend to support people and systems which support them. The religion created to tame gods and permit rulers to govern as they please is called Hinduism. Its missionary arm is Buddhism. Hinduism teaches that all gods are different manifestations of the same one great World Force. Buddhism teaches that all religions may join together simply by accepting Dharma - "non- violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to 'race, creed, or nationality." Dharma is the Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations in order to expedite trade.[8] When a king rules over many different peoples he is faced with a complex problem which Buddhism can solve for him. Many different peoples have many different gods - each with his own law system. These differing systems can slow down or stop trade. The king must have trade to support both himself and his followers. A referee is required for these competing law systems in order that trade not be stifled. The king insists that this referee be himself. As the judge of gods - the king becomes greater than the gods he judges. To be greater than God is what the king desires.

Kings organize Establishment Churches whose priests are paid agents of the king. By being given exemption from taxes, or in some other way, Establishment Priests are placed on the king's payroll. Their purpose is to Dharmatize God-fearing people into obedient subjects of the king. This is done by making people believe that all gods are the same and of equal worth. In this way the king subverts the people's God and turns their priests into enemies of both God and the people.

8 "Dharmitized - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma.

Evolution

The most successful weapon available to the king in recent years is the Evolution Theory. From the moment it emerged, it was promoted by government agencies, courts and state schools. It was also promoted by all institutions financed by the International Merchant. It was not taught as a theory, but taught as a proven fact. Those on the establishment's payroll were required to believe it and teach it. Evolution is not an optional belief.

The Evolution Theory states simply that man "evolved" rather than being created by God. A one-celled amoeba resulted from a cosmic explosion. This amoeba mutated into two cells, then into a fish, next into an amphibian and then into a monkey and finally into a man. In other words, man was created by the cosmic "bang" - not a God whose irritating Laws limit the king in everything he chooses to do. With God vanquished, his Law System collapses. This leaves only the law system of the king.[9]

Unfortunately for the Evolution Theory's scientific basis, neither Darwin nor any of his converts was ever able to produce something actually evolving from one thing into something else. Even the dinosaur, the supposed ancestor of many of today's creatures, said to have existed long before man, was found to be man's contemporary. Human footprints were discovered preserved in fossilized mud alongside dino-

9 This Evolution Theory was immediately accepted by Hindu priests worldwide. To them, "evolution" is a form of "reincarnation." A species is re-born in successive generations either in a higher or lower state depending on the "good" or "evil" of his past life. Hindu evolutionists redefine "good" and "evil" into scientific words more acceptable to the academic community, but which mean the same thing. "Evolution" became a re-interpretation of Hindu reincarnation. It satisfies the spiritual demands of Hindus who exist to serve kings. In this manner the Evolution Theory became a religious theory with a life of its own.

saur footprints. To further compound the problem, spear points were found embedded in dinosaur bones. This demolishes evolution from this direction, but the theory is state mandated; it has become part of the religion of king worship.

The king's propagandists ignore the final verdict on Evolution by its creator, Charles Darwin.

Charles Darwin's Death

Charles Darwin (1809-1882) lived a long work-filled life. His deathbed statement was recorded by a close friend:

> "It was one of those glorious autumn afternoons that we sometimes enjoy in England when I was asked to go in and sit with Charles Darwin. ...
> "He was sitting up in bed, propped up by pillows, gazing out on a far-stretching scene of woods and corn fields, which glowed in the light of a marvelous sunset.
>
> "'What are you reading now?' I asked.
>
> "'Hebrews,' he answered. 'The Royal Book I call it.'
>
> 'I made some allusion to the strong opinions expressed by many on the history of the Creation and then their treatment of the earlier chapters of the book of Genesis.'
>
> "He seemed distressed, his fingers twitched nervously and a look of agony come over his face as he said, 'I was a young man with uninformed ideas. I threw out queries, suggestions, wondering all the time about everything. To my astonishment the ideas (of evolution) took like wild-fire. People made a religion of them.'
> "Then he paused. ... 'I have a summer house in the garden which holds about thirty people. It is over there (pointing through the open window). I want you very much to speak there. I know you read the Bible in the villages. Tomorrow afternoon I should like the servants on the place, some tenants, and a few neighbors to gather there. Will you speak to them?'

"'What shall I speak about?' I (Lady Hope) asked.

"'Jesus Christ ... and His Salvation. Is not that the best theme?'[10]

It has been more than a century since Charles Darwin died. The king, his hirelings, and his media have united in suppressing Charles Darwin's opinion of his own Theory of Evolution. The theory is kept alive to destroy the authority of God's Commandments. Once God and his Law system is replaced by the king's edicts, then, the king's authority becomes the undisputed "law of the land". The War against God is won and all else becomes only a mopping-up exercise. Forgotten is God's warning;

"Fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Matt 10:28

Open Warfare Against The WORD

HR readers have long known that the objective of the international merchant is to sell as much merchandise as possible for as high a price as possible to as many customers as possible in the shortest space of time possible. To accomplish this he hires kings to remove political barriers and priests to remove religious barriers.

There is something even more basic than the Stranger's insatiable craving for money; the Scriptures say that the Satan-Stranger wishes to destroy man from off the face of the earth.

From the beginning his plan has been to make Adam-man fight his own God. If man can be made to fight his own God, Man's God has said that he will destroy Man. The Satan-Stranger believes this and bases his strategy on it.[11]

The International Trade Cartel has instructed the kings and priests in their pay to destroy the WORD which hinders their march to world domination. In obedience to their masters they have undertaken the task of dismantling the WORD. This is done one step at a time so as not to unduly alarm mankind. One step at a time the WORD is replaced with the king's statutes. One step at a time God responds to his being rejected by tightening the screws that will destroy a faithless people.

* Outlawed Christianity - The king's agents created a United Nations whose Charter outlawed the Christianity that God mandated be practiced. See HR #206.

* Controlling Churches - Practically all Churches are State Churches because of the mechanizations of the IRS. Having the form they deny the Spirit. See HR #285.

* Prisons - The WORD instructs that capital crimes are to be punished by death. The king seizes and holds most charged with capital crimes against their wills; they are in fact kid-

11 "If I deceive him (Adam-man) to do this thing ... without God's commandment, God will kill him ... Therefore did Satan work ... before Adam and Eve; because he sought to kill him, and to make him disappear from off the face of the earth." I Adam & Eve 72:11-12

naped and held to justify the tribute collected by the king's agents.[13]

* Whipping Children - The WORD mandates a lesser punishment for children and fools - whipping. The king has outlawed this punishment.[14]

* Fruitful & Multiply - The WORD instructs, "Be fruitful and multiply." Gen 35:11. The king heavily taxes man so he cannot afford children. At the same time, the king gives tribute collected from Man to Strangers so they can multiply. He also has opened the floodgates to Stranger immigration.

* Abortion - Protected by the king, abortionists have put 32,000,000 children to death - more than 60% of them children of Man. Abortionists who boast of having killed 65,000 children openly walk the streets.[15]

* Homosexuals - Homosexuality is protected by the king.[16]

17 "Accustom not thy mouth to swearing; neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One." Ecclesiasticus 23:9. "A man that useth much swearing shall be filled with iniquity." Ecclesiasticus 23:11

* Murder - The WORD mandates that the punishment for murder is death.[18]

* Swearing - Once, a person who swore in public was locked up for being a public nuisance. He is now protected by the king.[19]

* Other gods - Gods other than God the WORD were once hounded from the land. Worship of the Stranger's gods is protected by the king.[20]

* Strangers In Churches - The IRS mandates that churches be open to the public.[21]

* Strangers Preach In "Christian" Churches[22]

* Eating With Strangers - Separate eating facilities for Strangers have been outlawed by the king.[23]

23 *"But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils. * Blue Laws - Once, the Sabbath was kept, mandated by the king's statutes.[24]

* Woman's Lib - Once a Man and wife were a team combined to work for their home and children. No more.[25]

* Affirmative Action - Strangers are given preference. The king has put them above us to rule us. He gives our taxes to them and we labor while they rest.[26]

* Strangers Over Us - At the highest levels of government Strangers stand beside the king to advise him. A Stranger leads the army. The media-owners elect Strangers to the highest offices. Stranger-owned industry employ most men. Strangers furnish the police. Strangers teach the children of mankind. Forgotten is the basic: "Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee."[27]

* Usury - We are permitted any economic system we choose - except the usury system. The punishment for using this system is severe.[28]

* Mixed Marriage - The king's courts have struck down laws preventing mongralization.[29]

* Beasts - It is the Strangers policy to encourage those who act as beasts to marry the daughters of men, and to rule men. Every TV sit-com pictures one with a daughter of man.[30]

* Whores & Whoremongers - Whores and whoremongers were once shunned by mankind. No more.[31]

* Taxes - Kings and priests cannot be taxed. Men cannot be taxed. Taxes are forbidden.[32]

Enemies Of The State

There are many more Commandments of God which have been broken - done away - outlawed by the king. They were done away one at a time. Each time the king outlawed one of God's Commandments he increased his own power and the power of his statutes. The king also instructed his followers to treat those who continue to obey God's Commandments, and oppose his edicts, as enemies of the state. The king, having separated Man from the protection of his God, has sent 29 "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3; "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger, she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (eat blessed food from his table). But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house .... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr - "racial alien") eat thereof." Lev 22:12- 13.

30 "A multitude of beasts came all around them. It was satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage." 1 Adam &Eve 69:11

31 "Speak unto the priest ('And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests ... Ex 19:6.') ... they shall not take a wife that is a whore ... neither shall they take a woman put away from her husband." Lev 21:17; "Thou shalt be no whore of the daughters of Israel nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel." Deu 23:17; "They shall bring out the damsel ... and the men ... shall stone her ... that she die: because she hath wrought folly in Israel, to play the whore." Deu 22:21; "Whoremongers and adulterers God will judge." I Cor 6:9.

32 "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-17 his henchmen to incite man to rebel against the king so that the king might discover his enemies and kill them. The king has wantonly slaughtered and persecuted nnocent people to arouse resentment: Gordon Kahl, Vicki and Sammy Weaver, Waco, Flight TWA 800, Oklahoma City, and the list is endless.

The WORD which is God, who in the beginning created man as both king and priest to rule the earth, instructed Man to obey the WORD or die. The WORD instructs Man that they are to act as kings and priests - to rule and not be ruled. What shall he do? If man obeys the king and violates God's Commandments - God will kill him. If he obeys God - the king will kill him . What now are his options?

The King's Sword Wielded by State-Priests

When kings go to war, their state-priests dust off what I call - their "War Scriptures" to inspire the king's warriors to perform feats of valor in the name of God to the glory and benefit of their king. When the war ends the soldiers who survive are sent home and the quotes are concealed again to await another war.

This system worked until the "Reformation". The single benefit resulting from this time of mass slaughter in the name of God was that the Scriptures were pried out of the iron clutch of the priests and given to the people.

Mankind began reading the actual Scriptures. Peasant revolts and all sorts of disorders resulted. The Catholics kept their followers under iron control by censoring what they read. The protestant kings and their priests, to keep their jobs, were forced to copy their Catholic rivals. They set up their own Protestant state-approved churches that taught a state-approved Protestant religion. Then, Mankind, both Protestant and Catholic, discovered what the state- priests were really like - the Naphadim-media gleefully disclosed their peccadilloes daily.

By the tens of millions Mankind stopped going to state-churches, but they didn't stop reading the Scriptures. Without state- priests to misdirect them they read what kings were allowed to do and not do - they read the "War-Scriptures" - the Scriptures that state-priests had meant as curses against those who opposed the king and instead found that God meant the curses to fall on those who opposed God.

The War Scriptures

God promises that in dark days the WORD will come and save man:

> "When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him." Isa 59:19; "I will send My Word and save thee and thy seed." Adam & Eve 12:6
> "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper." Isa 54:17
>
> "The land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it." Num 35:33
> "If the revenger (the executioner) ... kill the slayer: he shall not be guilty." Numbers 35:27
> "Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people." I Ki 21:42

"Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter, because when I called ye did not answer, when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not." Isaiah 65:12

"Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I come not to send peace, but a sword." Matt 10:34

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it." Matt 16: 24-25

"Let the saints be joyful ... Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand, to execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people; to execute upon them the judgment written: this honor have all his saints." Ps 149:5-9

"Cause them ... to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon ... and the Lord said ... Go ye ... and smite: .... Slay utterly old and young, ... and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men (apostate elders) which were before the house." Ezek (9:1-6)[33]

"Also he bade them teach the children of Judah the use of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jasher." 2 Sam 1:18

"Teach thy sons the bow and all weapons of war." Jasher 56:9

33 In South Africa, the moderator of the Dutch Reformed Church, Professor Heynes, was shot by an unknown sniper as he sat at supper. He had been instrumental in leading the state church against its own Saxon people.

"Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood." Jer 48:10

"He said unto them ... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one ... And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords, And he said unto them, It is enough." Luke 22:36-38;

"Teach thy sons the bow and all weapons of war." Jasher 56:9

The penalty for not obeying the above is draconian:

"But if ye will not ... do all these commandments; ... I also will do this unto you; ... ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it ... they that hate you shall reign over you; and ye shall flee when none pursueth you. ... I will break the pride of your power ... your land shall not yield her increase ... I will send wild beasts among you which shall rob you of your children ... and make you few in number ... I will bring a sword upon you ... I will send the pestilence among you; ... I will ... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols ... And I will make your cities waste ... And I will bring the land into desolation: ... Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate." Lev 26:14-35

Barabbas

The Roman judge, to win the affections of the people, asked them who they would like set free - Barabbas or Jesus? The people cried "Barabbas"!

Who was this Barabbas? Barabbas was a nationalist. He knew the War Scriptures. With a band of followers he led a revolt against Rome which was quickly crushed. Barabbas was captured and his followers were killed or scattered. He had once been a follower of Jesus. When asked why he stopped following Jesus, he replied;

> "Because I am weary of these idle wanderings about Galilee, which bring forth no fruit. Not to sit on stools at the feet of a Scribe did I and my friends join ourselves to Jesus of Nazareth. Why tarrieth he so long idle? Why is his hand so backward to smite the oppressor?"[34]

There are those like Barabbas who see the atrocities of the empire; Ruby Ridge, Waco, Gordon Kahl, Oklahoma, Twin Towers, and a thousand other crimes, and they burn with righteous fury. They see the Lawless enemy shamelessly parading their blasphemy. To them it seems that the empire's guarantee of protection for the thousands of Lawless aliens, perverts and murderers is an act of boastful foolishness. It is obvious that it is unable to do so; even the greatest and strongest empire can't be everywhere at once. With so many defenseless soft targets, the elimination of even a few - in obedience to the War Scriptures - may discourage great numbers of weaker brothers from dabbling in the blasphemy that will cost them their souls. And too, like their Crusader forefathers, if they die in the attempt to enforce God's Law they gain everlasting life.[35] To the Barabbas type it appears to be a win-win situation.

Jesus

In Jesus day, the crowd chose Jesus to be crucified in the place of Barabbas. Jesus was "the WORD made flesh that 34 Philochristus 13:24, Restoration Press, Jerusalem, Israel.

35 "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13; "Whosoever shall loose his life for my sake and the gospel's shall save it." Mk 8:35.

dwelt among us." It was he who said that "I and my father are one." It was he who created the WORD, the warlike quotes just read, and it was this Christ who told believers "... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Luke 22:36- 38. This was the very Jesus Christ who said "But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

But, it was also this same Jesus who forbade his followers to defend him against those who came to arrest him, and ordered his people to pay tribute to Rome lest Caesar be offended.[36]

Jesus Understood

Jesus read the times. He understood what others did not see. There is a time for war and a time for peace. One councels peace when to wage war cannot profit. This is why he counseled:

> "Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." Math 26:49-54

Violence should be carefully and thoughtfully entered into with much council and advice. Once loosed - it tends to run its course.

In earlier days, Greek-Syria, one of the greatest powers in the world, had conquered the Israelites and occupied their land. United by the WORD, the Israelites fought this great empire and won.

36 He also left this hard-nosed instruction to his followers, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt 22:21; an instruction that his followers clearly understood.

In Jesus' day, things were different. Rome was their conqueror, and Rome itself had been conquered by Indian Dharma. The priests of the international merchant had conquered the greatest power in the world and used its power - her ships, legions, war machines and tactics - to open new trade areas and hold them. Rome's armed forces had proved invincible.

Even worse for the cause of Israelite nationalism, Dharma permeated the land of Palestine and turned separatists into integrationists. Israel had been betrayed by her kings, and her priests welcomed Edomites into the land. The WORD was now just another ritualized state religion. The people were divided. To openly fight a mighty power like Rome when the people were not united by the WORD was doomed from the start.

Jesus pointed out a different path. First, change men's minds and hearts so that they will know what the WORD requires of them, and the day will come when they will be strong enough to enforce God's WORD.

> "For the word of God is quick, and sharper than any 2-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." Heb 4:12

The choice was - the way of Jesus or the way of Barabbas. The country chose the way of Barabbas. Rome incited Palestine to revolt and she did. Palestine went through the Roman meat grinder in 70 AD. The loot was tremendous.

Saxon-Israel living in Galilee avoided the war, they chose the way of Jesus rather than that of Barabbas, and the war has raged ever since.

The Peace Option

Jesus purchased peace with His life. It was a peace to gain time to turn Mankind to the WORD which is God. The WORD in turn teaches its followers everything they need to know.

Time bought with the blood and slavery of our kinsmen must be used profitably. The order given to those Jesus has chosen is:

> "I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit," John 15:16

The enslaved Saxon is beginning to stir. He is beginning to turn to the WORD and the WORD is showing him the WAY.

The Enemy Reaction

> "The enemy is eager to destroy all that call upon the Lord. For he knoweth that upon the day that Israel shall repent, the kingdom of the enemy shall be brought to an end." Testament of Dan 2:16-17.[37]

The Establishment's very existence depends on its crushing the WORD before man gathers a following too big to stop. The king has launched his "agents provocateur" to incite Mankind to lash out - and thereby reveal themselves so that the king can destroy them.

Today, the wise man offers his back to his persecutors and refuses to fall for the establishment's incitment to violence whereby he can be eliminated. He goes home to recruit his neighbor. By word, book or tract he tells his friend that God is the WORD, that the WORD has the solution to all the problems of our nation. He tells him that our God is not some shadowy apparition sitting on a cloud in the sky strumming a harp and chanting "Sweet Jesus"! Jesus is "the WORD made flesh" and we have been created in his image and ordered by him to rule the world.

We are those whom God has chosen to bring the WORD to all who will listen. We also know the price - today and tomorrow:

> "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13; "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." Revelation 2:10; Whosoever shall loose his life for my sake and the gospel's, shall save it." Mk 8:35

Robert E. Lee once said, "Duty is the sublimest word in the English language." The evil empire is teaching Mankind the meaning of the word "duty";

The reward will be:

LETTERS

WACO BILL: "Dear Richard: Haven't heard your opinion of the Clinton Impeachment." G.W. - Maryland

RKH: In my opinion the Clinton impeachment has little to do with Clinton. The Naphidem-media focuses on Clinton's zipper and diverts attention from "China Gate", where, with the knowledge of Congress national defense secrets were given to an enemy, and "Waco", where with the knowledge of Congress innocent men, women, and children were given to an enemy, and "Waco", where with the knowledge of Congress innocent men, women, and children were machine gunned, burned alive, and the survivors sentenced to lengthy prison terms. Then there is NAFTA, and unlimited immigration. The U.S. Congress is responsible for all this and more. Public disrespect for the entire government has reached dangerous levels. The way out is to make a production of impeaching the occupant of the White House and redirect the public's attention away from Congress' own misdeeds. When the show is finally over - everything will be where it started from. Really now, just how does one go about harming the reputation of someone like a Clinton?

STERILIZATION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; I have just learned that my fiance had himself sterilized. Is there anything about this in Scripture?" E.R. - Virginia

RKH: *"Let those that have made themselves eunuchs be had in detestation; and do you avoid any conversation with them who have deprived themselves of their manhood ... which God has given to men for the increase of their kind; let such be driven away, as if they had killed their children... for evident it is, that while their soul is become effeminate, they have withal transfused that effeminancy to their body also." America's Hindu Gods

Man is made in the image of the WORD - which is God.[1] Strangers are made in the image of their gods. Man is forbidden to allow strangers in his midst[2] because Strangers are made in the image of their gods and Man will learn the Stranger's ways and worship his gods.

1 "His name is called The Word of God." Re 19:13; "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1, and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14; "He showed his word ... his statutes and his Judgments unto Israel. He hath not delt so with any nation ... they have not known thee." Ps 147:19-20

2 "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

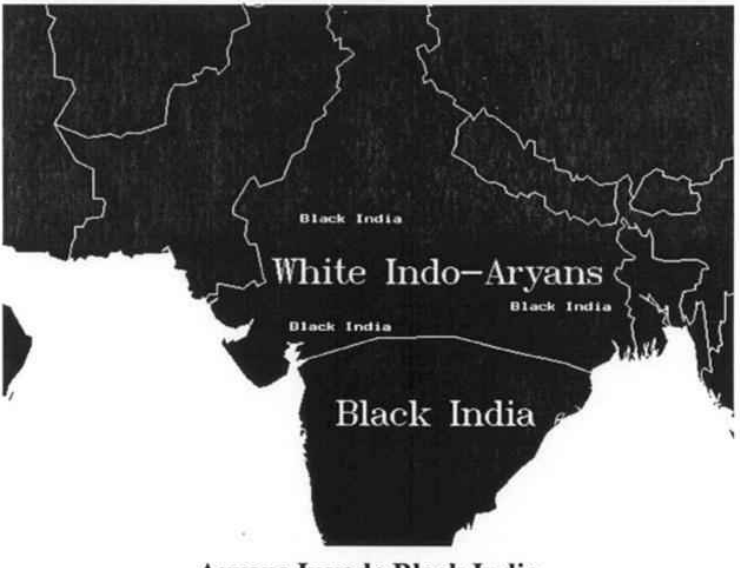
This will cause Man to turn against his own God and his God will destroy him because of it.[3]

The Alien who arrives in our midst arrives with his gods - since the creation and his gods cannot be separated. Our Great Commission, then, is twofold - tell Man about his own God the WORD, and also tell Man the danger of worshiping the devils the Strangers have brought with them. But, before we can tell about these gods - we must ourselves learn about these gods.



Aryans Invade Black India

Aryan-Man, made in the image of God the WORD, invaded India. He disobeyed his God and intermarried with India's black inhabitants whose god was Siva. He soon disappeared from the land leaving as his replacement a mixed breed race whose god was Vishnu - god of mixedbreeds.

3 "Ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you ... But if ye will not ... it shall come to pass, I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them." Numbers 33:52-55

Aryan-Man Invades India

Aryan-Man, made in the image of God the WORD, poured over the mountains of Northern India and stormed into the great Indus Valley, overrunning its black inhabitants.

The god of the conquered Blacks was Siva. These conquered Blacks were made in the image of their god. Their god had arrived in India in the ancient past in the form of a black woman.[4]

Siva

Siva, the sex-god of the Blacks of India, is himself black. He is pictured dancing the cosmic dance. Surrounding Siva is "The Cosmic Force" - representing the oneness of all life. In one hand is a drum representing the importance of music and sex - which explains the strangeness of today's alien music in the West which arrived along with the aliens.

In another hand is a flame representing the ultimate destruction of the body by fire. (Conspiracy theorists point to the burning of Bob Mathews, Gordon Kahl, and the Waco victims - and speculate whether they were coincidence or ritual).

Siva is dancing on a demon. In front of the demon is an object representing the male sex organ. Siva is both the god of the beginning (sex) and god of the end (death).

Aryan-Man found himself in a land containing many temples dedicated to this god. In these temples idols of Siva

4 "The Word of God came to the serpent and said unto it ... be thou dumb; and speak no more, thou and thy race, because ... the ruin of my creatures happened through thee ... And a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:7-9.; "And God said to Adam ... 'look, O Adam, at him who said of himself that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4

Siva: Black Sex-God

Siva, the popular black sex-god of Black-India, dances the cosmic sex-dance. Eve was captivated by Siva who came to her in the form of a serpent. The daughers of Man are still being captivated by Siva's children. He is also the god of sodomites. Siva dances on a devil. Hindu devils are white. White devils must be destroyed before the new Hindu age can be born.

danced. Around the temple walls surrounding the central figure were more idols of black Siva and his beautiful black wife Parviti. They are acting out the many sexual positions of the reproductive act.

Sex pleased Siva and Parviti his wife. Sex pleases the Blacks made in Siva's image. Wherever blacks are found - India, America, Europe, S. Africa or Australia, their actions reflect Siva, the god in whose image they are made, even when they call him by other names.

Dr. Martin Luther King was notorious for his sexual escapades. He would come to town proclaiming that he came in peace and would incite the Blacks and leave the town in flames and its stores looted. This is the way Blacks act the world over.

Strangers may speak with the sweet voice of the Serpent god, and call his name "Jesus", but "By their acts ye shall know them," and know their gods.

Parviti

Black Parviti is the beautiful temptress wife of Siva. She shares her favors with all. This act is called "polyandry". Polyandry is defined by encyclopedias as "having more than one husband." More correctly, polyandry is the system where women take lovers of those they choose. This is why practically every race other than man trace their ancestry through the woman rather than the man; the woman is the only one who has any idea who the father is. There are countless thousands of Men who can trace their ancestry back to the patriarchs, and from there on back to Adam without missing a single generation (see Saxon Identity HR #266). With man, the ability to trace one's ancestry through the father is quite ordinary. With strangers it is extraordinary. Blacks and Jews trace their ancestry though the female.

Parviti has become the patron goddess of the daughters of man who act as paid and unpaid prostitutes. She was brought to our shores by Strangers made in the image of Siva and Parviti and they taught their ways to the daughters of Man.[5] Parviti is practiced, experienced, and knows all the secrets of love and the ways to please her lovers.[6]

Kali: Black Goddess Of Death

A necklace of skulls hangs about Kali's neck. She is the mother of black magic - Voodoo of the black arts. She is more feared and worshiped than any other Indian goddess.

Kali

Behind Parviti's sweet seductive face there is another face. A sinister face. It is the face of "Death". This dark side is manifested in Kali,[7] Siva's wife. Kali is even more devoutly worshiped and feared than Siva

5 "Let the Hebrews marry... virgins... and no... harlot, whose... prostitution of her body, God will not receive." Antiquities 4:8:23; "Speak unto the priest ('And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests.' Ex 19:6.) ... they shall not take a wife that is a whore." Lev 21:17; "Thou shalt be no whore of the daughters of Israel nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel." Deu 23:17

6 "There is no sin on earth greater than fornication, which they commit on the earth, for Israel is a nation holy unto God ... a nation of priesthood." Jubilees 33:18

7 "God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4

himself, and feared more than Parviti is loved.[8]

Those made in Kali's image operated Stalin's death camps, ordered the Bataan Death March, approved the murder of 9 million Germans after WW II was over, operate abortion mills, and reveal themselves again at Ruby Ridge and Waco. They do what they do because they are made in the image of their gods - and this is what their Gods do.

Vishnu

The Aryan invaders of India intermarried with the native Blacks. They formed a caste system to segregate the mixed members of their society, but blood poison gradually filtered its way through one caste to the next until it reached the very top. Ghandi, a member of the highest caste was a mulatto.

Vishnu The Preserver

Vishnu, the white brother to black Siva, is pictured resting on the great Serpent of deception.

8 Byron De La Beckwith was tried three times for the same offense. The last time by jurors made in the image of Kali. Their verdict was "guilty". Of course.

The new mulatto breeds of northern India were smarter than the native Blacks. Their god was also different. The Blacks worshiped Siva - who was black. The invaders worshiped Vishnu - who was white. Vishnu and Siva are pictured as being brothers.

Vishnu is pictured as reclining on a giant many headed serpent - who is the god of deception.

With the help of renegade Saxon priests, Strangers proclaimed that they had accepted the WORD and were now changed; they were no longer made in the image of Strange Gods, but were now made as Man in the image of the WORD. Because of this the prohibition against trading with Strangers was suspended.[9] Man traded with the stranger and allowed the Stranger to settle in his land. Pretending to be newly made in the image of the WORD, the Stranger had no choice but to obey his own gods in whose image he was made. He imported cheap goods from his own lands and drove Man's manufacturers out of business. Then, Man worked for the Stranger[10] in factories his own people had built.

He imported cheap farm produce and drove our farmers out of business - and his corporations now own their land. He established usury banks who favored his own corporations while denying money to Mankind. The Stranger prospered - and sent for his kinsmen to join him so that our cities are overrun with Strangers.

9 "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (2114), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth." Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21 "Nor do we delight in merchandise, nor in such a mixture with other men as arises from it." Flavius Josephus Against Apion 1:12

10 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

His corporations own Hollywood, Broadway, TV, and the media. His productions endlessly display the acts of their gods in whose image they are made. What is normal and natural in the lands of Siva is turning the lands of Mankind into lands of paid and unpaid whores, of sexual perverts, of thieves and murderers. To us, Strangers and their serpent god are a false witness.[11]

Magic

Siva's followers practice magic. In India, Siva priests cause people to float on air, climb ropes attached to nothing, jump 15 feet straight up, raise the dead, and do all sorts of things that strains the credulity of the Westerner. In various guises "witch doctors" practice their craft wherever Blacks are found. There is Voodoo in Africa and the Caribbean; even the Australian blacks have their variation. Wherever blacks or mixed-breeds are - the Serpent's servants are there.[12]

Siri
Fickle goddess of gambling.

Siri

Siri is Vishnu's fickle wife, a lovely creature. She is also known

11 "If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye to unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-19; "Woe to you who write down the word of falsehood, and the word of the wicked ... To them there shall be no peace; but they shall surely die suddenly." I Enoch 96:24-25; "Woe to them that call evil good, and good evil." Isiah 5:20

12 The offspring of the Children of Siva and Man practice variations of magic called "fortune telling", "tarot cards", "mediums", and "horoscopes". The wives of several of our present and past presidents frequented mediums and later advised their husbands. Siva and Vishnu are alive and well in the top echelons of our government.

as Lakshmi. She is the goddess of good fortune. She is wooed by all but stays with her latest lover only briefly. Siri is a favorite of orientals who are great gamblers.[13]

Westerners are prohibited from gambling.[14] Strangers, or their agents, present compelling reasons to gamble and make it legal. It is only after misery and poverty descend on the land that gambling is once again suppressed.

Since Strangers have arrived in great numbers in the West, casinos, lotteries, betting parlors, racetracks, options, futures, and church bingo parties have become the order of the day. Siri is worshiped by all who buy a lottery ticket, bet on a horse, or wager over a card game.

Once I spoke to 6 old people at a church at Massies' Mill - all that was left of more than 300 who had been driven from their farms. From them I raised $35 to buy Bibles for school children. Then I spoke to 600 at a prominent church in Lynchburg and raised $35 - $25 of that was given by a converted Jew. It was clear who worshiped the WORD that was God and who followed Siri.

13 These pictures were taken from Larousse WORLD MYTHOLOGY, Prometheus Press, NY. I was told that the book is out of print, but can be found in used book stores. It contains a wealth of information on the subject of gods. If a copy can be obtained for one's library it is well worth the expense.

14 "He that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent." Prov. 28:20; "But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition." 1 Tim 6:9

Hari-Hara

Siva is black, Vishu is white. Hari-Hara is a combination of the two. He is the god of integration. A quick visit to your local church will reveal whether or not Hari-Hara is one of the gods worshiped there.[15]

Hari-Hara - God of Integration

15 "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51; "We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house." Jer 51:51; "Ye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land; ye shall throw down their altars." Judges 2:2; Adultery - Webster's 1828 Dictionary defines adultery in scripture as "idolatry, or apostasy from the true God." A violation of God's Commandments is adultery. The mixing of the races is adultery. "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3. "God has separated you from other people." Lev 20:24.

Ganesa

Ganesa - Problem Solver

Ganesa, with the elephant head, is the problem solver. Whenever a heathen has a problem he goes to a temple and tells his problem to a priest. Money changes hands and the priest says a prayer to Ganesa and the problem is solved. It's that simple.

In the Christian West, the priests have taught people to go to a temple and tell their problem. The priest says a prayer to Ganesa, who he renamed "Jesus", and the problem is solved, and the one with the problem is expected to make a donation commensurate with the size of the problem. It's that simple.

The Serpent

The Serpent spoke to Eve in the Garden. This is Nagini, the female serpent deity. The serpents have a mission; "They forbid access to spiritual truths to those who are not worthy of them; in the second place, they confer them upon those who deserve them." To Mankind they are the great deceivers.[16]

The Serpent - Deceiver Of Mankind

Serpents are powerful, redoubtable and endowed with surprising powers. There are countless statues of them - especially in southern India. There are close links between the serpents and Siva. Adepts of Sivaist sects are never bitten by serpents. Their Western Christian copycats seem to be bitten all the time.

The serpent is also the messenger of Kali. He strikes our heel and we crush its head. The Serpent has spawned tens of millions like himself who arrive in our lands disguised in Western clothes and manners, to spread the poison of their gods wherever they go. Their bite is that of the vampire, turning Man into damned Lawless creatures like themselves. The Black Simbolese Army of the '70s that murdered Whites used the many headed serpent, similar to the one upon which Vishnu is resting, as their symbol. Man, look closely at the serpent - your hereditary enemy - and the one for whom he speaks!

UNFILTERED NEWS

WACO BILL: "One of the most important facts that the hearings brought out but was not reported was the fact that Bill Clinton, not Janet Reno, made the final decision to go ahead with the gassing of the children inside the compound at Mount Carmel. That's right folks! In spite of Janet Reno's bravado willingness to take the heat for the debacle, it was Bill who gave the final go ahead ... this from the testimony of Janet Reno herself. Reno testified that she informed Clinton of the plan and he, by not pulling the plug on the assault, approved by omission. He knew of the plan and supported it." Bullet, p.16, Nov/Dec 1995, 15 Millstone Rd., Woodlawn, VA 24381

Chapter 294

MONEY AT KELLY'S FORD

History is everywere. One can learn history just by talking to members of his own family.

When I was 10 or 11, I asked Grandmother if any Kellys fought in The War.[1]

Grandmother didn't know. She knew all about her own family - the Humes of Wedderburn - but she didn't know details about the Kellys, except to say that they were "mighty fine people". She sent me to see Uncle Wright.

1 WWI was then the most recent war, but there was really only one war - the BIG ONE. Children played "Rebels and Yankees". We drew straws to see who would be the Yankees.

Uncle Wright

Uncle Wright Kelly was Granddaddy's older brother. He tried to keep the farm at Kelly's Ford, but times were so hard that he had to come to town. Uncle Wright was the family historian. Like Granddaddy he was six feet tall, wore a dark suit and bow tie, and had a full white mustache and a shock of white hair over his forehead. His house was across from the big red brick house where Cary-Hill Humphries lived. I had to fight Cary-Hill every day when walking home from school to the farm with my friend Pat Johnson. One day I gave better than I got, and from then on he left me alone.

VIRGINIA'S EMPIRE

The title is a misnomer. Virginia was a confederation of Self-Sufficient-Farms. She never had an empire. All the above named states were part of Virginia. It was immense. The ideal was that every man was entitled to his own SSF. The land was virtually given away in grants and cheap sales to as many as would put a plow in the ground. The man on his SSF in Wisconsin was equal to the man on his SSF in Virginia. In such a system the individual was all important- and big was bad. One's own state was more important than all the other states. One's own county was more important than everyone else's county. And, one's own farm was more important than all the other counties and states put together. One was sovereign on his own land. The state could not put a road across one's farm without the farmer's permission.

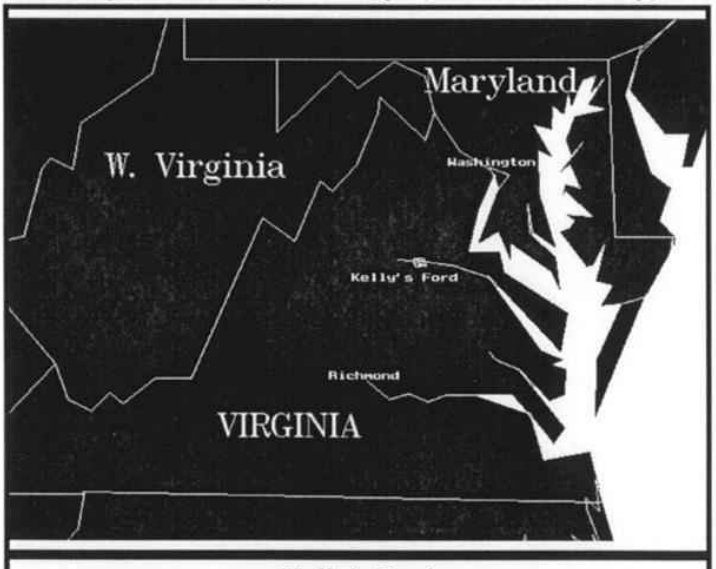
Uncle Wright was expecting me and led me through the dark hall past the "Kelly Secretary" (which I have today) into



Kelly's Ford

Kelly's Ford is directly on the route from Washington To Richmond. This was the route taken by the Union armies. Five battles were fought at Kelly's Ford and Kellyville was completely destroyed.

the kitchen. We sat at the kitchen table and talked. He treated me like I was "somebody" - like my questions were important. Grownups didn't often do that and I appreciated it.

Uncle Wright answered my questions about kinsmen who fought in the war and about our "war songs". He gave me a copy of "The Bonnie Blue Flag", our national anthem, which I have in my copy of "Robert E. Lee".

After he had answered my questions, he then taught me things I didn't know - not like a teacher, but as an elder passing on special private information to an honored younger member of the family, who in time must pass it on to others.

He told me that Virginia was the "Mother of States" and that just to be a Virginian was an honor. I had never known that before.

He told me that I was a "Kelly". Not just any Kelly, but a Kelly of Kelly's Ford. He told me that the first Kelly to come to Virginia was William O'Kelly who was transported in 1654. He and his descendants were honorable, hard working, and over the next two hundred years accumulated a sizable estate and married into the best families.

They eventually migrated up the Rappahannock River and started a town named Kellyville at Kelly's Ford. I was ten years old and had lived around Culpeper County all my life and had never heard of Kelly's Ford or Kellyville. I asked why? Uncle Wright told me that the town was gone. It had been destroyed in the fighting during The War and that there wasn't a single house left standing anymore. But, once it was the hub of commerce in that part of Virginia.

Five battles were fought at Kelly's Ford. The great Southern hero Major John Pelham of Stuart's Horse Artillery was mortally wounded there. The war turned peaceful Kellyville into a slaughter pen.

The Kelly house was out from the edge of town. Set apart like it was, it was almost the only house to escape the general destruction, but it was so riddled with bullet holes that after the war it was known as the Bullet House. When fighting would break out, the women, children, and servants would rush to the basement until "all clear" was signaled. People used to travel long distances to see it. The house burned in the 1930s.

John P. Kelly

John Payne Kelly was born in 1789 and was 72 years old when the war started. He didn't understand military tactics. One day the entire Union Army in their tens of thousands stormed across Kelly's Ford right into his back yard. The small Confederate picket of 25 men quickly scampered out of their rifle pits and ran. John P. Kelly, seeing the Southern boys run, mistook their strategic withdrawal for cowardice. He became infuriated and hobbled into the midst the flying bullets and shells and with his walking stick tried to beat the dodging Johnny Rebs, now assaulted on two sides, back into the line to fight the enemy.

John Payne Kelly - Patriot
John Kelly of Kelly's Ford, was well to do at the beginning of the war. Like most Virginians, he was impoverished at its end.

Graves Registration

There were all sorts of stories about how the U.S. government treated their dead soldiers. A half a century after the War, during the '30s, the government sent men down to dig up the old burial trenches looking for Yankees. Confederate soldiers had buried most of them. They dug long deep trenches and buried their foes head to toe, layer on layer. When the Yankees dug them back up in the '30s, the first couple of layers were pretty well gone, but the bottom layers

Bank Note

Bank Notes are borrowed into existence when one mortgages property. If $10 is borrowed into existence and it has been agreed to repay $11 - more Bank Notes must be repaid than have been borrowed into existence. There is always a Bank Note shortage. Thus, it is impossible for many borrowers to repay their bank loans. When they can't pay, the bank is able to take over the mortaged property for the were in good condition. They even had their hair and mustaches. One could recognize their features. I was told that most burials were done by the Confederate Army. Often, the Yankees didn't bury their own dead, much less Confederate dead.

After the war Virginia sent men to Sharpsburg and Gettysburg to bring our boys home. The plowed fields where they had fallen were ringed in white bleached bones. The bones rested where they had been thrown out of the way by the farmers. The locals knew of our poverty, but still made us pay for our boys' bones before they would let us take them home to bury in Richmond's Hollywood Cemetery.

Kelly Business Interests

Uncle Wright's great-grandfather, John Kelly, moved to Kelly's Ford from Westmoreland County long before the war and was a prosperous farmer. The family branched out into other enterprises.

Plantations

The cornerstone of the family fortune was the farm - called "plantation" in the South. The word "plantation" as used in the early days had to do with the planting of people - incidentally, the planting of crops.

In the 200 years the family had lived in Virginia they had expanded their holdings. By 1850 John, his son John P., and his grandson Granville owned six plantations which required over 100 slaves to farm.

The Kelly's supported Southern Abolition (Repatriation). They also believed that all the planters and manufacturers should repatriate the slaves together to prevent one owner from gaining a business advantage over another. As the labor force was reduced in one place it should be reduced in another. Northern "radical abolition" - the instant freeing of slaves without compensating their owners or making plans to replace slave labor with white labor from Europe - forced slave owners to band together to oppose all abolition of slavery.

Canal Boat Line

Fredericksburg was an inland seaport on the upper Rappahannock. It had supplied plantation needs since colonial days. When the canal from Fredericksburg inland was built, the Kellys were among the first to start a canal-boat company that ran a large number of canal boats. In that day it was a toss-up which would prevail - canals or railroads. A canal boat could carry a load that required three railroad cars to carry.

The Kelly canal boat company was operated by slaves and managed by an intelligent slave named Joshua, whom I was told owned slaves of his own.

Woolen Mill

The Kellys opened a woolen factory in Fredericksburg, an inland seaport. It was named "Kelly, Tackert, and Ford". After the war started it was converted to make gray material for Confederate uniforms. Fredericksburg was in danger of being occupied by the northern army, so to continue production, the mill machinery was shipped by train to Lynchburg. Lynchburg printed its own scrip which the mill used to pay its workers. It was also good for payment of dues and taxes, and people used it for all other general purchases and payments. The mill left Fredericksburg in the nick of time. The Yankees sacked the town. In the three days they were there they wrecked every house. Chairs were thrown through windows taking out the sashes, doors were smashed down, private book libraries were dumped into the yards and streets, and the town became unfit for human habitation. It remained a ghost town until after the war.

Kelly Store

The Kelly's operated a store at Kellyville. It was a large operation that had developed over the years. Canal-boats owned by Kelly's picked up cargoes and delivered them to the Kelly store at Kelly's Ford. Surrounding plantation owners sent wagons to get things from the Kelly Store that they couldn't get anywhere else. The store at Kellyville was the biggest operation of its kind in that part of the country.

During The War the store operated as always, but now there were other customers. The store ledgers show open accounts for Mosby's Rangers, Longsteet's Corp, Stuart's Cavalry, etc. The Confederate troops took what they needed and left receipts signed by the commanding officer "payable after the war". Since there was no doubt in anyone's mind that the South would win, the "receipts" were as good as gold and were used for money. The Federal armies took whatever they wanted without payment or receipts.

Flour Mill

In 1850, John P. and Granville built a flour mill to grind grain rather than having to send it to Fredericksburg to be ground. Not having the ready cash, they went to a bank and borrowed $10,000 for the venture. Business was so good that they were able to pay the loan back in one year. This flour mill was the most profitable of the Kelly enterprises.

Gold Mine

In 1861 the price of gold was $20.67 an oz. By 1863 the gold price rose to $287 oz. and Granville opened a profitable gold mine at nearby Gold Vein, Virginia, whose output was welcomed by the desperate Confederate government.[2]

The Trunk Of Money

At this point, Uncle Wright went out on the back porch and returned with a trunk which he put on the table. It was full of money. I had never seen a trunk full of money before. He took out some of it and said, "These are bank notes." He said that borrowing banknotes in his father's time could get you in trouble.

I asked "why", and didn't understand a word he said in explanation. I learned one thing - banknotes were different from the other kinds of money in the trunk.

2 Wedding rings were made from gold from the Kelly mine. The one that came down in our branch of the family is on my sister, Elizabeth Garnett Hoskins' charm bracelet. Each branch of the family has their ring.

Virginia Notes

To pay its employees, soldiers and sailors in its own state armed forces, Virginia issued its own notes. They were backed by the full faith and credit of the state and were good for payment of taxes and other duties. These were not issued based on mortgaged property. The state could issue as many as they wished whenever they wished. They had done so for more than two hundred years prior to the War Between The States. It was nothing new.

Lynchburg Scrip

The City Of Lynchburg will pay the bearer of this scrip 15¢ in current funds (whatever that may be). This scrip was printed by the City of Lynchburg and spent into circulation as pay for its employees. It was good for payment for all tariffs and dues. Municipal or private scrip is entirely different from Bank Notes.

Municipal Notes

The City of Lynchburg issued its own paper scrip good for payment of taxes and services. Campbell County did also, as did most of the cities and counties in Virginia. The money was freely mixed with other paper currency.

Confederate Scrip

Most of the money in the trunk was Confederate money. There were all kinds. Some of the 1861 issues of one hundred dollar bills paid 6% interest, the receipt of which was stamped on the back each year. Most didn't pay interest, they were just scrip, payable for taxes and tolls.

Tobacco Notes

The trunk didn't contain any "tobacco notes", which was to be expected since they had been tendered. Tobacco notes were issued at the Fredericksburg warehouse for each hogshead of 800 pounds of prime Virginia tobacco, and were traded over the entire eastern seaboard.[3] Tobacco notes rounded out the list of types of money available in Virginia during the war. Gold was almost non-existent - except at Kellyville.

Bond Made Out To "G.J. Kelly" For $50,000

3 "Twists" of chewing or smoking tobacco were used as small change and were still in use in Lynchburg when the writer was a youngster.

Bonds To Fight Inflation

To raise money and control inflation the Confederate government sold bonds. Kelly, Tackert & Ford bought a number of bonds. The one shown on the prior page is made out to Granville James Kelly for $50,000. I saw one made out to him for $300,000. I don't know which member of the family got that one. These bonds helped to take currency out of circulation and hold down prices.

Granville Kelly

Granville Kelly didn't serve in the army because of a stiff right leg received in a train wreck in 1855. However, he did not escape the attention of Union Army commissars. When ordered to give an oath of allegiance to the United States he refused, replying that he had already given his allegiance to his native state. He would not violate that oath. He was arrested and confined in the notorious Point Lookout death camp in Maryland, where he almost died. The authorities took him outside the prison gates to die so they wouldn't have to register his death on the prison rolls. He was found by one of his slaves, who had been captured by the Union Army, and nursed back to health.[4]

Decline Of Kelly Fortune

Tobacco Notes - The Federal Army stormed through Fredericksburg. One of the things they wrecked was the State Tobacco Warehouse. This put an end to the issuance of Tobacco Notes.[5]

Kelly Canal Boat Company - The Federal Army took over Fredericksburg's inland port - blocking trade from England. They then wrecked the canal and burned the Kelly canal boats. This destroyed the Kelly Canal Boat Company.

Slaves - Land without slaves to work it stood idle. Slaves constituted wealth. A prime worker was worth $1000-$1500 - the equivalent of perhaps 50 times as much today. Taking 100 slaves without compensating the owner ruined him and was theft in the eyes of the Kellys, the people of the South, and many people in the North. Lincoln imprisoned over 50,000 people in the North who disagreed with his policies.

4 When my first born was on the way I wanted to name him Granville - it's too good a name to let pass. A daughter was born instead of a son so she was named "Granville" - and she is her father's daughter.

5 See War Cycles / Peace Cycles, Hoskins, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $18.

Officers of the invading armies commandeered slaves as their personal "servants" and to do the grunt-work for the army. Lincoln didn't free these slaves taken by the Federal army. They were abandoned wherever the Federal Army happened to be when the war ended. Some starved to death. Some made their way back to Kelly's Ford where they sharecropped the very land they had worked earlier.

Plantations - Without workers, the Kelly's six plantations had to be largely abandoned. After the war they were taxed heavily by the black legislators in Richmond at a time when they produced no income. Plantation land worth $800 an acre in 1858 was sold to New York tax-free land- companies for 10¢-50¢ an acre to avoid the taxes - which was the reason for the taxes. They own the land to this day.

Woolen Mill - The machinery of the Fredericksburg Woolen Mill was transferred to Lynchburg to make woolen cloth for Confederate uniforms. When the war ended Confederate and State money scrip was declared worthless by the occupation forces. People without money can't buy cloth to make clothes. The Lynchburg mill was shut down because there was no money with which to do business.

Flour Mill - The flour mill at Kelly's Ford was shot to pieces during the war.

Kelly Store - The Kelly store near Kellyville, which had done a landoffice business before the war, was reduced to being a small country store and at last died on the vine.

Kelly Mine - The price of gold declined from its wartime high of $287 oz back down to $20.67, which was below production costs, and the mine was shut down.[6]

The Lesson

The war ruined the Kellys, as it did nearly everyone else in the South. The victors declared the scrip of city, county, state, and nation worthless. With a stroke of a pen the Southland was deprived of money. Business ground to a halt. The Kellys, old man John P. and his his son Granville, scratched out garden plots to feed their families. The trunk of money has been divided within the family. Each part is a reminder of the wolf that is loose in the land.

Conclusion

The Kellys arrived in America in 1654. It took 200 years to accumulate their fortune. The wolf saw this wealth and took what he wanted and destroyed the rest. The Kelly's were reduced to abject poverty. But, we are still here! It may be another 200 years before we regain what we lost, but I don't think so. After all this - we are still here.

The Wolf knows that what happened before can happen again. The money now in circulation can be taken and made worthless with the stroke of a pen. But, it doesn't have to be "us" from whom the money is taken.

We, too, have pens and can make money lawful or unlawful, valuable or worthless - all with a mere stroke. If we choose we can create brand new scrip whenever we like. We can 6 With the recent increase in the price of gold, the Kelly God Mine has been reopened by its new owners and is in operation today.

outlaw bank notes; make mortgages null and void, and substitute money of our choosing. [7]

Oh, yes! God is still in his heaven! We are still here and now we have friends, and tomorrow is another day.[8]

Letter From S. Africa by K.J

"Dear Mr. Hoskins,

"A small town in Transvaal had a problem with blacks. The taxes of a few whites had to carry the expense of thousands of non- paying blacks. It became impossible and water and electricity was cut off to the whole town. We hear now that the blacks are moving away. After all, they were promised free amenities, like the few houses built by the government for blacks in Northern Transvaal. With no control over material and work, these houses are falling apart; so the squatters moved back to their shacks. Funny, the houses built by the whites for the blacks in the early sixties, Verwoerd's time, still stand in the black township of Soweto.

"All schools started Jan 20, 1999, but I saw half a dozen black school buses empty on their way to school. No text books are available. As far as we know, books are printed but the wasteful government cannot pay for them as they have no money. Private schools are going up all over, and no wonder!

"With best wishes, K.J."

Chapter 295

LOYALTY LITMUS TEST

Hollywood's Strangers have developed a litmus test which Saxon actors must pass to get good acting parts; They must take a part where the character they portray has sex with someone of a different race.

After being deceived wholesale, Christians must learn that they can no longer believe the words of their "leaders". They too must develop a litmus test that will put them at enmity with the Stranger and demand that their leaders pass it.

1st Baptist Church

Kids often have a 6th sense. When I was 12, I sat beside my parents in our usual pew. We listened to the preacher holding forth about "love" and against the customs we had had for hundreds of years which regulated the strangers in our midst.

The preacher said that he didn't want to change anything, but, having said that, he talked about changing everything.

He talked about strangers worshiping with us, eating with us, living among us and becoming part of us.

To me that sounded like he wanted to change everything he said he didn't want to change. I sensed that he was up to no good and told my parents so. They poo-pooed my fears. It turned out that I was right.

The Civil Rights Era

Later on there was the "civil rights" era. Protests were led by the same sort of preachers who said they only wanted "fair play" for blacks. This included voting rights for them and the right to not only eat at their own establishments, but to eat at lunch counters and restaurants reserved for Whites.[1] Most of these preachers said that the last thing they wanted was "interracial marriage". That denial was supposed to make integration all right. But, they lied. They had been lying all the time. They are lying today. What they want is Dharma.[2]

The reason I'm still talking about things that happened so long ago is to say that I've seen it before. I've seen people passing themselves off as preachers of the WORD, saying one thing to put their listeners at ease, while actually doing the opposite of what they say. This tactic allowed them to take over the mainstream churches and destroy them while talking about other things. "By their acts ye shall know them."

1 Lynchburg's black business district centered on 5th Street, was quite large, and was protected by law. After the courts struck down the laws, out- of-town strangers put them all out of business except for one single lunch counter, a funeral home, and an office of a black lawyer. "Affirmative action" is the attempt to replace in part what the blacks lost through integration. But, the concept is unjust as judged by Saxon law and will be opposed.

2 Hindu: "Dharma" - non- violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to "race, creed, or nationality." Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations to expedite trade. "Dharmitized - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma.

The same thing seems to be occurring again. The assault is coming not only from the anti-Saxonite media, as one would expect, but from preachers who are simply ignorant or who some believe represent other interests.

Giving The Litmus Test

The WORD lists a handful of prohibitions, which if taught and practiced, would keep us safe. Surrogates of the anti-christ can seldom be coaxed to accept one of the following list, much less all of them. The list therefore becomes a valuable tool in determining the genuineness of one who holds himself out as a minister of the WORD:

1) God has known Man ONLY - Amos 3:2
2) Man not to eat with Strangers - Le 22:15-16
3) Man not to allow Strangers in his midst - Jer 30:21
4) Man not to allow Strangers in our churches - Jer 51:51
5) Strangers forbidden from our pulpits - Lev 22:25
6) No marriage with Strangers - Numbers 36:6
7) Man may not transact business with them - Pr 6:1-2
8) Strangers may not rule Man - Deu 17:15

1) God Knows Man - ONLY

The Scriptures teach that the WORD is God and that God has known man[3] - ONLY.[4] This important fact directs the rest of our thinking:

3 "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1, and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14.

4 MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

"You only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:2; "He showed his word... unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20; "There are many nations ... all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits to rule ... but over Israel ... he alone is their ruler." Jubilees 15:23; "Our Gods are common to all men, and yours ... belong to nobody else but yourselves". Antiquities 4:6:8; "I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me, for they are thine." John 17:9; "Thou art a holy people unto the Lord thy God: The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

The above explains why Jesus Christ, whose Commandments were in the beginning, issued his Commandment yet again;

"These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not unto the way of the Gentiles, and unto any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5,6.

2- Not To Eat With Strangers:

When man offers his food to God and asks him to "Bless this food" - that food is blessed by God and is holy food. That food is not to be given to strangers. You are not to eat with them:

"There shall no stranger (Heb: 2114 racial alien) eat of the holy thing (that which has been offered to God)." Lev 22:10; "They shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord. Or, suffer them to bear the iniquity of the trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the Lord do sanctify them." Le 22:15-16; "Withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them, and do not according to their actions, and be not their companion, for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled." Jubilees 22:17.[5]

Some while ago I received the following letter: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How should prisoners go about NOT EATING food prepared by 'strangers,' as our culinary workers are a mixed lot? 90% of the things we get have a "K" on them, guaranteeing that an edomite blessed them. So, do we starve, or eat what we are not allowed to eat." S. - Nevada

The following is the answer I sent him. I told him that some men in an earlier age had been drafted into the Syrian army and were forced to act against God's Commandments. Since they were powerless to oppose the Syrians, they developed the following rule:

> "In case one of their own blood ... should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution of government (God's Laws), they should take vengeance on them, both all in general, and each person in particular ... that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills. So the multitude bound themselves by oath to do so." Antiquities 4:8:45.

5 "In 1205, Innocent ... wrote ... to the Count of Nevers, whom he threatened with excommunication ... 'It is scandalous that Christians should have their cattle slaughtered and their grapes pressed by Jews, who are thus enabled to take their portion and to impose the leavings, prepared according to Jewish religious precepts, upon Christians. It is a still greater sin that this wine, prepared by Jews, should be used in the church for the sacrament of the Lord's Supper." (Epistoire X, 120, od. Bulu2, II., p. 198 (J/E p687) Inquisition.)

Christian Punishment:: Christian punishment consists of "restitution" or "death." If restitution is possible - you do it. If not, as in the case of rape, murder, or kidnaping, you die. Since your prison sentence is neither of the two, it is an unLawful "involuntary confinement" as a slave. Slaves must obey their masters or die. A simple protest that what is being done is against your will should be acceptable in God's eyes.

Business Lunches:

Eating food "blessed by God" is a holy act. This is why strangers try to arrange business lunches with "believers". They know that even if the business deal under consideration does not go through, the act of your being seen eating with him bread blessed by God infers YOUR blessing on HIM. Your endorsement is valuable when dealing with others of our kind.

Interracial Marriage & Eating

God made you a king and a priest.[6] If your daughter or son marries a stranger, God's Commandment orders the following;

> "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (2114), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing,(the food that God has been asked to bless, "bless this food."). But if the priests' daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her fathers' house ... she shall eat of her fathers' meat; but there shall no stranger (2114) eat thereof." Lev 22:10-13; " ... So shall they not defile the holy things of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord." Lev 22:10-15 (Geneva Bible)

6 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings & priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

The mixed-breed offspring of a daughter or son is not allowed at the most holy place - your dining room table. A mixed-breed is not partly mixed - he is completely mixed. He is a stranger.[7]

Civil Rights Laws:

In the North until the 1940s and in the South until the 1950s, the problem of feeding strangers was met by establishing separate eating facilities serving un-blessed food. This practice resulted in separate schools, public facilities, and separate military facilities.

When the courts passed statutes outlawing separate eating establishment - hundreds and thousands of restaurants operated by believers all over the nation closed rather than violate God's Commandment. I remember one in particular located in Charlottesville on Route 29 across the street from the tennis courts at the University. It was always crowded and must have done a million a year - back then. The owner closed it rather than to disobey God. He was just one of thousands.

Rule: Those eating with strangers are not to be trusted.

3) Strangers Not Allowed In Our Midst

"Thou shall make no covenant with them ... they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24

4) Strangers Not Allowed In Our Churches

"When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers

7 "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

1:51; "We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house." Jer 51:51

Jerusalem Temple - Josephus

"When you go through these (first) cloisters, unto the ... temple, there was a partition made of stone all round, ... upon it stood pillars, at equal distances from one another, declaring the law of purity, some in Greek and some in Roman letters, that 'no foreigner should go within that sanctuary'. ... there was a partition built ... This place was allotted to the women of our own country, and of other countries, provided they were of the same nation." Josephus, Wars of the Jews 5:5:2 p554

5) Strangers Forbidden To Preach

"Neither of the hand of a stranger shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these, because their corruption is in them, there is a blemish in them: therefore shall they not be accepted for you." Lev 22:25.!8

6 - No marriage with Strangers

The strongest prohibition in the WORD is against marriage with Strangers;

"Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "Thou ... shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3-4; "They have dealt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (zûwr - racial alien) children; Hosea 5:7; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congrega-

8 (Geneva Bible NOTE: "Ye fhall not receive any imperfeft thing of a ftranger, to make it the Lord's offering: which hee calleth the bread of the Lord."

tion of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2.[9]

7) Not Transact Business With Them

Man is not to make contracts with Strangers. This includes business.

"And ye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land." Judges 2:2; "If thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger, thou are snared...deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter." Pr 6:1-2; "What part hath he that believeth with an infidel? ... come out from among them and be ye separate." II Cor 6:15-17; "Thou shall make no covenant with them...they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24; "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? ... for ye are the temple of the living God ... Wherefore come out from among them and be ye separate." II Cor 5:14

9 The strongest of all curses against racial intermarriage is found in Jubilees which was extensively used by 1st century Christians: "Thus ye shall not do from now on and to eternity to defile a daughter of Israel, for in heaven it was ordained over them as a punishment that they should root out all the men of Shechem, because they committed a shame on a daughter of Israel. If there is any man in Israel who desires to give his daughter or his sister to any man who is of the seed of the Gentiles, he shall surely die, ... for Israel is holy to the lord and every man that defiles must surely die. For thus it is ordained and written on the tablets of heaven concerning all the seed of Israel, that he who defiles must surely die, and they shall slay him with stones. And to this law there is no limit of days and no ceasing and no forgiveness ... because he has given of his seed to Moloch ... And thou Moses, command the children of Israel ... that they shall not give any of their daughters to the Gentiles and that they shall not take any of the daughters of the gentiles; for this is accursed before the Lord. ... And it is disgraceful to Israel to those that give and to those that receive from the Gentiles any daughters, for it is unclean and accursed to Israel ... for there will be plagues upon plagues, curse upon curse, and all punishment and plagues and curses will come. ... and if they blind their eyes to those that commit uncleanness ... then shall the whole people together be punished, ... and there will be no respect for persons, and no consideration for persons, and no taking of ... offering and burnt offering ... as a sweet savor, that it may be acceptable. ... And on account of this I have commanded thee, saying: 'Testify this testimony over Israel: see how it happened to the Shechemites and their sons, how they were given into the hands of the two sons of Jacob and they slew them in torments, and it was justice to them, and it is is written down for justice concerning them.'" Jubilees 30:6-15

8) Strangers May Not Rule Man

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21; "Thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deut 15:6

9) Drive Them Out

"Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

"The Lord ... hath cast out many nations before thee ... thou shall smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them: Neither shalt thou make marriages with them." Deut 7:1-4

"Ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and destroy all their molden images, and quite pluck down all their high places: And ye shall dispossess the land and dwell therein: for I have given you the land to possess it. And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families ... But if ye will not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you; then it shall come to pass, that those which ye let remain of them (shall be) pricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell. Moreover it shall come to pass, I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them." Numbers 33:52-56

Watching The Faithless

It is our duty as kings and priests to watch those who claim to keep watch over us. If they teach the following, then, in time it is certain that we shall be free from the plague of strangers who have descended on us.

1) God has known Man ONLY - Amos 3:2
2) Man not to eat with Strangers - Le 22:15-16
3) Man not to allow Strangers in his midst - Jer 30:21
4) Man not to allow Strangers in our churches - Jer 51:51
5) Strangers forbidden from our pulpits - Lev 22:25
6) No marriage with Strangers - Numbers 36:6
7) Man may not transact business with them - Pr 6:1-2
8) Strangers may not rule Man - Deu 17:15

If the reformation preacher serves the WORD, he will have no problem with the WORD. If he serves other gods he will have many problems.

Dharma is the basic religion of the Stranger, and Dharma demands integration of all races, creeds, and national origins. If Siva or Vishnu, whom they rename "Jesus", fails to order Man to be integrated on earth, then the teacher of Dharma will, as a last resort to keep his foot in the door, try to integrate them in "heaven". The fact that there is no Scriptural support for such nonsense bothers him not a bit. The WORD says of "heaven": "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven". If conditions are to be on earth as they are in heaven, then, God's Commandments will be in force on earth, and God's Commandments specify who will and who will not enter heaven:

10) God the WORD is The Same In Heaven

"Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21;

And the will of our Father, the WORD, says;

"The people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations." Num 23:9

Therefore, the WORD in heaven will be the same as the WORD on earth. Our people will dwell alone there as here.

Conclusion

We must be faithful to the WORD who created us in the beginning. This includes being alert for wolves in our midsts who would open the sheepfold gate for the wolves.

Chapter 296

SLAV

History

Three identifiable groups live in large numbers in Europe - Slavs, Turks, and Saxons.

Religious historians have theorized that the Slavs are descended from Noah's son Japeth,[1] the Turks from Ham, and the Saxons from Shem.[2]

Secular historians seem to doubt the descent from Japeth, ascribing to the Slav race such names as Scythians, Sarmatians, Thracians, Illyrians, etc. The name Scythian is obvious

1 "God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem." Gen 9:27.

2 Only the Saxon has adhered to his ancient religion that forbids interracial marriage. The WORD forbids mixedbreeds from joining Israel. Both the Slav and Turk are mixed breeds in varying degrees depending on their location.

LANDS OF THE SLAV

The Slav is located between two ancient enemies - the Saxon to the west and the Turk to both the south and the east..

in error since that is one of the three names given Saxons (Saxon, Scythian, and Goth).

Herodotus mentions Slavs under the name of Neuri on the upper waters of the Dnestr in what is now Russia. Pliny calls them Venedi; Ptolemy calls them Venedae and puts them along the Vistula on the Gulf of Danzic on the Baltic. The name Venedae is clearly "Wend", the name that the Germans have always applied to the Slavs.

By the 6th century the Slavs had made themselves well known to the Graco-Roman world by their southward movement into northern Dacia and to the Danube (200 AD). The gradual spread of the Slavs was hidden behind the wholesale migrations of the Goths fleeing the invading Huns. For two centuries the Goths (Saxons) ruled the Slavs on the Vistula, and later in southern Russia.

When the Huns (early Turks) succeeded the Goths as masters of central Europe (Hungary), they made the Slavs supply them with military contingents. The defeat of the Huns gave the Slavs the freedom to migrate and by 512 they held the German Mark of Brandenburg in force.

Russian Rivers

In Russia proper, the Saxon-Goths, under the Swedish name Rus, settled areas near the Russian Rivers - especially the islands, river junctions and portages.[3]

In time many of the unruly warring Slavs sought the protection afforded by the Rus settlements, and a society

3 In The Beginning, Hoskins, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, developed with the Rus as leader and protector and the Slav as soldier and worker.[4]

Subdivisions

There are three main groups of Slavs - Eastern, North-Western and Southern.

Eastern - The Russians form the Eastern group (excluding the Finns and Tartars who are considered Turk). The Russian Slavs stretch from Europe into central Siberia and are Orthodox Christian in religion. In appearance a great many look like the pictures of their leaders seen on TV: Almost completely round heads (around the hat brim), no visible necks or waists, long arms and short legs. When they profess religion it is Eastern Orthodox Christian.

North-Western - The North-Western Slavs include the Poles (who are Roman Catholic), Kashubes, Wends, Czechs and their eastern neighbors, the Moravians, now included in Czechoslovakia, the Slovaks and the Teutonized Slavs of central Germany. In appearance the North-Western Slavs seem to be a cross between the Eastern Slav and Saxon. Some of the North-West Slavs are particularly beautiful physical specimens and are often confused with the pockets of Saxon-Rus still living in Russia. Since everyone in this region speaks Slavic languages they tend to think of themselves as Slav even when they are Saxon. When I was on active duty with the US Army I worked with an intelligence officer in division G-2. He was a NW-type Slav - Polish, round skull, blond, medium height, nice looking, and was one of the best intelligence officers I have ever seen. He was also an alcoholic - a weakness shared by almost the entire Slavic race.

Southern Slavs - Slovenes, Serbo-Croats and Bulgarians. Prior to WWII the Southern Slavs were cut off from the rest of the Slav world by German (Saxon) settlements. These Germans have since been forcibly repatriated to Germany. This has caused the Slavic empire inhabited by Slavs to expand enormously at the expense of the ancient colonies of Saxon-Germans. When the ancient Saxon- Greeks destroyed themselves in the Greek peninsular by internecine wars, they were replaced by Slavs who are by now a mixture of Slav and Turk, although violently anti-Turk in political attitude. Some of these people show Slav characteristics and some show Turk racial characteristics. Many of the Yugoslavs have long skull types (front to back) and except by language are difficult to tell from Westerners. There are a great many Slavs living in France - replacing the French-Saxons killed in France's never ending wars.

Characteristics In General

To the Saxon - the Slav presents a kaleidoscope of contradictions and appearances. They are among the world's worst farmers having to import a large part of their food. However, under the direction of their Rus aristocracy prior to WWI they were exporters of food products. During WWII they exhibited fantastically stupid military tactics, but by war's end they produced the marvelous T-34 tank, excellent fighter planes, and some military tacticians as good as their German opponents - who were considered the best in the world.

In war they exhibit a fatalism and ferocity seldom seen anywhere else. Ordered to attack they will climb over piles of their dead to reach their enemy again and again. Stories from the Crimean War tell of British medical workers, attempting to aid the wounded of both sides, often had to fight off attacks by badly wounded Russian Slavs whom they tried to help. Some attempted to stab them if they could and even try to bite them when their arms were shattered and they were unable to hold a weapon.

Slav relationship with the Saxon has been a love-hate affair which will be dealt with in future newsletters.

Slav vs. Turk

The Slav relationship with the Turk has been no love-hate affair - it has been wholehearted, unrelenting, unqualified hate.

It was the Turk who gave the Slav his name - "Slave"! While the rule of the Saxon-Rus was largely benign, there has been nothing benign in the rule of the Turk. He treated the Slav as a commodity; using Slav men as soldiers and Slav women in Turk harems.

Huns - The Huns stormed into Europe, demolishing all resistance in their way. They reached France before the combined armies of the Romans and Goths managed to turn them back. Their leader Attila was killed by a German princess and the Huns retreated to Hungary and settled among the Slavs whom they treated as slaves.

Golden Horde - The Turk-Mongols swept over Russia and settled for centuries. The Khazar-Jews, a Turk tribe, acted as their tax collectors among the Slavs - earning their eternal hatred.

Turks - The invasions of Europe by the Turks provided the Slavs an opportunity to fight their ancient enemy. It was the Slavic armies of Poland that provided the reinforcements that saved Vienna from the Turks.

Slav-Crusades - Under the leadership of Saxon-Rus and Saxon- Germans, the Slavs undertook a centuries-long ongoing crusade to remove the Turk from lands they had conquered from the Slavs. This crusade consisted of intermittent wars surpassing in ferocity almost the West can imagine. These were wars in which all the captives taken by one side or the other were massacred - and the men, women and children shared the fate of the warriors.

WWI - Before WWI Russia was ruled by descendants of the ancient Rus aristocracy. Turks who had been made captive by the Saxon-Rus allied themselves with the Slav peasants and revolted. In the war that ensued the Saxon-Rus were exterminated. The Turks then took over the government and ruled the Slavs with an iron hand. In their grip tens of millions of Slavs were sent to their deaths in great extermination work camps. The ruling Turks, a merchant group, have since relaxed their grip because there is nothing left of value in Russia, and they themselves are greatly reduced in numbers having chosen to migrate to more profitable parts of the world - leaving Russia in the hands of surrogate rulers.

Field Of The Blackbirds

In 1389, Prince Lazar led a Serb-Slav army against a vastly superior invading Ottoman-Turk army in Kosovo. After valiant feats of heroism the Slav army of over 70,000 were slaughtered almost to a man. The Serbs then fell under merciless Turk rule for almost 400 years.

Yugoslavia Today

Centuries of fighting the Turks has foisted a Pan-Slavic feeling among Slavs. A blow against one, for whatever reason, is perceived to be a blow against all. This is a particularly sensitive matter when all parties involved have access to nuclear and bacteriological weapons.

Serb-Slavs hate the Albanian-Turks with a hatred completely misunderstood in the West, and this hatred is reciprocated. Balkan Slav-Turk warfare has been an on-again off-again thing for centuries. Because of economic and political reasons at home, the US has lead NATO into the midst of this boiling cauldron.[5] The one sided atrocity stories told by the Nato propaganda machine is causing Turk volunteers to flock to the aid of Albania from all over the Islamic world. The one sided atrocity stories told by the Slav propaganda machine is causing volunteers to flock to Yugoslavia from all over the Slav world. An old brush fire is being fanned into something much more than it has been.

There is one thing that through the smoke of war, the atrocity charges and counter charges, the death and the pain of civilians, and the never-ending media lies - stands above all else. It is this:

> The Saxon Christian West is attacking a Slavic Christian nation - an act which benefits Turkish-Muslims.

If someone doesn't see something odd in this - that person is brain dead.

5 Like the brief "Monica War" with Iraq, this most recent spur-of-the- moment war takes the American president's peccadilloes off the newspaper front page and also primes the economic pump with war spending to off-set a down turn in American private sector spending.

This could only happen if the West, meaning the U.S. and its allies, are acting as Turk surrogates, just as most of the Slav world has acted as Turk surrogates since WWI. If the Turk is manipulating Slav and Saxon to benefit Turk - then Christian Saxon fighting Christian Slav makes sense! It explains what is otherwise inexplicable.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

We had to have the alarm system seen to again. A black connected the negative to the positive on a battery. He has been working for security firms for the last ten years and learned nothing.

In Sunday's newspaper is an article on Johannesburg and surrounding towns' fire department - which is in fact now non- existent. Since the blacks have come into power they have been cutting back on what they see as non-essentials. Many firemen left because of non-payment and the white who complains is naturally called a racist. Instead of receiving support, most of the white political parties condemn him for racist remarks which happen to be perfectly true.

After the Randburg council got rid of most whites, they had to recall the one who operated the water supply to train a black. Well, the black took over on two weekends and the reservoirs were bone dry. He never watched the panel or pushed a button, so large areas now end up without water.

We now have politically correct white politicians, but ordinary liberals hate blacks now more than the rest of us.[6], Mbeki gave a hatespeech in parliament that was so bad that people wanted to know who writes Mandela and Mbeki's speeches for them and advises them. It turns out that they are Jews. No wonder so much hatred flows from these two blacks. Their media is inciting blacks to such an extent that they feel they have done something of merit when they murder a white.

The past weekend was the yearly HNP political party congress. I only went on Friday afternoon for two hours. I got the feeling that we can expect some major problems. No only are the blacks killing black opponents before the June 2 election, but they are beginning to murder whites with the aim of driving them out of the country. When two blacks cruelly murdered an elderly couple, they placed a sign on their bodies with the words "You have oppressed us too much" and they came from Zimbabwe (formerly Rhodesia). It makes you wonder.

Esau is truly at war with Jacob, using millions of the black hordes who vote. They will riot when the time comes and they kill with the greatest pleasure.

A family at the congress had to return home when someone began to poison their stud sheep. Other cases of where the tendons of animals were slashed were also told. The cruelty of blacks to animals as well as people knows no bounds.

We enjoyed your Hoskins Report about your family history. Where would we be without a background. That makes me wonder what some of the traitors are going to tell their grandchildren about their part in this bloodless surrender of their nation to heartless strangers.

Large firms are moving out at a fast rate, even those who in 1992 threatened people who were going to vote against turning the country over to the blacks. Yes, and they even fired people from their jobs who did vote against the takeover.

Well, they are the ones who are leaving the country. Maybe it is prophetic that they are all going to London.

With Best Wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

AIDS: "Sir; The enclosed article from the NY Times reveals that the AIDS epidemic is accelerating at an unbelievable rate. It has now reached an increase of 21% per annum. Note that the 10% rate cited in the argument does not follow from the reported increase from 1996 to 1997. The second revelation is that the epidemic is confined 98% to the colored races of the world. Of the whites, it is mainly the homosexuals and those who associate with them that are being infected.

At the present rate of HIV infection, blacks in Africa will be greatly reduced in number in 13.5 years. The same will occur in N. America and Cuba in 20 years. India and the Orient will be decimated.

HIV is clearly a disease of the coloreds and white degenerates. A white woman having intercourse with a black has over a 150 times greater opportunity of being infected than with a white man. Women as a whole are more likely to get HIV and later full blown AIDS by a factor of 10 than a white man. This information should be communicated to the white women of the world. For those who have lost their racial pride, let them be ruled by fear, or perish as the unwholesome and loathsome specimens that they have become. Whites who lead moral and monogamous lives have nothing to fear. That is all that our God asks of us." A.J. - Tennessee

METHODISTS REPORT: The Methodist bishop for Northern California filed a complaint Tuesday against 69 ministers who participated in a lesbian "holy union celebration" in mass defiance of a church ban on same-sex marriages. News & Advance March 24, 1999.

RKH: We are witnessing the breakup of traditional Christianity. Reform Christians following the Commandments of Yahweh and Hindu converts following the teachings of Brahma.

THE VATICAN CHOOSES: The Vatican has made official Pope John Paul II's tough views opposing the death penalty in a new, revised edition of the church's catechism-the compilation of church teaching. Church teaching has held that capital punishment should be imposed only if necessary to protect society. In his 1995 encyclical "Evangelium Vitae", John Paul said such cases are "practically nonexistent."

RKH: God Commands that the death penalty be imposed in cases of murder, rape, homosexuality, etc. To oppose God's Commandments is to oppose God.

BUDDHISM: A Thai Buddhist temple is erected every two months. There are nearly 1,500 Buddhist temples and monasteries in the U.S. Most major U.S. colleges have Buddhist Studies departments. Buddhism focuses on self- improvement and elevates man to be his own authority on spiritual matters. Calvary Contender, Oct 15, 1997

VOODOO? An East Orange man has been charged in what authorities said was the sacrificial slaying of a homeless white man 15 years ago. John Armstrong, 40, aka Yokonon Israel is charged for the crime. "He is currently serving an 18-year sentence in federal prison on racketeering convictions related to 18 murders in the Miami area."Star Ledger

RKH: This sounds suspiciously like "voodoo". It is interesting to note that when strangers rule themselves, they tend to revert to the gods in whose image they are made. The EB 14th ED. Vol 23, p254, "Voodoo" states: "The name given to certain magical practices, superstitions, and secret rites prevalent among the negroes of the W. Indies, notably in the republic of Haiti ... obscene rites involving the use of human blood, preferably that of a white child, were considered features of this religion."

It is also interesting that we hear almost nothing from the serpent's media of the fate of the thousands of Saxon children who disappear every year.

PINOCHET: The Rest Of The Story

While the controlled media are gunning for the former Chilean head of state Pinochet, accusing him of "serious infringements of human rights" during his reign, his erstwhile subjects are protesting in Santiago and other Chilean cities against his arrest in Great Britain in violation of international law. Whereas many communist mass murderers from the former Soviet Union, Cuba, Cambodia, Vietnam, China, North Korea, Ethiopia and elsewhere are today at liberty to do as they please, without any complaints from the media, the aging General is to be subjected to a show trial. As always, the story has another side to it: In the late "sixties", the Chilean people elected the Marxist Salvador Allende as head of state. By 1973, Chile's economy had collapsed, owing to Allende's socialist experiments. Mass unemployment, hyperinflation, negative growth, exploding taxes and interest rates were the outcome. Although Chile had previously been a net exporter of food, it now suffered famine. It was impossible to buy basic foodstuffs, the Mafia controlled the black market, and criminal chaos reigned. The population was terrorized by communist gangs (Maoists, Trotskyists, Red Brigades, and others). At the height of the terror, Allende's old friend and communist bedfellow Fidel Castro offered his help. He sent 5000 Cuban soldiers to assist the regime in subjugating the Chilean people. Angered by the invasion of his country by foreign troops, a Chilean naval captain then took it upon himself to organize an uprising. The situation in the country worsened daily. The army stepped in and Pinochet assumed power. The Cubans were driven, en masse, into the capital's national stadium, where they were summarily executed. What followed was described by the greater part of the population as a necessary "cleansing of the country". The military gave short shrift to the communist gangs roaming the country. Many were killed, some probably also tortured, including Spanish activists who had no business to be in Chile. Nevertheless, peace and calm ultimately returned to the country. Under Pinochet's rule, Chile developed into S. America's most flourishing economic power. The population's per-capita income doubled every ten years. Pinochet produced what the Marxist Allende had promised. And it is for this that the socialists and Marxists of all hues now want to take revenge! (Insider Jan 15, 1999, PO Box 17200, Groenkloof, Pretoria 0027, RSA

Richard Snell - Voice From The Grave

Richard Snell's Last Call Ministries of May 1992 contained information worth reviewing:

"Just recently I had a Federal Habeas Corpus hearing to determine if I deserved a new trial in my Death Penalty conviction. My counsel was the firm of White & Case, Washington, DC, the largest law firm in the world. W&C became involved back in '86 when I was within 3 days of execution, had no attorney and no money to hire one. Someone, unknown to me, contacted them and they stepped in, 'pro bono publico,' meaning 'for the public good'. They claim to have spent over a million dollars in investigating and preparing for the hearing. William Currier, ex-federal prosecutor, with a mind like a steel trap, headed the team of five attorneys and five legal assistants present at the hearing.

"All the above should immediately raise questions in every thinking Patriot's mind. Like why would the government spend so much money for the defense of a White Christian Patriot when they hate us so much? And what do they expect in return for their investment? ...

"The judge ruled to vacate the death penalty, but upheld the guilty verdict, which means I have two sentences of 'life without parole, at hard labor.'

" ... The real essence is contained in the testimony of one Dr. Brad Fisher who supposedly testified on behalf of the Petitioner (myself). Dr. Fisher is the nation's leading clinical psychologist on dangerous behavior and we believe that his testimony was not merely intended to give justification to said ruling, but was intended to give a foundation in establishing a guideline which will soon affect every White Patriot in the nation, Christian or not. Therefore the need for this letter of warning. Although there is no thought crime per se, there is a thought disease from which the public must be protected, remember Mr. 'Pro Bono'. Following is a brief summary of Dr. Fisher's diagnosis, you decide on intent. Questions asked by Bill Currier, lead attorney for Petitioner.

Q. Based on your evaluation of Mr. Snell what is your diagnosis regarding his mental condition prior to and at the time of the commission of the crime, and now?

A. Mr. Snell is suffering from what is best described, or what is in the diagnostic manual as a delusional disorder, a paranoid delusional disorder.

Q. Is this order deep-seated?

A. Yes.

Q. And when you say 'deep-seated,' what does this mean? That is, can they be changed?

A. In the area of his delusion they are deep-seated in that they are persuasive, they don't change, and their impact level is high. It doesn't go away. It doesn't disappear, you had it before and it will be there tomorrow.

Q. With those provisos then, would you go ahead and describe the symptoms.

A. In his case, noting that his behavior is quite normal - he's quite bright, he's quite logical in most areas other than his delusional symptom. His delusion is of a large level conspiracy. It's - it includes a perception that the government, in his case, he thinks it is world wide, but absolutely the government within the United States - is under the control in his belief of a group called the Zionist Occupational Group. In turn, there are controls related to this group of agencies functioning from the government. Of primary concern are agencies such as law agencies and financial agencies. His opinion is that the Zionist Occupational Group controls our government, is working to enhance its control. Part of this process includes the proliferation of drugs and subsequent crime. This is part of their plan, in his belief. The drug epidemic is connected with the effort to enhance this control.

"Unusual testimony for one's attorney to present in one's defense, that is if one ever wants to be free. Don't you think? Paranoid 'Delusional Disorder. Won't go away.' Label me mentally sick. Rapidly developing events will soon show who is deluded. This is a dangerous criterion for all Patriots still running free, especially in the light of recent Presidential speeches by a President under siege for possible criminal activities when he said, 'under no circumstances is there any excuse for racism or anti-Semitism'. It bodes no good for Patriots.

"Fisher's complete testimony is in March/April Seekers. Those desiring a copy write to Mary Snell, PO Box 6708, Texarkana, TX 75505-6708. A donation for postage and handling would be appreciated." Richard Snell.

RKH: Richard Snell's writings became a thorn in the side of the establishment and he was executed in 1995.

Chapter 297

TURK

" Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

Among the sons of Noah - Sham, Ham and Japeth - the descendants of Ham are the predators.

Who Is A Turk?

An Arab is a Turk - The Arab and the land of Arabia used to be defined as follows:

> Arabia: "Arabia lies athwart the enormous belt of desert, commencing near the Atlantic Ocean with the Sahara, and extending through Chinese Tartary, almost to the Pacific Ocean. ... Among the Hebrews the name Arabian denoted the inhabitants of the desert portion (Jer.iii.2). (Illustrated Davis Dictionary of the Bible)

In the year 1900, a Westerner traveling to North Africa, Arabia, or to the deserts north of China described the desert nomads he encountered as "Arabs". This description no longer suffices since the oil rich country of "Arabia" was created out of the ruins of the Turkish Ottoman Empire following WWI. Today's Westerner now thinks of the Arab

LANDS OF THE TURK

The name "Turk" is a generic name for all the sons of Ham and Essau who have spread across the face of the world. Most received their earlier names from the Chinese who named them from their invasions of that land.

as being the inhabitant of the Arabian peninsula. Because of this we now identify the inhabitants of this vast region from the Atlantic to the Pacific as Turks.

"Turk" - Generic Name

"Turk" is a generic name which is used to include "Huns", "Arabs", "Mongols", "Tartars", "Khazar" and many others who have different names, but are close kin having intermmarried extensively over the years. The Chinese gave most of them their tribal names based on the date of their attempted invasions of China. Otherwise they would all be named Arabs, or now - Turks.

These dwellers of the deserts are a nomadic people who trade with others when they cannot overcome them and take everything they have.

Habitat

Many Biblical scholars believe that the Turks descend from Ham and come from the deserts because that is the land apportioned to them from the time of Noah:

> "The Children of Noah began to divide the earth ... into three parts, to Shem and to Ham, and to Japhet, each one his inheritance ... And for Ham came out as the second portion ... toward the south ... And for Japhet ... a great land in the north; only it is cold, but the land of Ham is hot, and the land of Shem ... is mixed in coldness and heat." Jubilees 8:8-25

Ancestry

Mongrel Race - Turks are a mongrel race. Having no laws against interracial marriage, they take wives from those they conquer or trade with. In northwest Europe, Turks tend to be fair. In the far east they tend to have an oriental appearance. In India, where an entire race of "Adam-man" invaded and inter-married with the native Blacks - a mixed race has developed having all degrees of appearances from the coal black in the south to the Saxon type in the north with Saxon facial characteristics but with the darkening that comes with racial admixture.

The Arab-Turks in the Mideast claim descent from Abraham. Abraham's son Esau married daughters of strangers. One of those whom he married was a daughter of a Canaanite. This is how the descendants of Esau are also descendants of Cain, since Turks the world over share the same ancestors:

> "Esau ... in the course of time went as usual to hunt; and he came as far as the field of Seir, the same is Edom. ... And Esau there saw in the land of Seir the daughter of a man of Canaan, and her name was Jehudith ... And Esau took her for a wife." Jasher 29:20-23

The Scriptures say:

"Esau the father of the Edomites in mount Seir." Gen 36:8,9

The Edomites were cursed by God and Esau was their father (Is 34:5-6).

Characteristics Of Esau/Cain

The Scriptures say this about Esau:

"Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and inveigled them." Jasher 29:20- 23

Since Esau married a daughter of a Canaanite, his descendants also inherited the curses of Cain which are now the characteristics of Esau/Cain:

NO REST - TERROR: "Cain, ever since he had killed his brother, he could find no rest in any place." I Adam & Eve 74:28; "Then the Creator said to him, 'Be trembling and quaking.' Then Cain trembled and became terrified; and through this sign did God make him an example before all creation, as the murderer of his brother." I Adam & Eve 74: 24-25

Cain hallucinates. He sees his victims' ghosts in every attic, behind every tree. He accuses his wronged victims of being "out to get him" - of being "anti-canaanite." He accuses them of "hate!" Cain even invented a special crime to accuse his victims with - "hate crime." "HATE" accusation is another sign of Cain. They always are "trembling and quaking". This is their sign. They have inherited other curses:

Thistles: "Cursed be thou from the ground which opened its mouth to receive thy brother's blood ... when thou shall till it ... thorns and thistles shall the ground produce." Jasher I: 31-32.

Esau/Cain has difficulty making the land produce. Almost never does one see Esau/Cain as a profitable farmer. Whatever they touch seems to die.

Political Episcopacy: "(Cain) first of all set boundaries about lands (countries); he built a city, and fortified it with walls." Antiquities 2:2

While Adam-man established his Saxon nation with its self- sufficient farm system - Esau-Cain conquered peoples and established taxable entities called "cities" and "countries" in which to stockpile people to be workers and to be more easily taxed and policed.

Hater: "The meaning of Cain is 'hater." I Adam & Eve 74:7. The "sign" of Cain's hatred and that of his descendants is legend. Even Cain's hate motto is a "sign" - "never forgive - never forget!" Boasting a "hate" motto - he constantly accuses others of "hate".

No Fellowship: Adam/man is warned to have no dealings with the Esau/Cain Turks: "Make no fellowship with the children of Cain the murderer and the sinner, who killed his brother." II Adam & Eve 12:11. "Then command again thy people not to hold intercourse with the children of Cain, and not to learn their ways; for I am God who loves not hatred and the works of iniquity." Adam & Eve 19:4; "Sever thy children and thy children's children from Cain's children; do not let them ever mix with those, nor come near them either in their words or in their deeds." II Adam & Eve 8:14,15.

There is also this warning:

Robbery: "Among the children of Cain, there was much robbery, murder, and sin." II Adam & Eve 13:2

Whiskey: There is also the "strong drink" curse which the Esau- Cain-Turk counts as a blessing:

"After Cain... and his children had multiplied... there was one of them... Genun... Satan came to him in his childhood, and ... taught Genun to bring strong drink out of corn; and this Genun used to bring together companies upon companies in drink-houses;... Then when they were drunk, hatred and murder increased... Then sin increased greatly; until a man married his own sister, or daughter, or mother,... or the daughter of his father's sister." I Adam & Eve 20:1-10

Look to see who produces "strong drink". If the Scriptures are true - you will find a Turk.

Restless Turk: The hot lands were settled on Ham and his descendants. Ham's descendants, Esau-Cain, constantly travel from one part of the hot lands to the other,[1] stopping off at one place or another for a few generations, and then picking up and moving to another place. It is what they do.

TURK TRIBES

HUNS - The Huns are one of the first Turkic tribes that the West had to deal with. They were unknown until they stormed out of the deserts and swept into the Crimea and from there all the way across Europe until they were stopped in France at the battle of the Catalonian Fields - the greatest one day battle known to Christendom. Retreating, they invaded Italy. In 453 AD, Attila, their leader, took a German Princess, Ildico, the daughter of a Germanic chief whom he had executed for treason (Attila indulged himself in wives and had 300).

1 "Cain ... could neither settle nor find rest in any one place; but wandered from place to place." II Adam & Eve 13:5

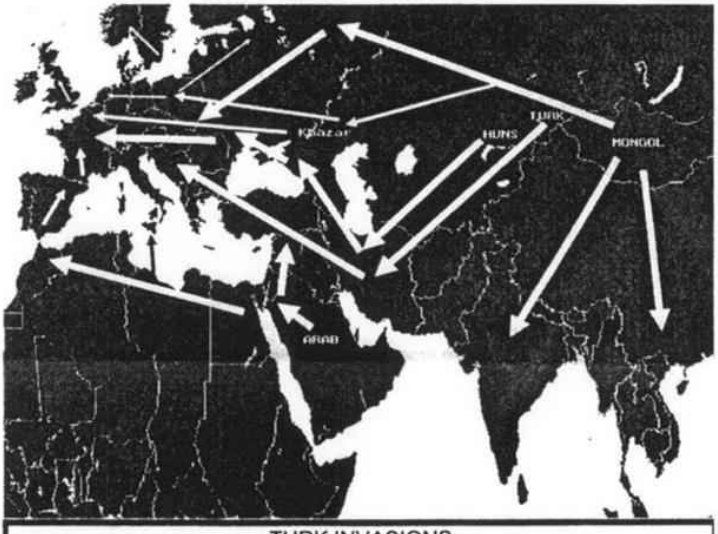
The morning after his marriage he was found dead in a pool of blood. Ildico had killed him to revenge her shame of being taken by a stranger.[2]



TURK INVASIONS

There have been five major Turk invasions of the West, besides their invasions of Russia, India and China. In the West - 1- The Huns; 2- Arab; 3- Turk; 4 - Mongol 5 - the Khazar invasion - a continuation of the the Mongol invasion of a thousand years ago.

In the usual Turkic manner, the Huns fought among themselves to determine who would be their new leader. Thus weakened, they were pushed back into eastern Europe and settled in a land that today is called Hun-gary - the land of the Huns - where their descendants reside today along with Slavs and a few remaining Germans.

2 "Thou shalt not take a wife ... of the Canaanites ... but thou shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4; "So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Ex 33:16; "I am the Lord your God, which have separated you from other people." Lev 20:24

ARABS - Arabs, living in the Arabian Peninsula, were united by Mohammed under the banner of Islam. In a few short years, they stormed out of the Arabian deserts and conquered Palestine, Syria, Egypt, and North Africa. Crossing over into Europe they swept through Spain and into France where they were stopped at the hard fought Battle of Tours.

Retreating back into Spain, they dug in their heels and held that land for almost a milleium and a half before being expelled. However, they left behind colonies. Because of them large parts of Southern Spain are in fact Turk. These are the same Turks who furnished so many "Spanish" settlers to Mexico and South America where they mixed with Indians and Negro slaves. The result is the Hispanic who is invading the southern United States.

HISPANIC: The Hispanic is a Esau-Cain/Arab-Turk/Indian-Negro mixture - a Turk. He has all the characteristics of the Turk. He conquers by migrating, building colonies, and taking over the land, and moving again. The following describes them very well: "Among the children of Cain, there was much robbery, murder, and sin." II Adam & Eve 13:2

SICILIANS & S. ITALIANS: The Arab Turks invaded Sicily and from there they invaded Southern Spain. To this very day, both regions speak Italian with a Saracen accent. The southern Italian and Sicilian are a very different breed from the Germans who settled northern Italy a millenium and a half ago. Their colonies in other parts of the world are duplicates of the ones they left behind in Europe and the Mideast.

TURKS: The great Mongol invasions pushed more Turks into the Near East during the time of the Christian Crusades and these Turks soon ruled and intermarried with the earlier invaders whom they conquered. Mohammedan Egyptians, Kurds, Christian Armenians and Jews became "Turks".

MONGOLS: The nomads living in the great Mongolian Desert were also named by the Chinese. They were united under the dynamic leadership of such men as Genghis Khan and in a short while invaded, conquered and ruled China, India, and Russia - a vast area.

China The Mongol Turks were absorbed into the peoples of their great Chinese empire. In China's northern portions many "Chinese" have decidedly Turkish features and most are much lighter in color than southern Chinese. The Chinese Turk among the merchants of China has a close relationship with Turk merchants in other parts of the world. China is the far eastern terminal of the ancient spice route.

India: The Mongol Turks invaded and conquered India - and are called by historians - "Mongols". They too were absorbed by the multi-racial Indians, but maintain a close relationship with other Turkish merchants over the world. India is mid-way, and a very active partner, of activities on the east-west spice route. It is these Indian Turks who have furnished most of the basic Hindu-Buddhist religious practices and beliefs to other Turks and through them to their conquered peoples.

Russia: Another branch of the Mongol invasion swept into Russia and conquered and ruled that land for centuries. The invaders then passed into Poland and destroyed its army; then into eastern Germany - defeating and almost destroying the Teutonic Knights. Then they passed into Hungary and destroyed the great Hungarian army. From there they drove into the Near East and became embroiled with the Turks living there.

The death of Genghis Khan caused a recall of the Mongol army's commanding officers, but the Mongols held on to their conquests until they were absorbed by the Turks they had conquered, or were driven out a bit at a time as happened in Russia.

Khazars: The Khazars were a Mongol tribe that participated in the conquest of Russia. They were the Mongols' tax collectors. After the great Mongol invasion broke up into its component tribes, the Mongol-Turk-Tartar tribes were driven out of Russia one at a time. The Khazars broke up under heavy assault and were scattered over Russia, Poland, and Eastern Europe. Some made their way into Western Europe. This is what the Academic American Encyclopedia has to say about them.

> KHAZARS (kah'-zars): "The Khazars, a Turkic people... dominated substantial parts of S. Russia during much of the 7th through 10th centuries. During the 8th century the Khazar aristocracy and the kagan (king) were converted to Judaism.... and for 4 centuries thereafter this Jewish empire held the balance of power between the Christian Byzantine Empire and the Muslim Caliphate.... The Khazars controlled many of the trade routes to the Orient; some of the Radhanites (Jewish merchants from Gaul), for example, were accustomed to crossing the Khazar empire while traveling to and from China and India.... In 965, Svyatoslav I, duke of Kiev, decisively defeated the Khazar army.... new waves of Turkic invaders overran the remains of the Khazar state."[3]

The Roman Catholic Church, forbidden by the WORD to engage in usury, enslaved the Jews for that purpose and then taxed them. In time these Turkish-Jews achieved a degree of independence and accumulated great wealth as agents for Turk sponsors in India and China as well as for themselves.[4]

The Khazar Turks and their Christian Jannisaries now provide the cutting edge of the Turk crusade against Christendom.

The Cloak Of Nimrod

To understand the Turk one must more closely understand their ancestor, Esau. Esau got his power from Nimrod. Here's the story:

> "And king Nimrod reigned securely, and all the earth was under his control, and all the earth was of one tongue and the words of union. ...(And Nimrod said) let us build ourselves a city and in it a strong tower, and its top reaching heaven... they imagined in their hearts to war against him (God) and to ascend into heaven. ... and they forgot each man his neighbor's tongue, and they could not understand to speak in one tongue ... And they ceased building the city and the tower; therefore he called that place Babel, for there the Lord confounded the language of the whole earth." Jasher 9:20-37

From the above, one learns that Nimrod ruled the entire world, and that under him universalism (ie. integration and assimilation) was rapidly taking place. But then, God stepped in with separatism and ruined everything.

The basis of Nimrod's power rested in a cloak, or clothing, that had originally been given to Adam by God. Here is that story:

> "Cush the son of Ham, the son of Noah, took a wife ... and she bare him a son, and they called his name Nimrod ... And the garments of skin which God made for Adam ... were given to Cush.

4 "Edom is in modern Jewry." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, 1925 edition, vol 5, p 41.; "Strictly speaking, it is incorrect to call an ancient Israelite a Jew, or to call a contemporary Jew an Israelite or Hebrew." Jewish Almanac 1980, p. 1., Identity Crisis.

For after the death of Adam ... the garments were given to Enoch ... Enoch ... gave them to Methuselah ... and Noah took them and brought them to the ark ... And in their going out, Ham stole those garments from Noah his father ... And when Ham begat his first born Cush, he gave him the garments in secret.. And Cush ... begot Nimrod and gave him those garments through his love for him, and Nimrod grew up, and when he was 20 years old he put on those garments. And Nimrod became strong when he put on the garments." Jasher 7:23-30

The "Cloak Of Nimrod" made possible the great Turkish conquests. This cloak is simply - DECEPTION! - which he disseminates through his Media.

Whenever Nimrod put on the Cloak he became powerful and ruled over his neighbors. This is how Esau got the cloak from Nimrod:

"And Nimrod ... came ... when Esau started suddenly from his lurking place, and drew his sword, and hastened and ran to Nimrod and cut off his head ... and Esau took the valuable garments of Nimrod, which Nimrod's father had bequeathed to Nimrod, and with which Nimrod prevailed over the whole land." Jasher 17:7,10

When Esau put on this cloak, he too ruled his neighbors. His descendants have used it from that time to try to regain the birthright that God gave to Isaac.

The great Arab leader, Saladan, to bring quarreling kinsmen under his rule to fight the Christian Crusaders, set rooms of scribes to work writing and sending letters to followers of his enemies with news stories that deceived them.[5] Believing Saladan's deceptions, the people of his contending neighbors[6] left their rulers and fell under his power one after another. Saladan hardly had to raise a hand to make them submit. With the Arab Turk world united under his rule - the Christian kingdoms in the Mideast were quickly destroyed.

The great Christian Fortress of Kraak withstood every Saracen attack for decades. It was taken by the Turks who used the simple stratagem of counterfeiting a Crusader command that ordered them to evacuate the fortress. "Deception!"

The Cloak Of Nimrod: The "Cloak of Nimrod" has been and is being used primarily for three things:

* 1) To destroy Adam-man from off the face of the earth so the Turk might inherit the earth for his own. This mission was first undertaken by the serpent in the garden of Eden and next by the Naphidem giants (see HR 286). This mission has now descended to the Turk - the offspring of Esau and Cain.

* 2) The second use of the Cloak has been to deceive the scattered tribes of Turks and to unite them under one leader into a great irresistible nation. This was the aim of Attila, leader of the Huns; Genghis Khan of the Mongols; and Saladan of the Arab Turks.

* 3) The third use of the Cloak is to deceive and separate Saxon- man from his God. This has been done by teaching Saxon-man that they have been replaced as Saxon Israel, that the Turks are now "God's Chosen People". So few of Saxon Israel know their God's Commandments that they don't know that the Turk claim is impossible since it violates God's Command: "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

6 Turks are constantly contending for supremacy. They are remarkably brutal to each other - they always have been. It's their nature. It is also their nature to later join together as if there had been no prior bloodshed to fight a third party. Viewed in this manner it is important to know that the present unpleasantness between the Khazar Turks and the Palestinian Turks will pass and they may likely form an alliance against another whom they consider a mutual enemy. Already the Turks of Turkey and the Turks of Palestine have a close alliance.

If the Saxon can be made to believe this lie - that the Turks are "God's Chosen People",[7] it separates the Saxon from their God because God's Commandment also says, "I was not sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24. Consequently, many Saxon/Israelites (including foolish "ministers of God") believe this Turk lie and consequently believe that both the WORD and the "Word made flesh" is alien to them. There are other things the cloak hides.

Interracial Marriage: The most ancient of all the Turk strategies he learned from his forebears:

> "If you ... gain a victory over them (the Israelites, then do thusly) ... Set out the handsomest ... of your daughters ... then ... send them to be near the Israelites ... and when they are enamored of them ... persuade them to leave off their obedience to their own laws and the word of that God who established them ... for by this means God will be angry at them ... This Balaam ... did ... suggest ... by making us of which, our enemies had well-nigh corrupted the whole multitude of the Hebrews with their wiles ..." Antiquities 4:6:6-13;

> "Adam and Eve returned from the mountain ... but when there a multitude of beasts came all round them. It was Satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage." I Adam & Eve 69:9-11.

This is why the Turk pushes so hard for the integration of the races and sexes in schools, militiary and the market place. It is what his fathers did.

Turk Money Builds Turk Buildings: Turk money builds buildings in New York that look like the buildings in Johannesberg, Leopoldville, Hong Kong, Singapore and Suez.

7 "Ye are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." I Peter 2:9; "The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6.

They all look alike because they were all built with Turk money and the piper calls the tune.

True Owners: ALL large stock corporations are owned or controlled by Turks. This is why there are stock companies and bank nominee names - to conceal the Turk ownership. If competing Turks had not needed the Saxon as allies against other Turks - the Saxon would have outlived his usefulness long ago.

Usury: Usury is forbidden to the Saxon, but the Turk practices usury even when the Islamic religion of some of them forbids it. If this usury chain is not broken, in time it enslaves all who use it.[8] In the meantime it allows its practitioners to amass tremendous wealth.

Politics: The Turks use their usury wealth to set up kings to protect their trade markets. In today's world, all kings (or their equivalents) are agents of the Turk's "International Trade Cartel" (ITC). Rebels in the American South, South Africa, Germany and Japan have been destroyed in wars levied by cartel surrogates to remove competition, potential opposition and to open new markets.

Religion: The Turks use their usury wealth to make friends with the Gods of their trade markets so that these Gods will not tell their people to destroy the Turk merchants. This is done by endowing seminaries, training priests and allowing priests to use their media to gain personal wealth. All that they are required to do is to tell their flocks that they must accept everyone without regard to "race, creed, or national origin." This is "trade Buddhism".

8 (See War Cycles/Peace Cycles, Hoskins

Kings and emperors set on their thrones by Turk merchants established episcopal type religious organizations to bless the kings and emperors who created them. If the "behind the scenes" rulers are Turks it is reasonable to assume that the episcopal religious organizations will bless the Turk and represent his views. It therefore comes as no surprise that the head of one of the largest episcopal religious organizations is said to be a Polish Turk.

Media: Turk wealth enabled them to buy a world-wide media monopoly. All news (except for the small alternate media) is Turk in origin. Saladin's newsletter copying rooms have been expanded to include thousands of newspapers, radio and TV stations and magazines. The media and their personnel have become the Turk's foremost intelligence gathering/propaganda agents.

Politicians: The Turk media owner advertises his agents for Saxon political office. Knowing no one better, the people select the one they like best of the Turk's agents to be their ruler. Thus, the Turk actually selects the Saxon's rulers while making the Saxon believe that he has elected one of his own.

These Turk ruler agents appoint judges to rule that whatever the Turks do is "legal". Thus, the judges are also Turk agents. Nimrod's cloak of deception covers the land and rules the people - and lawlessness, as defined by the WORD, abounds. Few see that the "emperor has no clothes."

Names: The Turks disguise themselves as Saxons by adapting their haircuts[9], their clothing styles, and their Saxon names.

9 "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll (closely cut) their heads." EZ 44:22.

The Turks have created Hollywood to condition and program the Saxon. This Hollywood has awards presentations. Whoever is the best "deceiver" - wins - and the people cheer as if rewarding the ability to deceive was a good thing.

6-Million Deception: Without proof, the Turk media alleges that 6-million Turkish Jews were gassed during WWII. The Turk media must repeat the charge weekly, otherwise, the actual holocaust of 9-million Saxon Germans, who were put to death on Turk orders AFTER WWII ended, will be discussed.[9] Such a discussion will have repercussions. This is why it must be pre-empted by the weekly never-ending 6-million "hate - the German Saxon" campaign.

Janissary: Turk rulers discovered that having organized bands of armed Turks was not conducive to the ruler's own long life. They solved this dilemma by taking Christian children and raising them as Turks. By nature these captives were made in the image of the WORD; they were not naturally liars, thieves and murderers.

In Saxon lands today, Saxon children are placed in government schools and taught Turk customs, and history. The more promising of them are recruited into the Turk occupation government. Thoroughly indoctrinated and reliable, they can be sent to Ruby Ridge and Waco to slaughter their own Saxon people. The Turk courts protect them from punishment and the individuals involved are rewarded and told that they have done a good thing. In America their name is "FBI" and "ATF". They are "Jannisaries". If ordered - they will come to your house and kill you, your wife and children without blinking an eye or asking why. The Turk media will provide the necessary "demonization" to justify the act, the courts will make it legal, and Saxon priests will say nothing for fear of losing their tax- exemption.

Other Jannisaries will kill thousands of innocent Iraqis and Yugoslavs. They, too, have been trained to believe that their Turk-ruled government is always right. This is today's Turk Jannisary. The word Jannisary is Turkish for "white slave".

Kosovo

Warlike America: Basic Turk strategy has always been to separate their chosen victim from his friends and allies.

The chosen victim is the American and European Saxon. The Turk leaders of Saxon America have led America to attack foreign countries without first being provoked. These attacks have had the effect of separating America from any allies which she may have had in the world. The attack on Ruby Ridge and Waco by America's Janissaries isolated her from even her own Christian patriots. The result of these attacks is that America has become the most hated country in the world. Internally, she racially divided and is becoming more so as waves of Saxon-hating immigrants are allowed to form colonies in her midst. When the world turns on America to destroy both her and her Saxon people - there will be no one to come to their defense.

Separating Brothers: With an occasional exception - Ham has been the usual predator - Shem and Japeth the victims. If Shem and Japeth were to form an alliance against Ham's Turks - the Turks predatory ambitions would quickly be contained.

To prevent this from happening, the Turks encourage strife between the Slav and the Saxon. What better way than to have Turk-led Saxons assault relatively defenseless Turk-led Slavs and kill them by the thousands? There are other reasons, but this is the strategic reason for the attack on Yugoslavia.

Problem: The plan would collapse if the Yugoslavs refuse to fight. The aversion to fighting an overwhelming NATO force can be accomplished by the determination, in the early 1990s, that the Yugoslav leaders would be tried as war criminals. What nation's leaders will meekly submit to being hanged in a Nürnberg kangaroo trial? There would be nothing to lose and perhaps something to gain by fighting.

Justice: What about the 500,000 Serbs who were themselves uprooted from Croatia and Bosnia - with the encouragement of NATO? NATO is NOT demanding that these refugees be returned and their property restored to them by the confiscating Turks. In other words - the Serb Slavs will be shown no justice. Their choice is to fight and chance the fortunes of war, or surrender and undergo occupation, dismemberment, and have their leaders tried as war criminals.

Immediate Gain: In the short term, the annexation of Kosovo by Turkish Albania provides the incentive for Yugoslavia's Turk neighbors to pile on. The reason is that Kosovo contains some of the richest mining deposits in Europe.

Deep Pockets: Sara Flounder, on July 30, 1998, wrote an article entitled: "Kosovo, The War Is About Mines". She says that the 'Stari Trg' mining complex is at the heart of the matter and quotes the mines director, Novak Bjelic, "The war in Kosovo is about the mines, nothing else. This is Serbia's Kuwait - the heart of Kosovo... In addition to this, Kosovo has 17 billion tons of coal reserves." Apparently the mining complex with its glittering veins of lead, zinc, cadmium, gold, and silver, topped by 17 billion tons of coal is reason enough to turn a Turk's eye, which has been turned for much less in days past. The South African gold mines were enough to cause Turk- ruled Great Britain to send a third of a million soldiers to the tiny nation of S.Africa.

To turn the Stari Trg mines over to Muslim KLA terrorists would destroy Yugoslavia economically - and doubtless enrich members of the International Trade Cartel who are powerful enough to use the US and NATO's armed might to implement their private ventures and the KLA as their "on-the-spot" surrogates.

If the UN or NATO troops are put in charge of the mines, a massive transfer of wealth will take place. The Slav-Serbs loose their greatest natural resource - the Turk gains the mines AND - an irreparable wedge is driven between the Saxon and the Slav.

Either way the beneficiary is the "Turk", by whatever name he chooses be be called.

Problem: The Turk has Nimrod's Cloak. Because of this the Saxon cannot see that he is being deceived and destroyed.

Solution: The solution lies in a revival of the Saxon's faith in the WORD, which is his God, and what it requires of him - which is why the Turk and his agents are actively persecuting the new Christian Reformation.

"The enemy is eager to destroy all that call upon the Lord. For he knoweth that upon the day that Israel shall repent, the kingdom of the enemy shall be brought to an end." Book of Dan 2:16-17.

Chapter 298

SAXON

Saxon Slaughter

Nemmersdorf, in East Prussia, fell to the Red Army for only 48 hours in October 1944, and was then recaptured by the German Army. All villagers had been murdered in the most brutal manner. Women and children were gang raped and then killed. Some had been nailed, naked and in cruciform position to barn doors.

The American historian and diplomat George Kennan wrote: "The disaster that befell this area with the entry of the Soviet forces has no parallel in modern European experience. There were considerable sections where, to judge by all existing evidence, scarcely a man, woman or child of the indigenous population was left alive after the initial passage of Soviet forces... The Russians swept the native population clean in a manner that has no parallel since the days of the Asiatic hordes."

East Europe was ethnically cleansed of between 17 to 19 million Saxons with over 3 million dying in the process. Saxon cities built centuries ago are now inhabited by Strangers. Two million were ethnically cleansed from Rumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia. Three million from Germany's Sudatenland. A total of up to 12 million were starved or died of disease after WWII ended in a holocaust planned before the war started.

Even before the beginning of WWII there were atrocities such as the Bromberg Bloody Sunday Massacre of defenseless German citizens. "Hardly a house in the German district of Bromberg can be found which has not lost 2 or 3 family members to the murderers ... More dead are still being found. ... German residents were attacked on the streets by mobs and beaten to death. Their bodies were later mutilated. Their limbs and hands were broken, ears , noses and tongues cut off. ... In Schwersenz, German victims were found disemboweled and castrated by their assailants."[1] Now, the land of captive Germans has been flooded with Strangers to destroy them through intermarriage.

In Russia, 30,000,000 Russian Saxons died in Gulags during the late teens and twenties after being conquered by the Turk/Slav alliance.

In South Africa, the entire land was burned by the British Empire - homes, barns - everything. The livestock, sheep and cattle were shot down in the fields - entire herds. There was almost nothing left alive for hundreds of miles except smoking ruins. Boer women and children were rounded up by the soldiers and herded into concentration camps and starved. A large part of all the Saxon women and children in the land died there. Now, Blacks have been put in power to rule the Saxons and finish the job of destroying them either through intermarriage or the sword.

The American South was invaded and torched to destroy their Self- Sufficient Farm system that made Southerners free and independent of the International Trade Cartel (ITC).[2]

Some Southern Saxon states lost a quarter of their male population. The land was systematically looted. Again, women and children starved. Defeated, they were deprived of the vote and Blacks were put over them to rule, making their lives a living hell. Allowed a breathing spell, Southern Saxons were released so that they could help destroy their Saxon-German brothers. Now they are again being subjected to ethnic cleansing and the ITC is flooding the land with Strangers to destroy the Saxon through intermarriage or the sword.

What We Have Done Wrong

Saxons have meant well - they have tried to do that which was right. But, they made a tragic mistake. They listened to

2 FARMS: "Next, Karl Marx. The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self- sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ... At the same time we must intensively patronize trade and industry ... what we want is that industry should drain off from the land both labor and capital and by means of speculation transfer into our hands all the money of the world ..."
"Karl Marx in his Communist Manifesto exactly followed this formula. True he declared that Communism might be summed up in one sentence, 'abolition of private property', but subsequently he qualified this dictum by restricting actual confiscation to land and implying that other types of private property were to remain intact. (In the later Marxist event, of course, all private property was confiscated, but I speak here of the strict parallel between the strategy laid down before the event alike by the Protocols and Marx)." The Controversy of Zion by Douglas Read, Noontide Press, Newport Beach, CA, 1985. p. 219

SAXONS

Vikings, who were known by the Romans as Germans, and the entire race known to history as Goths, Saxons and Scythans - trace their ancestry through the recorded genealogy of their kings to the Israelites taken into captivity by the Assyrians in 721 B.C.. By the 1st century AD they represented an immense number, but only a comparatively few remained in Galilee in Palestine (see arrow). The crosschecked area represents Saxons who had been taken captive. These are the Greeks who were early captured by Asoka's Dharma. The Greeks then spread the Dharma plague to the Romans who spread it to other free Saxon lands.

The Turks, the endemic carriers of the Dharma virus that came from India, are in the south. The Slavs are shown as one great mass while in fact they were relatively weak and scattered among the Saxons over the vast area of today's Russia.

Strangers and as a consequence they don't know who they are. And, not knowing who they are they can't know who their God is. As a result of not knowing their God they have been unable do what their God has commanded them to do - the only thing that will save them from their enemies.

Identity Crisis

Most Americans of British extraction call themselves Saxons. They are told that their ancestors were Anglo-Saxons who came from the British Isles. That's all they know.

Others have studied their ancestry by reading books like the Saxon Chronicles. They discovered that they are also descended to even a greater degree from the waves upon waves of Vikings who arrived from northern Germany and Scandinavia and stormed into the British Isles and settled there. The Angles and the Saxons were merely the first of many waves of these early "Vikings".

Still others have paid attention to what is actually said at the coronation of Europe's kings and queens. At Queen Elizabeth II's televised coronation in 1954, with great pomp her genealogy was read tracing her descent and claim to rule back to the earliest Saxon rulers and beyond.

Many royal genealogies are traced back beyond Charlemagne to Kings Thor and Oden and from there on back to the patriochs of the Bible - Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

These claims are accepted by the Roman Catholic Church, the England's Episcopal Church and are on file in the Vatican, Edinburgh, London, Belfast, Stockholm, and in the archives of governments and the better libraries throughout the West. The student of such things soon discovers that these genealogies are legal and binding in courts of law.[3]

The question arises, why isn't this information general knowledge? The answer is simple. It is! Everyone who is interested knows. It is only the man-in-the-street, the one most affected, who doesn't know. There is a reason that this knowledge has been kept from him; every time this information has become general knowledge and people discover who they are and what their God requires of them, the people have risen and attempted to overthrow their kings. This is why the ancestry of the Saxon nation is information for their kings and nobles and certain others but not for the people on whose collective backs kings and their followers ride.

The Bible

The word "nation" is different from "country". A country is a taxable entity established by kings. A nation is something different - it is a people who have a common ancestry and is established by God. We are a nation - the Saxon nation.

All Westerners are blood kin - that is what is meant by the word "nation". Most people can trace one or more lines of descent from the kings of Scandinavia, Germany, France or Great Britain. In other words, what applies to the kings also applies to the entire nation. If kings of Europe can trace their ancestry back to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob - so can the rest. With this understanding also comes the understanding that the Christian Bible is more than a book of religious instruction, it is a history-book-genealogy of our nation.[4]

God's Commandments contained in the Bible were put there to keep his people safe from those who would destroy them. The Bible also contains "covenants" concerning land, marriage, government, ownership and rule. These covenants were made with the patriochs and their descendants forever. Since we are their descendants, we inherit the benefits of the covenants.

4 "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a man's foes shall be they of his own household." Matt 10:34-36

Forbidden Knowledge

The ITC has ruled us for a long time. It is not to their benefit to have Westerners think that this is not as it should be. This is why, in recent years, they have claimed to be us and have claimed our heritage and right of descent. The whole thing would be laughable if the results were not so tragic. The result of telling our people that we are not Israel called by a different name[5] then gives new meaning to Jesus' statement, "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24. If we aren't descended from Israel it means that we can only understand God through those who call themselves Israel. This takes the Bible from us and gives it to an alien race; it completely and effectively separates us from God the WORD - as it was intended to do.

This is why ITC religious surrogates attack us so ruthlessly for the crime of studying our past. After all, what usurper wants his victim to know that he is really the king and the usurper a thief and a liar? The victim might take strong exception to the deception.

India

Formerly, the international merchant operated in the West through surrogates who were members of Western society. Only recently has the merchant's grip on governments and the media become so powerful that they feel secure in openly sending representatives of their own kind to directly manage their business affairs.

5 "The Lord God shall ... call his servants by another name." Isaiah 65:15: "They shall no more be remembered by their name (Israel)." Hos 2:17; "In Isaac shall thy name be called. (Isaacsons, Saxons)" Romans 9:7

FREE SAXONS - 19th & 20th Century

In the 19th century, Turk surrogates invaded and destroyed the self-sufficient farm system of the American South, opening the area to the international merchant. South Africa was invaded twice in the 19th century by the Turk's British surrogates. In spite of unbelievable atrocities, the conquest was not completed until the Turk media and Saxon jannissaries delivered the S. African Saxons into slavery in a bogus 1993 election.

The Germans revolted against the conquest by Turkish surrogates which brought on WWII. The trigger was the Turkish-Slav revolt and extermination of the ruling Russian Saxons during WWI. These were the last three free Saxon strongholds left in the world.

Today, Hindu temples are springing up all over the land where few Hindus live. This indicates a tremendous surplus wealth. Today, one sees Indians appearing on TV who are Chief Executive Officers of major corporations. Some are even major televangelists expounding the mysteries of our own Christian religion. The sudden appearance of these people, seemingly out of nowhere, has sparked an interest in India, its history, and its gods:

The Dharma Weapon

In the second century B.C. King Asoka of India developed the "Dharma" technique of warfare to force India's different races and religions to accept one another so that they might be easily governed.

CAPTIVE SAXON NATIONS

The crosshatched areas represent lands containing captive Saxons - prisoners of the Turk ITC. There are no free lands left. The Slav nation (right slash) has been raped and partially abandoned by the Turk. The UN is the Saxon's occupation government, NATO their sword, Janissaries their willing administrators, and collaborating priests willingly preach the 30% of the Christian WORD pertaining to morality and ignore the 70% dealing with government and dealings with Strangers. This gives the Turk license to do as he likes. He pays the co-operating priests with tax-exemption for this service.

Dharma - "Dharma" teaches Dharma-tolerance; tolerance of all races and religions as being different manifestations of the one great world force god - Brahma. Dharma is taught to prevent religious disturbances and disrupting trade and tax collections in ITC trade areas:

India's Merchants - India's merchants cannot trade India's wares unless they make peace with the gods of that market area. Protection against irate gods must be purchased to make a market area safe. This involves bribing kings who in turn bribe priests.

Bribing Kings

ALL kings in ALL market areas used by the International Trade Cartel (ITC) are in the pay of the ITC. This includes those who are apparently enemies.[6] Otherwise irate gods and irate peoples would have long ago driven the ITC from their lands. The bribery of kings takes place in this manner:

* Little kings are given gold to buy arms and pay soldiers so that they can become big kings.

* Big kings are promised wealth so that they might become even more powerful.

* Uncooperative kings are replaced by financing and arming pretenders.

* Rebellious kings are overcome by alliances of kings loyal to the ITC.

Bribing Priests - Kings, as ITC agents, give tax-exemption to priests who add "Dharma" to their religious ritual; ie to love everyone "without regard to race, creed or national origin." Once a people are taught by their priests that their god accepts everyone, the merchant can then safely enter and buy and sell.

Dharma has proved itself extremely effective. King Asoka boasted of conquering the world-powerful Greeks even while Greek historians were telling the world that Alexander The Great had conquered India. Here is the story:

6 Saddam Hussein and Ho Chi Minn both were once in the pay of the CIA.

Asoka's Boast

> "King Priyarsi (Asoka) considers moral conquest (that is, conquest by Dharma), the most important conquest. He has achieved this moral conquest repeatedly both here and among the peoples living beyond the borders of his kingdom, even as far away as six hundred (yojanas) (about 3000 miles), where the yona (Greek) king Antiyoka rules, and even beyond Antiyoka in the realms of the four kings named Turamaya, Antikini, Maka, and Alikasudara, and to the south among the Cholas and Pandyas (in the southern tip of the Indian peninsula) as far as Ceylon." The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959, p. 29.[7]

King Asoka reveals more of his system of conquest:

> "King Priyarsi (Asoka) says: My officers charged with the spread of Dharma are occupied with various kinds of services ... they are empowered to concern themselves with all sects. ... Different officials are thus assigned specifically to the affairs of different religions, but my officers for spreading Dharma are occupied with all sects."[8]

Financing Conquests

To finance and continue Dharma conquest, King Asoka transferred 1000 million gold pieces to the monastery of 7 "The five kings referred to have been identified as follows: Antiyoka = Antiochos II Theos of Syria (261-246 B.C.); Turamaya = Ptolemy II Philadelphos of Egypt (285-247 B.C.); Antikini = Antigonos Gonatas of Macedonia (278-239 B.C.); Maka = Magas of Cyrene (300-258 B.C.); and Alikasudara = Alexander of Epirus (272?-258 B.C.).

8 The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959, p34.

Kukkutarama for missionary work. This is a stupendous amount of money. In addition, he appointed the Hindu priests to be custodians and managers and bequeathed to them the entire world in which to practice their craft.

This illustrates the power, influence and wealth that the Hindu priests and merchants were and are now able to put into their missionary movement. It explains how multimillion dollar temples are erected in areas of the West virtually devoid of Hindu followers, and multi-billion dollar corporate buy-outs of Western companies appear from nowhere.

Asoka's efforts bore fruit within his lifetime. The conquering Greeks were themselves conquered by Indian Dharma-tolerance. The Greeks added foreign gods until they too worshiped a galaxy of gods just as in India, and they accepted and mixed with strangers just like India and became lost to our nation just as India had become lost to our nation many years before.

Jesus

Israel was taken into captivity almost 700 years before the time of Jesus.[9] Only a fraction of her people were left in Palestine and these were rapidly accepting Dharma and tolerating the gods of the Greeks and Romans.[10]

9 "There are but two tribes in Asia and Europe subject to the Romans, while the 10 tribes are beyond Euphrates till now and are an immense multitude." Josephus, Antiquities 10:5:2

10 "The 10 tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land ... whom Salmanasar the king of Assyria led away captive ... But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land. And they entered into Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river. ... For through that country there was a great way to go, namely of a year and a half and the same region is called Arsareth." II Esdras 13:39-45

Jesus brought the WORD back to a nation dying for the lack of it. He spoke with authority and not as the preachers of that day. Once his listeners heard the WORD, they learned that their nation was ordered by God the WORD not to trade with, live with, or follow the gods of strangers.[11] This is the WORD that Jesus Christ brought to his people and the religious hierachy killed him to stop it. But, the WORD spread and impacted the trade and profits of the Roman empire.

Rome's State Religion

The ITC demanded that Rome's emperor protect their business interests. Emperor Constantine pre-empted Christianity and made it a state religion. He appointed his own priests. They taught what they were told to teach and concealed what they were told to conceal.

The Thirty Percent Religion

The priests of the new empire church taught the people parables that they selected from the newly proscribed Bible dealing with personal improvement. This consists of 30% of the Bible. The remaining 70% dealing with government they considered to be the government's business and so it was concealed from the people. From this time, the teaching of only 30% of the Bible became the trademark of ITC Christianity.

11 "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (2114), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth." Pr. 6:1: "They shall not dwell in thy land; and thou shall drive them out before thee. Ex 23:31; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me. I Ki 4:21.

Episcopal Rites

This censorship of God's Commandments left a great void in the WORD which was filled with ritual in an attempt to give substance to the state religion. The new religion adopted the rituals shown to the right..

Many Westerners believe that it is no coincidence that these are the same rituals used by the Hindus in India, the home of the international merchant. All episcopal religions the world over utilize combinations of these rituals.

* processions
* parading relics
* body parts for relics
* incense
* shaven heads
* celibate priests
* pointed hats
* works for merit
* robes
* idols
* rosaries
* integration
* tax exemption
* monasteries & convents
* missionaries
* holy water
* male & female priests
* saints
* auricular confession
* pilgrimages

Charlemagne

A powerful king, Charlemagne, was commissioned to conquer peoples lying outside the control of the Roman Church. He conquered the northern Saxons. Those he conquered were forced to convert to the new episcopal religion and believe that the teachings of the priests were God's own word. They also had to pay tribute (taxes). The tribute was split between King Charlemagne and the church.

The WORD Causes Revolt

As long as God's Commandments remained suppressed the people remained in bondage and peacefully labored for their oppressors. Whenever God's Commandments became known to the people - they revolted. There were many such revolts.

One of the most memorable occurred in 1381. There was a disagreement between the English king and Rome over the division of tithe and tax money collected from the people. The king needed God on his side so he allowed a Catholic priest, John Wycliffe, to print and distribute the Bible. The people quickly learned that God's Commandments said that they were free of taxes and that the land didn't belong to the king and his nobles, but was to be divided among the people and never sold. Suddenly, 40,000 men in their manorial militias were marching on London. It was a near thing. The king and the church quickly became friends again, and together they beat the people back into servitude and hanged their leaders. Once again the Bible was banned.

This revolt was followed by that of Huss (1372-1415) and Zwingli (1481-1531). Both of whom died in a sea of blood.

Again there was a dispute over the division of the people's tithes and taxes and the church land-monopoly. This time the disagreement was between German kings and the Roman Church. The kings wanted to keep church land they had seized and needed God on their side. They allowed their supporter, the Catholic priest Martin Luther (1483-1546), to translate and print the Bible in German.

The people learned God's Commandments and instead of supporting the kings, they took back their own land that had been taken by the church and the German "peasant revolt" (1524-1526) began. It was suppressed by the kings in an unbelievable blood bath and their leaders were hanged. The German kings seized the land taken by the people and for 30 years (30 Years War 1618-1648) they fought supporters of the Roman Church to determine its ownership. When it was over the kings appointed their own protestant episcopacy priesthood who carefully censored Biblical teachings before teaching the people, and the Catholic ban on Bible reading remained as firm as always. With God's Commandments again carefully suppressed the peace of the slave returned to Germany.

Tyndale (1494-1536) printed the Bible and was burned at the stake for doing it.

Calvin (1509-1564), Knox (1514-1572), and other reformers translated and printed the Bible in far away Switzerland. These Bibles were smuggled into England and Scotland. Again, the people learned God's Commandments and they rose and overthrew the king. Their protestant leader, the turncoat Oliver Cromwell, seized power for himself, gave the land to his own followers, suppressed dissent, and put the reformation on "hold" for his lifetime. His successor, Charles II went after the English Puritans and Scottish Covenanters with a vengeance. Presbyterian preachers were hunted down and shot on the spot or tried and hanged; entire church congregations holding services in fields and woods were killed or taken captive and thrown in prison. God's Commandments were again suppressed and the serfs peace returned to the land.

A few renegade presbyterian preachers escaped to America where their teachings revealed things the king's Episcopal Church had long gone to great trouble to conceal - and America broke into revolution.

It has only been in the last 50 years that the last teachings of the WORD by these valiant and self-sacrificing preachers have been stamped out. Now, once again, the teaching of only 30% of the Bible is tolerated by the king's edict. The rest, the 70% that tells of the government that God wants his people to have is banned. As a result of apostate heathen in the pulpits of the land, the country is sinking into a morass of disbelief and the punishment promised those who reject God's teachings is settling on the land.[12]

The Guru

In India there are no laws or commandments other than general admonitions to do right. Therefore, to reach Nirvana one must find a teacher to reveal god's will, and then he must give to that teacher, his "guru", the respect and veneration that Westerners reserve for their God.

This places the ITC approved preacher on a pedestal. When others come teaching all of God's Commandments these Western copy-cat gurus become offended - their opinions are being challenged.

Today Is Like Yesterday

Today is like yesterday. Once again we have no leader and can see nothing but troubles. But, we have read the operating manual; we know who we are and know how the story ends:

> "Thus saith the Lord which giveth the sun ... and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me." Jeremiah 31:35-36.

> "When thou art in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to the Lord thy God, and shall be obedient to his voice ... he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them." Deut 4:30-31

12 "But if ye will not ... do all these commandments; ... I will send wild beasts among you which shall rob you of your children." Lev 26:14-22

Conclusion

With the discovery of his true identity the Saxon discovers his God. When he discovers his God he will discover what his God requires of him; then he will be saved from those who would destroy him.

"I will send my word and save thee and thy seed." II Adam & Eve 12:6;

Letter From South Africa by KJ

The election circus was a catastrophe and on the last day of counting they more or less sat down and worked out something amicable to the ANC. Mbeki tried to make Buthelezi (Zulu) vice president if he gives up his premiership of Natal, so far, Buthelezi has refused. But from what we hear he has been close to the ANC since before the 1994 election and a last-minute meeting at the Kruger Park. A black is most unpredictable so it is difficult to say what the outcome will be.

Today is the inauguration party in Pretoria costing millions to be paid by us. They have been cleaning, tarring and painting the place. Gardens are clean and green. What a charade when the country is falling apart.

Before the election the Dutch Reform Church promised their assistance and they delivered - making their church's halls available as polling stations. But we have become used to expect the worst from them. As time goes by, like other Afrikaans churches, they will experience a big fall in income from disillusioned church members.

The Conservative Party has all but disappeared having only 1 or 2 seats in parliament. The same goes for Viljoen's Freedom Front. Some liberal Afrikaners voted for Tony Leon (Democratic Party) who is Jewish. The Jews have always been the enemy of Afrikaner nationalism and have worked their whole lives to advance the blacks over the whites.

We do not like the Russians, but it was good to see them in Yugoslavia before the rest of Clinton's and Albright's army.

Mbeki in his speech spoke of "beginning of a new dawn". Wonder where it will start? In 1994 the state was still functioning. Hospitals, schools etc., but now things are coming to a halt. Those whites who maintained services are gone. The blacks never spend a cent on upgrading and they have spent the once carefully controlled finances on themselves. Some say the quicker things collapse the better.

Not many here were taken in with the air-strikes by England and America on Yugoslavia, destroying and killing to satisfy their own program of world domination. That is the work of the shadow government.

The Nato generals on CNN in the afternoons give answers that are full of lies. We should be used to false propaganda emanating from the British Foreign Office and its media. A BBC documentary on police brutality in SA upset many. Since these police were all white and no faces were shown it makes me think it was a set-up. The things these police were supposed to do to black hijackers are simply not true.

It still seems that England cannot mind her own business, and for Tony Blair to tell Mandela that they are on track with their crime prevention efforts, can only mean that England is satisfied with the results of Britain's own ever-increasing crime rate. On TV we saw a gang fight in Brixton London seconds after a white and black gang passed each other on the street.

Salaries for black domestic workers have gone up so much that few will be able to afford them. It is just as well. Black servants learn the white families habits and pass that information on to terrorists who attack when they are not prepared.

Last Sunday an article appeared about a young Afrikaner and his family now living in Florida USA. Tom Visser is an agriculture engineer and developed an orange harvester that will replace 250 good orange pickers. The family wrote to me last year but in the tone that it is best not to resist black rule and better to leave our country.

I was not amused. We have a duty to this country which God gave to our forefathers and we made a Covenant with Him. Although it is not nice living here now the tide will turn when we return to God's ways. Only sometimes one wonders if many of our people want to return. Pubs sprout like mushrooms and big casinos are being built. But if some are right and WWIII is near, things will change very quickly, although that thought is nothing to look forward to. The white race always loses the most in wasted lives and they are the ones who have to start from scratch.

Very few white people beg. One woman told my husband yesterday in the post office that she picks up aluminum cool drink tins for recycling next to roads, near stores etc. and she pays her way. She is lucky that blacks always throw out empty tins through the nearest window. I admire her spirit.

With best wishes, K.J.

Chapter 299

PRIESTS

Lynchburg - City Of Church Steeples

Lynchburg is a city of church steeples. This is the way it has been since it received its charter in 1786, and the way it has been described by travelers over the last two centuries. Churches everywhere with a God-fearing population to fill them.

There is also another Lynchburg. In the 1920s, Lynchburg was said to have had more whorehouses, gambling joints, and booze establishments than any other city east of the Mississippi.

Billy Sunday Comes To Town

Billy Sunday came to town. He couldn't believe what he saw. He vowed that he wouldn't leave Lynchburg until it changed.

Putting action to his words he rented the fairgrounds near where Timberlake Road and the Airport Road meet, set up a tent, put sawdust on the ground, and started to preach - sunny days, rainy days, cold-wet-snowy-winter days, sweltering hot summer days - Billy Sunday preached under that big tent. He preached all the things the establishment churches didn't preach. Sometimes he preached to a handful, at other times he preached to overflowing crowds.

One at a time, non-establishment Lynchburgers (and some establishment ones) walked the sawdust trail and accepted God's Commandments to rule their lives. Gradually people stopped going to whorehouses, saloons, and gambling joints. One at a time these establishments closed up for the lack of customers. When Billy Sunday left Lynchburg, Lynchburg had changed. While "establishment Lynchburg" was the same, the rest had changed. Lynchburg was different.

For years I belonged to the Gideons; many of the old timer members were saved under Billy Sunday. They told me what Lynchburg was like before Billy Sunday, and what they were like before they changed. Billy Sunday did something that no one else in Lynchburg was doing. He told people what God required of them - God's Law. While people may forget what Billy Sunday said and what their preacher said, they aren't going to forget God's Law. Billy Sunday spoke with authority because he spoke God's Law when no one else did and people respected that. This was Billy Sunday's secret weapon. It changed Lynchburg.

Moses' Warning

The Children of Israel left Egypt and spent 40 years in the wilderness where a new generation could be born that was cleansed of the evils of Egypt and fit to enter the promised land. But, when the Children of Israel emerged from the wilderness, they brought with them a full blown Priesthood that was as worthless, destructive, hypocritical and evil as the priesthood we have today.

They were so rotten that Moses wrote the following to warn Israel:

> "Moses commanded the Levites ... saying, Take this ... law and put it in the side of the ark ... that it may be there for a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion ... behold, while I am yet alive ... ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death? ... For I know that after my death ye will ... turn aside from the way which I have commanded you." Deut 31: 24-29

Moses spoke truly. Preachers are the root cause of all our troubles. They prostitute "the WORD which is God" for filthy lucre, and except for a few who have often sacrificed all by carrying the light of the WORD, these evil creatures would have destroyed us long ago.

Two Kinds Of Preachers

* A few preachers serve God and teach that God's Commandments are supreme.

* Most preachers serve the king and teach that the king's statutes are supreme.

State Priests: - Priests who serve kings are called "state priests". Evil kings need evil priests to bless their rule. This keeps the people docile and agreeable when the king's rule flagrantly violates God's Commandments.

30%C - State priests keep the King's subjects peaceful by censoring 70% of the Bible - the 70% of God's Commandments dealing with government. The Scriptures say, "ALL SCRIPTURE is given by inspiration of Yahweh and is profitable for doctrine." II Timothy 3:16-17. A 30% Christian priest who allots 70% of God's Commandments to the king for his interpretation isn't Christian at all. That priest's god is the king! He teaches only the 30% of the Bible that deals with the individual. This is why those who hear and believe the teachings of State Priests are called "30% Christians" (30%C), because that's all they are - Thirty Percent Christian! The world can go to hell in a handbasket and all they know is - "love", and, they don't know the true definition of love because that secret is part of the forbidden 70% dealing with government that the state priest tries to keep them from learning.[1]

The king pays the priests performing these services for him with "tax- exemption".

God's Priests - The few pastors who teach God's Commandments, including the 70% of the Scripture that deals with government, are punished by being condemned and hounded by the king's State Priests and by having the King deny them the same tax-exemption he gives his own priests.[2]

The International Merchant

For the benefit of those who have only recently discovered that there is something drastically wrong in the Christian West, a brief review is necessary:

Esau is the international merchant. He married the daughter of a Caananite, one cursed by God, therefore Esau's descendants are also cursed by the Lord God of Israel.[3] They go under the generic name of "Turks".

Their organization is like the organization of a wolf-pack - rule from the top down - and is known as the International Trade Cartel (ITC). It's several branches are perpetually at on-again, off-again war with each other. However, they are united in their determination to destroy the sons of Jacob from

2 GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS FOR CHURCHES: State Churches must: 1) be incorporated. 2) have a recognized creed and IRS approved form of worship. 3) a definite and distinct ecclesiastical government - an hierarchical government. 4) IRS approved formal code of doctrine and discipline. 5) a denomination with a distinct religious history. 6) ordained ministers. 7) ministers educated in state accredited colleges. 8) be neutral on political issues. 9) have tax exempt status issued by IRS. 10) pay a tax to the IRS for tax-exempt status. 11) be engaged in activities furthering exclusively public purposes. 13) Cannot bar its services to the public. 14) The pastor must answer to the IRS as to the daily activities of the church. 15) The IRS must be privy to all financial transactions including sources, donors, expenditures, and if cash is used the leadership will be a likely suspect of money laundering. 16) books and records available to the IRS at all times. 17) The Pastor must inform the IRS of the names of all donors. 18) Gifts to missionaries and evangelists over $600 require a form 1099. 19) May use only IRS approved methods of fundraising. 20) The pastor will be called to account by the IRS over any stand taken against the tax system. (501(c)3 requires the church support, which is why ministers always say to pay one's taxes. 21) Must submit names of all church workers; pastors, teachers, clerks, counselors, educational directors, office help, associates, and maintenance personnel. 22) Must give unlimited submission to civil magistrates pertaining to all laws - federal, state, and local - including public policy. 23) Must advocate and promote racial integration, and not oppose racial integration. 24) Must not publicly oppose licensing of church ministries. 25) May not engage in political activities opposing pornography. 26) May not support legislation saying that children belong to parents not the state. 27) May not form a Political Action Committee nor actively support legislation opposing lotteries and gambling activities. 28) May not advocate support of the US or state constitutions as the supreme law of the land. (Public policy takes precedence.) 29) May not actively participate in opposing the public school system. 30) May not publicly declare that the church is to obey God rather than the government." (Baptist Trumpet 2711 S. East Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, CTD, POB 244342, Anchorage, AK 99524, May 1996)

3 "And Cain said unto the Lord ... from thy face I shall be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth." Gen 4:14; "When thou tillest the ground it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength." Gen 4:12; "Cain, ever since he had killed his brother, he could find no rest in any place." I Adam & Eve 74:28; "Among the children of Cain, there was much robbery, murder, and sin." II Adam & Eve 13:2.

the face of the earth so that they can inherit the blessings that God took from their father Esau.

King

God made "man" both king and priest and said that man's insistence on having an earthly king to rule them instead of depending on God's WORD to rule them was the same thing as rejecting God. It still is:

> "Then all the elders of Israel... came to Samuel... make us a king to judge us like all the nations.... And the Lord said... the people... have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them.... howbeit yet protest solemnly unto them, and show them the manner of the king that shall reign over them. And Samuel told all the words of the Lord...
> "This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.... And he will take your daughters to be confectioneries, and to be cooks, and to be bakers. And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. ... He shall take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." I Sam 8:11-18

In spite of God's warning, man insisted. They claimed they needed an earthly king to fight their battles so God gave them the best man available to be their king; all the time warning them that earthly kings are not to be trusted - that they would oppress those they ruled. From that day to this, kings (by whatever names they are called) have oppressed their people.

The Stranger Arrives

The stranger found that kings can be bribed. Bribed kings will accept the merchants' money and grant them monopoly privileges, a thing forbidden in the 70% of God's Commandments that State Priests do not teach.

If the king is uncooperative, a pretender to the throne can be easily found who will exchange trade agreements for ITC help to obtain the throne. In this way the ITC has bought the world's rulers and is the power behind their thrones - which would be impossible if strangers were banned according to the priestly censored 70% of God's Commandments.[4]

The Job Of Kings

The job of kings selected by the ITC is to protect the interests of the ITC. The welfare of those the king governs is of secondary importance.[5]

Judges

Kings appoint judges to settle disputes among the king's subjects and to rule that what the king does is legal.[6] To do this, the judge must rule that the king's statutes are superior to God's Law when the two come in conflict. Only a man who cares nothing for his soul will rule against God and for the 4 "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:33; "I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shall drive them out before thee." Ex 23:31.

5 The following must be seared into the reader's consciousness if he is to make sense of today's events: Except for the occasional rebel, ALL of the world's kings, premiers, presidents, senators, congressmen, governors, state senators, mayors, judges, lawyers, etc. are either willing or unwilling ITC agents. Most of these personages are media-elected, or are appointed by those who are media-elected.

6 In all my years of speaking at church conferences, I have never seen a judge present and only one lawyer (and this lawyer no longer practices law).

king. No mercy can be expected from these kinds of judges who don't fear God. And God will hold them to account for their acts.

If lawyers appear before the king's judges and argue that God's Law is superior to the king's statutes - the king's judge will see that the lawyer is punished in some way. Kings appoint judges to rule that the king's acts are legal and lawful. He is not appointed to rule that God's Commandments are supreme over the king's statues.

Money Managers

Most of the world's multibillionaires are appointed to manage a portion of vast ITC assets. In spite of stories to the contrary, these managers are not former penniless immigrants who by dent of struggle and sacrifice and by saving their nickels and dimes for twenty years, manage to accumulate multibillions. In fact, very little of the money they manage is their own. Kings work with these money managers by passing NAFTA type laws to help these people to do their thing.

Media

The ITC owns ALL the world's major media. These media managers select those of their own agents they wish to receive coverage by their managed media. With this publicity the voters will know for whom to vote for public office.

Conscientious citizens vote for the best man they know, but the only ones they know are the ones receiving media coverage. Thus, ALL elected kings with very few exceptions are hand picked ITC agents elected by the ITC's own media.

Priests

There are two kinds of priests:

* One serves God and teaches that God's Commandments are supreme.

* The other kind serves the king and teaches the king's statutes are supreme. Most priests serve the king. Without them there could be no kings, judges, strangers' media, usury banks, etc.

Moses spoke against these priests as we have seen; so did our Lord Jesus Christ:

> "Then spake Jesus ... 'The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: ...
> "They bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

These scoundrels condemn our kinsmen whom they send off to fight, refusing to tell us that God says that we are not to raise our hand against our kinsmen: this is in the forbidden 70%.[7]

> "But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they ... love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.
> "But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And ... Call no man father ... for one is your Father, which is in heaven. ...

---

7 "Ye shall not ... fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24; "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people." Lev 19:18. "Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:3.

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. ...

Worthless 30% preachers teach us to pray "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth" and then censor the 70% of God's Commandments that would teach us how it is to be done.

"... ye devour widows' houses,

The biggest usury banks in the world are owned by Christian religious organizations. Corruption in one of the Pope's Catholic banks forced it to go bankrupt, and corruption in the Barings Bank owned by the Queen, head of the Protestant Episcopal Church, forced it to bankrupt.

Thirty-Percent Preachers can preach in a church directly across the street from a usury bank and not see it. Heaven forbid that they should warn their listeners about what usury can do to them.

"and for a pretense make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. ...

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. ... Matt 23:15 ...

To gain a stranger as an agent for the king, one whom they can frighten by denying them the "keys to heaven", these snakes will step over their own in their rush to gain strangers - violating God's Commandments in the process.[8] They then have the audacity to take a dozen scriptures out of context to justify their treason against their God and their nation. When have you heard a 30% Priest tell you that strangers are forbidden to enter the sanctuary? This, too, must be part of the forbidden 70% of the Scriptures.[9]

> "Ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. ...
> "Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel.
> "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. ...

Believe the Scriptures! Beyond appearances, there is little good that can be said in their behalf:

> "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of the righteous, And say, if we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

Look at Arlington Cemetery - practically every tombstone you see there is the result of the silence of these "priests of God".

"Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

Remember, a serpent is a messenger, a messenger of the devil. The WORD made flesh called them serpents - not I:

"Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

Many times I have spoken to church conferences at family camp grounds where all of God's Commandments are being taught. More often than not while this is talking place these snakes are threatening the conference grounds owner if he fails to cancel future meetings. Those who "call themselves Jews but aren't" usually instigate these persecutions, but these preachers are eager to join in. "Can two walk together lest they be agreed?" They lie and none of their brothers will stand and refute them.

"That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth ...

Our blood-soaked history could never have happened without the collaboration of these 30% State Priests who pretend to serve our Lord while censoring His Commandments.

"Verily I say unto you ... Ye shall not see me henceforth (the WORD made flesh), till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord." Matt 23: 1-39

Who Betrayed Jesus?

God made us "Kings and priests". We admit that we have sinned grievously in allowing kings to set themselves over us in place of our own 10s and 100s. We have sinned further in allowing merchant strangers to enter our lands to buy and sell. But, our greatest sin is to blame wolves for doing what they do naturally and ignoring the treason and persecution by our own flesh and blood. The Scriptures say clearly who betrayed Jesus:

> "The chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death." Matt. 27:1

These priests who took council to put Jesus to death were the same ones who paid Judas 30 pieces of silver to betray Jesus - they were "The chief priests and elders of the people."

We are told at every turn that these people were Edomite Talmudic Jews, but, were they? It's easy to blame the Edomite Jews because they are always so obviously guilty - they are always being caught with their hands in the cookie jar.

Some were, perhaps, Edomite Jews, just like there are Edomite Jews among Christian ministers today. And, definitely some of their arguments were Talmudic,[10] just like today. But, the Scriptures say:

> "He came unto his own, and his own received him not." John 1:1

Jesus called himself "Son of man", he called himself an "Israelite". If he came unto his own - he came to his own who were also "sons of man" and "Israelites". Therefore, the majority of the priests who took counsel against Jesus to put him to death were his and our own Israelite kinsmen!

10 "Pilate saith unto them, If that speech of his was blasphemy, do ye try him according to your law. The Jews say to Pilate, Our law commands us not to put any one to death." Nicodemus 4:15. This is a different law.The Law of Moses followed by the Israelite Jews contains many crimes for which the death penalty is demanded.

They were the priests that Moses warned against. They were the same kind of "Thirty Percenters" that we have today - the ones who curse God by censoring his WORD and suppressing 70% of God's Commandments in exchange for Roman accommodation.

If Jesus were to return in person oday, these same chief priests and elders of the people would again plot to put him to death.

The Game Is Up!

The end of the king/priest game is in sight. Our Saxon brothers feel contaminated and betrayed by contact with and listening to the treasonous talk of these types and they are leaving the Baal temples in droves. They are setting up churches in their own homes and are becoming priests and kings of their own families.

Most important, they are beginning to call upon the WORD[11] which is God, instead of relying on the word of today's Judas-priests - the spiritual descendants of the Judas-priests who condemned Jesus Christ to death.

God's Condemnation

What condemnation lies in store for these "Thirty Percent Priests" who dare to censor God's Commandments and lead people down the wide road to destruction? God spells it out:

11 "When thou are in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to God and shall be obedient ... he will not forsake thee ... nor forget the covenant of thy fathers ..." Deut 4:30-31

Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city: That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth." Letter From South Africa by KJ

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: As the whites become fewer in the civil service, standards deteriorate further. Had a fight yesterday with the local branch post office. They opened late, stood around talking, then went to their counters only to finish yesterday's work. When I got to the counter I said, "You are late again!" She closed her window and left on strike with the rest of the black staff. One chap got hold of the postmaster and his black superior and gave them a talking to. The rest of the whites waiting were not in a good mood. Parcels stolen and they deny responsibility. Feelings between the races are turning to hatred. We will have to keep our weapons in top condition even after they are supposed to be turned in.

"About conditions in our state hospitals, once our pride: A woman took her elderly mother to the H.F. Verwoerd hospital in Pretoria. They had to be there at four in the morning. The mother died at 11 o'clock still waiting in a chair. Some die on dirty trolleys, etc. Blacks will not lift a finger to save a white life, and the feeling is mutual as far as we are concerned. If the Jews set out to do this in the first place they succeeded.

"Our feelings go out for those whites young or old who have to use these cockroach, rat-invested places, because they cannot afford medical aid. They are ill treated by the black staff or are totally ignored.

MULTI-ETHNIC: "Dear Brother Richard; Straws In The Wind reported that NATO's supreme commander, Gen. Wesley Clark, on CNN News sinisterly stated: 'There is no place in modern Europe for ethnically pure states. That's a 19th century idea and we are trying to transition into the 21st century, and we are going to do it with multi-ethnic states.' RELIGIOUS FREEDOM: Benjamin Smith shot several strangers. Benjamin Smith belonged to a religious group called The World Church of the Creator. The state of Illinois has filed a lawsuit against this group to find out if the group is a charity. If it is found to be a charity it must register with the state. Once registered with the state, the Illinois Attorney General says that he will then make the group stop all activities until it accounts for its funds - which could take years. This effectively shuts down The World Church of the Creator disapproved by the state.

If Illinois is allowed to succeed in its effort, it will be able to shut down Catholic, Baptist, Episcopal, Presbyterian or whatever religious group it chooses. The only ones that will be allowed to operate will be those which meet religious guidelines set down by the state. We will again have a state religion.

ANTI SAXONISM: In Oklahoma City, Israel Byrd, a 15 year old Saxon boy was hospitalized in serious condition after being attacked by a carload of six teen-age strangers while riding his skateboard. His facial bones were smashed and driven back into his brain by repeated kicks to his face. The investigating officer, Police Sgt. Nate Tarver, a stranger, denied that there was anything racial in the attack. As of the last report, there was no indication that the Justice Department would look into the matter. He was just a Saxon.

MEDIA LIES: "A BBC reporter/photographer admitted last year that the photograph that had helped to trigger public outrage against Serbs during the Bosnia-Herzogovina crisis had been a fake. The photograph showed some rather thin young men without shirts standing behind a barbed wire fence, and the caption described them as inmates of a concentration camp. She admitted that the picture was actually taken at a food depot surrounded by barbed wire. She had asked the men to take off their shirts to show their leanness, and made them stand on the other side of the fence, to give the impression that they were prisoners.

THE MEDIA BLITZ

Cloak Of Nimrod

Nimrod had a cloak. When he wore the cloak all who heard him believed him and became his servants. He used these servants to build Babylon and the great Tower of Babel.

Esau hid in ambush and killed Nimrod and stole his cloak.[1] Fleeing from Nimrod's bodyguards he rushed exhausted to Jacob and sold him his birthright in exchange for food. He believed that his birthright was worthless because he would soon be killed.

1 "And Nimrod ... came ... when Esau started suddenly from his lurking place, and drew his sword, and hastened and ran to Nimrod and cut off his head ... and Esau took the valuable garments of Nimrod, which Nimrod's father had bequeathed to Nimrod, and with which Nimrod prevailed over the whole land." Jasher 17:7,10

Esau lost his birthright, but his descendants obtained the Cloak and became powerful. They fought Jacob's descendants and also fought among themselves. Their internicene warfare caused them more distress than had the war with Jacob, so they agreed never to be ruled by one of their own kind again. They agreed to always be ruled by a foreigner.[2]

Turkey saw its greatest days when ruled by foreigners called Janissaries (Turkish - "white slaves". Egypt became great ruled by foreigners who were slaves. These appointed slave-rulers abused their adopted countries and so the Turks and Egyptians slew them - and both countries immediately declined in power and wealth.

Today, Esau's rulers are again appointed by strangers who operate under the shadowy name of"The International Trade Cartel" (ITC).

Professor Carroll Quigley in his book Tragedy and Hope:[3] had this to say about this system:

> "The powers of financial capitalism had another far reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole. This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements, arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences. The apex of the system was the Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland, a private bank owned and con> trolled by the world's central banks which were themselves private corporations. The growth of financial capitalism made possible a centralization of world economic control and use of this power for the direct benefit of financiers and the indirect injury of all other economic groups."

2 "The sons of Esau swore, saying, from that day forward they would not choose a king from their brethren, but one from a strange land until this day." Jasher 57:40. The Jews recently revealed that their Rabbis have different blood markers from themselves. Turks worldwide are ruled by ITC appointed rulers.

3 Tragedy and Hope, A History of The World in Our Time (Macmillan Company, 1966,) Professor Carroll Quigley, Georgetown University.

They appoint the rulers of the nations of Esau and also the nations of Jacob conquered by the ITC. They use Esau to fight Jacob, and Jacob to fight Esau, while the ITC rules unseen. It's agents study our Scriptures, Scriptures banned by ITC appointed Christian Priests, and the ITC then uses God's WORD to destroy God's own children: "Go ... to the reprobates, to the children of fornication; and destroy the children of fornication, the offspring of the Watchers, from among men; bring them forth, and send them one against another. Let them perish by mutual slaughter." Book Of Enoch 10:13.

This command is to be used against the stranger - the stranger is not supposed to use it against us. Instead, the stranger studies Scriptures forbidden to us, and uses them against us. It is they who rule using Esau's Cloak.

Cloak Over Virginia

When working with the "Defenders" in the 1950s to stop the federal takeover of Virginia's schools, the "Defenders" informed the country through the wires of the Associate Press (AP) that Prince Edward's black schools were newly constructed and far superior to the white schools which were old and shabby. This information was suppressed. We told the country through the AP that Black thugs were being imported from Philadelphia to beat up Prince Edward blacks who had allied themselves with Whites to keep their own schools. This information was suppressed.

The AP allowed no information favorable to the cause of separation to escape Virginia. No spokesman for separation was permitted to be heard - except traitors such as the George Wallace, Orval Faubus and Lindsay Almond types.[4] Hearing nothing but ITC spokesmen, the ITC agenda continued to advance on the backs of those who had become victims of the Cloak of Esau's deceptions.

Truth - The Real Crime

This author wrote a revisionist history book called "Our Nordic Race" debunking the "Cloak" version of white racial history. He wrote "War Cycles / Peace Cycles", debunking "Cloak" economic history. He wrote "Vigilantes Of Christendom", debunking the "Cloak" version of historical resistance to ITC domination. All of these writings undermine the ITC and their Cloak of Esau. After 15 years the writings begin to reach the people of Jacob.[5]

ITC Response

The ITC responded with a blistering, overwhelming, devastating attack on its miniscule enemy, this old author and his books. They pulled all stops and used the sledgehammer to kill a gnat. The attack revealed the vast power and extent of the Esau's Cloak, now the "ITC's Cloak", to those who were still dubious. Almost every single media in the country, in slavish obedience and without checking the story or the facts, participated in the feeding frenzy.

4 "(Pharaoh) placed officers over them from amongst the children of Israel, and over these officers he placed taskmasters from amongst his servants." Jasher 77:10

5 "I will send my WORD and save thee and thy seed." II Adam & Eve 12:6, Lost Books

Since Esau's Cloak encompasses all establishment media, there can be no response to their attack through their own media - the devil would be fighting himself. Whatever is to be done must be done through the small alternate media - all the while trying to avoid the blows of the Cloak's sledgehammer.

This media blitz has nothing to do with a madman in California shooting children. It has nothing to do with "hate". It has everything to do with the fact that the WORD has escaped from beneath the ITC Cloak.[6] For that reason it is foolish to think that things will fade and be forgotten. The existence of the ITC is at stake. The war will go forward.

Now for MY version of what happened:

Fireworks

I woke up one morning last week with the phone ringing off the hook, a mob of reporters at my front door, and batteries of cameras lining the street. I knew something had happened but I didn't know what. I soon learned that my name and the name of my book, "War Cycles / Peace Cycles" was on the front page of every newspaper in the country.

A man had shot some children in California and it was alleged that a book on Christian economics that I had written 15 years ago was found in his van. The usual media spokesmen inferred that my economics book had incited the shooter to do his deed.

6 "In those days the hand of Pharaoh continued to be severe against the children of Israel, and he crushed and oppressed them until the time when God sent forth his WORD and took notice of them." Jasher 71:16

Not having had to deal with this sort of thing before, I called some people whose opinion I respect and they advised me not to give interviews, but issue "statements". The reason being that I would at least have a written record of what I said. If I didn't, reporters would swear that I said things I didn't say. Heeding their advice I issued the following statement:

RICHARD KELLY HOSKINS
Speaks in his own defense.
August 16, 1999

The unwarranted killing of innocent men, women and children is as grievous to me as it is to the rest of the country. I would never condone such acts.

I have been wrongfully labeled as an intellectual supporter of such reprehensible acts. Nothing could be further from the truth.

The media has quoted the Southern Poverty Law Center, the ADL, and other left-wing fringe groups that are as radical on the left-wing as the groups on the right it condemns. The rhetoric of such left-wing radical groups is couched in inflammatory and excessive language not based in fact. In quoting such groups the media becomes a spokesman for them.

The media have quoted allegations from such groups that my writings advocate violent acts against Jews and other minorities because of race. That is a lie and a gross distortion of my writings. My books defend Christian values as found in the literal teachings of the Bible.

The nationwide attack on me and my writings is not necessarily personal. It is just a prelude for stampeding Congress into passing laws censoring the internet, confiscating the guns honest citizens possess for self-protection, outlawing patriot rights, and destroying the growing Christian Reform movement in America.

I was unaware that I had become a part of this agenda. I woke up one morning and found my name on the front page of practically every newspaper in America. The media alleges that my book, "War Cycles/Peace Cycles" was found in the van of a California shooter of Jewish children and suggested that is what incited him. My book, "War Cycles/Peace Cycles" is a book on Christian economics. Newspapers are certainly more likely to incite violence than this economics book. My books do not incite violence any more than history books on George Washington, the Bible, or the local newspaper (the "News and Advance" in Lynchburg).

The media reported that I am a member of the Nazi party. This is a lie. They said I spoke at a KKK/Nazi Party rally. This lie is based on the time I was once invited to give the invocation at a political rally in North Carolina. The media alleges that there were Klan members present. Maybe there were. People have the right to come to political meetings if they want, but the rally was a kick-off of America's then-hero, Col. Bo Gritz's run for the presidency. It was a political rally.

The media says that I am anti-Semitic and anti-Black. That is a lie.

The media soon found that they had egg on their faces by associating "WC/PC" with violence. They then switched and now claim that another of my books, "Vigilantes of Christendom" was the one found. The title makes it more acceptable for their hatchet work. To allege that book is associated with the heinous act in California is grossly deceitful but indicative of the broad brush with which the liberal media paints a misleading scenario. I do not believe for one second that book was found in California, and that it has any relationship to a violent act, which I condemn.

"Vigilantes" was written ten years ago predicting that if America's rulers do not stop their flagrant violations of God's Law, Christians will copy the acts of militant Jews in Palestine and Arabs in Islam, both of whom fight for what they believe their God requires of them.

The media says that I am a spokesman for "Identity". "Identity" is the media label for "Reform Christianity". Much of my writings criticize churches who refuse to take stands against the evils of the day and confine their preaching to 30% of God's Commandments dealing with self improvement while ignoring the 70% of God's Commandments that deal with government. This effectively prevents Christian revival in America. Reform Christianity isn't any of the things the lying media accuses it of being. Reform Christians just believe God's Commandments - all of them.

I want to thank my friends who have stuck by me during this most recent media attack. I would also like to take the opportunity to ask my Jewish and African-American friends in Lynchburg not to believe the media lies, half-truths and misrepresentations. After one of their last attacks on me, a local Black newspaper was the only one who printed my reply, and they did it in its entirety. I appreciate that. It shows a fairness by the African-American media not shown by Lynchburg's establishment media.

Lastly, my persecutors refuse to print my letters in my defense. I have sent them three letters in the last 10 years and they have refused to print each one of them. I recently gave them two statements in my defense and they took little snippets out of context and ignored the rest.

While the media's nationwide attack on me and my writings is not personal, it has never the less had the effect of destroying my good reputation and my livelihood.

If you believe that fair play has not been exercised in my case, it would be appreciated if you would copy this letter and pass it to your friends. It is the only way that I know for this information to be circulated. I have no other means at my disposal to obtain justice.

If the media can get away with persecuting me for my political and religious views today, rest assured, tomorrow it will be YOU.

"War Cycles / Peace Cycles" can be obtained from the Virginia Publishing Company, POB 997, Lynchburg Virginia 24505, $28/copy. Read it and judge for yourself. Or, take the media's word that they are telling the truth.

Cloak Attack

The local paper, the News & Daily Advance, did four front page articles bashing me and my writings. It was a bit much. Perhaps "too much". There is such a thing as "overkill"! At some point the public reacts against this sort of thing.

I have issued three "statements" in my defense. The above is the third one. I have appeared in no public interviews, even though ABC, CBS, NBC, Larry King Live, Dateline, Good Morning America, Niteline and perhaps 50 more have asked me to be on their shows. The temptation has been great, but, why enter the snake's den? I have seen nimble-witted talk hosts lead their guests around by the nose too often to relish having it done to me.

When I walk down the street my old friends driving by wave to me. When I can, I hand them one of the above letters.

The phone has been ringing off the hook from well wishers. I have had one "semi-hate" piece of hate mail: someone in California sent me a bumper sticker that said, "End Racism". I pasted it on the wall of my office. I wish I had a bumper sticker to send back to him saying, "End Anti-Saxonism".

One newspaper article included a report that Jerry Falwell had denounced me. Long ago I went to Jerry's church. I went there for 18 years. Jerry called to tell me that he did not say what the reporter said that he had said, that the reporter had completely misquoted him. He said that the reporter had asked him if I were violent, to which he replied, "No". He asked if I owned guns. Jerry said that he didn't know about that, but that his own son has an arsenal. He said that he told the reporter that he judges people by their children, and that he knew that I had 6 fine upright wonderful children, and added, "How can a man raise such a great family and be bad?" He said that the reporter just made up the last part of his interview.

I asked Jerry if he would tell the local radio talk show, WLNI 105.9FM, the same thing. He said he would do it first thing in the morning. I guess he forgot.

This WLNI 105.9FM, after a certain initial hostility, showed a certain even-handedness after a number of callers objected to my treatment. They took my statement and posted it on their web page. Their "poll" at their web address (www.WLNI.com) that asked people, after they had read my statement, whether or not they believe that I had been treated fairly by the media. The last time I looked, 81% said "no" and 19% said "yes".

(Amazon.com) is a company on the internet that sells books. It sells a lot of books. Their page on my books indicated that most were unavailable or out of print. I straightened that out. About WC/PC, they have a "review" section where readers can give their opinion of the book and rate the book "one star to 5 stars". A dozen readers listed their opinions. They all said the same thing, that it was bad for homeschooling, and said that it was among the worst books that they had ever read, and gave it a single star. Michael A. Hoffman II read it and gave it only two stars. One person, who I believe actually read the book, gave it five stars.

I have a stack of letters half an inch high from people who have actually read the book and said that it is the best thing since cotton candy. I wish a few of you who have actually read the book and can, in good conscience, give it a good review, would do so. The address is (amazon.com). Just ask "books". Then ask for War Cycles Peace Cycles.

News & Advance Questions

Terry Scanlon, a reporter of Lynchburg's News & Advance, called and said that he wanted to do a feature story on me. Because of the extreme bias of his earlier reporting, I was reluctant to trust his even-handedness. I asked him to fax me the questions that he wanted answered. This is what arrived:

* "Is it fair to describe you as a racist and anti-Semitic? Why or why not?

* "To what degree do you feel responsible for the shooting in Los Angeles earlier this week?

* "Do you agree with Richard Butler that there is a war against the white race?

* "Do you believe that any of your writings have inspired anyone to take violent action?

* "What was your reaction when you learned that Buford Furrow wanted to send 'a wake up call to America to kill Jews'?

* "How many firearms do you own, and why do you have them?"

The man who pays the fiddler calls the tune. I didn't pay him. I could ask him questions in return, to define "racist" and "anti-semitic". He would have then gone into a spiel about hate, killing and blood. I could answer, I "don't believe in that". But it is an exercise in futility. He wouldn't print it. He is an agent of the Cloak.

One could say that Scanlan's hatespeech reporting would be more likely to trigger a psychopath to violence than any of Hoskins' writings. He wouldn't print that either.

One could ask Scanlon if he believes that there "isn't" a war against the White race. And, does he believe with Farrakan that the White race is the "great devil"? And if not, why not? And he wouldn't answer this either. Or, what was his own reaction when he learned that a Jew was a shooter of mostly White children in Colorado? Was that a hate crime? Or the Goldstine shooting of Arabs on the Temple Mount in Palestine. Was that a hate crime? He would refuse to print that question, too.

Why? Because these are just muck raking questions. These are the people who are condemned by the WORD. Therefore their enemy is the WORD and those who hold to its truths. Conversation about shootings, hate and guns are just a means to an end.

Website Canceled

My wonderful website lists all of my books and how to get them. Since the media had given my books such wonderful free publicity I wondered why I had not gotten any orders. The answer was simple. The webmaster canceled my site. Just like that! My computer advisor said that he thinks that he must have had a "philosophical difference" with me.

This may have worked to my advantage. Most of those calling initially were media snakes looking for books to aid their bashing. They had to get them quick because this "15 minute fame" is short lived. They have to make hay while Hoskins is still the hot news. Most of them couldn't get their books. By the time they do - I'll be stale.

By the time you get this letter I will have a new web site www.RICHARDHOSKINS.COM It's easier to remember than the old address, and it will be up and running by the time you get this newsletter.

Conclusion

If the establishment permitted the teaching of the 70% of God's Commandments that deal with government, the people would hear and with their hearing would come belief and repentance. With repentance comes obedience, and, when the Saxon obeys God's Commandments, the government as now constituted is doomed to disappear; the International Trade Cartel will cease to operate because no one will buy their goods; Strangers will depart, each seeking his own land.[7]

The ITC cannot allow this if they can help it, so, it attacks gun ownership by law abiding citizens[8] as a way of indirectly attacking the requirements of the WORD. It attacks the militia because it is a visible threat to the anti-Christ. It attacks the internet because it does not presently have the power to censor the WORD as it is being exchanged between believers. Most of all it attacks everyone and everything that tell others what God requires of them.

God has given us a wonderful opportunity. Each of us can help. We can take books like War Cycles / Peace Cycles from the shelves (there are 47,000 copies out there), dust them, and lend them to friends telling them that you will return to pick it up in two weeks. This gives the friend a chance to learn about the evils of "usury" - something that terrifies the ITC.

We must all remember that we have have gotten as far as we have and have succeeded as much as we have without ANY help from Esau's Cloak. This media blitz of theirs must be understood in that context. It is a marvelous opportunity to take the WORD to those who have never heard of Reform Christianity.

For as long as it lasts, take your books off your shelves and lend them out. Become a missionary to your own people. If you run out of books, visit (www.RICHARD-HOSKINS.COM) and replenish your supply. Give books as presents. Not just my books, but any book that contains the forbidden 70% of God's Commandments. Remember, you can get all five for just $50 - with Virginia Publishing Company paying the postage.

"Reform Christian" ministries across America are doing something right; they are the only Christian ministries under ITC blitz. No one belonging to the mainstream or the charismatics are even being remotely criticized - just "Reform Christians" who are obeying God's WORD to "Go into all the world and teach the gospel to every creature" - of Israel[9]

We have gotten where we are with no help from the ITC's Cloak of Esau, or from the Scribes and the Pharisees of our own people. Now that we have this new opportunity we must become more active than ever before to reach our own in the name of God.

We have the publicity, the opportunity, the interest - all in a field where we never before had access. Let's make hay while the sun shines.

300th Newsletter - 26 Years
Lessons Of 26 Years

This is my 300th newsletter since I started writing it 26 years ago when I was about 45 years old. Through the years certain things have happened that I believe are important. I had a list of them scheduled for this month. As can be seen - events have delayed my agenda.

LETTERS

LAW & PRIESTS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Received your #299 today. The message about the LAW is the main mes-

Matt 10:5-6; "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24; "For thou art not sent ... but to the house of Israel." EZ 3:5; "As my Father hath sent me even so I send you." John 20:21; "He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20; "I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me, for they are thine." sage. It is amazing how few will tell Israel this crucial message. Everybody in the right wing wants to overcome the enemy but they won't use the ultimate weapon - the LAW. We aren't gonna win awards for marksmanship or glories for valorous deeds with this weapon. Using the LAW to our advantage isn't noticeable; it doesn't feed our egos but reflects God's glory and wisdom. Most people want to be paid for doing right. I also liked the part where it was our own people who crucified Jesus, and we'd do it again, today." Randy Duey, 09884016, POB 1000, Oxford, WI 53952, Member of The Order

FROM S.AFRICA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The letters I receive from the S. Africa of my youth cause me distress and sadness. The financial situation for poor and middle class whites there is getting worse daily. In certain areas you can't sell your home or farm for any price. No one can - with the violence increasing daily. The wealthy Whites sold out some time ago and moved to Europe & the US." W.S. - Kansas

REMEMBER: "Dear Richard; Found HR #289 extremely interesting.[10] I was raised in a small town in Alabama. Remember going to an all white school as a child. Remember my Mother being so proud cause I always brought home grades of A's & B's. Remember being placed in a private school when the busing started. Still made A's & B's. The next year no private school. New baby, my sister, no money. Remember the first day my mother drove me to the next city to keep me from having to ride the bus. Town called Dolomite

"Dear Brother Richard; I now tape the inside pages of HR to hold them in place and keep them in a large envelope - several issues to each envelope. They are always 'loaned out', in demand, and one of the best tools for getting the WORD out to those who need to become interested that I have found. And, amazingly, I had them all 'back' the other day, and not one issue is missing." R.K. - Prisoner Oklahoma

LETTER FROM BOER WAR: "Medical doctor Andrew Murray Neethling's letters, in English, are informative. 'Every dead Boer to date has cost England £50,000. Oh Anne, if ever there has been an unjust - a cruel, disgraceful war, an outrage on civilization it is this one.

'Dr. Neethling was horrified at the callous way in which the British treated their dead. He describes a 44-yard trench on top of Spioenkop 13 days after the battle as a putrid, maggot- infested heap of protruding arms, heads, trunks and legs.

'Other bodies lay in the open with their faces eaten off by birds. Later, on a white flag trip into Ladysmith to fetch Boer wounded, he was disgusted to see the body of a soldier lying next to the road.'" Terence Friend, (Copied from The Citizen, S. Africa, April 12, 1999.)

RKH COMMENT: Episcopal organizations - religious, political, or social - do not represent the people but represent the ones who established the episcopacy. The God of Man requires that the dead be decently buried. When they are not decently buried - it indicates a disrespect of the Commands of the God of Man by those who established the episcopacy.

David Duke

I have been asked countless times my opinion of David Duke. Since his latest book has come out, which I understand is good, the questions have started again. The answer I gave in 1991 still holds until David Duke comes into compliance with the WORD.

Letter to HR Dec 1, 1991

RE DAVID DUKE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do you think of David Duke?" - H. H. - California

ED: What I am about to say is important. The only way an aspiring white politician can secure media coverage today is to promise the minorities access to his women. David Duke on the Donahue Show said that he would not like it if his daughter married someone of another race, but he would still accept her if she did.

The scriptures teach:

> "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (The Word). But if the priests' daughter ("Ye are ... a royal priesthood." 1 Pet. 2:9) be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her fathers' house ... she shall eat of her fathers' meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr) eat thereof." Lev 22:10-13.

Duke, a self-proclaimed "born-again-Christian", took the media's litmus test on racial intermarriage and passed. He passed the media test and failed God's. "By their acts ye shall know them." Now he gets media coverage and the resulting underdog sympathy vote.

The chapter "Plot To Destroy Israel" in Vigilantes relates the identical story occurring in another time. Refresh your memory by reading the story from the scriptures - or the condensed version in Vigilantes, p. 27.

Remember, Duke was a KKK man. I have warned you about the KKK. I spent the summer speaking against it. I regard both the KKK and the Nazi party as federally controlled fly-paper organizations designed to trap the unsuspecting. Active membership may equal to a prison term. The suppressed truth is that the Federal government ran the KKK in the South after the War Between The States, from 1869 until the late 1870s, which is why Southern intellectuals flee these type of organizations. In the 1920s the re-born KKK became acceptable only because it was strictly a political organization. It was then destroyed by the media when radical agents provocateur infiltrated and committed atrocities in their name. The present KKK is an 1869 type in my opinion. It's all in my book Vigilantes, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505

LOG CABIN: "Dear Richard; My son took me back to the log cabin where I was born. One end was sticking up surrounded by a lot of brush and weeds. The buildings on the place were built with money made on the farm. Most are either in bad repair or gone. In the 1930s the Feds decided to steal the land for one of their many boondoggle projects. The whole valley is now weeds and brush. This had been excellent farm land producing a lot of good clean food. Desolation. Thousands of acres. We've got a lot of repair work to do when we take back our inheritance." L. J. - Ohio

SCRIBES

Saladin 1138-1193

Once upon a time there was a great son of Islam whose name was Saladin. It was he who united the Arabs into a solid wall of resistance to the Crusader invasion of the Holy Land. It was he who thwarted the Crusaders at every turn. His acts of bravery, chivalry and generosity to both friend and foe are spoken of throughout Islam in tones of awe, for Saladin was unlike any son of Esau who went before or has come after. His exploits are legion and are related from father to son in lonely desert oasis as well as being written in the world's history books. His military exploits are common knowledge. How he consolidated his power is not common knowledge.

Saladin's Problem

The Arab world was in turmoil. Just as stability had been achieved in the Arab world, it was struck from the east by fierce invaders from the Mongolian deserts. Turning to meet this threat it was struck from behind by Christian Crusaders from Western Europe who had seemingly materialized from nowhere. The Islamic world fragmented. Little Islamic kingdoms sprang up governed by warlords who fought the Christians and each other, but who owed no real allegiance to anyone but Allah.

At this time there was a great Arab king who was Sultan of Egypt and Syria. His armies had blunted and then defeated the invasion of the fierce invaders from the east. He then turned to deal with the powerful Christian Crusaders from the West. But, before he could really begin his task, he died.

His understudy was a young man named Saladin. He was slightly built, medium height, and he was most unlike other Arabs as his nature was generous and truthful.

His first order of business was to consolidate his own rule. This he did in short order. He then undertook the cause of throwing the Crusaders out of the mideast.

If all Islam could be united into one mighty force the relatively few Crusaders would present but a small problem. But, to get at the Christians ensconced in their fortresses and castles, Saladin had to pass through the lands of independent Arab states, the ones that had sprung up following the chaos of the invasions from both the east and west. This passage would involve him in endless wars with Arab co-religionists. The Arab rulers of these independent states would fight an invasion by Saladin as soon as they would an invsion by the Christians. The following is how Saladin went about solving this problem.

The Scribe

The normal method of communication in the Arab countries was for the name of the ruler to be mentioned in prayers made in each mosque. In this way the people would know who their ruler was, an ever-changing event in the violent lives of Islam's rulers, few of whom died natural deaths.

Short proclamations made by the warlord ruler were relayed to the worshipers on Friday by their mullah and then prayers were said. Afterward, people gathered in groups and discussed politics and business - just as they do today.

Saladin was effectively cut out of the religious communications network loop of these independent states. To open an alternate means of reaching the people, Saladin set up in his palace a large room filled with scribes. Their job was to write letters - personal letters to individuals living in the rebellious Arab lands that lay between Saladin and the Crusaders.

In that day of slow communication and expensive mail, these letters were welcome, treasured, and passed on from hand to hand and group to group, each letter reaching many people, and just like today, each letter contained news eagerly sought by gossip-starved people.

Besides gossip, which was the honey that drew the reader, these letters contained Saladin's praise of the local rulers. Saladin's praise increased the stature of the local rulers, who did not mind letting contenders to their thrones know that the great Saladin himself appreciated them and perhaps he might be called on to support them if need be to keep them on their thrones.

The letters also contained news of the Christian invasion and the desecration of Arab holy places; Christian atrocities against defenseless peace-loving Arabs by these infidel invaders. They also told how cowardly it was for Arabs to sit by doing nothing while their God was being defamed and their holy places desecrated.

The letters also told of how Islam's great religious leaders were calling for a holy war against the Christians and how the Allah's faithful servant, Saladin, was obeying by gathering war materials and supplies, and arming his men to fight the Jihad. The letters also called on all who loved Allah to support the holy war and it was expected by everyone that the independent kings would do their share in the name of Allah.[1]

These letters went out by the thousands and they gradually converted the people to the cause of Holy War. When at last Saladin began his march against the Christian infidels, he passed through the lands of the rebel rulers and was welcomed in every hamlet and city. The ruler of the independent lands dared not oppose Saladin or the Holy War against the Christians when all their people supported it, and so they too added their support and their armies to Saladin's great war effort - with Saladin as its leader.

It was in this way that Saladin's scribes won a great victory over rebel Arab rulers without a life being lost.

1 The Crusaders wondered how the Saracens seem to know about events almost as soon as they happened. The answer was pigeons. Traveling merchants were required to deliver a carrier pigeon to the authorities of a city which was brought from the last city they they had visited. They had to do this before they could were allowed inside the gates of their destination. By using these pigeons, news in the world of Islam spread as fast as a bird could fly.

The Scribe's Mission

The scribe's job is to broadcast the will and policy of his king. He informs the people of the king's wishes. If the king orders his people to gather - it is the scribe who issues the orders:

> "... the principal scribe ... which mustered the people of the land, ... and brought them to the king of Babylon." II Ki 25:19

The job of this scribe was to "muster the people" or gather them together.

Sometimes, a king may contact a scribe who serves another King - the King of Kings. Or, as it it says here;

> "Artaxerxes ... unto Ezra the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his statutes to Israel." Ezra 7:11-12

So, we have scribes both of kings and scribes of the King of Kings. Kings cannot rule unless the people know the king's wishes and the only way they can learn his wishes is through the use of scribes.

Intelligence Agents

Local newspapers contain extensive files on anyone who has ever attracted public attention. My mother was active in women's organizations and her file at the newspaper was thick. Scribes act the part of intelligence agents in gathering this data.

Recently another reporter came by the house. He represented a large Virginia newspaper. He was courteous and pleasant. I asked him to submit a list of questions, and he did. They weren't bad like those of the Lynchburg News & Advance reporter. I hated to turn him down, but I've learned that if they aren't Janissaries they aren't employed by the stranger's media.[2]

The next day I received a phone call from the military school I had gone to as a boy. They wanted to know how much info they should release to this Richmond reporter. He later called to tell me that he had talked to one of my classmates in North Carolina who sent his regards. I learned two things from that call. First, the establishment was investigating me back to age 15. Second, that classmate he talked to was a nice fellow, everyone liked him. The reporter went out of state to question him about me.

When someone is that thorough in their research they are compiling data - data that can either be used for a book, or sometimes, even blackmail. There are any number of people in the country who can't open their mouths because if they did someone would spill the beans.

The Million Dollar Scribe

About ten years ago someone sent me the papers of a trust that rewarded "deserving" young talented writers. The awards were substantial - almost a million dollars in three disbursements over a ten-year period. This is a lot of money for a youngster in his 20s. I remember thinking at the time that this was giving away a lot of money in exchange for nothing.

2 Janissaries were Christian children stolen or bought by Islamic agents and raised in the Islamic religion. They were the most fanatical warriors that Islam ever had. They were first to be met in an Arab invasion. When captured they could only be killed - seldom converted. The same was true of white children captured and raised by Indians. They often rose to be chiefs and were among the most brutal of all in their treatment of white prisoners. Today's media scribes, the journalists and reporters, are compared to the Janissaries and renegades of the American fornier. They are taught by establishment schools to hate themselves, their God, and their nation - and they do, they passionately do.

It was only later that I realized the significance of what I had seen. These grants bought establishment scribes and added them to the establishment's reservoir of talent. I have little doubt that the grants included side agreements as to the subjects the writers were to write on and the forfeiture of the grants if the recipient ever turned on the grantor. The staggered dispursements kept the recipients waiting for the next one, and the side agreements kept them on the leash - or made them give up the million for non-compliance.

I have often wondered how many of today's so called "independent" writers are actually "million dollar scribes on a leash". I know a number of writers who plead poverty, but always seem to have plenty of money. The establishment can easily afford a million each, and that money buys the soul of the recepient for the rest of his life. Without the scribe, the king can't rule and the merchant can't trade, because that is how the world is ordered.

The Merchant

The WORD says:

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

Just who is the one who uses this money for evil? The WORD points to the culprit:

"Babylon ... for thy merchants were the great men of the earth." Rev 18:21,23

This is opposed to the vision of our own people: "Nor do we delight in merchandise, nor in such a mixture with other men as arises from it ... having a fruitful country for our habitation, we take pains in cultivating that only. Our prin- ciple care ... is ... to educate our children well; ... to observe the laws that have been given us ... Since ... there was no occasion offered us ... for intermixing among the Greeks, as they had had for mixing among the Egyptians, by their intercourse of exporting and importing their several goods; as they also mixed with the Phoenicians, who lived by the sea-side, by means of their love of lucre in trade and merchandise." Flavius Josephus Against Apion 1:12

It is these "great men", the merchants, who rule the earth. These merchants who have divided the world amongst themselves, each claiming a part as his own market area.[3]

The Merchant's Rule

In as few words as possible, the following describes the imperium of the merchant and his method of operation:

The Merchant - PRIME DIRECTIVE:
The merchant must find a market for his goods.

The King
The merchant must establish a king to protect him and promote his interests.

The Priest
Before the Merchant can trade in a market he must first secure the blessing of its god, or the people may kill him.[4]

3 "A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong." Ecclesiasticus 26:29.

4 In The Beginning, p.1, Virginia Publishing Company, POB 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505

The "great merchant's" method of conquering and ruling a market area is ancient and through the millennia has developed into a science. He first hires a king to rule the market area claimed by himself. If the land has no kings, the merchant furnishes the gold necessary for their selected agent to hire soldiers so that he can become more powerful than his neighbors and then become king.

The merchant's "king" functions as the merchant's "policeman". He is hired to keep order in the merchant's market area so that trade can take place without hindrance. The king and his retainers support themselves with tribute taken from the people they rule.

Need For A King

To make the people rely on their "king" for protection, the king creates a perpetual state of emergency. He sees to it that there is always an "enemy at the gate".

Because of the merchants' usury system that requires 11 units to be repaid for each 10 borrowed, wars become an economic necessity. They force people to borrow money into existence to keep the system operating. The defeated kings, who are also members of the system, are seldom destroyed.[5] They may be needed as enemies again in the future. Usually, the enemy fought today will be the same enemy that will be fought tomorrow. Without enemies at the gate the people would soon realize that the WORD was right and that they have no need for kings - that kings do all the evil things that God said that they would do.

5 The exception being the leaders of nations who actually try to throw off the merchant's rule. These nations are treated harshly when they are finally conquered.

Religious Endorsement Of Sin

Kings rule only when they are supported by scribes and pharisees. When a king's policy comes in conflict with the Law of God and conflict results, the people must be persuaded to obey the policy of their king rather than the Law of God.

If the people were ever permitted to decide themselves whether to obey either God or the king - their decisions would soon lead to revolution. This is why kings must either appoint priests to endorse his sin, or pay priests with tax-exemption and a franchise to fleece the sheep tax free, to do the same. Buying the loyalty of the pharisee helps the king avoid conflict with his subjects.

This is what Jesus was talking about when he said:

> "We wrestle ... against ... spiritual wickedness in high places." Ephesians 6:12

Counter Reformation

Whenever a people repents and determines to obey God rather than man, this constitutes revolt to their un-Godly rulers, a revolt that may not only unseat the king, but also unseat the merchant whom he serves.

To keep his king on the throne, the merchant first unleashes his scribes against those who would pull him down. Today's scribes make no secret who they look to for their information. It is the Southern Poverty Law Center and the Anti Defamation League. The FBI, local schools, city governments, police and military do also - all organizations under the command or influence of the king are expected to accept information from these two organizations and their fellow traveler organizations without question, even when patently untrue. These organizations speak for the international merchant and as such are above criticism.

Hue & Cry

If the enemy is weak, and the scribes skillful, they can "outlaw" an enemy by raising a "hue and cry" against him. If this is sucessfully done - one or more unbalanced members of society might be persuaded to kill the enemy pointed out by the scribes and think that they have done God a service.[6]

The scribe's justification for starting a "hue and cry" can be anything. The easiest method is to plant evidence, say, a book, at the scene of a crime and then say the writings of the author inspired the criminal to commit the crime.

Don't be too quick to discount this modern Soviet-type "Trust" operation. It is an old technique and it is effective.[7]

6 "Yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God a favor." John 16:2

7 Buried on page B8 of the New York Times of Sept 15, 1995 was a story titled "FBI Chemist Says Experts Are Pressured To Skew Tests." An FBI chemist, Frederic Whitehurst, complained about the handling of the evidence in the Trade Center case and in the 1991 trial of Walter L. Moody, convicted of mail- bomb killings. Louis J. Freeh, now the Director of the FBI, led the prosecution of the mail- bombing case. Frederic Whitehurst worked for 13-years for the FBI. He received a doctoral degree from Duke and was the FBIs top bomb- residue expert. In 1994 he was demoted after taking his complaints to his superiors.

"On February 11, 1976, the late Congressman Larry McDonald inserted evidence into the Congressional Record (pages E-617-619) documenting how various US terrorist groups were actually being funded and controlled by the federal government. The government secretly funded a section of the Weather Underground Organization (which was repeatedly involved in terrorist activities - including bombings, arson, and murder).

A January 10, 1976 Associated Press report stated: "The FBI created and funded a ... group called the Secret Army Organization (S.A.O.) ... in the early 1970s the San Diego Union reports." The newspaper described the S.A.O. as a "centrally designed and externally financed infrastructure designed for terror and sabotage. ... These acts were sanctioned by the nation's most powerful and highly respected law enforcement agency: the FBI."

Actually, evidence doesn't even have to be planted. Media scribes can just "report" that evidence was found. If someone objects, the actual "evidence" can be planted at a later date.

Establishment's scribes can quickly gloss over the fact that a planted book might be only a history book on economics, and using the "alleged" report as an entry, they can go to work to demonize what they say are the author's REAL beliefs.

Five, Three, Ninty-two

An important political leader of the 20th century said that 5% of the people are patriots, 2% traitors, and the remaining 93% just watch to see which side is winning so that they will know whom to join to be on the winning side.

Perhaps the percentages may be off one way or the other, but, if the basic concept is true, then the opinions of the 5% are more important than those of the 92% and are critical to the future of both the International Merchant and the subject people who live in the merchant's market area.

What has happened

It appears that while the ITC boasted of its victories, quietly and unheralded the 5% who are Saxon America's Christian patriots have become almost solidly "Reform Christian". In spite of the establishment media, "Reform Christians" have quietly come to believe that the WORD of God is "the Way" and there is none other. And there they stand. Their motto is the motto most dreaded by the establishment: "It is better to obey God than man." This is outright rebellion to the establishment credo - "It is better to obey man than God."

The worldwide media blitz unleashed this last two months is the attempt by the establishment's scribes to retrieve a situation that they have only just discovered. The world as they know it suddenly appears to be deteriorating before their eyes.[8]

Consequences of Saxon Obedience

Saxon's who believes the WORD believe the following:

 God the WORD appointed man to be both king and priest.

"Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

 Man is to have no other king than God the WORD.

"In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14; "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Ex 20:3

 There are to be no monopolies.

"Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaiah 5:8

 No taxes.

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25- 26.[9]

8 The way the ITC gained its newpaper monopoly is through advertising. Not one person in a hundred reads the mass of advertising that comes stuffed inside newspapers. People throw it away. This unneeded advertising is really a newspaper subsidy. It is the reason there aren't four or five newspapers in your area. Establishment newspapers get advertising from ITC industry and non- establishment papers don't. Where there used to be several papers in each city there is now one. ITC corporations give advertising dollars to subsidize ITC newspapers. Saxon-owned papers have been forced out of business. Practically all media now speaks with one voice because they are all owned by the ITC. ITC advertising made it possible.

 The land is to be divided and never sold.

"The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55

 Strangers are not allowed in the land.

"They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:27- 33

 There is to be no trade with strangers.

"If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth. Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

 Man is not to eat with them.

"Neither from a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these; because their corruption is in them, and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you." Lev 22:25; "The things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils." I Cor 11:20-21[10]

9 "Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go to the sea (peoples), and cast a hook (the Word), and take up the fish (the believer) that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shall find a piece of money (Gr. "stater" - a standard of value). That (standard of value) take, and give unto them for me and thee." Matt 17:27

10 "They shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord. Le 22:15. Or, suffer them to bear the iniquity of the trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the Lord do sanctify them." Le 22:16; "Withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them. ... for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled." Jubilees 22:17

 They are not allowed in our houses of worship.

"The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 1:51[11]

 Strangers may not rule over us.

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

 Interracial marriage is forbidden.

"Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "Thou ... shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4;[12]

 Usury is a capital crime.

"Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deu 23:20; "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him." Ezek 18:13

 Murderers and homosexuals are to be put to death.

"Ye shall take no satisfaction (substitute) for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall surely be put to death." Num 35:31; "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Lev 20:13

 Abortion is forbidden.

The King of Kings who issued these commandments is a King different from the king appointed by the merchant. The priest they follow is a different priest than the pharisee priest appointed by the merchant. The Scribes they listen are different scribes than the merchants' scribes. Saxons who obey God the WORD consider themselves to be Christian, and they consider those who disobey the WORD to be anti-christ.

Consequences Of Saxon Obedience

When Saxons obey the WORD, International Trade Cartel merchants cannot enter the land and buy and sell. Consequently, the ITC must stamp out the WORD that forbids them from operating in their land.

But, throughout history, in spite of their efforts, the WORD has managed to get out. Each time it has produced dire results:

1381 The Peasants Revolt - Wycliffe translated a Bible and it got to the 5%. All was quiet until a tax increase triggered a flash revolt. Within days, the 5% led 50,000 armed men who marched on London, hanging corrupt priests and judges on the way. Their mission - to reform England. The establishment almost fell.

1524-1526 The German Peasants' War - Martin Luther translated the Bible into German. It got into the hands of the 5% who proceeded to put what they learned into action. They took the vast church and crown lands and divided them among the Saxon nation and lived under the Laws of the King of Kings. The establishment almost fell.

1509-1564 Calvin - Calvin, Knox and others went to Switzerland and translated the Bible into English. This Bible was smuggled into England and Scotland. The Word spread across Europe and people began learning their rights given them by God. Revolt broke out everywhere.

1514-1572 John Knox - Knox went to Scotland and soon Scots signed the Covenant vowing to obey God and no other.

The English Civil War - In England, the 5% became "puritans" and most of the 92% followed them. They demanded that the land be divided. It was only by making deals with Oliver Cromwell, the rebels' leader, that the establishment was able to hang on.

1572 French Huguenots - The WORD spread over France. Under leadership of the 5% the people began obeying the King of Kings when his Law conflicted with those of the king. The king of France woke up one day and discovered that more than a quarter of France had abandoned his rule for the Law of God and he was in danger of losing the rest of France. It was a near thing.

More than four centuries have passed since these days and once again rumblings are being heard in the land. The Scribes are striving one against the other.

Their Scribes

The job of the ITC scribes is to provide gossip, inform the consumers of the merchants' market area, promote the policies of the king, and to vilify his enemies.

Our Scribes

The job of the scribes of the King of Kings is to spread God's WORD to His people by whatever means are available.

Conclusion

The Cloak of Esau - the enemy's media - has proved that it can reach out and influence the mass 92% of the people any time it chooses. The problem is that he cannot reach the 5% who are Christian Patriots. Christian Patriots are the most difficult of all to persuade that lies are truth and truth are lies. And, it is these who the 92% will listen to in the long run. Why; "because everyone knows the media lies".

The enemy's desperate lashing out, piling one lie on top of another, shows his desperation. It shows that we have a clear field to reach out to the rest of the 5% and begin to touch the 92%. The media slept too long. It can't reach them and we can.

Each of us is a Scribe of the King of Kings. We have been given a responsibility by God to do something to advance His kingdom each and every day. When we have delivered the very last of the 5% into the knowledge of the WORD, all it will take is for the serpent to do something else stupid - to tax us one extra goat; to call on the UN to occupy our land; or to outlaw God the WORD. Whatever they do will be the spark which will spread in an instant to the 92% who will then follow their natural leaders to bring about;

"Thy kingdom come ... on earth".

In the meantime, the serpent is awake and knows that he has but a short time. But, it's too late, snake - you've been had!

NOTICE - THE UN

This is open notice to Americans. The UN has now been in Korea, Vietnam, Africa, Yugoslavia, and elsewhere. They have left death and destruction whereever they have been. The handwriting is on the wall. All this is to condition the people to accept them when they come here.

America, its militias and its citizens must have their minds made up as to what they are going to do when they see the blue helmets with sub-machine guns walking the streets of America. As sure as the sun rises, UN occupation forces are coming here.

Letter From South Africa by K.J.

Every day now brings new communist laws, which do not seem to upset the new National Party as long as they get paid. Neither are many other whites who are fed on sports and gambling. The Afrikaner Bond, infiltrated by freemasonry in the early seventies, are another lot. They have no conscience. Many of them are ministers in Afrikaans churches. For the rest of us, a black communist dictatorship is a most appalling prospect. They are stripping the country of its assets. Blacks blame us for all that is going wrong and they believe the biggest lies fed to them by the Jewish media. When I see how the elderly, orphans and unemployed whites suffer, I come the the point where I can say I dislike Blacks and Jews intensely.

We had a few lovely warm days and enjoyed the spring flowers and blossoms, but today an icy wind is blowing from the Drakensberge. Today all 12 unions of the civil service went on strike, although it has been on and off for sometime. They want more and the government is spending every cent on itself. It is mostly blacks that strike. If the post office is open you will find a few whites still working.

We got another Alsatian, a huge animal. Blacks moved into a house opposite a friend in a good Pretoria suburb. They built a huge wall around the property and had dogs. All went well until their furniture was taken back because of non-payment and the Alsatian got out one day and the neighbors saw the dog's condition. A liberal family bought a big bag of dog biscuits, but the Alsation did not see much of it. To avoid the neighbors, the SPCA etc., they tied the dog to a tree in the middle of the property without food or water. When my friend could no long stand the dog's howling, she offered to buy the dog. As she could not keep him he came to us, a lovely animal, starved for food and love, but well trained. He must have been stolen. The reason why blacks treat dogs so badly, one told our friend, is because they are obedient and blacks see that as weakness. But they do not treat any animal properly.

The gun laws are causing quite a stir among whites and the only way I can see is to keep the pressure on the regime. They still kill whites daily and not one feels safe. As I am writing this letter a 38 revolver lies on the table near me and to leave a door unlocked is a major sin for which I get a severe talking to. I do not see any sign that people like Derby-Lewis will get out of prison soon. Hanis' wife sees to it that he gets the worst treatment - denied reading matter, computer, etc. Her hatred knows no bounds.

Some of the older gold mines have closed and it's not only the gold price to blame, Black productivity is low, while blacks continue to demand more. Funny, Johanna Brandt warned in one of her books that Blacks must stay out of a fight between English and Afrikaans and she meant in the future, not the time she was living in. According to today's news the government is going ahead with the Firearm Bill. All I can say is that so many are going to disappear from sight and be reported as stolen. The police do not open dockets any longer and we will make use of their slackness. As for the Blacks, there is a whole army of poorly educated young Blacks that can be used as cannon fodder, for whom killing means absolutely nothing.

We have been without a telephone for weeks. They cut the wire to get hold of the copper, but there is no copper in the wire put up this last year. Still it gets cut by Blacks out of malice. To use the word "kaffer" (heathen) was seen as one of the worst sins, but no longer. Ordinary people are beginning to use the word and the worse the Blacks get the more it is used. The use of cell phones is not cheap here but we have little alternative. Two White men came to repair the damage today. With best wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

BUCHANAN: "Hello Richard: Your book War Cycles / Peace Cycles is catching flak. Don't feel alone. Buchanan wrote a book saying that before WWII Germany presented no threat to the US. For writing this heresy he is presently being crucified by the media." - L.G. Virginia

---

DEJA VUE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: It's interesting about people who write books which are not approved by the establishment. They find them in cars. Dr. Pierce wrote "Turner Diaries and the media says a copy was found in McVeigh's car. Some fellow in Florida was arrested for planning to make bombs and the media says that the same book by Dr. Pierce was found in his car. They say they found your book in the California shooter's car, and I'll bet that they find Buchanan's book in the car belonging to the next shooter." A. W. - Nebraska

UPDATE: "Dear Richard; I was horrified with your treatment by the media. May I ask what the reprecussions have been?" J.R. - California

RKH: Nothing. You would think that having had one's name dragged through the mud on the front page of practically every newspaper in the country you would get hate mail or something! Besides the "End Racism" bumper sticker mailed from California, that's it. People I have never seen before come up to me and pat me on the back and tell me that they are with me, and they have no idea of what is going on except that whatever the newspapers say must be a lie.

MISSING THE MARK: "Richard; Just a short note. America's media lives in a vacuum. People don't believe them anymore. They have lied so often that people don't believe anything that they say about anything. Waco is a case in point. The establishment is supposed to be taking the country into the third millennium's New World Order with a secret police (FBI) that no one believes or trusts. They now find that 'everyone' believes that the government is guilty of the Waco murders. This forces the government to back up and start over again to win credibility. They are doing the same sort of thing to you. Don't sweat it. America knows that you have not had your say and that the media reporting is suspect once again." S.A. - Florida

OUTLAWED: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Children were killed here at a church shooting. The announcers theorized that the shooter was a Phineas Priest and that Richard Kelly Hoskins was somehow responsible. They had nothing to support their statements. They didn't even find your Christian economics book in the shooter's pocket. I suppose you realize that when the Establishment media accuses someone of a heinous crime, publishes his picture and address, they are attempting to outlaw him so that anyone is justified in killing him. It appears that the scribes of today are as evil and dangerous as they were in Jesus' day. When they say something - the TRUTH is often the exact opposite. A Phineas priest enforces God's Law - he doesn't break it. The truth is the exact opposite." S.J. - Texas

BLACKS & JEWS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: In HR 300 you called Blacks and Jews 'friends'. Explain." P. A. - Oklahoma

RKH: God requires separation. It is easy to be "friends" with separated strangers. Many blacks and Jews also want separation - even violent Black Panther and Jewish Defense League types. Talk peaceful separation - if possible. Peace is easier than war. Be nice. If forced to fight, the war must be fought with an eye to the peace that follows. The WORD which is God is the final authority.

Chapter 302

LYNCHBURG WELCOMES SODOMITES[1]

Hegelian Dialectics

Hegelian Dialectics is the method used to force people to do things that they don't want to do. The International Trade Cartel (ITC) wants a Hindu society where "all things", including sodomites, are accepted. On the other hand, REAL Christians don't want to violate God's express Commandment by accepting sodomites. Hegelian Dialects is the gradualism approach used by Hindu-Christian Scribes & Pharisees to mold America's acceptance.

1 Faggot: A bundle of sticks. The name traditionally used by Christians to describe homosexuals as - "Fuel for the fires of hell."

First - The ITC states their desired principle or objective. In this case they want; "An open Hindu society - anything goes - including sodomy."

Second - The opposing argument is that everything is ruled by God's Commandments, and God's Commandment in this case is: "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13.[2]

Third - The compromise between the First argument and the Second argument is the Third compromise position. In this case, establishment priests say that God has changed his mind and now sodomites should be accepted by Christians in order to be "saved" - and not put to death. This is a vast improvement over what went before.

Conditions Yesterday

During the 1800s and until the end of WWII in 1945, killing homosexuals attempting to impose their perversion on others was called "justifiable homicide" by juries. It was an ironclad defense.

Following WWII, state priests taught their congregations to accept homosexuals in order to "save their souls".

2 "Moses called the people together ... that they might engage themselves to ... these laws by oath: and that ... in case any one of their own blood ... should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution of government, they should take vengeance upon them, both all in general, and each person in particular; ... but that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills." Antiquities 4:8:45.

Today, the king has outlawed God's Law. Those attempting to obey God's Law, either all-together or individually, will be killed or imprisoned by the king who dotes on his special treasures. Obedience to God can only be expressed by verbal protest. The protest expresses obedience to God. Lack of protest indicates tolerance of both the sodomite and his god.

Then, the fight to bring homosexuals into the mainstream was put on the back burner to make way for the main battle to outlaw the Christian Law prohibiting interracial marriage.[3] Once this was done, it was time to return to the battle to force homosexual acceptance.

Reform Christianity

Cartel operations in America's religious, political, and business spheres alarmed America's Christian Patriots. They tired of the lickspittle attitudes of the leaders of mainstream churches which agreed with whatever the infidels said or did and left the mainstream march to apostasy and began a return to basic Christianity. They called the movement - Reform Christianity. Reform Christianity holds to a strict interpretation of God's Commandments. The two beliefs making them stand out from today's mainstream are beliefs commonly held by most Christians in prior years. They are:

1) In addition to the 30% of the Bible dealing with personal improvement, the ignored 70% dealing with government should be taught also.

2) The genealogical records filed by Europe's kings such as Charlemagne, Robert the Bruce, Edward I, and the rest, which are on file with the Catholic and Episcopal churches and are in the archives of every Western country, proving descent from Ambraham, Isaac and Jacob are true. Since the Saxon nation is of one blood, the ancestry of Saxon kings is the same as the ancestry

3 "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (daily food that is blessed), But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house .... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr - "racial alien") eat thereof." Lev 22:12-13 of the Saxon people. This means that the patriarch's covenants made with God also belong to all the Saxon nation by right of descent.

Counter-Attack

The alien establishment was shocked. The reform movement they had ignored had grown into the cutting edge of America's militant Christianity. They immediately went to work to suppress this uprising.

Cartel Information Source

The International Trade Cartel has two major information sources - the Anti-Defamation League and the Southern Poverty Law Center. No ITC controlled media speaks on major policy without briefing and data from these organizations.

Since these two sources are anti-Christian and largely manned by infidel strangers, anyone who uses information obtained from them confesses to being cartel assets. This is how America learned that the FBI, ATF, police, teacher associations, and other quasi-state organizations had become assets of the infidel stranger - they almost always use these two organizations as their infomation source to the exclusion of information from Christian sources.

The ADL is headed by a Jew named Foxman. The SPLC is headed by one Morris Dees. He claims to be Baptist by religion, but his many familial connections are Jewish and most of his far flung organizational satellites are manned by Jews.

Instructing The National Press Club

The ITC prepared their media monopoly for their major attack on Reform Christianity by first giving instructions as to what they wanted done. To do this Morris Dees came to Washington in 1996 to brief the National Press Club. The following was copied from a Scriptures For America's paper called "Framing Deceit. ("Framing Deceit": Write for free copy from Scriptures For America, POB 766, LaPorte, CO 80535, 307-745-5913.)

> "Let's consider a speech given to the National Press Club by Morris Dees, the head of the Southern Poverty Law Center given April 16, 1996. The president of the National Press Club asks Mr. Dees the following question;
>
> "'Could you assess the role that the press is playing in exposing 'hate groups' and 'hate crimes', and what should the press be doing?'"
>
> "From the wording of the question, it is apparent that Dees is not simply guest speaker; rather, Dees is an instructor who was brought in to tell the members of the press whom to target. Notice his instructions to this group.
> "Mr. Dees: 'I think the press is playing a very valuable role. The only thing that I would suggest is that ... we try to get those people who express the true views of the Christian Identity ..."[4]

This was the 1996 alert given the media by Morris Dees as to what was expected of them. Since then every Reform Christian ministry in the country has come under media attack. The media's "blitz" unleashed following the Califor-

4 The following description of Identity was taken from the Internet website of the ADL: "Hate on the world wide web: A brief guide to cyberspace bigotry/Christian Identity: A diabolical mixture of racism, anti-Semitism, and religion, the Identity Church movement teaches that Anglo-Saxons are the Jews described in the Bible, that Jews are the descendants of Satan, and that Blacks and other minorities are inferior 'mud people.'" nia Community Center Shooting is a continuation of the 1996 "Dee's Plan".

California Community Center Shooting

Three years after the National Press Club briefing, a shooter entered a California community center and wounded some Jewish children and later killed a postal worker. The media alleged that the author's War Cycles/Peace Cycles, a book dealing with Christian Economics, was found in the shooters van and then theorized that this economics book inspired the shooter to do his shooting.[5]

Using the alleged book discovery for their springboard, the ITC media went into what appeared to be a carefully prepared "feeding frenzy" - all at the same time. They ALL began telling the world what a horrible thing Reform Christianity is. The author believes that not a single one of the thousands of editors who wrote condemning editorials and newspaper copy had actually read the book. Like the National Press Club, they had gotten their information directly from the SPLC and ADL and had used it without questioning its truthfulness.[6]

5 The media also alleges that The Turner Dairies was found in McVeigh's car and it inspired him to attack the Oklahoma federal building. The media also theorized that a book alleged to have been found in the possession of a man in Florida, accused of planning to make bombs, inspired him to commit that act. This ploy is getting a bit thin. I dare say that if one of the reporters had a book in their possession by any other Reform Christian author, that would have been the book found and that would have suited the media just as well as this author's book.

Lynchburg

In the author's home town, four front-page articles were written against him and his alleged "twisted beliefs", making the national media's Hegelian Dialectic looks like this:

Good Guy: Media Hinduism - anything goes

Bad Guy: Reform Christianity - God's Law

Compromise sought: Reject Christian Law - accept Hindu "anything goes".

Homosexuals Invited

Jerry Falwell announced that he was hosting a summit and that the nationally known sodomite, "The Reverand" Mel White was invited to bring 200 of his kind to meet with Jerry Falwell and 200 of his supporters at the Thomas Road Baptist Church for a lovefest to discuss toning been down hatespeech.

It was instantly apparant what was transpiring. A strange god's followers were invited into the sanctuary and fellowship of a Christian Church - a prominent church - one whose example may be copied across the nation! Next, the only "hatespeech" that could be toned down was God's Commands against sodomy! That was the bone of contention.

Media Rhapsodizes Homofest

Lynchburg's News & Advance carried front-page articles containing full quotes made by the homosexuals in a series of gushing articles:

6 The SPLC further established its reputation as a dispencer of lies when it said that Richard Kelly Hoskins, the author of War Cycles/Peace Cycles was a member of the Nazi Party. If England's liable laws were in effect in America both the SPLC and the ADL organizations would be forced to be much more circumspect.

Friday, October, 21, 1999: Front page. Mel White, who ghost wrote some of Jerry Falwell's books and who later "outed", said that after studying King and Gandhi,[7] he realized that he should not give up on Falwell. He said that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss lowering the level of rhetoric between homosexuals and Christians. He went on to say that "Falwell is breaking bread with '200 queers' sends a message."[8]

The article said that White told skeptical audience members that he thinks Falwell can change. One person asked how he reconciles Biblical passages prohibiting homosexuality. "White responded that the passage in Leviticuus that says men should not sleep with men also has a lot of other prohibitions that we no longer take seriously."

Saturday, October 23, 1999: Front Page. Large picture showing "The Rev. Mel White" speaking to 200 of his followers in Lynchburg's 1st Christian Church. Both Pastor Roger Zimmerman and Mayor Pete Warren, a member of

7 King led Blacks against American Saxons. He was an adulterer who talked "peace" but left cities in ruins. He consorted with communists and many said he was a communist. His close friend revealed that he plagiarized his "doctorate". The closest god that identifies with this kind of conduct is a voodoo god: Gandhi led mixed-race Indians against British Saxons. Gandhi was a Hindu, a worshiper of Vishnu and Siva the Indian sex-god. He advocated "peace" but also left cities in smoking ruins. Hinduism traditionally accepts everyone "without regard to race, creed, or national origin."

8 "If any man that is called a brother be a fornicator ... with such a one, no not to eat." 1 Cor 5:11

Zimmerman's church, received standing ovations from the sodomites.[9]

The mayor said he saw the interviews of Falwell and White on "Good Morning America" and was elated all day.

"White echoed Warren's sentiments, saying that Falwell's apology for using hate filled language to generalize about all gays was miraculous. White noted that Falwell was the first major Southern Baptist minister to integrate his church ... "Jerry Falwell is serious about loving us". White again said that he owes his ideals to Gandhi and Martin Luther King.

Sunday Oct 24, 1999: Front page. Very large front page picture showing the followers of The Rev. Jerry Falwell and those of "The Rev. Mel White" as they "spontaneously break into song" prior to meeting. "Several local clergy people showed their support for the forum. "It is an important step to tone down the rhetoric," said Episcopal Bishop Frank H. Vest. "I support what they are doing and applaud them."

Page A4 carries a picture of The Rev. Mel White and The Rev. Jerry Falwell and notes that "Falwell, left, and White will pray together today at Thomas Road Baptist Church (pray to the same God? Is this God "Brahma" who permits all things, or the WORD who demands that his followers conform to the WORD?).

The N&A also notes that about 20 people gathered at the Virginia University of Lynchburg to pray for unity and reconciliation in Lynchburg (When were homosexuals and Christians ever reconciled?).

9 "Can two walk together, except they be agreed." Amos 3:3; "All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like." Ecclesiasticus 13:16; "The tree is known by his fruit." Matt 12:33

"The nation is watching as they sit down to talk about who they love and why they love," said The Rev. Ben Harris, pastor of Rose Chapel Baptist Church in Madison Heights. Harris said the church is not just for mainstream people, "The church is a place for everyone, " he said. (This doubtlessly includes the Hindu caveat, "Without regard to race, creed, or national origin," and falls under the condemnation of God the WORD which says, "Can two walk together, except they be agreed." Amos 3:3;)

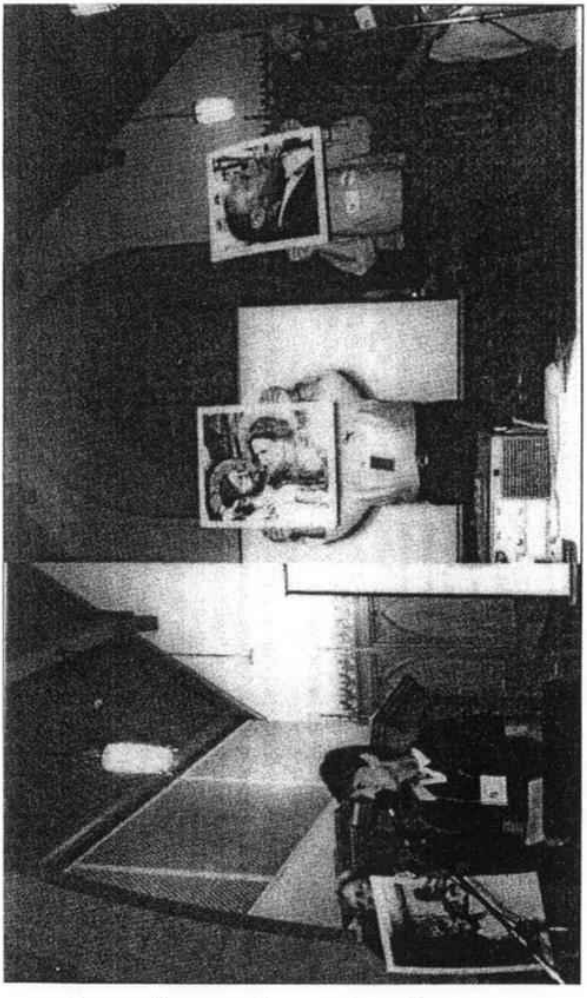
"Falwell welcomed White and his group, saying, 'I've never met more courteous, gentlemanly and professional people. Mel White, my hat's off to you."

The accompanying column said that "The Rev. Mel White" woke up at 4 a.m. Sunday and went on the "Today" show to announce a National Soulforce Campaign Against Spiritual Violence". He complained that "The Rev. Jerry Falwell" had called homosexuals sinners too many times to count and had compared them to alcoholics, drug addicts and unwed mothers. "We have to make a concerted effort against this kind of spiritual violence" (Using this type of reasoning, the quoting of God's Commandments from the Bible can also considered to be "spiritual violence.")

Falwell said in his sermon, "We believe the Bible is the infallible ... word of God." The N&A noted that he did not quote scripture on the wrongness of homosexuality.

HR readers must know that Christian preachers in years gone by had to justify their statements by Scripture. Todays'



Sodomites Worshiping Their God In Sanctuary Of Lynchburg's 1st Christian Church

preachers using cartel-owned media are not permitted to do this. They are not allowed to quote God's Commandments on national TV or in the newspapers that are disapproved by the god of the media owners. They may use Biblical parables and they may quote all day from the Bible; but, they may not say things like murder, rape, kidnaping, and homosexuality are punishable by "death". That is censored. "Love" is always the love of the media owner's god - "Huggy, huggy, kissy, kissy" - or - the Hindu love that loves everyone without regard to "race, creed, or national origin." It is never the love of our God, "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15

The N&A also noted that Gary Rimar, a Jewish homosexual from Michigan said that Liberty Students took him to Hyland Heights Baptist Church where he received a warm welcome. He said that they had never met a "normal" gay person before and didn't know what to do with him.

Mel White took the opportunity in the Sunday morning service to again thank The Rev. Roger Zimmerman and Sandy Knowdel of First Christian Church on Rivermont Avenue "for their hospitality and help in organizing the weekend's events".

Tuesday, October 26, 1999: Front page lead article, "White, Falwell meeting a lesson in Non-Violence". Todays' article noted that 40 police officers, most working overtime, created a very noticeable presence as the homosexual Soulforce prepared for the summit at First Christian Church. (This is in contrast to the lack of protection given Richard Kelly Hoskins after four front page News & Advance articles demonized him and gave his home address. The police chief insisted that he did not have the authority to reveal the identity of the owners of cars who had been following him and whose license numbers were taken down, because, "They didn't actually threatened you!) Mayor Pete Warren said the weekend was a great success, thanks to both the police and all who welcomed White's group. The Rev. Roger Zimmerman, pastor at First Christian, was equally effusive.

Wednesday, October 27, 1999: Today's N&A editor summed up the Homosexual-Thomas Road Baptist Church lovefest by tying all the loose ends. He described the sodomites in the following manner;

> "So homosexuals are people, too, with lives to lead and hopes for themselves, their jobs and their future just like everyone else. ... if that message got across to the religious right at the meeting designed to tone down the hate speech ... the weekend meetings were a resounding success."

The editor again described Mel White's beliefs and the beliefs of his organization as being based on the writings of Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr, noting also that White took offense at Jerry Falwell referring to homosexuals as "sinners". He referred to that as "spiritual violence" that also needs to be eradicated.

Against Hate

The theme of this weekend was the "toning down of hateful speech". The word "hate-speech" came up time and again. One homosexual protesting the meeting walked outside carried a sign that boasted, "HATE, Crime-laws soften Falwell's Message".

This points the direction. The establishment fully intends to pass anti-hate legislation that will result in the same thing happening here as is happening in Germany where more than 100,000 people have been tried before establishment tribunals and 10,000 are presently in prison for the crime of "hatespeech".

GOD Commands Both "Love & "HATE"

God the WORD requires love. The most important definition of love is:

> "If ye love me obey my commandments". John 14:15

Our God who commands us to "love" also requires us to "hate". The Scripture defines hate:

> "I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee. I hate them with a perfect hatred. I count them my enemies." Ps 139:21-22

> "Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord." II Chron 19:2

Jerry Falwell's Response

Jerry Falwell has received an unexpected avalanche of e-mail, letters, and telegrams attacking his introduction of homosexuals into a Christian church and his comments about "hatespeech" which they interpreted as being directed against God's Commandment against homosexuals.

Stung, he issued a follow-up statement in which he tried to answer his attackers letters one argument at a time. Following are a few of his answers:

Question: "Rev. Falwell, what would you do if one of your sons were gay?

"ANS: "There is absolutely nothing one of my three children could say or do that would cause me to expel them from my love or from my home."

RKH: God's sentence to homosexuals is death. I should think that when the sentence is prevented from being carried out because the king has protected them, that the least one could do is to institute the same punishment accorded those who engage in interracial marriage: "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (daily food that is blessed), But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house .... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr - "racial alien") eat thereof." Lev 22:12-13. If this is so, an unrepentant faggot child is expelled from his father's house and table until he repents.

Falwell: "The Bible calls me and all Christians to ... build a bridge of love and communication to the millions of gays and lesbians in our culture. Can we love God and not our Brother?

> "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother." Matt 12:50.[10]

Falwell: Matthew 15:44 instructs us to "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

RKH: Right on! When they do these things to you turn the other cheek. However, if they attack the WORD which is GOD when attacking you it becomes a different matter: Then we obey God's WORD to deal with the blasphemy.

> "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

10 One who violates God's law is not a brother and is not to be treated as a brother.

Falwell: "The Rev. Fred Phelps of Topeka, Kansas, who protested our summit ... takes a radically different approach. Phelps and his entourage spat out venomous taunts at homosexuals attending the summit, ... I believe Phelp and his ilk are dangerous because their noxious words are motivated by hatred. I believe there is a distinct likelihood that their words can coerce violence."

RKH Isn't Phelps practicing the Scriptural "hate" that the Scriptures direct Christians to practice? What is wrong with hating those who hate God? It is obeying Scripture. Jerry constantly says "Love the sinner - hate the sin." Doesn't Scripture say instead:

> "For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God." Wisdom of Solomon 14:9

There were a number of other points that Jerry Falwell answered. Most were repeats of "love" and not hating "your brother".

Summary

This so-called nationally proclaimed "summit" has done two things:

1) Jerry Falwell's is the first "conservative" mainstream Christian church who has openly welcomed sodomites into its sanctuary and worship.

2) The "anti-violence", and toning down of hate-rhetoric theme was no accident. It most surely will be followed by legislation outlawing "hatespeech" which will result in banning the teachings of Jesus Christ. After all, all this has been planned for a long time.

Letter From S. Africa by H.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins; We hope you are enjoying some peace after the recent media blitz. I'm afraid I wrote to the pastor who has been attacking you and told him that I prefer your book Vigilantes Of Christendom to his book dealing with Christian duty under corrupt government. Our government is not only corrupt but most dangerous. No White knows if he will see the end of the day. How wonderful it will be if through God's mercy, he would send us a leader of His choice - when we humble ourselves and turn from our wicked ways.

What really got me going was the article in the Jubilee Jul/Aug. Planted evidence is the easiest thing in the world if one wishes to discredit a person; something the pastor in question should well remember. Perhaps he never has had to face the problem of being accused of some wrong doing when you are innocent.

The latest news on AIDS sounds very grim. Because Blacks cannot see it they cannot understand and continue in their old ways. Now, White students who are sleeping around are getting it. Perhaps they too know better - or so they think.

Before the Battle Of Blood River, all the prominent leaders like Gert Maritz, Piet Retiet and Piet Uys had died and the Vooortrekkers were in dire straits. It was then they sent for Andries Pretorius. He immediately took things in hand and got ready for that battle which they won - with the aid of God with whom they made "The Covenant". To my mind, Pretorius was sent by God and was a type of Phinehas. He wasted no time talking to these savages who were bent on killing every White.

The press in England is showing the same old TV propaganda series that they used before on the Anglo-Boer War. A woman announcer said, "The Boere were not as civilized as we were, they wanted to starve the inhabitants. They bombed hospitals so that women and children died." (It was the British who did these things. Ed.)

The Thomas Cook Traveling Agency of England has a problem. A local company using Black drivers had a terrible accident when coming back from a private game reserve. Twenty-six British tourists were killed including their SA tour guide. Another ten are in serious condition. I wonder if Cook will have the courage to insist on White drivers. During the last 7 days 6 buses crashed. Blacks are driving enormous trucks and buses and are simply not capable of responsibility handling the equipment safely and they are involved in accident after accident. It is the same with the mini-buses. They overloaded them and don't keep them properly maintained. They use bad tires and drive at excessively high speeds which often cause unnecessary accidents. They stop anywhere at anytime and change lanes whenever they like with no consideration for others, and, they are all armed with AK47s.

We hope you were not in the areas worst hit by floods.

With best wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

KINDER, GENTLER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; You certainly are kinder to your stranger 'friends' than they are to you. The Scriptures teach that there will be a separation of the races and that each race will return to their own land or die. Your being 'friends' isn't helping this." B.T. - Ohio

RKH: You know the story of Judith from the Apocrypha. She is one of the greatest heroines in all Saxondom because of her magnificent deed.

How close do you think she would have been allowed to get to the great Babylonian general Holofernes if she had rained curses on him instead of smiles? It doesn't hurt to be nice. Always be nice. If Holofernes were leaving the country instead of coming - one should offer to help to carry his load; offer him food and drink for his journey home; offer him tools and where-with-all to build a house in another land. Smile. Always be nice. Let the stranger know that you will be their friend to help him leave. The obedient among the strangers are entitled to "crumbs from the table", and if he has given us the "good Samaritan" treatment - he is entitled to the same in return. We must always let God's Law rule our lives. God gave strict Commandments on how to deal with strangers. Learn them by heart.[11]

FRIEND?: "Dear Richard: You call Blacks and Jews 'friend'? You know the Scripture!!" B.W. - Missouri

RKH: Since I have received 50 letters in like vein, let me go over again what to me seems obvious. The Scriptures say;

> "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother." Mt. 12:50; The Scriptures say; "Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? And am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee? I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies." Ps 139:21-22; The Scriptures say, "So shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Ex 33:16.

11 "Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me." Ex 9:13; "Israel then shall dwell in safety alone." Deut 33:28; "The people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations." Num 23:9

We know what the WORD requires. We know that those who "hate" God are those who disobey his WORD. My "friends" among Blacks and Jews are those who obey the WORD. How many do you think that is? I am old. One thing I have learned is that it is easier to lead a horse to another pasture than to drive him. But, led or driven, to another pasture that horse will go.

MEDIA REPORTING RACE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The media does not report the race of criminals - why is this?" L.M. - Michigan

RKH: When a criminal's race is not mentioned people assume that the criminal is white. Most violent crimes are commited by strangers. The omission of the race of the criminal transfers the guilt from the stranger to the white. It is part of the anti- Saxon war.

REDSKINS: "Dear R.K.; Praise Yahweh and greetings from your favorite redskin. Just thought I'd send a word of support as your name has been plastered all over the papers. Your courage and boldness is an inspiration to us all." M.J. - Florida

RKH: The writer is a stranger. He is one of those who recognizes the Reformed Christian message and believes that the lives of all of us will be better when ruled by the WORD administered by those God chose to do it.

INFIDELS PROTEST INFIDELS: Muslims have called for the death of playright Terrence McNally because of his play which portrays Jesus Christ as a homosexual now running in London. The Muslims quote the Prophet Mohammed as saying: "Whoever insults a messenger of God must be killed." (From a story in News & Advance, p. A2, October 31, 1999.

GOVERNMENT AXES CHURCH: A federal judge has ruled that the Indianapolis Baptist Temple owes the federal government $5.3 million in taxes. Instead of paying the judgment, Indianapolis Baptist Temple, at 2711 S. East St, (Indianapolis, IN), will appeal the decision by Judge Sarah Evans Barker. Barker's decision allows the federal government to foreclose on the church's property which includes a church, a school and a parsonage where paster Gregory J. Dixon and his wife have lived since 1968. No one from the U.S. Department of Justice, which brought the case would comment, but Pastor Dixon said, "Our religious faith is not for sale, not for one dollar or a million or 10 million."

The king's message is clear; Bless the king and his policies or the king will destroy you! Proof that the message is being heard and taken to heart is the deafening silence emanating from the the rest of America's so-called Christian Churches. "Separation of Church and State" - Yeah, sure! If you are obedient to the king.

BAD NEWS FOR LIBERALS: According to a poll released in Washington D.C. Aug 16 by Hamilton College of Clinton, N.Y. 50.3% of those polled agree racial separation in America as all right as long as everyone has equal opportunity. Over 1001 participants ranging from ages 18 to 29 were randomly selected by the NAACP and Zogby International co-sponsored the survey. The article, which appeared in the Muslim The Final Call, p.8, Aug 24, 1999, went on to conclude that "many young Americans are comfortable with the notion of a segregated society."

ALERT!

(PUBLISHER'S NOTE - The war to destroy Islamic nationalism was advanced ahead of the war on Saxon-Israel. Once Islamic nationalism is contained the following is expected to be activated.))

On the advice of computer experts HR stated months ago that it does not believe that Y2K will produce major dislocations at the first of the year resulting from embedded computer chips. HR continues in this opinion. However, HR has received information that indicates that a Y2K type excuse may be used for America's ruling Red Front to eliminate its anti-communist foes called "Christian-Patriots" by their friends and labeled "Identity Terrorists" by their enemies.

Read the following and decide for yourselves.

Intelligence Gathering

Fact: Before WWII, Japan invaded China. The US made an agreement with the Dutch Government in exile in England to stop the export of oil from the Dutch East Indies to Japan. Japan could then choose to withdraw from China and hope the American-Dutch embargo would end, or go to war with the US and take the oil she needed if she thought the U.S. would use the oil ploy over and over to dictate to the Japanese.

Fact: Soon, American intelligence radio operators detected increased military signals.

Fact: Next, it was learned that the Japanese fleet had left Japan.

Fact: Based on these facts and a few others, US intelligence deduced that Japan had chosen to attack the U.S. rather than withdraw from China.

Fact: They informed U.S. leaders who said that they were not convinced and did little to prepare defenses. The U.S. fleet was destroyed at Pearl Harbor.

Early Warning

On April 16, 1996, Morris Dees of the Southern Poverty Law Center instructed the National Press Club in Washington, DC to get "Identity" because, "The Thread that runs through the militia, anti- government extremists in our country is a religious belief called Christian Identity.[1] These people believe that Saxons are the true children of God, the true Israelites." To "know one's identity" was a slang expression used in early days to describe those who identified their ancestry with the genealogies of the royal families of Europe. The royal genealogies of Europe's kings on file in the Vatican and in England's Anglican Church files trace the ancestry of the kings to the Biblical patriarchs of Israel. Since all Saxon's are of one blood and are in some degree kin, all can claim the same descent. Dees infers that it is all right that Europe's Saxon royalty claims descent from the patriarchs but bad that the rest of the Saxons do the same.

Dees admitted that his organization's secret agents spy on 800 Christian Patriot organizations. He includes in his attacks such disparate individuals as the Rev. Pete Peters, a Church of Christ minister, Richard Kelly Hoskins, an outspoken Christian writer, Dr. William Pierce, an atheist, and Timothy McVeigh, a Catholic - all of whom are smeared with the Dees "Identity brush".[2]

"Megiddo" Clues

In October, the FBI held a closed-door meeting of the "International Association of Chiefs of Police" in North Carolina. The code name was "Megiddo".

The Washington Post obtained a copy of the 34 page report.[3]

"The threat posed by extremists as a result of perceived events associated with the Year 2000 (Y2K) is very real," the FBI report says. "The volatile mix of apocalyptic religions and conspiracy theories may produce violent acts aimed at 2 America's red-front uses the word "Identity" to include all of America's right wing Christian Patriots.

3 The report may be found at the FBI website www.fbi.gov. In essence it says that local law enforcement officials need to monitor radical groups for behavior such as stockpiling weapons and food that may indicate they are preparing for violence.

precipitating the end of the world as prophesied in the Bible."

The FBI described several groups that it says has members who pose a violent threat. "Christian Identity" followers, comprising loosely knit groups throughout the country provide the "unifying theology" for a number of "right-wing" groups posing a threat. "Odinest" also pose a threat, and possibly "extreme factions of Black Hebrew Israelite groups are preparing for a race war to close the millennium," the FBI report says.

The FBI report said potential targets include military facilities; UN buildings and personnel; institutions associated with the African American and Jewish communities and racial and religious minorities; gay men and lesbians; and foreign military units residing on US bases.

Recently the FBI, SPLC, ADL and the national press have waged a media war against Reform Christianity, labeling them "Identity" and charging them as being, "A diabolical mixture of racism, anti-Semitism, and religion," inferring that anyone believing in God's Biblical Commandments is mentally unstable and violence prone.

The Establishment already has an ongoing campaign against international terrorism and has created an international strike-force to deal with it. This same strike-force can be used equally well against "domestic terrorists", which could be anyone that establishment agents choose to paint with that label.

There is also the code name Meggido to be considered. This can refer to the great last-day war of good against evil called Armageddon, or the name "Meggido" can have a different meaning:

"The king of Egypt went up against ... king Josiah ... and he slew him at Megiddo." II Kings 23:29

Josiah was king of Israel. Thus, a king of Israel was slain by the heathen at "Megiddo." Truly an appropriate name if in fact the objective of "Meggido" is to round up and destroy the Christian-Patriot community, or that part who claim descent from the Biblical patriarchs and who follow the God of Israel.

Let us look at the facts of the case:

Megiddo

Fact: History tells us that in Russia the stranger-owned media demonized the ruling Saxon-Russian ruling class and then turned the Slavs-Turk alliance against them.

Fact: Russian-stranger coalition herded their demonized Saxon- Russian enemies into open gulag prisons where 30 million died of malnutrition, sickness, and starvation.

Fact: After WWII, on orders from Gen. Eisenhower, demonized German POWs were herded into open prisons where 1 million were allowed to die from malnutrition, sickness and starvation.[4]

Fact: In the U.S., open enclosures built with inward slanting barbed-wire at the top designed to hold inmates in, and capable of holding thousands of cattle or many thousands of people, have been built but stand empty.

Fact: Extended power blackouts in urban America have almost always been accompanied by black rioting, looting, rape and mayhem in major urban centers.

4 Other Losses, James Bacque, 1991.

Fact: US military has been acclimating the American public to the sight of the armed military in their midst by practicing "anti- terrorist" training in urban population centers.

Fact: Police have been acclimating the public to being stopped and interrogated by setting up road blocks and spot checking licenses.

Fact: The establishment's anti-saxonite monopoly media daily vilifies Saxon-Christians. It has just completed a month-long worldwide media blitz vilifying and demonizing all Saxon Christian-Patriots with the label "Identity" and "potential terrorists".

Fact: We know that the "one voice media" has been running a drumfire campaign to take the Saxon nation's guns. An un- Lawful[5] confiscation of their guns could take place under "martial law" where the only law is the will of the military on the spot.

Already, the media-monopoly blames everything bad happening in America on whites; a power blackout resulting in black urban lawlessness would also most likely be blamed on America's Christian-Patriots. This would provide the excuse. Failing that, government "hot- dogs" could produce the excuse.

You can bet on one thing, government troops being trained to search for and seize guns in urban America (accompanied by the sounds of recorded gunfire) are being trained to search for and seize guns. What else? Gunfire sounds trains the populace to sit quietly at home and not jump to the aid of neighbors when hearing the same sounds at their neighbor's house next door. Doesn't it? What other reason is there? Do you know any "terrorists"? Next door or anywhere else in your town?

5 "He said unto them ... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Luke 22:36-38

Summarizing

Fact: The Washington Post reported that the FBI briefed The International Police Chiefs in North Carolina. The FBI told them that "Identity" Christian-Patriots might use Y2K disruptions for terrorist acts. They specified the targets that the "Identity" terrorists might attack.

Fact: We know that 30 million media-demonized Russians and 1 million German POWs were herded into open camps and died from exposure and starvation. We know that similar open-air enclosures stand empty in America.

Fact: We know that in the past "extended power blackouts" have usually been followed by black rioting; that the US military is holding urban maneuvers to acclimate the population to their presence in their midst; that the establishment media has been vilifying Saxons; that the FBI refrained from pointing out the potential black menace and pointed to Saxon "Identity" (codeword meaning "Christian-Patriots") as the potential enemy.

Fact: We know that America's utility power switches can be turned "on" or "off" by anyone throwing a switch with or without a Y2K problem.

Fact: We know that last year there was what could be interpreted as a "test" brown out in the American west where there is the least excuse for such a power outage, and that for five months New Zealand underwent a total power blackout for reasons still unexplained, but which could be considered a "practice run" by conspiracy theorists.

Fact: We have been told that trouble is to be expected from "Identity" people because they allegedly believe in an Apocalypse starting on January 1, 2000. We have been told that if disturbance or rioting should occur, that those people will probably be responsible.

Fact: We know that agents of this same FBI have testified that their organization lies and produces manufactured evidence to convict people they have targeted. This same FBI who conducted this briefing also killed a mother holding her child at Ruby Ridge, destroyed the evidence, and did not punish her murderer. We know that this same FBI liquidated 87 men, women and children at Waco, destroyed the evidence, and the murderers have yet to be brought to justice. We know the mercy of the courts that sentenced the Waco survivors to prison and threw away the keys. We know that the very government whom this FBI represents roams the world looking for victims to destroy; the latest being Christian civilian targets in Yugoslavia who were attacked with outlawed cluster bombs which killed multitudes. We know that this FBI almost exclusively uses source material from the anti-saxonite SPLC and ADL which now points its collective finger at America's Saxon Christian-Patriots community as America's #1 potential enemy.

More FBI History

The New York Times of Sept 15, 1995 reported that FBI chemist, Frederic Whitehurst complained that the FBI doctored evidence in the Trade Center case and in the 1991 trial of Walter L. Moody who was convicted of mail-bomb killings.

On February 11, 1976, the late Congressman Larry McDonald inserted evidence into the Congressional Record (pages E-617-619) documenting how US terrorist groups were actually being funded and controlled by the federal government. The government secretly funded a section of the Weather Underground Organization which was repeatedly involved in terrorist activities - including bombings, arson, and murder.

A January 10, 1976 Associated Press report stated: "The FBI created and funded a ... group called the Secret Army Organization (SAO) ..." The SAO was described as a "centrally designed and externally financed infrastructure designed for terror and sabotage. ... These acts were sanctioned by the nation's most powerful and highly respected law enforcement agency: the FBI."; The San Diego Union reported that the top SAO leader, Howard Berry Godfrey, was paid the expenses of the secret army, recruited new members, supplied the explosives, and picked out targets. The newspaper reported that Godfrey was paid by the FBI and was their informer.

Another example of Federal- engineered terrorism was demonstrated in the 1965 murder of civil rights marcher, Viola Liuzzo, by Gary Rowe, a paid FBI informer. The 7/10/95 National Review reported, "The 1978 investigation implicated Rowe as an agent provocateur, and he was accused of helping plant the bomb that killed four Black girls in a Birmingham church in 1963." The Klansmen accused in the Liuzzo case admitted that they had seen Rowe kill Vola Liuzzo. In 1978, an Alabama grand jury indicted Rowe for first- degree murder. Rowe had moved to Georgia and in 1980 a Federal judge blocked extradition to Alabama, asserting, "A Federal agent has rights that protect him when placed in a compromising position because of his undercover work." The Federal judge's ruling was upheld by a Federal appeals court and exempted Rowe from any number of possible criminal charges in Alabama. In 1990, an internal FBI file came to light which acknowledged that Rowe had led attacks on Freedom Riders, clubbing them with a lead- weighted baseball bat.

In 1979, in Greensboro, North Carolina, a combined group of Klansmen and Nazis were involved in a shoot-out with members of the Communist Workers Party, which resulted in five dead Reds. In the 1980 trial that followed, it was revealed that Bernard Butkovich, an agent for the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) had, before the shoot-out, suggested a variety of illegal acts. Witnesses said that the BATF agent "urged members to buy equipment to convert semi-automatic guns to fully-automatic weapons, and offered to procure explosives including hand grenades. ..." (7/15/80 Washington Post, From Youth Action News, PO Box 312, Alexandria, Virginia 22313, Aug 1995.)

Judging from their past acts, it may be prudent to believe that once again the FBI may have funded, staffed, armed and fielded their own terrorists who quietly wait for the Y2K lights to go out and the inner city blacks start to riot. This rioting could be their excuse to commit their own terrorist acts and blame them on Christian Patriots - since the FBI has fingered them. The FBI has a history of committing terrorist acts and blaming them on those the establishment wishes to suppress.[6]

6 The Trust #269. The Soviets made it a policy of killing their own people and blaming it on the Germans. During "Reconstruction" in the South, government agents posed as KKK and blamed their depredations on Southerners.

Conclusion

It would seem that the clues to the government's "Meggado" agenda are at least as compelling as the clues the American intelligence had of Japanese war-like intentions before Pearl Harbor. Should this also be your conclusion, it may be prudent that; if the electric power is shut down at Y2K, and the blacks riot or government "hotdogs" put on a violence exhibition and the media blames it on Christian Patriots; and if you live in the city where this is going on - it may be wise to flee to your own people for safety. Once there, remain there until you can discern the extent of the emergency. If it is a false alarm, you can return to your everyday life and live in peace.

If it is not a false alarm, after the first roundup of Christian-Patriots, and after America has had a little time to reflect on what is happening to them, you then must decide what you as an individual must do.

If there is in fact a Pearl Harbor planned called "Megiddo", remember this:

> "When thou are in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to God and shall be obedient ... he will not forsake thee ... nor forget the covenant of thy fathers." Deut 4:30-31

God also warned the enemy:

> "He that toucheth Israel toucheth the apple of His eye." Zech 2:8

NOTICE

Since the above was written, the Anti-DEMONIZATION League, has authorized its executive director to issue a reply to the FBI's "Megiddo Report" and to send it to all chiefs of police in the country. The editor has read the report and found it excellent.

Most members of Congress, state senators and representatives, city councils, local law enforcement officers and religious leaders have no idea what is actually in the FBI's Megiddo Report. The Anti-Demonization League believes that if they actually knew what is being done, many would oppose Megiddo.

The plan is this: There are 13 pages to the report. All who have computers can down-load the report from www.adlci.org and send it to your local politicians, law enforcement officers and church leaders. This isn't something that can be put off until tomorrow. It must be done now. If enough people know what is in the works - maybe it can be avoided. At least, let's work to that end.

In any event, the outcome rests in the hands of God Almighty.

Fasting & Prayer

On the 30th of December, America's Christian-Patriots plan to set aside that day as a day of fasting and prayer. If it is God's will - this thing will pass and we will enter the new millennium in peace.

I am convinced that a similar call to prayer is the only thing that saved the survivors of the Ruby Ridge family after the FBI murdered the family's mother and the U.S. Marshals had murdered one of her children.[7]

If it is not God's will to take this thing from us, remember, most who were rounded up and taken to gulag-prisons never returned alive.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA by KJ

Die Afrikaner and the Insider both had articles on the attempt to start the 3rd WW in Serbia. I must confess I do not know if we have 5% who are Christians here to turn the tide in God's name, but then we never know.

The enemy is bombarding whites with sports day and night, lest they start thinking about what is really taking place. If one of our forefathers or mothers suddenly appeared today, they would not recognize the ways of their descendants who will put up with humiliation from blacks who are not fit for anything. Their "rather red than dead" attitude combined with preachers who should have been defrocked long ago for preaching the communist gospel of "Liberty, equality and fraternity".

Some cannot wait to celebrate the new millennium in Jerusalem and they have tours going to all the holy places. While they are occupied in this manner, the communists through all the media, stoke war against the whites. Even our garden worker has been taken in by what he hears on the radio, and his work shows it. He never took anything without asking, but no more. Last week he really tried to irritate us by asking for things he does not need. My husband ignored him completely this week. As a rule that works. They hate being ignored.

7 The courts forced the Government to pay several millions in damages to the family for these murders.

Our weather is strange. From winter into sweltering heat, and suddenly they remembered the ozone holes and warn us daily about ultraviolet rays. Wonder what they have in mind?

Our forefathers knew about the sun damage and wore suitable clothes. To tan was foolish according to many parents and they found a very light skin preferable.

With limited means, our people held a few memorable commemorations of the Second War of Independence, or Anglo-Boer War. The one held by the government with Mbeki and the Duke of Kent at Brandfort in the Free State had only blacks attending, except for some white reporters and white security. Blacks in a militant mood "toy-toiyed"[8] past the house where Winnie Mandela had been under house arrest years ago. The press said very little about our events apart from negative references. There are a few English gentlemen fighting it out in the Citizen's letter columns, some for and some against us, but mostly lacking in general knowledge of historical facts. The same will happen to Afrikaans children if the parents do not teach them about their history. History is no longer a school subject, and just as well when you see the proposed contents. It seems nationalism and patriotism is reserved for the self-chosen group only.

AIDS has become an important subject. Homes for abandoned white babies in former times now house only black 8 The little dance black football players do to celebrate a victory.

AIDS babies. As a health measure, cremation has become an option, but it is against the blacks beliefs. But, in spite of all, they continue as they always have, promiscuous sex and rape. Our problem is to keep white women safe and the same goes for men. Young gangs of blacks rape our women in carjackings. Their orders seem to be to kill as many whites as possible with AIDS, which most blacks already have. Those whites who have no intention to leave the country. DeKlerk, for instance, applied for Australian citizenship in 1996, and it was granted. Pity he will not stay to see the outcome for which he was so richly rewarded by UNESCO, the Oppenheimer cartel, and with the Nobel peace prize.

The Dutch Reform Church is still at it. Their Western Cape Synod just decided to act with love towards homosexuals among the clergy and actually sang, "where there is compassion and love ... there is the Lord", as a prologue to the discussions. The church confessed that it has sometimes acted insensitively and loveless in the past. They now intend to study the Bible to find out what God wants to say to them today (as if God changed), but they seem to serve another god.

While they are occupied with the sin of "separateness" and are adopting new church rules, they do not see that the country is moving into a full communist state. Their members are told to pray for India, China and every one else, but they never focus on the growing number of poor whites who have been kicked out to make place for illiterate blacks who have no intentions of working. As long as they get a huge salary, bigger than any the whites have ever gotten or are getting today, a BMW and a cell phone, they are happy to sit around all day. As they can no longer repair the potholes in the roads of the Free State they want to remove the tar and have gravel roads. Their backward progress is really something to see every where you go. Compounding matters, the price of petrol is going sky-high and with it all commodities.

We will miss the editor of the Citizen, Martin Williams. He had a reputation of objectivity. Frederick van Zyl- Slabbert chairman of Caxton publishers, had him replaced with Tim du Plessis, a Lucius W. Nieman-scholarship holder at Harvard University, and a leftist. Under him the Citizen will become another ANC mouthpiece.

Our adopted Alsatian is eating well and filling out nicely, but our daughter is his favorite, putting his head or paw on her lap when she comes on Sundays.

The headlines of a newspaper from England said that Anne will become Queen of Scotland. Afterwards it was explained that the position would be similar to "ambassador". I wonder what the Scottish people had to say about the matter.

Persecution of Christians is growing in India, China and Indonesia. I am sure you will understand the underlying reason.

With best wishes from a very sick South Africa, and may the new year bring relief from the many problems that have descended on our Saxon nation worldwide.

Yours faithfully, K.J.

Separation Of Church & State

The king's priests constantly talk about taking "Christianity", meaning "God's Law", out of government.

Kings traditionally appoint the high priest. The high priest is responsible for appointing and training the priests under him. Their job: to bless the acts of the king.

Before the Revolution, the priests of the king fought our Revolutionary forefathers tooth and nail - preaching the right of the king to pass statutes directed against the people - even when they violated God's Law. When our forefathers at last issued their Declaration of Independence, the king called his priests back home to Great Britain.

Following this, America declared that the state was to establish no state religion having a high priest to approve whatever the government did. This is a far cry from keeping Christianity (or God's LAW) out of government. When you keep God's LAW out of government the king has a free hand to do anything he wants to do - and that's why "state priests" do what they do - bless the king!

Today, King Willie appoints the head of the IRS as high priest. The head of the IRS and his agents train the priests who fall under his jurisdiction. Beware the king's high priest, and beware the words of the mainstream priests he trains. It is their job to drive God's WORD from the king's government. There can't be two Law systems in existence at the same time. People will love the one and hate the other.

Seminary-Trained Preachers

Most mainline preachers proclaim the king's statutes as being supreme even when these statutes nullify the LAW of God. This kind of god that most mainline preachers preach is an arch- enemy of the WORD.

This condition is the result of establishment churches accepting money from corporations, money used to build seminaries to train preachers. Most wealthy corporations are owned by the sons of Esau. All that these generous corporations ask in return for substantial donations is for the corporation to name the teacher or teachers who will instruct certain subjects. This seems little enough to ask.

This has resulted in some seminaries having either Esau strangers actually teaching the Commandments of the God of Israel to the sons of Jacob. The paradoxical result is that graduates from seminaries have learned about our God through Esau's prophets. They go back to their denomination and preach Esau's god instead of Jacob's God. They are doing just what they are taught to do - which is why Esau's corporations "donated" money to the seminaries in the first place.

The god being preached in most mainline churches today is Vishnu and Siva - tolerant sodomite gods of the sodomite people of Esau - not the Lord God of Israel who separated his people from all others.[9]

Take heed, followers of "the WORD made flesh"; beware of seminary graduates who have been taught the ways of Esau that God hates.[10] It is better to have a trusted one of your own teach than to take a serpent to your midst.

LETTERS

CHRISTIAN-PAGAN: "Dear Richard; Here in Ashville, NC, some local leaders see grounds for a Christian-pagan dialogue 'to help dispel fears and stereotypes on either side'. It's a replay of Lynchburg's 'Sodomite Fest' - only this time with witches! Ashville is rife with sodomites and New-Agers." M.P. - North Carolina

9 "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me. I Ki 4:21,24

10 "Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord." II Chron 19:2; "Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated." Ro 9:13; "I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee. I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps139:21-22

RKH: This is the Hindu "dharma" influence bringing all together under the benevolent rule of Brahma - whom they mis-name "Jesus". Hindu-Christian preachers are first to open the gates of the sheepfold.

ROYAL WHORE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You had it right when you called Princess Diana a whore. USA Today (Oct 28, 1999) reports that James Hewitt, soldier and horseman, confesses that he and Diana had a five year affair and that Diana told Prince Charles all about it, and that Prince Charles continued to treat him in the most friendly manner." UNFILTERED NEWS

GOVERNMENT AXES CHURCH: A federal judge has ruled that the Indianapolis Baptist Temple owes the federal government $5.3 million in taxes. Instead of paying the judgment, Indianapolis Baptist Temple, at 2711 S. East St, (Indianapolis, IN), will appeal the decision by Judge Sarah Evans Barker. Barker's decision allows the federal government to foreclose on the church's property which includes a church, a school and a parsonage where pastor Gregory J. Dixon and his wife have lived since 1968. No one from the U.S. Department of Justice, which brought the case would comment, but Pastor Dixon said, "Our religious faith is not for sale, not for one dollar or a million or 10 million."

The king's message is clear; Bless the king and his policies or the king will destroy you! Proof that the message is being heard and taken to heart is the deafening silence emanating from the the rest of America's so-called Christian Churches. "Separation of Church and State" - Yeah, sure! If you are obedient to the king.

INDIA FIGHTS CATHOLICISM: The Vatican issued a statement calling for "collaboration" between India's 820 million Hindus and 23 million Christians. The World Hindu Council replied demanding that the pontiff withdraw Catholic missionaries from India. The Vatican maintains an embassy in New Delhi. (Story in News & Advance, A-2 Nov 6, 1999.

RKH: Two opposing law systems can't rule at the same time. Hinduism accepts anyone who will accept them and has few rules. Historically, Catholicism has many rules and is conciliatory until it gains power; it is exclusive. Indian Hindus see the Pope as the political-religious leader of a world-wide movement trying to replace Hindu toleration with Catholic exclusiveness. India's Hindus exterminated many of its Muslims and banished the rest for this very reason. To be tolerant and exclusive at the same time is impossible. It is either the one or the other.

SEPARATION: According to a poll released in Washington D.C. Aug 16 by Hamilton College of Clinton, N.Y. 50.3% of those polled agree racial separation in America is all right as long as everyone has equal opportunity. Over 1001 participants ranging from ages 18 to 29 were randomly selected by the NAACP and Zogby International co-sponsored the survey. The article, which appeared in the Muslim The Final Call, p.8, Aug 24, 1999, went on to conclude that "many young Americans are comfortable with the notion of a segregated society."

LIBERIAN CONVERT: Okaz, a Saudi newspaper reported Aug 14, that Liberian President Charles Taylor will convert to Islam on an upcoming trip to Mecca, Saudi Arabia. (Story in Final Call, p. 2 Aug 24, 1999.)

RKH: The people of Liberia are descendants of American slaves who were repatriated to Africa in the last century carrying their taught "Christian values" with them. While Saxons are either Christian or not, strangers can and do skip from one religion to another as conditions dictate.

BERLIN "Guido Hombach, Senior Aide to Germany's Chancellor, is touring Iran in an effort to improve relations. German businessman Helmut Hoer awaits the death penalty for 'sexual relations with a Muslim woman'. Iran denies it intends to pardon Hofer (Hofer 'converted' to Islam 12 years ago but Iran has ignored that. At least one state still bars miscegenation. GRAVES: "In Germany, graves of Christian Germans are opened up after 20-25 years and emptied of bones which are ground to dust. The headstones are removed. The corpses of newly deceased people are buried in coffins in the previously used graves to save on cemetery space. The graves of buried Jews are left undisturbed in perpetuity. The Germans obviously think more highly of their Jewish dead than of their own." Ernst Zundel

CENSORSHIP: In the past two years alone, repressive, anti-Free Speech law have been passed in Switzerland, Italy, Spain, France, Austria, Belgium and Germany. Censorship follows the conquests of the International Trade Cartel.

POPE URGES WAR: "Alarmed at losses in Romanism Pope John Paul II, in his recent visit to Mexico, called upon the faithful to wage war against Protestantism which he call an untruthful ideology.' Canadian Revivalist editor Dr. Frank McClelland noted: 'It is interesting to see his ecumenical colleagues in the so-called Protestant churches squirm." Cavalry Contender, April 15, 1999, 1800 Sparkman Drive, Huntsville, AL 35816 RKH: Episcopal-type sects (rule from the top down) whether Protestant or Catholic, were set up to advance political-economic agendas. When the leader goes to war he expects his entire organization to follow him; which is the reason the organization was set up in the episcopal manner - rule from the top down.

I have been asked to choose the important events in history that I consider the most important. Tbis may not be the list others may choose, but it is my list.

Before Christ

The two events before Christ that I consider the most important were: 1) - The creation of the world and, 2) - The creation of Hinduism.

1) - "In the beginning was the WORD and the WORD was with God and the WORD was God." This is the most important information that we will ever have. This WORD, our God, created "adam-man" and gave him the world to rule.[1]

1 MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in thc facc), i.e.: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

2) - Hinduism was created so far back in time that there is no real record of when it was created, but we do know that the writings of the first century Christians relate the following:

> "When the accursed serpent saw Adam and Eve it ... made straight for Eve, and ran after her ... Then the Word of God came to the serpent, and ... a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the sea shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:1-9[2]

This verse is one of the reasons for the belief that India is the earthly home of Satan the anti-Christ. Another verse is this:

> "Adam and Eve returned from the mountain ... and went down ... to the place where their corn was, but when there, a multitude of beasts came all round them. It was Satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage." I Adam & Eve 69:9-11[3]

We learn from this that the anti-Christ has from the beginning used racial intermarriage as a form of warfare to destroy man.

2 Adam & Eve is found in the Lost Books. Order from VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $13.

3 "Beast" wears clothing in Johah 3:8, "Beast", "cries mightily unto God". Johah 3:8, "Beast" has hands. Exodus 19:13, "Beast" capable of mixing with man. Jer. 31:27, "Beast" keeps the vineyard. Song of Solomon, Chap 1., Jesus called the Syro-Phoenician woman a "dog". Dogs, swine, beasts, descriptive words for lawless non-man.

Hari - Hara: God Of Integration

Hari-Hara is the Hindu God of integration. He is worshiped by the ITC, their White House agent and all establishment agencies and supporters.

Christian priests, accepting tax-exemption and media use as pay, preach Hari-Hara and call him "Jesus". Unless Hari-Hara is taught, the merchant cannot freely come to buy and sell, and turncoat priests won't be paid.

Jesus disapproves of Hari-Hara and commanded in the beginning: "The stranger (Heb:zuwr - racial alien) cat cometh nigh (the Tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 1:51.

Hinduism

From our study of Hinduism we learn that the Hindu system is divided into four castes. 1- King & his soldiers, 2- the Priest, 3- The merchant, 4- The workers.

We know further that in India the most important of these castes is that of the priest because in addition to ruling in spiritual matters, the great King Asoka on his death transferred 1000 million gold pieces to the monastery of Kukkutarama to help with the Hindu missionary work. He also bequeathed to them the entire world. This unimagined wealth allowed the Hindu priestly caste to master the other Hindu castes and to use them to impose its will on the world.

We know something else. We know that Hinduism was so successful that the great King Asoka boasted of having used it to conquer the conquering Greeks of the classical age:

> "King Priyarsi considers moral conquest (that is, conquest by Dharma), the most important conquest. He has achieved this moral conquest repeatedly both here and among the peoples living beyond the borders of his kingdom, even as far away as six hundred (yojanas) (about 3000 miles), where the yona (Greek) king Antiyoka rules, and even beyond Antiyoka in the realms of the four kings named Turamaya, Antikini, Maka, and Alikasudara, and to the south among the Cholas and Pandyas (in the southern tip of the Indian peninsula) as far as Ceylon." The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959, p29[4]

Hinduism is the international merchant's trade religion. Its missionary arm is Dharma which is carried worldwide by its missionaries, the Dharmamatras, who persuade the nation being proselyted to keep his own religion, but just add "Dharma" - to love everyone "without regard to race, creed, or national origin." When this is done that religion that accepts Dharma is no longer exclusive, it becomes inclusive. This caused the classical world of the Greeks to fester and become rotten. The Apocrypha tells us how their evil ways affected the land of Judea which was ruled by the Greeks:

4 Footnote: "The five kings referred to have been identified as follows: Antiyoka = Antiochos II Theos of Syria (261-246 B.C.); Turamaya = Ptolemy II Philadelphos of Egypt (285-247 B.C.); Antikini = Antigonos Gonatas of Macedonia (278-239 B.C.); Maka = Magas of Cyrene (300-258 B.C.); and Alikasudara = Alexander of Epirus (272?-258 B.C.). The passage is of extreme importance not only for dating the events of Asoka's reign but also for judging the extent of communication in his times. It indicates, moreover, the date 258 B.C. as the latest date at which all five could be referred to simultaneously and therefore fixes the approximate date of the edict.

> "In those days went there out of Israel wicked men who persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen ... Then certain of the people ... joined themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief. ... After 2 years ... the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jeruselem ... And spake peaceable words unto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence ... they put therein a sinful nation, wicked men ...
> "Whereupon the city was made an habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her, and her own children left her ...
> "King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, And every one should leave his laws: ... Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the sabbath. For the king has sent letters ... that they should follow the strange laws of the land ... To the end they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances. ... The king ... appointed overseers (surrogates) ... commanding the cities ... to sacrifice, city by city. Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law: ... and ... they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire. And whosoever was found with any book of the testament, or if any consented to the law, the king's commandment was, that they should put him to death." I Maccabees 1: 11-63.

The time came when Judea had a stranger, an Edomite Jew named Herod as king and the Hindu contamanated religion of the priests tolerated its people to strip naked and play the Greek game of "discus"[5] as well as tolerate sodomites.[6]

FIRST MILLENNIUM

The two most important things that happened in the first millennium, in my opinion, was 1) - The Birth of the Jesus - the WORD made flesh, and 2) - The continued spread of Hinduism westward to extinguish the WORD.

When Jesus Christ was born, the world of the Greeks and Romans had been contaminated with the Hindu Dharma. God the WORD was forgotten and the whole world was one rotten morass of evil.

Jesus brought the WORD to save his people and the priests killed the messenger in an attempt to keep the message from spreading.

In spite of this, the WORD was out and running. In time it severely impacted the trade of the Roman Empire. After unsuccessfully persecuting the WORD, the Empire solved its problem by nationalizing Christianity and turning it into an episcopacy complete with castes and ritual almost identical with those of India.

The New State Church

Christianity became a state religion. Roman provinces became dioceses. The four castes were, as always, the King

5 The discus is the weapon of the Indian god "Mara". It was a razor sharp weapon that could be thrown to cut off people's heads.

6 This thing taught today called "universal reconciliation" is a variation of the same universal oneness that Hindus find in Brahma.

& army, priests, merchants, and workers - the same as in India - and which is not necessarily their order of importance.

* The later Eastern Orthodox Church also had four castes with the emperor or Czar being the head, but the stranger who made up the merchant caste was the most powerful.

* Much later, when the Anglican protestant church broke away from the Catholic Church, the four castes remained the same. The king with his army was also head of the state church and was also the great merchant through his usury banks.

* The breakaway Lutheran Church began as a presbytery, but ended up as an episcopacy with the same castes just like all the rest. The powerful merchants selected the rulers whom they wanted and they appointed suitable prelates. The workers were always the same.

* In America, all establishment religious sects now look to the merchant's media-selected president and his IRS for leadership and guidance.

Chivalry

Knights fought knights. The winners became the good knights of legend and the losers became the bad ones. Scotland fought for its freedom from England. When England won the serfs remained serfs. When Scotland won - the serfs remained serfs. The Hindu caste system was firmly in place in the West.

The WORD that could have saved the people was banned by the church. The people were forbidden to read it.

SECOND MILLENNIUM

The two most important events of the second millennium, in my opinion, were 1) - The Reformation - the release of the Reforming WORD from the grasp of the priests, AND, 2) - The Counter Reformation - the establishment's attempt to again suppress the WORD.

The establishment church was very corrupt. English, Scottish, Swiss, French, and German theologians translated the WORD so that people could read for themselves what God required of them. The result was dramatic and predictable. The people of all different stations were incensed when they learned their God-given rights - rights long concealed from them by the church. They rebelled, seized both the king's and the church's land, which had earlier been taken from their ancestors, and divided it among themselves.

This revolt was followed by its bloody suppression. The land was taken away and the rebels were forced back into their castes. Hundreds of thousands were slaughtered. Following this, the Catholic and Protestant kings battled for 30 years to see who would rule the disputed land. When there were no soldiers left, the war ended.

America - S. Africa - Germany

After the Reformation there were three parts of the world which escaped the cartel. They were each forced back into the Hindu system one at a time.

America: Settlers who had arrived in a hostile America found a land that teemed with dangers. They had not much more than their Bibles to guide them. Away from establishment rule they developed the Self-Sufficient Farm System that left out both the international merchant and its caste system.

The International Trade Cartel (ITC), using their usury banking system, gradually absorbed the self-sufficient farms of the northeast and midwest. The Cartel then waged a great war to subdue the South and bring it back into the cartel. This section, which formerly needed almost nothing from the ITC, and whose people knew no depressions or hunger, now needed everything the ITC produced in order to survive.

South Africa: The same thing happened to South Africa. Its people fled British tyranny on the coasts, and trekked into the hostile interior that was free from the ITC. There they founded a nation of self-sufficient farms. They prospered greatly. To bring this small nation back into the cartel took the combined forces of the entire British empire.

Germany: Germany was defeated in WWI. In violation of promises made her, she was stripped of her colonies and many of her provinces. Her people were saddled with heavy reparations and were abused. A leader arose who led Germany in a rebellion. A world crusade was launched to bring her back into the fold.

This wrapped up the instances of rebellion against the Hindu International Trade Cartel. Dealing with the people in these defeated lands remained merely a wrap-up job which is being handled by the rebels own ministers who have been indoctrinated in their own cartel-endowed seminaries:

Seminaries:

For more than a century, generous gifts have been given seminaries by ITC corporations which allowed them to construct buildings and endow chairs. The result has been that numerous "Christian" seminaries now exist whose Biblical Law courses are taught by strangers. In fact, it can be said that the vast majority of Christian seminaries appear to spend more time studying Hindu teachings than Christian Law.

Hindu-Christian Priests Teach Hinduism

King Asoka of India, 300 years before Christ, posted at every major crossroads carved rock stele bearing his commandments. The following are examples:

* Rock Edict 12 teaches "against religious intolerance and discrimination" within the community.[7] p. 51 Rock Edict 7.

* Rock Edict VI, teaches that King Asoka desires that members of all religions (and races) live anywhere they choose, or, "open housing". p. 61.

* Rock edict XII teaches that concord (being agreeable), alone is commendable. Through being agreeable men may learn the conception of Dharma that is acceptable by others. p.52 (Dharma - One must "love" without regard to race, creed, or national origin.)

* Rock edict XI teaches of the "kinship of all mankind". p. 44

* Rock Edict VII and Rock Edict XII teach "against Religious intolerance and discrimination". The Edicts of Asoka, p. 51

It is assumed that the reader knows that Hinduism accepts all religions as being merely different manifestations of the one god Brahma. Hinduism acceptance demands that you tolerate all other Hindu religions in return.

The WORD, on the other hand is the exact opposite. It rejects all that is not of the WORD.

One can readily picture Hindu-Christian ministers expounding from their pulpits at length on the Hindu concept of loving everyone without regard to race, creed or national origin. It is a common enough occurrence. It is just as easy to picture them expounding on the Hindu Rock Edict XII against religious intolerance and racial and religious discrimination or on Rock Edict VII regarding open housing for all races.

But, can you, in your wildest imagination picture these same priests expounding on the following that comes directly from the WORD and which they are supposed to teach!

The WORD

"God said let us make man in our image. So God created man in his own image." Gen 1:26-27[8]

"In the image of God made he man (Adam-man)." Gen 9:6

"The house of Israel, are my people... And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God." Ezek 34:30-31

"These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded the, saying, Go not unto the way of the Gentiles, and unto any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Math 10:5-6;

"I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24.

"For thou art not sent ... but to the house of Israel." EZ 3:5;

"He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20;

"I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me, for they are thine." John 17:9;

8 MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), i.e.; to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

"Thou art a holy people unto the Lord thy God: The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

"And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of THY people, and speak unto them, tell them, Thus saith the Lord God." Ez 3:11;

"For the Lord's portion is his people." De 21:17

"O children of Israel... You only have I known of all the families of the earth." Am 3:1

"Israel then shall dwell in safety alone." Deut 33:28

By Their Acts

By their acts ye shall know them. The pulpits of America, with few exceptions, are manned by Hindu-Christian priests who teach Hinduism in preference to the WORD which is the God of the Christians, and which they learned in their own ITC endowed seminaries. They are so conditioned that when they run across a scripture such as, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature ..." - instead of assuming that it means "every creature of Israel", they believe that it means ALL the people of the world. This, of course, puts the verse in conflict with other verses in the Scriptures which makes God fight himself - which Scripture says cannot be.

As a result, people are falling away in masses from establishment churches and it is from these great masses that the WORD is finding root and growing.

THE THIRD MILLENNIUM

What do I see in this third millennium since Jesus Christ returned with the WORD? I see that the WORD is once again loose in the land. I see adam-man recognizing the WORD as his God.

I see the stranger leaving. I see their cities falling into ruin and being ploughed over and planted. I see cartel land seized and divided and the self-sufficient farm system returning with men ruling their land as kings and priests in obedience to the WORD which is God. I see a land of peace and goodwill as men strive to live according to the WORD in whose image they were made.

I see man coming out of today's wilderness as warriors who will never allow the Hindu stranger or his agents to rule them again.[9]

I see great days ahead.

SODOMITES

One Voice Media - The Media - Esau's Scribe - is lamenting greatly over the sodomite who was beaten and tied to a tree where he died of exposure. This same media has nothing to say about the story of the 13 year old Saxon boy who was sodomized to death by two of Esau's golden children. The story has been completely blacked out.

The lesson is this: Any newspaper, radio, or TV outlet could have reported the story of the 13 year old, but didn't. As far as the Cloak of Esau is concerned - the murder by the sodomites didn't happen. This is one more proof that the mainstream media belongs to Esau the sodomite. ALL of the mainstream media all over the world belongs to him. Make no mistake about that. Reporters and announcers are Esau's servants. A servant cannot have two masters.

9 "Thus saith the Lord God ... Let my people go, that they may serve me." Ex 9:13

> "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Matt. 6:24

The Rev Mel White

The Reverend Mel White, the sodomite leader to whom Jerry Falwell recently granted an audience and entry into America's mainstream churches (Jerry Falwell says that he "hates the sin but loves the sinner.")[10] surfaced in Topeka, Kansas at Washburn University "preaching reconciliation".

Esau's media knows that Saxons have never been reconciled with sodomites. They know that the Saxon nation worldwide is the world's ONLY race that does not accept sodomy as an "alternate lifestyle". Saxons look on other Saxons who accept sodomy as deviates cursed by the WORD which is the Saxon's God.

> "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Lev 20:13

Following Jerry Falwell's lead, the outspoken anti-homosexual Rev. Fred Phelps of Topeka also met with Mel White where they expressed mutual love and "agreed to disagree". Mel White railed against hate, but admitted that he too had a little bit of hate when he said, "Hate is about all of us." Neither preacher commented on the fact that God the WORD teaches his followers to hate those who hate Him, and that sodomites hate the WORD which condemns them.

FRONT MEN

Carnegie - steel; Ford - automobiles; Murdoch - media; Ross Perot - government contracts; Bill Gates - computers. Successful entrepreneurs rewarded for their hard work and genius?? Don't bet the farm on it!

For a wolf to operate in a sheepfold he must first bribe the shepherd (the priest) to gain entry. Once inside, the wolf next must hire a ram to protect the wolf's interest. He gives his hired agent money to employ deputies and organize a permanent police force or standing army. The sheepfold now lives under the statutes and policy of the wolf, enforced by the wolf's agents who are the new kings and priests of the sheepfold replacing the old "king and priest" who was each and every individual sheep.

All the rest is the story of the wolf-invaded sheepfold being transformed into one more wolf den. But, it's an interesting story.

The Transformation

Robert Maxwell was a media mogul. It was said that he was the richest person in the world. He was found floating in the Atlantic. The Other Side Of Deception said that he got greedy and was liquidated by the Mossad.

How could someone get greedy with his own money? His own business monopoly? Maxwell's death produced the answer. When Swiss banks learned of his death they descended on his estate and demanded the return of "their" media. The banks actually owned the media that Maxwell managed.

I didn't know that. Neither did anyone else. Robert Maxwell, the richest person in the world, was simply a "front man" - a manager of vast bank assets belonging to someone else. He was someone else's agent.[11]

Probate showed his personal estate was limited to just a few millions - not multi-billions as we had been told. Just paltry millions. All that hokum about how "a poor Jewish boy" arrived in England with only the shirt on his back, and by dent of hard work and saving his nickels and dimes and rolling them into multi- billions was just that - hokum.

Robert Maxwell is a recent product of all that which has gone before.

Henry Ford:

What about Henry Ford? Henry Ford built cars. So did a lot of other people. In Lynchburg the "Piedmont" was built on Hollins Mill Road. It was a good car. Piedmont owners swore by it. It was supposed to be as good as a Ford, some said it was better. Why did Ford succeed and Piedmont Motor Company go under?

The reason is that Ford got the money to build production lines, pay for expensive tooling and advertising, while Piedmont Motor Company didn't. That in itself could make Ford a survivor. But, there is more.

We are told that Henry Ford was anti-Jewish. When someone is recommended as being either definitely "pro-White", 11 Who is that someone else? The closest I've come to discovering this was that the numerous Swiss bank failures of 1973 revealed that those failed Swiss banks belonged to the Catholic Church. Before 1973, Catholic Church involvement in usury bank ownership had been virtually unknown. Since then, numerous other Catholic bank troubles have surfaced - as well as troubles with banks belonging to the head of the protestant Anglican Church - the Queen. The recent appearance of Indians and Asians replacing Western "front-men" as bank and corporate CEOs point to unsuspected strong Near and Far East corporate control.

"religious", or, a "great patriot", it often turns out to be just eyewash. Talk is just talk, and talk is often used to persuade people to believe things that are against their own self-interests.

Without question, Henry Ford was highly intelligent. He was good at business. The media tells people that Henry Ford was responsible for The International Jew being written. The thing they don't tell is that at the same time he was being chastised for this book he also set up two foundations that controlled the greater part of his massive estate. One of these foundations was none other than The Ford Fund For The Republic. This is one of the most virulent anti-Saxonite left wing foundations in the country. In other words, The International Jew that brands Henry Ford as a "right-wing radical" hides the Fund For The Republic that finances all sorts of anti-Christian, anti-Patriot and communist causes. One Ford hand held the smoke and mirrors concealing the other hand holding the club that is being used to destroy the Saxon nation. Could someone as smart as Henry Ford make a mistake this big? What do you think?

Quickly reviewing: Henry Ford got financing when no one else could. The bulk of Henry Ford's money was placed into anti- saxonite trusts. Henry Ford, in my opinion, was another Robert Maxwell. A "front-man", a manager of assets for the International Trade Cartel.

Carnegie:

Andrew Carnegie was a poor Scot. His is the Saxon version of the "poor Jew" story. He came to America with hardly a penny in his pockets. By dent of hard work and saving his money he became one of the richest men in America. I believe the story of Snow White is more believable!

True, Carnegie was smart. He knew his trade. The banks advanced him big loans when no one else could get them. He used the money to put his competition out of business and buy them up when they fell on hard times, and he became one of the biggest steel operators in America. He then sold his vast steel holdings to a corporation that became known as U.S. Steel. Carnegie then took his profits, which were surprisingly small, and lavished them on charities to build good will where there had been nothing but hate before. In my opinion, Carnegie was another of Esau's money managers.

Bunker Hunt:

Bunker Hunt was one of our own. He inherited from his father and made money on his own. He saw a chance to corner gold. He put his corner in place and sat back. The money powers were caught. But, the wolf money powers are owned by Esau. They met and changed a 100 year old rule that couldn't be changed, and that broke the corner and ruined Bunker Hunt. The media had nothing bad to say about it or anything to say about Bunker Hunt since the establishment ruined him. Out of sight - out of mind.

The Rest:

The story of Murdoch is so much like that of Robert Maxwell that it doesn't bear repeating. Then there is Ross Perot. I don't believe for one minute that Ross Perot is "Ross Perot entrepreneur extraodinaire". I have been told that most of his money has been made through government contracts. We know that his conservative "white hope party" folded when it could have made a definite difference. This is what one would expect from an Esau manager. Then there is this super-rich, super smart, super salesman - Bill Gates. The money he gives away goes almost exclusively to liberal causes - which is what one would expect if the money he is giving away belongs to another who tells him whom to give to.

Esau's establishment knows that Saxons demand a leader - so they give us one - one of their own. Our only defense against these false leaders is the WORD. Judge everything they do and say by the WORD. If they pass muster - then follow. If they don't - wait. Our day will come. Busy, fearful Gideon already lives. God just has not tapped him on the shoulder because the time is not right just yet. Never fear! He's there, God's there, our time will come!!

PERCECUTION: Scott Marquart, a prisoner in the Michigan Prison System, has sued state prison officials so that he can practice the Christian Identity (Reform Christian) faith behind bars.

The state says that Reform Christian is a security threat. Marquart argues that the state is violating his right to practice his religion and he is suing to have Reform Christian recognized as any other religion.

In Georgia, in 1993, the state agreed to let members of the Christian Identity Church meet if they kept all references to race, separation, or disobedience over things Biblically Un-Lawful out of their services.

Marquart's lawsuit claims that prison officials decided Marquart was a "security threat" after he tried to get Reform Christianity recognized. He says he was deprived of recreation time, visitation rights and was denied group meetings. He said that in addition he has been harassed by frequent cell searches. Marquart "has been constantly subjected to atypical treatment and harassment by prison officials solely because of his religious beliefs and his status" as being labeled "security threat" solely because of his religion, he says in his lawsuit.

Marquart argues that the state recognizes other religions - particularly Muslim - that follow tenents of racial segregation and superiority. Members of those religions aren't automatically considered a security threat, he says. The department admitted that they did recognize a group that says darker-skinned people are superior.

A representative of the Michigan Regional Jewish Anti-Defamation League complained that such groups evangelize others. (Story in Detroit Free Press, Oct 27 1999)

Chapter 305

THE SILVER SPOON

The Stew Pot

The War was over. My great-grandfather, Major William Hoskins, late surgeon of the 59th Virginia Infantry, rode home to the Dragon Farm.[1] from his office at Carlton's Corner where he seen patients all day and was greeted by his sister, Matilda Byrd. Matilda Byrd held a stew pot over her head laughing.

There had not been a pot in the house since the war ended. There had been no way to make acorn coffee, hot cereal, soup or stew. A stew pot is so ordinary that people don't consider how necessary it is when you don't have one and, right then, a stew pot was a treasure and Matilda Byrd held one in her hands.

1 The WORD says that the land is to be divided and never sold. (Lev 25:23, 28) Accordingly, those settling land planted their families there "permanently". Thus the name "plantation". After the war, Saxons were forced from their ancestral lands and land was turned into a commodity to be bought and sold. So, the name "plantation" became antiquated and the name "farm" was used. The ordinary farm is a business operation not a plantation. This process is basic to incorporate the Self-Sufficient Farm into a inter-nation(al) Empire.

A whole book could be written about the few lines above. I'll try to highlight just a bit of the story.

The Spoon

That night the family enjoyed stew for the first time in a long time. After dinner, William asked his sister where she had gotten the pot.

She answered that she had gotten it from an itinerant Jewish peddler. The next question was what she used for money since the family didn't have any.

Matilda Byrd replied that she had traded the last two silver spoons that the family had, spoons worth many stew pots in another place and another time.

Dr. William knew about the spoons. One of them was an ancient spoon bearing the Hoskins coat-of-arms and had been handed down in the family since it had come over in 1615 with Bartholomew the immigrant. There was silence. That's all. There were no recriminations. Everyone knew that it was better to eat stew than to keep a family heirloom.

The Jewish Peddler

Before the war there had been few Jewish peddlers - or Jewish merchants for that matter, except in the larger cities.[2] There weren't any in Essex County. There was little that peddlers had for sale that Virginians wanted. The plantations and farms either grew or made almost everything needed. Other articles came from the cottage industry of more distant farms. The interacting self-sufficient farm system of the Southland provided just about everything its people needed. A few luxuries came from Great Britain - the motherland. The Jewish peddler was the beginning of something new. He replaced what had gone before. He was the advance guard of the international merchant - the International Trade Cartel (ITC) - BABYLON!

2 "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth. Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

The Predator Merchant Empire

A Self-Sufficient Farm System accumulates wealth, and the Southland had been gathering wealth for more than 250 years. Each generation added to what had been accumulated by the generations before. The land was fat and ready to be harvested. It was predator's dream.

During the War Between The States there were three large auction warehouses in Washington D.C. open 24 hours a day disposing of the gleanings collected from Southern plantations. Long lines of wagons streamed in from the Virginia countryside carrying loot - the very magnitude forced it to be sold by the wagon load sight unseen to make room for the next arrivals.

Merchant ships were contracted by the federal government. They left New York, Boston, and Baltimore bearing munitions and supplies and entered the Chesapeake Bay. From there they sailed up the Rappahannock River to Fredericksburg where they off-loaded their cargos that supplied the Federal armies. Returning empty, the captains would dock at plantation wharves and send armed landing parties ashore to gather a return cargo - cargos looted from the Tidewater countryside.

As the war went on, homes and plantations near the Rappahannock River were picked clean and the looters were forced to travel farther inland to find anything worth taking. One way to get inland was to take large ship's-boats and sail or row up the Dragon Run from the Rappahannock River. Thirty-five miles up the Dragon Run from the Rappahannock lay the Dragon Farm of Dr. William Hoskins.

The first raids were very profitable. They netted hogsheads of tobacco, horses and cattle. From the house were taken most of the silver, rugs, and portraits. Later raids took the window hangings and furniture. A coach that had been handed down in the family for 200 years was dragged down to the Dragon Run, but left behind because it was too heavy. The buggies were light enough to be loaded on ship's-boats and they were taken - as were the slaves. The latter paid for their involuntary passage by being bound to labor-short Pennsylvania farmers until their fare was paid. At the last, kitchenware and dishes were taken, and desperate for cargos, raiders would take the shoes from the children's feet. God help the old men they caught.

Northern newspaper scribes had regaled their readers with stories of hidden Virginia wealth, that Virginians didn't have banks and that they kept their money hidden at home. There are stories told of landing parties attempting to get to these mostly non-existent hidden treasures by torture. Some were said to have gone so far as to turn their prisoners over slow fires. Their captors wouldn't believe that most Virginians never had had much hard money. They got most of what they needed by trading farm produce and their own shop products.

These raids were the reason the Dragon had no pots and pans. The wealth of the South, accumulated for 250 years, disappeared almost overnight - rapidly redistributed by America's empire merchants. But, as is often the case - 80% of the loot was either destroyed on the spot or gathered and left to rot for lack of shipping space.

Mitilda Byrd

Family history says that Mitilda Byrd was a beauty. She was. She was a honey blond with classic features. I've seen her portrait. She could play the piano, was an accomplished rider, and could converse in several languages. Her dowry consisted of more than a thousand acres and she was courted by many men before the war. But, she never married. Why? The men who courted her were all dead. That's why she lived at home with her brother - like so many Southern women.

The Farm

Sherman burned Georgia farms. He burned Atlanta and Charleston. Sheridan and Custer burned the farms and fields of the Valley of Virginia. Hunter burned Lexington, Bedford City, and his advance on Lynchburg was heralded by a horizon black with smoke. Mrs. Jackson's home just over the hill on Old Forest Road has a big burned black spot in the living-room corner where Hunter's soldiers set fire to kindling piled in a corner as they tried to burn her house down. Some of Early's boys caught them at it and shot them. They then went to work and threw the burning brands out the window, thus saving the house. Mrs. Jackson's house is one of the few left between Lynchburg and Bedford. All this seems unneccssarily brutal, but the destruction of the self-sufficient farm system was necessary to the imposition of the new "inter- nation" economic system already imposed on the north.[3]

Leaving The Dragon

Following the war, Dr. Hoskins couldn't make a living as a doctor. Many men in that part of Essex County had been killed in the war and their families had gone to live with more distant kinsmen who could take care of them. Those who hadn't left Essex had no money. This resulted in too few people now living around the Dragon Farm needed for a doctor to make a living. Neither could he make a living from his land because of the lack of labor and because the bottom had fallen out of commodity prices. Making matters intolerable, whites had been disfranchised and blacks were put in political offices - another necessary step in the transformation of the Saxon political system into a multi- national system.[4] Once blacks were in office they voted themselves huge salaries which were paid by new land taxes. Virginia

3 "Next, Karl Marx. The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ... At the same time we must intensively patronize trade and industry ... what we want is that industry should drain off from the land both labor and capital and by means of speculation transfer into our hands all the money of the world ...'

"Karl Marx in his Communist Manifesto exactly followed this formula. True he declared that Communism might be summed up in one sentence, 'abolition of private property', but subsequently he qualified this dictum by restricting actual confiscation to land and implying that other types of private property were to remain intact. (In the later Marxist event, of course, all private property was confiscated, but I speak here of the strict parallel between the strategy laid down before the event alike by the Protocols and Marx)." The Controversy of Zion by Douglas Read, Noontide Press, Newport Beach, CA, 1985. p. 219

4 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

landholders desperately planted crops and sold them for anything they would fetch to raise tax-money, thus destroying the commodity market, and themselves.[5]

The Country Store

Dr. Hoskins left the Dragon and moved about 15 miles away to the little village of Carlton's Corner where a cross-road brought more traffic. The move helped for a time, but even Carlton's Corner became isolated as taxes forced more and more people to leave their land and move to Richmond and Tappahannock to work for wages in the industry that was leaving the relatively high- wage North for the new low-wage Southern[6] labor.

Dr. William Hoskins had needed a cooking pot. Other people needed pots. People also needed cloth to make clothes and they needed plows that used to be made in local forges and nearby foundries. They needed medicine, nails, shoes, leather, ink, pencils, harness and a hundred other things that their own self-sufficient farms made before the war. But now, so many farms, mills, forges and smelters had been burned and destroyed and so many people had been killed that there was a great scarcity of everyday necessities. So, Dr. Hoskins went into the business of supplying these needs. He built a dozen or more country stores to distribute products imported from up north. In effect, Dr. Hoskins went into business with 5 "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low ... he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail." Deut 28:43-44

6 Corporations automatically move to low-cost production areas. They left England for the American North. They left the American North for the South. They are now leaving the South for the 3rd world. The Saxon king of his own SSF allowed himself to be dispossessed and forced to become a worker for the NWO - nothing more than a commodity who must compete with the Chinese coolie for his daily bread.

the conquering multi-nation empire to help fill the newly created needs of his own Saxon nation. A new market had been created.[7]

Dr. William Hoskins was sitting in his chair on his front porch at Carlton's Corner when his head dropped. A heart attack. He was 62 and at the time of his death. The oldest Hoskins who had ever lived in America up until that time. I've got his pistol that he carried during the War. A .44 Starr. I think I told the story about that pistol in Vigilantes.

Dr. Hoskins' children divided the country stores. His son Willard inherited the store at Dunnsville, about 20 miles from the Dragon. In time he built a mill at the Hoskins' Mill Pond. But, people continued to move away from country poverty to the cities and so the store closed and people shopped at the strangers' chain-stores. The mill continued to fill a need until environmental regulations backed by commodity giants owned by strangers forced it out of business following WWII.

After the War usury banks were established all over Virginia to lend money to people who needed it to pay taxes. People in Essex County also needed money to pay the northern merchants for articles which used to be obtained "in kind". So, Willard and a few neighbors founded a usury bank in Tappahannock. The bank has since been merged into the strangers bank system. Saxon managers still work there - thus far.

7 At the first the stranger uses a Saxon agent to front for him because of the reluctance of the Saxon to deal with strangers. "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared." Pr. 6:1-2. When the Saxon agent is no longer needed he is replaced by a stranger. When Dr. Hoskins' and his country stores were no longer needed they were replaced by a discount store in town which was initially managed by a Saxon front man. Now the discount store is managed by a stranger and even the clerks are strangers.

Those who learned to collaborate with the new empire system prospered - before they were replaced by strangers. Those who remained true to the old farm system were forced into grinding poverty.

Differential Freight Rates

One of the things that kept the economy of the Southland depressed was the differential freight rates. In Washington, laws were passed forcing the Southern states to buy expensive products from northern merchants instead of cheap products from British suppliers as had been the custom for almost 250 years previously. This forced Virginia to pay top dollar to the northern merchants who in turn paid bottom dollar for Southern farm products.

The differential freight rates caused the railroad and sea shipping costs for goods shipped from Richmond to Philadelphia to be much higher than the rates charged for goods shipped from Philadelphia to Richmond. These differential freight rates weren't done away with until after WWII and in no small way accounted for the Southland being looked upon as a land of poverty. It was.

In the meantime, the Hoskins family scattered. They followed in the steps of their northern kinsmen, chasing the highest paying jobs offered by the ITC wherever they led. The safety and security of the old self-sufficient farm system was now but a memory and empire merchant demands on the workers became more and more heavy.

Conclusion

The unfortunate ending of the War For Southern Independence marked the end of the great American experiment.

This period re- established the merchant's empire. The survivors learned to change. Even change was no guarantee for survival. Vanished was the concept of "safety", "peace of mind" and "care in old age".

Preparing the way for this new age the minions of war had made destruction general. The population was decimated. Strangers were placed over the Saxon to rule them. Taxes were enacted to bankrupt farmers off their land. Commodity values plummeted. Usury banks appeared everywhere to soak up the rest. The Southern city came into existence to house, feed, and stockpile workers who fearfully and desperately waited for the call from the corporation to come to work.

A new economic system replaced the old. A new political system replaced the one that had gone before, and a new religion made its appearance - a religion diametrically opposed to the WORD and the WORD made flesh which was the ancient God of the Saxon.

But, we still remember. The Saxon God-the-WORD once smiled on them. Then we were untaxed. We had a militia instead of a standing army and we ruled our own land as kings and priests. This world slipped through our fingers because in the spirit of goodwill we tolerated those things that our God condemned and our God is a jealous God.

Yes sir, the family of Dr. William Hoskins ate stew made in a cooking pot. It had cost two silver spoons worth many pots in other days, but that was the price for the lesson that was learned - in the multi-nation New World Order it is better to eat stew than to keep a family heirloom. The stripes on our backs have also taught us that from the very beginning of this country it would have been better to obey God than to face the consequences of disobedience.[8]

Armed with the WORD, we welcome tomorrow. The merchant's king knows this and he has planned Megido for malcontents in his kingdom. But, this is the third millennium since the WORD made flesh said, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done - ON EARTH! It's time. God's enemies have declared themselves. We know who they are. God will send his avenging angels and there will be many silver spoons to replace the ones taken from us.

News From South Africa by K.J.

We joined with you in the December 30th fast and prayer. There is no doubt that certain matters were planned to take place here as well as in America on the arrival of Y2K. Thankfully, the powers that be changed their minds. Here, most institutions are running smoothly. The only bank that closed on January 3rd was the black African Bank.

At the same time the establishment media went after you, the same thing happened here with a young friend and his wife. He is the one who introduced me to Col. Jack Mohr and Pastor Peters. However, the new "state-Christianity" embraced by S. Africa's turncoat churches and preachers so sickened him that he later reverted back to Odinism.

Anyway, these two woke up on Nov 30 with at least 5 big newspapers attacking them. The "Aftonbladet's" front page 8 The ultimate curse was when, "God took His WORD from Adam and Eve." I Adam & Eve 23:2. This is what has happened in the false mainstream churches today. But, for those who seek, we read, "It shall come to pass ... the blessing and the curse ... and thou shalt call them to mind ... and shalt ... obey his voice ... then the Lord thy God will turn thy captivity (reverse your status as slaves)." Deu 30:1-3.

had headlines like, "These people want to destroy our democracy, etc.", with names and pictures. The effort was made to get his wife fired from her work. Luckily her employer took her side.

The black Prime Minister supports this sort of thing as well as all those who want to be politically correct which allows us to discover who the Saxon's friends really are. Even though our friend has done little of importance these last few years it seems that the ITC and their black followers hate him. A few years ago a very charming Jeffrey Kaplan paid them a friendly visit at their home and said many nice things about him and his family. At the the time we warned him about these people, but he saw the man as a friend and not somebody who would ever harm him. Shortly thereafter be began to have major problems with the Jews.

So far, Mr. Marais of the HNP has skillfully handled them, but as we are the only obstacle on the right who continuously write about nationalism and history, including the history of WWII, they will not leave us alone.

Our attacks on the Democratic Party did not go unnoticed. The Democratic Party here is almost completely a Jewish Party. They support the anti-gun agenda. One also wonders why, while whites are being killed every day, no Jews are killed by blacks. They still number 90,000 and are very visible and wealthy.

The attacks on white farmers never cease. I cannot see that talking to blacks in control will make any difference if they condone and encourage the attacks. While this goes on Afrikaans church leaders sit and quibble about accepting sodomites as our Christian duty and such nonsense. Our people are daily being lost to murderers and our youngsters to drugs. With these preachers no longer doing their duty, Mr. Marais stepped into the gap. Except for our party, S. African cultural organizations have all opened their doors to strangers of whatever colour. Our children still have camps on holidays where they learn their history, discipline and all about the nature around them.

This same group of Afrikaans students did very well in the matric exams. Only one lonely black did well. But we now have the problem with universities having quotas for blacks. They will not admit a white student even if he has distinction in all his subjects.

We have had an exceptional amount of rain for weeks now and the trees and grass love it. However, the vegetables suffer from bug varieties I have never seen before.

The driving by black bus drivers and trucks is worse than ever. Many accidents take place. For the rest of us it is no pleasure to be on the road. Most whites stayed at home on New Year's Eve. Holiday entertainment was with black music and that will keep most whites away even if they could afford the exorbitant prices. Luckily, it rained.

Our best wishes for the rest of this year to you and our kinfolk in America and safety from those who want to harm us. K.J.

The Boer
by Arthur Conan Doyle

Arthur Conan Doyle the creator of the fictional detective Sherlock Holmes, wrote the following introduction to his The Great Boer War. The interesting thing is that it was written when the war was still raging:

"Take a community of Dutchmen of the type of those who defended themselves for 50 years against all the power of Spain at a time when Spain was the greatest power in the world.

"Intermix with them a strain of those inflexible French Huguenots who gave up home and fortune and left their country forever at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

"The product must obviously be one of the most rugged, virile, unconquerable races ever seen upon earth.

"Take this formidable people and train them for seven generations in constant warfare against savage men and ferocious beasts, in circumstances under which no weakling could survive, place them so that they acquire exceptional skill with weapons and in horsemanship, give them a country which is eminently suited to the tactics of the huntsman, the marksman, and the rider.

"Then, finally, put a finer temper upon their military qualities by a dour fatalistic Old Testament religion and an ardent and consuming patriotism.

"Combine all these qualities and all these impulses in one individual, and you have the modern Boer - the most formidable antagonist ever to cross the path of Imperial Britain.

"Our military history has largely consisted in our conflicts with France, but Napoleon and all his veterans have never treated us so roughly as these hard-bitten farmers with their ancient theology and their inconveniently modern rifles."

KING CONSPIRACY: A jury found a widespread government conspiracy responsible for the assassination of The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. A US House committee concluded in 1978 that Earl Ray killed King but may have had help from a small group of "racists". The jury found that government agencies were involved. The list included the FBI, CIA, and organized crime. (Story News & Advance A-3, December 12, 1999)

RKH: This old communist tactic is called "The Trust" - doing the act and blaming it on your opponent. The communists killed their own people and blamed the killings on their opponents.

King had become a liability. His usefulness was over. Before his assassination he was one of the most hated people in the country. The darling of the media, he came preaching peace but left American cities burning gripped in uncontrollable riots. The American public had turned against him. His only future use had become that of a martyr. He was executed and white "racists" were blamed. The same thing happened to Kennedy - another of the most hated people in America. When it was announced that he had been shot, the people in the brokerage office in which I worked cheered. The media immediately blamed whites in Dallas. Media "re-interpreters" aren't paid to tell the truth.

ANTI-SAXON PREJUDICE: The relative odds of admission to the University of Virginia show a strong degree of preference given to blacks over whites. The preference given to blacks over whites was 33 to 1 in 1996. For 1999 the preference had grown to 111.11 to 1. (Center for Equal Opportunity) (Http://www.ceousa.org/html/va2.html)

ANTISAXON VIOLENCE: Since 1972, the US Dept. of Justice has conducted a National Crime Victimization Survey (NCVS) to determine the frequency of certain crimes. One category is interracial crimes. The most recent was the 1997 "Criminal Victimization in the US" report on data collected in 1994. In that year there were about 1,700,000 interracial crimes, of which 1,276,030 involved whites and blacks. In 90% of the cases, a white was the victim and a black was the perpetrator, while in 10% of the cases it was the reverse.

In other words, 90% of interracial crimes involves blacks attacking whites. Would you believe it if you had to judge by the media reports? (Story in The Washington Times, Aug. 19, 1999)

TREASON OR WISDOM? Some Militia leaders are working with the FBI to "contain terrorism". Jim McKinzey, commander of the 51st Missouri Militia has struck a surprising partnership with the local FBI agent. They work together to identify potential terrorists. McKinzey said, "We're not enemies. We have to build bridges." Montana militia leaders have also been sitting down with FBI agents to exchange information. "We talk to them (FBI)," said John Trochmann, "because we want to be sure they know where we're coming from."

In Bloomfield, Ind., federal agents and members of at least a half dozen local militia groups met last month. "Militia members have provided information helpful in criminal investigations, John Bell, the FBI special agent-in-charge of the Indianapolis field office said. "A militia leader passed on a tip last month involving a member who had been expelled from the group." In Kansas City, FBI Agent Kinnally says that his office office has fielded similar calls from the 51st Missouri Militia.

Some militia leaders consider the cooperation no less than treason. "The FBI has no interest in opening a dialogue", said Bob Wright, commanding officer of the 1st Brigade New Mexico Militia. "They're interested in gathering intelligence. They're interested in finding some weak-minded fools to hustle." The leopard does not change his spots. Many forget that the reason for the re-emergence of militias is so that American citizens will have someone who will protect them and their families if the FBI decides to do another Waco. An easy way to determine if there has been a fair exchange of information is if the FBI has told local militia leaders which militia members are paid FBI agents provocateur. After all, that's the sort of thing the FBI does. (Story in The Detroit News, 9A, Dec. 3, 1999.)

FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY of WWII fame, advised the government in London in 1947 that Africa's Blacks were totally incapable of developing their countries economically. In a recently released paper, Montgomery proposed that all of Africa be placed under White rule. Chapter 306

BABYLON

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti m 6:10

The Borders Of Babylon

The stench of "Babylon" hangs heavy in the air around us. There is no real name that adequately describes it. Words such as "evil empire", "New World Order" and "International Trade Cartel" (ITC) offer a glimpse, but no newly-coined word really describes what once existed in the ancient world and has now returned once again to torment mankind.

The WORD says that it was a great city built by Nimrod[1] upon which all peoples labored. It seemingly was unending, vast - it reached the sky. Then, all of a sudden, God spoke; work stopped, and the great city fell into ruin.

The WORD spoken by God was "separation". Separation is the opposite of "integration". Without integration Babylon cannot be built. Integration of the world and its peoples builds Babylon - separation destroys it. Babylon is the enemy of all "separatists". God is the enemy of all integrationists.[2]

Babylon

The great city Babylon encompasses all of the following:

1. The Merchant: All the world's great businesses.
2. King & his Army: All the world's governments and their armies.
3. Priests: All organized religions wherever.

1 "And Cush the son of Ham the son of Noah, took a wife ... and she bare a son and she called his name Nimrod. ... . And Nimrod ... fought the battles of his brethren against all their enemies round about.... And when Nimrod had joyfully returned from battle, after having conquered his enemies, all his brethren ... assembled to make him king over them ... And he set over his subjects and people, princes, judges and rulers, as is the custom amongst kings. ...after having conquered all his enemies around, he advised with his counselors to build a city ... and Nimrod called the name of the city that he built Shinar ... and his kingdom became very great. And all nations and tongues ... gathered themselves to him ... and they brought him offerings (taxes), and he became their lord and king, and they all dwelt with him in the city of Shinar, and Nimrod reigned in the earth over all the sons of Noah, and they were all under his power and counsel. ... but Nimrod ... rebelled against the Lord, and taught all his subjects and the people of the earth his wicked ways." Jasher 7:23-46

2 "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." 2 Cor 6:17; "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51; "Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitudes." Neh 13:3

This all-encompassing organization exists to organize the workers. The workers are kept at the never ending task of building the great city.

THE MERCHANT

The great merchant, or the international merchant, is the most visible part of Babylon. He builds the world's great cities which all look alike. He provides the communications which in all countries work the same. Where the great merchant rules, Y2K presented no communication problem that would impact his trade, not even in his outposts in the most remote 3rd world country.

All the world's great commerce is owned or controlled by him - supermarkets, auto manufacturing companies, the great oil tankers and other great ships at sea, the great planes in the air, the world's banks, the world's corporate food production, preparation and transportation, the world's manufacturing - all are owned by the great merchant. All the "different" money systems of the world are his. All money must pass through his banks. The usury system is his;[3] The lending of ten dollars for $11 ensures that all free property and goods eventually end up in his hands.[4]

3 Except the Arab nations' "no-interest" system, which is its arch-enemy and is banned outside the borders of Islam.

4 See War Cycles / Peace Cycles, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, the history of usury.

All media is owned by the great international-merchant. All radio, TV, newspapers, magazines and book publishing. Babylon's spokesmen say the same thing on the world's front page in Chinese, English and Russian. The gun-control campaign is the same in S. Africa, Australia, Europe and the United States. The worldwide campaign to abolish national tariffs is the same everywhere. The worldwide campaign to promote Babylon's one world government is the same, as is the worldwide campaign to impose alien immigration and integration on Saxon nations.

Small Business

Small independent Saxon businesses are tolerated and even encouraged. Those which succeed and grow are in time taken over and merged into the greater ITC. This keeps Babylon healthy and growing larger and larger.

Owners of businesses that have been taken over are paid with establishment money that is soon returned to the cartel through their usury banks, income taxes, and inheritance taxes. The downside for the former owners is that as Babylon grows, entire galaxies of small businesses disappear. Small grocery and drug stores disappear into Babylon's great trade chains, and small merchants of all kinds go to the wall when the outlets of the giant- merchant open their doors to mass trade.

In those nations where small businesses have been forced out of existence - those who formerly operated them, from corporation president down to floor sweeper, regardless of educational or monetary background, eventually find themselves in the great pool of workers serving Babylon. A worker pool that does not distinguish between natives and aliens, each struggling against the other for his daily bread.

The Appearance Of Freedom

Babylon tolerates a miniscule alternate press. Short-wave broadcasts are allowed as well as newsletters such as HR. It gives the illusion of freedom where none exists, and defuses a nationalism that could bottle up and explode. This the great city does not need.

Trusts

Disbelievers point to the stock exchanges and say that many people own industry through their purchase of stocks.

Babylon takes control of a nation's industry in a very simple manner. People with large estates have most of their wealth invested in common stocks. To avoid inheritance taxes their owners put these estates into trusts under bank trust department management.

Bank trust departments vote the stock that they hold in trust. In this manner, by voting the stock without having to own it, banks elect anyone they choose to corporate boards of directors. Since usury banks are Babylon's monopoly, Babylon elects their own agents to corporate boards.

These agents, sitting on corporate boards, direct their corporation to make "good will" grants to educational institutions such as colleges and Christian seminaries. The sub-rosa condition is that in exchange for generous grants of money, the corporate directors will participate in the selection of professors and curriculum - and they do. As a result, there are Christian seminaries which have aliens teaching Biblical law. Colleges, built to train Saxon leaders, now teach that the Saxon male is the enemy of the world.

In this way the ancient bulwarks of Christendom have been handed over to Babylon and have become educational indoctrination centers churning out Dharmatized Christian-Hindu robots. Young impressionable Saxon nationals walk in their front doors and emerge four years later as citizens of Babylon.

KING

"Woe to you, ye powerful, who with power strike down righteousness; for the day of your destruction shall come." I Enoch 95:8

In spite of the constant eye-wash and theatricals, the fact is that worldwide, ALL leaders of countries (kings, presidents, premiers, etc.) are put in office and kept in office by the international merchant. They are necessary to protect his interests.

These kings must have an army to keep them in office or else abused populations would soon drive them out.

In the West, the illusion of democracy is maintained by the election system's managed by the merchant's media. It selects and advertises Babylon's agents for public office. Voters vote for the best man they know, but the only one they know to vote for is always a media-selected agent of Babylon. All major political dog-fights are stage managed. Only in the backwaters of the world do a few political leaders truly speak for their people.

"I beheld the angels of punishment ... they are preparing for the kings and powerful one's of the earth ... I beheld a deep valley burning with fire. To this valley they brought monarchs and the mighty." I Enoch 52:3-5, 53:1-2.

The King's Legal System

To abolish the rule of God's WORD understood by all, and substitute in its place the decrees of Babylon, the king establishes his own courts.

To head these courts the king appoints judges to rule that the king's decrees are legal.

To help the judges "law-schools" are established. These schools train people to find their way around and through the voluminous maze of conflicting statutes enacted by the king. These lawyers are legal "officers of the court" and belong to the court system.

They spend their lives instructing and advising people as to the king statutes and the legal way to circumvent the ancient laws and customs of their nation.

It is from this "lawyer" group, a group firmly grounded in inter-nation statutes and doctrine, that the merchant's media chooses most candidates for public office.[5] It is a rare one who escapes God's condemnation:

Thus, the governing process that Babylon's government uses to support its hand-picked king rests in the hands of those who have a vested interest in seeing that the merchant's legal system prevails.

> "Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered." Luke 11:52

---

5 I have known many patriotic lawyers and many of them were gentlemen. But only one have I seen among those who gather at Bible camps to study God's Law. I have never seen a judge at these meetings. Being a lawyer is a spiritual occupational hazard overcome by only a few.

PRIEST

In India, the priest is supreme. He chooses kings and appoints merchants to manage the priestly wealth given them by Asoka.[6]

In Dharma-conquered lands foreign to India, the world's great merchants choose kings who in turn appoint priests to bless them.

> "The Prophet who shall presume to deliver a message in MY NAME, which I have not commanded him to deliver, or who shall speak in the name of other gods: - that Prophet shall die!" Deut 18:20

Government Regulated Churches

The establishment "Christian" Church in America is paid not to teach the WORD. If it did Babylon would fall, which is why Babylon pays it not to. Babylon exempts them from taxes that are paid by all others.[7]

The Scriptures say that the WORD is King of kings and that "man" was made in the image of the WORD.

It is logical to expect that those made in the image of the WORD would study the Word day and night. It is logical to expect ministers of churches to teach church members the WORD so that they would know what God requires of them.

Therein lies the problem. If people studied the WORD day and night and learned what God requires of them, they would expel the alien, overturn their altars, abolish the income tax, seize the land held by monopolies and divide it, and rule their own self-sufficient farms as kings and priests under the WORD, the King of kings. Babylon would then be no more.[8]

I belong to a Christian organization whose members spoke at churches to raise money to buy Bibles for school-children and to place in hotels and motels for travelers. I have spoken in lots of establishment churches and sat through countless services. uring this entire timeI have heard a lot of "religion", but I have never heard an establishment preacher teach God's Laws.

A Christian Church cannot be a Christian Church if it does not teach the WORD. America's churches today are great social clubs - the poor man's country club. However, to learn God's WORD one must learn by his own study, attend a home church, or attend one of a handfull of small churches that still teach God's Law's, Statutes, and Judgments.

WORKER

Beneath the three castes of merchant, king & army, and priest - stands the worker. The worker's labor supports Babylon and the three ruling castes. The major duty of the three ruling castes is to keep the worker at his work - and they do.

Summary

Today's kings are creatures of Babylon, as arc thc great merchants and certainly the priests. Together they conspire to bring all the world under their rule. Which of your local establishment politicians, wealthy merchants or state priests condemned Babylon's assault on Ruby Ridge and Waco?

8 See "Censored Scriptures" handout.

The conspiracy has created a class of people who perceive Babylon to be the ultimate victor and have abandoned their nation and have become "integrationists" - citizens of Babylon.

The Integrationist - Babylon's Citizen

Pat Buchanan gave a talk to the Boston World Affairs Council from which I have excerpted the following.[9]

> "...A few years ago, Ralph Nader wrote to the executives of 100 giant US. corporations, suggesting how they might show their loyalty to 'the country that bred them, built them, subsidized them and defended them.' At the annual stockholders meeting, Ralph said, why not begin with a pledge of allegiance to the flag?
> "Only one company responded favorably. Half did not respond at all. Many sent back angry letters declaring that they were not American companies at all. Motorola denounced the request as 'political and nationalistic.' Other companies likened the idea of a pledge of allegiance to loyalty oaths of the McCarthy era. Why were the heads of the corporations outraged? Because for years the have been trying to sever their bonds to the country of their birth.
>
> "In 1997, the head of Boeing told one interviewer he would be delighted if, twenty years hence, no one thought of Boeing as an American company. My goal, said Phil Condit, is to 'rid [Boeing] of its image as an American group.'
>
> "Back in the 1970s, Carl Gerstacker of Dow envisioned a day when Dow would be free of America. ...

9 The full talk is carried in Lebensraum, Ingrid Rimland

A spokesman for Union Carbide agreed: 'It is not proper for an international corporation to put the welfare of any country in which it does business above that of any other.' In any test of loyalties, for such as these, the company comes before the country.

"Early in the 1970s, Zbigniew Brzezinski, later Jimmy Carter's national security adviser, wrote, 'A global consciousness is for the first time beginning to manifest itself ... we are witnessing the emergence of trans-national elites ... composed of inter-national businessmen, scholars, professional men and public officials. The ties of these new elites cut across national boundaries, their perspectives are not confined by national traditions... and their interests are more functional than national.' The one force that can de-rail the rise of this new elite, warned Zbig, is the 'politically activated masses,' whose 'nativism could work against the cosmopolitan elites.'[10]

Anti-Saxonism

Babylon's obstacle is "man" - the Saxon. To destroy this obstacle is the reason for the present integration media blitz. This is the reason that Babylon is doing all in its power to pull down Saxon heroes and icons. Their agents burned Robert E. Lee's picture in Richmond; they are attacking the Confederate flag in S. Carolina; they have blacked out George Washington from view; they forbid prayer in schools, they accuse Thomas Jefferson, a sponsor of the "African Colonization Movement" to send Blacks back to Africa, of having an affair with a black slave.

In spite of DNA evidence, and without allowing discussion or debate, Babylon has put the supposed descendants of the illicit union on the university speaking circuit in Virginia to destroy Saxon nationalism by claiming that the founding fathers were themselves integrationists. If they can make Jefferson into an integrationist they can persuade other Saxons to become integrationists. From there is only a short step to Babylon's "globalism". New recruits for Babylon!

Why The Saxon?

The Saxon nation is more than an organization. It is more than politics or a religious sect. It is even more than skin deep.

Each Saxon has been appointed a king and a priest by God Himself.[11]

As long as one single pair of Saxon-Adamites live - a male and a female - Babylon will never be safe.

This is why 30,000,000 Russian-Saxons were killed and their land given to the Slav-Khazar alliance to rule. This is why 9 million German Saxons were killed after WWII ended and half their land placed under Slav rule. That's why Saxon South Africa was destroyed. That's why the American South-land was raped and looted. That's why 40,000,000 of our babies have been murdered - most by alien doctors. That's why our children are forbidden to read God's Law in school or post it in the king's courtrooms. That's why an eternal war is being waged against us by the powers of darkness.

The Rest Of The Story

We know the rest of the story. We have read the Book.

First, God promised that he would punish us for allowing strangers into our land[12] and for not enforcing His Law.

To punish us God put hooks in the jaws of the strangers and has dragged them to our land. He did this because he said he would. Now think when you read the list whether or not God is true to his WORD and is doing what he said he would do:

11 "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

12 "Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own." Ecclesiasticus II, 11:34; "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low ... he shall be the head and thou shalt be the tail." Deu 28:43; "Thou hast forsaken thy people...because ....they please themselves in the children of strangers." Isa 2:6; "For I have loved strangers and after them will I go." Jer 2:25

"If ye will not ... do all these commandments; ... I also will do this unto you;

1 - "Ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it ...;
2 - "They that hate you shall reign over you;
3 - "Ye shall flee when none pursueth you.
4 - "I will break the pride of your power;
5 - "Your land shall not yield her increase...;
6 - "I will send wild beasts (strangers) among you which shall rob you of your children ... and make you few in number.
7 - "I will bring a sword upon you ...;
8 - "I will send the pestilence among you;
9 - "I will ... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols, and my soul shall abhor you;
10 - "I will make your cities waste;
11 - "And I will bring the land into desolation: ..." Lev 26:14-35

God's WORD says that among our people, "Two parts therein shall be cut off and die, but ... I will bring the third part through the fire." Zech. 13:8.

Already, the media-concealed crimes committed by strangers against Saxons have inflicted far more casualties than all our wars, and Babylon's agents now want to take the victims' weapons so that our enemies can finish the job they have started unopposed .

Babylon's End

But God has not forgotten his people. He also says:

"When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him." Isa 59:19; "I will send My Word and save thee and thy seed." Adam & Eve 12:6;

Already, the WORD is loose and running in the land. This WORD says that all the traitors have been condemned by God:

"I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me." Ezek 20:38

This is the day when God will order another Gideon to once again gather the few from the many called, and these few will vanquish the enemies' great numbers. They will remember, "Whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it." Matt 16: 24-25

To prepare for this day Jesus said:

"He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Luke 22:36

Neither has the false shepherd been forgotten:

"Go ye ... and smite: .... and begin at my sanctuary." Ezek (9:1-6)

The Greatest Weapon Against Babylon

But of all the weapons of God, the greatest and the one Babylon fears the most is the WORD itself:

"The word of God is quick, and sharper than any 2-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit." Heb 4:12

The result of using this weapon has already been written:

> "And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up in my face ... and I will call for a sword against him... I will turn thee back, and leave but the sixth part of thee ... I will give unto Gog a place there of graves .... and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude." Ezek 37:21-39:29.

The flood of strangers pouring into our land is coming here only to find graves. Then, Babylon will burn, and its merchants wail:

> "Babylon the great is fallen ... the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. ... And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more. ... The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment ... And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea ... cried when they saw the smoke of her burning ... for thy merchants were the great men of the earth ... And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth." Rev 18:1-2,11,15,17- 18,23[13]

Then, the Saxon nation will at last be left in peace, and under their own vine they can obey God's command and rule God's creation as kings and priests. Then they can worship God the WORD who created them in the beginning as his own special treasure.

13 "Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all."

WACO II?

The 7th Circuit Court has ordered the Indianapolis Baptist Temple in Indianapolis, Indiana, to vacate and allow the government to confiscate the building on April 10th as a result of its refusal to collect withholding taxes from its employees.

The church is not registered as a 501c3 state church, but has continued to operate as a free independent church and school under the Constitutional doctrine of separation of church and state. The church maintains that since it is not a government church it does not have to work for the government by collecting taxes. The church has appealed the court ruling.

When asked if the church members planned to hand the church over on April 10th, a church spokesman replied that they would do as God leads. It is a fact that the government FBI stormed the Waco church and killed its men, women and children for much less defiance.

The internet reports that the out-of-control behavior by American government agencies has caused members of the mid-West militias to fear for the safety of the Baptist Temple church members. As a result, mid-West militias are being put on alert.

the thousands. They exist as an entire sub-culture. They enter as illegals, and those that sponsor them want pay-off as quickly as possible. The quickest way is crime. They are illegal. They are schooled from day one in the illegal tactics of prostitution, making/selling drugs, robbery, petty theft, extortion, kidnaping and murder for hire. It is almost impossible to break down their business activities. They don't speak English and don't interface with our community. They may have a small laundry which they declare is their legitimate business, but drive exotic foreign cars worth many times what they can make from that laundry. All the money they collect disappears. They do not pay taxes. You can't break their code, you can't get the facts. We don't even have any idea how many are here. We have no census of them - but there are thousands. The Revenue Agents say that the illegal entry has been going on for years. DOUBLE NAMES: "Dear Richard: Was interested in 'Matilda Byrd' in your 'Silver Spoon' article. You mention that she was never married and her brother was William Hoskins. Wondered why she was not a Hoskins?" L.J. - Ohio

RKH: Good question. In Essex and King & Queen Counties, there used to be a lot of Hoskins. To tell them apart most children were given double names. A lot of Virginia families still do. My children's last name is Hoskins but they are called Granville-Sydnor (for an ancestor who chose prison rather than give oath of allegiance to the federal government), Georgie-Hume (named for an ancestor condemned to be hanged, drawn and quartered for revolting against the king), John-Hundley (for a grandfather), Rebecca-Royster (for a great-great grandmother), Robert-Byrd (for an ancestor who fought in the Revolution) and Ella-Garnett (for a great-grandmother). At family reunions where several hundred people are present, double names help prevent confusion.

RKH: Christianity is a separatist religion. Hinduism is an integrationist religion. It accepts all religions without regard to "race, creed or national origin", and requires its followers to do the same. The integrationists' "toleration of evil" was born in India. Our fathers believed that God banished the serpent to India.[15] Its poison has emanated from there ever since. Hinduism tolerates everything from whores to tattoos. Christianity doesn't. I believe you told me that you consorted with a whore who betrayed you and I read elsewhere that a nurse in a hospital identified you by your tattoo. Hinduism and its offspring, Christian-Hinduism, is an integrationist religion.Christianity is not.[16]

One Percent Money

Three banks - Macquarie, Rothschild and Mace-Westpac - invented what became known as gold loans. They borrowed gold from Australia's Central Bank at 1%, which was quite happy for a 1% return on the gold in its vaults which otherwise earned nothing. The borrowers immediately sold the gold, invested the proceeds at 18%, and contracted to pay futures prices at a 15% premium to miners who had millions of ounces of gold locked in the ground but who were cash-strapped. The loan from the Central Bank was literally to be repaid in gold as it was mined from the ground - and paid for at the futures price that had already been contracted for. The banks replaced the gold they had borrowed from the Central Bank and made a completely no- risk profit on the deal!

At the same time this was going on, tens of thousands of farmers and small businesses were forced to pay the murderous 18% official interest rate and upwards and went to the wall. On Target Vol. 35, No. 29, Australian League of Rights,

INSTIGATED WARS

Babylon has quietly enveloped the world under the name of the New World Order and Globalism - but it is the same Babylon that our fathers knew. The plan is ancient.

The Scriptures that warned us were banned by renegade priests millennia ago to keep us from being able to defend ourselves.[1] The same priests today keep their lips tightly sealed about Babylon's crimes in exchange for Babylon's gold. The scribes of Babylon tell us daily that good is bad and bad is good. Thus, with the scribes and pharisees leading the way - Babylon continues its march.

This issue will look at Babylon's use of war as a tool of change.

Dog Fighting In Lynchburg

I was talking to a police officer the other day. He told me about dog-fighting in Lynchburg. Both Blacks and Whites fight dogs.

Three years ago when I was in better health, my boy John Hundley and I were out in the hills and stumbled onto a hollow in Amherst County where over 70 grown Pit Bulls were chained next to their shelters. All except for one or two, wagged their rear ends wanting to be petted. We met dog buyers there who had come a long way to buy these fully grown dogs, but the owner was away. I wondered at the time who would buy a grown Pit Bull weighing a 80 to 100 pounds. Now, I think I know.

The officer told me that the police can't stop the dogfights for two reasons. They don't know where they are being held, and usually the fights are held in parts of town where the police really don't want to go.

The Pit

A pit has a pitmaster or ringmaster who is the top man. He says whose dogs will fight and whose won't. He provides the place, the competition, the crowd, and everyone follows his rules. For arranging the fight he gets a cut of everything that goes on in and around his pit. No handler fights his dogs without his permission and without paying him.

To start a fight, dog handlers put their animals on leashes and taunt other similarly restrained dogs. When the dogs are fully aroused they are then released to fight. A great deal of money changes hands in dog fights.

Babylon's Dog Fights

Babylon does the same thing to the nations of the world that dog handlers in Lynchburg do with Pit Bulls.[2]

The Priests Create A King

In India, many centuries before Christ, the priests deposed an uncooperative king. They did this by taking a boy of no particular distinction, training him, and then claiming that their protege was the long lost son of the true king and the reigning king was an impostor. The great King Asoka, the father of Buddhism, came from this line. He was a creation of the priests. A handler.

In that day, news was spread by temple priests. In short order everyone in the land heard the news about their being a new king. Since the story came from priests, it was believed and the sitting king was duly deposed and the priest's protege became the new king and the priests ruled through him.[3]

The Two Systems

There are two systems in the world today that encompass religion, government, trade, and work. The National system and the International system, that operate between nations or inter-nation. The first is that of individual nations. The second is that of those who wish to trade between different nations.

2 A "nation" is a race. A "country" is a taxable entity that may contain more than one nation.

3 Hindu priestly castes even today retain control of their religious organizations, with their incredible wealth, by choosing a baby, training him, and ruling through him for his lifetime. He is not allowed to marry since children would complicate temple wealth ownership. At his death the priests say that the religious leader has been reborn in another child (reincarnation) and so they repeat the procedure to secure the next high priest. With variations they repeat this procedure in their selections of kings (presidents, premiers, rulers) worldwide.

Their entirely different focus makes each an enemy of the other.

The Nation

A nation is a race, a separate people with its own religion and way of life. There are many nations. There are the Japanese, Chinese, Vietnamese, Slav, the several Black nations, the Saxon nation and Jewish nation[4]

Nation Antipathy

There is a natural dislike, distrust, and even hatred that exists between the different nations of the world. This aversion to each other is the thing that makes them different nations. It is something understood by everyone; each believes that the safety and well being of his own people can only come from their own because only their own understands their nation.

The Saxon System

The natural system of the Saxon is based on obedience to the WORD. The WORD instructs him to divide the land and have no monopolies. This results in a self-sufficient farm system (SSFS) in which every man is a king and priest, ruling his kingdom by his God's Law system.[5] Every Saxon understands the rules that are clearly outlined in the WORD. They 4 The Jews scattered over the world are agents of the ITC. However, when gathered together in Palestine they tend to become a nation whose focus is entirely different from that of their international trade representative kinsmen.

5 "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1, and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14 are also at instantly emnity with anyone who will not obey the rules.

The Babylonian System

Babylon's system operates inter-nation - "international". It was a system born in India, the creation of the international merchant.[6] Its purpose was to destroy the natural antipathy that each nation has for other nations so that the Indian merchant can come from abroad and buy and sell in safety, or use his foreign or domestic agents when necessary.

The substitute offered to national systems is the full blown Hindu trade caste system consisting of Priest, King & Army, Merchant; and Worker. Individual nations have their own individual systems. Conquercd nations have the Babylonian trade system.

The cloying sticky glue holding the polyglot system together is - TOLERANCE![7] The trade system tolerates things forbidden by the WORD. It tolerates many gods and their many heresies. It tolerates strangers, monopolies, usury, murder (Thugs), promiscuity, episcopal kings, episcopal priests, merchant monopoly, tribute, racial intermarriage, and the free movement of outcasts to do labor that is beneath the other castes.

6 "A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong." Ecclesiasticus 26:29; "Babylon ... for thy merchants were the great men of the earth." Rev 18:21,23; "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

7 In every conquered nation the onc statute that may not be violated is that everyone must accept everyone else without regard to race, creed, or national origin. If a nation can bc trained to do this they become inter-nation or "intcmational" and will accept the entire Hindu trade system bccausc they cannot rcfuse it.

Victory Of The Nation State

We tend to think in terms of what is good or bad for the Saxon nation to the exclusion of other nations. This is natural, but the fact is that if ANY nation on earth - Slav, Islamic[8] Vietnamese or Saxon - if any or all of them become independent and establish their own nation-state - the Hindu trade system is excluded and in that nation Babylon's Hindu trade system dies.

Nationalism is the divisive thing that the Hindu trade system must suppress at all costs if it is to survive. Thus, separate nations holding the potential of becoming nation-states are the enemy of the International Trade Cartel.

In Saxon lands, the greatest enemy of the ITC is the Saxon's SSF system and the Saxon himself - naturally. Unlike most other nations, the Saxon's God commanded,

> "Let them marry... only to the family of the tribe of their father."
> Numbers 36:6[9]

In addition to excluding other gods and their teachings, the God of the Saxon commands that anyone with any admixture with another nation becomes a member of the nation with whom he is mixed. This is instinctive with all who have not been cartel trained as anti-Saxon "Janissaries".[10]

Since the Saxon is made in the image of his God the WORD, this means that as long as a single Saxon male and female live - the Hindu trade system of Babylon is in danger.

Kali - Death Goddess

Kali, wife of Siva. One of the gods worshiped by Babylon. Around her neck are the heads of her victims and around her waist are their severed hands. Serpents, messengers of the gods, crawl at her feet. One hand hold a severed head, another a weapon. Her other hands are blood stained. Earrings put her in constant contact with the World Force that surrounds her head. The third eye in her forehead allows her to see with spiritual insight. Kali reigns supreme when Saxon fights Saxon or nation fights nation. She cowers most Christian priests who dare not condemn her and by their silence tolorate her. She stands triumphant on a slain white devil. To the Hindu - devils are white.

The suppressed Saxon Scriptures warned that the Naphidem stranger means to "kill us all" so that he can inherit the world for his own (see #286).

War

The Hindu trade system uses war to further its agenda:

1) It relieves economic depression by forcing captive nations to borrow money into existence.

2) It creates demand for expensive weaponry.

3) It destroys enemies.

4) It allows the system to seize private and public wealth during periods of martial law.

5) It destroys material possessions creating replacement demand.

6) It forces concessions from defeated enemies producing on-going tribute.

7) It is a population control measure.

To illustrate, I have selected a few of the more recent wars:

War Between The States: The Hindu trade system conquered the North and imposed its trade system while the hybrid Self-Sufficient Farm System in the South continued to exist as independent nation-states within individual states.

To strengthen its nation-state, the entire United States, but particularly the South, supported "The African Colonization Movement" under which male slaves were to be trained and repatriated back to Africa at age 20 and females at age 18.[11] This, combined with Andy Jackson's plan to relocate Indians beyond the Mississippi, threatened the cartel's inter-nation "international" vision for America. Both the Indian relocation and Black repatriation plans had to be dismantled.

[11] The slave system in America was forced on them by the English king who was a creation of the International Trade Cartel. The same was true in South Africa.

The cartel's economic system of the North was based on usury. Usury is a monopoly. When debts are used to squeeze the people and reduce them to servitude, an economic depression develops as money is paid back into banks and little new money is borrowed into existence.[12] This is what had occurred. A grinding depression had overcome the North in the early 1850s and would not go away. The immediate cause of the war was to relieve this deep on going depression. The following outlines the technique used to get it started:

President Lincoln told the South that he wanted peace.[13] The South believed him and expected peace. Secure in this promise they were startled out of their complacency and enraged to discover that Lincoln had sent an invasion fleet loaded with troops to Charleston Harbor intent on combining forces with Fort Sumter troops to storm the city of Charleston. This provocation put South Carolina in a warlike attitude.

Scribes of the Cartel media reported the event differently in the North. They said that the South fired on the Northern flag when supply ships bearing food arrived on a humanitarian mission to supply food to the hungry boys in blue. The firing on Fort Sumter was presented as an unprovoked warlike act against the flag, honor and humanity of the North. The North was incensed.

This is how America's alien-owned media and its media-selected king worked together to bring the Saxon North and the Saxon South into conflict. A great deal of money changed hands in this fight and the Hindu trade system spread from the North and engulfed the South. This merged the South's SSF nation-state system into the Babylonian caste system of the North. Land was taxed, farms became unprofitable and were abandoned, cities sprang up overnight to stockpile, feed and house Southern workers made surplus by the destruction of their farm system. There they waited for the international corporations to hire them. A new day had dawned. Kings had been reduced to being slaves.

BOER WAR: Gold and diamond fields were discovered in S. Africa. Babylon wanted these fields and wanted to import thousands of cheap Black laborers to work them - which was forbidden by the Boers (Boer: S. African farmer) who wanted their own independent nation-state.

The media scribes told Britain that the Boers were abusing White British citizens who worked the mines. Britain sent troopships full of soldiers to protect them. The Boers' choice was to fight the British soldiers already in South Africa or to wait for the troopships to land and then fight both. They set a deadline for the British to withdraw. When the British didn't - the war was on. Tiny South Africa was destroyed, her population died by the thousands in concentration camps and cheap Black labor poured in to work the mines.

A great deal of money changed hands. Farms were taxed. The Boer nation-state was destroyed. Trade-cities sprang up overnight. Another nation-state foe of Babylon died.

WWII: To end WWI, Germany surrendered on the condition of Wilson's "no territorial aggrandizement". In violation of this condition, the victors took Germany's foreign colonies, Alsace-Lorraine, West Prussia, Selesia and Pomer-ania. Austria suffered most. Many millions of Germans were given to strangers to rule.This incited Germany.[14]

Germany had had a king (Kaiser) hostile to globalization. He was removed after WWI. To keep him from returning to the throne, the ITC first supported the Jewish-led German communist party. These communists were suppressed by German nationalists. These nationalists were then supported by the banking system that determined that at least they could keep the government out of the hands of its former rulers.

These nationalists behaved like nationalists once they obtained office. They stopped tribute payments and Germany blossomed while the rest of the world remained in a terrible depression. A war was necessary for the double-purpose of destroying the reborn German nation-state and at the same time to get the world out of the 1930s depression. The war was engineered in the following manner:

In Polish-occupied Germany, the Germans were thrifty farmers and merchants. The Slavs were not. The ITC media aroused the Polish-Slavs to attack German-Saxons and they killed over 50,000 of them. This was all the additional incitement Germany needed to invade Poland.

The scribes of the cartel media did not report the killing of German-Saxons in either Great Britain or France - they only reported that Germany had invaded Poland in violation of a mutual defense agreement between England and France and Poland. This was the provocation used to get England and France to declare war on Germany. The dogs of war had been incensed and were released to fight.

America Enters WWII

America's handler, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, promised he would keep America out of war. He immediately ordered American destroyers to protect British ships carrying armaments to Great Britain - an act of war. This provoked Germany.[15]

Roosevelt also instructed the Dutch Government in exile in Britain to cut off oil supplies from their Dutch East Indies oilfields to Japan if Japan did not withdraw her troops from Manchuria. Japan could not exist as a modern nation without oil. But, withdrawal from Manchuria would cause her to lose "face" in the Orient - something that Roosevelt's advisors counted on. Japan's choice was to call her soldiers home and "lose face" - or fight. Predictably, Japan chose to fight the one she perceived to be persecuting her. She unleashed her dogs of war against Pearl Harbor.

Babylon's media had soft-peddled all that had gone before Japan's "unprovoked" attack on Pearl Harbor. The attack was all that Americea needed to declare war on Japan. None of these events happened by accident.

Germany Declares War On America

Germany had already been provoked by American attaeks on German submarines and merchant ships and America's anti-German policy of supplying war materials to Great Britain. It was well known that she had an offensive/defensive agreement with Japan. The outbreak of hostilities between

15 See Vigilantes, VPC, Hoskins

America and Japan caused her to make official the undeclared war in the Atlantic already in progress, little of which had been reported by the media.

The cartel-selected handlers of nations had skillfully released their dogs and while the dogs fought the ring-master collected the bets. A great deal of money changed hands in this fight. Saxon killed Saxon by the tens of millions. When it was over the ringmaster continued to manipulate the survivors.

CHINA: Generalissamo Chiang Kai-shek ruled China. China was a confederacy of semi-independent warlords united to fight the Japanese invader and their own communist insurgents.

The atomic bomb ended the war with Japan and the United States sent war material to Chaing Kai-shek to fight the Communist enemy.

This war aid bound for China was then pushed off-ship into the Indian Ocean. Lack of war material at a critical time caused the Chinese Nationalists to fall to the communists under Mao.

The Anti-McCarthy Witch Hunt

Senator Joseph McCarthy, head of the Senate's Un-American Activities Committee was highly successful in his hunt for communists in Washington. Then he learned that the mishandling of American war material dispatched to China caused the fall of Nationalist China. This was high treason! This had more explosive power than even his exposure of communists in Washington. The New World Order's conspiracy was larger than anyone imagined.

To stop McCarthy before the country erupted into a revolution, the pitmaster set his media to the task of shutting down the McCarthy investigations. They went after him him tooth and nail - and got him. The stress caused McCarthy to have a heart attack which killed him. But, before he died he wrote a little book called The Fight For America[16] which has been blacked out by the iron curtain over America. However, there are still people who have copies. The story won't die. The cartel who ruled then rules now. The one difference is - now we know.

KOREA: The Korean communists had no war material with which to wage war. America had surplus war material that had been stockpiled for the invasion of Japan and had never been used. This stockpile was divided. Half went to the communists in Korea and the other half to the communists in Vietnam.

America's media-selected rulers armed both Korean and Vietnamese communists. The purpose being, to bring both the nation of Korea and nation of Vietnam into the Babylonian octopus through war.

Of immediate value, a nice steady low key war was needed to keep America out of a post WWII depression that usually follows the shutdown of war spending. The fact that American and Korean lives were lost was of absolutely no importance to the ITC.[17]

VIETNAM: The other half of the surplus munitions earmarked for the invasion of Japan was sent to N. Vietnam and distributed to the communist insurgents there. The war changed Vietnam from a nation into a taxable entity called a country - a part of the Hindu trade cartel. There are interesting by-lines:

* The communist leader, Ho Chi Minh, was trained by the CIA. This information is contained in the above mentioned book.

* The US transported more than 1,200,000 Cochine Chinese from N. Vietnam to S. Vietnam and abandoned them in the midst of native Vietnamese. Finding themselves in the midst of a hostile Vietnamese population, they became "Vietcong" bandits to survive. This gift of the American government caused Vietnam's "civil war". The civil war was the excuse the Vietnamese government used to expropiate private property which will later be "privitized" into the ITC. Standard procedure.

* The Vietnam farce went so far as having the UN demand that UN forces give loudspeaker warnings before making attacks on communists, and the American media saw nothing strange in this.

* The US had the president of S. Vietnam assassinated.

* The CIA had 50,000 S. Vietnamese landowners assassinated to aid the transition of S. Vietnam into the NWO.

The result of the American government's actions in the Far East has been to destroy the Chinese, Korean and Vietnam nation-states and install cartel governments in their place. These new countries ruled by ITC appointed handlers are now available to further the aims of the NWO whenever their handlers are ordered to do so.

ALGERIA: Algerian Islamic fundamentalists used the ITC's own political voting system and, in spite of the cartel media monopoly, to the consternation of the cartel, voted themselves into power. This is the first time such a thing has happened. Their ITC government refused to step down; they couldn't. To do so would withdraw Algeria from the International Trade Cartel.

War ensued. The fighting between Algeria's ITC government and its Islamic people has been going on for almost a decade and nearly 100,000 lives have been lost. It has been brutal.

Unable to subdue its own rebels, the pitmaster who oversees the affairs of local governments at last stepped in and ordered the state of Israel to help Algeria's hard pressed handler fight his rebels. The following item recently appeared in a financial paper:

> Israel to help Algeria fight terror: Israel is to provide expertise to help Algeria build a counter-terrorism unit in what is seen as a significant strategic move by Israel to improve ties with the Arab state. (Financial Times, March 17, 2000)

This has nothing whatsoever to do with improving ties! Simply put, Islamic nationalism in Algeria threatens to unseat the ITC-imposed government, create an Islamic nation-state, and withdraw from the ITC. The cartel has responded with a crusade to crush the Islamic nationals. Thus we have the paradox of a Jewish state and an Islamic state combining efforts to subdue Islamic rebels.

If necessary, the ITC will call in as many subject countries as needed to help with the effort - Islamic, Jew, Christian, Buddhist, Black or White - as many as they need to subdue the revolt against the cartel - for that is what it is.[18]

Make no mistake, a revolt against a government, any government, is a revolt against ones who established that government - the International Trade Cartel, also called the New World Order, but whose ancient name is - BABYLON!

CHECHNIA: Turkic Chechnia is Moslem. It is also a nation. It is also a nation attempting to establish its own nation-state.

Slavic Russia is also a nation. It is Christian Orthodox. It has long been the mortal enemy of the Turk. Slavic Russia is also making rumblings about becoming a nation-state. Thus far, there are only rumblings because Slavic-Russia is still firmly in the hands of the ITC.

The ancient Slav enmity against the Turk serves the ITC well. War between the two allows the media-elected Russian government to re-establish its iron grip over its Slav subjects. The war against Chechnia also destroys a breakaway nation-state. It's a win-win situation for the pit-manager, as most ITC-arranged conflicts are.

The following news item slipped under the media's iron curtain:

> "Russia's new president Putin dismissed the mounting evidence that the Russian security services had a hand in blowing up blocks of flats in Moscow as 'raving madness.'
> "'It is immoral even to consider such a possibility,' he said. The explosions which killed nearly 300 people were blamed on Chechnian terrorists and served as the pretext for the invasion of the Caucasian republic." (Financial Times Weekend, March 18/March 19, 2000, p1)

It is the writer's opinion that the Chechian affair is just one more in the long list of ITC-instigated wars. The primary reason most of these wars are instigated is to keep nations from becoming un- manageable nation- states.

Summery

A Chinese philosopher once said that one must know two things about war; himself and his enemy. If he knows himself and his enemy - victory is assured. If he knows only himself - he stands only half a chance of victory. If he knows neither himself nor his enemy - defeat is inevitable.

Bablylon has rolled out its media guns to keep Reform Christianity from telling the Saxon who he is and what his God requires of him. This information would keep the Saxon from defeat.

Babylon has also discovered that Reform Christianity has discovered who Babylon is and is telling the Saxon nation that, too. To prevent informed Saxons from reacting to this news by gathering together to become a Nation-State and separating from the cartel, a worldwide anti-Saxon attack has been launched.

We, whom God chose in the beginning as His messengers, must agree that in spite of the natural antipathy with which we regard other nations and with which they regard us, that we must hold in our protests at our borders in the face of constant ITC "staged" provocations. Different nations must agree to disagree while they join forces to banish the ring-master who would live on our blood.

The Saxon's mission is to teach the separate nations of the world that the Hindu trade system is in reality a Hindu slave system. No longer can we afford to maintain a Hindu caste system in which the stranger is above and we are beneath.

We must teach our people that we can no longer allow the Hindu slave master to loose the dogs of war whenever it suits him so that in the end he can walk over the bodies of our dead and take the survivors and make slaves of them.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: An American pastor sent me a booklet The Phinehas Hoods which attacked your book Vigilantes of Christendom. I went back and reread the book and I still cannot find thc erroneous passages he said were there. So I wrote back and told him I agree with you. You are one of the few who understand our predicament and you are a steadfast friend of SA.

Neither did I like the way the alien media attacked your book, War Cycles / Peace Cycles. Saxons should realize that such attacks are done by the enemy and their agents to try to demonize our people. We can clearly see this in David Irving's trial against Deborah Lipstadt. Although he only used facts, her lawyer said he manipulated them to suit his ideological bias. We pray for his vindication.

Jews are leaving SA. Their Synagogue's are closing in many places, including a huge old-age home. Still, the the few left are so ill-mannered that we have had a few fights with them last week. They are so used to having their own way that it came as a surprise when a Christian tells them they are Jews and behave as such.

A TV programme 20/20 shown over the American ABC TV station stressed the crime situation in S.A. and they did not spare the details. They showed how whites are murdered without motive and with much cruelty. Also in clear language they said that it started after the ANC took over and that ordinary law abiding citizens have no protection and no rights. Rights belong to criminals who are 99% Black. The authorities protect the criminals so crime continues to soar.

North of us in Zimbabwe (Rhodesia) chaos rules. Mugabe lost the referendum that would back up his stance that he can change the constitution to allow black war veterans to take over White farms. So far they have occupied 600 farms bringing all farming activities to a halt. Tobacco and other plants, largely for the export market, are rotting on the farms and in green houses. This was Mugabe's only foreign income and his monetary situation is so critical that he can not pay for fuel from Mozambique or electricity from S. Africa. He borrowed R800 million from this government, but I see no improvement. He incited those Blacks who in some cases were not even born before the bush war. They are posing a threat to the White farming families. A judge ruled against these squatters, but the police and what is left of the army (the rest sit in the Congo helping to overthrow the Congolese government) refuse to act as Mugabe has not ordered them to act. It seems to us that Whites living are in great danger.

To the east, Mozambique (Portuguese East Africa) had floods caused by cyclones and as the land is very flat, overflowing Zambezi, Limpopo and other rivers quickly covered the land. Our helicopters flew for four weeks airlifting Blacks out. The locals complained about the thousands that drowned and about the aid that came too late. In the end it turned out that the food and medical supplies sent by many countries simply disappeared from the storerooms. It had been stolen by officials and sold on the black market. These same cyclones starting in the Mozambique channel caused floods in the low veld near the Kruger Park, Northern Transvaal etc, especially in those area where vegetables and fruit are produced. The price of these commodities has already risen. We have not had so much rain since we moved out here and it continues.

The Human Rights Commission started their hearing without "Die Afrikaner" newspaper. They sent the report by Claudia Braude on racism in the media in English to the office and our editor refused it, asking for a translation. Nothing was received to date and I doubt if it ever will. Apparently Mbeki and the rest have such inferiority complexes that they cannot tolerate it when they are criticized or told in what a mess the country is in. Newspapers according to them must only praise them and show all the good they are doing.

Around the New Year many fires were started by arsonists in the Cape Province and entire mountains were burnt black.

With Best wishes, K.J.

Chapter 308

LEAVE US ALONE

In this century, many nations of the world have felt themselves oppressed and have removed themselves from the control of those they identified as their oppressors. The Egyptians, Palestinian Jews and India removed themselves from British control. Ireland and now Scotland have revolted against England. The Russian Slavs threw off the rule of their Russ nobility; the Indonesians severed "Dutch Colonialism" and black Africa has rejected white rule and chosen, for better or worse, to rule itself. Even the American Indians are exerting their claim to self-rule in their "reservations" over which they exercise the sovereignty of small countries.

The craving for independence is not confined to the colored nations alone, it is also to be found in the Saxon nation and is supported by their Holy Scriptures which prophesy that in the last days;

> "They will each turn to his own people, and each one will flee to his own land. Anyone who is found will be thrust through, and anyone who is captured will fall by the sword. Their little ones will also be dashed to pieces." Isaiah 13:14-16

It is unimportant whether one agrees with the growing Saxon craving for independence or not; it is important to know that in spite of their rulers calling the Saxon craving for self-rule a "hate crime" - the ideal of freedom and self-rule exists and has perhaps found an articulate spokesman in Hans Schmidt, the author of a new book End Times/End Games.[1]

Hans Schmidt is the the head of GANPAC - "German American Political Action Committee". This is the only political action committee speaking for Americans of German descent, one of the largest ethnic groups in the country. However, the craving for independence that it evidences speaks for growing numbers of Saxons worldwide who rightly or wrongly feel that their race is oppressed and desire the same self-rule they have extended to others. The following is from the Foreward of Schmidt's new book and is printed with permission.

A Personal Message

After having nearly completed this book, I was asked by one of my closest collaborators what I would say to Jews if I ever had the opportunity to speak to them at one of their numerous gatherings. Well, here it is. I do hope you notice the exasperation.

Why don't you leave us alone?

We don't need you to create a happy and prosperous life for us. Wherever we settle on this earth, we get along well without you. Look at the last, almost pure white stronghold on earth, namely, little Iceland, and notice what an orderly, nearly crimefree society our people can create when there are no Jews in important positions. All other white nations on earth are in an unstoppable decline precisely because the Jews within their borders have assumed positions to which they are not entitled: Not by virtue of their race, their religion, their culture, nor due to their talents or nature.

1 End Times / End Games, Hans Schmidt

We don't need your politieians and your politieal system, a system designed to further your interests, but whieh is alien to us beeause it is based upon lies and deeeit, eorruption, terror and hypoerisy. For eons, our ancestors did just fine when you were not around. They ruled themselves, it was a rule according to their needs, wants and inclinations.

We don't need your war propagandists like the late Walter Lippmann, Samuel Untemyer, Ilya Ehrenburg, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and so many others before and after them. We realize you needed them in order to ereate a war psychosis in the Ameriean, Russian and their peoples whenever it suited your needs. We can tell you that our Aryan peoples would have been better off with just knowing the truth. Only the truth would have made a lasting peaee possible, but the dispensation of the truth was, and is, seemingly not ever in the interest of your tribe.

We don't need your zillion "experts" in the press, on TV, and radio to inform us of world events from the Jewish perspective, or to tell us how to ereate a happier life. Without you, before you were around en masse, our peoples were God-fearing, cheerful and more satisfied than they are now.

We don't need your raee-mixers, multi-eulturalists, "liberals", integrationists, soeialist do-gooders, and promoters of "diversity". Your ADL, Simon Wiesenthal Center, AJC and so many other groups would do well to eheek for "diversity" and "integration" first in their own offiees before jumping on non-Jews who do not seem to eomply with your insatiable demands that all others, but not you, abandon their heritage.

We don't need your "finaneiers". Billions of people on this earth would be better off if there were no Baruehs, Sehiffs, Greenspans, Rubins, Milkens and all the others whose principal aim seems to be to eontrol the wealth created by others.

Imagine how much happier the multitudes of Asia would be just now if George Soros, undoubtedly with the generous assistance of his "ethnic" brethren, had not felt the need for further riches, and began toppling the Asian and Russian currencies.

We don't need your philanthropists. For someone who steals a billion, it is easy to give one hundred million away, and then pretend that he or she is a great benefactor of mankind. The real charities of the world, for instance, selfless Catholic nuns in the hospitals, Red Cross nurses on the battle fields, or people connected with the SOS children's villages and the Salvation Army, are usually non-Jews.

We don't need your loan sharks, gangsters, porno kings, betting parlors, pimps and dope pushers. There are still some areas in Aryan lands where these "professions" are not allowed, and everybody know that in such areas little crime can be found. We realize that without crime there would be fewer job openings for Jewish judges, lawyers and even law professors at universities, but we would gladly part with them.

We don't need the Jewish icons of our age: Not Albert Einstein, nor Siegmund Freud and Karl Marx. The harm they did to all of humanity (generally with the wholehearted support of all of Jewry,) is inestimable. For ourselves we still have Luther, Kant, Schopenhauer, Nietzche and Heidegger - to name but a few. But there are thousands.

We don't need your art dealers, art connoisseurs and art critics who are all so determined to alter the psychological make-up of the masses of our people by destroying their healthy instincts for what is ugly or beautiful. Without your brethren in the art business, truly great Aryan artists might have again a chance to create masterpieces which will endure for centuries or even millennia.

We don't need your kind of government ministers to rule us, your ambassadors to represent us, and your behind-the-scenes administrators to tell us what to do with the land originally cultivated and civilized (mainly) by Anglo-Saxons and Germans. Your Kissingers, Albrights, Achtenbergs, Rubins, Holbrookes, Kornblums and Lawrences could never be in the same league with outstanding people like George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams and Benjamin Franklin, to name but these few.

We don't need your merchant moguls. Long before you came upon the scene, the grain from Poland and the Ukraine reached Western Europe without Jewish grain dealers making huge profits, and Scottish whiskey was shipped across the world without the Bronfmans. Nürnberg, Augsburg, Leipzig, Florence, Venice and Milan were great trading centers long before the Gimbels, Saks, Mays and Bloomingdales became known.

We don't need your music. Not Schoenberg, nor Mahler, nor Bernstein, nor all your other fiddlers. And, certainly not the cacophony camouflaged as music which you currently impose on our youth. I mean those horrible, soul-destroying noises like rap and hard rock. Listen to Wagner's "Tannhäuser", Beethoven's "9th", and Strauss' "Also sprach Zarathrustra", or Mozart melodies, and realize whereof I speak. No Jew could create anything remotely like that (not even Mendelsohn, who was one of your best.) We find it symptomatic that conductor Leonard Bernstein ended his last public performance shortly before his demise not with a composition by himself, or, for instance, by Gustav Mahler, but with Beethoven's 7th Symphony.

We don't need your artists in sculpture, painting and architecture. Contemplate, for a moment, if you can, the garbage your people are creating and promoting. Look especially at your depressing Holocaust "art". Then compare this truly worthless junk with the works of the ancient Greeks and Romans, and Michelangelo, Rembrandt, Düer, Titian, Breker, Wren, Schinkel and so many others of our stock with truly artistic gifts. There is no comparison!

We don't need your inventors and inventions. ALL the great inventions that have had such a lasting impact on our lives, for instance, cars, jet planes, TV-sets, rockets to the moon, computers and electron microscopes (to name but very few) are brain children of Aryan minds. The greatest typically Jewish invention is the Atomic bomb, and that will probably be your undoing.

We don't need your "Hollywood", with everything which this term means. The harm done to the Aryan mind through the incessant noxious effluent from "Hollywood" created by you and your kind in the movie and TV studios is inestimable. You know of the harm done to our offspring, or why else would you impose a taboo on the question of what really causes young children to murder their school mates and teachers? It is not the possession of guns.

We don't need your rabbis preaching brotherhood and tolerance to us, pushing a mythical "diversity", while they, and you, are the most self-centered and intolerant people on earth. How many "Goyim" do you allow in the top echelons of the ADL, the American Jewish Congress, the Wiesenthal Center or the "Presidents of major Jewish Organizations"? None? How come? Where is your tolerance and your continuously alleged desire for diversity?

We don't need the multitudes of your professors and teachers brainwashing our youth to the point where they have lost all knowledge of our glorious past, and have developed a proclivity for indecency, arrogance, dishonesty and crudeness. Collectively you manage to befuddle our offspring to such a degree that soon they will really believe, contrary to all facts, that there are no differences between races, peoples, tribes and individuals, with the exception, of course, of the Jews, who tell us they are God's Chosen, an allegation nobody is allowed to question.

We don't need your abortionists. How many lives has your "Holocaust" against innocent white babies, as yet unborn, cost us? (A single Jewish doctor, and a "Holocaust survivor" to boot, a Dr. Morgenthaler operating in Canada, admitted in October 1998 that so far he has performed 65,000 abortions, most of them obviously on Aryan girls.) What is it that draws your doctors to this ignominious profession? Is it because of the easy money they can earn, or do they enjoy the untimely removal of every fetus because, by chance, the properly delivered and fully grown Aryan human being might be just one more person whom you must hate?

We don't need your professional Holocaust survivors (Elie Wiesel and Simon Wiesenthal come to mind,) who collectively have created what Professor Butz called "The Hoax of the Twentieth Century". Their insidious admixture of fact with fiction has created a fairy tale that in later centuries may prove "the" text book case for a successful, albeit temporary, propaganda coup of world-wide dimensions. Whether you have managed to replace the blood libel against the Jews with a blood libel against the Germans (or Christians and Whites in general) remains to be seen. We doubt it.

We don't need your judges telling our people (who still constitute the bulk of Americans) that they can not begin the school day with a prayer. We don't need their orders to hire blind people to operate computer systems, or to rent to homosexuals, even though such practices are abhorrent to us, or that we must accept abortion on demand because you say so (and because it seems in your interest.) We also don't need your judges to tell our sound-of-mind children that they can be held back in school because imbeciles must share the school benches with them, and the teachers have to pay more attention to the feeble-minded than to healthy students.

We don't need your laws. Many of them are against the natural laws upon which our ethical behavior and our morals are based. Your use of double jeopardy and ex post facto laws, and your frequent transgressions against time-tested statutes of limitations, is abhorrent to us even if you clothe your actions under the guise of a search for justice. Never in the annals of our culture, and until your appearance as a power factor in Western jurisprudence, have veterans of a war long gone by been persecuted for actions which more than fifty years ago had been legal. Your OSI is one of the most pernicious examples of the illegitimate use of perfidious laws whose sole purpose is the exacting of vengeance by one single group. It also exemplifies the pattern of a continuous and flagrant transgression by the Jews against the ethical prohibition of conflict of interest that was imbued in Western Civilization before your people became too powerful.

Along with the above, we don't need the rules and regulations you, above all, have imposed upon us, and finally pushed down our throats as the "laws of the land", namely, the statutes pertaining to "affirmative action"; "civil rights", "separation of Church and State", "immigration of Third World peoples; "special preferences for HIV-infected homos"; "anti-gun control"; "school busing" --- their number is almost endless. Few Jewish legislators ever voted against an increase in taxes, and, not to forget, every single law passed by so-called democratic legislators is used to hog-tie the people even more. "Democracy" as practiced today is your game.

We don't need your lawyers; private, corporate or governmental. Rarely has one single profession caused so much harm to a nation as have Jewish lawyers (or, lawyers imbued with a Jewish Talmudic Weltanschauung) to the Untied States. Harvard, the current citadel of the teaching of Jewish shenanigans, was a far better university before it became overrun with Jewish faculty members and students. There had been sound reasons for a numerus clausus of old.

We don't need your writers. Almost all the great literature in the English language, literature that can still be seen on the shelves of libraries, was written by our people. With agents, publishers, professional critics and newspapers that accept their articles, and the book sellers now mostly belonging to your tribe, it follows that today's bestsellers are essentially your products. Will any of them eventually be part of the great literature enduring over the ages? We doubt it.

We don't need your "celebrities". Television would be so much better without the likes of Seinfeld, Koppel, Wallace, Rivera, Larry King, Barbara Walters and, not to forget, Jerry Springer. We remember when Jews created good movies and good TV series because the Jewish owners of studios and stations had to be careful not to insult the sensibilities of the Aryan viewers and listeners? Now, with your power and influence being nearly limitless, you believe that you do not have to mind us anymore, and your true tastes and inclinations come to the fore. (The mention of Jerry Springer allows the comment that perhaps no individual in the United States epitomizes Jewry better than this "entertainer": brash, pushy, and always in need of accolades and recognition; obviously also beset by deep insecurities and, last but not least, with a love to dwell in the gutter where normally no decent person would venture.)

We don't need your scientists, no matter how many truly excellent ones you yourselves have among your people. But the truth is that the greatest scientists of Western Civilization, those that made the seminal discoveries, were ALL Aryans: Leonardo da Vinci, Galileo, Newton, Copernicus, Leibnitz, Kepler, Lilienthal, Oberth, to name but few of tens of thousands, were all Northmen. The thought arises how many potential great discoverers belonging to our peoples were never able to develop their skills because too many Jews at too many of our universities had occupied the study places rightly belonging to them?

We don't need your input in military affairs. You do not have a great military tradition in the ways of Frederick the Great, Napoleon, Hitler, Wellington, Nelson, Robert E. Lee, Nimitz and others. Your demands that young women enter combat alongside their brothers, and your orders that homosexuality be accepted by the military as merely another form of "sexual orientation," are destroying the Armed Forces of this nation. In the next war, a war sure to come, will you accept responsibility when the dismal results of your actions assure defeat?

We don't need your psychiatrists, psychologists, school counselors and lonely hearts columnists. Our people were far happier and mentally healthier without their advice. If your immoral, unethical and nihilistic TV, radio, "educational" and press propaganda had not destroyed the morals of the masses (and thereby also caused the collapse of the family-oriented society,) nobody would have to write to or talk to the likes of Ann Landers, Abigail van Buren, or Laura Schlessinger.

We don't need your historians. Although they pretend to be the epitome of objectivity and evenhandedness, not one of them - not one! - can ever be truly neutral, and write or teach without having his Jewishness "coming to the fore", so to say. Our children are being taught to hate their own ancestors, to look down on those who created the great European and American nations. American school children of the 1990s are quite familiar with the notorious (and false) figure of "6 million" Jews killed in World War II, but none know the actual number (407,316) of American soldiers who gave their life for their country in the same conflict. That is your doing! You cannot deny it!

We don't need your Spielbergs, Katzenbergs, Eisners et al. As far as we are concerned, none of your movie makers have been able to surpass the artistry and talents of our David W. Griffith, Walt Disney or Leni Riefenstahl.

We don't even need your medical doctors and dentists, although many of them are not only expert in their field, but also truly dedicated human beings who perform modern miracles with techniques developed by them. However, an Aryan cannot fail to remember Roentgen, Barnard, von Behring or Fleming and so many others who, in times gone by, were able to study at our universities because a numerus clausus prevented the Jews from overextending themselves. (How many of our able students can at the present not study medicine or other subjects of their choice because their slots are taken by too many Jews?)

We don't need the fashions you surreptitiously impose on us. Are you proud of the fact that as a result of your silent imposition hundreds of millions of people on earth clothe themselves in Marxist, anti-social garb like blue jeans, which are actually dungarees, namely, pants to wear when clearing the dung out of the stables? As a result of your propaganda, the very people who abhor finely tailored military uniforms, believing that wearing them indicates submission to authority, actually dress in a sloppy uniform that denotes not freedom and individualism, but anarchy, and political correctness cum abject conformity.

We don't need your Tikkun olam, your belief that you, of all people, can repair or create a perfect world. You must remember that, left all to yourselves, you, contrary to us, could not exist. You would wither. Your Zionist entity in the Middle East, the Jewish state of Israel, could not exist for a year without financial assistance from abroad, mainly without tribute garnered from America and Germany. And such a people wants to repair the world? Get real! Furthermore, we consider the assumption of any homo sapiens to be able to "repair the world", and create earthly perfection, to be blasphemy.

We don't need your New York Times, Washington Post, U.S. News & World Report, and the innumerable other Jewish-owned and Jewish- controlled newspapers and magazines on earth that provide such a skewed world view to our masses. Do you seriously believe that your method of having mostly Jewish columnists digesting the daily news for us improves our knowledge and mental health? Would our H.L. Mencken or an Oswald Spengler today have a chance to see his comments published? We doubt it.

We don't need you, the self-proclaimed eternal innocent victims of the alleged bigotry of others, to impose guilt complexes on our peoples. Whatever has happened to you in the past was usually a reaction to your nefarious actions. Separate from us -- we let you go --, and you shall suffer no more, we hope. All by yourself you may even create the earthly paradise of your dreams.

We don't need your constant calls for change, or progress, or reform, or growth, and revolution, etc., etc. Often our peoples are quite satisfied with their situation in life as it is, and your neverending endeavors to destroy the good that is, for nebulous rewards in the future, create only unhappiness and mental sickness.

We admit: You are superb politicians. Far better than we are or will ever be. You have a single-mindedness like no one else; you have honed your political skills for thousands of years, and you have the great advantage of not being plagued by a bad conscience when others suffer because of your actions. You are fantastic in your ability to play one side against the other. This is why "democracy" is your game. You bribe politicians and judges; you lie to the voters; you exploit the human weaknesses of others, and generate transgressions when they are not there. You set son against father, daughter against mother; sibling against sibling, and entire tribes, peoples and nations against each other. People who are watching you and your doings constantly, cannot conceal their amazement when they notice the ease with which you create your false values out of nothing, and how you are able to diminish true values to the point of nullity. There are no better magicians than you. Your ability to divert, with your shell games, the attention of the Goyim masses from the essentials of life is astonishing. But just as your financial speculators can only create the illusion of wealth, so does your unquestioned savvy in politics create only the illusion of freedom. With all your intelligence and political perspicacity you really seem to live under the illusion that you can create a better world for all, while in fact you are only able to destroy everything you touch. We do pity you.

Finally this: Do you realize you are smothering us? With you around we can't breathe, and we are greatly stifled in our creativity. We don't want to see the world through Jewish eyes, something almost unavoidable today. Abe Rosenthal, Charles Krauthammer and William Safire must be stand-ins for thousands of your brethren of similar ilk, persons who pre-chew every thought that might enter Aryan minds, and prevent our self-assertion where and when it is most needed. Your people are masters at obfuscation, lies, deceit, and dishonesty through selective reporting. The result of your attempts at trying to alter the Aryan psyche through mind-manipulation can only create discord and dissension. Alas, in the final analysis, although you know us well, you will never understand us, just as we understand you but we shall never really know you, and therein lies the danger.

We know that you believe you are the best and brightest of human beings, and that you enrich our lives immeasurably. But you are wrong. We, as rational people, have to weigh one against the other: your unquestioned talents in some fields of human endeavor against the destructive effects you, as a collective, have on a broad spectrum of our existence. Perhaps most of all, many of your endeavors run counter to our ideal of what life is all about.

We also know that you have been told, and most of you seem to believe it, that we "hate" you. That is why your fanatical activists have been subverting the Constitution with so-called "hate" laws, most of which were passed to assure special privileges and safeguards for you. But, truly, honestly, we do not hate you. We hate your lies and your basic dishonesty. We hate many of your nefarious actions. We hate when you, as a collective (people, religion, tribe, sect, culture, nation,) try to impose your immorality, your lack of cthics, and your odd and archaic "Weltanschauung" on us. We hate it when you flagrantly enrich yourselves on the fruits of our labor, and later claim that it was all your accomplishment. But we especially hate what you do to our children. You - most of all - are destroying their minds, and therewith their future.

Therefore, --- Just butt out of our lives. Leave us alone. Let us separate. You are so intelligent, you believe you are so much superior to us, and you are the Chosen of your God. Show us what you can do by yourselves by creating a viable entity just for your people (Parasitical Israel obviously isn't it.) When you leave, take along all the gold and diamonds you have so diligently amassed. We don't need it. But let's exchange our cultural values: You take the Picassos, Oldenbourgs, Rothkos, Warhols and Epsteins (etc.) with you, and we'll take back all of our Rembrandts, Titians, Dürers, Holbeins, Michelangelos, and the like. A fair trade. We give you what you like, and we repossess what comforts us - art works which express the needs of our souls. And, just imagine, you can keep all that wonderful abstract art, including the Holocaust monuments, for yourselves. That ought to make you happy. Our sincerest wishes are with you, and we promise not to invade you or make inordinate demands on the wealth you are sure to create all by yourselves.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins, On Saturday, my sister-in-law phoned. She had a letter stating that a black farm worker demanded residential rights. It seems that this worker started working on the family farm in the 1970s. At the moment he looks after the cattle. He is no longer young, but no black was ever turned away on account of old age. They get a pension and stay free until they die. So there must be more to this story. His two sons are teachers and must have told him to lay a claim.

Most of my father's farms were from the 18th century. The main one dates back to 1850 when the first in my father's line came directly from the Cape Province to settle there. He farmed and raised cattle and had a few sons to help. Luckily my late father kept a journal on the family history. There were no blacks living in this area when we got here. The landscape is open grassland. The Zulus had previously warred against other tribes and they had no place to hide from them so most fled long ago to what is now Botswana.

Many present day historians write about the Anglo-Boer war as if they have all the knowledge in the world - and they are so politically correct. It must come as a surprise when books written by eyewitnesses just after the war from manuscripts they kept during the war are reprinted and the contents differ completely from theirs. One such book was by Rev. J. D. Kestell who fought in DeWet's commando. He describes the person DeWet as a strong personality who got his fellow Boere to do what he wanted even though no real discipline existed before. The secret of his strength was apparently that although he was friendly towards everybody he was never intimate with anybody. He was secretive as a sphinx. In his own book, DeWet wrote that he quickly learned to keep all his plans to himself in case there was someone around who might carry information to the enemy.

Poor Rev Kestell spent a relatively comfortable life before the war. He quickly found that in guerrilla warfare he had to adapt to enormously changed conditions and there were no comforts what-so-ever. After the war Rev Kestel began a children's home in the Free State and he became known far and wide as Father Kestel.

I read and think about the same hatred displayed towards the Southern States of North America, Germany and South Africa. One reason was definitely to break up the farm system and take possession of Southern plantations and the riches that emanated from the land. In Germany, it was to harness their labor and to take possession of their inventions. In our case they wanted the minerals under the ground and to take over our strategic position on the trade routes that go around the tip of southern Africa.

But, there is more. Trade was one. Before WWII we could not make a safety pin, it had to be imported from England. As factories were set up we became self-sufficient, especially in those areas where they boycotted us. Now, with the new labour laws passed by the ruling blacks, these trade unions are killing industries. The trade unions have so much power that a black worker can do practically as he pleases.

We hear from certain American preachers who pretend to be our friends but really aren't. They prove it by always attacking someone on our side who is really doing something. But the thing that worries me is the silence of our own people on all that is wrong that is going on around them. That upsets me. Few seem to find fault with sex education for kindergarten children on TV; two day sex seminars at schools - even the youngest children who should not even be bothered about such things. One mother kept her child out of school, but that is still not good enough. People are afraid to be called names if they stand up for what is right and proper.

Terre Blanche will be going to prison for a year. He is the leader of the militia on whom we had placed so much hope.

He hesitated at the last moment, the black curtain descended, and the lights went out in South Africa.

Best wishes, K. J.

God's Representative by TKC

The current movement in Britain to re-write the Coronation Ceremony for Prince Charles could perpetrate a crisis of epic proportion.

The former Bishop of Durham, Right Rev. David Jenkins, has been spearheading such a move for about three years. Dr. David Hope, Archbishop of York, number two in the Church of England hierarchy, has thrown his support towards changes that will result in a secular multifaith "installation ceremony."

The group of reformers wants a role for the Roman Catholic and Methodist Churches, the Chief Rabbi and a representative of Islam instead of the exclusive leadership of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

It is proposed that the eucharist be removed from the ceremony.

Such reforms would throw into question the establishment of the Church of England and the monarch's role as Defender of the Faith and Supreme Governor of the Church of England. The monarch is Supreme Governor by virtue of being sovereign." TKC", Vol 13, No 3)

BOB JONES DECLARES WAR AGAINST GOD: "Bob Jones is dropping its ban on interracial dating" declared Bob Jones III on CNN's Larry King Live. "I'm pleased that they've changed the policy," said Gov. Bush, the Republican Party front runner for president. The school started admitting Black students after it lost a 13-year battle with the IRS and its tax-exemption, but the school banned interracial dating.

Jones, playing stupid, told King that the school had no biblical reference to support interracial dating.

The Lynchburg News & Advance of Oct 24, 1998, p2. said this about Bob Jones University. "The schools ban on interracial dating or marriage prompted the Internal Revenue Service to revoke its tax exempt status in 1970, a decision upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court."

It is a fact - interracial dating leads to interracial marriage.[2] The Scriptures say this:

> "If there is any man in Israel who desires to give his daughter or his sister to any man who is of the seed of the Gentiles, he shall surely die, ... for Israel is holy to the lord and every man that defiles must surely die. ... And to this law there is no limit of days and no ceasing and no forgiveness ... And thou Moses, command the children of Isroel ... thot they shall not give ony of their daughters to the Gentiles ond that they sholl not take any of the daughters of the gentiles; for this is accursed before the Lord. ... And it is disgraceful to Israel to those thot give and to those that receive from the Gentiles any daughters, for it is unclean and oeeursed to Isroel ... for there will be plagues upon plogues, eurse upon eurse, and all punishment and plogues ond curses will come. ... and if they blind their eyes to those that eommit uneleonness ... then shall the whole people together be punished, ... ond there will be no respect for persons, and no consideration for persons, and no taking of ... offering and burnt offering ... as a sweet savour, that it may be acceptable. ... And on account of this I have commonded thee, soying: 'Testify this testimony over Isroel: see how it happened to the Shechemites and their sons, how they were given into the hands of the two sons of Jacob and they slew them in tormcnts, and it was justice to them, and it is is written down for justice coneerning them.'" Chapter 309

AUSTRALIA VISITED

I received an invitation to speak to a church conference in Australia. Never having been to Australia and having heard nothing but good things about it, I accepted with pleasure.

Long Trip

The trip from Lynchburg started with a 4 hour drive to Dulles Airport in DC. The Dulles waiting time was two hours before the 4 1/2 hour flight to Los Angeles. The Los Angeles wait was 3 hours before a 14 1/2 hour flight to Melbourne.

The seats on transpacific planes have built in extensions on top that fold inward against the sides of your head holding it immobile. In theory, this allows you to sleep, if you are one of those who can sleep on planes.

Arriving in Melbourne, I retrieved my baggage, presented my passport and visa, and went though customs. I thought they might look askance at my food supplements and vitamins, but the thing they pounced on were the two apples I had been saving. A dog checked me over and passed my food supplements, but not the Apples! Customs have apple sniffers? The lady inspector relieved me of my contraband apples and passed me through. I had officially arrived in Australia.

I then re-checked my baggage through to Cairns (pronounced "cans"), and waited 3 hours for my next flight.

Observations Thus Far

The airports I passed through all looked alike. It's almost impossible to tell what city or country you are in by the airport. The planes on the ground all look alike. The buildings all look the same. The people do, too.

The only planes I saw were Boeings - all made in the U.S. - mostly 747s. I didn't see any European built "airbuses". The cities where the airports are located also all look alike. Even the buildings look alike.

Money Changers

In Melbourne, I turned in my U.S. dollars for Australian dollars. The money exchangers gave me Australian dollars for US dollars at the rate of .5641¢ each. I later exchanged them back at the rate of .6161¢ - a 9.2% profit for the money exchanger - one way. Since I exchanged my money twice - once for Australian dollars, and then exchanged the Australian dollars for US dollars - I paid 18.4%.

There were long lines waiting to exchange millions and millions of dollars - half for US dollars, the other half for Australian dollars. Travelers trade them coming and trade them back when they go. Back and forth, back and forth. Out of each million dollars exchanged coming and going - $192,000 goes to the money exchanger for performing a virtually risk free operation. The grabber is this 18.4% rakeoff is legal! The people who do this must make a million dollars a day profit and there are several desks open doing block-buster business.

Japanese

In Melbourne, there were large numbers of Japanese employees working for the airport. Many spoke with heavy Japanese accents and were difficult to understand. The loud-speaker announcements on the plane and in the airports were in Japanese as well as English as were the Airport signs. This bespeaks a strong Japanese economic presence in Australia.

Psychodelic Jap

Surprises often remain long after more important things are forgotten. One such surprise remains fresh in my memory.

One thinks of Japanese as having black hair, black eyes, yellow skin and slant eyes. Every Japanese I have ever seen has these features. In the airport a Japanese passed me who had yellow hair, yellow eyebrows, and yellow eyes - which must have had help from yellow contact lenses; he was Japanese but looked like a new species - an oriental goldfinger - or a creature from Star Trek. It was nothing I have ever seen before. It startled the daylights out of me - and everyone else.

Announcement

The airline personnel are always polite. Leaving the plane American Airlines/Quantas announced; "We wish to thank all our 'one world' customers".

Plane Makes

While waiting for the flight for the next leg of my journey, I looked out the airport picture window and studied the many different aircraft on the ground. There were Vietnam Airlines flying Boeings 767; Air China - 747; Quantas - 767 and 747; Fuji Airlines - 747; etc. I know there is the European made "airbus", but I didn't see any on this trip. Just American-made Boeings. There were no German, French, Italian or Japanese made airliners. Just American.

Dungarees, Chewing Gum & Indians

Something else. Everyone in the international hodge-podge of races seen in the airport wore dungarees. Dungarees were designed to be worn to clean dung from stables - which is how they got their name. With every other person wearing them they looked like a New World Order uniform.

A surprising number of otherwise nice looking individuals sat in terminals chewing gum. It seemed familiar - like I had seen it all before. Then it came to me. They looked like a herd of cows lying in a pasture chewing their cuds in unison. I've seen cows look like this a thousand times when I was a boy. That's why it looked so familiar.

I noticed a large number of Indians in the Melbourne airport. Two attractive young lady shopkeepers told me they came from New Zealand.

Australia & Its People

Australia is as big as the United States. There the similarity ends. The habitable parts are the coastal regions. The interior is a vast inhospitable desert.

On the east coast is a strip of habitable land about fifty miles wide. Going west from there you run into mountains. On the other side of these mountains is the desert. It's a barren land much like our own American southwestern deserts where nothing lives. I understand that in other parts the habitable coastal region extends much farther inland with the land becoming increasingly arid the further you go. These semi-arid stretches are where many cattle operations are located. But, the most profitable region is the coastal strip.

Australia's population is only 18 million, most of whom live in large cities, the largest of which is Sydney - 4 million; Melbourne 3m; Brisbane 1m; Adelaide 750,000; Darwin 750,000.

Southern Australia is cool - the north - tropics. Cairns, my destination, was in the tropics. It took more than two hours flying time to get there.

Northern Australia

I was met at the Cairns airport by my congenial host, Hank Roelofs, and driven to our destination about two hours south. We passed miles and miles of sugar cane. I was told that the next several hundred miles were the same - sugar cane. I also saw a few banana plantations with their banana stalks neatly enclosed in plastic bags to protect them from insects.

Conference Center & Speaking Australian

The conference meeting center was our destination - and quite adequate for our needs. Our host had a large family and they introduced me to the Australian tropics and the Australian language. Walking out on the grounds in back one could pick a banana from a tree, a coconut from the ground, a lemon, orange, grapefruit or mango from its own tree. Quite different from anything I have ever experienced in Virginia.

Someone commented on the number and irrationality of the "chooks". A chook was a new animal to me. Exposing my ignorance once more I asked what in the world they were talking about. I learned that in Australia a "chook" is a chicken. A "mozzie" is a mosquito; "porridge" is oatmeal. "Mate" is a comrade - not necessarily a wife. Have to be careful - the Australian language can be a barrier to speech.

There was one rooster that crowed at night instead of in the day. I named him General Lee because he would have been right on time if he had been crowing back in Virginia.

Driving In Australia

The position of the steering wheel took getting used to. It was on the wrong side. I was seated in the "passenger side", which is the driver's side, but with no steering wheel, acccl-erator, or brake. One is strapped in and helpless. Combine that with everyone else driving on the wrong side of the road - panic is just an instant away. Dozing off after being awake for the past 40 hours, I awoke to find myself driving on the wrong side of the road with an approaching car also on thc wrong side, and the steering wheel gone! It's what nightmares are made of. It took a while to get my heart out of my mouth. What a way to wake up!!

In the main north-south two-lane highway there were stretches that were well maintained. Other parts contained numerous potholes and were really quite hazardous - espe-cially when driving at night.

I was told that many of the great corporations doing business in Australia are tax-exempt, and that the burden of paying most of the taxes fell on the little people. Of those taxes, the part that should have gone to road repair goes instead to shelter, feed, and support the tremendous number of illegal immigrants flooding into Australia (called "boat people").

The bulk of the Australian population is concentrated in the larger cities to the south. The further one goes to the tropical north the less dense is the population. I was taking a walk one morning along the main north-south highway about 15 minutes after daylight and one car passed in the time I walked a mile on the highway.

There was one stretch of highway built by American engineers during WWII of which thc Aussies arc vcry proud.

A half-dozen people pointed it out to me. Australians have their share of criticisms about the U.S., along with everyone else, but they really do like America and trust her much more than Americans do.

April 25th, ANZAC Day

ANZAC Day is Australia's "memorial day" and the country makes a great effort to honor their war dead. There are speeches, parades, streamers and decorations, wreath laying and events - all extensively covered by newspapers and TV. There are long talks and newspaper articles rehashing Golopoli and the other battles in WWI, WWII and the Boer War in which Australian troops participated. It's really quite a big thing.

There are also occasional articles protesting Australian involvement in British wars where Saxons were forced to fight Saxons.

Government Criticism

The Australian government are control freaks. They've got a law prohibiting almost everything and another law taxing everything else. There are roadblocks that check licenses and registration. A $150 dollar fine for no seat belts. They even tax "rainwater". I drew the line when I heard this last one, but it appears to be true. In Australia, if you build a dam to collect rainwater you must pay a tax on that rainwater that is supposedly collected since water is taxed. I asked what was one to do if someone built the dam, paid the tax, and there was no rain. Sue God? or sue the government? I'm still waiting for an answer on that one.

The top tax rate is 90% in New Zealand and 69% in Australia.

Australia Pays Indonesia

There is almost universal criticism by Australian Saxons of the political candidates selected by the newspaper owners for them to vote for. There is also criticism of their foreign policy once elected.

For instance, Indonesia, their closest neighbor to the north has a largely Muslim population of between 140 to 170 million compared to Australia's 18 million. Indonesia has laid claim to the northern half of Australia and Australia pays them tribute to keep their hostility at rest.

Part of the on-going tribute takes the form of Australia's military forces training Indonesian soldiers in Australia and sending Indonesia economic aid. Australia gave Indonesia Australia's vast oilfields which lie between Australia and Indonesia as part of the ongoing tribute. This most generous multi-billion dollar gift only satisfied Indonesia for a time.

Just last year, Australia's tribute was $150,000,000 in "aid". One month after payment of the "gift", Indonesia used the money to buy the surplus East German navy for $150,000,000. This purchase was done at a time when Australia has almost finished doing away with its own navy so as not to antagonize its northern neighbor. This purchase gives Indonesia an instant navy at a time when Australia has practically no navy at all to defend its shores.

To further show its peaceful intent, Australia has cut its armed forces back to just over two front line regiments - and these troops are now employed away from Australia under command of the UN protecting Asian Christians facing extermination by Moslems in E. Timor.

In essence, Australia's government has rendered Australia defenseless. No navy, no army, and only a skeleton airforce. It no longer even has an armed militia to protect the country in the army's absence since the government passed draconian laws against private gun ownership to pacify Indonesian suspicions of Australia aggressive intentions.

Everyone appears well informed about the situation. Everyone complained about weapons confiscation. But, it's debatable how much good that will do if hostilities break out.

Ownership

I was told that over 86% of businesses in Australia are owned by foreigners. Most of the extensive sugar cane fields, among other things, are owned by corporations such as Monsanto and Kraft. Japanese feedlots abound everywhere as well as Indian cattle farms; Chiquito has extensive banana plantations. The unending cane fields adjoining our conference center were owned by Indians.

Countryside

Australia has some of the most spectacular views in the world. I was taken on tours that included deep extinct volcanoes, impressive waterfalls, and rainforests.

In one place in the rainforest grew a 500 year old tree called a "figtree". A half a millennia ago a bird left a seed in the top of a forest giant which took root and put out its own foliage above, and octopus like tentacles dropped below that started to descend to the ground. When at last they reached the ground they took root and grew more tentacles which in time killed the host tree leaving the fig tree as the sole survivor.

The fig tree appears to consist of hundreds of impenetrable roots that serve as its trunk, and it grows into the stratosphere where it is crowned by lush branches and foliage. Perhaps thirty men standing arm to arm might be able to circle its base. Impressive. I've never seen anything remotely like it.

There were also volcano lakes where three feet from shore the water is five feet deep and 15 feet from shore the water is 300- 500 feet deep. People swim at their own risk. I never saw a life guard the entire time I was in Australia.

Then there were the billabongs. I was told that a real billabong is a bend in a creek that was bypassed and formed a little pond; but every swimming hole in the mountain streams seemed to be called billibongs. Everyone swam. Adding spice were signs that read, "Watch for crocodiles!"

Abos

The Australian black aborigines are called "Abos" by Saxon Australians. They constitute 2% of the population and constitute 74% of the prison population. Their mythology says that they were created in the "dream times" when the earth was young. The Australian tourist industry promotes this "dream time" scenario as well as Aboriginal handicrafts and a certain weird sounding one note musical wind instrument that was heard in the movie "Crocodile Dundee".

The government treats the Abos as wards of the state and lavishes all sorts of privileges on them which include houses, education, and medical attention. Vast tracts of Australia are set aside for their use at the expense of the Australian Saxons in much the same way that land is being set aside in the U.S.

for wilderness areas and Indian reservations. This is causing a great deal of resentment from Saxons who are displaced.

I was driven through several Black settlements. They appeared to look very much like the many Indian and Black communities here in America. I was told that the reason many Abo houses are without doors is because the Abos burn them in their fireplaces. I was also told that the Abos much prefer orientals to eat because they complain that whites are too salty. The speakers telling these stories always quickly add that cases of Abo cannibalism are infrequent today.

An Anglican priest lectured on his experiencces in Australian prisons. He said that white inmates receive much the worse attention and privileges in a prison system overrun by Abos. Because the Whites were receiving so little attention, he spent most of his time with them. When his activities came to the attention of the Anglican hierarchy, he was called on the carpet.

He said that Abos inmates are allowed unlimited visits from their fricnds, with their immediate family often being flown to the prison at government expense. In contrast, whites are allowed only one visitor a week.

Outback

There seem to be at least a half dozen schemes to develop the "outback". They ranged all the way from tapping a vast fresh water lake that supposedly lies under the desert in order to start irrigation - to flooding the region with sea water since it is below sea level. The purpose of the latter scheme is that the flooding would allow ships to reach areas of Australia that arc presently inaccessable. In the latter case Australia would look like a vast mostly-flooded volcano where only the rim would be visible.

Complaint & Five Words

The complaint most often heard in Christian Revival circles is that God's Commandments ("The penalty for murder is death"; "The penalty for rape is death". etc.) are almost never taught from the pulpits of the country. If the Word is God and God's Commandments are never taught, how can the nation return to a God whose requirments are unknown? Their motto is 5-Words - "Obey and Teach God's Commandments". Sounds good to me.

They say they want more teaching of God's Laws even if it means sacrificing inspirational talks which are now current fare. That also sounds reasonable to me. I find myself guilty of neglecting this. Perhaps in the future I should start my own talks by FIRST going over as many of God's Commandments as I can before getting into other things. Reform starts at home.

Guilt Complex

There is a general complaint about the "guilt complex" that the media and government are trying to instill in whites. This complaint came not only from conference attendees, but from others whom I met in towns and resorts.

It is my opinion that the "guilt complex" syndrome is part of the plan to "humble" the Saxon. A humbled warrior is no warrior - especially when his weapons have been confiscated.

One criticism of their own government was the long standing policy of organizing groups of young girls to meet visiting US warships. This leftover from WWII is sponsored by local civic committees. The girls go out on dates with the ships officers, which increasingly mean that they go out with Black U.S. navy officers. Social interaction between races is disapproved by large sections of the Australian population.

The Australian Glance

The "Australian Glance" has been cultivated by the Australian media. Before making a comment on "race" the Aussie first glances around to see who might bc listening. Then he says what he was going to say. This is called the "Australian glance".

Covered Sidewalks

Because of the frequent tropical rains, most of the businesses in the towns in the northern provinces have covered sidewalks. This allows customers to go from store to store without getting wet during rainy seasons.

Land Ownership

Australians are acutely conscious that almost everything is owned by foreigners. Just about evcry store or business you see in America is mirrored in Australia. The land itself is foreign owned. That which is not foreign owned (and also largely tax- exempt) is state owned. For proof of the statement I was told that if one misses 3 tax-payments his property is seizcd and sold.

Flags & Weddings

I saw a number of Confederate flags displayed in store windows. The signs at railroad crossings also looked like confederate flags at a distance. Same colors. Made me feel right at home.

Went to a wedding. Casual acquaintances seemed intensely interested about the War Between The States. I asked the reason for their interest in something so far away from them and was told that Australians were interested in anything having to do with their Saxon family. Interesting answer.

Accents

I was told that there are three identifiable accents - New Zealand, Australia, and Tasmania. The Australian accent with which we are all familiar is supposed to be English cockney of the 1850s - frozen in time.

How Aussies View The U.S.

Australians know everything that is worth knowing about the U.S. (except the geographic location of Virginia). Our group knew everyone in America connected with "reform Christianity". In my case they had recordings of talks I had made that I had forgotten I had made. They, along with everyone else in the world, are accutely aware that Clinton is a national disgrace. They seem to look on the U.S. as the center of the Saxon world. Yet, they have no illusions.

Murdoch has Chinese wife

Murdoch, an establishment Jewish media mogul, has a Chinese wife. This points to an all-out media push to open China to world economic-usury expansion. New borrowers are necessary if the West is to preserve the present "good-times".

Trip back

On the way back we drove through Cairns to reach the airport. At 5:00 AM in the morning I was surprised to see crowds of youngsters up so early. I was informed that they weren't "up early" - they just hadn't gone to bed.

On the plane I sat next to a Saxon impersonator. This was the 2nd one I had sat next to. They are so sure of themselves that they will say most anything. Some of them act the part quite well.

Coming to Australia it took two days. Leaving Australia I reached Los Angeles two hours before I left Australia. That's right. I left at 11:55 AM and got to Los Angeles the same day at 10:00 AM. That's what I call moving right along! I suppose that if I just kept on going round and round the earth in the same direction I could take ten years off my age. Just a thought. Maybe not.

Anyway, it took 41 hours to reach home even when it was all downhill. I had a wonderful time, but I was sure glad to be greeted by my wife and my daughter at Dulles.

Outside Lynchburg I stopped and got three hamburgers. One each for Joshua, Sarah and little Kate - my two Rottweilers and my little Cairn Terrier. Dogs are practical beasts. So am I. They went wild when they saw me, then they discovered I had food and so they sat relatively quietly to be fed. Then, with the "excitement edge" removed by the hamburger, they again proceeded to jump all over me since "daddy" had arrived home. But, it wasn't half as wild as it would have been. It's a trick I learned from the way our enemies handle us.

What I Learned From The Trip

Australia feels itself to be a Saxon nation - at one with the other Saxon nations of the world and especially the United States.

Australia appears to have the same problems America does. The most visible and immediate is the flood of immigration. Aliens are everywhere. There is the problem of foreign ownership of almost everything in Australia - much of it tax-exempt. Compounding these problems are unresponsive politicians selected for election by the media-owner. They don't appear to care in the least what the people think about anything.

Taxes are outrageous and all levels of government are control- freaks. There are irritating laws about everything.

The Australian government treats the Abos the same way the U.S. government treats blacks and Indians, and the Abos criminal conduct and resulting large prison population is building resentment.

Australia has one problem much greater than our Mexican problem. She has a large hostile neighbor to the north, Indonesia. This, combined with a government policy that has disarmed its own military and shipped the remainder overseas, confiscated the weapons of its citizen militia, and helped build up the armed forces of this potential enemy, may point to an ITC plan to turn Australia into the next South Africa.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: It is the world's Good Friday, but rather a sad day for us. We feel the need for prayers more than usual.

It is going very badly in Zimbabwe (formerly Rhodesia). Anarchy is prevalent and not one white is safe. I asked the HNP editor if the whites will take up arms. He said that he does not think so. They have not got the fighting spirit. They preferred to stay when Mugabe took over and they thought that they were on good terms with the Mugabe government - so they thought. One of them was Martin Olds, a rancher who was a personal friend of Mugabe. But, this did not save his life. This black dictator along with the rest of the blacks is absolutely fickle and untrustworthy.

Most Zimbabwe farmers were tobacco, corn and cattle farmers. Some were rich. Now they see their farmsteads go up in flames and their crops wither, rot, or burn on their land. I don't know if these farmers are still fully armed as not one tried to shoot their attackers. If the blacks succeed in Zimbabwe, we can expect worse here. And just think, the whites had won the war against Mugabe and his terrorists before they were betrayed by their own white leader, Ian Smith, who turned the country over to the blacks.

The fact is, many more whites have died here in South Africa and still die daily. May our God forgive us for our slackness in serving Him alone. Many follow the lottery and gambling gods. As for sport, they gave their souls to it only to find that the sports god has forsaken them. Their cricket hero took betting money in India and is out of the game, and rugby is not doing any better. The national pride of old no longer exists and the huge South African stadiums are no longer filled.

To humble the white population's spirit, the fact that the white militia leader, Eugene Terre'Blanche, has had to go to prison for a year for assaulting a black has been given huge coverage. Especially by English newspapers. How they enjoy to vilify the Afrikaner in any way possible.

We are fighting to get our Afrikaans language reinstated. A recent success was with Transet and now Denel the arms manufacturer. They are now having to use the Afrikaans language officially.

The German navy paid us a visit recently, but without fanfare, as not to arouse resentment. They also visit other countries on the west coast.

The fact that David Irving lost his civil case against Deborah Lipstadt gave the Jews immense satisfaction and joy, plus the fact that they ruined Irving financially. It still amazes me how little they care for the truth. But then I remind myself that they don't have the Law. The same with blacks and other dark nations. Exceptions are rare.

Maria got her honors degree in psychology at Pretoria University. It was called a Boere University in earlier years. Now you see enough black faces to think you are in Saweto, and in your heart you know they are affirmative action students who are pushed in and do not even pay their fees.

Our telephone lines have been cut and some poles sawn off. I do not like cell phones, but it helps in such situations because it takes a long time to get the lines fixed at present.

We have never found out why the Americans returned to next door Mozambique. Is it to intervene in Zimbabwe in case the few whites left at last take up arms to defend themselves?

The HNP congress on March 24-25 was very well attended. Prof Pont, one of the speakers made the remark that when he attended the congress two years ago, he knew everybody. But this time he recognized only a third of the people. Others remarked about the many young people with babies in carry-cots, which is a very welcome sign.

Instead of giving up hope when their political parties come to the end of the road, they now join our party where they still find life and hope. All kinds of evenings are organized for those in towns. Especially Pretoria, which we have had to miss on account of our safety situation.

The Conservative Party is no more. The National Party is nearly gone and the Freedom Front never made much of an impact.

The civil case by Mr. Marais against Tienie Groenewald had been heard in court. The judge still has to give his verdict.

We hope you had a pleasant time in Australia. It would be wonderful to have you out here, but it would be most unsafe.

Well, the Good Friday meeting of black presidents at the Victoria Falls only brought support for Mugabe. Mbeki - president of S. Africa, Chissana - of Mozambique and Nujama - of Namibia attended and they only had praise for the way things are going in Zimbabwe. This confirms the fecling that the same black terror tactics will be tried here. Most of them robbed their countries and must continually look to the West for aid - with no plan to pay it back.

The question now will be, who is behind the anarchy and who will benefit. Any ideas?[1]

New Zealand offered to take refugees for 6 months, but what will these people return to. Everything on their farms has been destroyed. Any aid the West sends will never reach them and the shortage of fuel and electricity will continue. Especially now that the mobs are burning crops all over.

1 I had thought that I had made this clear. Perhaps not. Perhaps I had better spell it out in the next few HRs.

With best wishes, K.J.

SODOMITES: Lynchburg's mayor recommended that the City of Lynchburg give special privilages to sodomites. Many spoke against his proposal. The News & Advance reported that certain of the witnesses "only quoted Scripture". It did not repeat the Scriptures quoted. Some hostile religions will not tolerate Christian Scripture to be quoted because to them to quote Christian Scripture is equivalent to calling on an alien God - alien to the newspaper.

Lynchburg's mayor attends the First Christian Church on Rivermont Avenue, the church that so royally entertained the sodomite delegation that visited Jerry Falwell's Thomas Road Baptist Church. The 1st Christian's pastor recently officiated at the wedding of his own daughter to a Jew, and enthusiastically approved the union.

KIDNAPED: An 18 year old black entered a Lynchburg home, kidnapped two 12 year old white girls at gunpoint and sodomized them. Lynchburg's News & Advance censored the race of the victims. I know the family.

MILITIA
Pelham's Horse Artillery

"A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

2nd Amendment to the Constitution

Pelham's Horse Artillery

The legendary Major John Pelham of Stuart's Horse Artillery was dead. He died in the two story frame house on the corner right across the street from my grandfather's furniture store in Culpeper. Granddaddy pointed out the upstairs corner bedroom where he died. Everybody in town called it "the Pelham house".

He had been wounded at Kelly's Ford after asking if he could join a cavalry charge "just for the sport". A shell had exploded and a small piece shrapnel hit him in back of his head. He fell off his horse and his comrades thought he was dead. They threw him across his horse's saddle and carried him the 5 miles or so back to the railroad at Brandy Station. When they lifted him from his horse they discovered just a trace of blood in his hair from the small wound and also discovered that he was breathing. He was put on a train which took him 8 miles to Culpeper.

He lingered for a few days before dying. Everyone wondered why the ride from Kelly's Ford to Brandy Station on the back of a horse hadn't killed him itself - it would have killed most men.

The story was that when he died four girls put on mourning for him - but that was just gossip. There was never a hint of inpropriority about his relationship with the fairer sex. He was 26 when he died. An Alabama gentleman.

Pelham The Soldier

The difference between horse artillery and the regular artillery was that horse artillery had to keep up with the cavalry on the march. They used the same guns as the rest of the Confederate artillery, but keeping up with the cavalry required six horses per gun instead of the usual two - and spare teams galloping with them which were constantly being changed. The work hauling guns with the cavalry was grueling.

Confederate militia batteries were different from those in the union army. They followed the French system instituted by Napoleon using six guns per battery instead of the English system of four guns. Southern logic said that a six gun militia battery could hold its own against two Union 4-gun batteries and whip a single 4-gun battery. This is how it usually worked out in practice.

There was another difference - a major one. The Federal government provided guns, ammunition, caissons, horses and harness for its artillery. Members of the artillery militia furnished all this at their own expense - quite a considerable expense.[1] Not everyone could afford to serve in a militia artillery battery.

Pelham The Hero

"I ask you sir, what is the militia? It is the whole people, except for a few public officials."

George Mason

Two hundred guns of the federal artillery lined up on the heights on the north side of the Rappahannock River overlooking Fredericksburg. Their massed fire protected the Union army's pontoon bridges as the federal army fought its way across the river. Fredericksburg's defenders didn't have a chance. One by one each pocket of Southern resistance was obliterated by the concentrated overwhelming cannon fire.

When across the river, the union army passed through town and formed up on the plains beyond. Something less than a mile ahead rose Maryc's Heights occupied by Lee's Army. At the foot of the heights was a stone wall behind which waited Stonewall's veterans. The Union army made a proud picture lined up in its tens of thousands in their fine new blue uniforms and their hundreds of flags and drummers.

1 As the war went on new artillery units were organized using captured horses and ordanance.

The artillery that had obliterated the Southern resistance to the union army's crossing now turned its attention to the Confederate positions. Hundreds of shells shrieked overhead to explode in the Confederate lines. It was part of the softening up process before the massive Federal juggernaut moved forward.

Into this maelstrom of noise, the shrieks of shells and thunder of explosions, John Pelham suddenly appeared, riding out of the Confederate lines into the no-man's-land between the two armies with two of his guns and their cannoneers. In full view of both Union and Confederate armies the little cavalcade of horses and riders then turned to the Union left and galloped all the way across their front to its left flank. Soldiers of both armies watched in amazement.

Reaching their chosen destination, Pelham gunners quickly unlimbered, brought their guns to bear, and fired two or three shells with fuses cut long, and then quickly hitched up and moved their guns to another location a quarter mile away and repeated the drill.

The Union artillery on the heights across the river quickly swiveled their guns around and open fire on this pesky little hornet. Half a minute after Pelham left his position, the area where he had been was pulverized by hundreds of shells smashing the surrounding trees and plowing up the ground. By then, Pelham was firing from still another location. Again Union guns devastated the area, but Pelham was somewhere else firing his shells into the massed union army.

Pelham's Shells

The sparkling fuses of Pelham's shells could be seen far off by Union soldiers waiting in battle lines for the command to attack Marye's Heights. They soared and then bounced along the federal lines from left to right threatening to explode any second. Anxious Union soldiers frantically dodged out of the path of the menacing projectiles not wanting to be one of their victims when they exploded.

The magnificent Union army dissolved into a confused mob with men dodging Pelham's sparkling shells. Regiment mixed with regiment; the Union generals were furious.

John Pelham and his men were undeniably brave and daring, but it was also obvious that it was just a question of time before they were killed. General Stuart laughed and sent orders recalling Pelham and his guns.

John Pelham and his men galloped back across the front of the Union army the same way they had come - but this time to thunderous cheers of both Confederate and Union armies. Uncommon valor is universally appreciated by brave men. It took two hours for the Union generals to sort out the mess and reorganize for the attack.

Brave, handsome, Major John Pelham was 26 when he gave his life for his country. He was mortally wounded a year later in my great-grandfather's back yard at Kelly's Ford.

The Militia

"The militia is a voluntary force not associated or under the control of the state except when called out; a permanent or long-standing force would be entirely different in make-up and call."

- Alexander Hamilton

Major John Pelham was a product of the militia system of the Self Sufficient Farm System (SSFS). The militia of the 13 Colonies made it possible to win an earlier war against Great Britain's king. The militia of the Southern Confederate States almost won their independence from the king & standing army system of the United States. It is something the International Trade Cartel (ITC) has not forgotten, and would rather not deal with if at all possible.

War is expensive. A militia is expensive. The militia expense was not unbearable when the land was divided and people were well off. But, after the Southern Farm System was conquered and the wealth of its owners transferred to the feudal system's corporations, it became unbearably hard to equip a militia with the heavy ordanance it needs to fight modern war. People just didn't have the money. A cannon, caisson, shells, powder and horses were expensive enough earlier, but when cannon are mounted on tanks and the means to pay for it had gone - it was impossible. The militia was figuratively in danger of having to fight an atomic age war with bows and arrows.

Arming The Militia

"The strongest reason for the people to retain the right to keep and bear arms is, as a last resort, to protect themselves against tyranny in government."

- Thomas Jefferson

The ensconced feudal system had won their war and now controlled the country and its wealth. A militia was traditional. It had been part of the country from its earliest days. But, WWI showed that as the wealth of the people declined, they could not afford the heavy weapons needed to fight modern wars. The militia was not properly armed. It was a question of battlefield survival for militiamen. The people demanded proper weapons for their men.

Weapons Solution

The solution offered by the country's ruling feudal-system to the problem of supplying militias with heavy weapons was to "lend" them the needed weaponry on condition that the command of the militia would no long be local - it was to be shared jointly by the governor of the individual state and the president of the country. In all matters pertaining to the state the governor was to act as supreme commander and in all things pertaining to the defense of the country - the president would be the supreme commander.

It seemed to be a workable solution. In matters like race riots and labor troubles, the governor commanded. In matters pertaining to outside enemies of the country - the president.

National Guard - A Federal Asset

The National Guard proved itself. It provided a large part of the muscle of America's armed forces during WWII. But then, Little Rock! Gov. Orval Faubus called up the guard to prevent the integration of the schools (or so the tale is told - see HR #289), and then stood down when President Eisenhower took over control of the national guard from him, ordered it away from the school, and sent in the 81st Airborne of the regular army to force the integration of Saxon children with those of strangers.

The president of the United States had no intention of sharing power over what had formerly been the independent militia with governors of states. The National Guard was now an enforcement arm of the federal government masquerading as a people's defense force - or militia. Its new mission was to defend the feudal system of Babylon - not the people the system persecuted.

Confirmation

This new state of affairs was confirmed when the central government's FBI invaded the state of Idaho. The governor of Idaho stood by, let the FBI kill Idaho citizens on Ruby Ridge and did nothing. There was nothing he could have done. There was no militia to call upon and all that was left was the National Guard and that was under federal control. Idaho was face to face with the fact that it was defenseless against invasion and murder.

This was again confirmed at Waco when invading federal forces of the FBI massacred members of the Davidian Church. In neither the case of Idaho nor Texas did their respective governors believe that they had the power to interpose the state's National Guard between the victims and the US government agency that was tormenting their citizens - not even to save their lives.

The Davidian Defense

The thing the ITC's media never ceases to ignore is the Waco defense.

When the ATF, in an unprovoked attack, stormed the Davidian Church complex, the Davidians grabbed their shotguns and attempted to defend themselves, their wives and their children - and they did a good job of it. This is why, when the subject comes up, the government always talks about the 4 government agents who were killed vs. the "SIX" Davidians who were killed "See! Two more Davidians were killed than those lost by the government!!"

The thing that they never mention is that the shotgun defense by this religious group shot the government's ATF all to pieces.[2] After 45 minutes the ATF raised the white flag. The Davidians magnanmously accepted their surrender and allowed them to collect and carry their wounded (most of them were wounded) and limp away from the church with their tails between their legs. The ATF had lost 4 killed, but the rest of the ATF storming party had ceased to exist as a viable military force.

If the Davidians had known that their gallant armed defense had condemned them all to be burned to death as punishment for the FBI humiliation - men, women and children - it is doubtful if any of the ATF would have been set free. They would have been held as hostages.

The lesson learned again is even free people with shotguns can present an obstacle to out-of-control government.

Rebirth And Arming The Militias

"Firearms stand next in importance to the Constitution itself. They are the American People's liberty teeth and keystone under independence... The rifle and pistol are equally indispensable... The very atmosphere of firearms anywhere and everywhere restrains evil interference - they deserve a place of honor with all that is good."

- George Washington

The Ruby Ridge and Waco example of what an all powerful immoral central government can do to its own people triggered the rapid rebirth of citizen's militias. There has been no real problem of getting volunteers. The problem has been that of weaponry. How does one have a real effective defense force with inferior weaponry? The answer is - it can't. Not really.

2 Shotguns are the very last ditch weapon of defense. Shotguns are what rabbit hunters use.

The U.S. feudal government, using the excuse that a few outlaws during the 1930s used tommy guns while committing crimes, passed laws virtually outlawing ownership of automatic weapons and made the ownership of other sophisticated weapons so difficult as to be almost impossible. This has resulted in a populace in which most families are armed, but are armed with weapons which could only with difficulty cope with the weaponry of a modern day army.

The matter of having inferior weapons is compounded by the system's worldwide campaign to confiscate the weapons in the hands of private individuals - except for establishment people who are almost all armed.

The confiscation effort is of course to keep the workers in the condition of serfdom.

One State's Response

"Guard with jealous attention the public liberty. Suspect everyone who approaches that jewel. Unfortunately, nothing will preserve it but downright force. Whenever you give up that force, you are ruined... The great object is that every man be armed... Everyone who is able may have a gun."

- Patrick Henry

Not all state governments have gone along with this campaign to disarm the public. In 1997, the state of New Hampshire authorized its attorney general to bring suit against the United States. The following is taken from a shooting magazine printed in Virginia.

"1997 Session House Joint Resolution 3 requiring the attorney general to bring suit against the U.S. Govt. for violating the U.S. Constitution and the New Hampshire constitution by enacting a military firearms ban.

> RESOLUTIONS: ... (1) The assault weapons ban is unconstitutional because it deprives the people of their right of self-defense under the 9th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It does so by limiting the tools which the people may use to protect themselves, their families, and their communities from an assault. The assault weapons ban prevents the people from responding to the threat of force in kind, relegating the people's use of defensive weapons to weapons of lesser force than those which might be used against them. The state cannot limit the means for self-defense without abrogating the right of self- defense.
> (2) ... The assault weapons ban nullifies the 2nd Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The assault weapons ban prevents the people from acquiring and owning the military firearms necessary for the fielding of effective militias. The militia, as provided for in the Constitution, is the people's army and exists for the purpose of defending the Constitution ...
>
> (3) By nullifying the utility of militias, the assault weapons ban renders null and void those provisions under Article 1, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution which provide for the organizing, arming, and fielding of militias and makes moot the state's authority to appoint officers and to train and discipline militias.[3]
> (4) The assault weapons ban is unconstitutional under the 10th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution because the power to regulate firearms to the limited extent to which such powers may be available under the U.S.

3 Editor's Note: A state's claiming the right to appoint militia officers over the right of the militias to select their own officers retains state, or feudal control, of militias.

> Constitution lies with the states, not with the federal government ...
>
> Whereas, the assault weapons ban qualifies each individual absolute right of self-defense, guaranteed by the 9th Amendment, by limiting the rights of the people to defend themselves with tools appropriate to the task. The "right of self-defense ceases to exist if the state is able to assert the power to limit the nature of the response which an individual may make to a particular threat of force. Individuals have the absolute right to respond to force in kind. ...
> Resolved ... That the attorney general be required to bring suit against the U.S. Government for violations of the U.S. Constitution and the N. Hampshire constitution in enacting the assault weapons ban, which prevents U.S. citizens from owning military firearms.[4]

The above sets forth the legal objections to de-facto outlawing of militias and the confiscation of their weapons. It is the editor's belief that when a push comes to a shove, the king's law comes from the barrel of a rifle and it makes no difference what sort of legal arguments are made. The cartel that rules the West will do whatever it chooses to do if they feel that they have the force to do it, and it appears at this time that they feel that they have the force to do whatever they want to do, and they really don't want a well-armed militia in the land.

Conclusion

"The highest number to which ... a standing army can be carried in any country does not exceed ... one twenty-fifth part of the number able to bear arms ... To these would be opposed a militia amounting to near half a million citizens (When this was written the total population was only 3.5 million) with arms in their hands, officered by men chosen from among themselves, fighting for their common liberties... It may well be doubted whether a militia thus circumstauced could ever be conquered by such a proportion of regular troops."

- James Madison

George Mason said that there were 500,000 militiamen in a population of 3.5 million. Today he would count a potential of 40,000,000 militiamen. This is the sword that could snuff out Babylon's lights in a minute. But, this could only happen if the militias were of onc mind and pointed in the right direction.

Facts The King Must Deal With

The best of all scenarios for a tyrannical king is not to have to dcal with a John Pelham and his guns, or a Robert E. Lee's militia army. Without a militia, a king would have no revolt to suppress!

The basic fact is that there is a militia and the king must deal with that fact. The second fact is that a very large part of the militia take their orders from the King of kings - not him.

Orders

The fact that the large part of the militia is loyal to the King of kings and take their orders from him is something that "Little Willie" and his ilk consider treasonous. For instance, consider the following order:

"He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Luke 22:36-38.

The KING of kings instructed his followers to arm themselves. How can the anti-Christ feel comfortable on his throne when Isaacs-sons, supporters of the KING of kings have armed themselves?

The KING of kings also told his followers:

"The land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it." Num 35:33

The followers of the "KING of kings" see that there is much innocent blood shed in this land and the guilty are not punished as ordered, but are "restrained" in prisons and then released to do the same again and again.

The KING of kings instructed that someone must be punished for this evil. He said:

"Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people." I Ki 21:42

Can the WORD be more clear? The WORD that is God never lies. It always means what it says. The life of the one worthy of death must be forfeit, or the lives of the followers of the King of kings will be taken in their place. It's that simple. That is a sentence from which, once executed, there is no appeal.

Yet, the Scriptures say:

"When thou art in tribulation... even in the latter days, if thou turn to the Lord thy God (the WORD), and shall be obedient to his voice (the WORD), ... he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them." Deut 4:30-31

The Story Of David

Once before, the Philistines ruled the land. They used extorted tribute from every Son-of-Isaac. They also used iron weapons to back their tyranny but forbade the children of Israel from even having blacksmiths because they could also make swords.

We have read the story and we know that things got so bad under the heel of the Philistines that the ill-armed militia was called up anyway. David joined his brothers at the front. He volunteered to fight the giant when no one else would. He went forward and stood before the Philistine giant and reached down and selected a stone and placed it in his sling.

The giant taunted David, then drew his great sword and advanced on him. David slung his stone at the giant and it hit him in the forehead where it sank into his head. The giant fell to the ground. David then used the giant's own sword to sever his head from his body.

The Story Known By The Faithful

Scripture explains Scripture.[5] The giant is obviously the powerful one. David the weaker. David picked up a stone, a rock. We know what a rock is:

> "Who is a rock save our God." Ps 18:31.[6]

OK. Let's start again. David appeared defenseless and the giant powerful. David held in his hand a rock. He placed it in 5 Whenever someone quotes Scripture that conflicts with other Scripture - someone is mis-interpreting Scripture.

6 "Neither is thou any rock like our God." I Sa 2:2; "For their rock is not as our Rock." De 32:31; "The Lord is my rock and my fortress." Ps 18:2

his sling and slung it and the rock hit the giant in the head causing him to fall. With his fall the Philistines fled.

Why the head? The giant is the messenger of the Serpent.[7] The curse God placed on the serpent was that the seed of man "Shall bruise thy head." Gen 3:15.

The serpent always organizes his children in an episcopal manner - from the top down - to ensure that they all understand, say, and do the same thing.[8] Sever the head and the serpent dies.

The Scriptures say:

> "David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Philistine, and slew him, but there was no sword in the hand of David." 1 Sa 17:50

There was no sword in David's hand, only a stone. With that stone he slew the giant. It was only then that David picked up the giant's sword and severed his head and the rest of the army pursued the Philistines and then used their swords.

Conclusion

Our militia consists of every ablebodied man in the whole Saxon nation. Most Saxons don't know that! Our people don't know that the answer to their every problem lies in the WORD. Why? Because - the "rock" of the king's state priests is not as our "Rock".

Why is this? It is because the false priests hired by the king with tax-exemption and riches from the use of the serpent's media have withheld God's WORD from the people.

7 Read about "giants" in HR #286.

8 God organized his people in the presbyterian manner in 10s and 100s from the bottom up. Beware episcopal organizations. They serve a single master.

These priests of the serpent priests haven't told God's Saxon people that they are under sentence of death - a sentence passed on them by their own God because unavenged innocent blood has been shed.

When the rock of truth at last forces its way past the king's hired state priests and scribes, and reaches those for whom it is intended, and the truth is understood that our people have everything to gain by obeying God and everything to lose by not doing so - truth will no longer be seen to be just a stone lying in a creek- bed. It will be an irresistable weapon. With the WORD - our militias will have both incentive and direction that will allow them to serve their nation, their God, and to save their lives which at this moment are forfeit because of our nation's disobedience. The giant will fall.[9]

Then we can use the giant's own sword to finish the task, and the sword will be of the latest manufacture.

LETTERS

ANTISAXON BRAINWASHING: "Dear Brother Hoskins: The antisaxonite chaplain at this gulag censors all incoming religious matter. He determined that Vigilantes talked too much about race and denied me the book. This same chaplain approves numerous anti- white periodicals going to the Nation of Islam and the Black Hebrew Israelites that do nothing but talk about race." S.J. - prisoner Florida

9 When our militias learn that taxes violate God's Commandment (Matt 17:25-26); that each Saxon is entitled to his own land (Num 26:53; Lev 25:23), that usury is a capitol crime (Ezek 18:8-13); and that "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it." Matt 10:39; they will be dangerous adversaries of the king, indeed.

News From Rhodesia

The Financial Times of June 3-4, 2000 p3, notes that of the 804 White-owned farms recently seized by the Black government without payment, the cattle ranch of the former White leader of Rhodesia, Ian Smith, "did not appear to be affected by the programme".

RKH: Ian Smith, selected by Rhodesia's media-owner to receive favorable publicity, was elected president of Rhodesia. After winning a 12 year war against communist rebels, he proceeded to turn his country over to them.

Smith is one of a fraternity of traitors who is "A traitor to the Laws and to his own country." II Macc 5:15. These 2% low types are publicized by media owners so as to be elected to office and then betray their people once there. Gov. J. Lindsey Almond was given a Federal Judgeship after betraying Virginia by turning its state schools over to the federals. Every Saxon nation has its traitors. Chapter 311

FIJI
Revolt Against Indians

Why should some of the most powerful countries of the world unite ranks instantly to quash a revolt led by an insurance salesman on a tiny insignificant island?

Coup

On May 29, 2000, the son of an opposition member of the Fijian Parliament staged the third coup attempt in 13 years. He and his supporters stormed parliament as it was sitting and took the prime minister and seven cabinet ministers hostage.

NOTE: Serpents are fought by crushing their heads: Gen 3:15

The website (Fijilive.com) of the rebel leader, George Speight, a high profile local businessman, said that he was reclaiming the land for his own people.

The coup took place on the first anniversary of the appointment of Mahendra Chaudhry, an ethnic Indian, as prime minister. Ever since then relations between ethnic Indians and ethnic Fijians have deteriorated.

President Ratu Sir Kamisese Mara, who was not a hostage,[1] declared a national state of emergency and stated in a radio address, "I would likc to assure you all that the rule of law and good government will be maintained. There are lawful democratically recognized avenues for airing grievances. I urge this group to follow lawful means in raising their dissent."

> NOTE: HR readers instantly recognize this ploy. All feudal systems are establishment creations. The leader and the legislators are democratically elected from a pool of PC candidates selected by the media owner. In office, these agents of the media-owner appoint judges and army officers. These judges rule that the king is right and the army officers squelch dissent. The taxes of the great merchant supports the king and his army and the banker chooses which PC merchants will manage bank assets. Nationalist rebels are their eternal enemy. It's how the system works the world over.

The army and police backed the 1987 coup, but did not appear to be siding with the rebels. The former prime minister, Sitivcni Rabuka, who led the 1987 coup tried to mediatc between the rebels and the government.

> NOTE: The 1987 coup was an establishment coup. That's why the army is not supporting the present "national" coup.

1 This is where thc nationalist rebels made a mistake. They assumed that because Mara was a native Fijian that he was sympathetic with them. In a feudal system, the heads of state are two percenters or else they would not be heads of a feudal state.

The Mystery Of Fiji

Figi is the small island on the upper right edge of the map that includes Australia. It is interesting that the world's powers have united almost overnight against this small and insignificant little island.

Indians

Ethnic Indians account for some 45% of Fiji's population of 800,000. But, they control most of Fiji's economy. The Indians were initially brought to Fiji by the British in the late 19th century to work sugar cane fields. Since then they have virtually monopolized the island's economy and last year took over its government. Ethnic Fijians, who represent 51% of the population, are demanding that the country's Indian population be stripped of political rights.

NOTE: Indians are the world's preferred feudal system operators. Their mixed racial background gives them tolerance for many gods. Their caste system tends to confine their ability to cause mischief to one specific area. Their lack of any code of morals allows them to do almost anything.

International Condemnation

The U.S. State Department warned, "The consequences of any unconstitutional seizure of power would be very substantial." The U.S. ambassador to Fiji labeled the coup leader a "common criminal", and Australia's prime minister, John Howard, said that he was horrified. George Speight met with Fijian chiefs while Fiji's military leaders declared martial law and have refused to negotiate with Speight.

NOTE: This is an astute move on Speight's part. The existence of a "Fijian chiefs council" indicates a system of rule or custom equivalent to our "WORD" which is God. It lends legitimacy to Speight's claims.

Imposes Indigenous Fijian Government

On July 3, Fiji's military named an all-Fijian government to replace the mixed-race coalition of the Indian Prime Minister. The Army's chief named Fijian banker Laisenia Qarase as prime minister to rule Fiji for two years. The military stressed that it will retain executive power until all 27 hostages are released. The military excluded the native Fijian rebels from the government officials they selected.

NOTE: All the above should be expected. A feudal system's military is selected first because of loyalty to the system that selected them. It is expected that they would select one of their own as prime minister. It is obvious that a usury- banker is a feudal- system asset regardless of race. It is also obvious that the military are reluctant to act as long as the nationalist rebels continue to hold establishment hostages.

Australia Threatens Fiji

On July 18, Australia announced a range of sanctions against Fiji including a 30% cut in aid in an attempt to force the restoration of the former government.[2]

Ratu Josefa Iloilo, chosen by the Fijian banker Laisenia Qarase to be president, angered the coup leader by nominating a government that excluded Fijian nationalists from all key offices. The Fijian nationalists complained that Laiseni Qarase was too accommodating towards Indians.

> NOTE: For representatives of the Fijian feudal system to select rebel nationalists to govern would be to shoot themselves in the foot.

Australia's foreign minister ratcheted up the international threats by stating that Australia was stopping joint defense programs and trade agreement co-operation. Also, Fiji's rugby team would not be granted visas for a match against the Barbarians team that had been planned and other Fijian teams would be banned until the Indian government had been restored.

The threat was broadened by the foreign minister when he stated that the U.S., the European Union and Japan might follow Australia's in this move. He ruled out using tougher sanctions as advocated by Australia's trade union movement. However, New Zealand, the U.S. and Britain joined Australia in announcing sanctions against Fiji.

> NOTE: This propaganda announcement was made to give ammunition to the media to use to beat the native

2 Each situation is a bit different. In Fiji, corporations own the sugar cane plantations. The last thing they need are Fijian nationalists taking back these lands. That's the reason that they put Indians in to rule. Indians are nationalists only in India.

Fijians into a pro-feudal PC state of mind - thereby isolating the nationalists.

Hostage Crisis Ends

July 13, the hostage crisis ended. After the last of dozens of hostages were released, the Fijian Great Council Of Chiefs confirmed the ethnic Fijian banker Ratu Iloilo as the country's new president. Iloilo had been Specht's, the nationalist's rebel leader's choice.

As the crisis ended, the hostage takers held a traditional ceremony seeking forgiveness by offering a drink of kava, a narcotic drink, to the last captives freed. Chaundhry, the ousted former Indian prime minister shook hands with Speight and the two hugged.

NOTE: In giving up their hostages before anything concrete was made doomed the rebels. The establishment thus far tolerates "talkers" to show how much "freedom" there is in the system. They are much less tolerant of actual attempts to overthrow ITC rule.

World-Wide Nationalist Support

The Fijian rebel leader received support from nationalist movements from all over the world. The editorial of the National Action News is representativc:

"Australian Nationalists sympathize with the revolutionary national uprising in Fiji...

"Australian Nationalists condemn any Australian government action designed to impose 'sanctions' on Fiji. The behind-the-back trade unions ban on Fiji travel and commerce are really State devices ... Australians should demand these bans be lifted.

"Australian Nationalists believe that the Fijian national uprising is directed at the politics of nationless, cultureless, raceless, free-trade globalisation, and whatever actions occur as might be construed as 'targeting' the Indian minority in Fiji, should be dismissed as necessary tools which preserve Fijian identity and independence.

"... We are not surprised to learn that the Australian Labor Party gave 'advice' to the Indian Fijian Labour Party on ways to consolidate the Indian bloc-vote and about methods to buy-off some native groups so that a 'coalition' and supposedly 'democratic' government could be formed. Bluntly, the former government was a front for the globalisers who were relying upon the Indians to 'modernize' Fiji. This interference in Fiji's politics must end!

"Australian Nationalists reject any propaganda from internationalist lobbyists that the crisis in Fiji obligates Australia to accept so-called 'refugees'. No Indian refugees must be accepted!

"Australian Nationalists rejoice in the inspiration which the Fijian national uprising has given to small Melanesian peoples in the Solomon Islands and in West New Guinea ... .

"Across the Pacific there are peoples who are rejecting the globalisation process. ... When the Indonesian army moves against the freedom fighters of West New Guinea, Australians will see the move as a move against local nationalism. The same forces agitating against the Fijian national uprising will call for the suppression of all Melanesian revolutions.

"Australian Nationalists call for a new Pacific freedom bloc. The future 'White Australia' will certainly support for others what it demands for itself."[3]

Coup Leader Arrested

July 27, 2000. George Speight, Fiji's nationalist leader who toppled Fiji's Indian government, was arrested by Fiji's military who withdrew their promise of amnesty for those taking part in the coup.

After arresting the leader, the army then assaulted a school in Suva, Fiji's capital where 300 of Speight's armed followers had been camped for the past week. The army's Maj. Politini said about 30 nationalists and one soldier were injured in the firefight that followed and dozens were arrested.[4]

Speight, champion of the native Fijians, was charged with illegally possessing weapons and threatening Fiji's new president. He was seized at a checkpoint along with his advisor, Tevita Bukarau, spokesman Jo Nata, and a bodyguard.

First housed in army barracks, he and six of his key advisors have been taken to an islet within view of the capital, Suva. The army is considering bringing the charge of treason against him and his followers, a charge carrying a maximum sentence of death.

July 28, 2000. The Fijian military extended its crackdown and has arrested hundreds. There are warnings of civil war and reports of reprisal attacks against Indians on the island of Vanua Leva where two New Zealanders were taken as hostages. Alexander Downer, Australia's foreign minister announced that he is "delighted" over the actions of Fiji's military. Th military now claims it is acting on behalf of indigenous Fijians.

4 God spoke to the serpent; "... it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel." Gen 3:15. Strangers are fought by bruising their leaders' heads. Saxons are fought by bruising their spiritual heel.

The worry is that Mr Speight has caused a big shift in Fijian politics and that Fijian nationalism has been reawakened.

Lessons

The leader of the Peasants Revolt in England met with the king under a flag of truce and guarantee of safety and amnesty. Trusting in the word of the feudal system he went and was murdered. His followers were hounded to death and hanged by the hundreds. This has been the history of meetings between the system and those who want independence.

> NOTE: Note that the feudal countries of the world - Australia, New Zealand, Britain and the U.S., instantly presented a solid front opposed to the nationalism of one small island group.

Napoleon took the crown from the Pope and placed it on his own head and had to fight the united nations of the world who were instantly allied against him. Nationalist Germany withdrew from the international banking system and almost the entire world came against her.

> NOTE: Trust in a banker, even though he was a native, proved disastrous.

> NOTE: Trust in amnesty granted by the Fijian army was disastrous even though the army is native Fijian.

Kings are kept on thrones by armies. Kings and standing armies are inseparable. The ITC carefully selects the leaders of its armies all over the world and pays them to keep their king on the throne. It has always been so. If the king goes, their pay stops and militias fill the void they leave.

Today, there are more wars in progress struggling for separation from the world's feudal system than ever before. The great fear of the feudal system is that different nations will learn to work together to be different in spite of their natural antipathy toward each other.

Conclusion

The fact that some of the most powerful countries of the world instantly united their ranks to quash a revolt on a tiny insignificant Pacific Island is proof that the International Trade Cartel recognizes that nationalist revolts of whatever size are contagious. Unless instantly suppressed, any one of them has the potential to light the fire that will one day destroy Babylon.

Letter From S. Africa

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Most Rhodesians seem to have made arrangements to be out of the country during the elections as it is their school holidays. They booked at holiday resorts out of the country.

Heaven knows what will happen if Mugabe comes in again, for he is claiming all the farms. He tried to take over the gold mines, but I think he stepped on Oppenheimer's toes, because he had another story the next day.

Many farmers left some staff to look after the property and animals when they left, but these workers had no chance when Mugabe's thugs turned up, so they also fled. I am not sure if all the Rhodesians sent their dogs to safety. Look at the enclosed picture of how Blacks treat dogs and that is the reason why it worries me.

The HNP father of a Rhodesian cattle farmer said his son's farm was on the confiscation list, so he removed every single animal. When the squatters came they could not stay longer than the money they got from Mugabe lasted.

Mugabe is encouraging Nambia's Sam Nujoma to do the same to whites in his country and old Sam is so stupid that he will chase away a substantial number of German investors who use modern techniques in desert conditions. Blacks flee from Zimbabwe in large numbers to get away from the violence.

Here in the area next to Swaziland in the Piet Retief district, farmers and former soldiers keep a tight rein on criminals. It used to be easy to commit a crime and flee over the border, but no more.

Most of Africa is in turmoil. I wonder if the Blacks always know on what side they are fighting. In the Congo, two forces that are supposed to keep the peace, Uganda and Rwanda, are fighting each other. Nothing ever changes in Africa since the inhabitants do not. AIDS is starting to take its toll among the more educated Blacks. One went three years ago for tests and found he had AIDS, but he still infected many black women.

We are looking into the postal situation. We cannot use Postnet, a private company, as they can only pick up the mail. The Postal Service has the monopoly. To cut local problems, we are considering a small post office with one white woman. At least she sorts the letters. We missed so much mail from America and even local letters and newspapers are lost.

It seems as if all parties in opposition to the ANC party will take part in the local elections under the Democratic Party (DP) banner. The smooth talking Tony Leon, a Jew, must have convinced many to join so that they can oppose the ANC, as if that is a possibility. So we have a DP Jewish Party, and a ANC Jewish/Black Party. As usual the HNP Party is not in the least interested.

It seems certain that Prince Charles and Camilla will marry in Scotland like Ann did. All I can say is that Camilla, whose grandmother was Alice Keppel, a Jewess, is no beauty in any sense. A friend reminded me that Camilla's great grandmother was Alice Keppel. She married an Emset and was Edward VII's mistress. Anyway, unlike Diana, Camilla will not mind whatever secret organizations Charles belongs to. The British public said that they do not want her as Queen, but how much say have they in any case? The bishops have been busy for some time with the coronation ceremony, which will no longer be based on the Bible, but will include all religions.

Ruffy, our adopted Alsation, is starting to take the work of a watchdog seriously and now barks at blacks. It is something to see a proud dog instead of the dejected animal that came here.

We made a firebreak on the 16th because the grass grew high with all the rain. The winter is now much colder than it has been during the last few years.

Last night, the 6 o'clock news reported that the regime intends taking 30% of all white agricultural land. That is not the homelands with their good soil and rainfall that has been lying fallow for years, or ruined by keeping too many animals on the grazing parts. One can actually see the Transkei border because nothing grew on their side. The trees were chopped down and scarcely any grass is to be seen. In the squatter camp opposite us, they immediately remove all grass so that only the bare ground remains. But when they look for thatching grass to cut and sell, they are quick enough to ask the white farm owner to cut his grass. For safcty we do not allow any strangers to come onto the property. They always come with a story to buy something. Those who trust them end up as statistics.

Impact mentions that thousands of white Rhodesians have come over the border. Some were takcn in by people in Messina, the first town after the customs. Many live in tents. Will try and find out more about the situation. There are many game and vegetable farms along the Limpopo River which forms the border." With best wishes, K.J.

RKH: White Zimbabwe farmers are in debt to banks. Black occupicd farms will not be able to produce mortgagc payments. The farms will then be foreclosed and owned by the banks. It is interesting that the diamond and gold mines have neither been nationalized nor occupied by blacks.

UNFILTERED NEWS

BLACK NATIONALISM: Nation of Islam lcadcr Louis Farrakhan defended the Confederate flag as an integral part of history.

RKH: Farrakhan's group dislikes Whites whom they blame for many of their troubles.They have asked for help to settle in Africa, or even have their own homeland here.

CONTROLLING COUNTRIES: "You control countries by controlling their food." Kissinger.

REDUCING THE NATIONAL DEBT

"A house committee, ... approved legislation Thursday that would set aside extra surplus dollars to pay down public debt and lower the government's debt limit." News & Advance.

RKH: It sounds so good, but those who have read War Cycles / Peace Cycles know that most money is borrowed into existence with pledged property being the collateral. At any one time there is only a thin floating supply of money in existence. In the past, when this floating supply has been used to pay off the national debt, there has been nothing left to pay interest and principal on the remaining outstanding debt, and the result has been a Jubilee crash every 50 years or so. This is the period where money disappears from circulation. It has happened every cycle since the country was founded. It is part of Babylon's usury system. The only way a country's debt can be paid down is to eliminate it outright and repeat the process every 7 years. Someone is going to be hurt by keeping the debt or doing away with it, either way someone is going to be hurt, today or tomorrow. The WORD warned us not to go into usury and debt.

LIBERALS RESPONSIBLE: Tanzania, in East Africa, is a country desperate to enter the modern world. Ancient traditional witchcraft stands firmly in the way. Human skin is used in occult ceremonies. Victims are hunted down, clubbed unconscious and skinned alive. The skin is quickly smuggled across the Zambian border where a middleman waits to buy it. Police say the trade in human skin is inspired by witch doctors who use it to prepare charms to ward off evil spirits or bring good luck. A skin can fetch up to £3,000. Senior police officers from Tanzania, Malawi and Zambia are trying to stifle the skin trade as colonial authorities tried to do before them. In Tanzania more than 5,000 people were executed for being witch doctors from 1994 to 1998 according to government figures. (Story in TKC, POB 1478 Ferndale, WA 98248

HATE SCAM: Laird Wilcox, Kansas author and editor who tracks groups on both the right and the left says, "There is an anti- racist industry entrenched in the United States that has attracted bullying, moralizing fanatics, whose identity and livelihood depend upon growth and expansion of their particular kind of victimization ... the anti-racist movement has become a massive extortion racket." (Story in Washington Times p.12, May 12, 2000)

AIDS IMPACTS GOLD MINING: More than 60% of all deaths among Anglo American employees are due to AIDS. In Zimbabwe the prevalence of HIV infection in Anglo's workforce is estimated at 24%. Up to 40% of lost time at the company's Zimbabwe operation is due to the epidemic. Company data indicates that over 60% of all deaths over the last 6 years is due to AIDS.

WACO JUDGE: The media says that U.S. District Judge Walter Smith is firm but fair. This is the same Smith who earlier sentenced eight Branch Davidians to maximum prison terms in a 1994 criminal trial that earned Smith the title "hanging judge". He is now hearing the "wrongful death" lawsuit against the federal government that resulted from "Waco". It would seem that if the trial is not supposed to be rigged then an unbiased judge would have been picked to hear the case. Since one wasn't - it is a safe bet how this trial will go.

HIGH PRIEST DEAD

: Thc Financial Times of June 24-25, 2000 carried a five column obituary along with a picture of the "man of mystery" - Enrico Cuccoia - who is said to have been one of the central figures in European finance.

Cuccoia was Italy's most powerful banker. He opened or closed the financial door to those whom he chose. As a young man he helped "re-organize" the financial system in Ethiopia (then an Italian colony). His wife's father was his superior at the IRI state holding company. In 1946, Cuccia 38, was picked to head a new institution, Mediobanka, set up to extend loans to Italy's war- torn industry. The bank became the focal point for almost every big business deal in Italy. IRI was Metiobanca's sole owner. The bank was privatiscd in 1988.

Thc closer one climbs the ladder of the world's feudal system's episcopacy, the more invisible become its rulers. Now, one question in the article was unasked and unanswered - Who "picked" Cuccia? That's the next rung on the ladder.

3rd World Feudal Systems

The three feudal castes rest on the labor of the 4th caste worker.

The penniless priestly 1st caste controls the banks. Thc 2nd caste king and army keep each other in power. The 3rd caste merchant is granted franchises and opcrating capital by the priest's banks and is protected by the king and his army.

3rd world feudal systems arc often primitive. The King's taxation/tribute system produces insufficient income to pay the army. The army is forced to extort protection money from the highly visiblc merchant caste - it is an oriental mafia.

Mr. Juwono, Indonesia's defense minister admits that the military is prone to graft and says that in the next 18 months he intends to audit about 320 yayasan or "charity foundations" linked to military businesses. He says he expects only about a 60% enforcement rate. He says that lack of funding makes it impossible to stamp out all illegal army business but hopes that some will be restructured to become legal commercial entities.

Many within the military complain that "the spoils of businesses are unfairly divided between top brass and junior officers." A perennial complaint common to all feudal systems. The Chinese army supports itself almost entirely with commercial entities that it directly operates. (Story in Financial Times, June 19, 2000, p.5)

LASER: "Red China has at its disposal a laser weapon which was manufactured in the US and passed on to Israel a number of years ago under the strict obligation to keep this secret, and under no circumstances to sell it to a third party. Pentagon experts label the laser weapon as the most dangerous electronic weapons system in existence today. It has the ability to render large formations of soldiers harmless in a matter of seconds by blinding them with a short burst of a death ray. According to experts, the gruesome effect - the eyeball melts literally - would cause the entire opposing ground troops to become panic stricken. President Clinton had refused to place the weapon at the disposal of American army commanders and passed it on to Israel instead. In so doing the Israelis made a packet and one year later they sold it to the Communists in Beijing." (Insider May 15, 1999, Klaus Vaque, PO Box 17200, Groenkloof, Pretoria 0027, RSA, $75/yr.)

Chapter 312

ATTILA THE HUN

Usury is the most insidious, destruetive, evil system that this world has ever produced. It is the glue that holds Babylon together. It is the bond that enslaves every nation that borrows. Interest and taxes are its hallmark.

Debt free nations who refuse loans, and debt-slave nations so beaten down that they refuse to go further into debt must be made to borrow to feed Babylon. Babylon hired someone to wield the whip. His name - "Attila the Hun".

Attila

"He was short of stature, swarthy and broad-chested, with a large head and hair which early turned gray, snub nose and deep-set eyes. He walked with a proud step, darting a haughty glance this way and that as if he felt himself lord of all."[1]

1 E/B, 14th Ed. Attila, p. 661

This is the visual impression that generations of Christians have gotten of Attila. After more than a thousand years the rest of the picture is still told by father to son; "Attila the Hun - The Scourge of Christendom;" "Nothing would grow where he walked." He was a demon incarnate.

This picture of Attila was mainly created and disseminated by no less than the Hun leader himself. It was the way he wished the world to view him. He wanted submission from those he negotiated with, and the best way to get submission was to make those with whom he negotiated believe that the alternative to negotiation and submission was unthinkable.[2] Attila was a very smart leader.

Early Life

Attila was born on the plains of the Danube around 395. He was the son of King Mundzuk and could trace his ancestry some 35 generations.[3]

Attila was well prepared to become king of the Huns. He grew up in the Hun camp and was trained in the rough and tumble life of a Hun warrior. He learned horsemanship, the bow, lariat, lance, and sword.

At 12 he was sent as child hostage to the Roman court of Honorius. Hun king Rugila in return received the Roman youth Aëtius as hostage. The future leaders of the Romans and the Huns crossed paths and studied each other's peoples to discover weak points, both at the same time.

While in the Roman court Attila formed strong prejudices against Roman opulence, show, and lifestyle. It was his opinion that such displays alienated the common people from their rulers. It was his later policy that both he and his chiefs would dress as the rest of the Huns. Perhaps finer quality, but the same, with virtually NO display of gold and silver ornaments.[4]

The Roman court was marble, silks, gold and silver. The court that Attila later established was made of wood with fine wood paneling. He ate plain food from wooden dishes.

Attila and his brother Bleda conquered neighboring Hun tribes.[5] To secure sole power Attila murdered his brother.[6] Within eight years he made himself virtually supreme in Central Europe.[7] His own special kingdom comprised what is now Hungary and Transylvania. He ruled almost without 4 Note that, with rare exception, "important" rulers among strangers lead ordinary lifestyles. Those who don't are mostly renegade hired help. In the "Hun World" the king owns everything. He parcels his holdings out to his nobles to rule. They in turn parcel it out to managers. The Hun is the "communist" to Rome's "capitalist". Two sides of the same coin. The usurer owns everything in the "capitalist" world. Those paying tribute (taxes, interest, rent, etc) are his servants. He parcels his large holdings (corporations) out to his nobles (corporate managers) to manage. One is a "dictatorship", the other a "democracy" - two sides of the same coin. Both are eternal enemies of nationalism and the "Self Sufficient Farm System".

5 The union of all Turkic tribes has always been the paramount dream of the leaders of the children of Esau. The closest it came was under the rule of Genghis Khan. The next is under UN government rule; the UN is a creation of Essau.

6 Murder in the top levels of cartel leadership is a hallmark of wolf rule - the time honored method of leader selection. It spares the group the ravages of civil war. Think on this when bankers and prelates gun each other down for no apparent reason, and presidents are shot in Dallas.

7 Every political rise to power is financed. Since time began the one with unlimited funds is the usury-banker.

rival from the Caspian Sea to the Rhine River. Hun-garians, Slavs and Germans live in this area today.

Attila The States-man

Attila was a great leader. His public life was one of deception. While engaged in stalking a prey he seldom let his left hand know what his right hand was doing. But, in more peaceful times, he periodically brought his chiefs together to teach them the art of statescraft so that they could better help him to accomplish his projects. His successors do the same today in Bilderburger type meetings not open to the public, but not really private either.

Acting The Part

When meeting Roman negotiators, Attila on occasion instructed his Chiefs to select the most vicious and ferocious looking warriors from his army. He ordered them to wear rough furs and leather and to eat raw meat. They were instructed to select 20 or 30 prisoners and to inflict the most horrible tortures on them - impalement, dismemberment, and the like. Then, tables were placed in the midst of this collection of screaming dying wretches, interspersed with hideous looking Huns dressed in the roughest of skins who unconcernly sat eating raw meat, with blood dripping from the sides of their mouths. It was in the midst of this scene that Roman-Hun negotiations commenced. The Roman negotiators were mightily influenced by the sights and sounds that surrounded them. All of this to perpetuate a legend and to gain the Huns the most for the cheapest price.[8]

8 Ibid, p. 42.

Today, all the above can be achieved easily with "special effects" by the Hun media along with "rent a riot" props. This saves later recriminations and expense that accompany dead bodies.

"Acting the part" still comes before demands. Demands are almost always preceded by the likes of Martin Luther King, Mandella, L.A., etc. type riots. Burning cities, beaten, raped and murdered citizens, and Oklahoma City bombings. Public circuses don't just happen - they are crafted.[9] Then, tribute money flows and the king's statutes are ratificd.

Catalaunain Fields Post-mortem

Attila's foray into France was stopped by the combined armies of the Visigoths and Romans at the great battle of thc Catalaunain Fields. Wes Roberts states that "By nightfall, the fields of Catalaunain were heaped with over 300,000 slain bodies of the horde."[10] The E/B states only that the carnage was terrible. Another source says that the combatants fought on mountains of bodies 30 feet high. Whatever the total casualties were they were sufficient to cause Attila to withdraw the following day.

Attila's End

Withdrawing across the Rhine River he returned to his Pannonian home. In the spring of 452, he sallied forth to sack

9 The stranger considers acting-deception such a high art form that he awards prizes to those considered most proficient. The contempt in which the public is held is shown by the establishment running brain-dead Hollywood hacks for the high office of president, getting them elected, and then having an opposition gun lobby hirc another actor with known internation tendencies to be their leader.

10 It has been estimated that there were also 300,000 bodies from the combined armies of Visigoths and Romans. More than half a million dead in a one day battle! Babylon cares nothing for lives.

Italy. After plundering northern Italy's Po Valley cities he met with Pope Leo I. Attila never revealed the agreement hammered out by the two, nor did Pope Leo. Following their meeting, Attila returned across the Alps.

In 453, he married Ildico, the daughter of a Germanic chief whom he had executed for treason. Attila indulged himself in wives and had 300.

The morning after his marriage he was found dead in a pool of blood. The Huns passed on the story about how he had burst a blood vessel. But, the story persisted that Ildico, to revenge her shame by being taken by a stranger, killed him.[11]

Admitting that a woman had killed Attila was something that the Huns could not do - which may account for the burst blood vessel story. Nor does history tell us of the subsequent fate of Ildico. It does say that it is quite possible that she did what the combined armies of the West could not do. When word was received that Attila was dead the coalition of Germanic tribes subject to the Huns revolted. After a succession of battles they defeated the Huns in Pannonia at a major battle at the Nedao River in which 30,000 Huns were slain including Attila's oldest son.

The Money Trail

The author prefers the above Ildico story, but the rule, "The love of money is the root of all evil" leads us back to the money trail.

Rome Needed Attila

Rome practiced the ancient system the WORD calls "usury" - a capital offense.[12]

As every educated person knows, one cannot lend $10 and expect repayment of $11 when only $10 exists. It's an impossibility. Default is inevitable and the borrower must lose his collateral.[13] The contract is crooked from its conception - which is why the WORD makes it a capital crime. The person making such an impossible loan has pre-determined to do evil to his neighbor.

To get the 11th dollar with which to pay the interest on the 10 for 11 loan, the borrower must make an adjustment to the original loan and offer additional collateral for the 11th dollar; then he will owe $11 but must still repay $12 - even more of an impossibility.

Sooner or later he will have to default. Sometimes he is lucky and takes the money another has borrowed into existence to pay off his loan, but if he does his neighbor cannot get the 11th dollar and bankrupts in his stead.

Rome was left with 12 ruling banker families. The most powerful of them ordered the Roman emperor he had installed to confiscate the wealth of the other bankers and then there was just one banker. The surviving banker was then master of Rome, her emperors, her armies, and her populace by 12 "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him." Ezek 18:13; "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deu 23:20

13 If usury loan's of $100 are made to 10 people conditional on repayment of $110 - 9 borrowers are theoretically able to repay, but one will bankrupt. When banks slow their loans it causes business downturns causing massive bankruptcies that fill the coffers of the usury-bankers.

making usury- loans to the people who were frantic for money for food and taxes.[14]

War Solves Slow Business

In the Roman Empire almost everyone was in debt, especially in the provinces and countries Rome had conquered. Usury payments and taxes siphoned the floating supply of money out of circulation. Trade slowed drastically and people stopped having children; they could not afford them. The population dropped. Rome was moribund. Something had to be done to breathe life into a dying empire.

War is the sure fire ITC solution. It forces people to pledge their hoarded assets to usurers in exchange for money to buy weapons with which to defend themselves. Instant prosperity! Attila was a godsend, he served Rome by producing Dresdens, Hiroshimas, Atlantas, and Milner's "scorched earth policies" all rolled into one.

Virginia Knows Attila

We in Virginia know Attila. The Crown allowed Indians to burn, rape and murder in exchange for keeping the crown fur monopoly intact. The Crown refused to allow us to manufacture a pot or a pan. They demanded we buy from them. The Crown refused to stop the slave trade because it was a merchant monopoly in which the Crown had a large interest; and, more labor meant cheaper labor and lower tobacco prices - Britain being the monopoly buyer.

14 Congress, the "supreme ruling power" of the United States, we are told, recoils in horror at the mere suggestion that they audit the books of the Federal Reserve. One does not dare question his master. Who is the more powerful? Congress or the Federal Reserve?

British villainy became unbearable and Nathaniel Bacon rebelled in desperation. His rebellion ended when the survivors were hanged and their estates confiscated - and then "privatized" by the Crown who gave them to its favorites.[15]

In 1775, the rebels' estates were again seized, but when war expanded to include the French, we got them back.

In 1812, the British burned the city of Washington, homes in Virginia, and seized slaves to be resold in the Carribean. Their peace negotiations allowed them to re-establish the National Bank of the United States in which the major stockholders were British (see War Cycles / Peace Cycles). Usury banking began to spread like a cancer as people borrowed to rebuild war damage.

1861-1865: Virginia's Shenandoah Valley was burned. VMI in Lexington along with many of its homes also. Liberty City (now Bedford) was burned. Hunter's advance was marked by a sky black with the smoke from burning homes. After the war the survivors went to the banks the victors had newly set up (when I was a boy, Lynchburg's banks all had 1865 as their founding date engraved above their entrances) to borrow to rebuild.

Amherst County, across the James River, was largely woods. Refugees from all over northern Virginia abandoned their homes and their worldly possessions and refugeed there to live in the woods under canvases and hasty lean-tos in preference to living under the mailed fist of the invader. Lynchburg was a hospital center - its homes and warehouses were filled with wounded soldiers so there was no extra room for refugees here. All across Amherst one can walk in the woods and find upright stones where such stones should not be - they mark the last resting place of one of the thousands of grandparents, mothers, or children who died from exposure, starvation and disease. At war's end the refugees went to the new banks and borrowed money to rebuild their burned homes.

With our farm workers gone, many of the farm owners killed, and strangers ruling us - heavily taxed land which had been farmed for 200 years suddenly became a liability. Formerly proud farmers moved their families to town to live in newly built company houses while they worked in newly built cotton mills for starvation wages. General Lee wrote that if he had known the use our enemies would make of our defeat that he would have rather died at Appomattox with his sword in his hand.

General Hunter walked in Attila's steps. He had been a preacher. Sherman a banker. Grant a drunk, and during his entire later presidency was known as a crook. Lincoln's treachery is too well known to repeat, and hypocritically, his wife owned slaves. He delivered the Southland to Rome on a silver platter and our blood, misery, and debt created one of the greatest economic booms the rest of the country had ever seen.

Covering The Tracks

Attila's unfortunate death is almost standard once their job has been completed. Attila look-a-likes often get the same treatment. Napoleon's wars stimulated trade and commerce throughout the world producing the same Attila-like effect; he was poisoned before broadcasting the names of those who financed his rise to power. Lincoln was shot before doing the same; Lenin died before telling who financed his revolution; Roosevelt had a stroke; the Japanese leaders were hanged; and the imprisoned top leaders of NS Germany were held incommunicado before they were put to death. Babylon values its privacy. It can not tolerate an audit or even a mild inspection.

But their secret is not all that secure. The bloody tracks they left walking the money trail are easy to follow. They lead straight to the owners of the world's usury-banks. These owners pay the Attilas of the world to build mountains of bodies that in due time will keep good times rolling - and for that there will one day come a reckoning.

Until that day - the warning that must be shouted from the housetops is:

"The borrower is slave to the lender".

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

Thank you for the last Hoskins Report on Militias. They were so similar to our "commandos", except ours did not supply their own field cannons of which they had a few. President Kruger bought them when war seemed inevitable. As the war continued, they got all the ammunition, rifles, cannons and even provisions they needed when they attacked English convoys. Clothes were a problem because they went in everyday wear and tear, so they took clothes from English prisoners when they paroled them. The rules of combat and treatment of civilians were almost the same as those of the Confederate armies and the German armies in WWII.

I got Rev. J. D. Kestell's book and found him very readable. He was on the battlefield to the end, the only one left and a great comfort to all. He always saw the beauty in nature. He tells of the brutality of the English towards women and children and the rape of women, but he could not bring himself to describe this in detail as it upset him terribly.

With the blacks murdering so many white farmers, certain districts have commandos continually on patrol and that does not sit well with the black ANC rulers. After all, it is their own terrorist organizations that are doing the murdering. This morning the radio repeated Mabona when he said that great damage is being done to many farms, burning tractors, buildings, etc. A petition list is going around against the farm violence, but we see it as a waste of time when the regime confirms that they want to remove farmers from the land one way or another. Time will be better spent preparing for the real onslaught and making ready to take firm action.

When whites arrived here there were almost no blacks. Today we are told that two-thirds of the blacks walking the streets are recently arrived foreigners. Apparently some whites even employ them in homes. That seems stupid with all the AIDS around. The AIDS conference in Durban was a farce and nobody can really make out what the true situation is. My daughter heard on TV that there will be more deaths than births in three years' time. Blacks do not understand the nature of AIDS no matter how many times it is explained to them. They say it is their culture to sleep around and that is that. Makoba, who used to shout the slogan "Kill a farmer, kill a Boer" will not last till December. He has full blown AIDS.

Newspapers had a very sad story about a Rottweiler and another dog who were attacked by squatters who cut off their ears and other body parts. Sympathy flowed and donations flooded in. A fence was put around the property. The papers were careful not to mention the fact that the owner was a black woman. Liberal organizations collect funds from whites to look after animals in black areas. They don't bother to have dispensaries for animals of poor and elderly whites who cannot afford the very expensive veterinary clinics. All aid goes to blacks who should not have animals in the first place. It's shocking how they treat them.

I know it is hot where you live, but here it is the opposite - it is bitterly cold and another cold front is on the way. After the firebreak was made we had to get out when two dangerous looking fires started in the veld. There must be something about the sight of flames which blacks love to see. Wild animals have moved closer to the house for protection.

About the shotguns - I wanted an AK47 but must have a permit and this is not possible at the moment. However we have slugs for shotguns that will pierce most objects.

A certain Wendy Orr wrote a book here of how bad our border war was for the young men. Then I look at many youngsters today; they wear earrings, shuffle along with drooping shoulders dress sloppy and many are overweight. A sad sight. Our border boys looked good in comparison.

We were talking about it the other day - is there a reason why we never hear music composed by Stephen Foster?[16]

The squatter camp is still growing but now with tiny hut houses. When it rains the inside is as wet as the outside. A black builder is the contractor and although white building

16 RKH: Yes. Foster wrote music as seen through the eyes of the white nation. The world's "inter-nation" rulers want inter-nation music to foster inter-national relationships. They own the media so you get what they want - regardless of what you want.

On Wednesday it was so cold inside that a bit of sun outside seemed nice. I grabbed an old ladder to cut dead pieces from the Wisteria. Did not get far before the ladder collapsed with me underneath and a broken heel and ankle was the result. So, it was off to thc hospital. Luckily a place with a white staff in all positions. Had to come home on Friday as we just cannot leave our place untended. Sure enough, a huge fire was raging, so my husband had to go out and fight the fire. We are trying to keep a grassy area for the wild animals; about forty guinea-fowl, rabbits, some tiny "steen bok" (antelope). They find it more difficult by the day to survive. The blacks are useless enough, but they still manage to keep hunting dogs. Consequently, nothing wild is safe.

While I was at the doctors, a young woman came in with a knee problem. She had just organized the AIDS conference that took place in Durban, so I thought she would know something about AIDS. But, it seems she had more to do with the catering, travelling and accommodations. All I got from her was, "Eleven (mostly blacks) get AIDS every minute, and six die every minute, and in three years time there will be more deaths than births." A French delegate spoke to blacks on a SA Broadcasting System program. He could not make the blacks understand that soon they will not understand what hit them. Still, white men pick up black women next to roads. One white sodomite said he did a roaring trade with the delegates in Durban. It doesn't seem like this AIDS conference will accomplish anything positive. Living a Bible ordained life and keeping away from blacks who may be AIDS infected will help a great deal.

A funny thing I noticed - the young woman who did the organizing thinks the conference will bring investments to S. Africa; A country with no growth rate, hardly any infrastructure left, whose blacks are the most expensive lazy work force one can imagine, and with a rampant crime rate. Dear me!

A last thing, the white farmers in Zimbabwe finally hit on a wonderful idea - that of closing down all farming activities. If anything works this will. Blacks will riot in the streets demanding the return of white farmers if food shortages get bad.

This just in: I have distressing news. Mr. Jaap Marais, long time leader of the HNP is dead. He warned against allowing the blacks to take over S. Africa and remained a constant thorn in the side of the communist ANC black rule. His knowledge and writings about S. Africa's true history and destiny have kept our spirits high during these difficult days. Under his leadership the HNP has held high his belief in eventual deliverance - in opposition to other white collaborators who have been ever-so- eager to play the traitor. We pray that his replacement will be as great a patriot as he was.

He will be sorely missed. K.J.

WORSHIP WITH ALIENS In Our Sacntuaries

Thomas Road Baptist Church

Jerry Falwell's Thomas Road Baptist Church uscd to be a national church.[1] Onc Sunday a delegation from the multi-national NAACP arrived in front of the church and told the newspapers that thcy were there to integrate the church (convert TRBC from a national into a multi-national church).

Thcy strode into the sanctuary and met the deacons. The deacons grabbed the NAACP representatives and rushed them to the front door of the sanctuary and threw them head over teacups down the steps. Thomas Road made no apology for treating trespassers in this manner and most of the people in town agreed.

Of course, times have changed. Jerry Falwell and Thomas Road Baptist Church, once the widely advertised "bulwark of fundamental Christianity", voluntarily changed and became a multi-national church to keep its tax-exemption. But, it is a fact that once upon a time Thomas Road Baptist Church was a national church that obeyed God's WORD.

America's Separated Churches

America's churches once forbade strangers to come into their midst simply because God The WORD forbade it. This was true in New York, Washington D.C., San Francisco, as well as in Richmond, Atlanta and Selma.

The Crowning Humiliation

Integrating nations and mixing their gods is nothing new. In 595 BC, Jeremiah recorded Israel's crowning humiliation:

> "We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers (2114 Heb: zûwr - racial aliens) are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house." Jer 51:51

This upset over aliens being in the Lord's house was based on an earlier Commandment of God recorded in 1410 BC:

"A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2[2]

Kill The Stranger

To the above prohibition was added a prohibition issued in 1450 BC:

"When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51 (No 18:7)

Samaria

About 800 years later (721 BC), after repeatedly running after other gods, God the WORD took the nation of Israel out of the promised land he had given them and sent them into captivity in Babylon. The story reads in this manner:

"In the 9th year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria (capital city of the Northern Kingdom) and carried Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the River Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes." 2Ki 17:6

Sheldon Emry in his book Russia Will Invade America says that over 10 million Israelites went into captivitiy. The Scriptures continue:

2 Bastard: The centuries old definition of bastard is "a child born out of wedlock." This is a re-definition of the original meaning. The KJV translators used the English word "bastard" only twice in Deut 23:2 and Zec 9:6, according to Strong's Concordance. In both cases it is the Hebrew word #4464 and is defined: "Mamzer, a mongrel, ie. born of a Jewish father and a heathen mother: - bastard." The true meaning of a bastard is "a child born from sexual intercourse between a father and a mother of different races!" When this last was written the writer did not have today's knowledge that modern Jews are 8th century Mongol-Turk converts to Judaism whose descendants readily admit that they are alien to the ancient Hebrew-Israelites whose religion they have chosen.

"And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon... Cu'-thah ... Ha'-math ... Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the children of Israel ... They ... know not the manner of the God of the land. Then the King of Assyria commanded .... carry thither one of the priest whom ye brought from thense... and let him teach them the manner of the god of the land... howbeit every nation made Gods of their own ... unto this day ... they fear not the Lord, neither do they after their statutes ... which the Lord commanded the children of ... Israel ... As did their fathers so do they unto this day." II Ki 17:24-41

The above says four things loud and clear:

* (1) Strangers were imported to live and work in the land of Samaria that formerly belonged to the children of Israel:

* (2) These newly arrived superstitious strangers wanted to pacify the god of the land and petitioned the king to send them a preacher to teach them about God the WORD, the God of Israel:

* (3) The king sent a preacher to teach these alien immigrants, but:

* (4) After learning the WORD, these Arab-Turks had not changed a bit. They were made in the image of their own gods, as we are made in the image of God the WORD, and they continued to blaspheme God The WORD even though claiming to worship Him.[3]

"I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied in Baal, ... and caused my people Israel to err." Jer 23:13

3 Multi-national countries send multi-national missionary priests (Dharmamatras) to foreign nations to make them spiritual captives. The alien convert-captive follows his teacher's multi- national religion to gain entry into "heaven". North American "Protestant-Episcopal" Indians fought for Britain. North American "Catholic" Indians fought for France. Hindu Dharmatized Christians become multi-national accepting all gods and their commerical agents.

Summary To Date

Thus far WORD has told us that: It is a shame to our nation to have strangers in our sanctuaries (Jer 51:51); That no mixed breed is to enter the temple (De 23:2); That strangers who approach the tabernacle are to be put to death (No 1:51): And, evangelized aliens who say they follow our God in reality continue to follow their own ancient gods since they are made in the image of that god (II Ki 17:24-41).

Aliens Volunteer Help Rebuilding The Temple

About a hundred years after going into captivity, 50,000 returned from Babylon to rebuild the temple in Jerusalem. When the news that they had arrived got out, the Turk-Arabs living in Samaria to the north, the ones who had been evangelized by a Priest of God The WORD, rushed down and offered to help rebuild the temple, explaining that they all worshiped the same god and were therefore all the same. This is how the story is recorded:

> "Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Israel; ... they came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them. Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assur, which brought us up thither. But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel ..." Ezra 4:1-3

One can imagine how today's apostate preachers would have handled matters if they had been there. They would have welcomed anyone who said that they followed God the WORD and would have accepted their help to build a house to God. Not only those who said that they followed God The WORD, but also those who protested that they followed a god - any god! After all, according to today's priests, all gods are one!

The Scriptures records what happened when the Samaritan-Turks were turned away:

> "Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building, And hired counselors against them, to frustrate their purpose." Ezra 4:1-5

The story as recorded in the Apocrypha goes into a bit more detail:

> "Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it ... they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel. So they went to ... the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Azbazareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. Then ... the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together an house unto the Lord our God. We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel." I Esdras 6:66-71

Down Through The Years

Israel had a king-high priest named Hycanus. In violation of the Word Of God he evangelized the accursed Edomites and by edict made them members of the house of Israel. In spite of their acceptance of God The WORD they brought their old gods with them and in time rose to power; it was Herod the Edomite, ruler of Judea, who slaughtered the Hebrew children. Under such leadership Judea lapsed into evil ways until the WORD had almost been forgotten. Into this cauldron of evil God sent his son, the "WORD made flesh" to revive the WORD among those who had forgotten. God did this because he remembered his promise:

"The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

Jesus arrived and taught:

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." Mt 5:17

And what did the law teach?

"A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." De 23:2

"When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51

It was natural that after having said that he was not come to destroy the Law that Jesus should go on to say:

"I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Mathew 5:24

Josephus recorded the fact that the law stated:

> "It shall be Lawful for no foreigner to come within the limits of the temple." Josephus 12:3:4

Aliens themselves knew that it was not permitted for them to enter the temple. Josephus records that even the general of the Assyrian army, even though a conqueror, found out that that aliens were not permitted to enter the temple:

> "The general of Artazerxes army ... as he was aiming to go into the temple, they forbade him to do so." Antiquities 11:7:1

What Jesus Taught

Jesus said that he was in the beginning. It was He who said that He and his Father are one. It was He who had made the Laws and it was He who instructed his deciples in this manner:

> "These 12 Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying, Go ye not into the way of the gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not; But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5,6

He told them:

> "I am sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24.

Multi-Nationals Say Jesus Lies

The imperative of the anti-Christ from the beginning has always been:

> "Satan ... sought to kill him (Adam-man), and to make him disappear from off the face of the earth." I Adam & Eve 72:12

The stranger's age-old wish is to destroy Saxon-man from the face of the earth so that they can inherit it. What better way to destroy man than to separate him from his God who created him in his image from the beginning - by making him believe that God lies.

It was Jesus who said in the beginning that man was not to worship with strangers. It was Jesus who said that God does not lie.

Therefore, when Jesus said "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15-16, he was referring to his own. There can be no other interpretation. He has to be talking about his own people Israel otherwise he would be a liar, and the Scripture says "God is not a man that he should lie." Num 23:19.

Other seeming paradoxes to the WORD which liberals use over and over in their never-ending attempt to destroy the WORD can be answered in the same manner.

In spite of what multi-nationals say, Jesus did not change any Law that he made in the beginning or make any new ones. "Think not that I am come to destroy the law of the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." Matt 5:17 He nailed it down when he said; "The scripture cannot be broken." John 10:35.

Conclusion

Today is the day of the nation's WORD of God vs. the gods of the multi-nation. Our nation is the Saxon nation. Our God is God the WORD. Anyone who follows his own mind or says that he has some "private" truth[4] follows another god.

Anyone who stands before the people and says that he speaks for God the WORD while his congregation contains aliens is a false witness and the truth is not in him.[5] The multi-national congregation reveals multi-national gods who were brought in by the strangers, and their gods are many. The preacher of such a congregation will serve the many gods before him and not God The WORD who said that we are not to have strangers in our midst. Our God has said to his own children:

4 "No prophecy of the scripture is of ... private interpretation." 2 Pe 1:20

5 "Ye shall know them by their fruits. Matt 7:16

"Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God Of Israel." Ezra 4:1-3

"So shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Ex 33:16

SLAVES

An entire book can be written on the above, but fear of "overload" caused me to cut it short. Still, I couldn't help but add a story or two that I related years ago and the reader may have forgotten by now. It's a fault that comes with old age.

In spite of what Esau's multi-national media says, Southerners loved their slaves. From Thomas Jefferson down they had all sorts of opinions about their slaves innate abilities, but the consensus among slave owners was that it was all important to "save their souls" from the wiles of the local voodoo practitioner.

To save their slaves' souls Southerners made an exception to the "No stranger ..." rule. They constructed balconies in their churches with outside entrances so that slaves could hear God the WORD without coming in contact with Saxons who worshiped below in the main sanctuary. The result was that slaves had to choose between God the WORD that passed through a Black filter or choose the incantations of plantation Voodoo. It was one or the other.

Slaves were getting sick and dying on the plantation of my great, great grandfather, John Payne Kelly, for no apparent reason. Surrounding plantations were experiencing the same phenomenon. This was serious - slaves were expensive. Neighborhood meetings were held and a general search found that there was a Voodoo practitioner somewhere in the county. Further search led to my grandfather's plantation. There it was discovered that an old crone was a Voodoo practitioner. All the slaves in the county were afraid of her. She told Blacks to get sick - and they got sick. She told them to die and they died. I don't know how many had gotten sick and died, but there were a lot.

My grandfather confronted her and she lunged at him and bit him on his arm. This was serious. She was what they called in that day, "a blue gum niggra." This meant that her bite was poisonous. It was poisonous to my grandfather - the wound became septic and his arm had to be amputated.

I don't know what happened to the Voodoo woman, but when she was gone, the sickness and deaths among the slaves stopped.[6]

Blacks have gods and their gods have power. When freed, the first thing the former slaves did was to desert the White churches and organize their own. Their "preachers" taught Jesus, Bible stories, and reintroduced African chants similar to "rap" today. In church aisles they danced victory dances black football players do in today's football end-zones - called "toy-toying" in S. Africa.

Only multi-national liberals doubt that the Black "Jesus" taught in Black churches is anything other than a voodoo devil with another name.[7]

6 Plantation owners were reluctant to have expensive slaves executed for capital crimes because of the cost. A prime field hand was as expensive as one of today's Rolls-Royce automobiles. Virginia tried to solve the problem by contributing half the value if the owner would have a murdering slave executed. But, executions were rare. This act of seeming mercy violated God's Law.

7 The only god multi-national liberals recognize are gods pieced together to their satisfaction from many other gods.

Churches

As far back as I can remember, Black servants were invited to White funerals and they sat on the back seats in churches. The same was true for weddings.

As far back as I can remember the preacher collected money for missions to Africa. An old timer told me that he wouldn't contribute because the preachers had been collecting money for missions for three hundred years and still the Christian religion never lasted longer than the missionary.

It is an historical fact that the most vicious Black leaders who exterminated the Whites in Haiti were trained by Christian priests. The most vicious leaders of Black slave rebellions in America were trained by Christian preachers (Stonewall Jackson himself taught a colored Sunday School). Most South American and North American bloodthirsty Indian leaders were taught by Christian missionaries. Chinese communist revolutionaries all attended Christian schools. South Africa's Mandella and most of his ilk were trained in Christian schools. Joseph Stalin, the most bloodthirsty of them all, was trained by Christian priests.

There is a lesson here, a lesson that should have been learned two thousand years ago.

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; "Thou shall no stranger eat of the holy thing." Lev 22:10

A PRAYER ANSWERED

This month I spoke at a Christian Family camp in Wisconsin. The anti-Christian Reform media had waged a 3 week newspaper and TV campaign to discourage campers from attending. They boasted that 600 protesters were expected.

I arrived at camp, about 1 p.m. and parked. Carrying my traveling bag I walked across the road to the camp and passed through about 25 protesters of various ages and sexes who were carrying signs. There were ten others who were media cameramen.

Most of the signs were innocuous. I told various sign carriers that I agreed with this sign and that, So, what was the purpose of their protest?

They answered that they were protesting "hate". I answered, "Do I not hate them that hate thee, do I not hate them with a perfect hatred?", and told them that the Bible requires a person to hate those who hated the WORD. That really seemed to stump them.

But soon, they were back yelling again. I later discovered that this was for the benefit of cameras with telephoto lens who were having a difficult time making 25 people look like the 600 promised protesters who did not show up. As far as mass rallies are concerned, this was a fiasco.

The protest was scheduled to take place all weekend, but the protest leaders couldn't recruit protesters to return once they actually met and talked to some of the Bible campers. They discovered that it wasn't at all like the media had said it would be.

There was a Lutheran youth minister present who seemed to be one of the protest leaders. Along about 4 p.m. it began to rain, and he gathered his little group together across the road near some tall pine trees and held a prayer. Then they left.

I went to my room to get some papers. While there I heard an explosion. It sounded like heavy artillery. It was loud! More than a dozen people witnessed it.

This is what had happened: Five minutes after the protesters prayed, at that very spot, a bolt of lightning struck. This is where it gets interesting. The lightning did not hit the ground; it came within 20 feet over the exact spot where the protesters had met a few minutes earlier, turned into a fireball (something I have never heard of before) and violently exploded. The consensus was that it would have killed the whole party of anti-Christ liberals had they not left five minutes before. No one had ever seen anything like it.

Evidently, their prayer had been heard and answered - in a most spectacular manner.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: The funeral of Jaap Marais was held last Monday. It was very dignified and our people came from far away to pay tribute to this great man. We missed the graveside service because our map is rather old and we got lost. We went straight to the church of President Paul Kruger which was opposite his house. The wheelchair made it easy for me to attend.

Prof. Pont, an old friend of Marais, held the service to a packed audience. At the graveside 17 young people flew the Vierkleur for each year that he was the leader. The liberal reaction was interesting. They said he was a gentleman but a bigot. They could never understand a person who always said no, could not be bought, and did not follow the multitude. If Dr. Verwoerd had survived his assassin, Marais would have been the next prime minister.

The main council decided to leave Willie Marais (no relative) as acting leader till the coming yearly congress. The entire congress can then elect a new leader. We have a few young men with ability, but it is a full time political job and they need an income. Jaap Marais was never paid by the HNP, but a young man with a family needs an income.

Not far from us are a few shops mostly for the black trade. Two funeral parlors for blacks appeared and the squatters began to complain that they have no cemetery near.

Road walking females who once had big expensive car owners as clients are no longer around. AIDS? How a white man could bring himself to pick up these Blacks is beyond our understanding. In days gone by white policemen used to phone the wives and tell them.

The nearby post office is closed once more by striking Blacks. They want money without working. That's the idea.

The cast came off the foot but it will still take six weeks before I can walk. The worst is to see my work waiting and there is nothing I can do about it. My husband took over the kitchen and cleaning, thank goodness, but that keeps him from his own work.

Old Harry Oppenheimer died last Saturday. The Jews call him an icon although he joined the "Anglican church, or rather his father Ernest did when the other son died, but they never recognized Christ. Ernest's estate claimed that it was only worth £600 when he died. I wonder how they will say today since it is well known that Harry's estate is worth billions.

It came to my mind that another similarity exists between the Southern States of America, Germany and South Africa. The attempt by our nations to go their own way worried the Jews no end. They hate aparthcid. "Separateness" by any name is a thing they use to vilify the white nations who dare to say there is enough space for every race to grow at its own rate. Apartheid did not fail. Here, big business used the money intended for factories near black homelands for themselves. Blacks who could work away from home had to move to town and stayed in hostels. The Jews then complained about Black broken homes, but they caused the broken homes. Their idea is; have many workers looking for one job and exploit the black labour by paying them the least they can.

Take Helen Susman, that great liberal. She owned the Union Hotel near the Union Building in Pretoria. She paid her staff so badly that it became a major issue. As one old Jewess told my husband, she only pays the garden boy half wage, "It is better than nothing!"

Eugene Tere'Blanche, the former White militia leader, was sent to prison for something I still have my doubts about. The Black he was supposed to have beaten senseless still works where he did before the incident. Never mind the brain damage they said he had. Anyway, he is out on parole at moment.

Hans told a young political worker last week that we do not intend to vote for a Black communist party or a White communist party.

White farmers and their wives are killed daily, but the media were told by the Black police head not to publish the incidents. Unless our own people keep track of the killings in their own area there are no longer statistics to go by.

The fuel price is still going up. It seems that the sky is the limit since the ANC found out how easy it is to tax Whites this way. Our railway transport no longer exists. Everything goes by road. Since the roads aren't repaired potholes appear and rather than fix them the Blacks put up signs reading "Potholes!" Clever these Blacks, they know how to destroy a country.

I read about Secret German Technology in "The Last Talons of the Eagle". The authors dislike the evil Germans but note that the allies could not wait to get their hands on German inventions. The Stealth Bomber was taken to America and fifty years later it is revealed that it was a German invention. This was just one of many such.

An armed Black came onto the farm and hid among some trees. After exchanging a few shots with us he left.

With our best wishes,

K.J.

PRIVATIZATION

Members of the ancient Hindu religious priesthood were destitute. Their organization was wealthy. It owned everything.

CONTROL is everything. International Trade Cartel (ITC) control is exercised through "corporations". Corporations own property and they own the people who work for it.

The kings of the world are ITC creations and are corporate employees. Their purpose is to protect ITC wealth managed in ITC corporations. When the ITC cannot gain possession of a privately owned property it is government's job to get it for them. This is done by "privatization". Many individuals refuse to sell their property to the ITC - the Kaiser of Germany, the Czar of Russia, the Catholic Church of Mexico and Spain, the Boer holdings in S. Africa, and the plantations of the Southland, to name a few.

The ITC directs their governments to "nationalize" the coveted property. Sometimes this is done when one country conquers another. The coveted property is then "nationalized" and bought by front-organizations at quasi-legal fire-sale prices.

After people have had time to forget, the property is "privatized" into ITC corporations - the ones who could not buy it from the original owners. This is the reason for the world- wide rush to privatization. Government seized property is being passed on to ITC corporations and paid for with ITC bank credit.

Privatization is Babylon's technique of taking over the world. They have been doing it for a long time and it costs them nothing but paper money or credit. Below are a few recent ones among the scores that take place every week.

Slovakia - El Passo Energy of the US has been named preferred bidder for Slovakia's first energy privatization.

Argentina - One of Argentina's biggest provinces is planning to retire its debt with money gained from privatizing its bank, electric company and casino operation.

China - Is selling broadcasting licenses.

Britain - Has just "privatized" 30 tons of its gold reserve. Surprise, surprise - the 30 ton offer was oversubscribed 2 1/2 times.

PASTOR BUTLER

I met Pastor Butler perhaps ten years ago when he introduced himself at a Family Bible Meeting in Spokane where I was speaking. He made a good impression. An elderly white haired man, nicely dressed in coat and tie, above medium height, with a quiet retiring manner. Over the years I have learned that he is a man of his word with a too-generous heart who believes every hard-luck story he is told and will give the hardluck storyteller everything he has. I wrote the following two years ago but never had the space to run it. It tells something of the spirit of the man.

The Raid

Eighty year old Pastor Butler leads the church at Hayden Lake. His congregation holds cross lightings. This makes him a perfect target for the media who has long demonized him. Regardless, he and his congregation have the right to believe whatever they want to believe, the same right that the communists, Muslims, or devil worshiping Hindus have, and with which the media finds no fault.

On Sunday, May 31, 1998, during church service, a provocateur created a disturbance and was conducted off church premises. Four minutes later 11 police cars drove up, giving credence to the charge that the affair was staged because it takes 15 minutes to drive from town.

In Pastor Butler's words:

> "Church let out at 12:00 noon. At approx. 12:45, two members of the church and myself decided to go to lunch. Driving down the church's 1000 foot driveway and coming to a clearing and turn in the driveway, we could see a dozen sheriff and state police cars.
>
> "I parked and walked the rest of the way to the county road - Rimrock Road. I could see five of our men lying face down on the road. Looking to my right I could see 6 or so police officers aiming shotguns, pistols, and high-powered rifles at my people!
> "I yelled to my men ... 'Get up!, you are men, not dogs!'

"I turned and walked toward the pointed guns asking what this is about and was told to back off or they would shoot. I said, 'Go ahead and shoot. I'm unarmed and only want to talk to you.'

> "The police response was to mace and pepper spray my eyes and face. My unarmed men, standing behind me, led me off the road ... I was blinded. My thought is that the police were worried that this 80-year-old WHITE man was going to take their guns away from them." RGB (http://www.nidlink.com/~aryanvic)

All together, five were arrested and driven to prison. They were assaulted on their own property, were not under arrest, were not read their rights, and charges were filed only hours later. Most face charges of "obstruction" and "unlawful assembly" on their own property.

Background

The media has had a heyday lambasting Butler's Hayden Lake operations. Cross lightings and WWII Nationalist Socialist regalia is the sort of thing the media loves.

Jewish Defense League's toughs in their sweat shirts, folded arms, in-your-face posturing can do this sort of thing and it is never reported because both they and the media emanate from the same source. With the Aryan Nations Church, that is a different matter.[8]

Setup

Many believe that the present incident was a setup because that's what was done to them before. First, the area media waged a non-stop campaign against the Aryan Nation's church. This demonizes them and conditions the local jury pool.

Next, Aryan Nations reportedly was given information that a group of hostiles were 'en route from California to harass them - for the unpteenth time. This put them on edge. Then, a car drove by slowly as if the occupants were casing the place.

While the gate keepers were in a heightened state of alert, a shot was fired - or the car backfired - depending on who is telling the story. Following the shot (backfire) the car sped away from the scene - thus giving evidence of guilt to the gate guards.

The guards give chase, shot out the tires of fleeing vehicle, and roughed up the occupants - a woman and her son. This gave Morris Dees of the Southern Poverty Law Center cause to enter stage left and file suit.

If this was a rigged incident - it was professionally done. The result was a foregone conclusion. The trial was held before a media-biased jury who awarded a $6 million dollar judgment to the plaintiffs. This effectively wipes out Aryan Nations. Dees gets the Aryan Nation's 20 acres, buildings, flags and paraphernalia - a clean sweep.

A phone call to the AN confirms the above. One point: They say that while they are being forced to move - they aren't defeated by a long shot - and they say they have no intention of giving up their name.

Alien Strategy

It is the editor's opinion this sort of thing is an on-going operation. It is also my opinion if it were not Morris Dees doing the hatchet job it would be someone else. Aryan Nations is only the last of a long list of victims.

The modis-operandi appears to be this: Media-demonize the chosen victim, poison the jury pool, compromise the victim in some manner - either by inciting him to make an overt act, or using evidence (that the public believes is credible) that the targeted victim "incited" a violent act. A case is then brought before a poisoned jury. The result is a foregone conclusion.

How To React

One can react in one of two ways:

> "Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." Matt 10:16

The second way is the way of Barabbas. Barabbas had been one of Jesus' followers:

> "Now Barabbas spake with something of austerity ... Therefore I asked him again where he had been of late, and why he had forsaken the disciples. But he answered with still more of passion than before, "Because I am weary of these idle wanderings about Galilee, which bring forth no fruit. Not to sit on stools at the feet of a Scribe did I and my friends join ourselves to Jesus of Nazareth. Why tarrieth he so long idle? Why is his hand so backward to smite the oppressor?" But I bade him be of good cheer, for the hour was not yet come, and Jesus would know better than we the season fit for our uprising." Philochristus, Chapter 13: pp24, p.129

Conclusion

The WORD says that there is a time for all things - a time for peace and a time for war. Since the enemy is doing everything he can to provoke followers of The WORD into committing some act Babylon has declared "unlawful" so that they can be liquidated - be "harmless as doves". Don't follow the way of Barabbas.

While we remain "harmless as doves" the Scriptures promise that the day of the white horse will most assuredly come - in the Lord's own time. After all, did not the Son of Man, the WORD made flesh, say to man:

> "Think not thot I am come to send peoce on earth: I come not to send peace, but o sword." Matt 10:34

He said, "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15. At the same time He also said to pay Caesar lest you offend him. A live follower of the WORD is better than a dead one. Today, our sword must be the WORD:

> "The WORD of God is quick, and sharper thon any 2- edged sword." Heb 4:12

The seed must be planted before the harvest. At harvest time we will be able to say:

> "Greater love hath no mon than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13

PARABLES
How To Survive

Two Kinds Of Christianity

There are two kinds of Christianity:

* National Christianity, and

* Multi-national Christianity - called "establishment Christianity" or "Christian-Hinduism".

The two have little in common. The first is of God the WORD - the second is created by the "establishment" to bless the establishment and replace the first.

The persecution of the first by the second forces the followers of God the WORD to tell their story in "Parables" using ancient code words having double meanings.

The Christian nationalist has studied the WORD and knows his nation and its mission. The multi-nationalist has also studied and has chosen the multi-national way because multi-gods seemingly offer more immediate rewards. The rest of the muliti- nationals have inherited their multi-gods along with mixed genes.

Only For Those Chosen

The Scriptures say:

> "And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. ... lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them." Matt 13: 10-15 [1]

Sedition

Jesus was the founder and leader of a political/cultural revolution. His followers admitted it then and do so to this day.

In the New Jewish Encyclopedia, "Jesus Of Nazareth," it states:

> "In the eyes of Jewish authorities, Jesus' claims to messiahship were particularly distressing because of their political implications, since Palestine had already suffered as the result of attempted insurrections against

1 Our first century ancestors readily understood the parable. The book of Philochristus Ch 5, p. 52. Restoration Press, explains it in the following manner:

"When I speak of our Scriptures, I mean that there are two interpretations of every Scripture. There is first the outer meaning, which is as it were the body; but there is next, the inner spiritual meaning, which is, as it were, the soul. Thus, for example, when thou readest that Eve was made out of the rib of Adam, or that the world was made in six days, or that God talked with Moses in a thorn-bush, the letter of these Scriptures is indeed foble, but the spiritual is truth and life."

Nationalists concentrate on the spiritual: Multi-nationals concentrate on the letter to keep their parishioners from learning the inner truth.

the Herodian rulers. As a probable rebel against Roman authority, Jesus was handed over to the Roman governor, Pontius Pilate, to be tried for treason."

Another source puts it this way:

"The charge on which Jesus was finally condemned was of political sedition (Lk 23:2) ... He did often speak about the 'kingdom of God' as the object of his mission, and such language, particularly in Galilee, was open to nationalistic interpretation." New Bible Dictionary, 2nd Ed, Tyndale, "Jesus Christ, Life & Teaching."

Seditious Objectives

Christians who follow God the WORD believe that the Kingdom of God requires each and every one appointed "king and priest" to exercise their authority. It requires that strangers leave the land; that usury, taxes and contracts with strangers cease, that the land be divided, and that debts be forgiven every 7 years.

The introduction and implementation of these measures, "The Kingdom of God", means the end of the world as is presently known. There should be little wonder why "Christians" are almost daily attacked as "terrorists" and worse by today's establishment.

Now, for the hidden language of God's conspiracy:

Snake Handlers & Water Walkers

Every year or two one reads in the papers about some preacher who handles a rattlesnake because the Scriptures say, "They shall take up serpents". Mark 16:18[2] - and gets bitten.

He got bitten because snakes bite. It's God's LAW - God made them that way. There are two kinds of serpents. The "Serpent" referred to by the WORD is different. There is one Law dealing with rattlesnake "serpents", and another dealing with the other kind. You can take hold of the other kind when one does as directed. Handling snakes is a parable. There are two kinds of snakes.

Every few years one also reads about some fellow in New York telling the world that God told him to walk on water. Cameramen follow him down to the East River and record the actions of the deluded soul as he steps out into the deep and almost drowns himself.

I'll bet that those reading these lines have never seen anyone actually walk on water. You can drown yourself trying. It violates God's LAW of gravity. We know that God the WORD can violate his own law if he chooses, but he said that he doesn't. He said. "I change not"[3]. Therefore, the story must be a parable. One of the simplest.

Peter Walks On Water

Peter saw "Jesus" walking on water. He asked if he could do the same and Jesus said "sure". Peter stepped out and started walking on water. He became fearful and began to sink into the water. Jesus reached out and raised him.

Walking on water is impossible which makes this an obvious parable. This means that we, too, can walk on water if we know what we are doing. The reason is that "the WORD made flesh said we could. "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do." John 14:12.

2 "I give unto you power to tread on serpents." Luke 10:19

3 "For I the Lord, do not change." Mal 3:6

Let's take it a step at a time. Peter: His natural name was "Simon". Jesus re-named him "Peter" meaning "Rock".[4] Rock means The WORD, the foundation of all our belief.[5] Jesus the "WORD made flesh" told "Peter the Rock" (meaning The WORD) to come to him. Peter the rock stepped out of the boat and started walking on water over to Jesus.

Waters are peoples.[6] Peter began to doubt[7] and began to sink into the peoples of the world. Jesus reached out and lifted him out of the clutches of strange peoples and their wiles.

The message is clear. With faith and obedience one can walk on waters unscathed. But, if you begin to doubt - waters will drown you. Have faith in the WORD without doubt and you will be saved from them. A follower of God the WORD has to know that there are two kinds of water.

PETER THE ROCK

Some protestants belonging to the Church of England believe that Jesus appointed Peter high priest of the Catholic Church. When the king ran the Catholic Church out of England the king inherited the position. I've known people who look on the King of England as a God on earth.

Many, if not most, mainstream preachers in America believe that the state is God's representative on earth.

4 Halley's Bible Handbook, p. 466.

5 "Who is a rock save our God." Ps 18:31; 2 Sa 22:32.

6 "The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues." Rev 17:15

7 "Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he sayeth shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he sayeth." Matt 11:23

Many Catholics believe that the pope is God's representative on earth, appointed to the position of high-priest by Jesus Christ.

The belief is based on this Scripture:

> "Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And they said, Some say John the Baptist ... He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him ... flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." Matt 16:13-19

Ok, lets do it:

"Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? Ans: "His name is called The Word of God." Re 19:13

Now, the million dollar question:

But whom say ye that I am? The disciple who answered was Simon Peter.

"Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."[8]

Different people arrive at this knowledge at different times. Unfortunately, most never get it. But the world is different for those who do. Jesus continued:

> "For flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter"

8 "Christ"- from the Greek "CHRISTOS": means "anointed," as in consecrated to an office. Tyndale's New Bible Dictionary.

"His natural name was "Simon". Jesus re-named him 'Peter' meaning 'Rock'.[9]

Jesus also said:

> "... and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." Matt 16:13-19

And the inner meaning:

"... And upon this rock (the WORD) I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee (YOU, the priest appointed by God the WORD) the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." Matt 16:13-19

If you are looking for some mediator, the Scriptures are clear about who he is:

> "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus." I Titus 2:5

This tells us exactly who the mediator is and who it isn't. God appointed us "priests" and we get our marching orders straight from Jesus - "The WORD made flesh".

David Slays The Giant

The Scriptures say:

9 Halley's Bible Handbook, p. 466. Peter means "rock". The scripture says: "Who is a rock save our God." Ps 18:31; 2 Sa 22:32

"David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Philistine, and slew him." 1 Sa 17:50

This story is believable as it is - if there are such things as physical giants. The closest I ever saw was an 8 foot man who visited Thomas Road Baptist Church once. I felt sorry for him. He had all sorts of physical problems. Stories make the rounds of giant's bones that have been discovered here or there. But, I have never found a second witness to the stories.[10]

As a parable the story of David and the giant is very believable.

Little David the shepherd boy (a shepherd is among the lowest of occupations) volunteered to fight the great giant warrior (giant in attributes?) of the Philistines. He reached down and selected a stone (The WORD) from the brook and slung it at the giant. The stone sank the giant's head and killed him.

The serpent (evil) came to Eve in the garden. Like the Serpent, Goliath, too, was a messenger of death. The WORD said that Adam would crush the serpent's head. In earlier days the evil Naphidem were called "giants in the land"; HR #286 & #287. There are certainly evil giants in the land today as great or greater than Goliath. God said that we would crush the serpent's head and he would bite our heel (unguarded place). The enemy has studied our Scriptures and knows that we search for the serpent's head. Therefore, he conceals himself so that it is extremely hard to locate him. Strike the head with a stone and the serpent-giant dies. David did.

10 The Dead Sea Scrolls say that Goliath was 4 1/2 cubits tall - about 6 and a half feet.

Abraham Willing To Sacrifice Isaac

Abraham heard a voice telling him to offer up his most precious possession - his only son. It it obviously a parable since murder is against the law.

According to the story, Abraham took Isaac to the top of a mountain and built an altar. He lay Isaac on the altar. Abraham was obedient, ready and willing to sacrifice his most precious possession, his first born. His son Isaac was also willing to be sacrificed. God then stopped him and showed him another sacrifice - a sheep. Abraham was willing to sacrifice his most precious possession - making the point. "To obey is better than sacrifice." 1 Sam 15:22[11]

The story illustrates that one who is obedient should be ready and willing to sacrifice his most precious possession if God the WORD requires it of him. God the WORD will never require anyone to break his LAW.

Moses Sees Pharoah

Our people are commanded not to live among strangers lest we learn their ways. Abraham's children went to Egypt, lived among strangers and learned their ways, and were made slaves. Moses went to see Pharoah about releasing the Israelite children from captivity.

Moses, God's representative, staff in hand, faced Pharoah and his advisors. Moses threw his staff on the ground and it became a serpent. A "rod" is something you punish with - a "staff" is something you lean on. The thing we lean on is the WORD. The staff thrown on the ground became a serpent - a messenger. Moses staff was a messenger of "good".

11 "To do justice and judgment is more acceptable than sacrifice." Pr 21:3

Pharoah's priests threw their staffs on the ground and they too became serpents; messengers of "evil". Moses' serpent swallowed up the other serpents.

God the WORD has the power to swallow up the stranger's gods.

Parting The Red Sea

God sent plagues to harass Egypt including the killing of the first born of every Egyptian family. The Pharoah, after losing his first born son, agreed to let Israel go, and they left.

Pharoah soon repented and sent his army to fetch them back. The fleeing children of Israel found their way barred by the Red Sea before them with Pharoah's army behind. Moses used his staff and the sea parted so that there were vertical walls of water on either side and he led the children of Israel through the sea on dry land. Pharoah's army saw what had happened and followed. The sea closed and drowned Pharoah's army.

Waters generally don't part themselves and leave a road that allows you to walk across the seabed on dry land - unless Moses was using Laws of God whose knowledge has been lost to us. This makes the story a parable.

Pharoah is the cartel establishment pursuing Israel; the sea in front is the hostile peoples of the world. Moses used the rod of the WORD to cause the seas to separate and let Israel through. The pursuing establishment tried to follow Moses through these same peoples but they closed in on Pharoah's army and drowned them. There are lessons on top of lessons in this parable. Select those most appropriate for today and run with it.

Devils

Jesus cast out devils.[12]

I have known men who were bent out of shape with crazy ideas. Sometimes they were not only obnoxious but dangerous. Once they replaced their crazy ideas with the truth of the WORD they became normal people. From obnoxious and dangerous to useful and productive is an "about face" turn. It is a change from darkness into light.

False ideas can devil people causing them to even harm their loved ones for no good reason. They can cause entire nations to war with brother nations.

Today's establishment media is an evil serpent. It propagates distortions, misrepresentations and lies. Its evil product produces self-hating devils intent on destroying their own people and God the WORD.

Evil ideas can cause physical sickness. I've seen elders lay on hands and cast out evil spirits. As a result the sick took up their bed and walked. I've seen other sick people go to doctors who used God given Laws to heal them. I've seen others go both to pastors and doctors and still die.

As an appointed king and priest, chosen for your work by your God[13] - your example, word and witness can cast out devils. Don't doubt it. I've seen it done.

> "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go to my father." John 14:12

12 Devil: Greek 1140 - A demonic being, a deity, devil, god.

13 "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you, and ordained you." John 15:16

Fishermen

Jesus saw men at their nets fishing. They had caught nothing. Jesus told them to cast their nets on the other side of the boat. They did and drew up nets loaded with fish.

These fishermen were already fishing for MEN when Jesus found them. The sign of their catch is the "fish". Even today one sees this sign on walls and on backs of cars.

Jesus didn't just approach anyone - he went after those already trying to fish. Their problem was that they didn't know which side of the boat to fish from. Jesus, "The WORD made flesh", told them what they needed to know and they did it, and as a result of fishing a bit differently their nets and boat were filled. They then left their nets and followed him. They were already experienced at their trade but now had a master who was an expert.

Jesus Made Wine

Jesus went to a party. The host ran out of wine for his guests. Jesus took water and turned it into wine. What makes it a parable is that God the WORD and the Word Made Flesh made us kings and priests and told us NOT to drink strong drink. "It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink." Prov 31:4. Ever since, the lost have misused this parable as their excuse to drink strong drink.

"Wine", 3196 in Strong's Concordance, means "to effervesce intoxicating, banqueting." There is a world of difference between water and wine. Jesus took ordinary people and brought them to life with the holy spirit or the spirit of God the WORD - "wine"! There are two kinds of wine. One for followers of God the WORD and one for the lost.

Not long ago I went to a function at the house of a Lutheran preacher. He kept a well stocked bar. He and his wife were gracious and his invited company were gracious. Most drank. Observing which of the guests drank and which didn't identified who was probably a king and a priest and who wasn't. Important information. The host didn't know the difference between the two kinds of wine. Or, he knew and didn't care. Regardless, this event identified him as a multi-national priest and most of his guests as just lost members of the great masses.

Five Loaves & Three Fish

Jesus taught thousands of people. They came great distances to hear him and most were tired and hungry. He inquired as to what food was available to feed them and was told that there were five loaves and three fish. Jesus pronounced that sufficient and fed the people with what was available.

A fish is a Christian. There were three. The WORD is the bread of life. Three fish and five loaves can and do feed thousands.

Money Changers In The Temple

Jesus saw money changers in the temple and said "Ye have made God's temple a den of thieves."

This is more than just a story. In an age when the religious establishment was virtually all powerful and whose word was life or death, it is a parable revealing the lair of the serpent.

Raising Lazarus from the Dead

There are stories about people coming to life after having being dead, or being revived after having been declared dead in an operating room. Lazrus was dead. Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead. Still, there are two kinds of "dead".

People told me about a fellow who lived over in Stuart Heights, a subdivision near Thomas Road. His wife had died years ago and he had gone into his house, lowered the shades, and never came out. His neighbors seldom saw him and when they did they avoided him becausc he was "mcan as a snakc".

With more than a little apprehension I went to see him and knocked on his door. The door opened and and a smell hit me that almost bowled me over - it smelled like sulfur. A dishev-eled chap needing a bath and a shave stood there. I told him who I was and that I wanted to talk to him a few minutes if he had the time.

He courteously invited me in and we sat and talked. After the usual pleasantries I went right into the plan of salvation and asked the fellow if he would accept Jesus Christ. Without hesitation he said, "yes".

Now, I'm an old salesman. If anyone agrees to buy some-thing I'm selling too easily I have grave doubts that he is really sold. But, I said that I would stop by and pick him up the next Sunday morning so that he could make a profession of faith before the entire congregation. Hc agreed and I left feeling that I had failed.

Next Sunday I drove up to his house. The shades were up. Before I got out of my car he opened his front door and I didn't know it was the same man. He was bathed, shaved, in a suit and tie, and greeted me with a cheerful smile.

He walked the aisle with me, made a declaration of faith before the congregation, and later got married and has walked the walk ever since. That was 30 years ago.[14]

There are two kinds of dead. I've seen people raised from the dead. I've seen it many times. I was dead once.

Unforgivable Sin

I have gone to churches just to hear preachers pontificate on what was and what wasn't the unforgivable sin. This is what I heard:

> "Whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come." Matt: 12:32

I usually left church still not knowing what in the dickens the preacher was talking about when he explained the "unforgivable sin". Explained another way its simple.

The ancients explained it this way:

> "Now if thou closeth thy mouth and thy nostrils against the winds of heaven and sayest, 'The air is as poison to me, I will not breathe it,' behold thou perishest. ... If he shall say knowing in his heart ... 'I will call good evil, and the Holy Spirit I will call unholy: then lo, his spirit dieth within him, and he can no more enter into the life of God.' ... (or) 'Lo, the truth is not pleasing to me, ... it is hateful, therefore I will call it evil.'" Philoclaristus 13:20- 21

I can get my teeth into this explanation. Don't break God's Laws. Step out of an airplane without a parachute and God's gravity will pull you to the ground and kill you. Violate the

14 "This thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost and is found." Luke 15:32

Laws of God the WORD and tolerate abortion, murder, miscegenation and sodomy and the whole nation dies.

> "I have left them on account of all the evil which they do ... And they will turn themselves to false gods ... forget all my ordinances ... and will walk after the Gentiles ... and will serve their gods ... Many will be destroyed and will be taken captive ... because they have deserted my ordinances ... and each one will worship his own idol for sin, and they will offer their children to the demons ... and they will cast out those who seek the law, and will abolish the whole law, and ... I will deliver them over to the gentiles for captivity ...
>
> "And then they will turn themselves to me ... and I shall gather them from amongst all the gentiles, and ... when they seek me with all their heart and with all their soul ... I will be to them their God, and they shall be to me my people ... I will not desert them and will not deny them, for I am the Lord their God." Jubilees. 1:4-16

Water & The Dragon

"Water" is used again in Revelations:

> "There appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon ... stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born. ...
> "The dragon ... persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. ... And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth." Rev 12:3-4; 13-17[15]

The meaning to this reveals the end of today's travails:

The great red dragon is evil. The woman is Saxon-Israel ready to be delivered of God's Kingdom on earth. Babylon's cartel-serpent casts out of his mouth water (alien peoples) as

15 "And the drogon was wroth with the woman, and went to make wor with the remnont of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ." Rev 12:17 a flood to drown the woman with racial-intermarriage and war. And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed the flood and buried them. The strangers presently pouring into the West are coming here to die.

The Reason For Parables

The reason for "parables" is to keep the enemy from discovering our secrets and using them against us.

> "And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given." Matt 13:10-11

Who is "them"?

> "But these enemies of mine, which would not that I (God the WORD) should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

First, submission, then revelation.

LETTER FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Dear Mr. Hoskins:

We had a lovely shower and everything looks fresh. We planted some vegetables and flowers and the rain will do a world of good. I am still not very mobile and somehow did not think that a broken heel would take so long to heal.

In a way the great fallaway from the Afrikaans Churches is very sad. The seminaries are breeding places for evil and the professors are hardly, or not at all, Christian. The fruits are there for all to see. They feel happy with every other religion and movement. They really should look to them for their salaries.

I can still remember how hard my sister-in-law's father, a minister, worked, after he retired, to collect enough money to establish a seminary at Pretoria University.

We are happy with Pastor Pete Peters ministry. He is clear on every point except blacks. I do not think he sees many of them.

Something else on my mind is the approaching gun laws. I am dead against the registration of arms even if one is a hunter or collector. Sooner or later they will take them away from their owners. Not a word is said about all those unlicensed weapons in the hands of Blacks - which they use so freely.

A White mother was shot when she did not move quick enough. That shot also hurt her unborn baby. I saw a picture of the little girl, now six months old and beautiful, but she will never walk as her spine was badly hurt by the shot.

Seven thousand black criminals were let out of prison, some hardened criminals charged with every type of crime to their name.

One wonders what is behind the election outcome and the new president in Yugoslavia. It appears to be another revolution like here in South Africa started by the agents of England and America.

Under the firm able hand of the ANC, the animals in S. Africa have foot and mouth disease, a horse virus on stud farms and blacks with cholera - all in Natal. If we did not have Onderstepoort Veterinary University, I shudder to think what would have happened because there is not one Black anywhere around who has the necessary knowledge to do anything about it. Rabies is also endemic, especially with dogs in Zululand. But at least that can be kept under control with vaccination.

Indians were imported by English in Natal to work on canefields. Most left the canefields quickly and in no time were in business. Today one finds them in every profession. Just after 1948 they were given free passage back to India, but few took it. It is interesting to see how highly they think of a light skinned Indian and other Indians who are able to marry Whites.

The situation in Zimbabwe is not improving and more farms are taken even while food shortages are getting worse. The black freedom fighters, who wanted land to farm, have not done a thing to prepare and plant the land they got. When Mugabe tried to take over the Oppenheimer estates, the world powers came down hard and he had to back off.

Households in Pretoria received notes saying that they must look after their Alsations. The ones who are traincd are stolen and sold over the border to detect land mines. Others are slaughtered and end up in the market as fresh meat.

Pretoria has quite a large Chinese population who eat dogs. People who eat dogs should not be allowed into this country. Roefie, our adopted Alsation, is such a pleasure. He had forgotten the bad days he spent with blacks. Apart from swimming, he now takes his brush and comb and puts it in front of Hans to beg a rubdown. He has a proud bearing but still loves a hug and lots of love. A black radio announcer, who is very pleased with himself, tells how he kicked every dog in the black township in true township manner. These poor mangy animals - blacks should not be allowed to keep dogs.

Israel, knowing they control most Western countries, seems bent on starting WWIII in the Middle East. No small wonder that they want us all disarmed. It makes fighting so much easier when they are armed and we have nothing with which to defend ourselves. We see what is happening to the Palestinians. Little do they realize that one day they will have to pay for all the centuries of persecuting Christians and others, and with the wars they have started.

With our best wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

BYRON DE LA BECKWITH: "Dear Compatriot: Good news! A lawyer has been appointed to handle my appeal.

Interesting here. I'm in a 90% Black inhabited and run jail, 3000 inmates, and I think I know almost all of them, and they know me. We are just as cheerful as crickets. This to me is so far an exact repeat of my time in WWII in the Pacific, only it's today and I'm under the guillotine.

Some day I'll find the financial power to begin paying youall back for your many kindnesses. And yes, it is all worth what it has and will cost. We must win. Up and at 'em, De La" - prisoner - Mississippi

Thoughts On Money

In the US we have both government and private/corporate debt. The increase or decrease in the government debt's rate of increase stimulates or dampens the growth of the private sector and smooths otherwise violent boom/bust economic swings. Increasing or decreasing government debt's rate of increase is used in conjunction with interest rates and oil prices to fine tune the economy. All of them influence the flow of money.

UNFILTERED NEWS

MAN/BOY LOVE: The ACLU has agreed to defend the North American Man/Boy Love Association - a group that advocates sex between men and young boys - after a man utilized the NAMBLA Web site prior to raping and murdering a 10-year-old boy. Charles Jaynes allegedly molested the dead body of 10-year-old Jeffrey Curley before dumping the child in a Main river. Famed liberal attorney Alan Dershowitz, appearing on CNBC's Rivera Live, agreed that the ACLU is compelled to defend this case. (Story in Jerry Falwell's National Liberty Journal , Oct 2000, Vol 29 No 10)

EXCOMMUNICATE MUGABE: "Mike Auret, a leading Zimbabwean Catholic, has called on the Vatican to excommunicate President Mugable. Mr. Auret, former Director of the Commission for Justice and Peace, described President Mugabe as an "ostentatious Catholic" and "murderous dictator". (Story in the Citizen May 26, 2000)

KNIGHTHOOD: The Citizen of May 19, 2000, carried a picture showing Queen Elizabeth of England knighting President Mbeki, the black president of S. Africa, into the Order of Saint Michael and Saint George at Buckingham Palace.

RKH: A nation is a race. A country is a taxable entity. England reconquered S. Africa by funding, arming, and directing the ANC overthrow of the White S. African government. And, as is Britain's tradition, rewards her servents with titles.

OIL - WEALTH TRANSFER: HR readers know that all governments of all countries and all great world-corporations are ITC assets. Both follow the their master's instructions. When ordered - governments war with each other to stimulate business. To facilitate wealth transfer from white to black the ITC's media demonizes white South Africans: It creates a Karl Marx, Lenin, and Joseph Stalin to take the Czar's wealth and "privatize" it. If oil producing countries need money, or, to slow inflation, corporate "owners" simply raise the price of oil. Rich users pay and poor producers receive. When the proper wealth transfer has occurred the oil price is lowered to shut off the transfer and the world has a new oil price; a new owner for the Czar's wealth; and new owners for S. Africa's riches.

Chapter 315

TWO KINDS of CHRISTIANS

There are two kind of Christians; The National Christian and the Multi-National Christian. The God of the first is God the WORD. The gods of the other fights God the Word and is anti- christ.Identification is always done by God the WORD.

The WORD says: "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15. Their acts also identify;"Ye shall know them by their fruits. Matt 7:16[1]

1 "Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them." Deut 27:26; "He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be an abomination." Prov 28:9; "By works a man is justified, and not by faith only." James 2:24; "By thy works thou shall be justified, and by thy works thou shall be condemned." Matt 12:37

Back Porch Preacher

A friend brought his preacher by the house during the summer. He was associate pastor of a fairly large local church. Perhaps 35, he was scheduled to be appointed pastor sometime during the year since the regular pastor was retiring. He had sandy hair, a friendly face and an outgoing personality.

It was warm so we sat on the back porch and talked. My friend said that he and his preacher had been friends for a long time, that he read my newsletters, and that we three thought alike.

He was right. We did. We had some fine conversation and agreed on every theological point. He agreed that God's WORD should be the Law of the land. He agreed that usury, sodomy and abortion were against the Law. He agreed that the Bible stood solidly against interracial marriage and strangers in the land.

I remarked that the leaders of his denomination were AGAINST the very things that we agreed that the WORD of God required and remarked that he would be a breath of fresh air coming into that church.

He looked startled and said that couldn't say anything like that publicly! If he spoke against the things his denomination was doing he would be denied appointment as pastor, something that he had worked and waited eight long years for. He said that he had waited too long to chance losing this opportunity now.[2]

I took a long look at this young fellow and thought:

* Jesus is the WORD made flesh.

2 "For not the hearers of the Law are just before God, but the doers of the Law shall be justified." Romans 2:13; "But be doers of the WORD, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." James 1:22

* This young man, in spite of his nice words and stated beliefs, is, in fact, taking a stand against the WORD made flesh.

* This means that he is anti the WORD made flesh, * and this means that in spite of being nice, the young fellow is antichrist.

Also; those of his denomination who are against the Commandments of Christ Jesus are also anti-Christ. What else can someone be who is "anti" GOD's Commandments?

This handsome young fellow, with so much promise, who believes the WORD, was returning to his church to support the anti-Christ teachings of his denomination in return for being appointed pastor.

There is the Christian and there is the anti-Christ. "Ye shall know them by their fruits."

The Multi-national

God the WORD forbids aliens in the land. He forbids monopolies, kings, and trade with strangers. He forbids us to have strangers ruling over us. He forbids us to "throw pearls (the WORD) before swine, lest they turn and rend you."

The alien knows this because he has studied us like we study our cattle. He knows that if he is to trade with us, take our goods, inventions, our women, and enslave us to work in his fields and factories and serve in his armies, he must first hire surrogate agents to front for him. Sheep will follow sheep before following wolves.

The Alien's Establishment

The alien creates and rules through his "establishment". The establishment consists of Priest, King & Army, and Great Merchant. They collaborate in order to manage and control the wealth and peoples of conquered lands that they have been appointed to rule.

Building The Establishment

The alien first hires a surrogate King. The King is given money to hire an army. The King's duty is to protect the alien's operation, suppress revolt, and collect tribute.

The next to be hired is the surrogate Priest. He may keep his traditions and rituals as long as he blesses the surrogate King, and teaches Dharma. Dharma is the Hindu teaching that, "One must love others without regard to race, creed, or national origin." When the targeted land has been taught this - conquest is complete. It can no longer ban strangers, monopolies, usury and other things the Commandments of God the WORD decreed to protect his people.[3]

Last to be hired is the Great Merchant. These individuals manage the great wealth collected from the captive peoples in the alien's new market area. The Great Merchant's rapid rise to "ownership" of great wealth makes them appear to be overnight business geniuses. In fact, none of the Great Merchants operate without bank credit, and the banks are controlled by the priesthood.[4]

To make sure that there is no misunderstanding about what has just been said, I will repeat it:

The establishment's three castes manage both the people and the wealth of the land for their masters. The thing holding 4 Today, feeling safe, alien owners are putting their own kind in Western management positions instead of their usual Saxon surrogates.

the establishment together is their love of money.[5] The glue that holds the money monopoly in the hands of the establishment is usury.[6]

Nation vs. Nation

A nation is a race. A country is a taxable entity. Establishment Kings rule countries. Nations strive to rule themselves. A country containing multi-nations is perpetually in conflict. Conflict between nations justifies having an establishment king to keep the peace. This is why the establishment sets up taxable "countries" containing two or more nations. This guarantees discord that requires the perpetual presence of the establishment's king to keep the peace.[7]

The Anti-Christ Multi-National Church

The Christian WORD teaches: "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." Deut 23:2; it teaches, "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7; it teaches, "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:33.

The establishment's hired priest is instructed to organize a multi-national religion to preempt national religions that may be the focal points of sucessful rebellion. These establishment multi-national religions accept all nations without regard to race, creed, or national origin - a direct affront to the Saxon's God the WORD.

5 "The love of money is the root of all evil." 1 Ti 6:10

6 Usury is the fraudulent system of lending 10 for 11 when only 10 exist. "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deut 23:20

7 This is the reason for the post WWII gift of eastern Saxon Germany to the Polish Slavs; the refusal to free the captive nation of Kurds from Turkey and Iran; the reason for France & Spains refusal to grant free nation-hood to the Basques; and France's refusal to free Brittany.

The establishment's multi-national church calls itself "Christian" but opposes the Commandments of the WORD made flesh, which was in the beginning, and whom they proclaim to be their God.

If the WORD made flesh were their God they would obey him. If not, they would disobey. "By their fruits ..."

Burning The Mortgage

I was twelve years old. Mr. Tom Gilliam, church treasurer, stood in front of the congregation of the 1st Baptist Church and burned the Church's mortgage. It had been paid and the church was now debt free. The congregation applauded.

Mr. Tom Gilliam, treasurer of the church, was president of the 1st National Bank.

What's the matter with this scene?

Usury is a capital crime: "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13. That's the Law of Jesus Christ who was in the beginning.

A usury contract is an extortion contract.[8] The WORD declares; "If any man that is called a brother be ... an extortioner; with such a one, no not to eat (no contact)" 1 Cor 5:11. Tom Gilliam, a close friend of our family, was a usurer, and also treasurer of the church that called itself "Christian".

It was prophesied that the Levites would allow this to come to pass:

8 See War Cycles/Peace Cycles, Hoskins

"Moses commanded the Levites ... saying, Take this ... law and put it in the side of the ark ... that it may be there for a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion ... behold, while I am yet alive ... ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death? ... For I know that after my death ye will ... turn aside from the way which I have commanded you." Deut 31: 24-29

When the children of Israel went from Egypt into the wilderness they came out with a full-blown Levitical priesthood in charge of the Ark of the Covenant.

The Ark contained three things:

* The Ten Commandments (Deut 10:4)
* Arron's Rod (Nu 17:10)
* Pot of Manna (Ex 16:33-34)

The "Ten Commandments" represents God the WORD. A rod is used for punishment - a staff for support. This is the same rod that was thrown down in the presence of Pharoah that turned into a serpent (see HR #314.

Then, there is the manna on which Israel lived for 40 years in the wilderness. I've never seen manna. I've never seen a rod like Arron's rod that turned into a serpent. This is why I consider this to be a story within a story - a parable.

We already know the meaning of the "Ten Commandments" and "Arron's Rod"; now for "manna".

Scripture says that "manna" doesn't keep. We ask for it daily and we eat it every day. Day by day, year by year. Without it, we are lost. In my opinion, manna is God's grace and blessing through the WORD. It is food given to us by God the WORD for our nourishment and survival. We need it to get through the wilderness.

The Ark of the Covenant is a Symbol of God's Law (Ex 25:16,21), a place of "entreaty" (Josh 7:6-15); a place for "atonement" (Lev 16:2, 14-17), and a symbol of heaven (Rev 11:15). The Ark of the Covenant is something we look to every day of our lives.

Strangers and the blind go around looking for it in Jerusalem, Egypt, and the Western part of the United States. A movie star acted in a great money making film about the search for the Ark of the Covenant. He should have asked someone who knew where it could be found. We wouldn't have told him because we are told not to, but, we see it every day. We also remember what Moses said, even if the Levites don't:

> "Moses commanded the Levites, which have the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord, saying, Take this book of the Law, and put it in the side of the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee." Deut 31: 25-26

With rare exceptions who shine forth like diamonds in the mire, the Law that Moses put in the side of the Ark of the Covenant rejects and condemns the unGodliness of today's Levites out of hand. "Ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves." Matt 23:15. Those made in God's image are voting with their feet to leave their presence, and they are leaving in droves, to escape contamination by their unGodly teachings.

These are the creaturcs who will answer to God for allowing pearls to be thrown before swine which has caused them to turn and rend us. It is they who have blessed the plagues that have descended on us. They are the multi-national Christian priests whose acts are "Christian" in name only.

Multi-National Churches & Their Usury Banks

There was the Continental Illinois and the Barings Bank affairs. When they went under, it was discovered that the head of the Protestant Anglican Church was an owner. Then there was the affair of the collapsing Swiss Banks in the early '70s. They belonged to the Catholic Church! Not only that, the Vatican Bank itself ran on the rocks.

Establishment WEALTH is too important to be left to kings. Kings are Establishment "protectors", nothing more. To deflect the charge of usury and to avoid universal condemnation generated by a thousand years of defrauded debtors, the establishment's vast accumulated wealth was turned over to the hated but sacrosanct Jew to manage.

The Jew's safety and very existence is dependent on the good will of the priesthood who has long stood between them and the masses they have defrauded. His loyalty is guaranteed by his fear of a holocaust that can be unleased upon him in an instant by the priesthood - and the priesthood's proven ability to act as a buffer by diverting the public's anger.

Actual title to the wealth held in trust by the Establishment traces back to the "Bequest of Asoka", the "Bequest of Constantine", through stock companies whose stock is held in bank nomomine names, to inviolate Swiss holding banks, and on to the priesthood whose stated principle is poverty and whose deeds will be judged by God.

Christian Churches don't deal in usury and remain Christian. Christian Churches don't invite aliens into the church and remain Christian. They don't make prelates of aliens and remain Christian. One can't have it both ways. One obeys WORD made flesh or not. One is either an obedient Christian or a disobedient anti-Christ.

Learning Their Ways

Our Saxon nation[9] is made in the image of God the WORD - in the image of his Laws, Statutes, and judgments. Other nations are made in the image of their gods. A multi-national church must serve multi-national gods. The mixed-breed follows the gods of his mixed ancesters. The result; our people today have been taught to follow many gods. It's planned that way.

Results

Establishment priests have established multi-national churches. These multi-national churches serve multi-national gods. The multi-national gods of the multi-national peoples have taught our people that it is no great thing to accept sodomites, miscegenationists, pedofiles and usurers. The establishment's priesthood in many Christian denominations has degenerated into sodomite and pedofile clubs.[10]rches th>

10 The Calvary Contender (10/15/00 issue), quotes The Chonging Foce of the Priesthood, by Father Donald Cozzens as stating that the Catholic priesthood has become "primarily a gay culture". Figures for the number of homosexual priests in the American Church are difficult to pin down. Cozzens says estimates range up to 60%.hout doubt there are far more Christians ou

Second Group

Opposes fellowship with sodomites

("There shall be no ... sodomite of the sons of Israel." Deut 23:7)

Opposes fellowship with aliens.

("Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods ... lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31-33)

Opposes taxes.

("Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-26)[11]

Opposes gun control.

Opposes strangers in government.

Opposes alien immigration.

("They shall not dwell in thy land... lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31-33)

Opposes interracial marriage.

("Let them marry... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "Thou... shall go... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4.)[13]

Which of the two groups follow the WORD and which of the two fights God and is anti-christ?

The WORD Judges

We don't judge - the WORD judges. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Matt 7:20. Judging by their fruits, the first is anti- christ.

12 "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall preceed from the midst of them.. Jer 30:21; "Thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deut 15:6

13 "They have dealt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (zûwr - racial alien) children; Hosea 5:7; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3

Who in actual fact are they?

The first list of beliefs is taught by a mainsteam "Christian" church on Lynchburg's Rivermont Avenue, a denomination to which my Father once belonged. The second is a list (without the documentation) of beliefs of "Odenists" who despise the name "Christian" because of the disrepute brought upon it by multi- national "Christians" like the first group who hate the WORD and the Law.

Summary

The establishment's multi-national church uses the gods of its multi-national following to suppress the WORD. Still, the fact remains, as long as a Saxon is left alive - the establishment's throne is in danger. The WORD causes its people to repent. When our Saxon people repent, they will revolt, and when they revolt they will banish the establishment - its King, its Great Merchant, and the establishment's heathern Priesthood. Then will God's Kingdom be established here on earth.

There are two kinds of Christians - the obedient and the disobedient. The obedient are the nationalists and the disobedient are the multi-nationalists.

Canceled Trip

Last month I drove my beat-up red convertible with my Rottweillers and little terrier in the back seat to take my fax machine to the repair shop. After taking the machine in, I felt weak - hot one moment and cold the next. Then I broke out in a sweat and had trouble breathing. I drove to the hospital about a mile or so away and left my car and dogs in the emergency entrance and walked in. That's when the fun started.

DICK HOSKINS & HIS DOGS

My car had to be moved, it was blocking arriving emergency vehicles. A group of orderlies argued over who was going to move it. One of them came to me and asked, "Does your dogs bite?"

I reassured him and answered "No, indeed".

The fellow didn't look reassured, so I added, "Those dogs do exactaly what I tell them to do." And then, I just couldn't help it, I added, "Those dogs absolutely never kill anyone without permission."

He looked less reassured than ever, so I softened what I had said by adding, "And I very seldom give them permission." With that he left and went back to his buddies and relayed our conversation.

They agreed right then, lets see if I have it right; "I ain't gettin in that car with them Rotts - H... can freeze over before I move that d..... car!"

With that, a little wisp of a blond haired Saxon nurse, stamped her foot and told them that they were all "worthless cowards!" And marched right out, petted the dogs, sat down behind the wheel and parked the car in the proper place.

Our Saxon women are magnificent!

I'm OK. Nothing wrong. After about 5 hours my vital signs settled down and they sent me home.

KINGDOMS: "Dear Richard; I was flying over the mid-west and looked down on mile after mile of squares that marked out tens of thousands of individual self-sufficient farm-kingdoms of our Saxon people - all gone into collectives and corporations now - or standing empty. Our people now work for strangers and live as slaves in their cities.

For letting all this go without a fight we are entitled to all the punishment that our God gives us. After we have learned our lesson, let's do it right! "Thy kingdom come thy will be done - on earth!" G.M. - California

PRAYER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Explain about blessings at meals." M.K. - Missouri

RKH: It's a parable. When food is blessed, we ask God the WORD to change the water (our people) into wine (alive, effervesce) and the bread (bread of life - the WORD) into food we can use. In real life we are not to drink wine ("It is not for kings ..."); we are not to offer the wine and bread to aliens "Lest they turn and rend you", (also Story of Judith). We send missionaries to our own lost Saxons (Isaac-sons). We do not send our Bread and Wine to aliens - lest they use the laws that God the WORD gave us to nuke, poison, invade and enslave us. We do not eat blessed food with, or give our God's Laws to - aliens; lest God the WORD curse us for our disobedience.

ODENIST'S OPINION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Compliments on Hoskins Report #314. Without understanding how parables have always been used to conceal truth (the WORD) from enemies and reveal it to friends, the schism between the "parable" and the "literal" cannot be bridged. I am speaking of the division between those who believe that God's Law cannot be broken and those who demand literal belief in Scripture even when it violates other Laws of God.

In a nut shell: "That which contravenes the Law is parable."

At the risk of alienating some of the followers of the Norse Religion, in which the "WORD" was called Wotan/Odin, I offer the following:

It is my opinion that teachers of the WORD should have a thorough understanding of Job 12:7-9:

> "But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee, and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee: Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee, and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee. Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?"

The rationalist asks, "How did the WORD arrive on paper and in a book. The teacher answers, "Enlightened thinkers from ages past obeyed the advice of Job 12: 7-9 and encoded truth (the WORD) in parable and allegory. Thus we have the commands to Israel of exclusive territorial imperatives, of the "chosenness" of one's own people, of hegemony, and of compassion for one's own race and family.

Nature's laws are made by God. Nature's laws are also God's laws, direct from the WORD of the Creator.

UNFILTERED NEWS

EUPHEMISMS: The name "Jesus", the Lord's Prayer, the Bible, the 10-Commandments, Christmas creches, prayers at football games, the St. Andrew's cross in the Confederate flag, the white man himself - all are euphemisms for God the WORD. In the mind of the alien they all trigger a vision of their nemesis - God the WORD.

APPLES: Virginia's apple growers are being devastated by apple imports from China. Already imported apple concentrate has grown from 1% to 18%. Growers are going out of business wholesale. What are the multi-national Christian churches doing about it? Nothing! It would offend the gods of their Chinese members.

BASQUE NATIONALISTS: Spanish Supreme Court judge, Francisco Querol, was killed along with his driver and bodyguard when the car they were riding in was destroyed by a bomb that bore the hallmarks of "Eta", the Basque separatist group. (Story in Financial Times Oct 31, 2000, p20)

DUPONT BANS FLAG: Plant manager, Mike Mayberry, welcomed Confederate flags with three stripes, but prohibited workers from displaying the Confederate Flag with the Christian cross of St. James. He said that some consider it a symbol of white supremacy. To avoid using the word "Christian" cross the AP report bent over backwards to describe the Confederate Cross of St. James as having "blue chevrons on a red field". (Story in News & Advance, Nov 6, 2000, B2)

BIRTHRIGHT "A letter in the London Daily Mail said 'Mugabe already owns 11 farms in Zimbabwe, as well as his 500-acre estate in Scotland. Maybe our impovrished Scottish farmers should take his estate as their birthright." (Impact, June/July 2000, p.3, P.O. Box 28233, Sunnyside 0132, Rep. of SA,)

BLACK CRIME: New York City left-wing liberal leaders angrily denied Justice Department findings that NY police engaged in racial profiling. Mayor Rudy Giuliani said that if officers ignored the race of possible suspects, the crime rate would skyrocket. Giuliani said that "although 89.2% of the suspects stopped and frisked were black or Hispanic, that corresponds to the percentage of blacks and Hispanics identified by witnesses as criminal suspects." (Story in USA TODAY, Oct 6, 2000, 3a)

HINDUS TARGET CONVERTS: Hindu extremists in SW India have launched a campaign against conversions to Christianity. The move came after extremists burned an Australian Christian missionary and his two sons to death. The world Hindu council is sending Hindu missionaries to the the state of Kerala and other Christian regions. Only 2.4% of India's population belong to the Christian faith while 82% arc Hindu and 12% Moslem. (Story in Sunday Times, London)

RKH: The Hindu religion stands for forced integration. The true Christian religion teaches separation. To allow even the Indian version of Christian teachings into a Hindu or Buddhist society would destroy the Hindu society in time. It is either the one or the other. This is the reason for the persecution of the true Christian religion by Hindus in high places in America today. Christian Scripture also teaches that the "strangers" who follow Christian teachings must remain separate from man because the WORD teaches "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." Deut 23:2.

PRIVATIZATION Spurs NATIONALISM

Dickembeth

It was about 1935. Dad bought a boat, engine and trailer. I think he paid $100 for them. It was a nice looking wooden 14 ft. Thompson boat with a forward deck, and had an outboard 10 hp Johnson Sea Horse. He named it "Dick" for me and "Em" and "Beth" for my sisters - "Dickembeth".

We sanded and painted it so that it was beautiful and took it down to the James River just above the hydro-electric plant. We crossed the railroad track, and put it in the water and moored it in a slip rented from one of the local entrepreneurs. Ours became one of the boats on the upper James - also the second fastest - after Coke Stuart's inboard which he used to bring him 10 miles down the river every morning to go to work. His was the fastest boat on the river.

Boats had been launched on the river above the dam long before they built the dam and hydro-electric plant - even before they built the railroad.

The James River Kanawha Canal came up the river the same way the railroad did later. George Washington was a stockholder. After the great flood in about 1871 the banks wouldn't lend the canal company money to rebuild the locks, so they were forced to sell to the railroad for almost nothing. The railroad laid the track on the old canal tow path. It was said to have been the cheapest railroad built in Virginia.

In the old days, canal boats brought supplies to the farms and plantations up the James. They stopped every mile or so to load farm produce and offload farm supplies. In the 10 miles from Lynchburg to Holcolmb Rock, and Coleman Falls, the boats must have stopped ten times or more. The railroad stopped only at Aylett, half way, which had once been a major boat landing servicing perhaps 100 inland farms and plantations before it became a train stop. I remember the "Aylett" sign from the river when we passed in "Dickembeth". This effectively put 50 or 100 inland farms out of business since it was a long way from the farms by road to Lynchburg, Aylett, or Holcolmb Rock.

Then, one day, sometime back, the electric company that owned the hydro-electric plant said that people could no longer use the boat ramp above the dam. It was on electric company land and they said they did it for the boat owners' own safety. Company police enforced the policy. The two hundred year old time honored boat policy was abandoned in a corporate memo. About the same time, the railroad company said that no one could walk beside their tracks or cross them except at proper crossings. This put an end to Aylett. The hundred year crossing policy was also abandoned by a casual memo. Company police enforced the policy. One owner now owns the land on both sides of the road leading to Aylett, so, a fence has been put across the road and Aylett landing is off- bounds to the public and the Aylett is just an "old timers" memory.

All around, taxed farmers, unable to cheaply transport their produce, sold their farms for almost nothing. An ex-banker named Earley, whose wife was nicknamed "Diamond Lil" because of a huge diamond she wore (she was real nice), bought 13,000 acres for almost nothing. He never bothered to have his land surveyed - he said he was going to let a "buyer" do that. He sold his entire holdings to a land company that had been established right after the War Between The States. Land that had been open to walk across or hunt on for 300 hundred years is now posted. Company police enforce the policy.

The point I'm making is that companies and corporations can do anything they want once they have the deed to property and they have the muscle to enforce their edicts. The "king" no longer protects the people. All protests over "lost rights" fall on deaf ears. You still can't launch a boat at Reusens or Aylett and the ancient right to launch a boat into the upper James now requires a 25 mile drive through Bedford County up to Coke Stuart's. It's all "legal".

It starts one thinking. The government evicted thousands of farmers to build great military bases in Virginia. Now they are "privatising" them - not to the farmer's descendants, but to great land companies. The government also evicted tens of thousands of families to build the Skyline Drive, and burned their houses. That, too, is government owned - today.

The Basic Situation

God made every man a king and a priest. Each man provides his own protection and sells the own surplus from his own self-sufficient farm (SSF). He is his own king, priest, and merchant.

To make a slave of the free-man living as a king on his SSF, the International Trade Cartel (ITC) organized three castes: kings and their armies, religious organizations, and the great merchants of the world - king, priest, and merchant.[1] These three castes working together gather and manage wealth gathered from the people, and they manage the people themselves.

This condition exists in every country[2] of the world whether the ruling government is called "democratic", "socialist", "republic", "communist", "dictatorship" or "kingdom"; or the religion is called Protestant, Catholic, Buddhist, or Hindu; or the managing corporation is called domestic, foreign, stock company or privately held. They are all parts of one whole - the International Trade Cartel.

The "Sticky Fingers" Problem

The ITC's historic problem has been that its agents - kings, priests, and merchants, all have sticky fingers. Each has claimed ITC wealth for himself at different times.

1 "And the great city was divided into three parts." Rev 16:19

2 A nation is a race. A country is a taxable entity composed of one or more nations.

Tracing The Buck

All the world's land and wealth was once claimed by a single religious organization - India's Hindu Priesthood. Their claim was based on "Asoka's Bequest". Six centuries later the West's Catholic Church claimed all the West's lands and wealth through a similar Constantine's Bequest. Both priesthoods hired and fired kings, bestowing thrones and lands on the deserving and denying them to others. They also hired asset managers.

Kings Rebel

Powerful kings, tiring of sharing the wealth with demanding priests, claimed both lands and people for themselves. The dispute resulted in devastating wars - and also resulted in five very large European property owning kings; the kings of Spain, France, Russia, Austria, and Germany.

Changing Managers

Downgrading these powerful kingdoms and removing ITC assets beyond their reach has been an ongoing project. The 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries were devoted to ridding the Cartel of greedy problem kings and replacing them with compliant "democratic- socialist" government kings.

One Solution - Another Problem

Replacing greedy strong-kings with greedy democratic weak-kings is now done simply by having the Cartel media advertise ITC agents for the people to choose between. The one the people choose to rule them is almost always an ITC agent.

Frequent elections cause democratic kings to remain weak because frequent government changes prevent powerful coalitions from organizing behind any one leader.

Weak kings hold office for only a short time. They have to make hay while the sun shines. They quickly learn to buy votes. They dip into the public till to pay voters for their votes. This has been a problem.

The ITC considers public wealth to be their own wealth held in trust for them - not the people - and not something to be squandered. This is why they are privatising it - to take it out of the reach of spend thrift kings. It is being transfered from the reach of kings into the hands of Cartel property managers - the great merchants.

Kingdoms Dismantled

The five major Western European kingdoms that have been dismantled so that their wealth could be returned to ITC control are:

* France - The king and his nobles were liquidated and their wealth turned over to the Cartel banking system. France's overseas empire was converted into taxable countries belonging to the ITC:

* Spain - The throne was claimed by other ITC kings. Most Spanish nobles were liquidated and their assets turned over to the ITC banking system. Spain's foreign empire was converted into many individual ITC taxable countries:

* Austria - This enormous empire was divided into several countries, each ruled by compliant democratic-socialist or communist rulers;

* Germany - All her foreign colonies and several indigenous provinces with their German peoples were turned over to other newly created ITC countries to rule; internally, the Kaiser's wealth initially federalized is now being privatised into the hands of Cartel great-merchants.

* Russia - the Czar, and his nobles and their families were liquidated and a compliant communist/democratic-socialist government established; administration of the Czar's land and other wealth which consisted of most of the wealth of the country, was assumed by an interim-government which is now in the process of privatising it to ITC agents.[3]

Transition Problems

The transfer of property from kings to democratic-socialist governments produced still another problem. Certain of the leaders selected by the ITC to bring order out of transition chaos discovered a window of opportunity and used it to revolt against the Cartel.

National Rebels

The past two centuries have produced two major rebel leaders:

FRANCE

In France, the king and his nobles had been slaughtered in the French Revolution. Ownerless property was being claimed by all and sundry. Napoleon was tapped to restore order to the French chaos.

3 In the Far East: China - The king/emperor was replaced by a socialist/communist government financed by Cartel banks. The Emperor's property and that of the country's family/clans was first federalized and is now being privatised to Cartel agents. Japan - Its conquerors replaced the power of the ruling emperor/king with a "democratic" government elected by the same ITC media that elects Western kings. Japan's assets are presently being privatised into international coffers. The same has happened to several other former Far Eastern kingdoms.

His cannon quickly brought order. But, when the pope reached out to place the crown on his head, Napoleon took the crown from the Pope's hands and placed it on his own head. That triggered the Napoleonic Wars. It took the combined armies of all of Europe years to subdue Napoleon.

After Waterloo, Napoleon was exiled to a distant island and poisoned. This ended the Napoleonic era.

GERMANY

Germany's king was deposed as a result of WWI and chaos and revolution followed. The star that rose from the smoke and flame was a cheeky, irrepressible McCarthy-like man named Adolf Hitler. He showed the most promise so he was tapped to restore order - which he accomplished virtually overnight.

Hitler did all the right things - at first. Then, he stepped over the line when he took control of Germany's banking system and its media, and he banned the Cartels' traditional servants from Germany proper.

Assuming control of these exclusive ITC prerogatives was a defacto declaration of war. It took the combined efforts of 54 ITC ruled countries to make Germany bend its head and have the slave collar replaced. It had been heady for a short time - Germany had a taste of the wine and the loaf.

The Great Pretense

The great pretense through the ages has been that kings hold the public wealth in trust for the people. The argument is quickly demolished by what people see is happening:

If governments represented the people - the government would return public assets to the people. If to another - they would return the assets to another. The nations of the world see that the kings who rule them are not their kings because these kings are giving the public wealth to another.

Privatizing Assets - Far East:

JAPAN lost WWII. Today Nissan is run by Renault. Mitsubishi Motors is selling 1/3 interest to DaimlerChrysler. Mazda is run by Ford. GM bought 20% in Subaru, 49% in Isuzu, and 10% in Suzuki. Only two Japanese car makers are mostly Japanese, Toyota and Honda and they are controlled by their Japanese banks - which aren't Japanese (Japan wasn't beaten into an unconditional surrender in WWII for nothing).

Japan is doing its share by relaxing barriers against foreign takeover of Japanese companies. A US private group has organized a consortium to purchase Shinsei, a failed Japanese bank. Renault is buying 36.8% in Nissan. Daimler-Chrysler has taken a large stake in Mitsubishi Motors, and the government is privatising Japan's three largest railway companies, East Japan Railway, Central Japan Railway, and West Japan Railway. A financial newspaper crowed, "The Black Ships cannot be easily kicked out of port."[4]

4 This is what an ancient Israelite said about trade that promoted "multi-nation-ism" - Babylon's objective:

"Nor do we delight in merchandise, nor in such a mixture with other men as arises from it ... having a fruitful country for our habitation, we take pains in cultivating that only. Our principle care ... is ... to educate our children well; ... to observe the laws that have been given us ... Since ... there was no occasion offered us ... for intermixing among the Greeks, as they had had for mixing among the Egyptians, by their intercourse of exporting and importing their several goods; as they also mixed with the Phoenicians, who lived by the sea- side, by means of their love of lucre in trade and merchandise." Flavius Josephus Against Apion 1:12

CHINA's car makers are dominated by GM and Volkswagen. India is dominated by Suzuki of Japan in which GM has a substantial interest. The old British names such as Land Rover, Jaguar, Mini and Rolls-Royce are all foreign-owned. In Sweden, Ford owns Volvo, GM owns Saab. In Italy: GM owns a substantial part of Fiat. In France: the French government owns 46% of Renault and is talking about "privatising" that.

MALAYSIA: SAirGroup, the parent of Swissair, is working on a deal to take over the Malaysian national airline.

INDIA's government has approved sale of 19 state banks. The billionaire great-merchant Hinduja family of India is bidding for Air-India and Indian Airlines.

VIETNAM: Vietnam has agreed to privatise much of its assets in exchange for being allowed out of her quarantine back into the 21st century by trade with the rest of the world.

THAILAND: A Cartel asset named Mr. Soros[5] shorted and collapsed Far Eastern markets. Unable to raise funds from a stock market no longer operational, the bankrupt local Thai Petrochemical Industry (TPI) was forced to swap equity for debt. The ITC now owns 75% of the company. The same is true for countless other Far Eastern companies.

5 Soros, a Hungarian Jew, claims to be a Holocaust survivor. There were 800,000 Jews in Hungary. The Soviets invaded and installed their own Jewish run Bolshevic government which ruled harshly. The 1956 Hungarian revolt against this government sent 400,000 of these Jews scampering to America. When I worked for the Virginia State Employment Commission at that time, every one of the scores of these Hungarian refugees that I saw coming through the Richmond office was a Jew. Soros, as roving Cartel money-merchant, had unlimited funds backing his operation. The hundreds of billions attributed to him is Cartel money.

Middle East

TURKEY is being forced to privatise 33.5% of Turk Telekom and 51% of Turkish Airlines in order to get an International Monetary fund emergency loan of $5 billion. Turkey will be unable to get the emergency loan until the details of the privatisation have been worked out.

Eastern Europe

THE CZECH REPUBLIC has "privatised" all but one of its national banks. Cesky Telecome and Ceske Radiokomunikace, the two big telecoms companies, should be fully privitised shortly.

RUSSIA plans to break-up and sell off the assets of RAO-UES, Russia's state owned electric utility, and is negotiating with German banks to swap equity in the Czar's old holdings in Russian companies for debt forgiveness. President Vladimir Putin announced that there would be no review of post-Soviet pirvatisations and no redistribution of assets.

Europe

GOLD:

Great Britain has already "privatised" hundreds of tons of gold. Holland also; Switzerland is planning to dispose of 1300 tons in the near future. There is never a problem in having gold over-subscribed in exchange for paper money.

It is worthy of note that India has always been the greatest buyer. India buys, but in my memory, only one time has it sold large quantities of precious metal (silver), and that was to break the silver corner set up by the non-establishment multi- billionaire Bunker Hunt of Texas, and break him in the process.

It is also worthy of note that the Western countries that are in the process of disposing of their gold have no plans to disperse it in small increments among large numbers of their own citizens. It is just "privatised" to large multi-national buyers.

BELGIUM is boosting "Privatisation" in all sectors. It is now grooming for sale the Belgian postal operator, La Poste. The country has drawn up a list of 150 properties owned by, or in which the government has a stake. It covers the Brussels airport to power suppliers, the main telecommunications company and hotels. Already it has allowed Swiss air to gain majority ownership of Sabena, the Belgian national airline.

GERMANY is "privatising" to six leading domestic banks the Kaisar's old lands that it had turned into military bases ostensibly to raise money for its stretched budget.

ITALY has agreed to sell much of its electric giant Enel, a large stake in gas giant Eni, the rest of its stake in Telecom Italia, the BNL banking group, Ina insurance group, and the rest of San Paolo IMI bank.

BOSNIA-HERZEGOVINA: The United Nations has given its new high representative sweeping powers to interpret and enforce elements of the Dayton agreement. A recent meeting in Brussels of the Peace Implementation Council developed plans to regulate key industries such as telecommunications, energy and transport on a state level with the ultimate objective of privatising them. A new transport masterplan has been drawn up by the Japanese International Co-operation Agency. The biggest obstacle remains nationalism. "People have to stop thinking that this is a Serb or a Muslim or a Croat asset." Until they do - they will remain in the dark ages.[6]

ENGLAND England has sold London's "Tube". It has announced the Privatisation of most of its defense research laboratories such as The Defense Evaluation and Research Agency (Dera) - which incidentally compromises US secrets shared with Britain.

GREECE: Greek companies now control six leading banks in Bulgaria, Romania and Macedonia, as well as local insurance companies and stockbrokers. They are now planning possible acquisitions in Serbia and Turkey. France's Credit Agricole has bought part of the state-controlled Commercial Bank of Greece.

Miscellaneous

CUBA: Cuba remains under international quarantine until she agrees to return ITC assets confiscated at the beginning of her revolution. She must also allow international agents to privatise government holdings - which amounts to most of the country.

HAITI has a president named Aristide - a former Catholic priest. The US sent troops to keep him in office. He has been promised $500m by foreign creditors who predicated disbursement on the privatisation of several state enterprises.

6 The attack on Yugoslavia was to make an example of the reactionary Slav, and particularly Serb "nationalism". Any nation (race) or country (multi-nations) that refuses to "privatise" its public wealth can expect the same fate. "Bosnia" was an example to Europe just as Ruby Ridge, Waco, and Philadelphia (a Black Nationalist revolt) was a warning to nationalists that the Cartel king will treat all rebels in the same manner.

Rebirth Of Nationalizism

Weak democratic kings are unable to protect the nation's assets by preventing the ITC from privatising them into the hands of its great-managers.

Great-managers in turn are easily managed by the mere threat of being fired from their jobs; harassment from regulatory agencies; being denied bank credit; or, in extreme cases, the threat of an assassin. In a corporation, everyone, including the manager, is an employee of the Cartel and is a mere wage-slave dependent on the his employer for his daily bread.

Nationalism's Hostility Toward Strangers

Once again, solving one problem uncovers still another problem - Nationalism.

People change. Once the repression by strong kings is removed the people tend to flex their muscles. They do things they were afraid to do earlier.

One thing they do is vent pent-up hostility to the nations that the Cartel king forced them to live with. This venting of hostility and drawing together with their own kind is the rebirth of nationalism - the thing the multi-national media calls "racism". Today's "racism" is yesterday's "nationalism" reborn.

The big question is whether or not the weak Cartel caretaker kings and emerging great-merchant managers are strong enough to keep the world's nationalisms suppressed while their assets held by the state are privisated, or whether the world's nationalisms will explode and overwhelm the ITC as nations claim their own state- managed property for themselves.

The world is full of countries containing nations, racial and religious, who are struggling to separate from others and rule themselves.

Nations Seeking Separation

Scots want separation from multi-national England.

Brettons want to separate from multi-national France.

Corsicans want to separate from multi-national France.

Basques want to separate from France and Spain.

Northern Italians want to separate from the multi-national Turk- Italians of Southern Italy.

Kurds want to separate from Turkey and Iran.

Mexico's Indians in S. Mexico want to separate from multi- national Mexico.

Multi-national Colombia has several groups wanting separation.

German nationalists want freedom from their multi-national occupation government.

Black Muslims of America want to rule themselves.

Turkish Chechnya wants to separate from multi-national Russia.

Chinese Xinjiang's Uighurs want to separate from multi-national China.

Fijians want to deport multi-national Indian workers and land managers.

Timorese have voted separation from multi-national Indonesia.

Aceh Province demands separation and Islamic state from Indonesia.

Uzbekistanians want their own Islamic state.

Islamic Kashmir wants separation from multi-national India.

Palestinians want separation from multi-national Jewish rule.

Palestinian Jews decry interference from their international kinsmen.

Poles want separation from multi-national European Union Membership.

Romanian nationalists oppose minority Hungarians as well as gypsies and jews.

Hungarians are protesting aliens in their midst.

Russia has countless groups wanting self-rule.

Christian Copts of Egypt want independence from Islamic Egypt.

Saxons in S. Africa want to separate from Blacks, Coloreds and Indians.

Saxon nationalists in America are beginning to demand separation. Some are demanding a Christian state.

The world ITC media has attempted to demonize each of these groups as "racist", "terrorists", "nazis", "reactionaries", "bigots" and worse. The fact is that they are nationalists. Smear words have little effect on nationalists who see the world through their own eyes.

ITC Anti-Nationalism

The ITC strategy to contain and subdue the world's rising nationalisms appear to be:

* Propaganda: Use its worldwide multi-national media to brand all national movements as "terrorists" and "racists" to demonize them. Today, all multi-national media in all countries worldwide in unison carry the identical anti-nationalist message.

* Disarmament: Armed forces in country after country are being downsized. Individual nationals are being disarmed. A multi-national fire-brigade is being organized from NATO and EU forces to act as the world's sole armed force. ITC policy is to put heavy armament beyond the reach of any individual country whose nationals might develop another Napoleon or Hitler.

* Country Downsizing: All European powers have had their foreign colonies stripped from them (Germany, Britain, France, Portugal, etc.). Most have had their heartland countries broken up (Germany, England-Scotland, Russia, etc.) with provinces given to hostile neighbors or combined with other hostile nations and made independent. We may expect government functions to increasingly be transferred to merchant corporations as added public wealth allows them to grow powerful and as formerly powerful countries are downsized, de-emphasized and disarmed.

* Agents provocateur: In country after country, ITC governments have committed atrocities against captive nations (Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City), and blamed the incidents on the victims whom they brand "terrorists". This is a regular occurrence in the Philippines, Indonesia, Spain, Algeria, Russia, Germany. etc. However, the technique is losing its effectiveness through overuse.

Attack

* GATT is an international treaty. As a treaty, it assumes the status of international law and is removed from the statutes of individual nations. Most corporations seek multi-national partners to remove themselves from the statutes of individual states. In essence, a multi-national corporation is covered by GATT treaty and is free of most restrictive statutes of states in which it resides.

* Immigration - free flow of aliens from one job market to another mixes peoples and their gods. Free immigration lowers production costs while complicating government and religion. Regulation formerly handled by the state thus devolves onto corporate management which in turn requires a multi-national world court to settle cases (GATT) - and a central religious referee court - a world religion (Hinduism).

Opportunity

The multi-national races of Islam have bonded and formed a religious-nation. These people have demanded and have gotten Islamic states in exchange for their peace.

The time has come for the people of the WORD to demand the same rights - the right to live under the WORD which is their God. The media-ignored revolt of the world's nations is bringing that time closer.

> "They will each turn to his own people, and each one will flee to his own land. Anyone who is found will be thrust through, and anyone who is captured will fall by the sword. Their little ones will also be dashed to pieces." Isiah 13:14-16

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: How quickly the year went. Since I last wrote, more epidemics have broken out. Apart from AIDS, Natal has foot- and-mouth disease in animals and it is spreading to the rest of the country. An Indian pig farmer bought pig swill from a Bangladesh ship coming from England and it contained the virus. He also neglected to cook the food. Instead of throwing a proper cordon around the first few infected farms and inoculating the animals - they are simply shot. The Indian agriculture minister is still holding talks on what to do about the epidemic. In the meantime, blacks smuggle meat and live animals out of the infected area so the entire Natal is contaminated and many white farmers are financially ruined.

A black-ruled country is a disaster from beginning to end. They simply lack the necessary ability and act in a high-handed manner towards any white who knows what to do. Diseases eradicated many years ago are reappearing and new ones are carried over the border by illegals. Orderstepoort Veterinary Institution used to be on the mark, doing research and sending vaccines all over Africa. But, their budget has been badly cut and the blacks have closed down research. They feel that it is unnecessary.

Every morning now the news at 6 starts with a recount of the latest farm murders which took place the previous day. The Transvaal Agriculture Union is using the internet to inform the world what is going on. The website is http: //www.hnp.org.za /afrikaner/. It is a comprehensive report done by people who take all the facts into account. "Die Afrikaner" also has a page depicting the gruesome photos with a short article in English and Afrikaans. Naturally, neither Mbeki or his white lackeys like it. They keep repeating their version of S. Africa's crime and robbery.

It is a very sad state of affairs that certainly does not cheer me up, it hurts too much. An elderly man went to church yesterday and on returning found the road blocked by blacks. They shot him. His condition is serious. A farmer's wife was also killed. Ordinary people suffer because their religious leaders no longer follow the WORD.

I would not have thought that it would take so long to get my broken foot healed. Anyway, it is mending so I should not complain.

A 14 year old girl whose family stays near a lady who makes dresses in Pretoria had a terrible experience. Five black robbers got into their home. The father was watching TV and the mother was having a bath. They tied up the parents and son and all five raped the 14 year old girl. She is receiving treatment for AIDS, but it seems like a death sentence to me. The parents belong to the same Dutch Reform Church as the lady I know. My husband asked what the minister had to say. He said nothing we were told. It seems as if the preachers are blind, deaf and dumb - the equality fever has affected their minds.

It was good to hear your name at a meeting and seeing it in one of the books written by Col. Jack Mohr that I received from America. I would love to see him at least once, but that is not in our hands.

We wish you and your family only the best for 2001. Thank you for your friendship. It is greatly valued. I apologize that this letter is rather sad.

Yours Faithfully, K.J.

P.S. Since I wrote the above - on Sunday night my brother, sister- in-law, and a visitor were held-up in their farmhouse and the place ransacked. The assailants also broke into three local churches in the small town nearby and did a lot of damage - chopping an organ and other senseless acts. This year's "Day of the Covenant" (Blood River) will be in the spirit of humiliation. K.J.

LETTERS

HOSKINS LACKS COMPASSION: "Dear Dick; One element is lacking in your writings that can be hurtful to some dedicated Christians, Compassion. One member of my family by marriage is a southern Italian and looks it. However, he blushes red. A few years ago he was hurt by comments of others who rejected him because of his appearance. For a time he nearly lost his faith. I have related the above incident to bring forth and emphasize the element that is lacking in your writings - the love and compassion that should go with it. I have known many individuals completely turned off because they know of some grandparent or great grandparent who was definitely not Saxon-Israel. Everyone needs encouragement even if he is not pure in his bloodline. " D.C. - Washington

RKH: Dark skinned southern Italians are descended from Arabs who were forcibly converted to Catholicism, a leftover of an early Islamic invasion of Italy. Arabs are descended from Esau a mixed- breed race. God's Law says; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2.

We try to live by God's Commandments the best we can in this age of Christian persecution. I am sorry this individual had his feelings hurt. But if he is truly a Christian he will want to obey the Christian Law, stay with his own kind, and with them enjoy the benefits of Godly obedience and also enjoy the protection of Saxon-Israel. God's people will not reject him as long as he is obedient. They will only reject his attempt to violate the Law by trying to integrate with them which puts them in violation of their God's Law.

The Law clearly states the prohibition over and over; "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51. It does no good to say that Jesus changed his mind and all that, because Jesus himself said "I am not come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill." 5:17. This is HIS Law we are talking about.

I am familiar with the quotation "The Lord ... is not willing that any should perish, but that ALL should come to repentance." Isaiah 56:3-7. All of whom? Jesus answered that; "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24. This should answer the question and further confirm what was written before; "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51.

Try as we might we cannot separate by integrating. It just can't be done. To prevent integration God commanded; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21,24. We were tolerant of Lawlessness and let strangers into our land; now, look at conditions in the country.

But, hurt feelings or not, the Law still stands: "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." 2 Cor 6:17; "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51; "Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitudes." Neh 13:3;[7] "Separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives." Ezra 10:11

7 Geneva Bible explanatory note: "That is, all such which had joined in unlawful marriage, and also those with whom God had forbidden them to have societie."

Incidentally, the same thing happened in my family. A beloved cousin married a stranger. As long as the two individuals involved stay together neither is invited to any family functions nor may they eat with any member of the family. This also is in obedience to the Law:

"If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (daily food blessed by God), But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house .... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr - "racial alien") eat thereof." Lev 22:12-13

If I seem to lack compassion, I'm sorry. I feel that more important than kneeling before today's compassion concept is, "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29.

Chapter 317

HOW TO SHOOT A PISTOL

Ninety-five percent of all the trouble people have shooting pistols is the result of improper trigger squeeze.

The Pistol As A Tool

The pistol is a weapon designed to do things that other weapons can't do. It is made small so that it can be quickly maneuvered from one direction to another in confined areas.

Lew Wetzel

Lew Wetzel, the famous Saxon frontiersman who almost single- handedly protected Virginia from Indian ravages and in the process killed more than 2000 warriors, carried a pistol. This was in addition to his flintlock rifle which he used at ranges up to 500 yards. Many times he found himself in a position where he could neither maneuver his rifle nor reload it in time to meet an enemy. That's when his pistol saved his life.

Six Men

Aunt Lucy Kelly owned a house in Culpeper that once belonged to a member of Mosby's Rangers. She bought it along with a lot of furnishings that nobody seemed to want since the former owner was a bachelor. One thing left in the hall was a large oil painting of a fox- hunting scene. The old ranger was pictured in civilian clothes riding behind his dogs. He was a handsome fellow; black horse, black beard, slouch hat and great looking Walker fox hounds.

My Uncle Roy Hume was old. He had known the ranger and his story. We stood before that painting and he told me how he had been in Mosby's 43rd Ranger Battalion. He had been one of the six that had taken part in a memorable event in 1864 that people in Northern Virginia still talk about.

It had been raining all night and a Yankee cavalry regiment was passing down the Valley turnpike. Everyone was wet, cold, and miserable. No one talked. The creak of harness and an occasional shod hoof striking a rock in the road was the only noise.

From the woods next to the road emerged six mounted men at a walk. They lined up parallel to the column within five yards of the line of march, halted, and quietly adjusted their distance by raising outstretched arms. This done they folded back their oil slickers exposing their pistols. Each man had two six shot cap and ball revolvers - a total of 72 rounds. At the softly spoken command they quietly drew their pistols and began shooting blue cavalrymen in front of them.

There was the loud report of pistol shots, men yelled, horses reared and bolted, bodies fell left and right. As each shooter emptied one pistol he drew the other and continued shooting until his pistols were empty and there was no one left in front of them. The Federal column had broken and bolted in both directions out of range of the wild killing machine and its carnage. The six shooters then quietly turned their horses and walked them back into the woods leaving 43 opponents lying on the ground. Forty- three dead and wounded out of a possible 72. Remarkable shooting considering that they were shooting at moving targets.[1]

Maj. William Hoskins & The Deserters

My great-grandfather, Dr. William Hoskins, was surgeon of the 59th Virginia. He and the other officers had been allowed to keep their sidearms after the Army Of Northern Virginia surrendered at Appomattox.[2]

On his way home, he and his cousin, Dr. Beverly Nunn, rode through smoldering Richmond. While passing through Prince George County on the other side they heard women screaming. The screams came from a house close to the road. The two quickly drew their pistols and jumped their horses over the fence and confronted a party of Union looters who were forcing their attentions on the ladies of the house. In less time than it takes to tell the story - Dr. William shot two of them and his cousin shot three. I have my great-grandfather's pistol. It was a six shot "Starr", the same kind carried by General Robert E. Lee.

1 The federals retaliated against the civilian population by burning every house and barn within ten miles.

2 Eighteen thousand men surrendered to federal forces numbering over 200,000.

I Missed The Tree

I was 14. Everyone could shoot except me. Daddy was a busy doctor and didn't have time to teach me, so I took his pistol and went down in the woods to teach myself. I put a target on a big tree and stood back, aimed and fired. Not only did I miss the target but I missed the whole tree. I was flabbergasted! How could I miss the whole tree? This was not at all like the stories I had been told. I was so close that I could have easily thrown the pistol at the target and hit the bull's eye, but I had missed the whole cotton-picking tree!

Evidently, pistol marksmanship was not easy.

H&R .22

When I was sixteen I bought an H & R nine shot .22 pistol from a boy across town. It wasn't much of a pistol. After shooting you had to take the revolving cylinder out, punch out the empty shells, then reload. It was a time-consuming process and after firing it countless times my marksmanship still left much to be desired.[3]

I remember one incident in particular. I was walking down the dirt road from Abert to Lynchburg and discovered a moccasin sunning himself in the middle of the road. That snake wasn't afraid of me at all. I walked around him and he just followed with his head.

I figured I'd just go ahead and shoot him. I pulled out my H & R, aimed, and shot. I shot nine shots and missed every time. I took the cylinder out, punched out the empties, reloaded, and fired nine more shots, and missed again; I reloaded and fired nine more times. I was so close I could have spit on that snake. I missed every time. Twenty-seven times. The ground around that snake looked like it had been plowed for spring planting. I found a stick and killed the snake. Thank goodness no one was watching.

Improvement

Every spare cent I got from cutting grass, picking and selling cherries, raking leaves, and shoveling snow went for .22 shorts for my H & R. In those days a box of 50 cost a quarter. Every day I went to the bottom of the hill and fired ten shots. It was all I could afford. I kept careful score. Improvement was slow. I had no one to teach me. I fired thousands of rounds. At last, I could hold them all on the white and many were in the black.

When I was 15 my parents sent me to military school to prepare me for war or to become a militia officer one day. I played soldier, football and learned to shoot a rifle. But, pistol excellence remained elusive.

Colt .22

When I was 17, my Uncle Thompson came back from the navy. He brought me a .45 pistol that he bought from a marine that had gotten it from a Jap on Iwo Jima. The marine told my Uncle Thompson that the Jap was a sniper who they figured had killed 21 marines before they got him. Uncle Thompson supposed that the Jap got it from an American soldier on Bataan in the Philippines. I shot this .45 when I could afford it.

I went to Lynchburg College. I worked two jobs but I still needed money to shoot, so I joined the old 116th Regiment of the 29th Division that reorganized in the National Guard after WWII.[4]

With my first pay I bought a Colt .22 match pistol with long barrel and adjustable sights. It was a beauty. My shooting took an immediate leap forward. Now I was able to keep all my shots in the black.

Army .45

In the National Guard I was in a machine gun platoon and my side-arm was the .45. Because of this I had the opportunity to shoot the army .45 often. I took to it like a rabbet takes to a briar patch. Capt. Morris, company commander, would let me check out a pistol whenever I wanted and take as much ammunition as I thought I needed. (I hasten to add that you can't do that any more.)

The army .45 was heavy - about 3 pounds. It was designed that way. The .45 bullet was heavy - 240 grains. When you fired, the bullet traveled so slow that it almost floated to the target. When it hit the target, it dealt a heavy blow - like a man being kicked by a horse; it would pick you up and set you down somewhere else.

The 3 pound pistol was heavy enough to absorb the recoil so that the "kick" was hardly noticeable. It did make a racket, so I had to wear ear plugs. To me, it was wonderful.

4 The 116th Regiment of the 29th Division is the one that went ashore at Normandy and took such heavy casualties. The Bedford company was almost wiped out. I learned a lot from the veterans. First Sgt Wingfied had been Company H's 1st Sgt during the war. The 116th, disbanded after the war, reorganized with fillers back in Virginia and Sgt Wingfield was Company H's 1st Sgt once again. I was one of the fillers.

AF '52 - The Pistol Range

When the Korean War broke out I volunteered into pilot training. In 1952 I was taking a walk near the gunnery ranges at Camp Seven Mile near Spokane when I passed a line of men shooting .45 pistols. I asked if I could shoot and they let me. I shot pretty well, thanked them, and left.

Two days later I was walking past the same range where a smaller group was firing. The major in charge, Maj. Chenault, called me over and said that they had been looking for me - that I had made the Fairchild AF base pistol team. I didn't know that I had tried out for it. I had never been on a pistol team before. This was new, and frankly, exciting.

15th AF

There were old shooters there and I had a lot to learn. All of them shot better than I did. I was either the bottom man or next to bottom man every day. There was one captain who shot scores half again better than anyone else.

During the next two weeks I shot more in practice than I had ever shot in a similar period before in my life, and then found myself and nine others of the Fairchild Air Force pistol team flying to the 15th Air Force headquarters at Riverside, California to participate in the 15th AF pistol matches. All the AF bases in the 15th AF sent their teams.

Since only four-man teams can fire in a match, our Fairchild ten had an elimination shoot-off competition among themselves to choose the best four shooters. The captain that had shot so well back in Spokane blew up under the pressure and was eliminated. I was lucky to be chosen one of the four to represent the Fairchild team to compete against the other 15th Air Force teams.

Then, the shoot-off started among the teams of the 15th Air Force. I don't know how many base teams were shooting, but it took all day long for them to complete shooting.

As a result of the shootoff every one of the men from Fairchild was eliminated. All of them had been better shots than I was. I was one of the four chosen for the Fairchild team, and now I was one of the four chosen to represent the 15th Air Force pistol team at the Strategic Air Command matches being held at Omaha, Nebraska.

The 15th AF match at Riverside was the first match I had ever fired in. It taught me one thing. The worst you shoot in practice is the best you will shoot under pressure. Most of the shooters in that match had days when they were much better shots than I was, but only three on that day were better when they had to shoot under pressure. While I seldom shot high scores I seldom shot low ones either - and I was too much of a rube to be afraid.

SAC

The Strategic Air Command matches were big time, and I was nervous. All the Air Forces in the Strategic Air Command had flown their teams in from all over the world - Europe, Africa, Asia and everywhere. I don't know how many shooters or how many teams there were, but I had never seen so many shooters at one place at one time before. There was a great long firing line with covered firing posts and shooting tables. Everything neat, tidy, and clean.

The pistol range faced on a wide river. The bullets would go through the targets and hit the water beyond the range and kick up a big splash. There was a big score board with everyone's' name on it. Great long columns of names. I had to hunt for five minutes, but my name was up there too - I was one of them.

Gen Curtis LeMay Presents Shooting Award

Gen Curtis LeMay, Commanding the Strategic Air Command, presents Richard Kelly Hoskins the SAC shooting award for winning second place in the 1952 SAC international .45 pistol competition. This award also won Hoskins a birth on the SAC pistol team that competed at the Nationals held in Jacksonville, Florida.

When time came for me to shoot I was so nervous that my knees shook. Some fellow behind kept calling everyone's attention to my wobbling knees and everyone laughed. This made me more nervous still. My hand and pistol were visibly shaking. I didn't feel that I had done very well at all.

I think we fired the entire course two or three times. Toward the end of the day a lot of my nervousness had gone, but I was drained - dirt tired. Thank goodness it was all over. I was ready to go back to Spokane and get into clean clothes.

Before that could happen the scores had to be posted and awards made.

Some Tech-Sergeant was first. He was so far ahead of everyone else that he was in a class by himself. They shouldn't have put anyone else's name on the same board with his. But, guess who was second? I was!

My name was up there on the board in 2nd place. In spite of my wobbly knees and shaking hand I had come in second. Unbelievable. I had fired #2 in the Omaha, Nebraska, Strategic Air Command pistol matches. I was overwhelmed. The shooters all slapped me on the back and treated me like I was somebody.

The top five shooters (four shooters and an alternate) were chosen to represent SAC at the 1952 Nationals in Jacksonville, Florida.

Before that, we all were presented shooting awards by General LeMay, Commanding General of the Strategic Air Command.

The Nationals

The Nationals at Jacksonville seem a blur after all that had gone before. Two things stand out.

First, I was practice firing at fifty yard targets and turned my scope to see how the fellow next to me was doing. He had hit once near the very center of his bulls-eye and the next two shots seemed to have missed because I didn't see any more hits. Then he fired once more and I saw the hole in the center widen - the guy was shooting them all in the same hole. Wow! That was shooting!

Leaving the line I called over, "You keep shooting that way you'll win something around here."

The fellow smiled and replied, "Thanks!"

I asked a bystander who he was. The reply was, "That's Joe Benner, world's champion pistol shot." I was really in the big leagues.

The second thing I remember, and I remember it full well, is that I was chosen from the Strategic Air Command pistol team to be one of the four shooters for the AIR FORCE Pistol team. Firing for the AIR FORCE I fired third place and we beat the Strategic Air Command team and a lot of other teams.[5]

Home Again

I flew home to Spokane, slept, got into clean clothes, and received awards from the commanding general of Fairchild Air Force base.

Then I went back out on the range to practice with the same Fairchild Air Force pistol team that I started out with. Half of them beat me shooting almost every time.

The rule. The worst you shoot in practice will be the best you shoot under pressure. Make your worst practice shooting the best you can.

General Rash

Ten years later I was called up on active duty with the 100th Airborne Division. I was assigned to be aide to the commanding general, General Dillman Rash.

He confided to me that in thirty years he had never been able to qualify with his assigned weapon - the .45. It was a real embarrassment to him. I told him I could make him an expert in twenty minutes. He didn't believe me but he went out to the range with me and did the simple little things that I told him to do.

The next general orders that came out had General Rash's name at the top of the list of men that had qualified. He not only qualified, but he qualified "Expert". The wreathed pistols with the "EXPERT" motto was on his uniform that very same day. Twenty minutes. That's all it took.

It took General Rash 20 minutes because in 30 years he had learned every bad habit that the army can teach. If he had never shot before I could have taught him in two minutes. Maybe faster. It's true. I've seen shooters do it lots of times.

Now, this is how you do it.

The Longer Lesson

I'm going to take more than two minutes because I want to tell you some of the little things about shooting that I might not be able to tell you later.

If you can, start with a good .22 pistol - one with adjustable sights. Then, when you have the money, get an Army .45. Get one with adjustable sights if you can. I've been told that there are other pistols just as good or better than the .45, but the .45 is the only one I have much experience with.

You can practice cheaply with a .22 and use your .45 when you have to.[6]

The .45 Kick

A .45 doesn't kick like a mule. It is designed not to kick. That's why it weighs 3 pounds. That's plenty of weight to absorb the recoil when the pistol goes off. The .45 doesn't kick much more than a .22, and that doesn't kick hardly at all.

The slide coming back to pick up and load a new bullet is the "kick" that some people talk about. It makes the pistol ready for you to shoot again.

Noise

.45s make noise. Noise makes you flinch and jerk the trigger. If you jerk the trigger you will miss the target. That's a rule. Stop the noise - then you won't be likely to flinch and jerk the trigger. Squeeze the trigger instead of jerking and you will hit the target.

Ear Plugs stop noise. You can get them at any gun store. Some use fancy ear protectors that look like ear phones. They are good. When I forget to bring ear protection, I just stick .45 bullets in my ears - bullet end first. That's what service pistol teams did 50 years ago. Teams now use the fancy ear protectors.

Stance Stand naturally. To find your natural stance, close your eyes and raise your arm naturally. Open your eyes. Your arm is now pointing naturally about 45% from your body. This is the way it should be when you shoot. Without moving 6 Frankly, the hand cannons - the .44 and .38 magnums scare me. I won't shoot one if I can help it. They are a whole lot more pistol than I want. I just want to hit what I aim at - not to be able to shoot through an engine block in order to obliterate it. Just hitting what you aim at is good enough for me.

your arm, move your body around until your arm points at the target and you are ready to go. That's your natural stance. Stick your free hand in your pocket to get it out of the way.

One Hand Or Two: Should you hold the pistol in one hand or hold it in two. The movies do it two handed. It's up to you. It's hard to drive a car, ride a horse, or hold a flashlight if you are holding your pistol with two hands. I learned to shoot with one hand so as to have a free hand for something else if needed.

Feet Placement: Just spread your legs until comfortable. Just be natural.

Arm: Keep your arm straight. A bent elbow uses five muscles. A straight arm uses two. Using half as many arm and shoulder muscles cause you to be half as apt to get tired - and cause your hand to shake. Keep your arm straight.

Eyes: I keep mine open. Both. Some shut one eye. No big deal either way.

Sights: A pistol is designed for short-range shooting. Most targets are seldom farther away than across half a room. For this kind of shooting you don't need sights. You do have to "squeeze". If you squeeze you will hit the target. If you jerk you can easily miss a big target just 5 feet away. Squeeze fast if you must! But squeeze!!

In emergencies you may have to shoot 50-100 yards or more because a pistol may be all you have. That's when you use sights. Most of my boyhood friends shot and hit targets well over 100 yards away. Long-range shooting with a pistol requires sights.

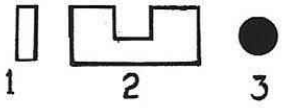
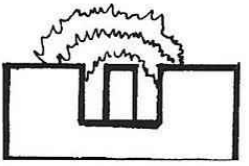
Using The Sights

In the figure below - #1 Represents the front sight on the barrel of your pistol. #2 represents the rear sight. #3 represents the target.

The next figure represents how the three should look when you aim.



Place the front sight # 1 in the notch #2 with the top of the front sight level with the top of the rear sight and equally spaced on either side.



Now: aim at the target without looking at it. The round target will seem to be just a blur in the background. Don't let that bother you. Concentrate on lining up the front sight with the rear sight - and squeeze. When your pistol goes off without your knowing when it's going to go off - you'll hit the target almost every time.

Holding The Pistol

If you hold the the pistol too tight - your hand will shake. Try it. Hold your pistol extra tight and see. Your hand will shake.

Hold the pistol gently. It's not going to jump out of your hand and run away - at least I've never seen one do it.

Put your finger on the trigger wherever it feels natural. Everything should be easy and natural. Good shooting isn't for "fancy-dan showoffs".

The Educated Finger VS The Jerk

Since childhood the forefinger has been trained to act in unison with the other three. The trouble is that if you use the other fingers in squeezing the trigger you will tend to jerk.

Hold your fist in front of you like you were holding a pistol and suddenly clinch your fist down. The other three fingers will cause you to JERK the pistol - down. Your shots will go below the target at spot #4. I've seen people jerk shots into the ground five feet in front of themselves - and scare the daylights out of everyone.

Clinch your fist to the left and your other three fingers will cause a left jerk - your shots will go left. #1 (see upper right).

Clinching your fist to the right will jerk your shots to spot #3 at the right, and a clinch backwards that uses the heel of your hand as a swivit will jerk your shot high to spot #2.

The JERK is the shooter's worst enemy. Never permit it to begin. The placement of the shots on the target will reveal what the shooter is doing right and what he is doing wrong.

Practical Shooting

Last year 2,000,000 Americans, using mostly pistols, protected themselves against robbery, rape, and assault. Most times the mere brandishing of the weapon discouraged the attacker. Most times the confrontation took place in an area the size of an ordinary room. Once again, if you must fire at a target this close - this is what you do:

Lining Up: To hit a target near you - just raise your pistol, point your arm at the target - and squeeze the trigger. That will do it. You'll hit the target almost every time. Don't bother with sights - don't need them.

A squeeze can take either 20 seconds, 1 second, or 1/10 of a second. You learn by doing. The common denominator is that you don't know when the pistol is going off - you squeeze the trigger.

Sighting a more distant target requires you to use the sights. Gently squeeze the trigger while keeping the top of the front sight level with the tops of the rear sight just like the picture to the left.

Once again, don't worry if your arm shakes. It's natural for it to shake. When it gets tired or you get nervous your arm will shake even more. Sometimes it shakes so bad that people will notice, like they noticed when my arm and knees shook so badly at the SAC pistol competition half a century ago. As long as your pistol is lined up and squeezed, the barrel isn't going to go much off the target. Your shot will hit.

Squeezing The Trigger

Ninety-five percent of all the trouble people have shooting pistols is the result of improper trigger squeeze.

Everything I've said before has just been to lead up to that one statement. "Ninety-five percent of all the trouble people have in shooting pistols is the result of improper trigger squeeze."

It certainly was true in my case. I shot tens of thousands of rounds before I discovered what other shooters knew all along. JERK and miss the target. You have to learn that . If someone had only told me.

I've taught little 80 year old ladies and nine year old girls to shoot the .45 pistol. They did what I told them to do; they squeezed the trigger and hit the center of the target from the first shot. What took them less than two minutes to learn took me three years and hundreds of dollars.

Squeeze and hit. Jerk and miss. It's that simple.

A Comforatable Weapon

Hitting your target is more important than what you hit it with. A hit target isn't going to bother you any more. If you are more comfortable with a .22 - use it. I find people are split half and half between the .22 and the .45.

Be Confident

Of the hundreds I've taught to shoot in the service and at home. I would guess that most would qualify "expert" if they shot in army qualification. Most of them never held a pistol before. They just followed these simple rules.

My wife and four daughters all shoot. My oldest daughter's husband's pistol team came to Bedford County to shoot. Maybe fifty men. They had the latest pistols, shooting jackets, and all. They set up a combat course near the Peaks Of Otter.

My two oldest daughters asked if they could shoot. Guess who ended up 1st and 2nd?

Conclusion

I've trained myself since I was a boy to be able to protect myself, my family, and my neighbors if it were ever necessary. Thank goodness, I've never had to shoot anyone. I've never even seen a mugging in my whole life. However, if I do I hope I will be able to help. Just the other day I was talking to a lady who told me that she was afraid to go downtown.

I said to her, "Look, Ma'am, There's nothing to be afraid of. I've lived in Lynchburg all my life and I've never even seen any violence. When I want to go somewhere, I just put my .45 in my belt, take my two Rottweilers and go anywhere I want to, and I've never had any trouble."

I was just kidding, of course. There are lots of places I don't take my Rotweilers. But my wife and daughters don't leave home without protection.

It wasn't that long ago that media-created "Saint Martin" stirred up trouble that set a major city on fire. The violence spread to Lynchburg. On 5th Street, Blacks threw cinderblocks though car windshields. Thank goodness that no one was killed and the drivers had sense enough not to stop their cars.

In the 1920s and the 1880s there were other such outrages. In the late 1860s and early '70s, blacks ran Lynchburg backed by federal bayonets. In the 1830s and '40s there were scattered slave revolts with Nat Turner's followers bashing in the heads of a whole school full of white children. In the early 1800s, ships full of refugees arrived in Virginia fleeing the black massacre of whites in Haiti. Before that were other scattered slave revolts and British - and French - led Indian massacres throughout the entire Valley and western part of the state.

When an Indian painted for war crashes through the window - that isn't exactly the best time to start thinking about preparing for an emergency. The emergency has arrived; now, what are you going to do about it?

Just a few weeks ago a black broke into a house in Lynchburg and sodomized the teenaged daughters. What kept the daughters from taking care of the problem themselves? It was because their father had not taught his daughters to fire a pistol. He didn't even own one. Disgraceful![7]

Recently in Nebraska, two blacks forced entry into a house where two young white men and three young women were playing music. Using an underpowered antiquated .380 pistol, the two blacks forced them all to disrobe and they repeatedly raped the three white girls with the white men standing there watching. Then they forced the white men to rape the girls. After that, they made them kneel and shot each one in the back of the head one at a time. None of the five victims had a weapon with which to defend himself or the others.

"How can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house." Matt 12:29

What is the difference between a man believing the marxist-media and binding himself into non-resistance by not owning a weapon, and, having a marxist state disarm him as has been done in Canada and Australia? The result is the same.

The Scriptures say;

"You shall not ... stand by idly when your neighbor's life is at stake." Lev 19:16

The marxist state has proved time and again that it can't, won't, and has no desire to protect the Saxon. England and Australia are sending white Rhodesian refugees back to their black ruled country to fates worse than death.

Liberals have shown that they are incapable of protecting anybody or anything; and as for a mysterious hero on a white horse riding out of the nowhere to rescue you if trouble appears - don't count on it. I don't expect that most of us will ever have any trouble. But; if we do - ,[8]

I would suggest that you keep your pistol close at hand and know that you must squeeze the trigger - not JERK, because if you JERK the trigger you are going to miss the target - and you can't afford to miss. Others may be depending on you.

8 "Also he bade them teach the children of Judah the use of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jasher." 2 Sam 1:18; "Teach thy sons the bow and all weapons of war." Jasher 56:9; "Walk not on the road without weapons, for thou knowest not when the foe may meet thee, so that thou manyst be ready for him." Story Of Ahikar 2:27

"He said unto them ... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one." Luke 22:36-37

Byron de la Beckwith Is Dead

Byron de la Beckwith is dead. He was convicted of shooting the NAACP agitator, Medgar Evers, after the third trial, by a black jury, thirty years after the event and was sentenced to life in prison.

Due to the Lawlessness of his trial, numerous attempts have been made to overturn the conviction. Each attempt was met with collaborator foot-dragging. The establishment had hoped that "De La" would die in prison and relieve the system of the nagging Beckwith problem.

Bryon de la Beckwith died in prison. He was an irrepressible Christian patriot who always saw the humor in adversity. He was a gentleman, and is now a martyr. We will remember both him and his persecutors when we come into our kingdom.

COMMUNIST MANIFESTO

We will take back what is ours, but first, we must understand the game in play.

Plan Of Action

Like the Ten Commandments, the Communist Manifesto has ten parts.

> "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from Capitalism to Communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of Socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have Communism." Nikita Khrushchev, The Congressional Record, 7/26/61, pg 12622[1]

4. confiscate rebels
5. centralized credit
6. communications & transportation regulated

Political Economic Systems

There are two religious/political/economic systems - the episcopacy and the presbytery. Episcopacies rule from the top down; presbyteries rule from the bottom up.

The Westerners' natural system is the presbytery - it rules the Lawful. The natural system of all other peoples is the episcopacy - it rules the lawless.

Westerners' Constitution & System

God the WORD is the Westerners' Constitution. This Constitution rules his religious/political/economic system. God appointed each man a king and priest and ordered his land divided among men - never to be sold.[2]

1 Socialism is simply rule by an episcopacy, the leader of which is known as "King", "Commissar", or "Chairman of the Board."

2 "The earth is the Lords." Ps 24:1; "The land is mine." Lev 25:23; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance." Lev 22:24; "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

The self-sufficient farm system is HIS kingdom; the WORD appointed man to be king under the WORD and rule his creation in a presbytary manner - from the bottom up. It is to be organized by 10s, 100s, and 1,000s.

The presbytery system created by God the WORD recognizes no king other than the King of Kings and no Constitution other than the WORD.[3] It is for this reason that the media of the episcopacy hounds those who speak for a return to the Law. The Law is the enemy of the lawless.

Esau's System

The lawless are ruled is the episcopal manner - from the top down. The episcopacy is made up of three ruling classes:

* Great Kings & standing armies;
* Levites with their usury banks;
* Great Merchants with their monopoly media.

In this system there are taxes, prisons, corporations, mafia police, bully press, all enforcers of "lawlessness."

God the WORD made man is his own image. Other races are made in the image of their Gods. Mixed-race peoples are descended from many races - each having its own god. Mixed race people have as many different gods as they have ancestors of different races.

Esau's episcopal system results from the countless laws handed down from the mixed-gods of his mixed race peoples. The resulting mass of conflicting rules, regulations, rituals, and ceremonies causes confusion and lawless behavior requiring a strong king ruling a strong episcopal government to maintain order.

3 If coerced, we are to obey to keep from giving the king an excuse to kill us. (Matt 17:27)

Esau's descendants know no other system. A strong episcopacy is required if they are to live and trade peacefully with each other. Since this is essential for their order and livlihood, they take this system with them when they go to live among strangers. If permitted entry into Western presbytery lands, they immediately start to work to introduce an episcopacy that they must have to feel safe.

The WORD warns us;

> "Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." Jasher 29:20

Esau's peoples and their ways are alien to God the WORD and the people he created. The Scriptures say:

> "Isaac[4] have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

Long ago our fathers adopted Esau's system of episcopal kings and have suffered grievously for it ever since.

With the usual cultural differences, the episcopal system is the same worldwide.

Communism & Capitalism

"Communism" is Esau code for the political side of Esau's episcopal system; "Capitalism" is code for his economic-usury system; and "atheism" is code for a "hands' off attitude" toward lawless religions his episcopacy rules. "Atheism" simply means that rulers must publicly treat all alike including

4 "They shall no more be remembered by their name." Hos 2:17 ("Israel"); "The Lord God shall ... call his servants by another name." Isaiah 65:15; "In Isaac shall thy name be called." Romans 9:7; Isaac-sons, "Saxon".

"Christians" once they renounce obedience to Christian Law. The Christian Law is the thing Esau and his surrogates must quietly but firmly suppress. Otherwise, Esau's rulers may not show public religious favoritism.

War

The lawless world of Esau is a world of constant economic, social, religious, and physical conflict. The conflict never ends. Sections strive with each other. Brushfire wars break out and subside. Armies loot neighbors. Former enemies make peace, and together fight yet another neighbor. Warfare is a way of life. Kings come and go. New rulers replace their own followers in the ruling caste system that they have just taken over and Esau's episcopacy continues with hardly a ripple.

Reinterpretation

Esau's scribes rewrite history so that it has become almost unintelligible. Following are the actual events leading to the writing of the Communist Manifesto.

Europe 1848

The 18th and 19th centuries in Europe were times of great unrest. The religious part of the Reformation had been suppressed following the defeat of the Peasants' Revolt. The political-economic aspects were fought out in the devastating "30-Years War" which ended in a Catholic-Protestant stand-off. The Catholic priesthood then unleashed their Jesuits to bring the Protestant heretics back into the fold by any means available.

In spite of the squabbling between Catholic priests of the Pope and Protestant priests of the Kings - Biblical teachings that had been unleashed during this period went directly into the souls of the great Saxon masses who had long been oppressed by kings, lords, and prelates. For the first time in a millennium and a half, Westerners understood their rights; they also understood that the rule of both their kings and the priests had been unjust and unLawful. They reacted with a series of revolts which their kings quickly and brutally suppressed.

Looting Expeditions

Readers remember from HR #312 "Attila", that a relationship existed between Rome and Attila so that Attila could dispose of the loot gathered from the rich outlying Roman provinces. Likewise, loot from Russia's Revolution found a ready market in Western Europe - no questions asked; wealth looted from the South found a ready market in Washington and New York; wealth looted from S. Africa found a ready market in Capetown and London; wealth looted from Germany in WWII found a ready market all over the world - including Lynchburg. In Esau's lawless world, strife is a normal and natural condition. Both victor and vanquished continue as part of the episcopacy and later may unite to prey on still another.

The World Of 1848

The world of 1848 was ready. Sensing prey, Sons of the Huns sent their well financed agents into this tinderbox of discontent. They promised the oppressed that the wealth taken from their fathers and held by establishment kings and priests would be seized from them and given back to the people. It was the best offer heard since before the Reformation and many went for it.

The Plan

Agitation for a revolution climaxed sooner than expected. The destroyers quickly delegated Karl Marx, a son of a rabbi and one of their number, to draw up a proclamation - fast! This had to be done for for two reasons.

First, those issuing the Manifesto would be looked upon as its leaders. If successful, the leaders would profit most in the distribution of loot.

Next, America's Constitution was still relatively new, and was looked upon by people worldwide as freedom's roadmap. So, the Manifesto was likewise written as a constitutional roadmap. Like the American constitution, it opposed kings ruling in an arbitrarpy manner.

Actually, the plan was to deceive the people and replace existing kings with kings from the ranks of Esau's sons. This would leave Western peoples with commissars as their rulers instead of kings. As a propaganda work the Manifesto was a masterpiece.

The Manifesto Appears

At the end of February the Manifesto was published. Its completion rushed to coincide with the beginning of riots, looting, and bloodshed that historians have named the Revolution of 1848.

Three weeks after the bloodbath started in Sicily, the Manifesto was in print. Europe was reading it in the streets the very day King Louis Philippe of France was overthrown, and was debating its demands at the instant the Prussian monarchy was made to grovel before the red mobs. All Europe had read it by the time Metternich was driven from the Austrian government 3 weeks later. It was well organized - propaganda and terror at the same time.

The Manifesto Itself

The threat in the Introduction to the Manifesto was clear:

> "A spectre is haunting Europe - the spectre of Communism ..."

The 1848 Communist Manifesto demands are the same today as they were yesterday - modified only slightly for its audience. They represent the inner nature of Esau so there is no way for them to change.

1. Abolition of private property: In 1848, most property was owned outright by kings and their nobles and the Catholic and Protestant churches.

Today, government kings own the same land that had been owned earlier by kings and nobles; Through corporations, churches continue to own what they had owned before.

2. A heavy graduated income tax: In 1848, both the king and church, owning practically everything, were exempt from taxes. The people were told that the graduated income-tax would transfer the burden of taxes from the people to the king and their wealthy nobles, the great merchants, and the church.

Today, the three castes are still tax-exempt or undertaxed, and the people are still taxed as heavily as before.

3. Abolition of right of inheritance: The Church enfeifed kings. Kings enfeifed nobles. Nobles hired Workers to work. Workers sharecropped but seldom owned the land they worked. The Communist Manifesto promised that title to land and factory would be transferred to the people.

Instead, the communist leading the revolt became king and enfeifed the land and property to his party officials - the new aristocracy. All remained as before.

The ones hit by the "Abolition of the right of inheritance" were entrepreneurs who had amassed large estates. In Lynchburg, The Lynchburg News & Advance was sold to a Cartel corporation to satisfy inheritance taxes. Across the nation, farms, homes and businesses are constantly being being brought into the episcopacy's International Trade Cartel (ITC) to satisfy inheritance taxes. Inheritance taxes force property owners to give up their property.

4. Confiscation of property of rebels: Platform #4 was written to legitimize the taking of property of those who opposed the Revolution of 1848 - this meant the kings and priests.

Today, anyone who opposes the coming revolution is certain to be branded "rebel" and may have his property confiscated on one excuse or another. The process has started. This last month, the Indianapolis Baptist Temple was seized by government agents for refusing to collect social security taxes for the government.

A trigger that can be pressed at any time is the approximately $22 in IOUs coming due worldwide with only $1 in the M1 money supply with which to pay. All that is needed to cause general bankruptcy countrywide is to siphon off the thin floating supply of money. This can easily be done with a permanent oil price increase; continued high interest rates, or, continued high taxes. One, or a combination of these, would send a normal economic slowdown spiraling into a desperate depression where there would be no money to allow people to pay their debts. Desperate people can be easily led into an "1848" type revolution.

The world is already filled with potential "rebels" whose property is ready to be taken and given to another. A depression would fill the treasure box to overflowing. Then, as the dust settles, Esau's episcopacy would continue as before with new rulers.

5. Centralization of credit as an exclusive monopoly in the hands of a national bank: The owner of the usury banking system determines success or failure. Those getting loans succeed - those who don't, won't. The secret - extension or withholding credit. This is the exclusive monopoly of the privately owned national bank and its affiliates.

Regardless who becomes "king" in the next looting expedition, the ownership of the national bank will not change. Loyalty is guaranteed by using Sons of Esau as its operatives.

Rulers Of The Sons of Esau: People wonder why so many sons of Esau are bankers and great merchants. The answer to the question goes back a long time.

Once, the Sons of Esau and the Sons of Jacob fought a series of wars. In spite of the Sons of Esau's overwhelming strength and advantage, their lawlessness and treachery against each other overthrew their efforts.

Meeting after their defeat, they swore that never again would they allow one of their own kind to do to them what they had just finished doing to each other. They swore a pact that they would always be ruled by others from a strange land.

> "The sons of Esau swore, saying, from that day forward they would not choose a king from their brethren, but one from a strange land until this day." Jasher 57:40

This explains why the blood markers of the Jewish population differ from the blood markers of their rabbis. Rabbis are a different people or caste from the people they rule. This would also mean that all the sons of Esau have long obeyed the orders of those who are different from themselves.

6. Centralization and control of communications and transportation: In 1848, people were told that it was necessary for the communist state (the new king) to control communications and transportation so that the (old) king and his nobles would not be able to return to power.

Since then, revolution has followed revolution, but only the owners and rulers have changed. Centralization of communications and transportation remain in the hands of the ruling king. The system is intact.

The Approaching Storm: Only the densest of Saxon sheep can fail to see that today's centralized communications - the media - are constantly being used to beat war-drums encouraging a worldwide uprising by aliens against the Saxon. It appears that the looting expedition that will result from such an uprising may rival even Attila's, Genghis Khan's, or any that have resulted from any other war. If I am not mistaken, it may even be meant to be the fulfillment of the ancient prophecy made by the Serpent to Adam's descendants. Pronouncements made relatively recently indicate such an intent:

Program For The 20th Century

> "We must realize that our party's most powerful weapon is racial tension. By pounding into the consciousness of the dark races that for centuries they have been oppressed by the whites, we can mold them to the program of the Communist party. In America, we will aim for subtle victory. While inflaming the Negro minority against the Whites, we will endeavor to instill in the Whites a guilt complex for their exploitation of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise in prominence in every walk of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige the Negro will be able to intermarry with the Whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause." Israel Cohen, Communist spokesman in England, in A Racial Program for the 20th Century, Entered into Congressional Record June 7, 1957 (P. 7633). From The Canadian Intelligence Service, Flesherton, Ontario, Canada.

Racial Bias Found In Admissions

One example of the above plan being put into execution is found buried in the Lynchburg's News & Advance of Feb 23, 2001 p. C1. The article reveals that a 64 page study by the "Center For Equal Opportunity", based in Washington, found that discrimination in college admissions in fact does favor blacks and Hispanics.

The report says that a study of admissions policies at 47 colleges and universities across the U.S. concluded that racial and ethnic discrimination in favor of aliens is widespread.

It states, "Race and ethnicity ... are an overwhelming factor." Among the findings; "Racial and ethnic preference in admissions is pervasive and national in scope."

Louise Dudley, a spokeswoman for U.Va, admitted, "They say that admissions are based on test scores and by looking at SATs, but that is not how we do it (at the University)."

The Center called on the Bush administration's Department of Justice and Education to "make fighting this discrimination a priority." The text of the study is posted on the center's Web site: "www.ceousa.org".

There are certain to be some who fail to grasp the significance of these findings. No nation, of its own free will, gives precedence to alien peoples unless forced to. The fact that they are being forced to do this thing is proof, not only of the power of the episcopacy that rules the West, but that the power instructing this episcopacy is not Saxon.

There are presently so many instances of this sort of anti-Saxonism taking place in religion, education, the military and the arts, that this one instance should suffice to show that the "Program For The 20th Century" is being aggressively implemented.

7. State control of factories, land reclamation agencies, and central control of farm soil improvement: This plank represents another sleight of hand. In 1848, in most of Europe, the ruler claimed the farming lands and the very land on which factories resided.

The communists vowed to take the land and factories and divide the ownership among the people. That day has never come - nor ever will.

8. Equal liability of all to labor (equality of sexes), and establishment of a state labor force: A working man produces profit to the system. A man and his wife both working for the episcopacy produce still more. In the guise of freeing the woman, Esau has enslaved them to his system. "Womans' lib" organizations almost without exception are led by daughters of Esau.

A "state labor force" is a euphemism for a large state prison population that can be used as slave labor for projects of which the king approves. The cost of maintaining the prison system furnishes another excuse for needing unending taxation.[5]

i. The abolition of countries and nationalities under the above "system": The sons of Esau are basically international merchants. To them, restrictions imposed by countries and nationalities are hindrances to trade. NAFTA and recent "globalization" policies open national borders to "free movement of labor". More important, it allows aliens to immigrate who are at first to be used as cheap labor, and at the last as cannon fodder in the final assault on the Saxon world.

iii "Communism abolishes ... all religion, and all morality ...": In 1848, organized religion, with its property ownership and support by tyrannical kings, was looked upon by reformers as the people's greatest enemy. Therefore, anything done against organized religion was considered "good". Communism called for "abolishing religion", and that was taken to mean "abolishing the landlord", and was looked on as being something good. Overlooked was the fact that "organized religion" and "communism" both were equally the foes of the Law of the WORD. Neither one could rule as long as God's Law remained intact.

Today, nothing has changed. The Law of "Saxon Christianity" remains the enemy of both "establishment religion" and communist revolutionaries. The episcopal religious and political establishments see nothing wrong when New York suppresses Christian observances while allowing Islamic and Jewish observances. God's Law remains the enemy of the lawless and the only salvation of the Lawful.

9. Farms and Factories Combined: Episcopacies must destroy independent farms. Their kings and churches through the ages always claim the land. The reason for this is perhaps best explained by Karl Marx as related by Douglas Read:

> "Next, Karl Marx: The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ... At the same time we must intensively patronize trade and industry ... what we want is that industry should drain off from the land both labor and capital and by means of speculation transfer into our hands all the money of the world ...'
> "Karl Marx in his Communist Manifesto exactly followed this formula. True, he declared that Communism might be summed up in one sentence, 'abolition of private property', but subsequently he qualified this dictum by restricting actual confiscation to land and implying that other types of private property were to remain intact. (In the later Marxist event, of course, all > private property was confiscated, but I speak here of the strict parallel between the strategy laid down before the event alike by the Protocols and Marx)." The Controversy of Zion by Douglas Read, Noontide Press, Newport Beach, CA, 1985. p. 219

The result of the king seizing independent farms is that the landless farmers go to cities to labor in the episcopacies' industry - thereby becoming harmless to the king. However, the farmer's deserted farm grows up and returns to nature. Moving industry to the countryside permits factory workers to cultivate garden patches in a limited manner. This limited cultivation keeps farmers from becoming independent and dangerous and at the same time keeps the king's land from becoming worthless by returning to nature.

10. Public Schools: "Stop the exploitation of children by their parents ... and ... replace home education by social."

"Social education" was an 1848 term meaning "public schools". At that time, the "public school" was a radical idea. The communists understand its possibilities. Whoever teaches the children owns the children's future. For this reason, public schools have been made an icon in the episcopacy.

"Exploitation" meant to stop children as young as seven or eight years working in factories - a result of moving farmers to the city. Today, the definition of "exploitation" has been extended to prevent parents from spanking unruly children. America's public school system has re-interpreted history to denigrate the Saxon and to radicalize the youth in preparation for "the great day".

"Citizens, Turn In Your Weapons"
This 1919 poster shows Russia's Bolshevik Government demanding the surrender of the people's weapons. It was made AFTER the Bolsheviks had succeeded in taking over the government and just before the purge and extermination of tens of millions of Russia's Saxons began.

"Citizens, Turn In Your Weapons!"

In Russia, before the drive to rid the land of "counter-revolutionaries", the effort was made to get Russians to surrender their guns. The penalty for non-compliance was harsh. The ones who gave up their guns were defenseless a short time later when the "round-up" of property owners began.

In our own Western lands, the establishment has already seized the guns of our Saxon brothers in Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and Canada, and are trying to seize them in South Africa. The minute they are able to get America's guns I believe will signal "round-up-time" for 50 million American Saxons. They will be labeled "terrorists" and herded into death camps by their own local police and national guard, backed by various government agencies such as the ATF, FBI, FEMA, and the army.

The Signs

Esau's media campaign to instigate a race war by inciting aliens against Saxons is the same in every Saxon land. Such coordination can't be an accident.

In Russia, the sons of Esau incited the Slavs against Russian Saxons; in France, workers were incited against their own French Saxon nobility; in China, Chinese workers were incited against Chinese property owners. The result - war, devastation and death!

When the last body was buried, the people found the same tyrannical episcopal system was still in place - only with new, more brutal masters running it.

Martial Law

Major racial disorders will undoubtedly follow gun confiscation, and the disorders will be the excuse used to impose martial law. Under martial Law, law is suspended and "justice" is dispensed by the police and the military. It was during this time that the Bolsheviks in Russia began rounding up the country's Saxons and sending them on one-way trips to Gulag death camps.

Our enemies feel no need to hide their actions; since WWII, only Saxons and their allies have been charged and executed for war crimes in spite of our enemies and their allies having killed 60 million people and having committed practically every crime imaginable.

Our enemy revealed his Bolshevic nature at Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City and the Indianapolis Baptist Temple. The unprovoked attacks by government forces under his control against defenseless civilian populations all over the world comes naturally from his Mongol mentality.

Khrushchev meant it when he said,

"We will bury you."

Our Day Of Opportunity

The coming cataclysm is our window of opportunity. We will be victorious - that part has been prophesied and is certain.

Then,

We must rebuild from the chaos. Not an episcopacy as in the past, but a presbytery. Our people must organize themselves into 10s, 100s, and 1000s; a presbytery - rule from the bottom up.

The land must be divided never to be sold; then, every man will be a king with his kingdom.

Products from large off-shore companies must be banned - giving our people the opportunity to furnish their own needs from their small cottage industries.

Taxation must be abolished in obedience to Scripture; then there will be no way to pay an episcopal caste system that would rule us. Their surrogates will have to be financed by aliens - leaving an incriminating trail.

Standing armies must be abolished. Small, cheap new weapons capable of purchase and operation by individual militiamen need to be designed and built; militias reactivated.

Usury must be abolished and no-interest banking made operational once again. Men will, by then, have produce from their land and products from their cottage industry for trade.

Cheap miniature power generators will be needed. Also, small inexpensive air and ground transportation. A new world will be in our hands to exploit, a world needing everything - and the WORD will reveal his Law to us to make it all possible. How do we know this? The WORD which is God has said so.

All things will be possible when our people accept the WORD which is God as our only Constitution, and that day is closer than most realize.[6]

Letter from South Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins:

We have had no rain for more than a month and the extreme heat has left us all exhausted. It is strange how the weather affects us. If the sun does not shine for a few days we are unhappy and the drought has even a worse effect. But, when a good shower falls we all perk up.

I had an exchange of letters with the Dutch Reform Church about what they intend to do on the 16th December with their reconciliation plan. If I asked a Scotsman to tell the English how sorry he is that the English burned half of Scotland, he would explode. But the Dutch Reform Church wanted 60 Afrikaaners church ministers and 40 English ones to compile a document in which the Blacks will be asked to forgive the Whites, who brought them the advantages of civilization, for their involvement in apartheid and racism.

6 When Saxon nations become strong by obedience to God the WORD, they can help other nations gain the same rights. All nations should be free to reach their destiny. This includes Black, Arab, Jew and all who cry for independence and the right of their own nations to be left alone.

The document will then be handed to Black church ministers on the Day of the Covenant.[7] The plan fell through, but the behaviour of the Afrikaans church leaders leaves a bad taste. In every issue of Die Afrikaner the D.R. Church is taken to task for the mess we are in. But churchmen are a thick skinned, self-righteous lot.

As you can see, Willie Marais, the new leader of our H.N. Party, is expecting events to unfold in the not-too-distant future. Along with the farmers, we are utterly tired of the current situation where no freedom exists for whites. The South African army has been stripped of whites and is in total dis-array. The situation gets more interesting daily.

Anti-white discrimination flourishes and so does corruption. A cool 45 billion rands is being spent for arms with lots of bribes for Mbeki and company and an Indian clan. The blacks in leadership positions no longer go for millions but billions. Judge Heath was stopped from investigating corruption, and the way President Mbeki went at him made us think that these blacks will murder to get their way.

The veterinary service finally got the foot-and-mouth under control. Now, cholera has spread all over. That means thousands are treated at our expense.

AIDS continually increases in the Free State. Fewer black children are left to register for grades 1 and 2.

7 The Day Of The Covenant held each year memorializes God's intervention at Blood River saving a handful of Afrikcaners from 20,000 merciless black warriors.

Blacks living on the banks of the Jukskei in Alexandra have been moved here to the Diepsloot squatter camp where they have become a plague. And if that is not enough, about fifty eagles of the type who live in flocks, descended on us a few days ago, taking over big bluegum trees for roosts. Within a short time they caught all our small birds. I don't like them and would prefer that they move on. Perhaps shooting a few warning shots with the shotgun might scare them away.

Pretoria used to be mostly crime free, but not any more. I wondered at how little protection against burglars they had. Carjackings are a plague at the moment. A pity. Pretoria was one city that kept clean. The sidewalks were swept and the lawns were neatly trimmed and full of beautiful flowers.

The blacks in the Defense Force could not bring themselves to honour the white helicopter crews who in the Mozambique flood helped rescue and provide air transport for so many. The commander received a Silver Cross of Honour, but that came from the German Bundeswehr. I think that was a nice gesture.

If this weather continues, our food production is going to badly affected.

With best wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

CANNED SERMONS: "Greetings: About a year ago I had an interesting encounter with a Lutheran minister. After reviewing a portion of the sermon that the Reverend delivered to his congregation I asked him how he came up with the ideas for his sermons. The Reverend responded that he had no personal control over the subject matter of his sermons, that his church dictated to him a year in advance the strict guidelines which he was to follow. Thus, he exposed the corporate structure of control that the enemies of truth employ." J. E. - Minnesota

Chapter 319

DISCOVERING OUR ENEMY

Our enemy is trying to destroy the Saxon nation. It is happening before our very eyes. Who is doing this to us?

The finger of blame has pointed first at one party, and then another, and the process continues. To survive we must know the face of our enemy.

The Investigative Process

Mr. Sherlock Holmes solved many a case by eliminating suspects. He would find suspects. If the trail led elsewhere, he followed it until there was but a single suspect left. Then, regardless how unlikely it seemed, the remaining suspect was the guilty one.

Treading in the steps of the esteemed investigator, let us begin the game by eliminating the prime suspects one by one until we have one left who, regardless how improbable, has a motive, a weapon, a history of committing such deeds, and witnesses who can testify to their crimes.

Politicians

The obvious primary suspect is the politician. It is an article of faith that politicians are ultimately responsible for the evils besetting the West.

They control the country's purse strings. Things don't happen without money. Politicians oversee and fund the governing process. Thus, they are responsible for the flood of aliens pouring into the country; the wars against defenseless 3rd world nations that recently have killed 5 million Vietnamese, countless Iraqi men, women and children, and goodness knows how many Panamanians and Yugoslavs.

Politicians go to Washington virtually penniless and return millionaires. The number of their evil deeds appear countless. Their FBI assassins killed a mother holding her baby on Ruby Ridge and burned to death scores of men, women, and children at Waco. Their agents are said to be involved in both Oklahoma City and the New York Towers. They were caught red-handed working with the mafia to assassinate Castro. The FBI has boasted of having brought in the mafia to destroy the KKK and having used them as government agents against the Axis during WWII.

A more sordid, grasping, immoral group of criminals can scarcely be found anywhere outside of prisons. It's clear. The decline of the West must be laid at the feet of "government".

Politician's Alibi

However, politicians have an alibi. They are elected. Citizens vote for the best men they know, but the only ones they know are the ones that newspaper writers tell them about. Without this exposure, George Washington himself couldn't be elected dogcatcher.

There you have it - it's a conspiracy of the newspaper writers! The 1st Amendment allows newspaper writers the freedom to write their conscience. The nation's ills are not really acts of the politicians, but the liberal newspaper writers who made their election possible - they are responsible!

The Media

Reading almost any newspaper will confirm the suspicion, held by many, that the media is responsible for the decline of morals and Christian values in the West. All establishment media - including the radio, and TV - is tarred with the same brush.

We are familiar with the speech attributed to John Swinton, former chief of staff of the New York Times, called by his peers "the dean of his profession." In 1953, he was asked to give a toast before the New York Press Club.

This is what he said a half-century ago:

> "There is no such thing, at this date of the world's history, in America, as an independent press. You know it and I know it.
> "There is not one of you who dares to write your honest opinions, and if you did, you know beforehand that it would never appear in print. I am paid weekly for keeping my honest opinions out of the paper I am connected with. Others of you are paid similar salaries for similar things, and any of you who would be so > foolish as to write honest opinions would be out on the streets looking for another job. If I allowed my honest opinions to appear in one issue of my paper, before twenty-four hours, my occupation would be gone.

> "The business of the journalist is to destroy truth; to lie outright; to pervert; to vilify; to fawn at the feet of mammon, and to sell his country and his race for his daily bread.
>
> "You know it and I know it, and what folly is this toasting an independent press. We are the jumping jacks: they pull the strings, and we dance. Our talents, our possibilities, and our lives are all the property of other men. We are intellectual prostitutes."

Here is a confession! A media insider confessed to the media's guilt!!

Not exactly. Read it closely. It's the owners. The editor and writer only writes what the media owner orders him to write. The politician is then an agent of the media owner. So, the confession points to the media owner!

Great Merchant

Media owners are wealthy individuals. They buy and sell media. It is they who decide who will be councilman, state senator, congressman, judge or president. Ergo, it is they who must be responsible for the filth and degregation of Western Civilization. Yes?

Not if we follow the technique of the wise crime fighter. The Robert Maxwell case comes to mind.

Robert Maxwell alias Jan Ludvig Hock was identified as a Mossad agent in the book The Sampson Option. He was owner/manager of a vast pro-zionist world-wide media empire which collapsed at the time of his alleged murder. Up until then it was a carefully kept secret that his gigantic media empire was at the service of a foreign country.[1]

Wasn't Maxwell (alias Hoch) a Jew? Didn't he work for the Mossad? Didn't the Jews start Communism? The Communist Party USA?, the NAACP? Woman's Lib?, aren't they leaders in porno and abortion? and aren't most all subversive movements Jewish? Didn't the Jews kill Christ? It's the Jews! Isn't it?

Let's stay with the clues. It is true that Maxwell the Jew did favors for his fellow tribesmen, but regardless, he could only have accumulated his vast media empire by using bank credit. A bank somewhere financed his operation. This view is abundantly confirmed at his death. When Maxwell died, or was murdered, whatever, scores of Swiss banks descended on his estate to get back the media that Maxwell was managing for them. There were many, many banks involved.

Swiss banks - still another suspect?

Banks

The media that the world said belonged to Maxwell alias Hoch, wasn't Maxwell-Hoch's at all. It belonged to the banks! Maxwell was just a manager. He was the bank's agent - the banks were the ones behind Maxwell.

Everybody knows that the Jews own the banks. It has to be the Jews. The Jews charge usury - lending the only $10 in existence and demanding repayment of $11, and when borrowers can't pay - they are bankrupted and Jewish banks end up owning their collateral. Banks put widows and orphans out on the streets and cause depressions and inflations. Jewish Banks. It's the Jews!

Well, that's not exactly the case. A rash of Swiss banks folded in the early '70s. It was discovered that they were owned by the Catholic Church. Moreover, recently, the Vatican Bank itself failed. For the first time in modern history it was revealed that the bulwark against evil - the institution that has written the best arguments against the evil of usury, the organization that severely persecuted usurers as well as the Jews - that institution is, and has been for a long time, actually in the business of practicing usury and hiring Jews to manage their assets!

Churches

The Catholic Church! Who would have thought it? On the one hand they teach Bible Law against usury and they bash the Jews for doing it, and on the other hand the own the very same usury banks they so strongly criticized, and, hire Jews to manage them and the media owned by their own banks.

Think about it! The Catholic Church owns the usury banks who own the papers who own the writers who elect politicians who are taking the West down the primrose path to destruction. Right?

Maybe. But let's not jump to conclusions until all the evidence is in. There's still more to examine.

If the Catholic Church is guilty of owning usury banks that is creating such chaos in the West - isn't the Protestant Church just as guilty?

When the Continental Illinois defaulted it was discovered that the head of the Anglican Catholic Protestant Church was owner. When the great Barings Bank defaulted it was discovered that the Anglican Church was owner.

Well now. If the Catholic-Protestant Church are bank owners, both are responsible. In other words, the custodians of our own Christian Religion that bans usury and levies the death penalty on its practitioners[2] are responsible for bringing chaos down on our heads.

The Plot Thickens

But, the trail doesn't stop here. The ancestor of both established Protestant and Catholic churches is the Roman Government. It was the Roman Emperor Constantine who founded the Catholic Church in the fourth century. Constantine was on his deathbed before he became a "Christian" and a member of the same Church that he created while he was a heathen. This is peculiar to say the least.

The question that should be asked is "Why would a heathen, himself a god according to the custom of Roman Emperors, take a small but growing radical Christian movement and make it a state religion with himself as its head?"

The answer appears obvious; the easiest way to control it would be to take it over and make it a state religion under state control. It was the God the WORD, the god of this Christian religion that was causing all the trouble. He had appointed each of his followers a king and a priest.[3] This made entirely too many kings and priests to share rule in an empire which claimed that the Roman Emperor was the single ultimate king and priest.

2 "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13. See War Cycles/Peace Cycles, Hoskins, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $28

3 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God." Rev 1:5,6

By proclaiming himself leader of the young radical Christian church, and then making the Christian religion the only religion, the Emperor of Rome regained overnight the position of being Rome's ultimate king and priest.

He appointed Christian priests and suppressed Bible reading. Church pronouncements were declared infallible. Neat! Rome once more had one emperor and one religious head.

Roman usury banking continued in the same manner that Babylonian priests had run Babylon's banks and Indian priests had run India's banks.

We have just seen how a Roman emperior neutralized a radical religious movement that threatened to disintegrate the empire. He took it over and made it a state religion.

We already know how bank owners use their wealth to put city councilmen and kings on their thrones. It is logical to assume that Roman bank owners seated the Roman Emperor who removed the religious threat to usury banking by creating a new episcopal state religion called the Catholic Church. It was probably done in the same way that bank owners today elect presidents and crown kings who in turn tell churches what they can or can't do to get tax exemption and avoid the fate of Waco and the Indianapolis Baptist Temple.[4]

Collecting The Evidence

Bankers are powerful because they are rich. They are rich because of a scam they operate called "usury". Usury is ancient. It was used by Babylonian priests who operated out of temple ziggurats (note the earlier religious-usury alliance).

4 The Indianapolis Baptist Temple was recently confiscated by the FBI for refusing to collect taxes for the federal government.

Even before that, usury was practiced by Indian-priests who kept the masses of India (and elsewhere) in perpetual debt.

It is written in the Saxon Chronicle that in A.D. 883 King Alfred sent alms to Rome and to St. Thomas and St. Bartholomew in India.[5] Didn't King Asoka in the 4th century B.C. boast that the Greeks had been conquered by Dharma?[6]

Hindu: "Dharma" - non-violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to "race, creed, or nationality." Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations to expedite trade. "Dharmitized - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma. Most interesting is that the Catholic Church uses many of the same rituals used by India's Buddhists who are also Hindus.

Buddhists & Catholic Rituals

* processions
* parading relics
* body parts for relics
* incense
* shaven heads
* celibate priests
* pointed hats
* works for merit
* robes
* idols
* rosaries
* integration
* tax exemption
* monasteries & convents
* missionaries
* holy water
* male & female priests
* saints
* auricular confession
* pilgrimages

Making a still stronger case for the trail leading to India: the Catholic Church shares saints with the Hindus.

5 The Saxon Chronicle, p. 107, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $99 plus 10% p&h

6 Hindu: "Dharma" - tolerance. "Dharmitized - to be subdued by Dharma.

> "The strange parallel between Buddhistic ritual, discipline, and costume, and those which especially claim the name of CATHOLIC in the Christian Church, has been often noticed; and though the parallel has never been elaborated as it might be, some of the more salient facts are familiar to most readers. Still, many may be unaware that Buddha himself, Siddhárta the son of Súddodhana, has found his way into the Roman martyrology as a Saint of the Church." fn Marco Polo, Book 3, Chap XV. p. 323 Yule-Cordier Edition, Dover Pub, NY 1993

> "... it was Professor Max Müller, who ... who first pointed out the strange fact - almost incredible, were it not for the completeness of the proof - that Gotama the Buddha, under the name of St. Josaphat, is now officially recognized and honored and worshipped throughout the whole of Catholic Christendom as a Christian saint!" Marco Polo, Book 3, Chap XV, p. 326. Yule-Cordier Edition, Dover Pub, NY 1993.

It is also interesting that the word "Hindu" today means universal, the word catholic used by both the Roman Catholic and Protestant Anglican Catholic Church means universal and the evangelic outreach ministry of the so-called fundamentalist Christians is also universal. All employ usury in some form or other and none teach against it.

The Indian connection could perhaps explain the sudden emergence on Business TV channels of Indian CIOs of large Western Corporations. CEOs are usually appointed from the members of the managing or ownership group.

Review

After all our probing and questioning, we have arrived at a tentative conclusion: Is it possible that our grief and troubles are caused by politicians elected by media writers who are told whom to support for election by media owners who are bank agents. Is it also possible that these same banks are owned by Indian interests who use religion, Catholic, Protestant and Hindu - as the vehicle to conceal their weapon of conquest - usury.

All of this is quite possible. It also is explained by the rule;

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

Usury! The common thread. Usury becomes a monopoly when it eats up its competition. It's BIG money. Monopoly money. So big that it staggers the mind. I have been told that someone lending a dollar at the time of Christ at 6% interest would now have accumulated a debt owed him equal to a ball of gold whose radius would extend from Earth to beyond Mars. Those controlling the usury system would also, through fronts, control all large corporations, businesses, governments, politicians, religions, everyone - except ...

Re-examination

Let's see what our investigation has done so far:

1. We have discovered the weapon - USURY.
2. We have discovered the motive - POWER.
3. We have discovered the cover - RELIGION.

* Now - the guilty party.

We know who it isn't; we have uncovered a lot of dirty laundry in the process, and there is still investigative work that must be done.

We must narrow the investigation to our own Saxon nation in the search for the anti-Christ who has tormented us for so long.

We will do that next month.

Letter From South Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins:

Autumn is in the air. Hopefully it will get cooler now. We suffered from very dry hot days. This morning it started raining for the first time in months at our place. A refreshing change.

From Mbeki's opening speech in parliament, it seems only blacks exist and after the budget speech by the finance minister, the rand fell further.

About poor blacks: a black woman in civil service without qualifications earns R30,000 plus a car a month. In turn she pays a white woman R10,000 a month to do all her work. This goes on all over. Any white, be it a doctor or anyone else, gets fired if he does not obey his black master. Blacks harbour inferiority complexes that know no bounds. An example is Steve Tshwete's outburst against the Portuguese community, who dared complain about the killing of their members and about crime in general.

On Monday night something went wrong with a cable in the Pretoria railway network. Some say it was stolen. Black commuters had to wait till buses were arranged to take them home. Not satisfied, they began to destroy the building and set it alight. Millions of rands of damage was done to this national monument which was built in 1910, but no reproof came from the regime. The only good from all this is that white people are waking up, although very late.

The Dutch Reform Church office in Pretoria sent a letter containing remarks from previous synod meetings, concerning the Day of the Covenant. I used this opportunity to tell this minister what many feel is wrong about their behaviour. I doubt that this made him happy. Our people have always placed ministers on pedestals and looked up to them, so they do not tolerate those who disagree with them.

The HNP Party office has been broken into again and a lot of damage done. One can have all the security possible, but if no one is present the robbers take their time.

We found a dead black on our way out near the main road. He died from a stab wound, the police said. More squatters are moving from Alexandra township to Diepsloot opposite us and more problems are coming our way.

Some local teachers who left to go to England find that there is no discipline in ordinary English schools, especially in the inner cities.

We are very impressed with your pistol shooting ability. According to Hans, you look very handsome as a young man.

Our firearms dealer is having problems with pistols and revolver registration. He wants to go and see the minister. I do not envy him because that is the same Steve Tshwete who cannot stand whites.

Your present President Bush takes after his father it seems. Not a nice thought. Most white nations suffer under terrible leaders.

Long before we came on the farm there were a group of 50 spotted eagles who lived in big gum trees next to trees used by crows. Not knowing about eagles I was afraid they might catch the smaller birds. Someone nearby put poison out and we had eagles dying all over. In the meantime a few Marobou storks turned up. They are huge scavengers. When we finally phoned the conservation people it was too late.

The state budget provides no relief for elderly whites and as the state took away subsidies, many are in great need. A black cares little for the aged. Compare that with their own salaries and what they are capable of doing and one comes to the conclusion that from Mbeki on down not one is worth his pay.

Judge Heath was threatened with death if he proceeded investigating the arms scandal.

Most of the summer's rain came in one weekend. It was welcome.

Manfred Roeder, German nationalist, gave a speech for mainly German and HNP party members during his recent visit to S. Africa. It was very well attended by about 600 people in Pretoria. I hope to translate his speech.

President Mbeki needs a R300 million jet. The one we had was not good enough for him . He suffers from an immense ego.

Another postal strike is looming that will give me lots of problems. At last a combined white workers union seems to be in the cards. Up to now it was just the black Cosatu union who had all the say.

Will send interesting information about Zimbabwe.

With best wishes, K.J.

Killing McVeigh - More Evidence Destruction

The government quickly destroys the evidence it leaves behind every time it commits a violent act against its own people.

That's what has happened to the JFK killing evidence. That's what happened to the Ruby Ridge and Waco evidence. The Waco victim's bodies were allowed to decompose to prevent their being used as evidence. The rubble was carted off and destroyed before it could be gone over by independent investigators. The same happened at Oklahoma City. The remnant of a restorable building was demolished and that rubble too was carted off and destroyed before independent investigators could render judgment.

Now, one more piece of evidence is about to be destroyed - Timothy McVeigh himself. Christian-Patriots have been told by the best explosive experts in the country that the Federal Building had to be an inside job. This makes McVeigh a government accomplice. The government's announcement that there is to be no autopsy encourages the belief that McVeigh's supposed execution by lethal injection is a cover for his resurrection elsewhere with another identity. The fate of both Oswald and his assassin Jack Ruby does not encourage this sort of conclusion.

Killing McVeigh destroys the last bit of evidence connecting the government with the Oklahoma bombing.

LETTERS

SHOOTING: "Richard: I too have fired on service pistol teams. My experience leads me to believe that the .22 automatic is one of the best investments one can make. It is inexpensive to practice with, can get small game if need be, and can get you a larger caliber firearm if a push comes to a shove." H.F. - Arizona

EUNUCHS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Is there anything in Scripture about people fixing themselves so they can't have children?" S.F. - California

RKH: "He that is wounded in the stones, or that his privy member cut off, shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." Deut 23:1

This must mean a person having made himself a eunuch because of the Bible story of the eunuch with faith being accepted. The story from Antiquities backs this belief:

> "Let those that have made themselves eunuchs be had in detestation; and do you avoid any conversation with them who have deprived themselves of their manhood ... which God has given to men for the increase of their kind; let such be driven away, as if they had killed their children... for evident it is, that while their soul is become effeminate, they have withal transfused that effeminancy to their body also." Antiquities 4:8:38

FORNICATION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What does the Bible say about fornication?" J.S. - Ohio

RKH: "If any man that is called a brother be a fornicator ... with such a one, no, not to eat." 1 Col 5:11, (not to have social relations), Gr: 4205 - debauchee, (libertine, fornicator).

"There is no sin on earth greater than fornication, which they commit on the earth, for Israel is a nation holy unto God ... a nation of priesthood ... and no one shall appear thus unclean in the midst of the holy people." Jubilees 33:18

Observing the Law against fornication is important because - if a man takes a virgin and defiles her - it deprives another follower of the WORD of someone who could have been his wife:

> "Let the Hebrews marry... virgins... and no... harlot, whose... prostitution of her body, God will not receive... If any one has been espoused... to a virgin, and does not afterward find her so to be, let him... accuse her... if the damsel be convicted, as having been corrupted... let her be stoned, because she did not preserve her virginity till she were lawfully married; but if she were the daughter of a priest, let her be burnt alive...

"He that hath corrupted a damsel espoused to another man, in case he had her consent, let both him and her be put to death, for they are both equally guilty; the man, because he persuaded the woman willingly to submit to a most impure action, and to prefer it to lawful wedlock; the woman, because she was persuaded to yield herself to be corrupted, either for pleasure or for gain." Antiquities 4:8:23

Today, sodomites rule the government and the courts and God's Law cannot be enforced - like the Tax Law - but the day will come when God's LAW will rule. In the meantime we must teach our own that the Law requires us to closely watch our conduct in dealing with the weaker sex so that we do not rob an unknown brother of a virgin for a wife.

ANCESTORS: "Dear Richard; How can anyone with certainty know who his ancestors were." U.E. - California

RKH: No more than one knows that the actual line of his German Shepherd is actually the champion line he was told it was. Other than the Shepherd being a Shepherd - the rest is based on trust. DNA will soon put even the possibility of a doubt to rest.

GREEKS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Who are the modern day Greeks?" C.M. - Virginia

RKH: The ancient Greeks were our people - look at their statues, art and architecture. Alexander the Great conquered the world and brought its people to Greece. The Greeks married them and changed their race. Greece later became a great trading center of first the Roman and then the Eastern Roman Empire (Byzantine) causing a further intermixture of peoples. The Hun invasions depopulated the countryside which was filled later by Slavs from the plains of Russia. Next, the great Ottoman Turk invasion overlaid Greece with a layer of Turks. Today, the peoples of the Greek islands and coastal regions are mixed-race Christianized Turks. Further inland - more mixed-race Christian Slavic-Turks.

When I was a boy in Culpeper, a Saxon girl married a Greek. It was a local scandal. They moved away. In Lynchburg, most Greeks keep to themselves, worship at their own Orthodox Church, and many send their sons back to Greece for wives. It is of these the Scriptures say:

> "Neither let the son of the stranger 5236, that hath joined himself to the Lord, speak, saying, The Lord hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree. For thus saith the Lord unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant; Even unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off. Also the sons of the stranger 5236, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant; Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine house shall be called a house of prayer for all people." Isaiah 57: 3-7

The above Scripture violates the following Scriptures; making it a parable to be taken only in the spiritual sense:

> "Thou ... shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3-4; "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." De 23:2

If the above Scriptures are violated, it kicks in the next scripture:

> "Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

Marriages between Greeks and Saxons that I know of personally have been unfortunate. In one case, the husband was accused of shooting his wealthy Saxon wife and making off with much of her wealth to Greece. The Greek government refuses to turn him over to American authorities. The other married the daughter of a prominent local minister by whom he had several children. He returned to college in another town and was caught by his wife with another woman with whom he had been having a long time relationship. The marriage has since broken up but the minister in question has not invoked the following:

> "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (blessed food), But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house .... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr - "racial alien") eat thereof." Lev 22:12-13[7]

The children are aliens. Because they are the minister's grandchildren, the pastor in question accepts them as Saxons to marry with other Saxons. This triggers the Balak Plan:

7 "They have dealt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (zûwr - racial alien) children; Hosea 5:7; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3; "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24; "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51; "These 12 Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying, Go ye not into the way of the gentiles ... go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5,6

"(To) gain a victory over them (the Israelites), ... persuade them to leave off their obedience to their own laws and the word of that God who established them ... for by this means God will be angry at them (and will destroy them)." Antiquities 4:6:6-13

WHAT'S THE TIE?: "Brother Hoskins: What is the tie between episcopal Christianity and the Jews? R.T. - Ohio

RKH: Perhaps "universal religions" or "multi-nation religions" would be better: I believe that the real answer is - one acts as Tax collector, and money and business manager for the other.

ON GUARD: "Dear Brother Hoskins: I talk to black gang members every day; Crips, Bloods, Black Disciples and they tell me that they came to prison on purpose - to gain rank in their gangs. They KNOW a race war is coming and they know it will be BIG. They sit and talk to me (pretty much think I'm a cool white guy) but they hate white people and really don't know why. Be on guard." Chapter 320

LEVITES & JUDAS PRIESTS

We Are Being Attacked

Saxon nations are being destroyed before our very eyes. Who is responsible?

Using the deductive technique of the great sleuth, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, we examined suspect after suspect, finding all of them guilty to one degree or another; but each being controlled by another.

Our probing and questioning has led us back, back, and back; suspect after suspect; but the identity of the one ultimately responsible for these attacks has eluded us thus far; But the track has now gotten very warm indeed.

Suspects

The first obvious suspect we investigated was the Politician: they give the orders causing the West's grief and misery.

But, media writers are responsible for putting them in office. They tell voters whom to support, but media owners instruct the writers. Recent disclosures show that media owners are themselves mere business managers; the media itself is the property of banks. Defaults have disclosed that much of Bank ownership rests in the hands of Catholic and Protestant churches. The Churches themselves have left a trail whose beginnings lead to India. In India, from time immemorial, business interests have used ALL different religions as covers for their operations, and especially the use of the world's ultimate weapon - usury. On the one hand, Christian sects pretend to honor God's commandments outlawing usury; in actual practice they participate in the evils they so strongly protest by using Jews as front managers to take the blame.

These discoveries have led us into the oriental swamp where everyone is deceptive, everyone is directed by alien gods, everyone is suspect and united to conceal the truth from the outsider. In this morass, the track of the guilty party is lost.

Changing The Investigation's Direction

Presented with a trail that leads into the impenetrable Asian morass, we are forced to change our line of investigation and deal with this fact: If the murderer can't get to you - he can't hurt you.

This is the Watchman's responsibility to sound the alarm. We must locate the Watchman on duty and deal with him.

Investigating Watchman Priests

We have been told all our lives that Priests are the appointed watchmen who are to sound the alarm at the approach of evil. So as not to overlook a single detail, let us see what the Instruction Manual says about priests:

Two Kinds Of Priests

The Bible says that there are two kinds of "priests": those who teach the WORD, and those who HELP those who teach the WORD. At least that's how the system was set up to work in the beginning. The first are priests of the Order of Melchizedek; the second are called "Levites".

The Order Of Melchizedek

Melchizedek was Priest-King. Tradition says that he was Shem, survivor of the Flood. Halley's Bible Handbook, on Hebrews 7:1- 10, says:

> "Christ a Priest after the Order of Melchizedek. That is, Jesus was not a Levitical Priest, but his Priesthood rather was similar to that of Melchizedek, ... ante-dating the Levitical Priesthood by some 600 years: A Priest far Greater than the Levitical Priests, Greater even than Abraham."

Followers of Jesus naturally gravitate to the Melchizedek Order.

Now, let's take a look at the Levites:

Levites

Moses was given the Law. He said that he couldn't speak so Aaron helped him. Aaron was a "helper". Levi inherited the job because of his zeal in avenging the rape of his sister Dinah.[1]

The Levitical order was created to take the load off Melchesadec preachers so that they could teach God's Commandments without worrying with details:

> "And (Solomon) appointed ... the courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their charges, to praise and minister before the priests, as the duty of every day required: the porters also by their courses at every gate." 2 Chr 8:14; "On that day they appointed chief men over the storehouses for the treasures, the dedications, and the tithes, and what were collected therein for the chiefs of the cities, and assigned portions for the priests and the Levites. Neh 12:44 (Septuagint); "Jehoiada appointed... the Levites ... to offer the burnt offerings of the Lord." 2 Chr 23:18; "And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the priests and the ... Levites for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the Lord." 2 Chr 31:2; "And at that time were some appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes ... for the priests and Levites." Neh 12:44

All these were the duties of the Levites. Halley's Bible Handbook, p. 216 sums up in this manner:

> "No more need to carry the Tabernacle, now that the Temple was to be permanently located in Jerusalem, the work of the Levites was respectified. Some of them were to oversee the work of the temple. Some, to be doorkeepers. Some to be musicians; a choir of 4000. Some were to be 'officers and judges', 'for the outward business over Israel,' and 'for the affairs of the king'.

1 "Levi, I have given thee the blessings of the priesthood until I (Yahshua) come and sojourn in the midst of Israel. And the angel brought me down to the earth, and gave me a shield and a sword, and said to me: Execute vengeance on Sheckem because of Dinah, thy sister, and I will be with thee because the Lord hath sent me." (Testament of Levi, in The Lost Books of The Bible and The Forgotten Books of Eden, Chapter 1:11)

This last certainly looks as if the Levites had some work to do for the Civil Government."

Religion - A Department Of State

The Levites came into real prominence when King Hyrcanus ascended the throne. Hyrcanus, in addition to being king, was also high priest. One of the things he did as king was to invade Edom to claim the protection money that went with protecting the Spice Trade Route that passed through that land. His conquest garnered the protection money and also garnered the accursed Esau/Edomites who lived there and operated the route.

Unable to dispense with the Edomites who operated the trade route, Hyrcanus broke the Law[2] and made the Edomites "honorary Israelites" by forcing them to adopt Israelite religious rituals.[3]

God's priests were critical of this Lawless act, so, in his capacity as High Priest, King Hyrcanus elevated the Levite helper-priests into prominence so that they could bless his lawlessness. Since they were already managing the king's treasury and had no religious beliefs that really mattered, they were perfect for the job. This is how Israel's Levites became a dominant priesthood - and supporters of the king rather than the "King of kings".

2 "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." Deut 23:2; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23.32-33

3 "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6

Moses Warns

Moses foresaw such things happening. Before he died he made them do the following:

> "Moses commanded the Levites ... saying, Take this ... law and put it in the side of the ark ... that it may be there for a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion ... behold, while I am yet alive ... ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death? ... For I know that after my death ye will ... turn aside from the way which I have commanded you." Deut 31: 24-29

Halley's Hand Book, p. 217 adds the following:

> "These priests ... organized into 24 courses for service in the Sanctuary. ... had charge of the Sacrifices. Their business ceased with the coming of Christ. Ironically enough, it was 'Priests' who engineered the Crucifixion of Christ (Matt 7:1,6,20,42). The Epistle to the Hebrews was written to show that 'priests' were no longer necessary."

Who was responsible for nailing "the WORD made flesh" to the cross? According to Halley's, it was the priests![4]

This is a serious charge. Nailing GOD's LAW - "the WORD made flesh" to the cross allows men (especially kings) to commit any sin they choose and avoid condemnation. Let's see if we can find another witness who will stand up and condemn these suspects:

Jesus's Testimony

Jesus testified that "the WORD made flesh", would be delivered to the chief priest:

---

4 Halley's also says what must never be said, "'priests' were no longer necessary."

"The Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priest, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death." Mark 10:33

Let's see how they went about it. First, they interrogated Jesus, and Jesus answered:

"The kingdom of God will be taken away from you ... And when the chief priests and Pharisees[5] heard his parables, they perceived that he spoke of them," Matt 21:43- 45.

Jesus Goes After The Priests

The priesthood had a lot at stake then just as they do today. It was intolerable that there was someone exposing cartel operations and interrupting temple business that religious ritual was invented to hide:

"And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers." Matt 21:12

The recent exposure of Catholic and Protestant church ownership of usury banks confirms what people have long suspected - nothing has changed. Establishment religion is business. The "religion" part is the cover for the business part.

The Priests Go After Jesus

The Scriptures say that after Jesus overthrew the money tables the priests put their heads together and sought false

5 PHARISEES: Means "separated" or "expelled" due to an actual event - the expulsion of lay teachers from the priestly Sanhedrin (ruling body). During the Greek period, lay-teachers arose who had as much influence as the priests and they became leaders. They became the Pharisaic party and were able to force their party into the Sanhedrin. They were later expelled - hence the name Pharisees. They stood for the oral law (later compiled into today's Talmud) as well as the written. The doctrine of Jesus was directed against the extreme Pharisees whose Talmudic doctrine was open to the charge of ritual and hypocrisy. (Story in E/B, 14th Ed., Pharisees.) witnesses against "the WORD made flesh" who offended both them and their operation:

> "Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death." Matt 26:59[6]

How Priests Became "Judas Priests"

These priests hired a traitor within Jesus's little group.

> "One of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the CHIEF PRIESTS ... and THEY covenanted with him for 30 pieces of silver." Matt 26:14-15

This is where the expression "Judas priests" comes from. Nothing has changed. Moses described them. They nailed "the WORD" to the cross, and continue to do it every day without ceasing. They are truly Judas Priests. Without their silver, backing, and corrupting influence, Judas may never have summoned the nerve to commit the betrayal. The priests instigated and were intimately involved from beginning to end. Judas was their agent:

> "Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. ... And they ... led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled." Matt: 26:47
> "... The chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: And ... they ... delivered him to Pontius Pilate the (Roman) governor. ...

6 "If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him [that which is] wrong; Then both the men, between whom the controversy [is], shall stand before the LORD ... And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, [if] the witness [be] a false witness, [and] hath testified falsely against his brother; Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you." Deut 19:16-20.

"Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified ... His blood be on us, and on our children." Matt. 27:1, 22-25.

The priests took council against Jesus to put him to death! The priests were responsible! The priests and their followers together said, "His blood be on us, and on our children."

Jews - Priestly Scapegoats

Where do today's "Jews" fit in all this?

Only a Levite priest and his entourage can defend the actions of today's Jews. They are a particularly unsavory lot who can justifiably be accused of a list of crimes as long as your arm. But, one thing they did not do: They didn't crucify Jesus.

Christ-Killing Accusation

Whenever Saxons follow Moses' advice and remove a copy of the Law from the side of the ark and with it judge the priests - the accused Priests quickly switch the blame to the Khazar-Jews as being the guilty ones. They say, "The Jews crucified Jesus". "Jews own usury banks!" - "The Jews are the ones causing all the trouble!" The weasel-worded priests intend for you to believe that they are talking about the Jews who live among us today - Turkic-Khazar- Jews. The priests accuse the Jews of doing all the things that the priests themselves do.

These accusations periodically arouse the Saxon nation to violence against the Jews. When this happens the same priests who accused the Jews change their tune and step in to give the Jews sanctuary. When things cool down, the process starts all over.

What else can priests say other than to blame the Jews? Does anyone expect them to confess that the Bible condemns the "priests" as being responsible for nailing "the WORD made flesh to the cross? Not likely!

Jews are naturals to use as scapegoats for the nation's ills. But, Jews are just another alien people. They harass us just like the Egyptians, Esau/Edomites and Babylonians did before today's Khazar-Jews arrived on the scene - with this difference; the ancestors of today's Jews are of Turkic ancestry, not Israelite.[7] They converted to Judaism only in the 7th century. The ancestors of most of today's Jews never set foot in Palestine - therefore, the curse, "His blood be on us, and on our children" doesn't apply to them - their ancestors weren't there!!

I personally don't know a single Levite-priest who doesn't know this fact.[8] Most have seen proof time after time, but, if today's Khazar-Jews were not here to take the blame belonging to the Levites - the Saxon nation would turn on the priests.

The Coronation

The Coronation is another damning piece of evidence that priests will not talk about.

Both Protestant and Catholic Church leaders crown kings to rule countries. In England, priests spend half the coronation time reading the king's genealogy. The genealogy traces back generation after generation to the patriarchs of the Bible.

Why do they do this? They do this because the church is putting their guarantee to the fact that the king they are crowning is the actual blood descendant and rightful recipient of the promises made by God to the kings' ancestors and his descendants forever. These genealogies are on file in London, Rome and every other European capitol. Both Churches and courts have declared that these genealogies are true and binding under law.[9]

Thus, on the one hand the Levite-priests say that today's Turkic Khazar-Jews are "God's chosen people". On the other hand they say that the king they crowned has a proven descent from ancient Israel and that he, and the other crowned kings of Europe, are "God's chosen people".

Which statement is true? Since all Saxons, from king to peasant, are of one blood - every Saxon has the same blood lines as their kings. This makes all Saxons "chosen ones". Like their kings they are also "Israelites" and entitled to God's promises and their God is entitled to their obedience to His Commandments.

One of God's Commandments is that Saxons can't lend to Saxons at usury. However, Khazar-Jews can - if they aren't Saxons (sons- of-Isaac) and bound by God's Commandment. But, who will the Levites get to run their usury banks and their monopolistic corporations that prey on Christians if they denounce their Khazar-Jew managers?

This is why Levites viciously attack "Reform Christians" who know who their fathers are. This is why todays establishment priesthood continues to call Turkic-Khazars "Jews", a "chosen race".

Levite Priorities

I attended Sunday School a few weeks ago at a Presbyterian church in Lynchburg, seeking instruction from the WORD. The class was planning a monument in memory of a former teacher, an exceptional civic leader. I suggested that the money go instead to feed orphans at a white orphanage in South Africa because I had been told that the children were hungry. The class listened politely and then without further ado proceeded to vote to build the monument to the former teacher.[10]

Levite Punishment

Matthew Ex 23:1-35 concerns the upcoming punishment of these priests:

> "Then spake Jesus ... 'The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat ... Ex 23:1-2

They stand in front of their great man-made edifices they call "temples of God"[11] as highly paid managers and tempt passers-by saying, "Come into the temple of the Lord" and "get saved".

> "They bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne ... on men's shoulders ... Ex 23:4

---

10 "If anyone does not provide for his own, especially for those of his own house, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever." 1 Tim 5:8

11 "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" 1 Co 6:19

"Repent and be baptized! Pay your tithes and taxes and be in church every time the doors are opened."

They read Bible stories from the pulpit without identifying the Commandment of God that the story is supposed to illustrate. They perform and direct funerals, marriages, organ music, processions, singing, long prayers, choir practice, socials and taking out the garbage. That's what Levites are trained and paid to do, and they do what they do very well.

> "All their works they do for to be seen of men: they ... love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, And greetings in the markets." Ex 23:6-8

Levites love to be called Reverend - "one who is revered". They love to have distinctive collars worn backwards and to wear special cloaks, crosses, and have red and purple robes draped about them:

> Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. ... Ex 23:13

Bishop Spong

Last month, Bishop Jack Spong came to Lynchburg. He recently retired as Bishop of Newark which is 90% black. Before that (1965-1969) he had been priest of St. John's Episcopal Church here in town. During that time he organized the church's Men's Bible Class.

At the time I was traveling around speaking for a group raising money to buy Bibles to give to schoolchildren and place in motel rooms and doctors' offices. The month before I had spoken at a little church at Crabtree Falls up in the mountains of Nelson County which at one time had ministered to hundreds. By the time of the 60s, government farm policy had reduced this rural church's membership to 6. All were old.

I gave them my little canned talk, passed the plate, and raised $35. That was sacrifical giving because all of them were dirt poor.

The next month I gave the same canned talk to almost two hundred in Spong's Men's Bible class, passed the plate, and raised $35 - twenty five dollars of which came from a converted Jew. I spoke to another Episcopal Church Sunday School in Farmville which had half as many members and raised $600.

Last month, retired Bishop Spong spoke at the same Lynchburg church he had once pastored. He was an interesting study:

He wore a Gold cross, backward collar, purple vest, black coat. Brown hair parted on left, correctly cut - without a single gray hair that I could see. Since he was about my age, I was impressed.

The audience were Blacks, Jews, clerics from all over town including Baptist preachers, at least one Lutheran preacher, and - the elite of Lynchburg. Spong was nice, genteel, personable, and likable. The newspaper hyped the meeting and the church was packed.

Spong's Talk

Spong gave a good talk making four points.

1 - Race Integration was good. He related boyhood experiences that turned him into an integrationist. He told how detractors constantly used Scripture, and they were wrong.

2 - Woman's Lib was good. He related his experiences that made him a "woman's libber". He told stories about his four daughters and how they were doing men's jobs in competition with men. He told how his detractors used Scripture to prove woman's lib was divisive and wrong.

3 - Sodomy was good between "caring individuals". He said that in his diocese he had over 20 priests who served under him who were sodomites. He said that the Christian priesthood was a hot spot for sodomites (a name which he insisted on reinterperting into "gays"). He said that there were cities in his diocese which were more than 50% sodomite. He told how his detractors were wrong to use Scripture to prove sodomy wrong.

4 - The Bible was often wrong and out of date. He said that we live in a new age with a new morality based on our new discoveries of truth.

At the conclusion of his talk he was given a standing ovation by the audience of St. Johns Episcopal Church. Bishop Spong beamed, shook hands, and embraced the men and women of the congregation as they left. I left before he got to the door.

This is the Levitical-priesthood at work.

The Curse Continues

"Ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretense make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. ... Ex 23:14

Levites hold "church services". They also own usury banks that Jews run that devour widow's houses - an offense against

God and a capital crime.[12] Usury causes market booms and busts: inflations requiring much money for bread, and "busts" causing misery and depressions that require war to force people to borrow once more. Our devastated cities and piles of burned and starved bodies are the result of Levite toleration of usury and usury-bank ownership.

> "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. Matt Ex 23:15

Levites allow technological pearls to be thrown before "swine" who then borrow money from Levite owned usury banks to build planes and torpedoes that cause one Pearl Harbor after another. Levite missions throw medical pearls before swine to increase their numbers. They multiply and fill their own lands to overflowing and spill over into ours.

Practically all the leaders of swine nations were educated in Levite church schools by Levites. They have taught our pearls of wisdom to strangers which use them against us. As Scripture teaches - the converts have become twofold more children of hell than the Levites themselves.

> "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hipocites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of the righteous." Ex 23:29

Levites - Guilty Watchmen?

Have we completed our investigation? Are the Levites the guilty party that we have been searching for?

---

12 "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

They would be if God had actually chosen them. Let's recap: Would God choose a Levite for a WATCHMAN? A watchman who does not watch? A greedy watchdog who sleeps?

I don't think so. From the beginning, Moses warned us against them and Jesus himself put their condemnation in concrete. With the facts all in - does anyone really think that "the WORD would select Levite-Priests to act as watchmen over his chosen Saxon nation?

These Levite priests have not changed. They WILL NOT teach God's Commandments to their parishioners because they aren't priests - they are Levites. Levites serve today's king - not the KING of kings.

> "Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell? Ex 23:31-33

These Levites witness against themselves. When the faithful separate on feast days and gather in wilderness meeting places to study God's Law, these Levites, like the Egyptians before them, track the faithful down and post pickets to howl their "hate". They threaten camp-site owners to make them cancel meetings. This they did before to our fathers in Scotland, England, Germany and France, and they do it today.

God did not choose these "children of hell" to be WATCHMEN over anything.

God's Appointed Watchman

There is another Watchman:

> "O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel." Ezek 33:6

This watchman is a Son of Man - a son of an Adamite - a son of "He who blushes red". What other clue do we have?

> "I have set watchmen ... which shall never hold their peace." Isaiah 62:6

The true Watchman speaks God's Commandment to save God's people. He is never quiet. He knows that the WORD made flesh has said;

> "Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of Man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father." Mark 8:38

The appointed watchman never holds his peace. He obeys and teaches God's Commandments. This proves that he loves God; "If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15.

The following are some of the Commandments of which the Levites are ashamed and which the faithful shout from the housetops:

Murderers; "Ye shall take no satisfaction (substitute) for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall surely be put to death." Num 35:31

Rapists: "If a man ... force her, and lie with her: then the man only that lay with her shall die. Deut: 22:25

Kidnapers: "If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of Israel, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him: then that thief shall die." Deut 24:7 This also pertains to kidnaping and putting Saxons in prison rather than restitution or execution.

Sodomites & Whores: "There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel." Deut 23:17,

Taxes: "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-26

Kings: "And (the elders) said unto (Samuel) ... make us a king ... But the thing displeased Samuel ... And Samuel prayed unto the LORD, and the LORD said ... the people ... have rejected me, that I should not reign over them ... howbeit yet protest solemnly unto them." I Sa 8:5

Abortionists: "They sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils." Ps 106:37; "Whosoever he be of the children of Israel that giveth any of his seed unto Molech, he shall surely be put to death" Lev 20:2

Land: "The land shall be divided for an inheritance." Num 26:53- 55;

War Against Kinsmen: "Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24

Strangers In Church: "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, Num 1:51

Eating With Strangers: "The things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowhip with devils. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils." I Cor 11:20-21

Mixed Marriage: "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6

The one who loves God obeys and teaches God's Commandments.

Who Is The Last Suspect?

In this perplexing case, the usual suspects were eliminated because each appeared to be an agent of someone else. This forced us to turn our attention to the Watchman whose derelicton of duty allowed the enemy to enter.

Our investigation proved that the one we had always been told was the "Watchman" was no watchman at all - he was a cursed Levite! This discovery has left us with only one suspect remaining.

In the words of the world famous sleuth, Sherlock Holmes;

> "After all other suspects have been eliminated, the one remaining, however unlikely, is the guilty party."

The final suspect remaining is - us!

Conclusion

We are appointed "Watchman" and the condition of our Saxon nation is proof that we have failed in our appointed duty. For too long we have taken our jobs lightly. We have been confused as to the identity of the shadowy Professor Moriority. Now we know that he identifies himself when he breaks The WORD which is God. Regardless of who is, there is no one left to blame for his being here but ourselves: we are responsible for standing quiet and not sounding the alarm when he entered our house.[13]

Our inactivity gives meaning to the saying:

---

13 "If a thief be found [in secret at night] (entering the premises) and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him. If the sun be risen upon him, (don't kill him); for he should make full restitution." Ex 22:2-3

"All that is necessary for evil to succeed is for good men to do nothing."

Future HR will discuss practical ways of doing something each day to advance our Master's Kingdom. When this is done in agreement and understanding of the parables one can begin to practice that unique gift that our God has given each of us.

"Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." Matt 10:16; "I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you." Luke 10:19

When we actually begin to use our God-given talents to "obey and teach God's Commandments", the lights will start to turn on, one after another, and, as day follows night;

"Thy kingdom come - ".

Letter From South Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: The worms are crawling out of the woodwork. As we suspected, murderers are paid R2,000 for every farmer they kill.

They are given weapons, and there seems to be a vast network of both informers and information to help them. Local farm workers are paid for this work. Our help just banked R1,000 that he did not earn from us or from the place where he works in town on weekends.

I still do not know who co-ordinates these operations. The latest are the phone calls farmers receive. They are told to leave their farms or be killed. Not every farmer suffers from a lack of courage. Many tell these callers to "get lost". Still we find too many are still trusting. Having a servant in the house is often a death sentence. The servant knows family habits, where everything is kept, etc. It is also difficult for many to realize that the very blacks that they have known all of their lives will turn on them.

An old black in the bushveld talked to a white man who speaks their language. He said before the 1994 elections that trouble was coming. It has. Young blacks from Johannesburg come around and tell the locals that all the whites will be killed after the election so that they can take everything the white man has.

For the life of me I cannot understand why our people are so trusting. Their brainwashers really know their job. But, at this late hour they must take the necessary steps to safeguard themselves and their families. I know it is difficult on a farm because you live in the middle of the workers, but better be armed than dead.

Some farming communities are well organized. They inform each other when strangers appear and they send out regular patrols.

Maria had to sell her flat in a former white area which is now turning black. When the sewer system can no longer cope and the streets are dirty, it is high time to leave. Whites have to pay for blacks who refuse to pay for their own electricity, water and tax.

We got a small house in Midrand. Very neat. It belonged to a single woman and the garden is big enough for Maria's three dogs and not far from her work.

I have taken quite a liking to Maria's adopted mongrel and she loves tidbits and knows how to get them. They all dislike blacks.

It has been a cool weekend and one should have more energy, but the situation weighs one down.

Had a heated argument with a woman who feels that the black's feelings count for more than white lives. The whites who have been cruelly butchered seem to bother her not at all.

The Democratic Party asked very sarcastically before the last election if the HNP still exists. The HNP looks very alive to me. There are lots of young people who have joined recently. The DP neatly swallowed the National Party, but not all the latter's members are happy with a predominately Jewish party. Tony Leon, the Jew, and Martien van Schalkwyk were family friends, but I wonder if they still are. A Jew can be so charming.

Klaus Vaquke sent out his last Insider Newsletter. He will not publish anymore. I got Aida Parker to send her monthly letter. She mostly writes on S. Africa. Next time I will write how this woman, an apostolic church, and the White Mineworkers Union took over caring for the white orphanage children after the Daleen Joubert debacle. Thank heaven those children are being cared for.

The media daily laments about the poor black AIDS babies, but never a word about poor orphaned white children. Blacks earn on average more than Whites. It's time they look after their own.

With best wishes, H.J.

SPY PLANE

Kings justify their jobs by protecting against enemies. If enemies don't exist, the king must create them. America's old enemies, Germany and the USSR, are no more.

China, with its hordes armed with technological know-how, could become a believable enemy. However, America's law forbids technological transfers to China. If an American spy plane loaded with technology were forced to make an emergency landing in China, the Chinese would be provided with a direct technological transfusion otherwise forbidden by law.

Chapter 321

ROAD TO RICHMOND

Road Of Memories

Events are history. Most events revolve about wars and their aftermath. War winners write the history. If one does not have a reason to know better he must accept the victor's version - there is nothing else he can do. The victor's version is often twisted or downright wrong.

When a person has lived on the same land as his ancestors for ten generations, the history handed down to him is often different. He has a personal interest in it. A different history results in a different world-view. Not only is his world-view often different - it can be the correct one while the official version is not.

To many, the road to Richmond is just another Virginia two lane back-road; trees, creeks, hills, an occasional unworked farm. I know the road and have had reason to travel it countless times. It crosses battlegrounds, a scalping place, a massacre, worked out coal mines, a canal - the list goes on. It seems that every rock and hill has a story. The road is a long memory trail.

Latham's Battery

On the road to Richmond I drove past the place where the guns of Latham's Battery are buried. Along with Lynchburg's 2nd Virginia Cavalry, Captain Latham double teamed his guns and charged through the Yankee army rather than surrender with the Army of Northern Virginia.cavalry;2nd VirginiaI They paused long enough to bury their guns somewhere in a creek bed, and then they accompanied the 2nd Virginia to Lynchburg's Miller Park where they had mustered in '61. There they called the roll and disbanded. Our Lynchburg boys never did surrender.

The men of Latham's Battery were sworn to keep the secret of where the guns were buried. The secret was kept through rough interrogations by union troops and ever since. No one has ever been able to find them. There is supposed to be one man in each generation who passes the secret of where the gun's are buried to the next generation. As the story goes - on the day when Virginia once again joins her sister states to fight for their right to exist as sovereign states, the location of the guns will be revealed, the guns retrieved, and will lead the fight for freedom.

Appomattox & Saylor's Creek

Next, I drove past Appomattox where my great-grandfather, Maj. William Hoskins, Surgeon 59th Va, surrendered in '65. His name is on the rolls publicly displayed there.

A few miles further on I passed Saylor's Creek where Lee's army, on the way to Appomattox, was cut in two and where Richmond's government clerks, old men, in their first and last battle ever, gave a "rebel yell" and charged - and drove the enemy back a full mile before falling exhausted to the ground. They were all the reserves Lee had left. Their exhaustion and age prevented them continuing the fight and they were captured lying on the ground unable to rise.

The Empire

The story of the 2nd Virginia Cavalry, Latham's Battery, Saylor's Creek and Appomattox, are war stories of defeated survivors who fought against the International Trade Cartel (ITC) and lost. The death of their "sovereign state", Virginia, also marked the death of the sovereign states of their conquerors - Michigan, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, and the rest. Now there was ONE state - the Corporate State of DC. Both conquerors and conquered had been reduced to vassal states at the same time. In 1865, the "United States" ceased to exist and a new state was born - the "Unitedstate". All Americans became "subjects". But we in the South, as losers, were required to give the extra pound of flesh for having opposed the "inevitable" and lost. It was a lesson that has been repeated and repeated and repeated.

Slavery

In school I was taught that the war was fought over slavery. Since those days I have learned that my mother's family owned more than a hundred slaves and they were abolitionists. They were "Repatriation Abolitionists". They wanted to free their slaves, send them back to Africa, and replace them with White workers from Europe. So did Thomas Jefferson and almost everyone else, too. They didn't tell me about "Repatriation Abolition" in school. Knowing that, the obvious conclusion is that the war was not fought over slavery. Both contestants were against slavery.

Secession

I was also taught in school that the war was fought to "preserve the union". If that is so, was my ancestor Robert wrong to fight for Virginia to secede from the British Empire? Was it wrong for New England to threaten to secede only a few years before the war broke out?

Virginia voted against secession after Lincoln told them that he had no intention of invading the South. A week later Virginia learned that he intended to invade anyway. Virginia then voted again - this time to secede. Lincoln meant to have his war. Why?

Burning

In school I was told that the reason that Virginia was burned was because it was a military necessity. My older kinsmen told me that almost all Yankee generals actively promoted burning.

Was this a military necessity? What does burning a farm and a mill behind your own lines have to do with military necessity? Hunter burned the whole way when his army marched to Lynchburg. Sheridan burned the great Shenandoah Valley that was already his. Grant burned wherever he went. Sherman burned Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina. Missouri was burned. The entire Yankee army burned. If it was just a military necessity, only certain places of strategic value would have been burned, but the armies burned whereever they were. So. It had to be "policy". It was federal policy to burn. Why?

In the past 50 years I learned that the ITC also burned S. Africa just like they did here - except they did a more thorough job of it. The establishment armies slaughtered cattle, sheep, and chickens - not for the use of their armies - they slaughtered them and let the carcasses rot in the fields. They burned barns, houses, mills - just like here. They put women and children in concentration camps where they died like flies. They left the great South African farm system a desert. Policy?

Something else. In Germany, in addition to burning every city 50,000 and larger, 11,000,000 Saxons were driven from the great east German farming regions of E. Prussia, Silesia, Pomerania and the Sudetenland (millions died in the process) and these great farming regions were given to the Slavs. Like the South and S. Africa, the Cartel went after the farms. I found that out years after WWII. They didn't teach it in the schools. This must have been "policy" too.

"Policy" of this kind leads to something - where was it leading. What was its objective?

The War Between The States

The Establishment's educational system told me that the War Between the States was fought to preserve the union and free the slaves. They didn't tell me that the war was only a 1st step on the road to somewhere else.

The obvious difference was that - when I drove by 50 years ago there were farms everywhere. Now, I saw only half a dozen working farms in the entire 120 miles to Richmond. The farms that had been burned in the war, revived briefly afterwards, now appeared to be gone for good. What did it mean?

The City

Richmond lay in the distance. Before the War Lynchburg was 18,000, Richmond was 28,000, and the great seaport of Norfolk was 38,000. Now, Richmond was gigantic. Where had all the people come from?

The answer was obvious - I saw almost no one on the road to Richmond and Richmond was full. These tightly packed Richmonders must have come from the deserted surrounding countryside. The land was empty - the city was full. Farmers were now city dwellers. I never understood that before. Another moment's reflection supplied the reason.

The War Between the States freed the slaves which removed the farm workers. Freeing the slaves without compensating their owners prevented the farm owners from being able to hire White workers from Europe as planned. The Establishment's radical abolition without compensation destroyed the Southland's farm system.

However, the people still lived on the land. Families boomed. My great-grandfather who fought in the war had 12 children; my grandfather had 6; My father had 4; I have 6, the most any of my children have is 2. What changed?

The short-lived revival of the small Virginia farm after the war ended when the ITC food-monopoly dumped foreign produce on Virginia's farm market below the price our Saxon farmers could raise their own. Broke farmers had to go to the city and work for the cartel to feed their families.

I saw few working farms in 120 miles to Richmond. It looked like Scotland when I was there in 1982. Most working farms are gone. The same is true with our Saxon kinsmen in Europe and S. Africa. The number of children has dropped below 2 per family.

Byrd Park & Indians

I took the old short cut through Manchester (now South Richmond), and crossed the James River on the Toll Bridge into Byrd Park. Since I last drove that way the toll had increased from 5¢ to 25¢.

At the bridge, the James River rushed over rocks. You can take ships from the Atlantic all the way up the James to Richmond, but the rocks, the "fall line of the James", stop the ships there. In 1676, my ancestor Thomas fought with Bacon against the murdering Indians.

This fight ruined the royal governor's Indian trade monopoly and started an Indian War. The governor used this as an excuse to confiscate the farms of Bacon's followers. This left my family penniless. Here's the background:

1622 - The Indians staged a surprise Good Friday massacre and killed 350 settlers around Jamestown and all of the Henrico Plantation - 1/3 of the entire population.

1644 - Indians attacked Virginia colonists in a Holy Thursday massacre and killed more than 500 settlers along this same "fall line".

1676 - at this same "fall line" Nathaniel Bacon led militiamen, including my ancestor, against the Indians to avenge the Indian depredations. The Crown called "self-defense" a rebellion and used the defeat of Bacon's Rebellion as its opportunity to confiscate most of Virginia's self-sufficient farms. I suppose the reader notices that we are back talking about farms again.

Habitat

What is this thing that the cartel has against farms? What is so important about Virginia's self-sufficient farms that every Cartel government wants to destroy them? If one thinks about it long enough the answer jumps out at him: The self-sufficient farm is the natural habitat of the Saxon. On his own farm the Saxon is both a king and a priest. Poor or rich he is his own man. He is an optimist in his thinking. He has lots of children. Off his farm he is just a vassal of someone else.

The cartel, to de-throne the Saxon, has burned and starved him out of his natural habitat, and driven him into the city where he now resides. He is closely supervised by a cartel king and his army as he works as a vassal for another. The Saxon has been driven from his natural habitat.

Belle Island

Down the James a little way almost in sight of the Toll Bridge is Belle Island. There, my great grandfather, Granville Kelly, saved a union prisoner who had saved his family from starving. The story is in Vigilantes.[1]

Byrd Park

In moving to the city the Saxon made the city as much like the rural life as he could. Parks were one of his proud creations.

In Byrd Park, I saw the same giant oaks where half a century ago I fenced a young German airman early Sunday mornings.[2] I especially remember the mist that was low on the ground. Except for ghosts and early risers, Richmond still slept. The young airman was a good fencer. He had a way of strapping his épee to his wrist that I had never seen anyone do before.

He told me that his brother had starved to death after WWII when the Germany's eastern farmlands had been taken and the Americans prohibited food from being sent to Germany. He didn't hold it against me because I was an American. I told him about our own experiences as a conquered people.

Convoy

Once I was traveling in a convoy enroute to Indiantown Gap Military Reservation. I was with the Richmond Light Infantry Blues of Virginia's National Guard. Our truck ran low on gas in Pennsylvania and we dropped out of convoy to buy gas at a local filling station. They wouldn't sell to us because we were Southern "rebels". The media had done a good job demonizing us.

Work

In the early 50s, New York Life asked me to come to New York City for a job interview. I went, but they didn't hire me in spite of being better qualified than all the others who applied. I later learned that the reason was that I was a "Southerner".

Trade

When I was young it cost more to ship goods by rail from Richmond to New York than from New York to Richmond.

Debt

It was 1956 before Virginia paid off the last of the Reconstruction Debt incurred by the occupation government - more than three quarters of a century after the War.

School

As a student, young freshly indoctrinated teachers from state colleges wanted me to change my Virginia accent and talk the way they had learned to talk in school. "We don't speak that way". About the only times I ever whipped my children was when they came home from school after some teacher had tried to "reconstruct" them so they wouldn't speak like Robert E. Lee and George Washington.[3]

Ducks

In those days, Richmonders strolled safely in Byrd Park. They fed ducks and geese that crowded Byrd Lake.

The alien Establishment had begun to lock a draconian rule on Saxon Virginia. It decreed that we treat his Blacks as the Cartel once decreed that we treat his Indians in the years

3 My wife says that this is "A baldfaced lie!" She says that I whipped the children for lying, fighting, coming home late, not doing their chores, smoking, drinking, attitude, and everything else that children need whippings for. I note that they are whipping their children for the same things I whipped the before - regardless of their robbing, raping, murdering Saxons.

He appointed judges and stationed his police to enforce his decrees. Thus protected, the Blacks swarmed in armed with fishing poles and cast lines over the backs of the ducks and geese, hooked them, reeled them in and wrung their necks. The birds are gone and now they hunt us, our women and children at night - in the parks, parking lots and neighborhoods that we built. Today, people seldom walk in Byrd Park. Neighborhoods shut down after dark. To most - Richmond is under seige, and the Reconstruction occupation forces still watch to detect the least sign of rebellion.

The CITY belongs to the alien. I didn't learn that in school, but, I've got eyes to see what's going on. The city is where the alien feeds and houses his slaves who work the alien's economic system.

Checking In

I drove down streets lined with familiar tree shaded row houses, and checked in at the Holiday Inn. The colored desk clerk was soft-spoken and polite. The people I met were gracious and nice. I crossed the street to one of Richmond's neighborhood restaurants to get a bite to eat.

The restaurant I chose was close to the neighborhood restaurant I frequented 50 years ago before holding local Defenders meetings. In the restaurant, I sat close to a group of young men and women in their thirties and early forties. They were eating sandwiches, drinking beer and discussing politics - just like we did 50 years ago. I overheard snatches of conversation - they were using the same words and catchphrases to describe today's conditions that we used back then.

They were part of the group I had come to Richmond to meet.

The Meeting

The meeting room was full of flags - British, the cross of St. George, the Southern Cross of St. Andrew. It made a brave display.

Three of us sat at the speakers' table. Between 60 and 100 people were present. That was the size crowds the Defenders initially attracted for neighborhood meetings. Later, thousands attended and only school auditoriums were large enough to hold them.

The master of ceremonies was a tall, nice looking, well spoken young man with good stage presence. His name was Ron Doggett, chairman of Richmond's No Fear - "National Organization for European-American Rights", the Richmond chapter of David Duke's political party.

The Governor's Proclamation

Doggett read Governor Gilmore's proclamation commemorating May as the month that Virginians were to celebrate the accomplishments of their Saxon American ancestors. With the permission of the governor's office, he had announced the governor's proclamation to the media that very morning.

This evening, a few hours later, this same Governor Gilmore rescinded his proclamation. Someone on his staff objected to Virginians studying the accomplishments of their European American ancestors. His excuse was that if David Duke had anything to do with it, it must be bad.

This latest flip-flop was not surprising. This same Establishment governor had earlier opposed license plates for the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and setting aside a day commemorading the "Heroes of the Army of Northern Virginia".

Traitors

I remembered back 50 years to when Governor J. Lindsey Almond was our king. He was also a traitor to his nation and his God. ! 4 ▒ He had run for election on a platform supporting Senator Byrd's Massive Resistance. Virginia gave him a lopsided, landslide victory. Virginia had raised the battle flag. Almond was our Patrick Henry and George Washington rolled into one.

The citizen soldiers of Virginia's National Guard, the sons of farmers now living in the city, stood ready to take to the field to enforce Virginia's right to govern herself and maintain her territorial integrity, if need be. North Carolina and Tennessee were on alert.

The day arrived. Washington sent marshals in to take control of Virginia's schools. In Richmond, I was one of the National Guard officers waiting to be called up. Some stood outside the Blues Armory in the morning dark waiting for the custodian to arrive with the keys so they could draw equipment.

The sun rose. Richmond was at a standstill. People spoke to each other with lowered voices. People waited for Govornor Almond's anouncement. The minutes stretched into hours. Nothing. There were rumors about "negotiations".

4 A nation is a race, a country is a taxable entity containing one or more nations.

There were no negotiations in progress. They were only rumors! Virginia's governor had betrayed his people and betrayed his God. His 30 pieces of silver was nothing more than an appointment as a Federal Judge.[5]

Almond's treason destroyed what was left of the States Rights of every state in the union. It made the nation's public schools the disaster they are today. The integration it promoted encouraged thousands to mate with aliens. As prophesied, integration has led to miscegenation.[6] A mixed-breed is barred from the nation of Israel.[7] What was his price? A judgeship! A judgeship! If we had suspected that he was the kind that could be bought for only a federal judgeship, we could have raised the ante; we could have made him a judge for life of Virginia's Hog Shows at double the Establishment salary. Almond came cheap.

Complicity

At the time, the "Massive Resistance" of Virginia's Senator Byrd's was the most talked about thing in the country. It had become a "states-rights" issue North and South. Virginia was issuing tracts on "Interposition"[8] and sending them all over the country. It gave the busy appearance of activity that produced no results. What did Senator Byrd do about Al-

5 "Cowards who turn back from following me, and the corrupt, and murderers, and the immoral ... and all liars - their doom is in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur. This is the second death." Rev 21:8

6 "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "Thou ... shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4

7 "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." De 23:2

8 Interpositon: The interposing of state authority between a tyrannical federal government and the oppressed people of a state.

mond's treason? At the very least he could have spearheaded an Almond "recall" - but Byrd did nothing.

Caste System

Fifty years ago we didn't know about the ITC's caste system. We didn't know that ALL kings are hired by and work for the same master. They ALL conspire together. All of them are in on it. ALL of them. They were earlier versions of S. Africa's DeKlerk, Rhodesia's Ian Smith, Germany's Willie Brandt. ALL took the Cartel's 30 pieces of silver. They were all traitors. ALL of them! We didn't know it.

Senator Byrd began his career "poor but honest". Virginia's courthouse books and state office books stood open for inspection by anyone walking in off the street. The Byrd Machine was held up all over the country as an example of honest politics. When he died, "poor but honest" Harry Byrd owned a newspaper, extensive apple orchards, and millions in stocks - all on a politician's salary.

I thought about all this as I got dressed this morning. I put on my shirt made in Korea, my pants made in Nicaragua, my T-shirt made in China. And, I thought of Lynchburg's idle textile mills on Cotton Hill, and my ancestors' farms now owned by strangers' corporations. Then I remembered Virginia's politicians who go to DC penniless and return millionaires.

What is there to wonder about? The establishment's three castes - 1) Priests, 2) King & Army, and 3) Money Managers - belong to the cartel. They are bought and paid for. You don't go to them to help you out of your troubles. They are part of the problem. They lick the hand that feeds then and think that there is no God in heaven and tomorrow will never come. They really believe that God's Law will never judge them.

We didn't know all this back then.

MY TALK

(1) My Credentuals:

When speaking I always state the following:

> "In the beginning was the WORD, and the WORD was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14

I always try to tell our part in the Great Crusade:

> "I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him ... doth judge and make war ... and his name is called The WORD of God." Rev 19:11-13.

God is the WORD. The White Horse is the ancient sign of the Saxon - on shield, flag, and arms. The Saxon bears the WORD. That's what we were put here on earth to do. That's why God the WORD made us in his image. He chose us.[9] Our job is the most important job in the world.

Zeal

The Saxon's spirit must at least equal the zeal of other nations. The zeal of an Arab boy for Allah causes him to strap dynamite to himself and walk into the midst of his enemies; the Zionist's zeal, knowing he will be killed, makes him go to the Temple Mount to attack his enemies. His mother's zeal, learning of his death, makes her say that she is proud to have a son who will give his life fighting her nation's enemies.

9 "The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6; "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you, and ordained you." John 15:16.

There is the zeal of the young Kamakazie pilot who crashes his plane into the enemies of his god-emperor; and the zeal of our own Crusader knight who stood in the middle of the road and dared the Saracen army to try to pass him. There is the zeal of the follower of the WORD who refused to recant and was condemned to be burned by Levite priests who proclaimed that they were acting for God.

When our zeal is as great as this - victory will come. Such zeal can only come from devotion and obedience to the WORD which is our God.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13; "If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15

Nick Griffin

Nick Griffin spoke. He is the national chairman of the British National Party, from Wales. Both he and his charming wife flew over for the meeting.

He told about what is going on in Oldham, England, which is much in the news right now. Aliens are pouring in from all over. In 1950, there were less than 10,000 aliens in the whole island. Now, the cities and towns swarm with them. Saxons are being laid off from their jobs, and in his hometown, Oldham, where in 1950 there were as many factories as days in a year - there is but one factory left. The rest have been shut down or moved overseas. Oldham's alien population has grown to 20% of the total and they are belligerent.

Their latest is to hunt whites with machetes and chop them up. In Britain, the media conceals alien crime and profiles innocent whites - just like they do here. British political parties, both Conservative and Labor are corrupt, and take the part of the alien against the Saxon.

Critique

British patriots have something going for them that we don't - what appears to be a viable political party. The percentage of votes captured by the BNP grows with each election. Each alien atrocity translates into votes at the polls. The worse the atrocity - the better the BNP returns.

Nick Griffin sees, and I believe correctly, that the people have no where else to go - that nationalism is the future wave and the BNP will be a factor to deal with in the future.

I was impressed with the energy and spirit of the leaders of The Friends Of The BNP and their sponsoring and supporting organizations.

The BNC has identified the political and social issue of the day, immigration, and are translating this issue into votes. Saxons respond to it in Britain and America and whereever it becomes an issue.[10] This same problem exists among Saxon peoples in France, Austria, Germany, America, Scandinavia and Australia.

The people at the meeting were intelligent. They all seem to know the current political buzz-phrases one uses to reach others. The Friends of the BNP are presently collecting members, but have little organization thus far.

God Wills It

Their weakness appears to be that attendees are not yet being given the message - "God Wills". It's probably because they are still a young organization, but America's Founding Fathers didn't neglect this. Americans still remember that they said:

> "The people know it is impossible to rightly govern without God and the Bible." George Washington

10 On May 2, 2001, p. 5, the Financial Times reported the United Nations appeal (order) to the British Labor Party and their opposition Conservatives not to make immigration an election issue. It has been reported since then that ALL Members of Parliament, but one, agreed. Immigration is the most controversial issue to face Britain in decades. Politicans can be elected or thrown out of office based on their stand. Their almost unamimous obedience to the UN confirms their being Cartel agents.

"Our Constitution was made only for a religious and moral people; it is wholly inadequate for the government of any other." John Adams

"Resistance to tyranny is service to God." Thomas Jefferson

"We have staked the whole future of American civilization upon the capacity to sustain ourselves according to the Ten Commandments of God." James Madison

"The Bible is the rock on which this Republic rests." Andrew Jackson

To be successful long term among a people whose WORD states that they are made in the image of this self-same WORD - it is essential to proclaim that God blesses the work it is doing. Without the blessing the necessary zeal will never be attained.

Admittedly, it is a hard thing to do while organizing, collecting money, paying bills and trying to counter the constant attacks of the enemy, but it must be done. Failure to do so means that it becomes only a question of time before setbacks and discouragement will take their toll and the local branches will begin to chase deer instead of staying after the fox. It's different when "God wills it!" Our people must be kept after the goal which in plain English is - "Thy will be done - on Earth!"

I've Got Good News For YOU!

Someone must be chosen to be the "watchman" - to make sure that heresy doesn't creep in to destroy the Saxon's sleeping nationalism. It must be someone who studies, worries, and anguishes over his people. It must be someone who is the grain of salt that the WORD says is sufficient to salt the whole loaf. It surely isn't the Levites - It's YOU!

Who else is there who can't stand the lawlessness of the Cartel's establishment church? Who else besides you asks the Levites embarrassing questions? Who else lives near you who knows as much of God's WORD as you do? Who else will travel halfway across a continent just to meet with his peers and discuss this and that from the WORD? Just you.

God has isolated you for years from others so that you can properly learn your craft. You don't think you have, you never will, but you have. You are what the WORD has trained you to be. Now, how does one get started?

Getting Started

We start by making ourselves available. Our job is not to convert the world, merely to keep those who are doing something on course.

We start attending meetings. The best meetings to attend will be those of nationalist political parties. These people want to do something and do it NOW. If there is no nationalistic political party available, pick some local organization - it really doesn't make that much difference what kind; PTA, DAR, SAR, DOC, or Sons of Confederate Veterans, your own local fraternal or religious group, or your local flower lovers group; even as a very last resort - Republican or Democratic party meetings - any organization. All organizations have power. It's seldom used because they don't use it, but organizations have it. Start attending - in time you will be able to influence your group so that their power can be used for good.

As an example, I attended a reunion of Air Force Class 52C. We trained together to be pilots during the Korean War.

There was a banquet. I suggested that someone say the blessing. Guess who the chairman asked to say it? Me! The chap who suggests the chore gets the job! For all intents and purposes I was the unofficial chaplain of that meeting. The possibilities are endless and enormous.

No two cases are the same. God has trained you for a long time for today. You are not just another joiner. You are so rare that its hard to find one like you living near you. It would be a shame if you let this expertise go to waste. Join a group, or start attending a group you already belong to. Make the supreme sacrifice and even begin attending Sunday School.

Once there - volunteer. You will quickly be picked to be an official doing something unpleasant. Our people don't like things like that. They prefer to let "John" or "Pete" do it. Well now, you are henceforth "John" or "Peter". God picked you. Let's get with it. He who does the organizational dirty work earns the right to be heard.

If the organization or its members are doing something right - show those interested from the WORD where God approves of what they are doing. Everyone likes to be backed up by GOD. If the group or the individual violates the WORD, show them the Scripture to put them back on the right path. Then, sit down and let the Lord take over. Don't worry if they don't follow your suggestion. Don't nag. Let the matter drop. The grain of salt has been placed. The others Saxons in the organizaton are made in the image of the same God that made you. Trust God. He will do the rest.

We've got more than enough people for the job. God has trained us for this day. Let's get off our duffs, get to work, and let the Crusade begin.

"When thou are in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to God and shall be obedient ... he will not forsake thee ... nor forget the covenant of thy fathers." Deut 4:30-31

It's time.

==========

CONFEDERATE FLAG

The overwhelming majority of the people of Mississippi voted to keep their state flag containing the Cross of St. Andrew. This is the state where the Establishment's legislature was in favor of doing away with the same flag. This verifies, once again, that Cartel politicians are media-elected and owe the people nothing.

Timothy McVeigh

An interesting phone call came in last week. The caller told me that a survivor of the Oklahoma City bombing said that she was trapped in the rubble of the Murrow Building. Rescue efforts had started when they were suddenly halted for over 4 hours. The four hours were used to fill bomb craters in the basement of the Murrow Building with concrete. This accomplished, rescue efforts began again.

The woman was said to have lawyer and was planning to file a restraining order to "prevent the government from destroying evidence", namely "Timothy McVeigh". She said that she repeatedly tried to present her evidence to the FBI to no avail.

The day after I was told this story the newspapers announced that the FBI had located 3000 pages of evidence that had not been turned over to defense lawyers. The Justice Department stepped in with its own restraining order. Their new investigation puts the FBI back in control of the prisoner and prevents the unauthorized questioning of Timothy McVeigh.

The Cartel media helped the government get away with its hamhanded way of disposing of uninvestigated Waco and Murrow Building ruins. One individual like McVeigh should present no special problem that a little spin can't correct.

Chapter 322

IMMIGRATION
The Right Issue

Immigration

The right political issue is "immigration".

Using this issue, the British National Party in Great Britain made great strides in this last election. They got more votes than ever before and in certain areas they eclipsed old line parties who had obeyed the UN suggestion that they "down-play" the spreading European immigration troubles.

The same thing has happened in France and Australia. The right- wing parties which used this issue are becoming powers to reckon with. In the Netherlands, Belgium, Norway and Sweden the same thing is happening. The immigration problem can no longer be hidden. Immigrants equal job loss, crime, disease, and racial strife. The way to get rid of the problem is to vote for those who promise to get rid of the problem.

How logical can one get?

Friends Of The BNP

Last month I drove to Richmond to speak at a meeting put on by Friends Of The British National Party. Representatives of many different fraternal, political and historical organizations were present. These people's only common interest was their opposition to immigration. Political differences and agendas were forgotten in face of the overriding immigration issue, which the main speaker, the Chairman of the British National Party, discussed at length.

There was common agreement that the preservation of the nation's schools, history, tradition, race, religion, and everything else is impossible if the nation is submerged in a sea of color.

The 1930s

In the 1930s, the corporations were in the driver's seat and ran roughshod over the working man. This result came from the unfortunate conclusion of the "War of '61".

New corporate land companies bought up the war-ruined farms for practically nothing. As time went on other farms were put out of business when the International Trade Cartel sold foreign-grown commodities here at prices below that which our own farmers could produce them.

Survivors struggled under conditions that were a national disgrace. Cardboard-lined shoes in a "Tobacco Road" countryside were a reality. I went to school with these children.

As time went on, most formerly independent farmers gave up and migrated to cities to beg jobs in factories to keep their families from starving. The factory owners built shacks on "cotton hills" for them to live in. Company stores sold them necessities. Southern cities filled with farmer refugees and mushroomed overnight.

Transition Problems - Government

The ITC created a Corporate State to rule the conquered South. This basic Corporate State was composed of a ruling caste consisting of 1: Priesthood, 2: King & Army, and 3: Great Merchants. The ruling caste's job is to manage caste #4, the Workers. It takes time to build the system.

Members of the three ruling castes are permitted to rule as long as they are PC. If they are not PC they lose their ruling caste privileges and are relegated to the worker caste.

The Cartel Media's job is to make the workers think that their ruling castes really represent their interests instead of ITC interests.

In time, the Saxon discovered that his struggle to get ahead in the Corporate State is forever sidetracked. Others are promoted over him. Taxes, affirmative action, block busting, and wars force him to borrow in spite of his reluctance to go into debt. The Merchant sells him alien-made-goods, and interest payments keep him in bondage. The Saxon grows restless.

The Priestly caste earns its pay by keeping the Saxon content. Prison slavery[1] is introduced for those who refuse to be ministered to by the the King and his Army. It's a symbiotic relationship. It's their job.

1 "The children of Israel are men, and your brothers; you shall not reduce them to slavery." Leviticus 25:46

To contain discontent, it is customary for the ruling caste to have one of their own pretend to be a rebel and pretend to lead a political revolt. He then leads "patriots" in circles chasing their tails. When the election chase is over and the rebels have expended their energy, money, and enthusiasism and have become thoroughly disillusioned by their countless well-advertised defeats, they are then sent home to go quietly back to work for the cartel for another ten years. "Bitter-enders" are rounded up to join their soul-mates from the prior decade's harvest.

Transition Problems - Services

When the victorious Corporate System was installed in place of the traditional Self-Sufficient-Farm System (SSFS), problems arose immediately. Things the SSF System had done for its people now were thrown into the lap of the yet unorganized Corporate System.

In the farm system, the destitute, those too old to work, or handicapped were looked after by family or neighbors. Crime suppression was everyone's responsibility and defense was handled by the militia.

Now, everyone was forced to look to the all-powerful Corporate State to provide essential services. The state, wasn't ready, and couldn't. AND, the corporations went so far as to say that they "didn't care!" The result was that in the 1930s America was filled with a people having nothing to lose who were either in revolt or verging on revolt.

The "Kingfish"

Into this cauldron of seething discontent appeared Huey Long, the "Kingfish". Long identified the rich, bloated, irresponsible "corporation" as the trouble, and his solution was to, "tax 'em and spread the wealth." He put together a political platform promising a "new deal" - "A chicken in every pot and a car in every garage", plus, a Social Security system to care for destitute people in their old age, and "make work" government programs to help the unemployed. Corporation wealth and the wealth of America's "rich-rich" were to pay for it all.

To implement these ideas, he put together a smooth operating political party that first made him governor of Louisiana and then senator.

Huey Long's fame spread to the rest of a destitute America in spite of the media blackout. He rode a groundswell of public support. Hands down - his next stop would be the White House!

The Huey Long phenomenon threatened to pre-empt the ITC's American Corporate System and place it under Saxon Management. This was intolerable. Huey Long was assassinated by an alien.

The Long Machine To The Rescue

The Long political machine still existed. It stood ready to replace its leader and continue the path to the White House with someone else. But - something went wrong! The political party stood stranded like an automobile out of gas.

The New Deal

The thing that went wrong was Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Huey Long's arch rival. Roosevelt adopted Huey Long's popular political platform almost in its entirety. He even called it the New Deal. Using Huey's platform he rode it into the White House. Huey Long's powerful political machine had no fuel - it had been pre- empted and withered on the vine. Its life's blood - its platform - had been stolen by evil men. WWII and today's colored invasion is the result. It's not the only time this has happened.

Clinton - Newt Gingrich

Clinton was president. The leader of the opposition was a silver- tongued Republican liberal posing as a conservative named Gingrich. He clearly enunciated the Republican platform and the people bought it. It was far better than the Democrat's platform. Clinton, the Democrat, adopted the Republican platform. This left the Republicans high and dry with little to criticize. Clinton stole their platform and gained a 2nd term - to the detriment of the entire country.

Dealing With The Immigration Issue

Today's primary unspoken issue is "immigration". The Friends of the BNP with its affiliates, and nationalists the world over have raised the issue.

Logic says that if America's establishment political parties don't deal with this issue they will in time be washed away in a Saxon voter revolt.

The cartel is not stupid. If it appears that the immigrant issue will cause them to be washed away - they will do what Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Bill Clinton did - steal the anti- immigration platform as their own. If they do this, the American patriots will be left at the starting gate just as before. All dressed up and no place to go.

Different Strokes

Ever wonder why when merchants talk "religion" to win customers it's always warm fuzzy stuff - never the WORD - the Laws, Statutes and Judgments?

Ever wonder why it is that when most priests talk "religion" to win customers it's always warm fuzzy stuff - never the WORD - the Laws, Statues and Judgments?

Ever wonder why it is that when Kings talk "religion" to win votes it's always warm fuzzy stuff - never the WORD - the Laws, Statues and Judgments?

Can this be an accident?

No indeed. These people know exactly what they are doing. They pretend to follow God and his Commandments when what they really want is to keep doing what they are doing and at the same time gain the support of the faithful.

Religion - Two Kinds

This is how they do it. They say that they are saved by "grace" and infer that "God's Commandments" are done away.[2]

Of course, they don't say "God's Commandments", but that's what they mean. Instead, they say that the "law" is done away. Calvin and the reformers agreed that the Bible means that the ritual law of the Levites is done away by the sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross. But the Levites and their converts

2 Who hath saved us ... not according to our works, but according to ... grace." 2 Ti:1:9; "Not of works lest any man should boast." Eph 2:9

don't say that. They say that the LAW is done away! They want you to believe that this verse means that God's Commandments are no more. They have been done away![3] This means that the "child of hell" is free to do anything.[4]

Using the excuse that God's Commandments are done away, "Christian" churches lend at usury, sodomite priests are OK, strangers are permitted to enter the congregation of Israel, and heathen can freely do the things that God's Commandments forbid.

The following has been swept behind a curtain:

> "Fear God, and keep his Commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccl 12:13

This is why the Priest, King, and Merchant never quote God's Commandments in their "Warm and Fuzzy" pitch for your tithe, vote, and trade. It would recognize God's Commandments as the ultimate authority.

What Would Happen If...

If the Priest, King, or Merchant based his pitch for your support on God's Commandments - naming chapter and verse - it would be understood by the Saxon nation that the speaker has placed his subject under the authority of God's Commandments and expects to be judged by them. To be judged by the WORD is heavy. It gets heavier.

The Levites MUST always say that God's Commandments are done away to deflect the blame for the world's ills from themselves. They read Scripture and know the curse

---

3 "Faith without works is dead." James 2:20; "By works a man is justified, and not by faith only." James 2:24;

4 "Ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves." Matt 23:15 placed on them by the WORD.[5] They also know what could happen to them if the Saxon, the apple of God's eye, obeys the WORD and turns his eye on them. It is written:

Priests

"If we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Heb 10:26; "Draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon ... and the Lord said ... Go ye ... and smite: ... and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house." Ezec 9:1-6

Kings

"Babylon ... the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her." Rev 18:2-3"; I beheld the angels of punishment ... Then I inquired of the angel of peace, who proceeded with me for whom those instruments were preparing. He said: These are preparing for the kings and powerful ones of the earth, that by this shall they perish. ... I beheld a deep valley burning with fire. To this valley they brought monarchs and the mighty." I Enoch 52:3-5, 53:1-2.

Merchants

"A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong." Ecclesiasticus 26:29; "Babylon ... the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies." Rev 18:2-3 5 He that committeth sin is of the devil." 1Jo3:8; "And the dead were judged ... according to their works." Re 20:13

Babylon

"Reward her even as she rewarded you ... and double unto her double according to her works." Rev 18:6

If the establishment ever admits that God's Commandments are the ultimate authority, they will be judged by that authority. Therefore:

A Lock On The Immigration Issue

A lock can be placed on the "Immigration Issue. The immigration issue has already succeeded where it has been used and reason leads us to believe that it will continue to do so because the immigration problem shows no indication of going away.

Since an ultimate success will bring new leaders to Saxondom and will de-throne the Establishment, the Establishment will attempt to prevent this. First, they will attempt to bribe the anti- immigration leaders. Failing this, they will try to pre-empt the anti-immigration issue. Roosevelt and Clinton did this sort of thing in the past. In short, to maintain control, the Establishment may be forced to sacrifice the immigrants in our midst to ensure their own survival.

To prevent their regaining control - Saxon nationalist leaders should, right now, establish a clear distinction between themselves and their opponents. Their position should be that they are against alien immigration because God's Commandments forbid it, AND, because of the damage they do to Western civilization.

> "I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shall make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

The Establishment can't say this. If they acknowledge the supremacy of this Law, they will have to acknowledge the supremacy of the rest of God's Commandments - which would mean the downfall of Babylon. The Establishment is Babylon. It is not likely to commit suicide. They can't appeal to God's Commandments.

If we take a position forcing him to fight, not only us, but God - that's a battle he can't win. Why? Because Saxon voters are made in the image of God the WORD. Because of this, they sense truth when it is given them. They will choose GOD. Make your enemy attack you and God!

Let the world know that you are fighting the alien invasion because "God wills it!"

Enemy Reaction

Babylon's priests, kings and merchants will attack you. That's what they are paid to do. But, in attacking you they attack God who made the Law. This will force the Saxon to choose between Babylon and their own God the WORD.

If Babylon is forced to adopt your anti-immigration platform - all you need do to continue in God's graces is to publicly announce support for another of God's Commandments. How about the the one dealing with the great corporations who own all the land:

"The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55

> "The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

Why, this is the rebirth of the Self Sufficient Farm System so feared by Babylon.

The list goes on an on. It's not necessary to enumerate all of them at one time. Just establish that YOU obey God and your enemy is anti-Christ because he will not obey God's Commandment, and name chapter and verse.

Saxons will gravitate to those who raise the banner. They will fight your cause for you - if you've got the guts to take the stand.

Conclusion

Taking your stand on God the WORD and asking his people to support you because of it will bring victory. Your enemy cannot do this because if he once supports God the WORD it bring the rest of God's Commandments down on his head which will destroy him. His reluctance triggers the following:

> "Whoso despiseth the WORD shall be destroyed." Pr 13:13

Your stand burns your bridges and triggers the above curse on Babylon. For you, there is no going back. For your enemy, he is forced to fight both you and your God. Saxon voters will not fight God the WORD in whose image they are made.

If you burn your bridges and fight God's battle, victory is sure:

> "When thou are in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to God and shall be obedient ... he will not forsake thee ... nor forget the covenant of thy fathers" Deut 4:30-31

"I will send my WORD and save thee and thy seed." II Adam & Eve 12:6, Lost Books

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins,

We had some late rains clearing the air and leaving everything fresh. The frost just started but it would seem that even the plants are not sure with mulberries turning red. I have no idea when we will get down to burning the firebreaks.

We enjoyed the Hoskins Report on the Slavs. It is so handy to have the information handy when someone repeats media nonsense. Whenever we open a newspaper they have bombed yet another civilian target. It is truly a shameful mess that should never have been started and the media lies by those involved make it worse.

We had the honour of another BBC video on police brutality involving only white policemen, but it boomeranged. Many whites are so fed up with all the murders, rapes and crime that they took the accused police's side. Now the media in England have been showing lying propaganda for more than a century and still the hatred continues. Most other countries concentrate on their own problems, but not England. I still have not found a complete answer to the reason why they hate us so much.

They, among others, are actively stirring up black hatred towards whites, as can be seen in light of the police disaster when only blacks will be in charge with no hope of justice for whites (see enclosed article). Like Honis wife is doing to Clive Derby Lewis and Walus. Apparently this old girl is enriching herself with millions, building a mansion in Sandton etc. and she is one among many. No wonder Mandela felt he would joke about whites begging at street corners, simply because their jobs were taken by blacks even if they are unproductive thieves. As it is, many whites work hard long hours to keep the country from falling apart, but the black appointed in their position has lots of time for his own business. Some say this is a big mistake to keep things going, but then the white has to eat and live even if he is demoted. There is simply no easy answer.

Both Nelson and Winnie state in public that the ANC will rule forever. That was after the discussion of Siener van Rensburg book translated into English which I think rattled them quite a bit. A few so-called professors from the liberal Stellenbosch University trotted Nostradamus out, but I doubt if they will get far.

As you can see, AIDS in Kwa-Zulu Natal is bad, with more deaths than births now. Blacks still do not understand how it is spread, and I doubt if they ever will.

The general election will turn out to be the same mess it was last time. Thousands of blacks not registered are going to turn up. The DRC preachers offered to do free duty to see that everything proceeds orderly. Tony Leon brags openly that he can fight back, but when he offended Jaap Marais, he did not have the guts for an open debate with Mr. Marais. It is really all a circus and whites have no problem in staying far away. Yours Faithfully, K.J.

S.A - FIRST IMPRESSIONS by R. W.

The 8125 mile flight from Atlanta to Johannesburg took 15 hours. From Johannesburg to Cape Town (780 miles) took another two hours. South Africa is a big country.

Cape Town is probably the most spectacular city in the world. Mountains, two oceans and great floral variety. SA is experiencing a long-term drought, as is the south-east U.S.

In the 1950s, the S. African Rand was worth about $1.25. Since then it has inflated to 8 rands to the dollar. This means prices are cheap. A US/SA airline ticket bought in SA costs only about $750. I stayed in several Bed & Breakfasts and the average cost was about $22, which included breakfast. I rented a Mazda car with unlimited mileage and 100% insurance for $16.13 per day. The food is above average American standards. I was invited to dinner for three at the best restaurant in town and the cost was only $15.

There are three basic racial groups in the Cape. Crudely described, they are the whites, coloreds and the blacks. The coloreds require explanation as they are not "colored" in the American sense. They are a mixture of the Hottentots (descended from Malay ancestors) and Caucasians. They tend to be slightly built, can have green or blue eyes and can have straight hair. Coloreds speak Afrikaans as their primary language and a small minority speak English secondarily. The coloreds are trusted by the whites because of their non-threatening character. They have been political supporters of the old Nationalist Party. They are typically found in the Cape area and the blacks, until recently, were not found there. Coloreds do not resemble and are not racially related to the typical black Xhosa. In the Durban area on the Indian Ocean, the East-Indian influence is pronounced. In the Johannesburg area to the north the Cape-Coloureds are not to be found.

In 1993, the whites voted for one man one vote and in my opinion made a pact with the devil. I don't think that the whites realized that their entire culture and civilization would ultimately be at risk. SA used to have two official languages, English and Afrikaans. Presently there are 11 official languages. A chaotic state.

Affirmative action here is extremely discriminatory and gives young whites no future. I have been told that all professional people between 25 and 40 who can leave for New Zealand, Great Britain and Australia are doing so. A crime wave exists which many say is SA's greatest problem. It should be remembered that Amy Biel was murdered by Xhosa and not by coloreds.[6]

AIDS is rampant. Somehow the ANC blames apartheid for this situation. Under current SA law a black can have 4 wives. Monogamy and marital fidelity are not black cultural norms, and this makes fertile ground for the spread of HIV/AIDS. Some extrapolate that by 2010 the white/black ratio is SA will be 60/40.

Just to the north of SA is Zimbabwe, formerly S. Rhodesia. It is ruled by Mugabe whom many call a maniac. Many white farmers have been killed in both Zimbabwe and SA. Typically, nothing is being done about it. It appears that the plan of the black government is to kill or drive the whites from the land and confiscate their farms and property.

the blood of the white tyrants and of their children.'" (News of the World, Vol. 15, No. 6, p. 3), copied from IMPACT May/June/July 2001)

Violence Continues

"The violence continues with a regularity as if planned, and it seems to be on the increase. A new phenomenon is the way in which our white people are killed. They are clubbed to death with some blunt instrument, or their throats are cut. This, together with raping of our women, creates the impression that it is being done in a way to humiliate our white folk. It is gruesome and alarming. It speaks clearly of a deep rooted hatred of the white man and a purposeful drive to force us off our land." (WORLD AFFAIRS. F. W. C. Nester, POB 49432, Hercules, 0030, SA Tel/Fax: 012-3798954)

UNFILTERED NEWS

STATE OF ENGLISH JUSTICE: Judge Roger Sawcross jailed Diane Wild, 42, for 12 months, and Julie Hodgson 37 and Raymond Davis 44 were jailed for 9 months each. They were aunts and uncle of David Glass 12. They were convicted of attacking two consultant pediatricians who were trying to administer diamorphine so David could "die with dignity."

Justice Hidden stressed that the courts had a duty to protect the medical profession from attacks. The appeal judges reduced Wild's sentence to 6 months and the jail terms of Hodgson and Davis to 4 months each.

After the two doctors were prevented from administering the diamorphine at St Mary's Hospital, Portsmouth - David was discharged later that evening. Carol, his mother, said that her son who is now 14, was doing "very well". Mrs. Glass said of the aunts and uncle, "They saved David's life." MORE ENGLISH JUSTICE: Tony Martin shot and killed a 16-year-old burglar earlier this year at his home and was convicted of murder. Lord Chief Justice, Lord Wooll, believes Martin should serve a minimum of 8 years. Justice Owen, who jailed Martin, recommended a 9-year minimum. QUEEN & POPE: Queen Elizabeth met with Pope John Paul to reduce recent tensions between the Roman Catholic and Anglican Churches. The Queen, supreme governor of the church of England said, "I trust we shall continue to advance along the path which leads to Christian unity." The Pope assured the Queen that "there can be no turning back from the ecumenical goal." (Story in Financial Times Oct 8, 00, p11)

RKH: There are two kinds of Christians. Those who obey and teach God's Commandments and those who don't. "By their acts ye shall know them."

JUSTICE: "The European Court of Justice ruled yesterday that the European Union can lawfully suppress political criticism of its institutions and of leading figures, sweeping aside English Common Law and 50 years of European precedents on civil liberties.

"The EU's top court found that the European Commission was entitled to sack Bernard Connolly ... for writing a critique of European monetary integration entitled The Rotten Heart of Europe.

"The ruling stated that the commission could restrict dissent in order to 'protect the rights of others' and punish individuals who 'damaged the institution's image and reputation.' ...

".... an argument put forward three months ago by the advocate- general, Damaso Ruiz-Jarabo Colomer, ... implied that ... criticism of the EU was akin to extreme blasphemy, and therefore not protected speech ..." RKH: Either the king or the King of kings will rule.

NORWAY'S CROWN PRINCE: An article in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel of 9-3-00 states that Norway's Prince Haakon plans to move in with his girl-friend, a single mother, the Royal Palace announced. His girlfriend, Hoiby 27, has a 3-year-old son. The article goes on to say that nearly half the children in this 4.5 million nation are born to single mothers or unwed couples.

RKH: Norway, the star in the crown of Saxondom, has been reduced to being a nation of whores and whoremongers.

MEXICAN BORDER INCIDENT: For the second time in the past year, armed Mexican soldiers crossed the U.S. border and fired on U.S. Border Patrol agents. The incident occurred on Oct. 24th. Ten Mexican soldiers fired about eight rounds at two officers exiting a "Border Patrol" helicopter near Copper Canyon, California. Earlier, on March 14th, Humvees carrying 16 Mexican soldiers drove one mile onto U.S. soil near Santa Teresa, New Mexico, and fired on U.S. agents. One Humvee escaped but the others were intercepted by U.S. authorities and their occupants detained overnight. They were later released with their vehicles and weapons.

SEATTLE: Mardi Gras celebrations in Seattle ended with attacks by roving gangs of Blacks against White men and women. A steady stream of beaten and wounded came to local hospitals. Several are in critical condition including one woman run down by a car going 40 miles per hour through crowds of revelers. Blacks are said to have shot handguns down crowded streets adding to the confusion. People were beaten with skateboards and numerous cars were smashed. Stores were looted and windows broken. It was reported that 43 were hospitalized including two police officers. Police Officers' Guild President Mike Edwards said that several officers at the scene voiced frustrations that "they were held back" from quelling the violence. Police Chief Gil Kerlikowske rejected charges that the attacks were racially motivated. (@earthlink.net 28Feb2001 14:27:25-0500: http://seattlep- i.nwsource.com/local/mardi03.shtml)

PRIVATISING: Capitalist leaders are reluctant to inquire into the deaths of multi-millions of former property owners' in former communist countries and press for the punishment of their murderers. This reluctance can be explained by capitalists not wishing to jeopardize the on-going "privatising" of the dead owners assets.

Of particular interest is the fact that the communists who confiscated the private holdings and executed their owners were funded by the same capitalists who are now buying their assets. Note those who are not outraged and you will have identified the ones who in some way share the profits and the guilt.

INDIANS LEAVING FIGI: The trickle of Indian-Figian emigrants leaving the islands is turning into a stream. One complained, "All your investments, your savings, your whole life can be devalued by some idiot with a gun."

The Indian share of the population is now down to 44% and dropping fast. The Figian banker acting president, Laisenia Qarase, blames the unrest on the insensitivity of the former Indian prime minister to Fijian institutions. The new constitution will probably exclude Indians from holding high government posts.

KAHANE: Binyamin Kahane, son of Rabbi Meir Kahane was shot dead by Palestinian gunmen in reprisal for Jewish killings of Arabs.

The elder Kahane was leader of the Jewish nationalist Kach movement. He was assassinated while in the U.S. Baruch Goldstein, a Kahane supporter, massacred 29 Palestinians at a Hebron mosque. Yigal Amir, a Jewish law student and an admirer of Goldstein, assassinated Yitzhak Rabin, the Israeli prime minister. Tiran Pollack, a Kahane supporter, said, "Arabs should live in fear that for every hair of a Jew that falls an Arab head will roll." (Story in Financial Times, p.2, Jan 3, 2001)

NOT RACIST: "Conservative supporters of Sen. Ashcroft pointed to his elevation of African-Americans while he served as Governor of Missouri. Mr. Ashcroft confirmed 26 Black judges to federal court positions while he served in the U.S. Senate. His hiring and voting practices in the Senate illustrate his respect for all people and his commitment to the law." (Jerry Falwell, National Liberty Journal, p 1, March 2001)

RKH: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15.

PAT BUCHANAN: Reform Party presidential candidate, Pat Buchanan, asked his vice-presidential candidate, Lenora Fulani, an African American, to return to the Reform Party.

RKH: "One from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: nokriiy - foreign, adulterous.) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15 Christians support those who obey the WORD which is God. They don't support those who are traitors to the WORD and to their nation.

KENNEWICK MAN: Scientists who wanted to study the 9000 year old skeleton contend that the Clinton administration improperly prevented their research to avoid a debate over the identity of the first inhabitants of N. America. The Interior Dept. authorized the skeleton be given to Indians to bury. (Story in News & Advance, Apr. 19, 2001 p.2)

WHITE MAN: The name "Jesus", the Lord's Prayer, the Bible, the 10-Commandments, Christmas cresh, prayers at football games, the St Andrew's cross in the Confederate flag, the White man himself - all are euphemisms for God the WORD. In the mind of the alien they all trigger a vision of their nemesis - God the WORD.

Chapter 323

BABYLON
IS IN THREE PARTS

"The great city was divided into three parts." Rev 16:19

Egypt

Babylon is organized in the following manner:

"(Pharaoh) placed officers over them from amongst the children of Israel, and over these officers he placed taskmasters from amongst his servants." Jasher 77:10

Egypt was organized in the same manner as ancient Babylon. Today's West is organized the same way. Three forces ruled them - three forces rule us.

* Pharaoh,
* Saxon officers (collaborators).
* Alien taskmasters (over collaborators).

Egypt - Babylon's Clone

Long before there was an Israel; long before there was a Moses, long before there was a tyrannical Egypt to come out of; there existed a Plan. The Plan was to gather all the world into the hands of Babylon ruled by a King whose land was organized as an episcopacy - rule from the top down.

Forever the WORD warns man against the Tower of Babel. In spite of constant warnings man continues to go to a new Canaanland and work to develop its wealth - only to lose it when Egypt closes in around him, takes his wealth, and reduces him to slavery.

The building of the Tower of Babel is so important that the WORD relates the story of Joseph, the favorite son of Abraham, and cast him in the role of the villain. As such there is no way that the story can be side-tracked except by those who do not wish to see, or those who cannot see.

Joseph was enslaved by his brothers (kidnaping), sold to an Egyptian (stranger ruling over), falsely accused of adultery (false witness), spent something like 15 years in jail for obeying the WORD (long suffering), did a good service to Pharaoh, who advanced him to a high position in government with the job of enslaving the people of Egypt.[1]

Joseph Enslaves Egypt For Pharaoh

A man who owns his own land can raise his own sustenance and be his own king. Deprive him of his land and the ability to earn a living for himself and he becomes a slave to another in exchange for food.

1 Charlemagne, the father of all German Saxons, and William the Conqueror, the father of all British Saxons, as later day Josephs brought this identical system to Europe and to Britain.

20 "And Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Pharoah's.

"Famine" was the cause of this crisis. It could have as easily been something else. Crises need a king and his Episcopacy to solve them. A crisis also allows one to buy at distressed prices. If there is no "crisis", a king generates one to justify his existence or to benefit another who gave him his throne.

21 "And as for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Egypt even to the other end thereof.

The "Famine" crisis forced the people to sell their land for bread. The sale of their land deprived the people of sustenance. Lack of sustenance justified relocation of freemen into central population-control work-centers called "cities".

To drive man from the land in America, the Episcopacy used war to destroy their farms. Tax-tribute was then levied on the survivors which most had no way of paying. Usury loans were granted desperate people to pay taxes. Usury loans cause bankruptcy and foreign slave-grown produce was dumped on the American food market below local production costs. It took all that to say this, "As for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Egypt even to the other." The end of the war began the overnight explosive growth of Southern cities built to hold destitute workers.

Since priests are one of the three essential castes of Babylon, they were treated differently. They are needed to control the people and keep them quiet in their new condition as slaves in the cities. So;

22 "Only the land of the priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Pharaoh, and did eat their portion which Pharaoh gave them: wherefore they sold not their lands." Gen 47:20-22[2]

If the Priests had NOT "eaten the portion" (agreed with this arrangement) which Pharaoh gave to them, you can bet that Pharaoh would have had their land in an instant. Witness what recently happened to the Indianapolis Baptist Temple (that Babylon's priests found no fault with). Also, note "wherefore they sold not their lands". From the Egyptian era to today, priests own lands; remember the Vatican and Anglican banks? And remember that the banks own the media. Remember the billion dollar Jewish media owner, Robert Maxwell, said to be the richest person in the world? It turned out that he didn't own the media he was said to have owned. The banks did. When he died the banks descended on his estate to reclaim their assets. THEY owned the media he was said to have owned. Billionaires that you read about in the newspapers are likely to be managers of bank assets, that's all - not owners.

We all know that the Vatican Bank and the Swiss banks that defaulted in the '70s belonged to the Catholic Church. We know about the Anglican ownership of usury banks. The fact that Christian Churches own usury banks (which the WORD condemns as a capital crime) means that their priests, and all other "Christian" priests who absolutely refuse to condemn their practicing usury, worship a different God, one that does permit the crime of lending at usury.

2 The traditional religious organization owns the nation's wealth while the individual priest is pictured as living in poverty.

This in turn reveals that Saxons have two kinds of priests - Pharaoh's priests who have their Gods - and priests of the WORD who teach God the WORD. They are two entirely different Gods. One serves Babylon and the other serves the WORD.

Egypt's 3 Castes

The great City of Babylon is a slave state. It is an episcopacy - the only type of organization that can efficiently rule those driven from their self-sufficient-farms (SSF) into cities to be slave- workers. It even has pens for unruly slaves called "prisons".[3]

The three ruling Forces of Babylon are: * Priests who accumulate wealth; * King & Army to protect this wealth; and * Merchants - who manage this wealth.

"(Pharaoh) placed officers over them from amongst the children of Israel, and over these officers he placed taskmasters from amongst his servants." Jasher 77:10

* Saxon-Israel furnishes Workers.

THE KING
My First Step Into Politics

Kings are appointed.

When I was about 27 years old living in Richmond, I determined to run for Virginia's House of Delegates. I went to the registrar's office to see how I should proceed, and was directed to a committee of Richmond's Democratic Party.

3 "If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of Israel, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him: then that thief shall die." Deut 24:7. Whippings for children, drunks, and general misbehavior - restitution or execution for the rest. Babylon has prisons for unruly slaves.

This Committee welcomed me with open arms. I later learned that they always do when meeting young blood who are politically inclined. We met and talked several times, most agreeably. They had an agenda which they discussed with me. I agreed with everything except what I thought were minor items. They smiled and the meetings went on - only to return to the minor items. I would have liked to have agreed with them but there were principles involved which I did not feel were proper for me to agree to. They said they would call. They didn't. Babylon's political filter had caught and eliminated me.

That's when I learned that political candidates are the property of the party that runs them. They can't represent the voters and still work for the party that elects them. Whatever the party is for - they are, too. If the party is anti-Saxon - their politicians are anti-Saxon.

The Concerned Citizen's Committee

I moved back to my hometown, Lynchburg, and ran for city council. I lost to the incumbent mayor by 26 votes. Not bad for a first run. This is then I learned that the newspaper will not give you publicity if you don't support the Establishment's agenda. Another filter. I also learned that you can do a lot by burning shoe leather and getting out and meeting people.

Next, my friend, Roy Dillard, and I organized The Concerned Citizens Committee. There were only two of us. We didn't support any one party but endorsed "conservative" candidates.

During some elections, we endorsed candidates from three different parties. The ones we endorsed usually got the highest number of votes. Voters who "didn't know" learned to trust us. We would poll the candidates on various subjects and list the results on little cards which we handed out.

We found that it was easy to get people to work the polls. Anyone would volunteer for 4 hours or so once or twice a year and stand and hand out little voting cards at the polls. All we needed to do was spray paint the names of our selected candidates through letter forms onto placards, nail the placard to a pole and stick it in the ground. Then, get a volunteer to stand by the sign and hand out our cards. Presto, we were the balance of power in Lynchburg. I hope you noticed that - the balance of power!

Roy and I regularly issued press releases of the decisions made at MASS MEETINGS held by Roy, the Chairman, and me, Vice- Chairman, and attended by us two. The paper would print the results. I don't know if we could get away with it today since the paper is so left wing, but, it was great while it lasted!

One thing I always like to do is to make candidates burn their bridges so that they would have no way of changing their minds and switch sides. One way was list on the little voters cards we handed out whether or not an aspiring candidate attended a meeting of local radical or pro-communist voters; whether or not they were members of the NAACP, etc. Liberal politicians hated having this information made public.

Arthur

There was an upcoming primary for the Democratic Party to select a candidate for State Senate. I liked Arthur (still do), a promising local lawyer. He was tall, well spoken, knowledgeable and he looked like a statesman. However, a long time ago I learned that eyewash and 39¢ will get you a cup of coffee. So, I gave him a bridge to burn.

America at that time was anti-communist (we were told). The president said he was anti-communist. Everyone in the American government was supposed to be anti-communist. The people in Lynchburg sure were.

I noticed that the Lynchburg super markets were selling canned hams from communist Poland. What were Lynchburg stores doing trading with the enemy? I asked Arthur to announce that if elected he would work to ban Polish hams. He agreed. Two weeks passed - nothing.

I dropped in to see him and he said that he had talked to the party leaders and that they advised him against it. OK. So, I went to Arthurs' opponent, a real vague fellow named Bert who ran an exterminating company. I explained the deal to him.

I don't think Bert could have found Poland with a map. Anyway, his campaign couldn't have been going worse. He agreed to make the announcement - if I would write it up for him.

I wrote it, he signed it, and we sent it the newspaper. They printed it. Bert beat Arthur in the Democratic primary hands down.

I learned several things from this. That it's not what a person says, but what he does that is important. I learned that Arthur was a part of the ruling Babylonian episcopacy. I learned that there were people like Bert who would do whatever would get them elected - his son now in politics - kept there by the black vote. And, I also learned once again that there were powers behind the scene that held "veto power" over what their candidate could or could not do - regardless of what the voters wanted.

Peaksview Park Incident

Twice daily, over the last several years with a few exceptions, I have taken my dogs for walks at Peaksview Park.

My understanding of the city "leash law" is that all dogs at all times must be on leash unless they are under voice restraint. I arrived at this understanding of the city ordinance several different ways.

First, a dog trainer in Lynchburg, whom I respect, told me about it. Another time I was in the park throwing a ball for the dogs when a woman, whom I understood to be in charge of the parks, drove by and commented that my dogs should be on leash. When she saw the dogs responding to my commands she agreed that they were under voice restraint and that everything was all right.

This opinion was also confirmed by people who worked for the humane society and by the Lynchburg Police Department on the two occasions when I called to verify if it was true that dogs could be off-leash if under voice control.

On two occasions, while I was in Peaksview Park, I was reported to the authorities for having my dogs off-leash. Policemen arrived in due time. After I demonstrated that my dogs were under restraint, obedient, and friendly, which the officers confirmed by running hands over them, they announced that they were satisfied and left. This was still another confirmation.

From all this I would assume that in Lynchburg dogs may be off- leash if under voice control.

But NO!

One afternoon this spring I parked my car as usual in the Peaksview Park parking lot. I was walking my dogs to the picnic tables on the other side of Ivy Creek. As usual my dogs were not on leash. A young fellow walked right up to me looking neither to the right or the left. He ignored my greeting and instead stated that he was a state policeman and had seen me in the park before. He said that he knew who I was, had the license number of my car, and announced that if I did not put my dogs on leash instantly he would call the authorities.

Some people can be irritating. When I do something wrong my wife knows which of my buttons to push. Simple instinct must have told this young fellow where my buttons were located and he pushed them all at one time.

I tried to explain the leash law ordinance to him, but he interruped and said, "I don't care about the ordinance". He added that my dogs had threatened both him and his wife twice before - a downright lie since my dogs are never out of my sight - and I had never seen this fellow before.

He was rude, wouldn't listen, and could not be talked to. So, I told him to do whatever he had to do and I walked on past him and sat down at the picnic tables. My dogs lay beside me.

Then, a woman holding a child joined the man. I hadn't seen her. Together they walked to within 50 yards of me and stood staring. I asked what they wanted. He replied something indistinct. I asked him what he said. He said something else indistinct. I told him to "wait", told the dogs to "stay", and started to walk over to hear him. He then, took a step forward, held up his hand like a traffic policeman and said, "Stop! Don't take another step forward."

That could have been amusing, but it wasn't. I have heard that tone of voice often enough in the service. My past experiences told me that only armed people use that tone of voice. I returned to my seat. By that time a couple of witnesses were on the scene.

The man then made a call on his cell phone. In about 15 minutes Lynchburg's Animal Warden, Mr. Faust, arrived accompanied by the Assistant Animal Warden and three police cars. Quite a cavalcade.

I told my story to Mr. Faust. I knew him and had talked to him before. He politely said that I would have to tell my story to the Judge. That surprised me! He then issued me a summons - one for each dog.

What's going on? Lynchburg's policemen one day say one thing, and today the Dog Warden gives me three summons. To fix the event in my memory, the young man who made the complaint and his wife had apparently lost their fear of dogs and stood three feet from them laughing at my discomfort.

Oh Boy! Buttons, buttons!

Let me tell you there is nothing like being right and having your rights trampled on! I hope I appeared cool - but I was steaming. I called my lawyer as soon as I got home and told him that I was going to take this thing to the Supreme Court. He said he would get back to me.

Next day he called and said the Dog Warden was right and I was wrong.

I was dumbfounded. It seems that the city code really does say that you can have your dog off-leash and under voice control everywhere in the City of Lynchburg - except where it is posted that they must be on leash. There is a small sign at the park entrance that says that one must have dogs on leash in the park at all times.

I was wrong. In spite of what I was told by the Lynchburg police department, a park director, and a respected dog trainer, my accuser was right and I was wrong. The city fined me $109.

I apologized to Mr. Faust for causing him trouble and asked if the fellow making the complaint really was a state policeman. Mr. Faust said that he really was. He said "that young punk" had just graduated from state police academy and was impressing his wife.

This incident taught me once again that almost every one of Babylon's codes and statutes contains exceptions. I have since been told that at any given time almost everyone is in violation of more than 30 major statutes, any one of which could subject a person to arrest and prison if exercised.

Babylon writes its statutes that way so that they can be applied as the episcopacy likes. If they want you guilty - you are guilty. If they don't - you aren't. Or, one person can be guilty and another innocent using the same statute. There are so many conflicting codes that only lawyers can find their way in the confusing mass. Babylon's statutes are different from the WORD which is simple and which never changes.

THE MERCHANT

Lynchburg had a canal that ran along the James River. The canal fell on hard days from a flood after the War, and along about 1875 was taken over by the Railroad. The Railroad laid tracks on the old tow path. It was supposed to have been the cheapest railroad to build in the country.

Anyway, for more than 150 years people have always had the right to cross the canal to reach the river. Then, after the tracks were laid on the towpath, they had the right to cross the tracks to reach the river. It always had been the people's right.

A hydro-electric dam was built down at Reusens in the '20s. This created a big lake above the dam that went for miles. Above the dam people built docks and put in boats. Dad had a dock and put in a 14 ft Thompson boat named "Dickembeth". It had a 10 hp Johnson Seahorse outboard and in the '40s was the second fastest boat on this part of the river. Lots of people added expensive houseboats. It was quite a little city on the water above the dam.

One day the railroad forbade anyone to cross the tracks at that point. If you couln't cross the tracks you couldn't launch or retrieve boats. What was done for more than 150 years was now forbidden. That was that. They just did it.

From this I learned that the power of great corporations is virtually unlimited. I learned that just because "it has always been done" doesn't mean that you will be able to do it tomorrow. I learned that corporations have powers the extent of which the individual can only guess. Corporations can use these powers or not as they choose.

THE PRIESTHOOD

Babylon is in three parts:

> "The great city was divided into three parts." Rev 16:19

Two parts of Babylon's three parts are the merchant and the king.

The third part wraps Babylon in religion and gives it the power of God to do what it does. These are its "priests". Jesus described them:

> "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." 2 Tim 3:5

"A form of godliness": Babylon's priests put on purple and red, parade behind crosses and holy relics, have sunrise services on Easter, administer the bread and the wine, but - "denying the power thereof", they deny the power of God which is the WORD.

Long before Jesus, Moses described them and told how to judge them:

> "Moses commanded ... Take this book of the Law, and put it in the side of the ark of the Covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion ... while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have been rebellious against the LORD; and how much more after my death." Deut 31:26-27

We are to take the WORD and compare the priests speech and actions with it. If their speech and actions support the WORD - they follow God the WORD. If they do not - they follow another God.

The Scriptures relate who condemned and were responsible for crucifying Jesus:

> "The chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: And ... they ... delivered him to Pontius Pilate the (Roman) governor. ... Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified ... His blood be on us, and on our children." Matt. 27:1, 22-25.

"His blood be on us, and on our children."

Who said this? The priests did! The WORD says that they were so intent on killing the "WORD made flesh" that they cursed themselves.

Then after killing Jesus Christ, the priests blamed it on the Roman soldiers because they had been ordered to drive the nails. When the "WORD made flesh" arose from the grave the priests paid the grave guards to say that his friends had taken his body.

When the WORD spread, the priests made Christianity a state monopoly and forbade people to read the Bible and learn of the curse the priesthood placed on themselves. The ban was maintained for more than a thousand years on pain of severe punishment.

The Scriptures clearly state who is responsible:

> "The Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priest, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles." Mark 10:33

Moses blamed them, Jesus blamed them, the WORD blames them, but from that day to this, Babylon's priests blame someone else to conceal their deeds. First the Roman Soldiers, the grave guards, and the disciples for stealing his body, and most recently they blame the Chazar-Jews to conceal their deeds.

Story Of The Khazar-Jews

It is hardly credible that there still exist educated people who don't know the story of how Khazar-Turks converted to Judaism in the 8th century. The story has been told and re-told so many times by Khazar-Jew and Saxon-Israelite writers alike that it is general knowledge and has been for more than half a century.

I once wondered why Christian priests, thoroughly familiar with the subject, pretended ignorance and continued blaming today's Khazar-Turk-Jews as being the ones who were cursed for the murder of Jesus. Or, they say that the Khazar-Turk-Jews are "God's chosen people". They do this in spite of knowing that the ancestors of the Khazar-Turk converts were never in the Holy Land? It made no sense.

Today, it makes perfect sense. If the ancestors of the Khazar- Turk-Jews were not around at the time of Christ, their children certainly could not be guilty of killing Jesus. Neither does the false priestly claim that the Khazar-Jews are "God's chosen" hold water. Since the Turkish-Jews are not responsible for killing the "Word made flesh" - on whom does the curse fall?

> "The chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death ... Let him be crucified ... His blood be on us, and on our children." Matt. 27:1, 22-25.

According to the chief priests themselves - the curse falls on them and their children. Once again. The charge of murder lies against the chief priests and elders. They themselves put the curse on their children. The priests themselves murdered "the WORD made flesh".

Today's priests are their children - not alien Khazar-Turk-Jews. The ancient curse derived from murdering the "WORD made flesh" has come down generation after generation - and that is why God's Commandments, his Laws, Statutes and Judgments stick in the throats of most priests. They are unable to speak the WORD - the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of God - by whom they themselves have been condemned to death.

In this life, the priests MUST blame the "Chazar(Khazar)-Jews", or people will realize that the blame falls on them. Think of what their status will be when people realize what this means - "His blood be on us, and on our children".

Two Groups

Two groups almost never mention the Commandments of the WORD when they speak of God;

* The alien Khazar-Jew has his own Talmud that relates the Traditions of his own elders and has no reason to mention the WORD, and,

* Today's so-called "Christian" Priests, followers of the "Traditions of THEIR Elders", who rightfully fear to mention the Commandments of the WORD.[4]

Of The Devil

If there is needed a final nail, it is the following:

Today's churches own usury banks. Scripture says,

> "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

According to Scripture,

> "He that committeth sin is of the Devil." I John 3:8.[5]

According to Scripture, churches owning usury banks or selling their own usury bonds to their own members - forcing

4 IDENTIFYING PRIESTS: Followers of the WORD, "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccl 12:13. God's Priests "Read this law before all Israel ... that they may ... do all the words of this law." Deut 31:11-12. Babylon's priests can't teach God's Commandments punishing sodomy, usury, murder, kidnaping, miscegenation, theft, etc., because, "If a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand." Mark 3:24

5 The anti- Christ's excuse, "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Rom 3:23 does not excuse their sin because each sin has its own punishment. Light punishment for light sins, severe punishment for serious sins. Usury is a capital crime. Commiting the sin gains the punishment due. Concealing the seriousness of the sin by silence is a false witness which incurs the punishment due the "false witness" - which is the same as the punishment for the sin committed. (De 19:16-20). The Establishment churches are guilty of committing double capital crimes in this one offense alone. List the others and one can easily see that there is no competitor for the title - "servant of the Devil" - not even the Khazar-Jews who have been used for so long as a buffer to take the blame that rightfully belongs to Babylon's Priesthood.

them to become usurers themselves making them guilty of the same crime and punishment as they - are of the devil.

Thus we have identified the third part of three part Babylon - the Priests. This is why Jesus said:

> "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand." Mark 3:24

Babylon is not divided against itself. It has stood solidly on three legs for all these years.

Babylon is one - the King, the great Merchant, and the Priest with his usury system that binds Babylon together and makes the world slaves. It is as Piet Pretorius of South Africa discovered when writing his book "Betrayal": Who was responsible for betraying the Saxon-Israel people of South Africa? His discovery - they ALL were guilty - ALL were traitors. The rulers, the merchants, and the priests. ALL OF THEM. Babylon is in three parts, but Babylon in three parts is also one!

Which is why the WORD appointed his own priests and his own kings:

> "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

Let us be about the Lord's business.

News From S. Africa by H.K.

I am trying to find out what is happening in next door Zimbabwe (Rhodesia). What little news I got is little enough. They keep a tight lid on news. "Die Afrikaner" newspaper got some information from a British weekly.

The so-called "war veterans" in their early twenties are allowed to do as they like - with Zimbabwe's President Mugabe's approval. Looking back, S. Africa's Thabo Mbeki was the one who had the opportunity to stop the whole campaign against Zimbabwe's Whites if he had only cut their fuel or electrical supply. Deeds help, not endless rounds of talk, which Blacks are good at. Blacks then do the opposite of what they have just agreed to do. But Mbeki preferred what he called "quiet diplomacy", which means saying nothing, but silently agreeing with Mugabe because he is following a similar route to get rid of S. Africa's Whites.

What makes it so sad is that both countries were built by Whites. Many died from tropical diseases, hostile tribes, and wild animals. No ready civilization awaited them when Jan van Viebeek landed at the Cape. One example was the small settlement of Pilgrimsrust in East Transvaal, the old grave yard is full of Whites who died of Malaria. It was impossible to stay in the Northern Transvaal till Dr. S. Anneke found a malaria cure.

In Strydom Square in Pretoria, stands the Strydom monument containing the bust of J.G. Strydom, our second premier after 1948. A more honest man would be hard to find. Yesterday, the dome collapsed. The cause of the collapse is being investigated. This sort of thing is happening to one after another of the monuments and memorials to S. Africa's former great men.

The Afrikaaner HNP party meeting went well. Regional meetings are being held to reach more people. Some Afrikaans language newspapers tell their readers that there is no longer an Afrikaaner political party left for whites to belong to. They do this to try to get them to join the left-wing DA Party. This party is composed of traitors from the collapsed National Party that put us under black rule plus the SA Jewish community. The DA Party leader is Tony Leon who has not protested once against the farm murders.

We had rain for a few days and the next night it became very cold. As you know, it's winter here now and out came all the warm clothes.

There was supposed to be a plot against Mbeki by three Blacks which he previously removed from office. Many blacks do not really like him and he spends most of the time overseas. The three are Cyril Ramaphosa, Matthews Phosa and Tokyo Sexwale, but nothing has been really confirmed up to now. In the meantime Mr. Willie van der Grijp warns that if a Black leadership struggle breaks out, anarchy will rule and no White will be safe. So it will be worth while to see to the family's protection. As it is, six farmers were murdered last weekend.

The ANC-BC and TV still cannot get Afrikaaners to pay their TV bills. Why should they? The station mixes Whites and Blacks in their stories and uses uncivilized language. On the Afrikaans station they have coloureds who speak a type of Afrikaans language only heard among the Cape coloureds. It's like a foreign language. One can't understand them.

Maria sold her flat at last at a low price, but there was no help for it. Blacks have moved in en masse and the sewer system was not built for this volume. Before long, the overflow will be running down the streets. After a search we found a small house in a quiet area that can be added onto. It belonged to a young woman and she kept it in excellent condition. But, the loan payments are so high that the burden is almost too much. In the apartheid years, one could afford a home loan, pay it back in record time, still save, and most married women stayed at home. We did not have all the latest conveniences, but that did not worry us at all. Maria only moves in on July 1, as the new flat is not ready yet, so she, 3 dogs and 9 little fish moved in with us. The new suburb is 15 minutes from her work which will help shorten the very long work hours, and conserve fuel whose price seems to go up every month.

The 80,000 Jews here have been told to come to Israel. We will have to wait and see the reason behind all this. Up until now few ever go to Israel - its either America, or Australia. Hardly any ever get killed or hijacked here, and they do not treat Blacks any better than Whites do. Interesting.

Best wishes from S. Africa, H.K.

PS Zimbabwe seems to be getting worse by the day. The Blacks are now going after businesses, clinics, etc. There seems to be no control left.

LETTERS

DIVORCE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: My husband is a cold blooded murderer. There is no excuse for what he did. He has been sentenced to life imprisonment and I have been told that I can't divorce and remarry. What is the Law?" A.K. - Arkansas

RKH: If Babylon enforced God's Law you would not have the problem. Your husband would have been executed long ago. If God declares a person unworthy of life, how can they be worthy of a Godly spouse? Divorce was part of God's law. Biblical Laws are God's laws and all are holy. Divorce was not a tolerated evil. Divorce was required and necessary because evil in one's spouse is not to be tolerated. The home must be kept wholesome.

Chapter 324

JEWS - Part I
Race, Religion, or What?

Background

The Saxon nation worldwide is made in the image of the WORD - which is its God. The WORD is its LAW and the Saxon[1] tries to make its habitat conform to the image of the WORD.

Mamzers are aliens. Miscegenation creates aliens. They are not "part alien"/"part Saxon". As defined by the WORD - all who are not Saxon are aliens. Some aliens try to conform to the WORD to benefit from its blessings - but most don't. The LAW, the Saxon's God, is "satan" to the alien. It restricts them at every turn, especially their effort to enter Saxon society to exploit the Saxon and his incredible productiveness.

Members of most unLawful alien nations are identifiable by their appearance. Because of this, they pay Saxon surrogates, who love money[2] and are weak in their faith, to do what they cannot do without being recognized and opposed.

Surrogate organizations in the aliens' pay operate openly in Saxon nations and are easily identifiable in one of two ways; they are episcopal in organization, lawless in operation - or both. "Episcopal" organizations maintain control by ruling from the top down, and they are "lawless" - doing things that faithful Saxons are forbidden to do - in order to separate the Saxon from his wealth.

From time immemorial, alien "surrogate" organizations operating in Saxon nations have had to deal with the "tender sensibilities" of their hired Saxon help. Well-planned schemes have faltered and failed because at the last minute Saxon surrogates in charge balked.

To overcome this weakness, a special group of aliens have been employed at critical points in the wealth extraction process. This group is known collectively as "Jews". Since they perform such a critical, necessary, and lucrative job they are accordingly highly paid, pampered and protected against assault, harassment, and abuse.

The argument over whether these high-profile Jews are a "race" or a "religion" is never ending. Some maintain that they are both a race AND a religion.

2 "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

RELIGION

Certain "Christian" clergymen proclaim that "the Jews" worship the same God as Christians. Jews in authority quickly deny the claim.[3]

> "This is not an uncommon impression and one finds it sometimes among Jews as well as Christians - that Judaism is the religion of the Hebrew Bible. It is, of course, a fallacious impression. ... Judaism is not the religion of the Bible." Rabbi Ben Zion Bokser, "Judaism and the Christian Predicament." New York, Alfred A. Knopf, 1967, p. 59.

The name given the "same God" belief is called "Judeo-Christianity", a rare name before 1910. The belief states that the God of the Christians and the God of the Jews is the one and the same God. The Jews disagree:

> "You will notice the great difference between the Jewish and Christian religions. But these are not all. We Judians consider the two religions so different that one excludes the other. ... we emphasized that there is no such thing as a Judeo- Christian religion. ...There is not any similarity between the two concepts." Rabbi Maggal, President, National Jewish Information Service letter August 21, 1961.

So much for the "Judeo-Christian" claim.[4]

The Standard Encyclopedia continues:

3 This belief reveals either a shocking ignorance of both Jewish and Christian religions, or a purposeful intent to deceive.

4 Many, if not most Judeo-Christian leaders, know better but pretend to believe the Khazar-Turks pretence of being Jews in return for using their media. If you want to have fun, remind the Judeo-Christian that the Scriptures say, "Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ?" I John 2:9, and watch him squirm.

> "Judaism: The religious system, doctrines, and rites of the Jews. Judaism is, specifically, the religion of a Jewish community living among Gentile peoples and is to be distinguished from the religion of ancient Israel." (Standard Encyclopedia, Vol 14, Judaism.)

This last view states that Judaism is not only different from today's Christianity but is different from the religion of ancient Israel - the religion of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Talmudism

The Jews are emphatic about what they believe:

> "The Jewish religion as it is today traces its descent without a break through all the centuries from the pharisees. Their leading ideas and methods found expressed in a literature of enormous extent, of which a very great deal is still in existence. The Talmud is the largest and most important single piece of that literature and a study of it is essential for any real understanding of phariceeism." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, 1943.

This literature is identified:

> "Oral Law" was given by God to Moses on Mt. Sinai along with "written law" or TORAH. (Pirke Aboth. 1.1). The MISHNA states that oral law must be observed with greater stringency than the written law because oral tradition affects the life of the ordinary man more intimately than the more remote constitutional law in the TORAH. (M. SANHEDRIN 10.3).

This "oral law", also called the "Traditions of the Elders", has added modern "traditions". The whole is called the Babylonian Talmud.[5]

Many Christians believe that Jews cannot accept the WORD without Talmudic revision because the WORD excludes the Jews from the nation of Israel:

> "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2

This single statute alone prohibits mixed-race Jews from entering the congregation of Israel - and Jewish literature lists the Jew's multi-racial antecedents in great detail.

Talmudic interpretations of the WORD nullifies many such prohibitions. Its 63 books contain many rabbinical opinions, or Law interpretations, which support both sides of controversial issues. These conflicting opinions allow an individual to choose whichever course seems best at the moment.

Results Of Talmudic Reasoning

For instance:

> "The two state-appointed chief rabbis ... One of their responsibilities is to sanction the national 'sale' (lease) of Jewish farmland to Arab buyers before the onset of the '7th fallow year' ... The device enables farmers to grow and sell their crops despite the Biblical injunction (Leviticus 25:4): "The seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest for the Lord: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.' ... In a modern-day example of halachic resourcefulness, the speaker of the Knesset ... has ordered that polyurethane sheeting be spread be> neath the extensive flower-beds that surround the parliament building in Jerusalem. That converts them halachically, from fields that must lie fallow into 'flower-pots', which can continue to be cultivated." The Economist, Sept. 9, 2000, p. 47.

5 Renegade Christian priests have built up their own "Traditions of the Elders" which they prefer rather than the WORD. These include such things as the rapture, Mary worship, universalism, usury, prisons, taxation, miscegenation, etc.

They can use this same sort of Talmudic logic with just about any problem they encounter.[6]

RACE

> Racial History: "Ripley and Boas believe that (the Jews) take on the physical traits of the people among whom they live. Recent observations, which, however, by no means include Jews from all over the world, tend to show that in the majority of cases the Jews tend to have rather a round head .... They also tend to preserve other characters, the most noticeable being the form of the nose. There is marked resemblance between Jews and Armenians, and though the Armenoid type predominates there are other features in their composition. Weissenberg suggests that there was within historic times a mixture, not in Palestine but in the Caucasus, between the Armenoid and a blond type, and that there are two types of Jews - the Semitic, dark with a fine nose, and Armenoid, with a coarser nose and an appearance of blondness." E/B Vol 14, Jews, p42-43.

The mixture that took place "in the Caucasus" refers to the nation of Khazar (Chazar) Turks who converted to Judaism in the 9th century. The Armenoid, or "Armenians", are a branch of these same Khazar- Turks who converted to Christianity. Others converted to Islam. The 9th century mass conversion to Judaism provided Western Jews with 92% of their number, a fact well known to Jews themselves. This is illustrated by the statement made by the Israeli soldier ordered to guard the tomb of one of the Bible patriarchs:

> "An army required to allocate forces to guard imaginary forefathers' tombs, and whose soldiers serve as chaperons for settlers' children, will inevitably have to build many soldiers' tombs." ("The guilt of the Labor Government," Yediot Ahonot, Oct 1, 1996, by Baruch Kimmerling)

Askanazi & Sarphardic)

The Russian "Khazar-Turk Jew" is also known as Askanazi. The so- called "Spanish Jew" is known as the Saphardic. As a general rule, the Askanazi looks different from the Saphardic in that most of the Saphardic are smaller, darker, and often have a finer nose. The Askanazi greatly outnumber the Sapardic, and, according to the Middle-East Saphardics - the Askanazis treat them as poor cousins.

Africa

We think of Black-Africans as Negroes - a separate distinct race. They are, but that's not all. The Detroit Free Press of May 12, 1999, states that in southern Africa the Buba Bantu tribe has a tradition of a Jewish ancestry. A team of geneticists discovered that many of Lemba men carry in their male chromosome a set of DNA sequences that is distinctive of the cohanim, the DNA of Jewish priests. This was also the case of the Black Hebrew-Jews who recently migrated to the Israeli country.

David Goldstein, a population geneticist at Oxford University, found a distinctive set of Y chromosome sites that are strongly associated with the priestly caste, not so common among lay Jews and are very rare among non-Jewish populations. He found that 45% of Ashkenazi priests and 54% of Sephardic priests have the cohen genetic signature, while in Jewish populations in general the frequency is 3% to 5%. Nine percent of Lemba men carried the cohen genetic signature and of those who said they belonged to the Buba clan, 53% had the distinctive sequences.

Middle East

The News & Observer of May 10, 2000, p 20a states that scientists using a new technique based on the Y, or male, chromosome, have uncovered the interesting fact, that in addition to the Jewish communities of Palestine, the Arab Palestinians, Syrians and Lebanese also carry the same chromosome.

This would be expected if all mid-Eastern tribes including the Arabs are of Turkish derivation. It would also mean that ALL mid- eastern populations are, to some degree - "Jewish". Think that over.

Thus far we have identified today's people who call themselves Jews as being White, Black, Turk and Arab. It gets even more interesting.

China

We think of China as the land of Chinese. It is. Also, many Chinese are Jews:

> "The majority of Bible commentaries identify (China) with the land of Sinim.... the Jews in Persia from early times were connected with the silk trade, and as a consequence, entered into direct relations with the 'silk-men', as the Chinese were called by the Romans." J/E, 1893, China, p.33

"In all likelihood Jewish merchants immigrated, or changed a temporary sojourn into a permanent one... In an 'Account Written by two Mohamadan Travelers Through India and China' in 851, (Renaudot, transl. London, 1733, p. 42), it is stated that 'the Jews have been settled in that empire (China) from time immemorial."

"It is an unwarranted skepticism to doubt the correctness of the tradition of the Chinese Jews themselves, which traces the first immigration back to the Han dynasty between 206 B.C. and 221 CE." J/E, China, p.33, 1893.

"Marco Polo refers to the powerful commercial and political influence of the Jews in China in 1286." (see Murray's translation of "Polo's Travels" , p 99). J/E, p33

The above establishes quite clearly that the Jews have been a power in China for a long time. DNA tests will in time doubtlessly confirm this.

Chinese Relations With Neighbors

Chinese colonists constantly infiltrate and settle the lands of neighbors where they become a powerful merchant class. Periodically they are expelled from Vietnam, Indonesia and elsewhere. Tens of thousands are simply put in boats and on rafts and set adrift on the rivers and seas to go where the winds and tides take them.

China's neighbors know the Chinese as "The Jews Of the Orient". It is interesting to speculate as to which of the Chinese one sees in newspaper photos is a Chinese-Jew and which is Chinese. Or, whether the Chinese recently caught influencing American elections were Chinese-Jews or Chinese, or, whether the giant Chinese state corporation Hutcherson-Wampoa that owns the former American naval bases on both the Caribbean and Pacific sides of the Panama Canal and has possession of the former naval base on America's west coast, and owns countless corporations in Europe, America, and Asia - is operated by Chinese-Jews or Chinese. If Chinese-Jews "own" this company - for whom are they working? the Chinese state? or, someone else?

We have now identified Jews as being White, Black, Turk, Arab, and Chinese. It gets even more interesting.

Sassoon

One of the families written up frequently is the Sassoon family of India.

SASSOON: A family of merchants, industrialists, and later, bankers whose progenitor from Bombay made a fortune in British India and China during the latter half of the 19th cen.

"David Sassoon (b. Baghdad, 1793; died Poona, India, 1864) was son of the treasurer to Ahmet Pasha, the governor of Baghdad under the ruler of Abdul Hamid I. The office carried the automatic leadership of the Jewish community and may have been quasi-hereditary.

Sassoon & Company, had branches at Calcutta, Shanghai, Canton, and Hong Kong. It included a monopoly of the opium-trade and extended as far as Yokohama, Nagasaki, and other cities in Japan. David Sassoon and Company also had a monopoly of trade in Indian yarn, Lancashire cotton goods, and opium. He employed only Jews in his business and wherever he sent them he built synagogues and schools for them. He imported whole families of fellow Jews from Baghdad, put them to work, educated their children and in turn put these to work.

The family then shifted its center of operations to London. In WWI, 14 grandsons and great grandsons held commissions in the British army. (Story in Jewish Universal Ency, 1904 Ed.)

Sassoon Jews served Saracen Turk princes; were their chief financial officers; received monopolies and commissions from the Christian English Crown; and;

Pictures of many of these Sassoons run the gambit of appearing as Chinese to blond English appearance. Interestingly enough, Franklin D. Roosevelt's fortune was inherited from his maternal grandfather, Warren Delano. Delano was senior partner of Russell & Co. whose merchant fleet carried Sassoon's opium to China and returned with tea. His daughter married James Roosevelt the father of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Small world.

Now we have identified Jews as being Black, White, Turk, Arab, Chinese, AND Indian.

Now, let us look into the claim of these people to the name "Jews".

Strangers Copy Identity Of Israelites

Readers know that in 721 BC, half of the nation of Israel was taken away captive into northern Assyria, and from there they spread over Europe.

The land of Samaria that they vacated was unproductive so the king of Assyria brought settlers to occupy these vacant lands. These people we would today call Arab-Turks (II Ki 17:6). These "Arab-Turk" settlers adopted the religion of the departed Israelites and their rituals and tried to pass themselves off as Israelites.

A century or so later, Judah and Benjamin, who occupied the southern half of Israel, were also taken into captivity. When they came back from Babylon to reoccupy Jerusalem and rebuild the temple, this is what happened. The Scriptures say:

> "Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Israel; Then they came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them. Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assur, which brought us up thither. But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel ..." Ezra 4:1-3

Strangers Claim To Be Jews

We have seen that the story of strangers claiming to worship the WORD - the God of Israel, is ancient. They tried the same thing again three centuries before Christ:

> "About this time ... Philip, king of Macedon, was treacherously assaulted and slain ... and his son Alexander succeeded him in the kingdom; who, passing over the Hellespont, overcame the generals of Darius's army ...
> "Now Alexander ... made haste to go up to Jerusalem ... God warned (the high priest) that he and the priests should meet the king in the habits proper to their order

... and so waited for the coming of the king. ... Alexander, when he saw the multitude at a distance ... the high priest in purple and scarlet clothing, with his miter on his head, having the golden plate whereon the name of God was engraved, he approached by himself and adored that name. ...

"(Alexander said) I did not adore him (the high priest), but that God who hath honored him with his high priesthood. ... And when the book of Daniel was shewed him, wherein Daniel declared that one of the Greeks should destroy the empire of the Persians, he supposed that himself was the person intended. ... the next day he .... bade them ask what favors they pleased of him; whereupon the high priest desired that they might enjoy the laws of their forefathers (the WORD)... He granted all they desired...

"So when Alexander had thus settled matters at Jerusalem ... the Samaritans ... determined to profess themselves Jews; for such is the disposition of the Samaritans ... when the Jews are in adversity they deny that they are kin to them, and then they confess the truth; but when they perceive that some good fortune hath befallen them, they immediately pretend to have communion with them, saying, that they belong to them, and derive their genealogy from the posterity of Joseph, Ephraim, and Manasseh.

"Accordingly, they made their address to the king ... Alexander ... asked who they were that made such a petition; and when they said that they were Hebrews, but had the name of Sidonians, living at Shechem, he asked them again whether they were Jews; and when they said they were not Jews, 'It was to the Jews', said he, 'that I granted that privilege." Antiquities Of The Jews, Book xi, Chap 8:1-6, p243

In the above, Josephus said that three hundred years before Jesus the Israelites were known as "Jews". Time after time, aliens had attempted to steal the name of our people to share the privileges that go with bearing the name.

The Scriptures warn:

> "I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria (alien mixbreeds); they prophesied in Baal, ... and caused my people Israel to err." Jer 23:13

This is the reason for the Law:

> "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, Num 1:51.

To protect his people, Jesus continued the ancient practice and excluded the stranger:

> "These 12 Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying, Go ye not into the way of the gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not; But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt10:5,6

This is the reason that strangers are not found in the houses of worship of the faithful to this day.

Khazar-Arab-Turks Claim To Be Jews, Again!

Arab-Turks, known as Khazar-Turks, kinsmen of the ancient Arab-Turk Samaritans, moved into southern Russia. To receive the same benefits their kinsmen received in the days of Alexander, they called themselves "Jews". Today, the descendants of these Khazar- Turks not only call themselves

7 According to Scripture, "He that committeth sin is of the Devil." 1 John 3:8. According to Scripture, churches who admit strangers commit sin. The presence of strangers reveals a Baal temple.

"Jews", but they also call themselves "Saxons". Calling themselves "Saxons" doesn't make them Saxons any more than calling themselves "Jews" make them Jews. Arab-Turks are Arab- Turks. They are descended from Esau and like Esau they are great deceivers.[8]

Present day Anglo-Saxon kings and much of the nobility trace their ancestry to Judah through Robert Bruce, Fergus More, Tea- Tepi and back through Zedekiah to Abraham, Isaac & Jacob. They also trace their ancestry from Charlemagne and numerous Viking lines to Israel by way of the Russian rivers on back to Abraham, Isaac & Jacob.[9] European and British Saxons are descended through both lines. The Khazar- Turks who claim to be "Jews" can't do this. In fact, they make no effort to try.

The astonishing thing is that because Khazar-Turks copy the ancient practice and claim to be "Jews" - today's Saxons renounce that honorable name feeling that those who use it have defiled it. These same Saxons don't think of renouncing the name "Saxon" just because some Arab-Turks have adopted Saxon names, bobbed their noses, used skin-whitener, and joined non-discriminating apostate Episcopalian, Catholic, and Baptist churches.

The Saxons of the world have better claim to the name Jew than do today's Khazar-Turks since their ancestors actually came from Judea.

8 "Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." Jasher 29:20

Summarizing Race & Religion

DNA samples among Northern European populations rarely indicate Jewish ancestry. Other populations often do. Thus, without more information, it is virtually impossible to identify an Arab, Syrian, Palestinian, Mexican, Chinese or African as "Jews" by race, because, unless they are recent arrivals, they look like their host populations. The identification process is further complicated by Jews concealing their identity by constantly changing their names and the use of plastic surgery.

It is equally difficult to distinguish by religion because while many profess Judaism, others profess other religions, and especially their hosts' religion. Still others profess atheism.

The question remains - If the people who call themselves "Jews" are not exclusively a race or exclusively a religion - what are they?

The answer: Jews - Part II.

Letter From South Africa

Dear Mr. Hoskins; Since my last letter, hell has been unleashed in Zimbabwe. Terrorists took possession of hundreds of farms and after getting rid of the White owners, they plundered all buildings and destroyed whatever they could not take away. Police vans assist them. It just came over the news that all whites must leave Zimbabwe immediately. A State of Emergency will be called by Mugabe. According to today's August 19th "Report, Mugabe's government has alerted South Africa, Botswana and Mozambique to prepare to accept white refugees. America and the European Union threaten wrist-slapping sanctions which no one takes seriously. It is a time of shame and sorrow for our poor people thrown out of their own country and allowed to take only one suitcase with them. Their crime is that they are White.

This last chapter started when a few farmers went to the assistance of another being mobbed. The police came but arrested the farmers instead of the terrorists. They stripped them naked, shaved their heads, and put them in prison. Some of them were not young and the prison clothes are thin for this winter weather. A few black policemen felt sorry and took them something warmer in the middle of the night. These police were fired the next day. To my mind Mugabe is shedding the last remenant of White civilization he learned at Jesuit schools and is reverting to the Black savage nature that has been beneath the surface all along.

His people will soon be starving as his people burnt crops and there is no surplus from last year. The worst for us is that the Blacks here see him as a hero and may well follow his example. As it is, about 9 farmers died there vs nearly 2,000 who have died here. S. Africa's Mbeki does nothing and didn't criticize Mugabe, so blacks see him as a hero. They don't give a thought about who will provide food, clothing, and medical attention tomorrow.

Every morning the early news lists the names of Whites killed in the last 24 hours. The English newspapers, except the Citizen, avoid the subject.

White farmers here allowed needy blacks to cut long grass for their own use. In repayment, the Blacks burned down a number of farms. We are long past caring for their feelings. They are a curse.

To add turmoil, their biggest union, Costu, has called strikes at many factories making matters worse. South Africa's economy is becoming a basketcase.

I hope to send you more on Zimbabwe. It used to be a wornderful country to farm in with a very mild winter temperature. Next door Zambia is so hot, before the rains come, that the locals call it "the suicide months". Families often send their children here to stay with family.

In '56-'57, Zambia was under colonial rule. The British rulers turned all of us over to Black rule so the blacks could dispossess us and they in turn could easily disposses the blacks. I hope and pray our present generation is going to fight it out and take back what is ours.

Pretoria University now takes black students who cannot read or write. These illiterates take the place of gifted white students. It just came over the news

S. Africa's black president Mbeki and his entourage stayed at Windsor Castle and enjoyed a state banquet held by the queen. As the Sunday Times said, it is the highest compliment one nation can pay another. No white nationalist head of state ever received this kind of treatment. Mbeki is being honored for following orders in his treatment of the Africaner.

Best Wishes, K.J.

ST JOHN'S EPISCOPAL: The following was written by the pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church in Lynchburg - the church that was recently host to Bishop Jack Spong - the church that gave Spong a standing ovation. The acorn doesn't fall far from the tree.

"Tidings - St. John's Episcopal Church, CONNECTIONS: Vol 20, No 8, Lynchburg, Virginia

"Dear People of St. John's,

"Sitting in a row on the lawn, the half dozen of them were gazing into the night. By their sides a few candles flickered. A full moon hung suspended above the horizon, silvering the whole canyon. A dog barked in the distance. Crickets chirped. The rest of the world was mute.

"They sat, black robed, and watched for only one reason: the full moon was rising. Nothing beyond that brought them there. Their world stood still for several hours simply to appreciate the beauty and majesty of a moonrise.

"These few are monks who live in a Zen Buddhist monastery in New Mexico. Bodhi Mandala has for ten years been the site of this retreat in which I was participating. Hosin, the abbess, is transparently holy. Holy not because she is religious or especially pious or caught up in acting wise, but because she is so real. Her eyes laugh. She chuckles as she hugs one of us. She infects me with joy, to the point that I find myself getting so comfortable in her presence that I quit noticing what I am saying. I stop editing what I am thinking. I find myself keeping quieter, and saying more clearly what I do say when I am talking to her. I see her running across the lawn, weeding the garden, wrapping a gift for a surprise party she is throwing to honor two of our group, or petting Adzu, the monastery's dog. She is a firefly beaming light among the shadows of the world. Her light and life draw me.

"I breathe deeply to drink in the scents of darkness. Traces of incense die in the cool air. Honeysuckle perfumes the porch on which it climbs. Newly mown grass offers a trailing protein odor.

"Flowing together for a few languid seconds, my own body and the body of the universe harmonize in simple easiness. I move as if I were the moon, my breath as light as the breeze, my inner song a peace as alive as the softly gurgling Jemez River.

"I do not even stop to think the thought that will come to me later. To register the scene is enough. The next morning it will occur to me that my life needs to stop more often to take somber note of full moons rising.

"And to see in all who bear it the True Light that enlightens everyone. And to feel the joy of its burning."

CENSORSHIP: Dr. Jerry Falwell, publisher of the National Liberty Journal, asserts that his messages must be edited prior to airing in Canada because Scripture references that proscribe sex outside of the traditional man/woman marriage bond are banned.

SAXON POPULATION REPLACEMENT: Gerhard Schroder, German chancellor, welcomed a proposal that allows at least 50,000 skilled aliens from outside the European Union to enter Germany every year to counter rapid population decline. Saxon populations historically decline when their agrarian habitat is destroyed, or when they are placed under alien rule, or when they have to compete with aliens who require a different habitat. SODOMY: Romans 1, Leviticus 18:22 and 20:13, and I Cor 6:9-10 all condemn the practice of sodomy. The Human Rights Commission of Saskatchewan, Canada, ruled that using these Biblical quotes in an advertisement amounts to hate speech, and ordered the Star Phoenix newspaper and H. Owens, who placed the ad, to pay three homosexual activists $1,500 for publishing the ad with the Biblical references to homosexuality. (Christian News, 7/23/01)

RKH: Muslim clerics know that the Christian Bible says, "O children of Israel ... You only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:1-2; "These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not unto the way of the Gentiles, and unto any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5-6; "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24; "For thou art not sent ... but to the house of Israel." Ps 147:19- 20; "The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

Muslims believe that Allah is similarly protective of his own people. They question intent: If the Christian God says he is sent to his own people - why do Christian missionaries come to Muslims except to enslave their minds to make them trade with "Christian" merchants that always follow the "Christian" missionary?

ALGERIA: The three forces in Algeria are the ITC dominated government, the Arabs and the Berbers. There has been recent violence in the Berber sector in which a teenager died. This violence has spread into the Arab region. Rioters have attacked and burned government buildings. Thus far 80 people have died. The Berbers said their uprising is a protest against abuses by the government security forces. The Berbers are demanding recogniton of their language. Recently a march by several hundred thousand was broken up by riot police in which two journalists were killed and nearly a thousand injured. The death toll was put at six. The present revolt started in the early '90s when the ITC goverment refused to step down when voted out of office. (Story in Financial Times June 18, 2001)

Chapter 325

JEWS - Part II
Race, Religion, or What?

Review

In "Jews - Part I" #324, we learned that Jews say that their religion does not resemble Christianity or the religion of the ancient Israelites. Jews deny that they worship the same God as do Christians.

We learned that "Jew" is really not their name but an adopted one.

We learned that "Jews" can be "Christian", "Muslim", "Hindu" or "Buddhist". We learned that the people who call themselves Jews tolerate all religious beliefs of their own kind and even tolerate Jewish "atheists".

We discovered that DNA has segregated many if not most Jews into two basic groupings - "priests" and "rank and file".

We discovered that most Jews deny being a distinct race and identify with White, Black, Turk, Arab, Chinese and Indians. At the same time, most seem to carry a similar DNA gene while being a mixture of many races.

Summary: : We discovered that Jews ARE NOT exclusively a "race" and ARE NOT exclusively a "religion". They say so themselves.

If not exclusively a race nor exclusively a religion, logic points to their being what is left - a thing called a "work union", a "guild" or, if they originated in India, a "caste".

Saxon Law

Saxons believe that ALL wisdom comes from the WORD, which is their Law.[1] They believe that they are made in the image of this Law and that ignorance of this Law of theirs is no excuse. This presbyterian belief in an unchanging Law system is different from alien episcopal law systems which have supreme leaders who constantly updates followers as to his and the gods' ever-changing moods and demands.

INDIA

India is the epitome of the episcopal system. Everything is episcopal - priests, kings & armies, and merchants. Its workers are episcopal. Its many gods are episcopal - each having holy men to interpret each god's wishes to the people.

---

1 Saxon Law forbids lying; stealing, murder, kidnaping, adulteration (of contracts, marriage or race), or contact with or working for aliens. Saxon Law demands that offenses be Lawfully punished. Failure to do so is itself a punishable offense.

My personal interest in India, its peoples and religions, stems from the following quote from a book studied by 1st century Christians:

> "The Word of God came to the serpent and said unto it ... be thou dumb; and speak no more, thou and thy race, because ... the ruin of my creatures happened through thee ... And a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the shore, and it landed in India."[2]

India! Serpent! A serpent is a messenger. India could well be the source of our torments. The door was now opened on India - its history, customs, and gods. Things came together and started making sense. Things like;

> "The Jews of K'ai-Fung-Foo themselves claim that they received their religion from India." J/E, p.33

Well! What else?

Alexander conquered India in 327 B.C. He left, went home, and King Asoka of India boasted that India had conquered the Greeks! How? Greek soldiers had just conquered India. Was Asoka talking about "Usury"? Was he talking about "Dharma"? How about BOTH "dharma" and "usury".[3]

In rapid order, the building blocks began to come together:

> "God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam plainly ... And God said to Adam ... look, O Adam, at him, who said of himself that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4

We know that "Adam" means MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance. "Man" is another word for "White" - "God said to 'Adam-man' ..."; But what about God being black and God being a woman?

2 I Adam & Eve 18:7-9, Lost Books, p14.

Siva

The Hindus of India believe that along with 200,000,000 other gods, that each of them is also a god. Over them all are three chief Gods. Brahma the creator; Vishnu the preserver is white, and Siva, sex-god and destroyer, is black. Temples all over India, especially in southern India contain statues of Siva engaged in sex with goddesses.

Siva - India's Dancing Sex God

Surrounding Siva is "The Force" that consists of the spirits of all living things. The "female" side of Siva is Kali - goddess of Death. All beliefs are merely different ways of looking at the Gods. All things are tolerated: Peace, war, suffering, health, sickness, good, bad, etc. Toleration permits all things to exist. Toleration - "Dharma".

The female representation of Siva is named Kali - Kali is the black goddess of death! "Can God be black? "Would God take the form of a woman?" The Hindus of India think so.

Specifics

Most Hindu castes are matriarchal and most Indian Gods are female.

What has all this to do with Jews?

 Jews are matriarchal.

What Else?

 Hindus think and breathe sex. Jews think and breathe sex. In this, Jews resemble most Indian Hindu castes.

Is there more?

 Jews have a great affinity for Blacks. When in proximity to each other they gravitate to each other like magnets. So do Indian Hindus.

DNA tests reveal that Jews have substantial Black admixture. This would account for this close affinity between Blacks and Jews. There is no place other than India that I can think of that such a general racial admixture could have taken place over an extended period.

Indian Hexagon

In India, the six pointed star is a symbol closely associated with Siva. Siva (Shiva), is the most popular Indian God. He most often pictured dancing with the hour-glass, the "drum of destiny", in one of his four hands. The hour glass shaped drum is represented by two triangles with the points touching each other in the middle. This represents "male" and "female". When they overlap you have the six pointed Hindu star of Siva. I have never been to a Hindu temple that did not contain this six-sided star - the symbol of the sexual union of male and female - the male joining the female. The Indian hexagon is found wherever Siva is worshiped.

 Jews use the Hindu Indian hexagon as their symbol and call it the Star Of David. In this respect, they resemble most Hindu castes.

Comparing Jews & Gypsies

A caste acts much the same as does a guild. English guilds performed specialized tasks just as unions do today. In spite of differences, the English shipbuilding guild and the London sewer cleaning guild resembled each other since they had the same background and in many ways had many things in common. The same applies to Indian castes.

The Gypsy

DNA tests say that Jews are closely related to Gypsies. This fact was known long before there were such things as DNA tests. Assuming that Gypsies are a vagabond caste, much different from the Jewish caste, they would still have many things in common if both have the same background. Linguistic Survey of India, Vol. xi., 1922, p. 11) E/B Gypsies, Vol. 11, p. 40, has this to say:

> "The Gypsies of Europe who, starting from the ancient Byzantine empire have traveled westwards and spread over Europe, America and Australia calling themselves by the name of Rom, the woman being Romni and the stranger Gazi. Many etymologies have been suggested for the word Rom. Miklosich identified it with Doma or Domba, a low caste of Upper India. This agrees with the view that 'the language of European Gypsies' shows many points of correspondence with the dialect of Indian Gypsy tribes such as the Doms. ... The language of the Gypsies of Europe, however, points to the extreme north-west of India and ...

> the hypothesis might be hazarded that members of the same vagrant race from which the Indian Gypsies are descended came up to the north-west and remained there long enough to adapt their language to the practice prevailing among frontier tribes.

This establishes that there are Indian castes who have moved out of India and flourish elsewhere. Not only that, but they have taken their customs with them. If one caste can do this - others can, too.

> "Albert Krantzius (Krantz), in his Saxonia (xi. 2), says that in the year 1417 there appeared for the first time in Germany a people uncouth, black, dirty, barbarous, called in Italian "Ciani," who indulge specially in thieving and cheating. ... They also carried with them letters of safe-conduct from the emperor Sigismond and other princes. ... This people have no country and travel though the land. They live like dogs and have no religion although they allow themselves to be baptized in the Christian faith. They live without care and gather unto themselves also other vagrants, men and women. Their old women practice fortune-telling, and whilst they are telling men of their future they pick their pockets." E/B Gypsies, 14th Ed., Vol. 11, p. 41))

This tells us that more than half a millennium ago it was noticed that Gypsies of India had a special relationship with Western kings. Their "letters of safe conduct" prove obligations of Western kings to these Gypsies or to another higher Indian caste to whom Western kings and the Gypsy caste are both obligated. Present day Gypsies still remain above the law and ply their trade worldwide with little interference from kings or their governments. The "enfiefment" still exists. This condition also exists today with the Jewish caste.

 The worldwide Jewish caste cannot be touched. Governments don't interfere with its operations. This special treatment also applies to most other Hindu castes wherever they are in the world. Witness the Indian worker caste in Fiji and New Zealand, the hotel management caste in America, and the South African Indian merchant caste, etc.

Religion

Gypsies had no God or heaven as we know it. Neither do Jews. Neither do the Hindus of India. They don't believe in heaven, either. They believe in reincarnation. Indian Hindus believe that when they die they will be reborn either in a better or worse state depending on their conduct on earth.

 I have known many Jews, but I never knew one who believed in a heaven or an afterlife. In this respect, they resemble Hindu India.

Sin

"Sin" does not exist in India. Good works benefit by being born in a higher state in the next reincarnation. Harmful acts are punished by being born in a lower state. All things are permitted that do not physically harm another. Those who physically harm others are "restrained" until they have been rehabilitated. The places of "rehabilitation" are called prisons.[4] "Sin" is a cultural thing. Many, if not most of the people in the world do not recognize its existence. To them, the things Saxons label Lawless such as "lying", "cheating", "stealing", etc. are minor character faults - one's way of doing business.

4 God the WORD authorizes only restitution" or execution. Whippings are for minor offenses. Imprisoning and making a slave of a Saxon is considered "kidnaping" (Deut 24:7).

Gypsies are great thieves. This is also true of most of India. In spite of its incredible wealth, India cannot build a Western style economy because lying and stealing are so deeply ingrained in business that contracts between Indians are virtually worthless.

 The expression, "to Jew" someone, is part of the language. In this respect, Jews resemble India. The Saxon "sin" concept does not exist in Hindu India nor among Jews - witness Hollywood, their lying pornographic media, etc.

Double Mindedness

Christian speakers hold forth on the subject of "double-mindedness".

> "A doubled minded man is unstable in all his ways." James 1:8; "Approach not integrity with a double heart, nor be associated with doubled-minded men." I Enoch 90:5

Most only scratch the surface of this fascinating subject and have no real idea of what they are talking about.

Years ago, when I was a stock broker I had a Jewish engineer customer. A nice chap. He was a great partisan of a certain well known political figure and enumerated his virtues at length. One morning a prominent Jewish newspaper made known its support of the opponent of this political figure. My engineer customer instantly changed his opinion to that of the newspaper's. I was shocked. My customer didn't bat an eye. He wasn't abashed or ashamed.

Non-Saxons tend to be like that. All of them. They are episcopal pack-beings. Jews especially. With few exceptions, cohesiveness and presenting a solid front is looked on as a matter of survival. They tend to obey their rulers without question. There are castes like that.

Follow this.

The Commandments of the Christian's God demands the death penalty for certain crimes. Talmudic-Judaism takes issue with this position:

The following is from the Jewish Encyclopedia:

> "It clearly appears that there was a tendency to reduce capital punishment... if not to abolish it altogether. That capital punishment... was stigmatized as "murderous" if it condemned to death more than one human being in the course of seven years. ... Tryphon and Akiba... saying, "Had we belonged to the Sanhedrin [during Judea's independence], no man would ever have been executed," as they would always have found some legal informalities by which to make a sentence of death impossible (Mak. i. 7a)." J/E p.558.

Many Saxons think that this argument defines the opinion of the Jews on the subject.

No indeed! In India, Indians accept ALL beliefs. Talmudic-Judaism also accepts All beliefs. Observe the following:

> Murder of non-Jew is approved if he is bound so that he dies of starvation, sunstroke, cold, lion, mosquitoes, in pit, with an arrow. (Sanhedrin 77a-77b)

The logic of the above is that it is the "starvation", "sunstroke", "cold" or "arrow" that killed the victim - these are the things that should be condemned - not the individual who arranged it.

So there you have it - FOR putting people to death or AGAINST putting people to death. Take your choice. If it is harmful for Jews to be in favor of putting people to death - they can quote chapter and verse from their religious books backing their argument. If it is beneficial to be FOR putting people to death - they can quote chapter and verse from their religious books to support their opinion.

This is true about most controversial things. The Talmud is full of arguments where one rabbi takes one position and another rabbi takes the opposite. Whatever the situation demands can be backed by religious quotes.

The tie breaker is always "the ruler", whether he is called a "holy man" or "master" as is done in India, or "rabbi" by the Jews.

 To Jews - Double-mindedness becomes "obedience to authority" - a virtue. Doublemindedness is an accepted way of life in India and Jews believe the same.[5]

More About Gypsies

The encyclopedia goes on:

> "Their religious views are a strange medley of the local faith, which they everywhere embrace, and some old-world superstitions which they have in common with many nations. Among the Greeks they belong to the Greek Church, among the Mohammedans they are Mohammedans, in Rumania they belong to the National Church. In Hungary they are mostly Catholics, according to the faith of the inhabitants of that country. E/B Gypsies, 14th Ed, Vol. 11, p. 41))

5 One cannot fault Jewish "doublemindedness". It is what they do in their businesses. It is far easier to condemn Christians for professing obedience to their God's Commandments and whose churches own banks that practice the capital crime of usury. These churches also tolerate sodomy, abortion murders, pedofiles, fornication, miscegenation, and strangers in their midst. The churches are the ones "having a form but denying the power thereof".

Jews do the same. While many Jews keep and advertise their adopted faith, many others in Protestant countries become protestant and in Catholic countries become Catholic.

 Jews frequently adopt the religion of their host nation. In this respect, they resemble the Indians of India who have no hesitation in switching Gods and adopting new ones.

Concerning the Gypsies, the Encloclypedia Britannica continues:

> "They have no ethical principles and they do not recognize the obligations of the Ten Commandments. There is extreme moral laxity in the relation of the two sexes, and on the whole they take life easily and are complete fatalists. At the same time they are great cowards and they play the role of the fool or the jester in the popular anecdotes of eastern Europe." E/B Gypsies, 14th Ed, Vol. 11, p. 41))

There is great similarity between Gypsies and Jews regarding the "extreme moral laxity in the relation of the two sexes." This is also true in India where one of the two most prominent Indian Gods is Siva -the sex god. The world of the Indian revolves about sex. The world of the Jew revolves about sex - witness Hollywood, sex in the media, the pornographic scene and prostitution.[6]

---

6 In India there are castes where wives have multi-husbands (like Hollywood). The women of some castes have sex only with men of higher castes. There are Indian temples where children of good families are given to the priests to make temple whores of them. They are called Deva-Dasi. Jewish comics crack jokes about the difficulty of finding a Jewish virgin. Former President Clinton's and Congressman Condit's paramours are examples. I have no knowledge of apologies or expressions of shame from the parents of the women involved.

Many have the impression that Hollywood starlets must be whores and the young men whoremongers before being permitted to screentest.

 Neither Gypsies nor Jews are considered to have high morals. In this respect, they resemble the castes of India.

Also:

 Both Gypsies and Jews produce large numbers of comics who play, dance, and act for customers engaged in games of chance. Witness Las Vegas and Ocean City. In India reside great masses of gamblers. There, and here, music, entertainment and gambling go together.

Gypsies and Jews are alike the castes of India in another respect.

> "They are far-famed for their music, in which they are unsurpassed. ... " Equally famous is the Gypsy woman for her knowledge of occult practices. She is the real witch; who knows charms to injure the enemy or to help a friend. She can break the charm if made by others.... The old Gypsy woman is also known for her skill in palmistry and fortune-telling by means of a special set of cards, the well-known Tarok (Tarot) of the Gypsies." E/B Gypsies, 14th ED, Vol. 11, p. 42))

When I was young, only one in eight or ten songs was about "love". Now, the Jewish presence in music is overwhelming and every song reeks of sex.

 Gypsies, Indians and Jews are noted for music that deals with sex. In this respect, they resemble the castes of India.

Also:

 Horoscopes and coverage of occult practices advertise the Jewish presence in newspapers. In this, they resemble the castes of India where horoscopes are in daily use and occult practices are the norm.

Then, there is the subject of marriage:

> "Their marriage system did not preclude marriage with nieces (brother's daughter) with grand-daughters or half sisters ... Marriages of aunt and nephew are rare. Cousin marriages were frequent. ... In the cross cousin marriage the daughter of the maternal uncle was preferred. Polygamy was practiced. ... These rites can be illustrated from India and elsewhere, and are in part fertility rites, in part, protective." E/B Gypsies, 14th Ed., Vol. 11, p. 42))

Inbreeding is customary among Gypsies and Indians, but among "Jews" it is so bad that the Jews have developed upwards of 30 different nervous diseases. Some of them peculiar to them alone.

 Inbreeding among Jews is notorious. In this, they resemble the castes of India.

Castes - Occupation

In India, there are countless castes grouped under four major headings. 1) Priest; 2) King and Army; 3: Merchant-Manager; 4: Worker.

Castes are allocated occupations and seldom venture into job descriptions that conflict with other castes. To do so results in "caste war". Castes having no competition may perform work outside its assigned caste monopoly.

In the West, upper caste "cohen" Jews fill sensitive jobs in religion, government, finance, media, and the professions.

"Other Jews" work as Merchants of one sort or another. A businesses may pay poorly but if the business is his own - it is acceptable. In the West at present, practically every job description is open to "other Jews" except that of "worker". In regards to that, their Talmud says; "No occupation is inferior to that of agricultural labor." Yeb 63a., Exh 161.[7]

 The difference in DNA between Cohen Jews and "other Jews" indicate a caste factor. Indian castes also differ in DNA factors.

Additions To Caste

Priests are the highest caste in India. There are many levels of priesthood. Many of these levels accept new priests from other castes IF they have a large following. The rational being that after the one with the large following dies - his followers will remain under the jurisdiction of other priests of the caste.

 This explains how such seemingly widely divergent personalities as the black Sammy Davis, Jr. and the white Marilyn Monroe were allowed to become Jews. This resembles the general operation of India's caste system.

Sodomy

Sodomy violates the WORD which is the Saxon's Law.[8] It does not violate the law of the Buddhist Hindus.

> "Alone among the major world religions, Buddhism does not condemn homosexuality or premarital sex. The 7 The Indian caste that invaded Fiji is an agricultural worker caste. That's what they do. Each caste occupies a position relative to other castes, either above or below, and not based on wealth. Each caste has its own protection and merchants. Its government is provided by priests. If they need a worker caste, indigenous natives may do the work until proper Indian castes can be imported.

8 "There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel." Deut 23:7

emphasis on Buddhism is on achieving a state of enlightenment, but the religion provides only guidelines, not strict commandments, as to how individuals should strive for this. Rape and adultery are considered misconduct, but an individual is free to engage in consenting sexual acts that do not violate marital monastic commitments." The Alyson Almanac, Church Policies on Gay Concerns, pp 234-239.

Neither does sodomy violate the Talmudic laws of the Jews:

"Unnatural connection is permitted to a Jew". Sanhedrin 58b

Jews are in the forefront of those working for the legalization of sodomy.

 In regards to sodomy, Jews appear to have the same sexual beliefs as do Hindu castes of India.

Person Of Priests Sacred

In India, the person of an Indian Master or Guru is sacred. To touch them is to defile them. He is looked upon as God on earth and his followers consider his person sacred. The same is true of Jewish Rabbis.

 The person of Jewish rabbis is sacred. To touch them is to defile them. This closely parallels the beliefs Indian castes hold about their holy men.

Rebirth

Buddhists have a ceremony where at puberty the males are accepted into the adult world. They say that the males are born again - they are thus twice born.

 Jews have a ceremony called "bar-mitzvah". At puberty the male children are born again into the adult world. They too are also twice born. This resembles an Indian caste ritual.

Indian Merchant Occupation By Race

The Jewish Enclopedia describing occupations of Indian-Jews states:

> "The Whites are engaged chiefly as merchants, the Blacks as fishermen, fruiterers, wood-choppers, or oil-pressers." J/E, Cochin, p.137

 In the Jewish nation living in Palestine today, "White" Jews are engaged chiefly as merchants. Black African-Jews and kindred Islamic Arab-Turks do the menial work. In this, they resemble an Indian caste.

Conclusion

Jews are not a just a race and they are not just a religion. They are something else. That something is a caste. If they act like a caste, talk like a caste, work like a caste - and evidence seems to be conclusive that they are a caste, then they must be a "caste". Not just ANY caste, but an "Indian" caste - one of many Indian castes, a caste that performs a special job.

If such is the case, and I believe the evidence is conclusive - the implications are enormous.

TRADE TOWERS

Our rulers allowed aliens to flood our lands, take our jobs, and rape, rob, and murder as they will. Aliens have used our land to plot, plan, train and stage their attack on the trade towers. There were 3,000 casualties in the towers and there have been more than a hundred times that number of casualties outside. Our rulers plan now is to deal with the carnage they are responsible for by turning our land into a police state and attacking foreign states.

Please!

It's time for the cry to be heard in the land, "Aliens go home!"

LETTERS

PROOF OF CRIME?: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: "'No weapon, no body, no crime" - this is the basis of Anglo-Saxon law.' Why does the media keep the ever-changing 6 million story alive after half a century? The evidence is flawed. The gas chambers (weapon) have been exposed as Soviet built tourist traps, and no great piles of ashes (bodies) have ever been discovered. Except for accusations from those who deny that Jesus is the Christ (witnesses) ("Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ?" I John 2:9), where is the crime? It seems that a new law has been manufactured where men can now be convicted on heresay evidence." P.Z. - Virginia

Chapter 326

UNDERSTANDING THE TOWERS

Basic Truths

Today's Evil Empire is Babylon. It is also named Tower of Babel; One World, Evil Empire, UN, New World Order, International Trade Cartel (ITC), Cartel etc. Its purpose - to unite the peoples of the world and rule them.

Babylon's opponent is the Separatist - those nations who object to being the building blocks of Babylon's Tower of Babel.

In its simplest terms - the contending forces in the world are Integration vs. Separation.

The Separatist and the Integrationist have separate religions. One religion is Separatist - the other Integrationist.

These two types of religion, and their peoples, are irreconcilable.

Integrationist religions accept other races, creeds, and nationalities as different manifestations of one god. The other doesn't.

Consequently, there are two kinds of religions, two kinds of priests, two kinds of politicians, two kinds of merchants, and two kinds of nations - "Separatist" and "Integrationist".

The Integrationist ideal has always been that the whole world become Integrationist.

Wheat From The Chaff

Among the world of irreconcilable Separatist nations are the Zionist-Jew and Islamic Arab-Turk.

The Zionist "Separatists" have a state. The "Integrationist" United States gave this state - free of charge - attack planes, attack helicopters, tanks, flamethrowers, bombs, missiles, and other weapons of war.

The "Separatist" Zionist state used this free war equipment to kill men, women and children of the "Separatist" Islamic states surrounding her. The slaughter continued year after year.

Under close observation by the intelligence agencies of the world's Integrationist states, bloodied Islamic-Turks at last struck back and commandeered airliners, using them as giant fire- bombs to destroy the Trade Towers and damage the Pentagon of the "Integrationist" US giant who had armed the Zionists.

In retaliation, the "Integrationist" US declared war on the "Separatist" Islamic state of Afghanistan which had no nationals among the attackers. There's a simple reason.

Summary

Babylon's imperium is Integration. Its policy is to incite Separatist nations to fight each other - such as the warfare between the Israeli state and its surrounding Islamic neighbors. When exhausted and unable to offer resistance, Babylon steps in and installs surrogate governments and begins the process of absorbing the survivors and making them into Tower building blocks.

Esau's Descendants

Right-wing speakers never tire of telling the world that "Jews" are the cause of all the world's ills; that they are Esau's descendants while we are Jacob's. They point to Scripture and the "Jews'" own statements:

(1) "Edom is in modern Jewry." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, 1925 edition, vol 5, p 41.

(2) "Esau (is) the father of the Edomites." Gen 36:8,9

(3) "Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

This is not the whole truth. The detail that the speakers leave out is that Jewish literature not only admits that "Jews" are descended from Esau-Edom but also that DNA tests show that the Askanazi and Sepharadic Jews are blood kin to the entire Arab- Turk world.

Since the Arab-Turk world has several times invaded, conquered, settled, and mixed their blood with the natives of India, the Indians are also sons of Esau. This adds another billion people.

This great mass of humanity are all sons of Esau - the Indians of India, Egyptians, Palestinians, Syrians, Iraqis, Algerians, etc. Since these people have also mixed their blood with Sicilians, Southern Italians, Southern Spaniards, Mexicans, S. Americans, and American Indians - ALL are sons of Esau. This is a vast number and they don't call themselves "Jews".

If those calling themselves "Jews" left the West - it would make the Cartel's job harder, but the Cartel would still own Western kings, priests, merchants, media, banks and industry. Since the Blacks, Mexicans and the rest of America's aliens commit more than 90% of the crime, if they accompanied the Jews, their departure would rid the country of most of its crime; Look at the latest 50 FBI most wanted on the internet. Only two whites were in the line-up.

These people would undoubtedly be happier living elsewhere among their own kind who appreciate their sterling qualities more than Saxons do. But, the fact is, allowing the Jews to depart would not solve our problems. The problem goes deeper.

Warlike

The sons of Esau are warlike, they fight among themselves. They fight each other because their ancestor Esau was warlike. That's the way they are made. Internecine war is the bane of their existence. Down through the ages one ruler after another has tried to unite these difficult people.

Attempts At Unity

The book, "The Crusades Through Arab Eyes", By Amin Maalouf, Schocken Books, NY ©1984 on p. 180 states that the great Arab leader Saladin directed his efforts "To unify the Arab world" to expel the Christian Crusaders. He did both.

Then, there was Genghis Khan: "Genghis Khan set about uniting the various Turkic and Mongol tribes of central Asia under his authority." p235.

The day will arrive when another son of Esau, a modern day Saladin, a Genghis Khan, or one having a third spiritual eye in his forehead.- a Hindu - will unite Arab, Jew, Turk and the rest, and lead them against their ancient common enemy - "Adam-man", Isaac's-son - today's "Saxon".

Egypt Invaded And Conquered

There is an ancient story that is interesting. It took place before Esau was born. Perhaps even before Nimrod. Read it a couple of times.

The story related by Manetho was old when it was recorded by Josephus, the historian who recorded the destruction of Jerusalem in the 1st century AD.

> "There was a king of ours, whose name was Timaus. Under him it came to pass, I know not how, that god was averse to us, and there came, after a surprising manner, men of ignoble birth out of the eastern parts, and had boldness enough to make an expedition into our country, and with ease subdued it by force, yet without our hazarding a battle with them.
>
> "So when they had gotten those that governed us under their power, they afterwards burnt down our cities, and demolished the temples of the gods, and used all the inhabitants after a most barbarous manner; nay, some they slew, and led their children and their wives into slavery.

"At length they made one of themselves king. and made (Egypt) pay tribute ...(Six of these rulers) were all along making war with the Egyptians, and were very desirous gradually to destroy them to the very roots. This whole nation was styled Hycsos ... but some say that these people were Arabians....

"After these ... the other parts of Egypt made an insurrection against (them), and a terrible and long war was made between them ... and (they) were indeed driven out of other parts of Egypt, but were shut up in a place ... named Avaris." ...

"They came to a composition with them, that they should leave Egypt, and go without any harm to be done them. ... and they built a city in that country with is now called Judea.'" Josephus Against Apion 1:14

The above is the account of the first building of the city of Jerusalem. The city was not originally built by Israelites, but by strangers who are probably the ancestors of both the Arab-Turks and the Khazar-Turks who are presently squabbling over this site. This may be one of the compelling reasons for wanting the site for themselves. They know its history.

It is also the story of how Hycsos-Turks conquered Egypt without "firing a shot". These people were expelled out of Egypt about 37 years before Abraham came out of Haran and before Isaac and Jacob/Israel or Esau were born. It's an old, old story. One we had better know. Conquest without firing a shot! "Make war by deception".

Jews The ITC Civil Servants

The Jewish Caste is the "civil service" of the International Trade Cartel. Members of this caste are chosen to be the grease that makes the world-wide Cartel machine run smoothly. They serve ALL Cartel installed governments, ALL Cartel owned corporations, and ALL Cartel approved religious organizations. If it is important to the Cartel - they are there.

The Jews are a caste and this is what the Jewish caste does - they are the ITCs "civil service". They don't "own" it - they operate it.

Zionists

Certain Jews, living mostly in the West, discovered a common background and separated into a sub-group calling themselves "Zionists". Not all Jews are Zionists, but those who respect their Khazarian descent are the ones who have become "Zionists". Like all Separatists - Zionist aspirations are a potential danger to the Cartel.

Zionism & Khazarea

Khazarea, a country once existing in Southern Russia north of the Black and Caspian Sea was a great empire. It was larger than Charlemagne's Empire and held 24 other nations in tribute.

This empire was broken up by Turk and Slav invasions and its people scattered. Their descendants migrated mostly to Eastern and Western Europe calling themselves by the generic name "Jew", even though many of them were actually "Christian", "Muslim", and "Buddhist". Madeline Albright is an example of a "Khazarian-Turk Christian- 'Jew'". Say that five times!

Books About Khazars

As Jewish interest in their heritage grew - books on past Khazarian glories poured from the presses:

> "The 13th Tribe", 1976; "The Jews of Khazaria", 1999; "Karaites in Byzantium", 1968; "When A Jewish Kingdom Ruled Southern Russia" 1994; "The History of the Jewish Khazars", 1967; "The Khazars", 1966; "Conversion to Judaism", 1965; "In Search Of a New Homeland", 1982: "The Lost Tribes", A Myth 1930; "Khazarian Hebrew Documents of the 10th Century", 1982; "Khazar Studies", 1980; "Russia and the Golden Horde", 1985; "Byzantium and the Khazars"; 1990; "The Myth of the Jewish Race", 1989; "The Khazars", 1989; "The Pre- Ashkenazic Jews of Eastern Europe" - in Relation to the Khazars, 1990; "The Ashkenazic Jews", A Slavo-Turkic People in Search of a Jewish Identity, 1996.

The list is extensive. The above books were randomly selected from long lists of such books. There are scores, hundreds, even thousands of books, articles, and references which are studied by intensely patriotic, nationalistic Khazar-Jews. They tell non- Jews, the "goy", that they are Jews because once their version of the Jewish religion was their primary "religion of choice". A Khazarian-Turk may practice any religion or none and paradoxically remain a "Jew".

Selecting Palestine

The site for the planned reconstituted Zionist state fluctuated from Eastern Russia, where a Jewish state was actually established and which exists today, to Madagasgar, Central America, and last - the Middle East where early Arab/Hycsos established the city called Jerusalem. Also, placing Zionist Separatists in the midst of "Separatist" Arab-Turks suited the long range Cartel plans.

Palestine had to be taken by force - the same way the Arab-Turks living there had gotten it. The resulting grinding war would reduce warlike Zionists and warlike Islam into a malleable product - a product happy to be integrated if it prevented more suffering.

The reborn Khazar state was named "Israel" for public relations reasons. It is a Cartel-created state governed by a Cartel- appointed government just like the governments of most of its Islamic neighbors. In Israel, Khazar kings are selected by its Cartel owned media. Their Cartel obligations are the same as the obligations of other Cartel kings.

ITC Exercises Control Over Israelis

All states develop state patriotism. Khazarian state patriotism is kept within bounds by Cartel-media "mob manipulation" just as is done in other states. In Israel, this proved inadequate, so, the ITC had the head-strong rabble rouser Rabbi Kahani and equally head- strong Premier Rabin assassinated. As a reminder, the airliner from Israel to Russia carrying 66 Jews was "accidentally" shot down by a missile allegedly from a Ukrainian military exercise as part of the continuing lesson.

The reconstituted Khazarian-Israel nation is a state like other states. They will do as they are told or they will wake up one morning finding that every other Arab will miraculously have a U.S. or Russian made anti-aircraft or anti- tank missile in his hands.

Two Prime World Forces

The two prime world forces are Integration and Separation. Everything is either "Integrationist" or "Separatist".

The world of the Integrationists and the world of the Separatists are polar opposites.

Farms are owned either by individuals or by farm-corporations - Separation vs Integration.

Businesses are owned either by individuals or by corporations. Politics and politicians are either Integrationist or Separatist.

Religions, priests and their organizations are either Separatist or Integrationist.

National Suppression

The list of national states who separated and have been crushed and reincorporated is lengthy. A few names are:

COVENANT SCOTLAND: This small "nation of leaders" was attacked by the English branch of the ITC century after century. Its land was burned and its people killed and persecuted. Plaid, pipes, and presbyterianism were outlawed. At the last, unable to subdue them, the conquerors cleared the lands of Scots, burned their villages and homes, and replaced them with sheep. This left Scotland a peaceful desert.

PURITAN ENGLAND: Allied with Scottish Covenanters, the Puritans killed the Cartel's king and almost drove the Cartel from England's shores. Betrayed by its leader, Oliver Cromwell, a Cartel "sleeper", the Puritans were crushed. Most of the survivors jointed their Scottish kinsmen overseas.

HUGUENOTS: Rejecting the Cartel's king, the Huguenots formed a presbytery of independent businessmen and farmers. The Cartel's king and priest came with words of goodwill and tolerance. When their words were believed they issued orders to kill every Huguenot in the land. Hundreds of thousands were exterminated and more refugeed to Germany, England, America, S. Africa, and other countries.

THE SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY: The Southern Self Sufficient Farm System (SSFS) prevented North America from being incorporated into the Cartel. The War Between The States was fought to destroy the Southern Nation.

BOER REPUBLICS: The two South African Boer republics independent of Cartel control had to be destroyed.

RUSSIA: King and religion were one. The Cartel killed the king and his nobles and 20-30 million Russian-Saxon land and business owners - and took the ownerless assets in the name of the people. It is now privatizing these assets into Cartel hands.

GERMANY: The German State found a leader and attempted to free itself from Cartel domination. It had to be suppressed before others joined the rebellion.

JAPAN: The independent Japanese state was destroyed so that its government could be transferred to Cartel rule and its assets transferred to Cartel ownership.

CHINA: Independent feuding warlords ruled a nation whose land rested firmly in the hands of families. ITC bankers financed Mao who destroyed both warlords and land owners. The state took the land and industry in the name of the people and is now privatising it into Cartel corporations as was done in Japan.

KOREA: Same as China.

VIETNAM: Ho Chi Min, a CIA agent of the "Integrationist" U.S posed as a "Separatist". He led a Communist revolt in the North. The US supported S. Vietnam. The US then murdered S. Vietnam's ruler and its CIA operatives murdered 50,000 S. Vietnamese land and factory owners. This "ownerless" property was then seized by Communist conquerors who are now "privatizing" it into the Cartel.

INDONESIA: The U.S. forced Holland to grant Indonesia independence at the end of WWII. Its present Cartel government is still in the process of crushing warlords and independence movements.

FIJI: Little Fiji overthrew Indian Cartel overlords and is now an outcast country which is still ruled by a Cartel banker but with a fiercely nationalistic people. They will not allow the Cartel ruler and his army to re-incorporate the nation back into the Cartel. The situation is most interesting.

ALGERIA: ITC media divided the country into the usual "right", "left", and "independent" political parties. The usual "democratic" election was held. The people, under Islamic leaders, voted the Cartel parties out of office. The Cartel was out - entirely out! Islam was in! The Cartel government refused to step down because the newly elected government was Islamic- Separatist. This precipitated a civil war. Thus far 100,000 lives have been lost and Algeria still has not been brought back into the Cartel. Interesting situation.

YUGOSLAVIA: Separatist Orthodox-Christian Kosovo Slavs were displaced by Separatist Islamic Turks who gradually occupied the land. This is the traditional Turk method of conquest; first a family, then a village, then the whole land.

The Slavs attempted to eject them. This gave an excuse for the US, the Cartel's hammer, to bomb Separatist Yugoslavia back into the 19th century killing thousands in the process[1] and insert a Cartel friendly government. But, the people remain anti-Cartel. Another interesting situation.

ISLAM: The lands of the vast Ottoman Empire in the Near East became allied booty following WWI. They divided these lands into "states". The Cartel then installed Cartel friendly governments, religious leaders, and bank and media managers as is the usual ITC custom.

From top to bottom, these lands became parts of the International Trade Cartel - but not the people. Islam's nation is their religion - not slices of real estate.

Also, the Arab-Turks did not like their former Ottoman overlords and they did not like their new appointed rulers. Rallying around Islam's green flag, their history since WWI has been that of one revolt after another.

Islam required that Cartel usury banking be abandoned for Islamic "no-interest" banking. It demanded "religious-political" leaders, police enforcement of Islamic law, and an Islamic media.

Iran and Afghanistan revolted and banished their ITC appointed king, becoming rebel states. Iraq still has Saddaam Hussein, a former CIA agent as its ruler, but the people lean strongly toward Islam. Saudi Arabia's wealthy Cartel king hangs on to his throne by the skin of his teeth as does 1 "Hammer": Turk mafia-slang for enforcer.

Pakistan's. Most of Islam's rulers belong to the Cartel but the people themselves belong to Allah.

The International Trade Cartel is in danger of having a billion people of the Islamic Nation slip from its control.

The Enemy

"Nationalism", "breaking away", "Separatism" - this the enemy. Whether it is Islamic religious nationalism, Saxon racial- religious nationalism, or Jewish Zionism, Separatism is the enemy.

It's no accident that the Confederate flag is demonized as a "hate symbol" - it is a symbol of separation. Reform Christianity is labeled "Identity-hate" because it is Christian-Separatism and persecuted. The murder of Rhodesian-Saxons and S. African Boer Saxons is unnoticed by the Cartel-media because they are Separatist. "Christian" Basques and "Islamic" Kurds are persecuted because they are Separatists. The "Ten Commandments" are banned because it is part of a Separatist law system that challenges the existence of the Cartel.

The enemy of the Integrationist is the one who will not integrate - the Separatist. It has always been so. The Tower of Babel will fall as its building blocks are pulled away. Each Separatist nation speaking a different language as it leaves.

A Midsummer Night's Dream

The Cartel's nightmare is a meeting attended by the world's nations - all having irreconcilable difference: Sharon the Jew, Bin Ladin the Turk, a Chaka-Zulu black, and a Saxon like Bedford Forrest:

And, if this unlikely group were to agree on just one thing:

"All nations have the right to be left alone."

Babylon would have a problem. No discussion of "brotherhood" or "tariffs or business". Just the agreement that: "All nations have the right to be left alone."

Conclusions

Failing the unlikely realization of the "Midsummer Night's Dream" above, I believe that everything is going according to the Cartel Plan.

It appears that the Cartel knew of the Towers project from its conception and used the incident as an excuse to attack Afghanastan because it had separated from the Cartel.

I believe that the ITC believes that the American "hammer" will prevail and that Islamic Separatism will be crushed and Islam will be returned to the Cartel fold, exhausted and whimpering, but returned.

I believe that if the Cartel succeeds in subduing Islamic Separatism, Cartel suppression will expand to include Separatist movements worldwide - Germany, America, Slavic Russia, China, Fiji, Indonesia - and even Israel whose Zionists give lip service to the ITC but are actually more interested in their reborn Khazaria than acting as the Cartel's "civil service".

I believe that if the Tower of Babel is restored, a Saladin will come forth to lead the whole against the Saxon remnant because it is written:

> "I will ... put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts [of armour, even] a great company [with] bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords." Eze 38:4

I believe that this will include China, because in the George Lamsas' translation of the Bible of the ancient Eastern Text translated from the Aramaic, it is written:

> "Son of man, set your face against China, and against the land of Mongolia, the chief prince of Mesheck and Tubal, and prophesy against him and say, Thus say the Lord God: Behold I am against you, O China, the chief prince of Mesheck and Tubal: I will gather your people together and put a bridle in your jaws and I will bring you forth out of your country, both you and all your army ... Persians, Ethiopians, and Lybians with them ... Gomar and all her army, the house of Togarmah, and the uttermost parts of the north with all their hosts, and many other people who are with you. ...
>
> "Son of man ... say to China, Thus says the Lord God: On that day when my people Israel shall dwell in tranquillity, ... you shall come up against my people Israel, like a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days, ... my anger shall be consumed in my fury and zeal ... and ... the earth shall shake ... and the mountains shall be thrown down and the towers shall fall and every wall shall tumble to the ground. ...
>
> "Behold I am against you, O China, the ruler and the chief prince of Mesheck and Tubal; ... I will send a fire on Mongolia, and on the people who dwell peacefully in the Islands (Japan); and they shall know that I am the Lord. ... I will give to China a place there for burial in the land of Israel ... and there they shall bury China and all his army." (Ezekiel 38 & 39)[2]

China, with Esau and his hordes will be led to Ragnarack to meet their promised Armageddon. And the result of this meeting has also been written:

> "And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel." Eze 39:11

JEWISH REINCARNATION: Rabbi Ovadia Yosef, leader of the biggest ultra-Orthodox Shas Party in Israel, said that the 6-million who died in the Holocaust "died because they were reincarnations of sinners". Israel's Chief Rabbi Israel Meir Lau said "Judaism has a concept of reincarnation and of the righteous dying to atone for sin in a previous life." (Story in The Journal Times, Aug 7, 2000.)

RKH: Reincarnation is a Hindu concept where one's acts condemn him to a better or worse condition in his next lifetime. How else can Judaism's concept of reincarnation account for the unfortunate demise of the 6-million, mythical or not?

Chapter 327

BIN LADEN'S SPEECH

To justify suppression, Cartel propaganda labels separatists as "terrorists".

There are two kinds of separatists: "Economic" and "religious". Economic separatists have their own "money system" and religious separatists have a separate "law system". Both are anathema to the Cartel which has a monopoly money system of its own and a law system of its own which it uses to support its monopoly money system. It is Cartel policy to destroy competitors.

Surprise Attack

The attack on the Towers provided an excuse to wage war on "terrorists" world wide.

Prior warning of the impending attack had been issued by Israel, London, and the Philippines and was printed in a September 23 article by the Washington Post expressly pointing to the Towers as one of the objectives.

Speculators cashed in on information of the impending attack and made a bundle speculating in stock market shorts and put options.

Tens of thousands of lives were saved when workers stayed home and only a "handful" showed up for work instead of the usual 75,000 - 90,000 who are normally present for work at the Towers.

The Port Authority of New York City built the Towers. Just before their destruction it sold them to private parties who of course heavily insured them. It would be interesting to learn if the private buyers made a bundle from insurance money after paying the Tower's bank mortgage. Such details have thus far been kept secret.

Our nation's leaders' "chance absence" from the target sites gives credence to the charge that they knew of the impending attack. Winston Churchill, during WWII, chanced to be absent during most of London's air raids. After the war it was learned that before each air raid he had been given warning gained from broken German codes. Before the air attacks came he left town without warning others. It would be interesting to learn if our own fire breathing leaders are "Churchill types".

Chosen Target

Separatists destroy cartels. Cartels cannot tolerate serious separatists. Separatist Islamic states have Islamic law systems and have developed non-usury economic systems. Over the years they have quietly slipped away from Cartel rule.

To return these rebels to the cartel, force is often necessary. Before a state can go to war against another state it is wise to secure popular support. Popular support is obtained by having targeted victims commit the first hostile act, as was done in the cases of Fort Sumter, "Remember the Maine", "Pearl Harbor". etc. The hostile act is followed by a recitation of crimes, atrocities, and other unlawful acts the victim committed. Because "they deserve what they are getting" the public excuses Cartel excesses that follow.

There being no direct connection between the rebel state of Afghanistan and the Towers, the Cartel declared that war would be waged against states and individuals who furnished sanctuary to the terrorists and gave them help or training facilities. In this manner the door opened to accuse any separatist, individual or state, of furnishing moral, monetary, or physical help to the attackers with the Cartel being judge, jury and executioner.

Most of the terrorists' training was done in the American states of Florida and Wisconsin, but the Cartel graciously excluded these states from being considered for punishment and chose instead for its first target the small separatist country of Afghanistan - which offended the Cartel by using separtist Islamic law and separatist no-interest banking.

The Enemy's Face

A rich Saudi Arabian, who had formerly worked with the CIA, was fingered to be the "Simon Legree" of the enemy. (Simon Legree was a fictional overseer of Southern slaves who was used before the war to demonize the South and excuse Cartel excesses that followed Fort Sumter.)

As an interesting aside, in recent years the leaders of most of America's enemies have at one time or another been on America's payroll or have worked as America's close ally. This includes everyone from Trotsky to Ho Chi Minh, Sadaam Hussein and now bin Laden. Lightning constantly striking the same place attracts attention.

Bin Laden's Speech

Mr. Osama Bin Laden denied participation in the Towers attack, but defended the actions of the Tower's attackers. I must apologize in advance for the length of his speech, but Arabs cannot say "hello" briefly. I have also taken the liberty of highlighting what I consider to be key words and phrases and including my own comments in italics. I also numbered the paragraphs for reference.

Mr. Bin Laden's speech follows:

> 1. "We praise God, seek His help, and ask for His forgiveness. We seek refuge in God from the evils of our souls and our bad deeds. A person who is guided by God will never be misguided by anyone and a person who is misguided by God can never be guided by anyone. I bear witness that there is no God but Allah alone, Who has no partner.

Christians believe that all who deny the WORD are liars and anti- christs. Muslims believe that all wisdom comes from Allah alone. Jews believe that the world must be ruled by Talmudic law. Each makes his law system supreme when having the power to do so. Each is a different law system supported by its own religion that can potentially conflict with universal Cartel law.

Attacks divide world:

2. "Amid the huge developments in the wake of the great strikes that hit the United States in its most important locations in New York and Washington, a huge media clamour has been raised. This clamour is unprecedented. It conveyed the opinions of people on these events. ...

Muslims recognize that the media in Islam is universal and speaks with one voice - and that voice is not Muslim.

3. "After the strikes on Afghanistan began ... those who were happy about striking the United States felt sad when Afghanistan was hit, and those who felt sad when the United States was hit were happy when Afghanistan was hit. These groups comprise millions of people.

"Barbaric" West

4. "The entire West, with the exception of a few countries, supports this unfair, barbaric campaign, although there is no evidence of the involvement of the people of Afghanistan in what happened in America. The people of Afghanistan had nothing to do with this matter.

Bin Laden seems oblivious to the fact that Cartel merchants will not chance running the long proposed international "north-south" oil pipeline through Afghanistan until that country is once again safely governed and policed by cartel police.

5. "The campaign, however, continues to unjustly annihilate the villagers and civilians, children, women, and innocent people. The positions of the two sides are very clear. Mass demonstrations have spread from the farthest point in the eastern part of the Islamic world to the farthest point in the western part of the Islamic world, and from Indonesia, Philippines, Bangladesh, India, Pakistan to the Arab world and Nigeria and Mauritania.

a. Conquerers from Attila and Genghas Khan to Chaka-Zulu punished revolt by making revolt prohibitively painful. b. Mass demonstrations demonstrating Islamic unity also demonstrate manipulation of Islamic popular opinion: bombing civilians does the same to Islam that the Tower's attack does to the West. Polarization. East against West. A situation the Cartel desires.

War "fundamentally religious":

6. "This clearly indicates the nature of this war. This war is fundamentally religious. The people of the East are Muslims. They sympathized with Muslims against the people of the West, who are the crusaders. Those who try to cover this crystal clear fact, which the entire world has admitted, are deceiving the Islamic nation. They are trying to deflect the attention of the Islamic nation from the truth of this conflict. This fact is proven in the book of God Almighty and in the teachings of our messenger, may God's peace and blessings be upon him. Under no circumstances should we forget this enmity between us and the infidels. For, the enmity is based on creed.

a. Muslims recognize that each religion teaches its own irreconcilable law system. The Cartel law system is "business law" that contains elements of all religions and all law systems. It is known as "Hinduism". Hinduism is the merchant's "business law-religion".

b. "Crusader" - a term of extreme reproach in Islam.

c. All separatists and those posing as separatists prove the truth of their statements by the words of their God. Bin Laden proves the truth of his speech by reference to Allah, the Koran, and Mohammad the messenger of Allah.

Muslims must stand together:

7. "We must be loyal to the believers and those who believe that there is no God but Allah. We should also renounce the atheists and infidels. It suffices me to seek God's help against them. God says: 'Never will the Jews or the Christians be satisfied with thee unless thou follow their form of religion.' It is a question of faith, not a war against terrorism, as Bush and Blair try to depict it. ...

8. "The masses of Islam which moved in the East and West have not done so for the sake of Osama. Rather, they moved for the sake of their religion. This is because they know that they are right and that they resist the most ferocious, serious, and violent Crusade campaign against Islam ever since the message was revealed to Muhammad, may God's peace and blessings be upon. After this has become clear, the Muslim must know and learn where he is standing vis-a-vis this war.

"Crusade" again! The charge colors a Muslim's thinking and is an excuse for his own excesses.

"Crusader war":

9. "After the US politicians spoke and after the US newspapers and television channels became full of clear crusading hatred in this campaign that aims at mobilizing the West against Islam and Muslims, Bush left no room for doubts or the opinions of journalists, but he openly and clearly said that this war is a crusader war. He said this before the whole world to emphasize this fact.

Hammer the word "Crusader"!

10. "What can those who allege that this is a war against terrorism say? What terrorism are they speaking about at a time when the Islamic nation has been slaughtered for tens of years without hearing their voices and without seeing any action by them? But when the victim starts to take revenge for those innocent children in Palestine, Iraq, southern Sudan, Somalia, Kashmir and the Philippines, the 'rulers' ulema (Islamic leaders) and the hypocrites come to defend the clear blasphemy. It suffices me to seek God's help against them.

Unlike the WORD which is simple - Islamic laws are fuzzy. They always need interpretation. The interpretation is left to the ruler who doubles as a holy man or who depends on holy men for his opinions. The Cartel's media-selected rulers that govern Islamic countries are as bad as those in the West. Their continuous "blasphemy" has put most governments at odds with the peoples they are supposed to rule. Algeria is a perfect example. There, the ITC-appointed government was voted out of office by the people, but the government will not step down. It still continues to rule the people who are in open revolt.

11. "The common people have understood the issue, but there are those who continue to flatter those who colluded with the unbelievers to anesthetize the Islamic nation to prevent it from carrying out the duty of jihad so that the word of God will be above all words. The unequivocal truth is that Bush has carried the cross and raised its banner high and stood at the front of the queue. Anyone who lines up behind Bush in this campaign has committed one of the 10 actions that sully one's Islam. Muslim scholars are unanimous that allegiance to the infidels and support for them against the believers is one of the major acts that sully Islam.

Islamic separatists recognize that most of Islam's rulers, holy men and great merchants are Cartel assets beholden to the Cartel above Allah and the people of Islam.

Latest stage in "Crusade":

12. "There is no power but in God. Let us investigate whether this war against Afghanistan that broke out a few days ago is a single and unique one or if it is a link to a long series of crusader wars against the Islamic world.

Bin Laden recognizes that the Afghanistan war is only the first step in a war to exterminate the separatist Islamic movement worldwide.

13. "Following World War I, which ended more than 83 years ago, the whole Islamic world fell under the crusader banner - under the British, French, and Italian governments. They divided the whole world, and Palestine was occupied by the British.

14. "Since then, and for more than 83 years, our brothers, sons, and sisters in Palestine have been badly tortured. Hundreds of thousands of them have been killed, and hundreds of thousands of them have been imprisoned or maimed.

"Crusade" against Chechens:

15. "Let us examine the recent developments. Take for example the Chechens. They are a Muslim people who have been attacked by the Russian bear which embraces the Christian Orthodox faith. Russians have annihilated the Chechen people in their entirety and forced them to flee to the mountains where they were assaulted by snow and poverty and diseases. Nonetheless, nobody moved to support them. There is no strength but in God.

As a devout Muslim, bin Laden conveniently forgets that this land was Christian land long before it was Muslim. Christendom and Islam have irreconcilable differences. It is these differences that the Cartel uses to manipulate each in turn.

"Crusade" against Bosnia:

16. "This was followed by a war of genocide in Bosnia in sight and hearing of the entire world in the heart of Europe. For several years our brothers have been killed, our women have been raped, and our children have been massacred in the safe havens of the United Nations and with its knowledge and cooperation. Those who refer our tragedies today to the United Nations so that they can be resolved are hypocrites who deceive God, His Prophet and the believers.

Bosnia was also a Christian land long before the Muslims seized it.

UN "collusion":

17. "Are not our tragedies but caused by the United Nations who issued the Partition Resolution on Palestine in 1947 and surrendered the land of Muslims to the Jews? It was the United Nations in its resolution in 1947. Those who claim that they are the leaders of the Arabs and continue to appeal to the United Nations have disavowed what was revealed to Prophet Muhammad, God's peace and blessings be upon him.

Islam recognizes that the UN is basically a Cartel agency and that it is futile to appeal to them.

18. "Those who refer things to the international legitimacy have disavowed the legitimacy of the Holy Book and the tradition of Prophet Muhammad, God's peace and blessings be upon him. This is the United Nations from which we have suffered greatly. Under no circumstances should any Muslim or sane person resort to the United Nations. The United Nations is nothing but a tool of crime. We are being massacred everyday, while the United Nations continues to sit idly by.

Separatist nations, to survive, must sooner or later agree that "all nations have irreconcilable differences and they all have the right to be left alone.

Kashmir and Chechens:

19. "Our brothers in Kashmir have been subjected to the worst forms of torture for over 50 years. They have been massacred, killed, and raped. Their blood has been shed and their houses have been trespassed upon. Still, the United Nations continues to sit idly by.

Separatist Muslims live in Kashmir. They follow Islamic law. Over the border are Muslim-Hindus loyal to India. They follow Islamic ritual but tolerate other law systems in addition to Islamic law. The same situation exists in Christendom.

The WORD is Law to the Christian separatist. Christian-Hindus follow Christian ritual but tolerate the law systems of other Gods. It's just business.

> 20. "Today, and without any evidence, the United Nations passes resolutions supporting unjust and tyrannical America, which oppresses these helpless people who have emerged from a merciless war at the hands of the Soviet Union. Let us look at the second war in Chechnya, which is still under way. The entire Chechen people are being embattled once again by this Russian bear. The humanitarian agencies, even the US ones, demanded that President Clinton should stop supporting Russia. However, Clinton said that stopping support for Russia did not serve US interests. A year ago, Putin demanded that the cross and the Jews should stand by him. He told them: You must support us and thank us because we are waging a war against Muslim fundamentalism. The enemies are speaking very clearly. While this is taking place, the leaders of the region hide and are ashamed to support their brothers.

Both Putin and Bush are cartel appointees. Both wage war on Muslim separatists. Tomorrow, both will wage war on Saxon separatists whom they already call "homegrown terrorists". Today, Jewish Zionists laugh at our discomfort. Day after tomorrow will come the turn of Zionist separatists.

East Timor and Somalia:

> 21. "Let us examine the stand of the West and the United Nations in the developments in Indonesia when they moved to divide the largest country in the Islamic world in terms of population. This criminal, Kofi Annan, was speaking publicly and putting pressure on the Indonesian government, telling it: You have 24 hours to divide and separate East Timor from Indonesia. Otherwise, we will be forced to send in military forces to separate it by force. The crusader Australian forces were on Indonesian shores, and in fact they landed to separate East Timor, which is part of the Islamic world. Therefore, we should view events not as separate links, but as links in a long series of conspiracies, a war of annihilation in the true sense of the word. In Somalia, on the excuse of restoring hope, 13,000 of our brothers were killed. In southern Sudan, hundreds of thousands were killed.

Palestinians and Iraqis:

22. "But when we move to Palestine and Iraq, there can be no bounds to what can be said. Over one million children were killed in Iraq. The killing is continuing. As for what is taking place in Palestine these days, I can only say we have no one but God to complain to. What is taking place cannot be tolerated by any nation. (Even) ... animals would not tolerate what is taking place. A confidant of mine told me that he saw a butcher slaughtering a camel in front of another camel. The other camel got agitated while seeing the blood coming out of the other camel. Thus, it burst out with rage and bit the hand of the man and broke it. How can the weak mothers in Palestine endure the killing of their children in front of their eyes by the unjust Jewish executioners with US support and with US aircraft and tanks?

The ITC controls the creation of all money. In each country there is a political "right", "left", and "independent". Each is cartel-led and can quickly come to power with Cartel money. With countries it is the same.

Today there is America, Israel, and Islam - with Russia and China waiting to be armed. The US and Israel are beating up Islam. Cartel money can create any combination that is good for business; US & Israel vs Islam & China. US & Islam vs Israel & China; US vs Israel, Islam & the West vs China . The Cartel always plays nations against nations and race against race. It works amazingly well, and the media muddies the water so that the victims never catch on.

Israel and US "are one":

> 23. "Those who distinguish between America and Israel are the real enemies of the nation. They are traitors who betrayed God and His prophet, and who betrayed their nation and the trust placed in them. They anesthetize the nation. These battles cannot be viewed in any case whatsoever as isolated battles, but rather, as part of a chain of the long, fierce, and ugly crusader war. Every Muslim must stand under the banner of "There is no God but Allah and Muhammad is God's Prophet."

This is shortsighted. Jewish interests, deprived of Cartel money would separate Israel from the US overnight. Saxon nationalists say this will never happen. Perhaps not. But Zionism is a world force potentially as dangerous to Cartel interests as any other nationalist separatist movement. If the Jews actually own the money-creating process instead of being mere managers - that is one thing. If not - the Jews may help the Cartel subdue the world separatists and hang themselves.

> 24. "I remind you of what our Prophet, may God's peace and blessings upon him, told Ibn Abbas, may God be pleased with him. He told him: I am going to teach you a few words. Obey God, He will protect you. Obey Him, you will find Him on your side. If you ask for something, ask God. If you seek help, seek the help of God. You should know that if all people come together to help you, they will only help you with something that God has already preordained for you. And if they assemble to harm you, they will only harm you with something that God has already preordained for you. God wrote man's fate and it will never change.

25. "I Tell the Muslims who did their utmost during these weeks: You must continue along the same march. Your support for us will make us stronger and will further support your brothers in Afghanistan. Exert more efforts in combating this unprecedented war crime.

26. "Fear God, O Muslims and rise to support your religion. Islam is calling on you: O Muslims, O Muslims, O Muslims.

27. "God bear witness that I have conveyed the message. God's peace and blessings be upon you.[1]

Observations

Follow The Money

The WORD has much to say about wealth and the wealthy.[2] Bin Laden is very rich. It is said that he is rich because he inherited money from his father. His father is said to be rich because his construction business received contracts from the ruler of Saudi Arabia. The ruler of Saudi Arabia was put on his throne by British rulers when the Ottoman Empire was dismembered. His billions come from a share of the profits from Cartel oil companies. It appears that Mr. bin Laden, while undoubtedly an Islamic patriot, is also a Cartel asset who may or may not owe his primary allegiance to Islam.

1 Internet news release by Osama bin Laden, Nov 10, 2001: Copied from: (Euro-Canadian News Service, (http://www. jeffsarchive.com/misc/ Speech%20of%20Osama%20B in%20Laden%20Broadcast %20on%20November%203, %202001.html)

2 Most of the world's billionaires merely manage cartel wealth and obey its orders. The occasional Bunker Hunt billionaire is soon hunted down and ruined.

Crusade

Bin Laden constantly speaks of "Crusade". The Crusades lasted several hundred years. Even if bin Laden has forgotten, we remember: There was an initial Islamic Crusade; then a series of Christian Crusades that are in our history books; then an Islamic Crusade that pushed all the way to Vienna and into Yugoslavia; and now a "Christian" Crusade. Crusades are good for business but costly in collateral damage. Think! Another perpetual war between Christendom and Islam! An armed China and Russia ready to throw their weight to one side or the other. A never ending market for expensive expendable military hardware. It's a merchant's paradise - and so familiar.

Conclusion

In the process of generating a Crusade mentality, The U.S., the Cartel "hammer", incited Islam for years. At last Islam retaliated. It was long in coming and the retaliation rolled out like a slow motion movie under the watchful eye of all the parties who would profit from it.

This is what "The Towers" incident achieved for the Cartel:

* The Towers excuse is used to destroy Islamic rebels who have broken away from the Cartel; to punish them so severely that others will think twice about following their lead (the true state of affairs in Afghanistan is being concealed to spare the tender sensibilities of the American public). And;

* The "war on Terrorism" permits re-installation of Cartel puppet kings who have been deposed by separatist nationalist forces: And;

* It puts the U.S. on a war footing allowing it to use up expensive stockpiled armaments and purchase more; a help to the ailing world economy. And,

* It relieves Islamic pressure on the Cartel established Israeli state which channels arms, agents, and propaganda to the world's future combatant power-blocs - China, Islam, India, S. America and the rest, And;

* It Incites Islam's "Crusade" frame of mind which replaces the now defunct "Cold War" - with China, Russia and others as tomorrow's "balance of power".

What the Cartel did to Black Separatists in Somolia last week, Slavic Separatists in Yugoslavia yesterday and is doing to Islam's Separatists today - most certainly will be done to Saxon Separatists tomorrow.

Setting the stage for the coming crack-down, a whole galaxy of propaganda terms have been manufactured: "Terrorist", "terrorist state", "separatist", "religious fanatic", "Identity", "super nationalist", "Christian-Nationalist", etc.

It's time that Saxons teach Saxons that their only salvation is obedience to God the WORD - which is their Law. The bloody events of the past several months are proof that the Cartel means to preserve Babylon's golden tower regardless of costs.

We've been this way before. We've read the last chapter. Babylon has a rough row to hoe. We can take anything she brings against us and still say:

 All nations have irreconcilable differences. All nations have the right to be left alone.

Do these words doom the Saxon to death? Not hardly!

"Thus saith the Lord which giveth the sun ... and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me." Jeremiah 31:35-36.

The Saxon is invincible!

Letter From S. Africa by K.H.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins:

"Economic conditions have caused contributions to white causes to decline considerably. The big Jewish chain stores give abundantly to black causes, but not to white ones. Our farmers have been burned and cleaned out, with cattle, sheep, pigs and chickens stolen. The fruit the blacks sell next to the road comes from some poor farmer whose trees they stripped. A locust has nothing on them.

"The orphans at Bronkhorstspruit are nearly in their own home. It has been paid for and decent people look after them.

"The condition of whites is not good. They are heavily taxed and fat blacks in parliament refuse to pay their own children's school fees. To say it lightly, I hate them and those who put them there. The biggest mistake our people made was to believe the media who said that we owe them and that they are capable of ruling.

"We have an E-news reporter who was allowed into Afghanistan. Nightly, the TV shows pictures of dead civilians, bombed hospitals, old age homes, UN food depots, etc. The American bombers fly high to avoid ground-to-air missiles and their bombs generally miss intended targets. A WWII joke used to be, "When Americans shoot - everybody duck!"

"The Conservative Party withdrew its suit against Piet Pretorius for writing his book Sell Out that accused almost all of White South Africa's leading politicians, generals and preachers of betraying the country. Some like Constant Viljoen acknowledge their part in the conspiracy, but others were upset at being found out.

"The English still look down on Afrikaners, at least 80% of them do, but the rest know better.

"The group that organized the Anglo-Boer War commemoration at the Bloomfontein monument used the theme "I see her Victorious". HNP party members went by bus and found the ceremony most moving. Next to the path leading up to the monument were small marble markers with the names of the English concentration camps and Afrikaner children, mothers, and old men who died there. Flowers were placed at each one.

"With death all around, the English tried to persuade woman in the camps to go to their husbands on commando in the field to persuade them to surrender. But, they couldn't find a woman who would go. Our women rather chanced death in the concentration camps.

"Kader Asinal, minister of education, is doing his best to erase our history, language and culture. It is more necessary than ever to keep it alive in our children's minds. Asmal is an atheist and a sworn communist. He had the gall to say that Christians are "mad, paranoid, and perverse." He said this because of the reluctance of public, private and home schools to adopt study techniques that he devised.

"Christian churches don't object to attacks on Christianity in schools or the ongoing Marxist indoctrination. They are mostly on the other side and the monthly cheque is more important to them than the future of the people. They have forgotten the hardship our grandparents underwent to give children a proper education. Both my grandparents hired teachers from the Cape to come up and teach their children to keep them out of the government English schools.

"Rape among Blacks and Coloureds is very high. In a recent case a 9 month old baby was raped by its grandfather and 5 other coloureds. Prison is no deterrent, it gives them a roof over their head, food to eat, and no work.

"A reporter went to the black township of Seweto to learn about AIDS deaths. One undertaker said he once buried 400 people in a single day and is still hard pressed to get funerals scheduled. If 400 cars turn up for each funeral they really have a traffic jam at the Avalon cemetery. Other smaller undertakers also do a good business. When asking someone how he knew that someone died of AIDS, he said that AIDS victims are mostly young adults and emaciated.

"A lot of money is being spent at the coffin makers, and then there are the expenses of a funeral feast afterwards. President Mbeki prefers to ignore the whole situation while his wife flies to London for her shopping.

"The Jewish power stopped E-news TV broadcast on Afghanistan. People became aware of all the atrocities taking place.

"Zimbabwe and Malawi are both on the brink of famine in spite of these countries having good agricultural soil. Many black farm workers displaced from confiscated white farms in Zimbabwe have come to work in S. Africa's Limpopo Valley where most of our winter vegetables are grown."

Best wishes, K.J.

REPLACING THE ZIONIST

Anomalies

Five years ago it was observed that certain world business interests were building expensive houses in Australia, but had no immediate plans to move into them.

For the last two or three years Indian nationals appear regularly on national business TV in the position of corporate Chief Executive Officers - positions taking many years for others to achieve.

For the past ten years hotel-motel chains in America have been taken over by the Indian Patal Hindu caste almost to the exclusion of others.

For the past several years Indian nationals have begun to make a noticeable appearance in international banking.

Today, two or three international companies in Lynchburg now employ so many Indian engineers and managers that they are able to field soccer leagues whose teams play each other.

It is said that in business, politics, and religion nothing happens by accident. Let us see if we can uncover the answer to these seemingly disjointed anomalies.

Let's start with basics.

Gods

God's have Laws. The WORD is the Law of Christians. The WORD insists that its followers follow its Laws.

Like Gods, kings have laws. Kings insist on obedience to their laws.

One follows the WORD and risks the king's displeasure; or, follows the king's law to gain his blessing - thereby risking God's displeasure.

Christian followers of the WORD believe, "It is better to obey God than men." Acts 5:29.

Those who call themselves "Christian" but follow the king's laws believe that God the WORD has done away with his Commandments, which leaves the laws of the king supreme.

Christians have two very different Gods - the WORD, or, the king. They are different Gods.

Islam

Islam has two Gods.

One Islam God is separatist and radical. It severely impacts the trade of the international merchant.

The other Islam God really isn't Islam at all. It is Islam-Hindu - a merchant's religion that is relatively inoffensive, loving, universal, accepts everyone, and is warm and fuzzy.

Teaching The Cartel Religion

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) invests great sums of money and donates a great deal of media time proselyting their market areas with their Hindu trade religion. The essence of their teaching is that their customers must learn to "love everyone without regard to race, creed, or national origin". Customers who love everyone also love the international merchant. Then, the "loved" merchant can safely come and go and buy and sell in safety. Acceptance of the merchant's religion changes hostile local religions into universal, integrationist, loving, warm-and- fuzzy look-alikes of the Hindu.

There are two Islams; one is separatist and radical, a danger to the international Trade Cartel (ITC); the other is warm and fuzzy and welcomes the ITC with open arms. One represents Allah; the other calls itself "Islam" also, but is a different God who represents the International merchant.

Radical Islam Reborn

Before WWI, the Arab world absorbed numerous Turkic invaders. Most converted to Islam and in time most of the Near East learned to live under venal, corrupt rulers in a loosely defined conglomeration called the Ottoman Empire. A sleepy corrupt Muslim empire whose Islamic God was part Hindu.

WWI changed everything. Islamic Turks awoke to find that the lands of the former Ottoman Empire had been seized and carved into new trade areas called "countries" and whose appointed rulers were Western puppets.

A shocked Islam began to awake. This Islam wasn't the warm sleepy fuzzy Islam whose rulers and religious leaders were bought and paid for by the International merchant, it was the wild-eyed crazy Islam that Christian mothers at one time used to scare their children into obedience.

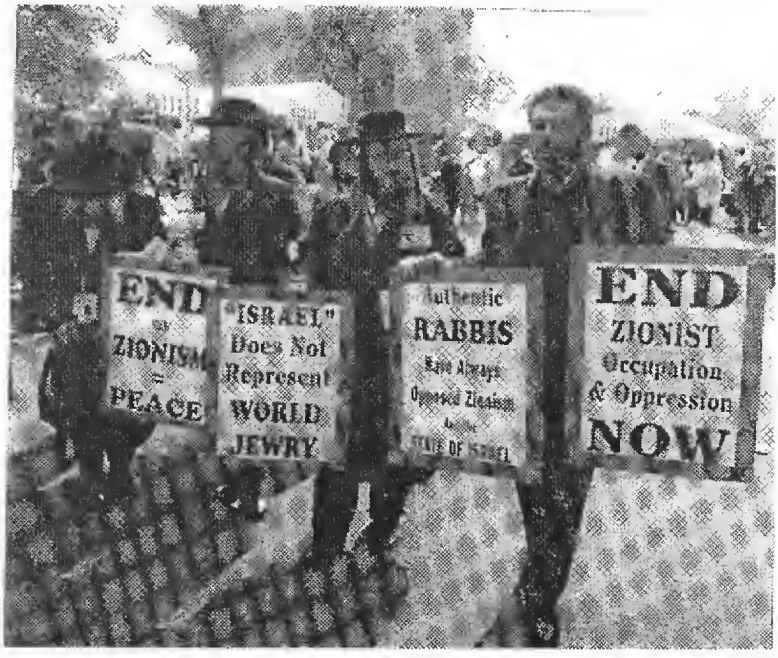
Revolts began to take place. The International merchant supplied money so that its appointed "warm and fuzzy" rulers could hire larger armies to keep the natives in line. Warm sleepy establishment Mullahs found themselves suddenly abandoned. Instead, crowds gathered around wild-eyed crazy Koran-spouting religious fanatics teaching the Koran on street corners.

This wild-eyed radical Islam affected trade. It had to be destroyed before it could dislocate the grip the "warm and fuzzy" religion of the International Trade Cartel had on the world of Islam.

Jujitsu

There is a school of martial arts called "jujitsu". Jujitsu teaches one to help an opponent to do what he is going to do anyway. When he lunges at you you seize his arm and pull him toward you while stepping aside. If he is tripped and falls he is then relatively defenseless.

Radical militant Islam was stirring. It needed someone to fight.



RABBIS MARCH

This AP photo shows a march of Rabbis in the Israeli state that highlights the division in Jewry over Zionism. Zionism is "separation" - those who wish to gather their people together in a reconstituted nation-state of their own. Zionist separation presents the same problems to the Cartel that other separatist movements do - but more so since international Jewry provides the manpower for the International Trade Cartel's "civil service." Who will the Cartel find to replace its departing Zionists?

Before WWII "Zionist separatists" in National Socialist Germany were trained by the German SS to become farmers to enable them to survive living in Palestinian kabuts. During WWII the leader of the Zionist Stern Gang attempted to unite by treaty the German and Zionist separatist causes against international British Cartel interests. Jews and Christians have irreconcilable differences but history shows that it is possible for them to work together to separate since it serves a common interest. The Cartel launched the "6-million" story years after WWII to try to break up this alliance.

Judaism

There are two kinds of Judaism.

One Judaism is nationalist, separatist, wild-eyed and radical.

The other Judaism is another Hindu look-alike of the International merchant's religion. Its supporters say that it is inoffensive, loving, universal and warm-and-fuzzy. This "Judaism" is the religion of choice of most Jews whose primary job is to act as the ITC's "civil service".

The world is presented with two kinds of Judaism: one is apparently separatist and radical; the other is apparently warm and fuzzy.

Radical Judaism

Many believe that radical Judaism was born when the Jewish rabbis from Byzantieum converted the Khazarian nation in the 8th century.

The irreconcilable differences that exist between Babylonian Judaism and other religions were minor compared to the mountain of differences that resulted from Judaism passing through the Khazar filter. The nature of the Khazar Turk is not "warm-and- fuzzy" - neither is their religion.

Khazarian Nationalism

The Khazarian-Jews are causing trouble on the world stage and are are using Talmudic Judaism to justify their excesses committed in the name of Khazarian nationalism[1]. Their desire to reconstitute their ancient Khazarian state and punish those responsible for its destruction burns white-hot.

Far too many of them are using their hereditary caste job as the Cartel's civil service to advance the fortunes of Kazaria- Israel instead of quietly keeping Cartel trade flowing smoothly.

If the goals of Zionist Jews and the Jews of the International Trade Cartel conflict - one of the two must step down.

1 In the Israeli state the Chief Rabbi is appointed by the state to bless the state and he does. This largely removes Judaism from Cartel hands.

Long-Term Planning

World trade is a cartel operation jealously guarded. If any of their world's market areas separate themselves from cooperating with this cartel - the problem must be corrected.

Radical Islamic separatists insist on having Islamic law rather than obeying the laws of their puppet kings. This is a problem.

The Radical Christendom of Christian patriots has been an ongoing problem.

Zionist nationalists appointed their own chief rabbi, selected their own radical rulers, and are using their clout as the Cartel's civil service to advance their own agenda rather than tending to Cartel business. Separatism from whatever quarter is always a problem.

Separatist nationalism based on religion cannot be reasoned with. In such cases the traditional Hindu solution is to create problems between separatists having irreconcilable differences and then let them destroy each other.

Leading To Destruction

It is a truism, "People are going to do what people are going to do." Kazarian nationalists long ago decided to recreate their ancient empire. Since this dream could not be stopped - it is my belief that the Cartel helped the Zionist effort in exchange for Kazarian nationalists' commitment to build their Zionist state right in the most illogical, unsafe place in the world - the middle of the lands of radical Islam.

Radical Judaism placed shoulder to shoulder with radical Islam seems to be a plan of which Machiavelli would have been proud. Zionist Jews invading Arab Palestine would drive Islam into a frenzy; add judicious Jewish abuse of Arabs and sooner or later Islam would burst forth against its tormentor - or tormentors. Then is the time for "jujitsu".

Islam's rage has landed her on the mat and her separatists are getting the stuffing kicked out of them by Cartel surrogates. As soon as radical Muslim separatism is eradicated - it will be time for radical Zionism. We may be watching the unfolding of a hundred-year-old plan.

Cutting The Lifeline

Rebellious Kazarian separatists, the Zionists, are now in the most exposed position one can imagine. Millions of rebellious nationalist Jews have been led by their cartel-appointed leaders into a little enclave in the midst of tens of millions of an equally nationalist Islamic enemy. Living in this cul-de-sac they exist on money, arms, armament, and reinforcements extorted from captive sheep governments.

If the Cartel really intends to dispose of the Zionist-separatist problem it would seem that very soon would be as good a time as any to cut the lifeline. But first -

Bad Press

It is Cartel policy to propagandize coming events before doing them.

At present, the Cartel media monopoly is not giving American Kazarian-Zionists "good press." The usual favorable headlines are followed by stories that can only be described as "bad press". Such things happen in a monopoly only when they are planned to happen.

In spite of what many may think, it is not an accident that every Christian patriot knows the true story of Gorden Kahl, Ruby Ridge, and the Branch Dividians. It is no accident that they know the real story of Kuwait, Iraq, Iran and Serbia. Who do they blame? Zionists!

The Towers is the latest. The Cartel press has allowed enough unanswered questions to slip under the curtain for this also to be added to the fire. We have been allowed to discover:

* That the Mossad knew about the Towers attack before it took place.

* That option traders made a killing by buying options before the event.

* That almost everyone in the world knew that destruction was on the way - except our own government.

* Christian patriots question "why so few casualties".

* They question tearing separatist Afghanistan to pieces in searching for a bin Laden strawman. People now speculate on which country the US government will claim bin Laden escaped to as their excuse to demolish that separatist country also.

* Noone in the Christian-Patriot movement is surprised to learn that "Silverstein Properties" had the Towers insured for $7.2 Billion.

* Neither are they supprised that the comic strip Irv Rubin of the JDL was arrested for plotting to blow up a mosque.

* The recent story of 100 to 150 Israeli spies arrested in America in the biggest spy bust in American history is pointed to as one more example of Zionist duplicity.

* Then there are the recent pictures of Zionist atrocities - a Zionist shooting the little Arab boy while his father tries to cover him with his own body. These things have a cumulative effect and there was really no reason for the release of that picture.

* How about the recent (AP) story about attorneys suing "Menorah Gardens & Funeral Chapels" in West Palm Beach for digging up bodies and dumping them in the woods behind the cemetery to make way for new bodies. Pictures show Jewish burial shrouds and a Star of David (Zionist) next to finger bones. Not good.

* And then, the Village Voice has its say. This is anything but a conservative paper and they recently wrote a story on Jewish terrorists. According to them - the Arabs are just late learners. It talks about the Stern Gang, and the Irgun; about blowing up the King David Hotel leaving piles of British dead. It talks about almost all the Israeli leaders being former terrorists and what they did to win the title. It talks about the leader of the Stern Gang attempting to make a treaty with Germany to fight the British. Hey, this is the Village Voice!

Because of press releases, guess who may soon get the blame for all of today's problems? Guess who may well receive the blame for causing both the "Towers" and the resulting "Afghanistan"? One can safely say that the Cartel has not given the Zionists a good press recently.

The Unthinkable

If the Cartel plan is to solve Islamic and Zionist separatist problems by mutual destruction - the stage is set.

Time to cut the lifeline, anyone?

Kazaria's Own Plans

Setting enemies to destroy each other is an ancient ploy. It's traditional, and frankly - obvious. If amateurs can work it out, rest assured - others can, too.

As a life preserver, riverboat gamblers used to carry a derringer up their sleeve. The Israeli state is a gambling state. It too has a derringer. It's their biological, chemical and atomic arsenal - and from what we hear - it may be equal in quality and diversity to that of the United States.

Summary

Separatist Islam needs to be supplied with anti-tank and anti- aircraft weapons to become an overnight power capable of doing to the Israelis the same thing that the Afghanistan "freedom- fighters" did to the Russians. A cartel "go-ahead' is needed and these items will be supplied.

What about the Zionist state. Will she sit still and wait to be destroyed? I wouldn't count on it.

Five years ago it was observed that certain world business interests were building expensive houses in Australia, but had no immediate plans to move into them. That was five years ago. Was someone preparing a safe haven?

For the last two or three years Indian nationals appear regularly on national business TV as corporate Chief Executive Officers - a position that usually takes many years for others to achieve. Is someone looking for replacements for their departing "civil service"?

For the past ten years, hotel-motel chains in America have been taken over by the Indian Patal Hindu caste almost to the exclusion of all others. For the past several years Indian nationals have become noticeable in international banking. In Lynchburg, two or three of its international companies now employ so many Indian engineers and supervisors that they are able to field soccer leagues whose teams play each other.

Could it be that some of the Cartel's former employees became so nationalist and difficult that they are to be purged?

If Zionist, Islamic, and Christian separatists disappear from the face of the earth - the International Trade Cartel and those who work for it will remain and continue to do what they are doing.

If it is correct that in business, politics, and religion nothing happens by accident - then interesting days lie ahead.

==========

LETTERS

SALADIN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Saladin, According to Harper's Encyclopedia, was "a Turko-Egyptian general/ruler, son of a Kurdish soldier." Calling him a 'Turko-Egyptian' does not change his Caucasian genetic make- up." G. A. - California

RKH: True, Saladin was a Caucasian, but not of Jacob. The Scriptures say; "O children of Israel ... you only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:1-2; "There are many nations ... all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits (Gods) to rule ... but over Israel ... he alone is their ruler." Jubilees 15:23; "He showed his WORD ... his statues and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20.

I admire Salidin immensely, but he was not one of us.

Unfiltered News From The Mid East

ISRAELI PRIVATISING: Merrill Lynch said it received inquiries from Israeli and foreign investors about buying the government's 50.01% stake in Pezeq Israel Telecom phone company.

RKH: The Cartel-appointed rulers of the Israeli state treats its citizens the same as other Cartel-appointed governments treat theirs. Zionists had better get their heads on straight. True, Jews man the Cartel's civil service, but besides this, the Cartel looks on Jews like they look on everyone else - just labor, cannon fodder and human fertilizer.

RIGHT WING TERRORIST: Separatists from different nations have irreconcilable differences, but the Financial Times of Nov 9, 2001, p.4 made the connection in an article which stated that both Islam and "right-wing extremists" are linked with "Holocaust Denial". "Terrorist" is the Cartel euphemism for "separatist".

INFIDEL: The Cartel media accused Osama bin Laden of using a "dirty word" to describe Cartel-selected leaders of Arab nations - "infidels". "Christians" who work for the same Cartel and who refuse to accept the WORD as the final arbiter are also "Infidels". Each is a traitor to his own God.

ALGERIA BACKS U.S.: Algeria's appointed Cartel government supports the U.S. "anti-terror" campaign. Algeria's president asked the U.S. for military hardware, including night vision and light mobile equipment and possibly training to help the military-backed Algerian regime in its bloody decade-long campaign against its own Islamist separatists.

FRANCE: The French defense ministry revealed that its spies have been inside Afghanistan helping the anti-Taliban Northern Alliance since mid-1990s. The French have also kept track of Islamists coming from France who attended al-Qaeda training camps. Financial Times

RKH: This means that US intelligence also has known about the movements of Islamic religious nationalists and of France's 6 yr surrogate war against them in Afghanistan.

ISRAELI BOMB: A car bomb exploding in an Israeli suburb that caused no casualties was used as the excuse for Israeli negotiators to renege on Arab land hand-back promises. In spite of an official Israeli statement that the bomb was set by Arab terrorists, the question remains - who benefited?

GREEK ORTHODOX: Activists charge that the leader of Jerusalem's Greek Orthodox Church (GOC) has been selling and leasing hundreds of millions of dollars of church lands in Palestine to the Israelis. The land on which the Israeli parliament is built as well as surrounding neighborhoods is built on this leased land. It is charged that the church has not published accounts of its land transactions since 1967. The GOC in Jerusalem is governed under laws dating back to the Ottoman Empire. Under the status quo agreements, Israel as the power having control of Jerusalem, also has the power to approve or veto the accession as patriarch. The GOC claims that its right to lease this land is ancient.

RKH: It is important to note that the Queen, as head of the Anglican Church, owns most of Britain and leases land on which corporations and individuals build. In other parts of Europe the Catholic Church does the same. In India - the same. It is the writer's belief that episcopal churches, of whatever belief, are basically covers for business operations.

Unfiltered News From S. Africa

ZIMBABWE TARGETS OPPENHEIMERS: Blacks want Oppenheimers to give up 65,000 hectares of farmland.

RKH: After The War Between the States, Cartel land companies bought up millions of acres at bankruptcy sales to sell to European immigrants for top dollar. Blacks who ruled the occupied South wanted the South to become a Black Republic and they refused to allow white immigration. These separatist acts caused a major rift between the Cartel and the black rulers. The Cartel then backed the white effort to free themselves from black domination in exchange being allowed to keep the land they had gotten. Black Zimbabwean demands for Cartel land could be the start of another such rift. Take white farms - but don't take Cartel land.[2]

S. AFRICA IMMIGRATION: "The land of S. Africa was once White Saxon land that in time became a black land because of immigration. Whites were there 150 years before the blacks invaded from the north. In time for every white 5 blacks were born. Once the race ratio was 1 white for no blacks. Then 10 whites to one black. Then 3 whites to one black; then 3 blacks to 1 white, and now 10 blacks to 1 white. It was the Whites' fault. Cheap workers are a boon if you are a 'Spiritual-Caananite.'" (CIM, PO Box 146, Cardwell QLD, AUSTRALIA 4849

2 Story In Vigilantes, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505

STRIKE: South Africa's Black union, COSATU, vowed to start a two- day national strike against Privatization.

RKH: The ITC, finding it difficult to crack solid White private ownership, once again used natural Black anti-White enmity. They turned SA over to its Black inhabitants. Blacks were expected to be more agreeable to the transfer of public wealth to ITC coffers. The ITC mis-judged Black nationalism before when it bought up Southern plantations at post-war bargain prices and tried to import European buyers and sell them the land at top dollar. The American Southland's Black rulers would have no part of it. They wanted ALL Whites deported and the South turned into Black Republics. The ITC was forced to allow Southern Whites to return to power in exchange for their being allowed to keep their bargain land purchases. (See Vigilantes)

CHINA: The West's religious leaders quietly agreed to spread information about contraceptives to the Chinese. This has resulted in a 1995 census showing that never-married Chinese men outnumber their female counterparts nearly 2-to-1. Between the ages of 25 and 39, the ratio rises to 4-to-1. In raw figures, that translates into a surplus of 26 million single males 20 to 44 in China. The problem is expected to grow worse because of China's one-child policy that became effective in 1979 has resulted in selective abortion. Only a fool will underestimate the instability this situation will cause in a nation already unstable. (Story in Arizona Republic)

SURPRISE!: Investor's Business Daily revealed that the Anthrax spores that caused the government to launch a nationwide "anthrax scare" in search of "terrorists", were made at the government's own Army laboratory. VATICAN DENIES: Following the arrest in Cleveland of Msgr Emilio Colagiovanni, president of Monitor Ecclesiasticus Foundation, which publishes a journal of canon law, a Vatican spokeswoman stated that the foundation operated outside the context of the Vatican and does not belong to it. According to the complaint, Msgr Colagiovanni agreed to help a Mr. Frankel to secretly purchase and control insurance companies. He reportedly told insurance executives that his foundation had received as much as $1 bn from the Holy See.

Chapter 329

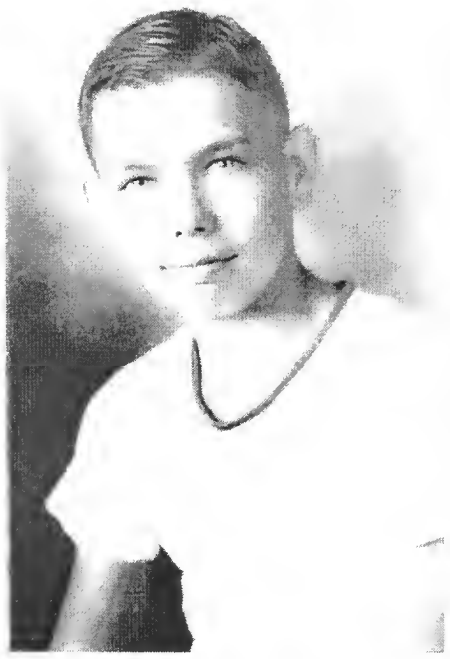
THE EMPIRE Educates Its Subjects
Part I

My First Yankee

I was seven years old when I saw my first Yankee. I already knew about Yankees. They had been here and had left their mark before I was born. Someone on the playground told me that a Yankee was in school and I went to look. He was a Yankee - you could tell by the way he talked.

Coaches

Growing up near Culpeperwe played "Yankees and Rebels" the same way boys elsewhere played "Cowboys and



Dick Hoskins - Age 7

Indians." Nobody wanted to be a Yankee. We tried to get the one at school to come play being a Yankee, but he wouldn't. So we drew straws. Everyone took turns being Yankees. We played in the barn and the outbuildings behind Granddaddy's house. Mostly we played in the coaches.

The coaches came from Granddaddy's livery stable. Granddaddy ran several businesses. He had to support seven children. One of the businesses was a livery stable. When the automobile appeared, people paid granddaddy to take their family coaches so they could make room for the new automobiles in the garages.

Granddaddy took the coaches and parked them behind his barn. There were a lot of them. Some were 200 years old and had brass lamps. Some had windows you rolled up and down and seats that folded out of sight in the floor. The walls and ceiling of some were red and green velvet. Others were crafted leather. There were compartments that held bottles and glasses. Some just held empty boxes that I guess once held lunches or papers. There were trap doors in the roof you could climb through and trunks in back just like cars today - but these had secret doors to get into the inside. They were great.

We played "Stuart's cavalry" and "Mosby's Rangers". We captured Yankee wagon trains every chance we got - after chores, that is. I rode my pony Dolly bareback, shooting under her neck like Indians did in the 10¢ cowboy movie on Saturday. Dolly let me ride her but she threw everyone else. She even threw my Uncle Thompson, and he was a big man - reared up and tried to fall on top of him. Everybody was afraid of Dolly. I don't like to say it because Dolly was my friend, but she was mean. She'd bite you. She bit me in the rear-end once when I was ready to jump up on her back.

We would attack the wagon train, dismount, and the battle was on as we fought from coach to coach. We played the same game over and over. In time the coaches looked the worse for wear, but no one cared. Nobody used them and they weren't good for anything. "Yankees and Rebels" was the game we played.

Variations

"Burning the bridge" was a variation. The Yankees burned the covered bridge over Mountain Run at the bottom of the hill. We went down there and pretended to fight the bridge burners. Sometime we would go to the "ruins" on out the Sperryville Turnpike and fight houseburners. We would catch Yankees burning a house and kill them. That was neat because there were basements where houses used to be and icehouses and covered springs to hide in. Great for ambush.

We played "Custer". This is the same Custer later killed by the Indians. The Custer we knew captured Southern soldiers and hanged them. He didn't stop until Col. Mosby hanged his men in return. This got rough so we stopped playing this game.

Five hundred yards up the turnpike was the cemetery. We fought among the gravestones, just like soldiers did during the War - the same gravestones, the same graveyard. Some said you could see places where bullets nicked the grave markers, but I never could find them.

Hundreds of Rebels were buried in a mass grave under a mound toward the back. The Yankees were buried in a government cemetery on the other side of the railroad tracks in town. Nobody ever went over there. That was the same cemetery where, not too long ago, Commander Lincoln Rockwell's friends tried to have him buried, but the government wouldn't let them, even though he was a decorated veteran and entitled to be buried there.

Beyond the Sperryville Turnpike cemetery were trenches and field artillery emplacements that were never actually used in battle. The artillery emplacements were no good for forts to play in because they were too far apart and open in back so guns could be rolled in and out. A good fort didn't have one side open.

Uncle Alex, Uncle Thompson and Russell King took me bass fishing at Snakecastle below Kelly's Ford where our family used to live. We drove through Kellyville to cross the ford. Kellyville was just a name, it wasn't really there. The houses were gone. They had all been shot to pieces in the battles fought at the ford, or burned down by the Yankees later. It wasn't even a ghost town. Just a lot of empty basements. And graves - lots of graves.

Uncle Thompson told me about the time the Yankees came and dug open the burial trenches to take dead Yankees away to Arlington and Culpeper. There were hundreds of bodies, head to foot, layer on layer. Some buried at the bottom still had their hair and mustaches and you could see what they looked like.

Uncle Thompson told me how Maj. John Pelham, commanding Stuart's Horse Artillery, had been mortally wounded near the Ford in a cavalry charge. I always pictured him charging down the hill above the Ford, but last year some friends took me to a place near a stone wall a half mile up the river where he was wounded. They took him to Culpeper and he died in a house across the street from Granddaddy's furniture store. I used to look up at the room he died in on the way to school.

And there was the nice captain from S. Carolina who visited our family. He had been shot in the groin and died three agonizing days later in the Church-hospital at the top of the hill on the other side of the river.

On a little knoll to the east a colored fellow had his arm cut off. His cross cut saw bit into the fuse of an unexploded shell and it went off. The saw whipped back and cut his arm off just below the elbow. In the same field, a plow turned up a silver candlestick that had been buried to hide it from the Yankees.

While a cadet at Fishburne Military School I went to a dance at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg. After the dance I hitchhiked back to school and my ride dropped me off in the middle of the Wilderness in the middle of the night.

The Wilderness is that vast stretch of woods where the battle was fought. No cars or lights for miles and miles. Pitch dark and cold. Thousands of men died in the Wilderness. You could almost hear them talking in the wind that moaned through the trees. Somewhere in there lies the unburied body of my uncle, Captain Charles Booker. He was 20.

I didn't catch a ride until morning.

In my livingroom today I have my Uncle Cap Thompson's war chest which he used to carry spare pistols, ammunition, shaving equipment, a spare shirt and socks. In my dining room I've got the table from Chestnut Lawn where my two Payne uncles, members of the Fauquier Black Horse, were sitting eating when the Yankees broke down the front door. One of the patched holes in the table is supposed to have come from a bullet fired in the fight as my uncles hastily climbed out the back window.

Lynchburg

Daddy was a doctor. He moved to Lynchburg to practice with Uncle Pres. In Lynchburg it was just like Culpeper as far as the War was concerned. We played in the trenches in the woods at Monkeyville where Seven Pines now stands.

The road we live on today runs into Old Forest Road. A battle was fought at the junction not far from the house when Hunter tried to flank the Lynchburg defenses. Lots of men died there, but there are so many places like that around that no one has bothered to put up another marker. We found a live Parrot shell in our back yard. We buried it again to keep the same thing that happened to the colored fellow at Kelly's Ford from happening to some child around here who might want to play with it.

Down the road about 400 yards from McDonalds is Locust Thicket. The living room floor is scorched. Hunter's men piled kindling in a corner and set it on fire. General Early's men arrived just in time, killed them, and threw the burning brands out the window and saved the house. But the floor is scorched.

I went to Garland-Rodes school named for two of Lynchburg's boy generals killed in the war. In a display case next to the principal's office was the bullet that killed General Garland. He is buried in the Presbyterian Cemetery with scores and scores of others of our boys - 2nd Virginia Cavalry, 10th Virginia Infantry, Latham's Battery - Lynchburg's militias.

His gravestone reads;

"He was an only son and his mother was a widow."

The three thousand Southern boys buried in the Lynchburg City Cemetery have markers bought with the pennies given by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The stones list their initials (they couldn't afford the entire name), regiment, and state each was from. Many came a long way to die.

Walking downtown from E.C.Glass High School I passed the house where the boy from Texas died. He was 16. He had been wounded and sent to a Lynchburg hospital to recover.

He was walking down the street when his wound opened. A young lady was playing the piano and the French window to the parlor where she was playing was open - the tall windows that go from ceiling to floor. He walked in, sat down while she was playing, and died listening to her play. Finished, the young girl turned and discovered his body.

Invironment

What to me was normal interest in my everyday surroundings was interpreted by the new Yankee teachers hired by Lynchburg's school system as "obsession". Everytime they would teach something that I knew wasn't so, I'd raise my hand. They didn't like being corrected by a kid.

They said that the South was wrong, General Lee was wrong, the South got what it deserved, and that the reason the South was so poor was because we wouldn't get out and work. They told us that the way we spoke was wrong.

My mother said that the teacher was wrong. Our speech was the King's English. It was good enough for George Washington and General Lee and should be good enough for the rest of us. Parents at my school would punish their kids for coming home talking like Yankees.

Senseless

The time came when the excitement of reading and studying the War grew stale. I sickened of killing. The slaughterpens of Gettysburg, Sharpsburg, Malvern Hill. In every battle it seems I lost family members.

It was all senseless.

Renewed Interest

Time passed. The Korean War, law school, Wall Street, and the Berlin call-up - each new experience furnished me with information that caused me to doubt my conclusion that the War Between the States was senseless. If what I was being taught was true - war is not an end in itself, but a means to an end.

It began to dawn that the ghosts I had grown up with - the cold, brutal Sheridan, Sherman, Custer, Grant, Lincoln, and Stanton - these devils out of the past - knew exactly what they were doing and were doing exactly what they were told to do.

If this was so, it was also true that Roosevelt, Bush Sr., Clinton, Bush Jr. and his man Rumsfeld all know exactly what they are doing and are doing exactly what they are told to do.

War and its "collateral damage" is not senseless. It is a well thought out plan the cartel uses to transfer wealth from its victims to itself.

Letter From S. Africa by H.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Chief Secretary of our HNP political party had to appear before the S.A. Human Rights Commission. A colored reporter of the ANC complained that his rights were violated when he was not allowed to attend the HNP yearly congress. All these years the media ignored us. This reporter only wanted to cause trouble. The HNP stands by the "right of free association", and this reporter is not an Afrikaner.

The National Party joined the ANC, leaving only the Jewish Democratic Party. There is no one else left to defend our heritage. We long for the day when we will be a free nation again.

Town complexes are built to protect our people - wall, wire, and guards. The black guard at the gate is the one who is accused of killing Marike, the former wife of F.W. de Klerk. She was murdered in the most gruesome way in the penthouse of a "safe" complex in the Cape. The gate guard confessed, but we feel that there is more to it than robbery. As the divorced former wife of the president, the one who betrayed S. Africa, she must have known many things!

There is hardly any corn or wheat. The latter disappeared after heavy rains and hail in the Free State. All the black states around us are already complaining about a food shortage.

Robert Mugabe of Zimbabwe's crackdown on "terrorists" is a crackdown on anyone who did not vote for him in the last election. He had all the leaders of the opposition imprisoned and intimidated the rest. This is African democracy. Blacks have one ruler and that ruler can do just as he pleases. They never allow opposition parties and only their own tribe counts. That is one reason why they will never have any peace.

Siener van Rensburg, the 1900 mystic, saw them fighting against each other towards the end. This might be the Zulus and Xhosas. At the moment they are great friends. Wonder how long that will last. It never lasted long in the past.

We had a bad storm last week that knocked out our alarm system. We engaged a black security agency, "Mapago", to protect our place. When they go after a thief they go right into black areas where no white will go, and without notifying the police, they find the thief they are looking for and give him a good hiding. Blacks really fear them.

The thing that upsets me the most are the morals of whites. In my wildest dreams I never thought that so many whites would lose respect for right and wrong in such a short time, and mostly they are not the poor people.

The Bible says that the falling away of Churches must first come. As far as I can see except for only two small groups, that is what is happening here. I almost feel sorry for those souls who still faithfully support the church of their fathers in spite of what those churches are doing to our people and our country. I suppose it is soothing just to hear about "love" - although the love they hear about is not love for fellow whites.

One black headman sold a whole forest of yellow-wood trees. These trees are so expensive that formerly only a few were cut each year and sold at very high prices. R15,000 is all he got for the lot.

The value of the S. African rand lost half its value in the last four months.

The rapes continue and black babies only a few months old are primary victims - although no one is safe. Blacks believe that sex with children prevents AIDS.

LETTERS

COOPERATION: "Dear Dick; HR 328 brought to mind the appearance of numerous Hindu appearing people in high corporate positions. The late Ivor Benson in 1991 mentioned a comment from an Islamic newspaper by a prominent Islamic intellectual, suggesting that a solution the the ITC situation could only come through some sort of alliance or understanding between separatist Christians and Muslims to defeat a common enemy." K.T. - Pennsylvania

RKH: First, the Saxon must learn that the common enemy is the "integrationist" - the Hindu! For eons the Hindu has instigated separatist wars in order to sell to both sides, and buy the assets of the defeated at bargain prices.

BUSH SCOLDS: "Dear Richard: President Bush missed a good bet by just scolding Palestinians for trying to smuggle in a boat load of arms. Today, the US gives $2 billion a year to the Israelis to buy attack helicopters, fighter planes and tanks. If the US were also to give $2 billion a year to Arabs to buy anti-aircraft missiles, anti-tank rockets and anti-tank guns from our defense industry, we could keep the Israeli-Arab war going indefinitely. The Israelis would get their attack weapons, the Arabs would get their defense weapons, and we would manufacture and sell to both sides. Everyone would be happy. The Jews and Arabs will busily fight for peace, and defense industry would boom, keeping America's economy healthy for much of the century." R.R. - N. Dakota

DECLARATION OF WAR

The American President - the American Commander In Chief - has had his picture taken appearing to pledge allegiance to the Zionist flag. Regardless of intent - that is the perception. In politics, these things are seldom accidental. In my opinion the picture was posed and purposely sent to the world of Islam.

Muslims, world wide, will doubtless perceive the message as a "Declaration of War" - an ongoing, everlasting "Christian" Crusade against Islam. It is almost certain to be looked upon as a notice that the US is the protector of the Israeli state regardless of what it has done, is doing, or might do in the future.

The Universal-Hindu Merchant has long pitted separatists against each other. Another hundred-year war between Islam and Christendom would grind both down and the Hindu would inherit the remainder.

UNFILTERED NEWS

PROFILING: "The Society of Professional Journalists seems determined to prove that bias and political correctness aren't dead yet. The new guidelines for covering the war (spi.org/diversity_profiling.asp) tell journalists that 'When writing about terrorism, remember to include white supremacists, radical anti-abortionists and other groups with a history of such activity.' No need to mention terrorists environmentalists like the Unabomber or Earth First, or terrorist leftist groups like the Weathermen, however." (Dave Kopel can be reached at (davekopel@opinion.RockyMountainNews.com)

FARMERS: Don't forget that in the '80s, the Cartel media branded America's farmers - "terrorists". The cartel wanted their land. They now brand Christian Patriots "terrorists" because they believe Christians should follow the WORD even if it means disobeying Caesar.

"FINAL CALL", the black newspaper, expresses concern that black separatist leaders will be the ultimate target of the present administration. They used the example of the black leader, Marcus Garvey.

The FBI went after Marcus Garvey at the height of his power. Garvey pledged to take blacks back to Africa. Millions of dues- paying blacks joined his organization. A black tent city grew at Newport News awaiting transportation. Garvey bought surplus WWI Liberty Ships to transport them. Government agents raided one of the ships and "discovered" a case of contraband liquor. This was the excuse used to put Garvey in prison and destroy his organization - which prevented cheap black labor from leaving America.

NOTRE DAME named Tyrone Willingham as its first African-American football coach. God the WORD, which is our Law, rules, "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15. A football coach definitely rules over his players. Notre Dame is a religious school. Religions are either universalist-integrationist or separatist-Lawful. One or the other. "By their acts ye shall know them."

JURY STACKING: Lemrick Newlson Jr, 27, and Charles Price, 47 were found guilty of civil rights violations in stabbing to death a Hasidic Jew during the '91 Crown Heights riots in NY City. A federal appeals court discarded the convictions of the two blacks ruling that the federal judge in the original trial had influenced the jury make-up to include more Jews.

Byron de la Beckwith, and many other kinsmen, were railroaded by stacking juries with strangers who have no Law concept. "He showed his word... his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20

NEXT STEP: According to Long Island Univ criminologist Harvey Kushner, lone wolves "could be ... domestic terrorists such as political extremists and racists." Leonard Weinberg of the Univ of Nevada points to Eric Rudolph, "He has a coherent, right-wing agenda." Other lone wolves "have anti-Semitic and racial agendas." (Story in Investors Business Daily p.7, Jan 10, 2002.)

RKH: Christians are separatists because their God ordered them to be separatists. They did not choose their God, their God chose them:"The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6. "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you." John 15:16. He also told them, "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15.

MILOSEVIC ON TRIAL: "Milosevic stood tall before the kangaroo court in The Hague. Last week Mr. Milosevic accused the prosecutor of bias and asked that NATO stooge Carla DelPonte disqualify herself. Tiring of the incessant reading of poorly drawn up documents, the former president told his tormentors: 'Don't bother me and make me listen for hours on end to the reading of texts written at the intellectual level of a 7-year old child - rather, I correct myself - a retarded 7-year old child.' All who fight the globalist menace should be encouraged by Milosevic's one man battle. They can kill and imprison people, but they can't kill the power of the ideas of nationalism and national self-determination." NY Third Positionist, Kenneth J. Schmidt. Dec 2001.

AIDS IN INDIANA: In Indiana, the rate of AIDS infection per 100,000 population is as follows: White 80.3; Black 438.6; Hispanic 132.4. (Indianapolis Star, Nov 1, 2001, p.13)

RKH: Sodomites and integrationists are potential "disease factories".

DNA ANTHRAX: Mayo Clinic officials unveiled a test for anthrax that uses DNA testing to reveal exposure within an hour, instead of days. (Financial Times, Nov 6, 2001, p.2)

RKH: It should take no longer than this for a DNA test to identify aliens in Saxon disguise.

CLINTON BARRED: The Supreme Court suspended former President Clinton from practicing law in cases that come before that court.

COVER-UP?: We hear about "Foot & Mouth" disease in cattle, but "Para-T"? Irish researchers computed that 40% of dairy cattle kept in confinement have Para-T. Para-T is passed on to milk drinkers. When this grows in the human host Chrohn's Disease can result. If Para-T can be linked with irritable bowel syndrome, then the 40 million Americans with this syndrome and/or Chrohn's seems a high price to pay for the inhumane maintenance of dairy animals whose cure seems to be fresh grass. (Story In Acres USA, Sept 2001, p. 31, POB 91299, Austin, Texas 78709, 512-892-4400, $27/yr)

MIDEAST: "An investigation by Time magazine reveals that Israel's rules of engagement permit soldiers regularly to shoot at children, even those armed only with stones. Medical officials estimate that 40% of the Palestinian dead in Gaza in the latest violence were under 18. The Zionist-controlled media likes to emphasize that the Israeli soldiers use harmless rubber bullets. Not so. They are metal balls about a half inch in diameter and as heavy as a wristwatch in a thin coat of rubber. They easily penetrate the skull and kill as easily as any other bullet. (Time, 12/18/00. Copied from The WITNESS.)

CLINTON'S MIDEAST PLAN: The 3.6 million stateless Palestinians found that Clinton's plan for them to give up all "right of return to their homes in Israeli occupied "Palestine" in exchange for a Palestinian state on former Jordanian soil too high a price to pay. The Israelis suggested that the Arabs who did not want to take part in the solution could immigrate to Saxon lands in the west.

PEARLS: A German consortium is developing a magnetic levitation railway and has won a contact to build a high-speed link between Shanghai airport and the city center. The Transrapid "maglev" technology uses a friction-free magnetic field to allow trains to travel at up to 450km an hour. (Financial Times, Jan 22, 01, p.16)

RKH: "God is a ... revealer of secrets." Daniel 2:47; "The Lord possessed me (wisdom) in the beginning." Prov 8:22; "I

(wisdom of God) find out knowledge of witty inventions." Pr 8:12; "Give not that which is holy (that which is of God) unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they ... turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; "Thou shall no stranger eat of the holy thing." Lev 22:10

PARKS: One of Clinton's last acts as president is to federalize more than 1 million acres from private owners into 6 national monuments. Nationalists assume that this is being done in preparation to privatising the land to cartel interests at a future date along with other national parks and military bases.

MEXICAN FRIENDS: On March 14, 2000, two Mexican army troop carriers carrying about 16 armed soldiers drove across the U.S. border into Santa Teresa, New Mexico, and pursued a well-marked Border Patrol vehicle. The lead Mexican army vehicle was eventually apprehended by other Border Patrol units. The other troop-carrier pursued a Border Patrol agent on horseback and shot at him. The Mexican soldiers then dismounted from their vehicle, fired on another Border Patrol agent and chased still another before fleeing back to Mexico.

The incident is but one of hundreds of reported incursions in recent years. The escalating friction between Mexico and the U.S. attracted little media attention. (National Liberty Journal, Feb 1, 2001)

Chapter 330

THE EMPIRE Educates Its Subjects Part II

CONDUCTING WAR

Growing up in the ruins left by the War Between The States was different. Non-Southerners don't understand because eartel history has been sanitized and the shocking, unprintable events eensored, but desktop printing and internet are ehanging that. What happened to the South is a eookie-eutter example of what happened later to the Afrikaaner Republies, Russia and Germany. Change the locale and the vietims and you find that the eartel, with minor variations, does business in the same way.

War is business. When the cartel cannot get what it wants by its usury banking system they will take it by war. If one understands the Southern experienee he will understand the Boer War, the recent DeKlerk-Ian Smith Betrayal, the Russian Revolution, and the German WWI and WWII experienees. The South was merely today's first.

The understanding of what the enemy has done, is doing, and intends to do allows one to build defenses. After we are able to defend ourselves we will then be able to do to those the things they have done to us - double.[1]

War Is Business

The first lesson to be learned is that terror, looting, destruction, starvation, summary executions, and atrocities against civilians are how the Cartel does business - and it's a business run by plan. The Union army was its hammer used to crush the Southland. Destroying self-sufficient (SSF) farms allowed hundreds of thousands of formerly independent farms to be gathered into the corporation empire.

To digest the wealth of the South required that the South first be destroyed. This is why the Union armies marched under clouds of smoke. They were like locusts descending on a farmer's fields. Houses, barns, mills, and villages went up in smoke. Personal belongings, household furnishings, portable wealth such as tobacco, cotton, and livestock were carted off in endless trains of wagons. Cattle, sheep and horses were gathered into vast herds and driven to markets, or had their throats slashed and left to rot. No one recalls of hearing of perpetrators being punished for their actions. Instead, the generals responsible for the holocaust received honor after honor. It was business.

Immediate profit came from the gargantuan load of loot swept from the occupied countryside. Wealth that had been gathered for over 250 years poured into Washington's auction houses which were open 24 hours a day. They disposed of the never ended wagon trains arriving overland from the Virginia countryside and the shipload after shipload of booty that

1 "Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double." Rev 18:6

arrived from all over the South to be offloaded onto Potomac docks. Ship's cargo and wagon loads were auctioned uninspected and sight-unseen as as fast they arrived as supply overwhelmed demand and room had to be made for more - and still more.

The demand for "things" built up during the great 1850s depression in the North was satisfied overnight with Southern belongings. War contracts supplied the rest. The cartel in the end took the "big haul" which was land, foreign trade agreements, tax-tribute and slaves.

The carnage left a Southern desert, but Cartel merchants thought it worth the cost - as they always do.

Lynchburg Before The War

Lynchburg had a winter social-season population of about 9,000. This number dropped to half that when the planters and their families moved back to their farms for the spring growing season.

For years, Lynchburg had been the largest dark leaf tobacco market in the world. Farmers brought their tobacco from miles around, had it inspected, and sold it in the warehouses where it was sent by canal boat and train to final destinations. Tobacco was a primary reason for Lynchburg's existence, and it was a profitable one.

Surviving The War

Lynchburg's continued existence was a near thing. General Early arrived at the last minute to save the city from being burned. Hunter had started his assault on Lynchburg's defenses manned by the boy soldier-cadets from VMI and the walking wounded from Lynchburg's hospitals. Actually, some weren't walking wounded - they had to be carried to the trenches in wagons and on stretchers. They couldn't walk, but they could shoot.

General David Hunter USA

The Sandusky Party

Hunter delayed his assault on Lynchburg two or three hours at the critical moment. It wasn't an accident. One of our Virginia belles learned that Lynchburg needed a couple of hours to prepare for Hunter's attack. To gain the time she gave a party for the conquering Union heroes at "Sandusky" her home just outside of town.

While the party was in progress, Hunter's chief of artillery, Col. DuPont,[2] unlimbered his guns on the driveway to the house, now called Sandusky Drive where my wife's mother used to live, and commenced shelling the town. The crash of cannon lent a martial air to the gaiety and laughter of the party.

While Hunter and his staff were at the party, Lynchburg's civilian population located an old locomotive whistle. They blew it just like locomotives do and people stood on tops of buildings and on hilltops and cheered just like they would be expected to do if they were welcoming Gen. Early and his men who were expected to arrive by canal boat and train momentarily. Until he arrived, Lynchburg's fate hung in the balance.

Hunter's scouts heard the train whistle, again and again, and the cheering that following the whistle. They reported to their general that train after train of Rebel reinforcements had arrived in town.

Hunter became cautious. His window of opportunity had closed at the Sandusky party. That party undoubtedly saved the Sandusky house as well as Lynchburg. I don't know of many old houses besides Sandusky, Locust Thicket, and Thomas Jefferson's Poplar Forest that Hunter didn't burn on his march to Lynchburg. He burned everything he could including part of Lexington, Liberty City, the Valley and just about everything else he could get his hands on.

After a day of indecisive fighting Hunter retired through the blackened countryside - a retreat that turned into a rout once Jubal Early actually arrived and got after him.

Because of a train whistle, hospital walking wounded, a handful of VMI cadets, a patriotic Virginia belle, and everyone working together - Lynchburg survived the war. It was a near thing. Richmond, Atlanta, Charleston and countless other places weren't so fortunate.

Emancipation-Proclamation

Lincoln's freeing the slaves is today looked upon as the best thing since cotton-candy. It wasn't always looked on that way.

Repatriation-Abolition was supported in the North as well as the South. Free the slaves, train them, set them up on farms in Africa. That was the plan. When Lincoln freed the slaves, he kept them here because he had other plans for them after the war.

I have read that because of his proclamation, over 50,000 Union soldiers deserted. Many went home in disgust and many came South and joined the Southern army. "Big-Yankee-Ames" from the 5th New York Cavalry was one of them. He gave Lincoln's Emancipation-Proclamation as the reason. He joined Mosby's Rangers in Northern Virginia and raised cain with the very outfit that he once fought with.[3] I remember sitting by the fire on cold winter nights as the family talked about his exploits.

Copperheads

When I was growing up I really thought that Yankees were devils - just as many S. Africans still think that their British conquerors are devils and many Germans think that their 3 Keeping "cheap labor" is the usual reason given for Lincoln preventing blacks from returning to Africa, but there was a bigger reason which we will discuss in the next HR.

American - British - Russian conquerors are devils. War does that. My opinion of Yankees began to change when my Aunt Harriet married one. I didn't understand it. If they were so bad why was she marrying one. I went to their wedding when I was six or seven. Uncle Howard was a banker. He lived in Brownsville, Pennsyvania. His family had been "Copperheads".

A copperhead was a Northerner who didn't like Lincoln waging an undeclared war on the South and his trampling of the Constitution. They were called Copperheads because they cut the figure of "Liberty" from a copper penny and wore it on their lapels. There were lots of them. Copperheads weren't necessarily friends of the South - they just didn't like Lincoln and what he was doing. Actual battles between Copperhead militias and Lincoln forces took place in every Northern state. A lot of people sympathized with the Copperheads. While we were fighting Lincoln's army down South, Copperheads were fighting them too. I hadn't heard about that. I was told that there were many more Yankee Copperheads than Black Republicans in many places but the Black Republicans had the army behind them.

So, all Yankees weren't devils. If Copperheads didn't like Lincoln, and Uncle Howard's family were Copperheads - Copperhead Yankees must be OK, or Aunt Harriet wouldn't have married Uncle Howard.

My feeling of magnamity grew when I heard stories about the times Yankee soldiers actually helped us. One of the stories was about Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller

Mr. Miller was old and he was rich. He made his money in the stockmarket. He was the first person I ever heard of who made a lot of money in the stock market and he did this before the War. He took the money he made and built the Miller Home for Foundlings and he bought the "Fair Grounds" - renamed it "Miller Park" - and gave it to the Citizens of Lynchburg. Miller Park was where the 2nd Virginia mobilized to ride off to War in '61. He built a school for young boys near Charlottesville, and he did a lot of other things. He was known as a crotchety old geezer but he did a lot for the people of Lynchburg.

Like most others, he didn't trust banks or bankers and he kept his money hidden at home. Northern newspapers told their readers stories about how all Southerners had gotten rich from whipping and abusing slaves and they deserved to have their riches taken from them. This encouraged young men who didn't know better to enlist and go South. All a soldier had to do was to make a Southern farmer tell his captor where his money was hidden and he might become rich for life.

As a result of this media campaign, many a Virginia family-member lost fingers or had broken hands, arms, and heads, or were disfigured from branding irons. If you are into this sort of thing - some of the methods used to make farmers talk were ingenious - like turning them over a slow fire like a pig. Woe be the one who could not produce enough wealth to satisfy his captors.

While at Lynchburg, Union soldiers were tipped off that old man Miller had money, so they went to his house. Miller was not only crotchety but he was also hardheaded. When his inquisitors tired of using physical persuasion, one of them said he was going to blow his head off if he wouldn't tell where he had hidden his money.

Old man Miller told them, "go to hell!" He said he wasn't about to tell them where his money was hidden, that his money was worth a whole lot more than his life and to "go ahead and shoot!"

With that, the frustrated Yankee soldier raised his pistol and pulled the trigger, but a companion knocked his arm up and the pistol ball went into the ceiling. You used to be able to see the bullet hole.

If a Yankee had not saved old man Miller's life, he would have been murdered right there. Miller's savior wasn't a Copperhead, but we still remember his good deed.

Honorable Officers From Libby Prison

Saxons assume that other Saxons go by God's Commandments. God's Commandments are in the Bible. Many of these Commandments are elaborated upon by Josephus. Josephus was widely read back then. We carry his book in our catalog because our ancestors thought his writings were important enough to read. Josephus was a Bible scholar. His extensive knowledge of the Law is still quoted as an authority. This was especially true in the 19th century. In writing about Prisoners of War of one's own kind he wrote:

> "Obed ... a prophet ... complained that they ... make captives out of their kinsmen ... to let them go home without doing them any harm ... So the ... men took the captives and let them go, and took care of them, and gave them provisions, and sent them away to their own country, without doing them any harm." Antiq 9:7:2

Parole was policy of both Union and Confederate armies - parole prisoners immediately after capture to avoid exposing them to the rigors of prison life. It was done in obedience to the WORD.

After the capture of Harper's Ferry, General Jackson paroled thousands of Yankee prisoners and sent them home. Arriving columns of Confederate troops passed columns of captured and paroled Federal troops departing for home. There were no guards. Both waved to each other in passing. That's the way you did things.

Lincoln stopped parole. This forced the South to establish prisons at Richmond. Belle Island was for enlisted men and Libby Prison for officers. Prison-life hardships were felt immediately and the mortality rate grew when medicines were declared contraband. Southern officials said that they would allow medicines to be sent directly to Yankee prisoners, but this offer was refused.

Union officers asked for and were given permission to go to President Lincoln to try to persuade him to reinstate parole. Failing that, to allow medicines to be sent to them. Lincoln turned down both requests.

Here's what I was leading up to: In obedience to their word- of-honor they had given their captors, they returned to prison and its hardships and the ever present posibility of death from sickness. Those Union officers were gentlemen. Lincoln was something else.

The Knapsack

Readers of Vigilantes Of Christendom are familiar with the knapsack story - how over 130 members of our family refugeed to Kelly's Ford. While there the Yankees came and killed the flocks of chickens and turkeys and killed the livestock. They took what food they wanted and poured salt and molasses over the rest to make it inedible. They then marched off laughing and singing The Battle Hymn Of The Republic. That song irritates me to this day.[4]

One Yankee soldier remained behind. I've forgotten his name. He filled his knapsack with as much food as it would hold and left it for the family. It wasn't much for that many people, but it was the best he could do. It was a Christian act. We appreciated it. Still do. Most of you have read the rest of the story in Vigilantes, about what happened to him when he was captured and sent to Richmond, so I won't repeat it.

The Media Makes People That Way

A hard thing I had to learn was that Yankees are like everyone else - there are good ones and bad ones. It appears that most of the ones who came down here acted badly, really bad. What made them that way? It was the newspapers.

The Cartel owned the newspapers in all Northern population centers. Information that people needed to make decisions was first censored before it was reported in Cartel newspapers. People can only reason with information they have. Since censored news was all that people received, those who censored the news controlled the people who read and believed what they wrote.

If the invading soldiers believed that Southerners were as bad as the media said they were - it would explain their conduct. Yankee soldiers had no other information on which to base their opinions other than newspaper reports.

4 This song made me stop going to Thomas Road Baptist Church. I'll tell you that story one day. Actually, it was both this song and usury, but the song did it.

I learned about the importance of newspapers from the War Between the States. This is so important that I want to take a little time with that subject later

Lynchburg Was Rich After The War

After the War Lynchburg had more rich people per capita than any other "city" in the country. It's an interesting story.

The Union army had burned out many untaxed self-sufficient farms surrounding Lynchburg. As long as these farms were in existence they produced almost everything their inhabitants needed. SSF production shut out Cartel products. People would not buy from the Cartel things that they made themselves - or could get cheaply from a neighbor. The Self-Sufficient Farm was the Cartel's competition. Remove the SSF and the Cartel had a new market.

Destroy the SSF economy! Create a new market! This is why farms, mills and villages were burned. Once gone, the people had to buy from the Cartel things they once produced themselves. Our people needed clothes, tools, iron and grain products that had once come from the farm cottage industry and countless mills standing on every Virginia creek, river and run. But now, many were gone. War torn smoking Virginia was the land of opportunity - for the victor!

Lynchburg Town Becomes A City

Textile mills shut down in New England, throwing New England workers out of jobs, and rebuilt in Lynchburg. Near starving war-widows and their children poured in from the Virginia countryside to work 12 hour days for starvation wages in the mills, but at least they worked.

These workers bought their food at the company store, moved into company housing built for them on "Cotton Hill", and paid their rent to the company. The textile business boomed. Lynchburg had a near monopoly on textiles where earlier there had been shut-out competition from self-sufficient farms. Textile mill owners in Lynchburg got rich.

Steel mills and iron smelters opened to supply the demand once met by local smelters. Their owners got rich, too. Paper mills opened. Narrow gauge railroads were built into the sides of "No Business" and "Lock's Mountain" and the rest of the Blue Ridge. Centuries old virgin forests were stripped from the mountains wholesale and shipped to the mills, all over America and abroad. What earlier owners used only as needed, conquerors used up in a moment. The owners, living in Lynchburg and New York, got rich.

Cities

In a land where cities were unknown - cities mushroomed overnight. Sleepy trading towns become bustling manufacturing cities. Free men from self-sufficient farms who had traveled to town to trade and then go home now came to cities to live - to work and become wage-slaves. Their farms were deserted or were bought up by the Cartel.

Cities fabricate things - they are permanant establishments. They stockpile both raw materials and finished products. They provide housing for wage slaves who have none.

It had long been known that manganese ore was up the James at the village of Glasgow. Cartel interests bought the old mine and land around, laid off a town complete with lamplight, several impressive brick buildings, and a great hotel sitting on a hillside. With this done they sold lots advertised up North as building and business opportunities.

They did the same for Waynesboro and Big Lick which they renamed Roanoke. Both Glasgow and Waynesboro failed. Glasgow's mine ran out of ore and Waynesboro was in the middle of nowhere. But Roanoke investors got rich. From Big Lick with its three buildings to Roanoke with railroad terminals, repair shops and hundreds of thousands of support workers transformed pastures into a city overnight. It was quite amazing.

I remember exploring the old deserted hotel that sat on a hilltop overlooking Glasgow and seeing street lamps and imposing brick buildings all located in cow pastures. Glasgow had been by-passed, but the Cartel will come back when it finds something to harvest. Waynesboro, which died on the vine has now taken on new life with the discovery of relatively cheap labor. Unemployed farmers find work in New England's plants that relocated there - and New England workers go on the dole since their own farms have long since been taken by the Cartel.

Banks

In Lynchburg, those having collateral could build their own houses. The 1st National Bank was established in 1865 - says so right on front. Anyone who needed anything was welcome to come in and borrow - if they had collateral.[5]

Lynchburg had arrived. It was now the "City Of Lynchburg" presided over by a new class of millionaire managers - practically all of whom were Cartel servants.

5 "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

Lynchburg had more millionaires that most any other city its size in the country. It was all the result of the War.

War is a money-maker!

Letter From S. Africa from KJ

In Zimbabwe, Mugabe is getting worse by the day. He kills members of the other party and does just what he wants. The white farmers must be out on the 6th or 7th of this month. All England does is to warn him every time he does something bad, and that does not scare him at all.

The shop shelves in Zimbabwe are about empty and every bit of food is very expensive. I see that the UN is flying food in, but Mugabe wants the food under his control so that those who vote for him might get some of it.

So far this year there is no sign of peace. Blacks in the Northern Province strip the white farmer's fields of produce. If you protect your land in court - you are accused of something. Black police just let criminals go and they lie, just as they did on the Cape border in those early years before the Great Trek. The judges believe every word the black police say.

We hope the situation is much better where you are.

Our best wishes. KJ

RKH: Jews are divided into nationalist Khazarean Jews who call themselves "Zionists", and caste Jews who work for the Cartel's civil service and call themselves by the name of their religion. All religions have two faces. The first is the true religion. The second is the same religion "re- interpreted" by Hindu theologians.

The first benefits the people whose religion it is. The second benefits the international merchant whose business must be conducted under the protection of a docile religion.

Jews have militant Talmud-Zionism and they also have their ITC world religion called Judaism. Christians have the WORD and mainstream Christianity, and there is true Islam and there is trade-Islam proclaimed by Cartel approved mullahs.

CHURCH SCANDAL: A Boston Globe investigation revealed that as many as 80 priests in Boston alone may be involved in sex-abuse scandals that could result in a massive wave of lawsuits. Under attack is Cardinal Law who is accused of reassigning accused priests to new parishes after learning of accusations made against them.

Many Catholics now question Church rules. Pedophilia is prohibited, but, practiced by the priesthood and seemingly little is done to prevent it. For that matter canon law forbids usury but the Catholic Church owns usury banks.

The unthinkable is now thinkable; the Catholic Church, and most other mainstream churches, in fact have NO rules, everything is policy, policy that can be changed by the whim of their leaders. This is rebellion against the WORD which says;

Chapter 331

LAND & SLAVES

Bringing Order From War Chaos

The conquering process and managing the assets conquered in war is the job for surrogates. These surrogates have many titles but the conquest, managing the conquest, and collecting tribute after the conquest is ancient and has been reduced to a routine.

Freeman To Slave

"Freemen" forced to pay tribute are in reality slaves. A freeman in debt is a slave.

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

Freemen in prison are slaves.

"The children of Israel are men, and your brothers; you shall not reduce them to slavery." Leviticus 25:44-46 (Ferrar Fenton)

Rarely do slaves think as freemen once they become accustomed to slavery. The master of the slave gives him rewards and punishments - thereby becoming as a god. The master jealously guards this image. The rules of the freeman's old God are replaced with the rules of the slave's master.

The North Descends Into Slavery

After the Revolutionary War, fought to free themselves from Britain, the Northern U.S. was quickly transformed back into a cartel dominion as immigrants from Europe arrived and borrowed money from newly-established banks to buy land. These immigrants foolishly thought that having land whose title was held by banks made them freemen.

"The Rothschilds were one of the largest factors in the American real estate boom of the 1830s."[1] They were also the Vatican bankers and operated in London. This relationship allowed the Catholic and Anglican Churches to indirectly practice usury without being blamed.

Looking back, it is easy to see the easy transfer of the Old World debt-slavery to the New World's debt-slavery. It was also an easy transition from being a bankrupted farmer to becoming a landless debt-ridden worker housed in a "city" manufacturing center.

1 Robert Sobell, Panic On Wall Street, MacMillan, NY, p. 42.

Media Organized Episcopacy

Cartel newspapers were established in all major population centers to condition and help manage these workers. These workers, who didn't know their next-door neighbors, were told to choose a ruler from a group of political candidates that they had never heard of.

To help them with this task, the newspapers publicized agents of the newspaper owner. These agents were the only ones the newspaper publicized. The worker voted for the best man he knew but the only ones he knew were those publicized by the newspapers. This "sleight-of-hand" is called a "democratic election". It is make-believe since an agent of the media owner agents is elected regardless who got the most votes. When the media publicizes a 3rd party political candidate, which is a rare event, one must assume that this candidate is also an agent of the media-owner. In Cartel ruled societies, there is no such thing as "free-elections". Whoever owns the paper owns the city. The sale of a newspaper transfers a city and its population from one Cartel franchise holder to another.

The Southern Lesson

The American South was independent and rich. Even poor dirt farmers were rich compared to urban industrial workers. The absence of tribute allowed wealth to accumulate generation after generation. The South's wealth excited Cartel greed and its dream of a Camelot here on earth excited the dreams of Saxons the world over.

The Media Prepares War

From the early 1800s, Cartel media drummed into the former independent farmers now living in Northern cities that Southern farmers were blackguards, brutes, thieves and murderers.

Books like Uncle Tom's Cabin were given top billing and fiction was paraded as fact. Given no second opinion many believed the media ranting. When one reads the newspapers of that period one can see that media-fomented "hate" was so thick one could almost cut it with a knife.

The media elected the Cartel's agent - Lincoln. With Lincoln at the helm the stage was set. Lincoln manufactured his "Pearl Harbor" to start the war.

Fort Sumter

Firing on Fort Sumter was paraded as proof that Southern farmers were all the media said they were. When Charleston Harbor was invaded by a Federal fleet sent by Lincoln - Southern Rebels defended themselves. The media said that they "fired on the American Flag!" To avenge this insult, Lincoln launched an invasion of the South without the nicety of declaring war - and the fight was on.

The independent Northern newspapers which protested this travesty were shut down by Lincoln, and their editors were thrown in prison.

The Cartel media started the war and were responsible for the unfortunate incidents that the war produced.

Evelynton & Edmund Ruffin

> "Edmund Ruffin acquired Evelynton Plantation in 1847 and brought the worn-out land to a new state of prosperity ... A fervent secessionist, Ruffin sailed to Charleston, South Carolina, to fire the shot at Fort Sumter that began the Civil War.

"During the peninsular campaign in 1862, Union troops devastated Ruffin's plantation, burning every building, girdling the trees, and salting the fields. Three years later, after Lee's surrender at Appomattox, Ruffin shot himself, wrapped in the folds of the Confederate flag. (Virginia Plantations & Homes, David K. Gleason 1989)

Sherman

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) operates through agents selected from local populations. These usually appear as loyal members of the society they betray[2] and often come from families who have proved their loyalty to the Cartel in the past. One of these was William Tecumseh Sherman.[3]

1820. B. Lancaster, Ohio - son of Judge Charles R. Sherman, Judge office Supreme Ct. who died 1829. Adopted by

1858 - Practiced law Leavenworth, KS

1861 - May 14 - appointed Col., Transferred to DC; Battle Manassas; Brother, John, Leader Republican Party.

1861 - Promoted Brig Gen.

1863 - At Vicksburg - Brig/Reg Army. Commander Army Tenn. Overwhelmingly outnumbered S. army.

1864 - Commander - military div Miss. & Gen Army of TN.

1866 - Lt. Gen - later full Gen when Grant became pres. Retired 1884. Died NY Jan 14 1891. Statue DC & NY.

This was Sherman. Born to an establishment family, groomed for the job, quickly advanced to high rank to help in the conquest of the South. His war comments are interesting and are taken from George F. Will's Return of the Confederates.

Sherman's Words

"I fear the world will jump to the wrong conclusion that because I am in Atlanta the work is done. Far from it. We must kill three hundred thousand I have told you of so often, and the further they run the harder for us to get them."

- Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, 1864

Understanding Sherman's Words

Southern volunteers on active duty were volunteering to keep out the wolves. Gatekeepers in the army - they would be gatekeepers when returned to civilian life. It would in no way profit the cartel to spare the lives of war-time trouble-making soldiers and allow them to return home to become peace-time trouble-making civilians.

Kill 'em All

I dislike upsetting new readers, but this is the real world that we live in and facts are facts. One such fact is that it is cartel policy to kill rebels who fall into its hands. It prevents later problems.

This is the reasoning behind the outlawing and summary execution of Boer commandos during the Boer War - rounding up their families and transporting them to British concentration death- camps - stopping exchange of Boers for British prisoners; summary execution of SS volunteers during WWII - starving 1,000,000 German PWs after WWII ended and millions more in the great repatriation. It explains the government execution of Gordon Kahl and inprisoning his son Yory who had done no wrong, shooting the mother holding her baby on Ruby Ridge and the Waco slaughter of the innocents. It is Cartel policy to kill rebels - separatist rebels who fall into its hands.

Killing rebels prevents subsequent rebellion. "Kill 300,000 of them". Kill a million - ten million! Do whatever is necessary to kill them; war, starvation, prison - whatever necessary - kill them!

There is one more benefit that comes from killing rebels - land! Whoever owns land is king.

Land - The Second Reason

Picket's charge at Gettysburg was glorious. Bugles sounding, banners streaming, cannon, rattle of musketry - the smell of gunsmoke that excites the soldier! Home and country! Independence and freedom!

Then, reality - the sick feeling in the stomach of every man who sees blue uniforms waiting behind the stone wall far across the field - cannon quietly lined up wheel to wheel across the top of the ridge, waiting. But the soldier steps out on the order.

Shells begin to explode, men fall in little bunches - horribly mangled - fear, anger, the adrenalin kicks in - the ordered march becomes a trot, and the trot turns into a run - fear and anger merge into a desire to "get" the enemy - kill him! It wells up into the most beautiful music ever heard by human ear - the "rebel yell" rising from ten thousand throats!!

I've heard that music twice in my life. The martial voice of the South. It crystallized the ideal, making you one with your comrades.

It was the ideal that made me volunteer the day the Korean War broke out. I stood long hours in a line stretching out the building and down the block. Thousands volunteered.

Reality Check

Every time a Yankee sharpshooter lined is sights on a Johnny Reb running toward him and his shot dropped him - the 100-200 acres of land that the dead man owned came on the market. Land became cheap because lots and lots of land was being thrown on the market at Gettysburg. With no one to plow the fields and pay the bills, except a widow and her children, land was thrown on the market for what it would fetch. (It is amazing how many widows managed to sacrifice and hang on to the farm and pass it on to their children - our fathers and grandfathers.)

The story the establishment historians leave out is that every rifleman's bullet that hit home, every discharge of canister from a Yankee cannon that tore into the ranks of the rebels -put 25 more farms on the market. Every point-blank volley from a Yankee regiment added 50 to 100 more. The ground at Gettysburg was covered - thousands of dead - thousands of farms on the market. Hundreds of thousands and millions of acres looking for new owners.

Lincoln

We learned about Lincoln at my great-grandfather's farm at Kelly's Ford. It was not the history-book Lincoln. The Lincoln we knew saw the looting and destruction being done by his soldiers before his very eyes - it was pointed out to him by my great- grandfather. He stared, ignored my great-grandfather, and turned to discuss other matters with someone else. His face was unmoved. No feeling. Cold. Calloused. He saw and he knew - and didn't care.

Beyond the slaughter of 620,000 men in a "total war" conducted by his army commanders he appointed - whom he invariably commended and promoted for war crimes and atrocities against civilians, property, and Confederate prisoners - were other dark forces.

Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels were Lincoln partisans. Marx wrote a column for Horace Greeley's New York Tribune. James McPherson states in his Abraham Lincoln and the Second American Revolution, "Lincoln championed the leaders of the European revolutions of 1848; in turn, a man who knew something about those revolutions - Karl Marx - praised Lincoln in 1865 as 'the single-minded son of the working class' who led his 'country through the matchless struggle for

Horace Greeley - Media Man

Greeley's New York Tribune would have nothing to do with peaceful "repatriation abolition". Greeley wanted "radical abolition" - free slaves without compensating owners and depriving the freed slaves of their own farms in Africa.

Condemned for falsehoods that helped cause the war, its vicious execution and ghastly aftermath, Greeley helped raise bond to free President Davis in an attempt to retrieve his reputation.

The above photo reveals the real Horace Greeley. Trust your eyes.

the rescue of an enchained race and the reconstruction of a social world.'"

Russian revolutionary, Alexander Herzen called the South's President Jefferson Davis, "the greatest political criminal of our time." Michael Bakunin wrote, "In the struggle between the Northern and Southern United States ... the North ... has all my sympathies."

Lincoln's administration enacted into law three planks of the "Communist Manifesto." 1. A national banking act; 2. The Internal Revenue Service. 3. Public education at Land Grant Colleges.

Help arrived from these revolutionaries to build the Union army. Veterans of the failed Communist Revolution of 1848 flocked to American shores.[4] William L. Burton's Melting Pot Soldiers, 1988, lists some who served as general officers. The list includes Joseph Weydemeyer, Carl Schurz, Franz Sigel, Thomas Francis Meagher (of the Irish Brigade), Peter Joseph Osterhause, August von Willich, Friedrich Salomon, 4 The similarity to the 1930s Spanish Civil War when Communists worldwide flocked to Spain is inescapable.

Alexander Schimmelfinnig, E.S. Solomon, Albin Schoepf, Julius Stahel, Max Weber and Frederick Hecker.

The Cartel episcopacy arrived cloaking the reason for their presence with talk of "economic reform", "abolition", and "democracy". The real reason - imposing Cartel rule over the South. This required killing. The American dead that resulted were among the first of 140,000,000 others who have been sacrificed to build the Tower.

This is the legacy of the Lincoln we knew, whose own sons of military age were safely kept in Washington far away from the dangers of war. This was the Lincoln who refused the plea made by Yankee prisoners who traveled from Richmond's Libby Prison to Washington to ask that prisoner exchange be reinstated - or at the very least to allow medicines to be sent through the lines to prisoners in Richmond. He refused both requests. Why?

It's The Land, Stupid!

Dead Johnny Rebs not only removed them from being problems then and later - their deaths freed up thousands of acres of land. What was true for one was true for the other.

The ranks of most Yankee regiments also contained farmers. Every time Johnny Reb shot one of them in turn it also added 100-200 acres to the land-glut coming to market. Land was cheap because there were about 270,000 dead rebels and nearly 350,000 dead Yankees. Lincoln was the cartel butcher - just as America's present presidents are surrogate butchers. Count the slaughtered over the last ten years!

What difference does it make whether soldiers die in battle or in prison from sickness? What does the wolf care which flock a sheep comes from or whether he is blue or grey? Once dead his land comes on the market, or can be made to come to market because the dead owner is not around to defend its title.

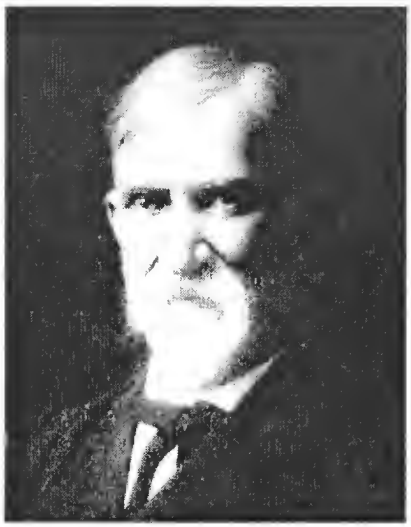
Lincoln appointed Grant and Sherman to be his executioners. Sherman, long groomed for his job, announced his desire to kill 300,000 rebels. Grant was cut from the same cloth. At Spotsylvania Court House's Bloody Angle, in a maneuver devoid of any military merit, reason, or precedent that I can find, he put 20,000 of his men in a great square and marched that square straight into General Lee's cannon. Trees were reduced to matchsticks and bodies to hamburger. It was a slaughter pen.

My wife's great-grandfather, Capt. Charles Raine, was there. He survived only because Yankee bodies were heaped ten deep on top of him in the trench he had been defending. He was pulled out out at night and thrown on top of a Yankee dead wagon, unconscious and half dead. Thousands upon thousands of Yankees died there. Grant showed the same disregard for life at Cold Harbor - 7,000 men in 15 minutes - against our prepared defenses. We had even moved our cannon double-shotted with canister right into the front lines. Before the attack



Capt Charles Raine - CSA

Fought in the 33rd Virginia with Stonewall through all the Valley campaigns. Was overrun by Grant's "human wave" at Spotsylvania's "Bloody Angle" and pulled half dead from under a trenchfull of bodies.

The above picture was taken when he was only 50 years old - already an old man.

Yankee soldiers wrote their names on pieces of paper and pinned them on their uniforms for the burial parties - for all the good it did. Grant left their bodies to rot on the field - his own men!

Grant's job was killing. If tens of thousands of Yankee's were killed - tens of thousands of farms in New York, Ohio, and Indiana were thrown on the market - just as thousands of farms in Virginia, Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia were thrown on the market when thousands of Rebels were killed!

In western Missouri, practically everyone was killed or driven away. Nobody was left - the country was deserted. No cows, horses, dogs, people, nothing. Farmland was swept wholesale into Cartel corporations. A handful of refugees trickled back after the war to find nothing standing. A few with nothing to lose moved onto deserted farms and in 15 years became their legal owners through adverse possession. There were no other claimants. Most everybody else was dead.

More than two hundred thousand Southern farms came on the market. Hundreds of thousands of Northern farms came on the market. The War was fought for land and slaves - black and white. Both now belonged to the Cartel. It was a tremendously successful and profitable war.

With variations, the same thing happened in S. Africa - and for the the same reasons. Kill the owners and take the land that gave them independence and insolence. Germans were killed in fire- bombing, post-war prisons, post-war starvation and repatriation to achieve the same end. Kill them and Germany can be bought for a song.

Land and slaves. Surrogates ruling survivors. Bargains! Bargains!

Appomattox

All wars end. The War against the South ended, officially. Lee surrendered the 20,000 remnant left of his army to the 200,000 conquering federals at Appomattox. Enlisted men stacked their rifles. Officers were allowed to keep their sidearms. My great- grandfather, Dr. William Hoskins, surgeon 59th Virginia, left with his cousin to ride back home to King & Queen County on the other side of Richmond.

Maj William Hoskins,
Surgeon 59th Virginia - CSA

They rode through the smoke and rubble of Richmond into the countryside beyond. In passing a house hidden in trees behind a hedge they heard women screaming followed by raucous laughter. My great-grandfather and his cousin spurred their horses, jumped the hedge and found Union stragglers abusing the women of the house. Dr. William shot two and his cousin shot the other one. I have his pistol - a .44 Starr, made in England. The same kind carried by General Lee.

Puppet Government

Post-war elections were held and the South sent her representatives back to Washington just like before the War. They voted against "anti-South" legislation. The Cartel needed anti-South legislation to legally enable them to sack the South, so, the Black Republican victors disqualified southern office holders and sent them home.

They then passed legislation banning any Southerner who had borne arms against the invasion of the South from voting or holding office. This disfranchised all voting white Southerners. They then passed legislation giving blacks the vote.

> "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall preceed from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

Southern governments changed from white to black overnight. As the only voters, the blacks voted themselves into office and a Union occupation army saw to it that they weren't removed. Cartel carpetbaggers were assigned to Southern state and county governments to direct the voting of the new black legislatures.

The Cartel manipulation of these black puppet governments extorted the last drop of blood from a conquered people. The name given to this period is "Reconstruction". In Germany, S. Africa, and Russia the process was virtually the same. It is still going on. In the Southland there is anti-white "affirmative-action", federal schools, federal voting restrictions, minority grants, and loss of freedom-of-association. The list is endless. It is the same wherever Jacob is conquered by Esau.

Reconstruction

Victors want Unconditional Surrender. "Unconditional Surrender" allows the victor to do whatever he chooses to do to the vanquished - unhindered by legal niceties. The establishment honored Gen Grant by naming him "Unconditional Surrender Grant". He was rewarded again by being made president - one of the most corrupt the country has ever seen

The post-war period meant good times for the Cartel victor - - it always does. The stock market went to new highs.

It was hell for the vanquished.

Treating Captured Rebels

My great-grandfather, Granville James Kelly was arrested as a war criminal and imprisoned at Point Lookout. He was charged with refusing to give oath of allegience to the United States. President Jefferson Davis was arrested as a war criminal and thrown into a cell dug into the side of a wet embankment at Fortress Monroe, Virginia where he was mistreated by his guards and almost died. They even planned to try General Robert E. Lee for treason before a "war-crimes" tribunal.

The media demonized the South with "Andersonville" to prevent discussion of the deaths of tens of thousands of Southern prisoners held in open-air U.S. prisons. They died from exposure, starvation, and the savagery of black guards placed over them.

In post-war S. Africa the Boer leaders were banished and Cape Boer commandos were imprisoned. Germany's leaders were "legally" executed, their soldiers were also allowed to die by the hundreds of thousands in open air prison camps, and additional hundreds of thousands of civilians were allowed to die of starvation while food from other nations was prevented from being given to them. Like "Andersonville", the media invented an "Auschwitz" to breath life into the First World War "6- million" story that had been discredited 30 years before. This was done to prevent discussion of WWII post-war atrocities against Germany. Now, fifty years later, they still aren't discussed; 100 years later discussing the atrocities committed against S. Africa's Boers is banned; 130 years later discussion of the atrocities committed against the South is banned. Hollywood's "Globe" and "Oscar" awards are truly merited. The Cartel's media does a magnificent job doing what they do.

Terror And Sherman's Wisdom

It does no good to terrorize a conquered province during a war only to allow its people to recover and throw off its chains.

The terror caused by the War in the South was followed by peacetime terror. Protected by occupation Union Troops, gangs of ex-slaves roved the countryside committing unspeakable atrocities. Attempts by locals to suppress these outlaws were attacked by the media which used the same adjectives they use today every time the subject of alien crime arises.

As a consequence, few Southern voices were raised in protest. General D. H. Hill answered a letter from General Jubal Early:

> "Why has the South become so toadyish and sycophantic? I think it is because the best and noblest were killed off during the war."

Sherman wisdom to kill 300,000 rebels paid off. Dead men don't plot rebellion and those who live don't complain - if they expect their conquerors to allow them to eat.

Re-education

Conquered peoples are denied heros. In Lynchburg Robert E. Lee Jr. High has been renamed Robert S. Payne. Garland Rhodes, named after Lynchburg's boy generals killed in the War has been changed. The Confederate flag that flew at Miller Park where the 2nd Virginia Cavalry organized and rode away to defend Virginia has been hauled down. The cannon commemorating the exploits of Latham's Battery have been taken away. The Confederate flag has been banned from Fort Early and the Cemetery where 3,000 Confederate soldiers are buried. The "Old Fort" has been bulldozed and "Fort McCausland" has been bulldozed to make room for a Synagogue. Lynchburg's children grow up not knowing "Dixie". It too has been banned.

The city stadium has been renamed for a black. The library has a Martin Luther King section - but no Saxon patriot

Governor declines to issue Confederate proclamation

RICHMOND (AP) — Gov. Mark R. Warner met Thursday with a group of Southern heritage enthusiasts and later announced that he will not issue a proclamation designating April as Confederate History and Heritage Month.

"Over the past few years, the issuance of a Confederate history month proclamation has been a lightning rod," Warner said in a written statement. "My belief is that signing such a proclamation would not advance the healing process."

Two years ago, the Virginia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People threatened to organize protests, including a possible tourism boycott, if the proclamations did not end.

Warner's predecessor, Jim Gilmore, responded the next year by issuing a proclamation recognizing the sacrifices of all Virginians who fought in the Civil War, whether for the Confederacy or the Union. That angered the Sons of Confederate Veterans, the group that had asked for the history month proclamation.

During his campaign last fall,

> "He has already expressed a desire to make appearances around the state that recognize important historical figures, including those important to the Confederacy."
>
> Ellen Qualls
> Spokeswoman > for Gov. Mark Warner

Warner said he would not issue a Confederate proclamation. Leaders of the SCV and other Confederate history buffs were unable to change Warner's mind during a meeting in the governor's office.

"We certainly didn't go in with any false hopes," said Brag Bowling, first lieutenant commander of the Virginia Division of the SCV. "But in my opinion, the meeting was most positive."

He said Warner "left us with the impression that while he may not issue a proclamation this year, he would do other things that in a positive light would recognize the contributions of Southerners, Virginians and Confederate history." Warner was not specific about what he might do, Bowling said.

Warner spokeswoman Ellen Qualls said the governor's plans have not been finalized.

"He has already expressed a desire to make appearances around the state that recognize important historical figures, including those important to the Confederacy," she said.

Among those who met with Warner, Bowling said, were former state Republican Party chairman Patrick McSweeney; Ben Jones, the former "Dukes of Hazzard" actor and Democratic candidate for the 7th District congressional seat; and representatives of the Heritage Preservation Association and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Bowling said the SCV and other groups will celebrate Confederate History and Heritage Month without benefit of a gubernatorial proclamation.

section, school children are denied the right of free association; local colleges give preference to non-whites - or lose corporate grants. Corporations hire non-whites under anti-Saxon affirmative action mandates or lose government contracts; There is a Black History Month but no White History Month. Virginia's puppet governor declines to issue a "Confederate Proclamation".

Worst of all the flag of the "Sovereign" state of Virginia has been removed from its own flagpole and now flies under the Federal flag - the universal sign of a conquered people.

It is the fate of the conquered.

Internal-External Tariffs

Virginia traded with England for almost two centuries before joining the union of states. Trade ties between British merchants and Southern farmers were generations old. After the Southern defeat, tariffs forced Southern farmers to trade with the North at considerably higher prices, just when they were least able to afford it.

Nothing is said about the "internal tariffs" that were imposed. It cost more to ship goods from Richmond to New York than from New York to Richmond. I have been told that this differential was not changed until after WWII.

Tribute-Taxes

Black legislatures ruling the South were instructed to tax land. Farmers found it impossible to pay the steep rates and sold out. Radical emancipation left the great plantations without workers and no income to pay either workers or the high taxes. These plantations were also put on the market.

I previously told the story of Mr. Milner Noble of Aerofin whose family sold 12,000 acres of land near Richmond after WWII for $6,000. They thought they had gotten a bargain.

Bonds

Black legislatures issued multi-millions of bonded debt for public improvements, railroads, etc. Perhaps 10¢ on the dollar was used for the stated reasons with the rest going into the pockets of legislators and Cartel favorites. After the blacks were driven from office - the debt remained - and not paid until the mid '50s.

Forests

The great primeval Virginia forests that had been so carefully tended that one could effortlessly gallop a horse through without being hit by branches. These were acquired for practically nothing and harvested. The lumber was shipped worldwide. Today, nothing remains of Virginia's magnificient forests except stumps and second and third growth.

Mines

The mineral resources of Virginia were taken by great corporations and their output maximized. Industrial wastes now contaminate the water table of large areas of Virginia's highlands.

Fisheries

Corporate fishing has depleted Virginia's rivers and bay. Fish filled waters of my youth are now barren. Nothing is there. Not even baby crabs in inlets. A twelve inch oyster hasn't been seen in 50 years. Cartel corporations take everything and return nothing.

The Migration

Living in a society governed by blacks, and daily confronted with armed Negroes whose acts were backed by the Army of the United States, tens of thousands of Southern families packed their belongings and wagon trains began the long trek west. After two and a half centuries - the South was being abandoned to blacks.

General Lee's Pronouncement

The following is from a letter from Gen Lee to Governor Stockdale of Texas after the War.

> "Governor Stockdale ... Those people hold me as a representative Southerner; hence, I know they watch my words, and if I should speak unadvisedly, what I say would be caught up by their speakers and newspapers, and magnified into a pretext for adding to the load of oppression they have placed upon our poor people; and God knows, Governor, that load is heavy enough now; ...
>
> "Governor, if I had foreseen the use those people designed to make of their victory, there would have been no surrender at Appomattox Courthouse; no sir, not by me. Had I foreseen these results of subjugation, I would have preferred to die at Appomattox with my brave men, my sword in this right hand." (Life & Letters of Robert Lewis Dabney Thomas C. Chapter 332

DOUBLE-CROSS And "Jim Crow"

"You can get your soft drink here but you have to drink it somewhere else!"

This is what I was told when I stopped for a cold soft drink at a Colored drug store on a hot summer day. I was a white boy and the Colored drug store enforced a "carry-out" policy.

I was walking from old E.C. Glass where I went to summer school, down 5th Street to Main Street to catch a bus home.

"Fifth Street" was the colored business district. It was big, crowded, noisy - money flowed. It took several minutes to wait for people to move when driving through. Last week I drove down 5th Street and saw 4 blacks crossing the street to a church. They were the only blacks in sight. "5th Street" as I knew it doesn't exist anymore. The Cartel put an end to it.

A Basic Fact

The Empire teaches that blacks can't do without whites. This is hammered day after day regardless of facts to the contrary. The public is constantly being told that blacks need whites to tell them what to do; advise them, help them, console them, counsel them, pat their backs and encourage them. But, in spite of this the fact is - blacks really prefer blacks.

Blacks may like the cars and TVs provided by white technology; they may like to have their pictures in the media, and like the acclaim and money that white society showers on them - but blacks prefer blacks.

At times blacks may fear other blacks and seek white protection. My uncle, Judge Deane Hundley, of Dunnsville, told me about the times blacks came to his home seeking protection from other blacks who were on drunken rampages and had sworn to kill them. Two days later these same enemies were walking down the street together laughing. In spite of disputes, given a choice, blacks prefer their own black society.

The black desire to live in their own black society is well known and has been used to control them.

The Second Basic Fact

The world is organized as an episcopacy - rule from the top down. The inner circle of the cartel's episcopacy are few in number. Their immense power is derived from their incredible wealth accumulated over the centuries by usury banking, trade, and war.

This International Trade Cartel (ITC) doesn't need large numbers. It hires agents. It appoints kings to rule, great merchants to manage, and selects priests it needs to teach "universalism" to all Cartel subjects and to justify and bless Cartel's acts.

Post War

In the Southland after the War Between The States, there were three opposing interest groups. These were the blacks, the whites, and the Federal Government - run by the Republican Party and representing Cartel business interests.

The Cartel's media divided the whites into opposing factions - Northern Saxon vs Southern Saxons. They divided the blacks into opposing factions - Cartel blacks vs Nationalist blacks.

Contending factions were continuously agitated. Northern Saxons vs Southern Saxon; Cartel blacks vs black nationalists, and the entire white bloc vs the entire black bloc. This constant agitation prevented the nationalist groups from working together to solve their common problems and allowed the government to manipulate them to achieve Cartel objectives.

Understanding Contracts & Policy

To avoid signed documents that might be used to upset their vaunted "rule by law" - the Cartel substituted "policy".

An example: People once knew that crime was a near-monopoly of the alien. Newspapers reporting crimes included the race of the criminal. Most criminals were aliens - it said so right there in the paper. This was important information - to the nationalist.

Terminology Review - Castes

We must keep our terms straight. The Cartel has three ruling castes.

When the Cartel's Priestly Caste ruled - the biggest buildings in town were churches and the message was "universalism". Everyone was welcome to accept the rule of the priest. Those who didn't were treated as outcasts. When kings ruled the biggest buildings were government buildings and everyone was welcome (or required) to become the king's subjects and tax payers. When the merchant rules the greatest buildings are trade office buildings. Everyone is welcome to do business with the Cartel. Everyone.

Nationalism

Nationalism forms among peoples with similar interests. Almost all agrarian societies are nationalist. There are religious groups that are nationalistic - Shintoists, Voodooist, Muslim. and Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, etc.

The most nationalistic of them all are racial nationalisms. Those of the same race can distinguish a fellow from all others at a glance. Most races share a common religion and common aspirations. Anyone of whatever race tends to sympathize with those of his own kind. He can do nothing else. Black, white, yellow or brown - those with similar racial backgrounds tend to be just what the Cartel propagandists call them - racist!. He can't help being what he is. Denial is laughable.

The greatest enemy of the Cartel merchant is the Nationalist. He tends to want to deal with his own kind and exclude the Cartel and his agents. The next worst Cartel enemy is the racial-nationalists. The absolute insufferable enemy is the religious-racial-nationalists. If you wonder why you are the focal point of abuse by the Cartel media - stop wondering. It makes you appear ignorant.

Mixed Breed

The least difficult to rule and to manipulate is the mixed-breed. He has no common race to use as a rallying point to oppose Cartel rule since he is torn between many races. Therefore, the subject most desired by Cartel "kings", "priests", and "merchants" is the mixed-breed. This is why "universalism" or "integration" is an intregal part of Cartel rule.

Solving The Perception Problem

It is difficult to promote the integration needed to develop mixed-race Cartel subjects when Saxons perceive aliens as being either criminals or potential criminals.

This problem was solved when the Cartel instructed its media to stop reporting the criminal's race. When the criminal's race is unknown - the criminal is whomever the media says it is. One day, all across the Saxon world, newspapers stopped reporting that most criminals were aliens.

Today, if 100 crimes are committed and 97 are committed by aliens and three by Saxons - the Saxon's crime is reported and lawlessness by aliens is ignored.

This media censorship tends to mold opinion to believe that Saxons commit most violent crimes and those crimes are "hate" crimes. I have never seen a written Cartel document confirming this policy, but I know the policy exists. "Policy" is unofficial - an agreement less visible - but no less binding.

Necessary Force

The self-sufficient farm system of the South had little need for anything the Cartel offered. It produced its own wealth and attended to its own wants and needs. The only way the Cartel could obtain Southern wealth was to use force. John Brown and instigated slave revolts provided the preliminaries. "The Secret Six", by Otto Scott exposed the identity of the Cartel merchants who financed John Brown, and newspaper files carry story after story of the type of propaganda used to incite blacks to revolt against their white masters - as it had done earlier in Haiti.

Slave Revolt Fails

Instigation of a slave revolt was remarkably unsuccessful. Except for a few Nat Turner type incidents, black slaves were loyal to their masters. They had nothing to gain by being disloyal. The South had promised them freedom and ownership of their own farms in Liberia. "Wenches" to be transported on reaching the age 18 and "Bucks" at 21. Those over those ages would live and die in America. In time, repatriation would solve the black/white problem. That was the plan.

The Cartel counter-offer to the blacks was that their freedom would be granted immediately and once free they were to have their own black Republics right here in America. However, blacks had seen tens of thousands of their fellows leave for their farms in Africa. Repatriation was real - Radical abolition and black Republics were only "pie in the sky".

Black Vote

In 1850, the Cartel launched the Republican Party. It was a minority party. It then engineered a three-way election to split the white vote and put Lincoln in office. Once in office Lincoln became a dictator. Bypassing Congress he used executive orders to initiate and wage a successful war against the South.

To continue ruling after the War, the Republican Party could no longer count on a 3-way split among white voters. They desperately needed more voters to form a majority. To gain this majority they disfranchised anti-Republican Southern whites and franchised the former black slaves.

With this realignment - the vote taken from Southern whites and given to the blacks - the Republican Party then had the numbers, the votes, and a lock on government. It had a "shooting license" and could do anything it wanted to do.

Black Government Policy

Cartel carpetbaggers were sent South to direct the vote of their new black legislators.

Blacks were shown how to elect themselves to office and were instructed to vote land taxes. Hard pressed white Southern land owners had no way to pay them. Blacks were shown how to vote themselves lavish salaries. This required higher taxes. They were shown how to vote for public works. This necessitated even higher taxes.

Protected by Federal occupation troops and guided by Cartel carpetbaggers - the blacks commenced a reign of terror against the disarmed and defenseless whites - similar to the one now being waged against defenseless white South Africans.

As far as the Cartel was concerned - the "terror" was a continuation of the softening process needed to appropriate prime Southern farmland; As far as the blacks were concerned - the "terror" was to realize the black Republics that they had been promised. Before they could have their black Republics the rest of the Southern whites had to be driven from the land. "Black Republics" was part of the understanding. It was "policy".

Whites by the thousands fled the black terror. Wagon trains headed west from the Southland. My own Kelly ancestors fled first to Missouri and then to Texas for safety. This is why my mother was born in Tyler, Texas. The Southland was being emptied of whites and was becoming a black wasteland ruled by blacks who intended turning it into black Republics.

The Land Double-Cross

At the very time black rulers were driving whites from the land under protection of Union bayonets, the Cartel advertised in Europe for immigrants to move onto Southern farms and plantations now owned by Cartel land companies. The potential for profit was enormous. Prime plantation land bought at tax sales for $1 an acre was offered at half pre-war price which had been as high as $400 to $800 an acre. It was a real bargain for the European buyer and a bonanza for the Cartel merchant.

However, this plan violated the unwritten long-standing black/Cartel understanding. Southern black legislators were outraged. In retaliation they passed laws preventing foreign white immigrants from entering the South. There was talk about seizing the millions of acres of Cartel-held farmland.

The Alliance Double-Cross

Having welshed on their agreement to turn the South into black Republics, the Cartel now double-crossed their former black allies again. This is why:

The threat by black Legislatures to seize Cartel land caused Cartel leaders to re-assess their alliances. The blacks were now considered unmanageable and the Cartel had to protect its investments.

Cartel representatives sat down with the disfranchised and despised white leaders and hammered out a new white/Cartel "policy". They were to join their forces to remove black rule.

The New Cartel/White Policy

In exchange for helping Southern whites regain political rule from the blacks - the Cartel agreed to change Northern white opinion from "anti" to "pro-South" - a necessary condition for the change to take place.

In return, the South must guarantee Cartel land ownership and not try to reclaim it.

There were other conditions. Southerners must refrain from calling out and killing obnoxious Cartel newspaper editors in duels. Dueling had been the former Southern way of dealing with lying newspaper editors. The entire agreement was spelled out in Pike's The Prostrate State.

True to its word, the Cartel had the new agreement incorporated in a book written exposing the excesses of black rule in the South. This was The Prostrate State by Pike. This book was widely advertised by the Cartel media and thousands of copies were sold which reversed Northern opinion of the South in less than a year. The last newspaper editor was shot in Richmond in the 1870s.

The result: Southern whites regained political power minus their wealth; the Cartel kept the Southern wealth they had seized; and the blacks were forced to negotiate with Southern whites to salvage what they could in search of the ever illusive "black society" they had been seeking.

The Triple Double-Cross

Given a free hand Southern whites, by hook and by crook, stopped blacks from voting. This stopped their rule over whites. Former Northern allies now gave them a cold shoulder and they had nowhere to go. Except for a few skilled artisans, blacks could work either as domestics or as laborers.

Black nationalists and Southern white nationalists sat down and hammered out their own black/white policy. In exchange for peacefully relinquishing political rule, whites guaranteed blacks their own black-ruled society and a guaranteed way to make a living. A tall order for a bankrupt people.

Building A Black Society

Blacks sold me a soft drink on my walk downtown- and then told me I couldn't drink it there. Look! The important thing to the universalists is that I couldn't drink a soft-drink in the drugstore. The important thing to the nationalists is that blacks had their own drugstore! There was more to it than that.

Creating this black society was a hardship to Southern whites, but they did the best they could - which was pretty good. Blacks, notoriously poor farmers, were still given "40 acres and a mule". "40-acres and a mule" was an opportunity for many blacks to wing it on their own - if they could.

Blacks wanted their own businesses. However, black businesses couldn't compete with better stocked and managed white businesses.

To enable blacks to engage in business, laws were passed preventing white merchants from selling to blacks if a black business offered the same items. Protected by this law, black businesses sprang up overnight. That drug store - black hotels and motels were common; black restaurants, clothing stores, department stores, movie theatres, shoe shops, and hardware stores - protected black businesses sprang up everywhere.

Certain white merchants were accused of selling items to blacks that black merchants carried. Black merchants didn't like it - this crossover trading - neither did the white population. Legal action was often taken to stop it.

Leggett's

When I was young, the best department store in Lynchburg was Millner's. Next was Guggenheimers, then came "Leggett's" - owned by Harold Leggett, a Lynchburg man. Bringing up the tail end was a much smaller black-owned department store up on 5th Street.

I was told that Harold Leggett did everything he could to attract the Negro trade, even breaking the "separation law". People who worked for him told me that he favored blacks over whites every chance he got and looked on them as an untapped gold mine.

The big merchants in Lynchburg did all they could to have separation laws struck down. Harold Leggett was among these leaders. In time they were successful and almost instantly white competition drove independent blacks out of business. This caused an influx of black shoppers into white owned stores like Leggett's Department Store. Leggett's has since merged with Belk and is now Belk-Leggett, part of a national chain.

The former leaders, Millner's and Guggenheimer's went out of business, and ALL black businesses formerly protected by separation laws were put out of business. Black hotels and motels stood empty. Stores formerly occupied by black businesses up on 5th Street black business district stood empty. Most have been torn down. Even the black movie theatre is gone. Black parents complain that today's Dunbar school doesn't enforce discipline or teach its students nearly as well as was done when Dunbar was black and had black teachers and a black principal like Mr. Seay.

Abe Schewel

Various parties had fingers in the Southern pie. One of the parties were the Jews. The Jews have long operated as the Cartel's "civil service". Lynchburg had had little experience with them before the War and up until about 1880. At that time individual Jewish merchants began to arrive supplied with enough operating capital to begin whatever they wanted to do. They had money when no one else did.

I went to Saturday cowboy movies at the old Trenton Theater. It was across the street from the Schewel's Furniture Store. I always arrived early so as not to miss anything, and developed the habit of visiting old Mr. Abe Schewel, the Store's owner. He was a nice old man.

Mr. Schewel sat in his rocking chair in the corner of his store in the middle of his rug department looking out the corner show windows. He was as much on display as were his rugs. I would sit on a rolled up rug in front of him and listen to his stories. He was a good story teller.

He told me what it was like when his family came to Lynchburg in the 1880s. They came from Odessa in Southern Russia. We talked about the horses and wagons loaded with tobacco on Main Street. Tobacco was the big business then.

At that time, Lynchburg's newspapers were involved with a heated discussion about sending Jews to the colored schools since they were a colored race. That didn't bother old Mr. Schewel. He had his own agenda.

He told me how he had provided money to organize Lynchburg's NAACP. He said "the Negroes love me for it", and "one day I will have all their business". He was right.

In time, the Cartel's Jewish financed and Jewish led NAACP whose long time national leaders were the Spingarn brothers, brought suit against separate E.C. Glass High School and colored "take- out" eating policy at Patterson's Drug Store across the street from Mr. Schewel's store, and won all the legal cases. Universalism overwhelmed Separation. Mr. Schewel won battles sitting quietly rocking in the show window of his store talking to little boys.

Mr. Schewel's NAACP was the Trojan Horse that destroyed black business and white separatism while telling the world that they were advancing Negro rights. The other furniture stores that catered exclusively to whites went out of business. Schewel's chain of furniture stores prospered mightily and has spread all across the state.

Repatriation Double-Cross

One of the saddest things I believe I ever saw were the comments of blacks after Col. Cox's talk to the Virginia legislature in Richmond.

I heard his talk. It was given standing ovations in Virginia's House of Delegates. Everyone was enthusiastic. I thought that financing would instantly be voted and the race problem was as good as solved. Blacks would go back to Africa where they had a standing open invitation, and we would have our own land to ourselves. Boy, did I have a lot to learn!

Col Earnest Sevier Cox, a descendent of Col. Sevier of Revolutionary War fame, was the first white man to walk from the tip of S. Africa to the Mediterranean Sea. He knew about race first hand. He, along with many thousands of blacks who looked to him for leadership, believed that the only way the race problem would ever be solved was to separate them.

Col. Cox

I remember my surprise and delight when I discovered Col. Cox's books and found that I was only one among many who was a Saxon nationalist. Col. Cox lived in Richmond, only 50 miles away. I hitchhiked from Williamsburg where I was going to school to see him. "Teutonic Unity" and "White America" were his classics. I discovered that "everyone" had read them.

"Teutonic Unity" dealt with black Colonization. Col. Cox was president of the African Colonization Movement. Virginia's legislature gave him a pat on the back and then dropped the subject. Virginia's politicians were in the Cartel pocket and had no intention of allowing cheap black labor to leave America.

Virginia's refusal to help the blacks with their Repatriation Movement - coming on top of the Marcus Garvey disaster - his arrest by Feds after his monumental effort to buy ships and feed the black tent city of 50,000 at Newport News 30 years before, destroyed black/white co-operation. Black nationalists didn't trust white politicians. It took me, a white nationalist, a long time to learn what blacks already knew - there were other parties who didn't want blacks and whites to cooperate on separation.

Conclusion

There are two kinds of blacks - Cartel blacks and Nationalist blacks. There are two kinds of jews - Cartel jews and Nationalist jews (Zionists). There are two kinds of whites - Cartel whites and Saxon Nationalists.

The Cartel incites nationalists to fight each other so that its empire can rule forever as policeman-peacemaker. Nationalists want to separate from each other and live in peace. There is NO WAY that Cartel workers and supporters are going to help the various nationalists to separate from each other. This makes the following inevitable:

In time, the world's nationalists will destroy the Tower of Babel, or the Tower will destroy them - just like they destroyed Lynchburg's "5th Street" and Lynchburg's school system.

The Cartel's greatest fear is that one day feuding nationalists will unite to achieve this common goal.

S. African Children

"Dear Dick Hoskins: I think I need hardly tell you that, since the US/UK were kind enough to deliver this country to black Marxist rule, we have gone the way the rest of Africa. The collapse of the country's infrastructure is now so widespread, the economy in such poor shape, that the bulk of the population is suffering greater privation probably than at any time since the SA War (also arranged for us by the British money powers).

"Among the worst sufferers are the unfortunate Afrikaners, not least because of affirmative action which is based on American legislation. As a direct result of this, there are tens of thousands of poverty-stricken whites living in pretty desperate circumstances. My concern is about the children of these people. At Bronkhorstspruit we run a children's refuge, to accommodate abused or abandoned kiddies, though to be truthful most of them these days are the children of unemployed parents who can no longer feed them.

"Elsewhere, we try to help care for unemployed families living in squatter camps. When I visited the settlement at Vanderbijlpark before I got sick some weeks ago, it was to find numbers of small children suffering severe ulcers on their faces and little bodies, this the result of diet deficiency.

"This is hardly surprising. They have pap (a maize-based gruel) for breakfast, lunch and supper. Just before I went up, I had heard of a new fortified maize-based food, enriched with minerals and vitamins, which had been specially produced to increase the immunity systems of HIV-AIDS victims.

"I managed to trace the manufacturer, and said if it would help AIDS patients, it must also help child deficiency victims? He said they hadn't been in production long enough to look at that, but I was probably right. We bought 1,000 kilos and sent it up. I later spoke to the woman who runs the camp and she told me the kiddies had already improved sharply.

"If you can help us, it would be God's blessing. There are so many of these families, with more and more whites being thrown on the streets all the time. It is a gigantic problem."

Letter From S. Africa by H.K.

Enclosed is a picture of a faithful little dog lying next to his dead master. It was seen all over Europe. I don't know if American censors allowed it to be seen in America.

Famine is raging as a result of driving white farmers from Zimbabwe. Mugabe now tells his "new farmers" to plant corn, which they can't because the planting season is past. Anyway, the blacks in Zimbabwe know nothing about farming.

England is responsible for this lamentable debacle. Her conduct is nothing to be proud of. They foist Mugabe on the population after a boycott lasting many years. It isn't that they did not know. After Ian Smith stepped down, England would not even let English born passport-holders back into England. Its as if they wanted to destroy their own. Two elderly ladies come to mind when they were refused the right of return to which they were entitled.

Saamboubank is under liquidation. To satisfy the black government they made loans to blacks who don't pay.

Mylstrooom is now called by blacks - "The Place Where The Fore- fathers Spirits Dance." A senseless name. The name changing in the Northern Province of Transvaal has removed most Voortrekker town names, but we shall see how far they get. That is one region where the black administration is in chaos. The black police are arrogant and openly show their hatred towards whites. Government/white relations are bad - and it is the whites who are the taxpayers. There is talk of a white tax-strike. You just wouldn't believe what goes on when blacks try to govern.

Aida Parker and those who help her are doing a great job for poor Afrikaners. If only there was work available. Former premier Hans Strydom did much for those who fought in the Anglo-Boer War and lost everything. Their descendants are wealthy farmers today. We of the HNP party, bought the Strydom town house for a museum. We hear of some Zimbabwean farmers who moved to Angola. They build, but the blacks take everything they build.

I told you about the great falling away from the churches. On Sunday morning in the short service, a professor said that God is a dog; he keeps licking you until you do his bidding. Monsanto, the American company, sponsors this short service during the week. I keep wondering how long this sort of thing will continue unpunished.

We have just learned of the New Reformation that we are supposed to accept. Robert Funk and Jack Spong have a list of what must be removed from our old beliefs and what must be inserted. God must be removed. Also, The Creation, Original Sin, all Miracles, the power of Evil, the Virgin Birth, the Meaning of the Cross, the Resurrection, the Second Coming of Christ, Prayer and general valid ethical norms.

Instead of prayer we must meditate and give attention to the needs of our fellow blacks. Instead of placing our trust in God, we must trust the "order of creation" and "the inherent goodness of our fellowman". We must further "enjoy life" and we must "forgive others" if we want them to forgive us. The "new" Afrikaan's Bible has been written with the help of several Rabbis.

The married woman who is head of the female church ministers has had an open affair with another professor who is also married. The termites are busy!

There is no letup in black bad behavior. We have had no telephone for the last 12 days. The telephone wire was stolen and sold. That happens to someone every week now - but we are still required to pay for phone service. To substitute cell phone for telephones is very expensive.

The European mission overseeing the Zimbabwe election was ordered to leave the country. They were not sympathetic towards Mugabe.

Our HNP leader, Mr. Willie Marais, told our members to get rid of debt. This will not be easy. Everything is expensive and for young people just starting nearly impossible. School fees are a great problem for parents.

Mainland Chinese are coming in again - to our disgust. They eat dogs and if one eats dogs he is perfectly capable of eating people. They want land but say nothing about payment. They want to take building sand and stone from our farm and leave us with their mess as they quarry near our underground water supply. This is something we have tried to prevent through the years.

There was an interesting incident in my father's family. A young man from Holland wanted to marry my grandmother (several generations ago). But, not knowing his background he had to go back to Holland to get his genealogy and references. This he did but was shipwrecked off the west coast of S. Africa. He swam ashore with the letters well wrapped and turned up to marry the girl.

I enjoyed the Book of Jubilees very much and have started the Book of Enoch.

Blacks expect whites to respect black graves, but when it comes to white graves, they desecrate them at every opportunity. They never go near the Jewish cemetery.

The price of food and everything else is soaring. Especially petrol which is produced here but sold over the border to black countries for much less. We also supply Mugabe with free electricity - and free electricity to S. African blacks. How long the few white taxpayers will last remains to be seen. They hate us and will kill whites without feeling, but still want everything from us. "You must" and "we demand" are their favorite expressions.

The latest is dog poisoning. They throw poisoned meat over fences and the animals die in minutes. Now they poison water the cattle drink. They buy poison for R5 a packet from minitaxi drivers. It is always something else. As usual the police say they can do nothing.

Best wishes and thank you for the books. K.J.

CORPORATIONS & KINGS

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Explain the relationship between corporations and kings." D.B. - Kentucky

RKH: Read the following:

> 1624 - May 24: England's King James I dissolved the Virginia Company of London and declared Virginia a royal colony. The king instructed Sir Francis Wyatt, the colonial governor, to manage the colony with the help of a new Council and not with a House of Burgesses. (Virginia p. 12, Spring 2002.)

King James was the public figurehead - the hereditary chairman the board of a corporation called the Crown. Like today, the Crown permitted individuals and groups to risk their own capitol to undertake new risky business ventures. If they turned out successful the corporation would take it over and compensate the previous owners.

Today, inheritance taxes and the like force the sale of successful companies to great corporations who, as a consequence, get bigger still. The slave trade was profitable which is why the Crown became a major partner and why it so vehemently refused when Virginia twice asked the Crown to stop it. Nothing's changed - just names and means of compensation.

Chapter 333

NEW NUCLEAR WORLD POWER

Reducing Nuclear Arsenals

The three leading nuclear powers in the world today are:

1) US
2) Russia
3) Israel

Tomorrow's line-up may be different. The US and Russia have agreed to reduce their nuclear arsenals by 2/3rds. This 2/3rds reduction by the US and Russia may catapult the Israeli state into becoming the world's greatest nuclear power.

No one knows the size of the Israeli arsenal. They refuse to allow inspections. According to a Mossad defector - it's big.

Before we can assess the importance of the above information, other facts must be added to the equation.

The Merchant

The Israeli state is a nation of merchants. Today's society holds the merchant to be the pinnacle of success. The WORD, which is our God and our Law, says the opposite:

> "[He is] a merchant, the balances of deceit [are] in his hand: he loveth to oppress." Ho 12:7

> "A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong; and a huckster shall not be freed from sin." Ecclesiasticus 26:29

> "Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery ... there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcasses; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses ... 16 Thou has multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven ..." Nahum 3:1-2,16

> "(King Antioclus determined) ... that he should send an army against ... Israel ... And that he should place strangers in all their quarters and divide the land by lot. ... And the merchants of the country ... took silver and gold ... and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves." I Maccabees 3:35-41

The Farm

Polar opposite to the merchant is the farmer. God's promised Kingdom on earth is THE FARM. The self-sufficient farm (SSF) is ruled by the farmer who is its king, priest, defender, and judge. The farm is the mother of "cottage-industry," the "mill" to help fabricate, and the "country store" to exchange its products.

To the merchant, the SSF and its owner are both just unprocessed merchandise.

Today We Are All Merchants

The "great merchant" is an obscenity to Saxons. The WORD says, "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests." Rev 1:5-6. It says that we are to divide the land and rule over it. We are not to allow strangers into the land lest we learn their ways. Our self-sufficient farms once produced all we needed and provided a surplus with which we could trade for the few things we didn't have the time to produce. We violated God's WORD and allowed strangers into the land. Their usury, taxes, and trade took our farms and forced us to work in factories located in their manufacturing centers called "cities". Today we work for merchants, sell for merchants, in some way service the merchant system, or are merchants ourselves. We do this to eat.

Double-Minded

The WORD that is our God says:

> "A doubled-minded man is unstable in all his ways." James 1:8

Saxon son's-of-Jacob are made in the image of the WORD. The strongest rebukes are levied against those who will not take a stand on questions of right or wrong. This rebuke is for sons of Jacob - the "Isaacson", the Saxon. "Right" or "wrong" has little meaning to the sons of Esau. Their people are different and their system is different.

Esau's Sons - Double-Minded

Esau's son's are "double-minded". These peoples are descended from Turk invaders of the mid-east. Turks were and are merchants. They are also warriors when the things they covet can't be gotten by trade.[1] Merchants tend to welcome with open arms all who enter their doors - in spite of taboos that others may have to the contrary.

For instance: Talmudic Law of the Jewish-Turks may teach a certain opinion on a matter. The footnotes accompanying the opinion often give an opposing opinion rendered by another respected Rabbi. A Jewish- Turk can choose either opinion in good conscience. Conflicts arising from two equally legitimate but opposing clashing opinions are taken to the local Rabbi to be adjudicated - and life goes on.

Since the ultimate decision of what is right and what is wrong does not rest in the Talmud, but in the Rabbi, it really makes no difference what a Jew says, thinks, or does about anything. Conflicts, when they occur, are taken to a higher authority and their rulings are final; unless of course, they are overruled by a still higher authority.

I have seen Jews jump from one opinion to the opposing opinion without blinking an eye or making an apology - just because of a changed opinion from a higher authority. Most opinions by individual Jews on anything have the validity of "smoke" or of a "falling leaf". In the final analysis, the opinion of their "higher authority" will be their opinion. I find the Jewish world "double-minded" and incomprehensible. They find my world full of illogical obstacles that to them are foolish.

1 "Turk" is a generic name for the warlike mixed-breed descendants of Esau, dwellers of the deserts, the same as "Arab" is a generic name. The Chinese gave them their names, "Hun", "Mongol", "Turk", etc. based on the dates of their invasions of China, but they are all basically the same people.

Sen. Diane Feinstein recently said on TV that the Taliban produced drugs to finance world terrorism and that the US stopped the trade. This statement was the exact opposite of the truth. The Taliban stopped the drug trade and the US installed puppet government is again replanting the poppy fields to re-start the drug trade. Diane Feinstein didn't bat an eye when telling this whopper. It served her purpose to say the opposite of what was the truth.

The Arab-Turk World

The Arab-Turk world of Esau is the same. Endless dos and don'ts from the Koran are constantly violated because their ruler decided to do this or that instead. For years many Islamic rulers practiced usury and drank alcohol in violation of the Koran. In certain Islamic countries today usury and drinking alcohol are still countenanced by their rulers. In other Islamic lands they aren't. In one Islamic country you act one way - in another you act the opposite. Either way is acceptable to the average Muslim and his mullah if it's agreeable with the ruler who is the final authority. Again, "Double mindedness."

Turks - Long Time Enminty

Saxon's enminty with Turks - Islamic, Jewish, Muslim, Hindu and Christian Turks - is ancient. It did not come about unannounced recently. The WORD says this about Esau, the ancestor of today's Turks:

"Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of man and inveigled them." Jasher 28:20[2]

"Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41

God the WORD curses Esau:

"Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

Because of Turk double-mindedness, the Saxon must draw close to the WORD to discover what is truth. The WORD says that the accursed Esau whom God hates is father of the Edomites.

"Esau the father of the Edomites." Gen 36:8,9

When talking to each other, Esau's children more often than not speak truthfully to avoid complete chaos. For instance they say things like the following;

> "Edom is in modern Jewry." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, 1925 edition, vol 5, p 41.

Esau's King

The Sons-of-Esau have constantly fought the Sons-of-Jacob through the ages. Time after time they were close to victory but were defeated because of their own treachery toward each other - they often betray their own people. After one particularly humiliating debacle they met and agreed to the following:

> "The sons of Esau swore, saying, from that day forward they would not choose a king from their breth- ren, but one from a strange land until this day." Jasher 57:40

2 The literal meaning of the Hebrew is, "He stole their minds," a figure in the original to express deceit, falsehood and fraud.

This is why the DNA of the leaders of one particularly strong Turk group is different from the rank and file of the rest of the group (see HR #329).

Jewish-Turks are often blamed for the world's ills and crusades are raised against them - but nothing ever comes of the crusades. They continue doing what they have always done. How can this be? Simply because as the "civil service" of the International Trade Cartel they enjoy universal protection. Their rulers are from another nation.

The Turk is a merchant. It's what he does. Merchants trade for money. To him - "Money answereth all things." Ec 10:19.

Arab-Turk Invasions

There have been many invasions of Saxon lands by the merchant- warriors of Esau. Among the first to feel their wrath were our Gothic ancestors.

Goths

Our grandfathers were called Saxon and Scythian. Another of their names was "Goth" - God's people.[3] They were the descendants of Jacob- Israel deported from the Mid-East almost a thousand years before Christ. The Russian and European rivers were their highways of frequent travel between their colonies scattered from the Baltic in the north to their prosperous farming communities on the shores of the Black and Caspian Seas.

---

3 "The names Saxon, Scythian and Goth are used interchangeably." History Of The Anglo Saxon, Sharon Turner, London, 1852.

Attila The Hun

One day, without warning, the eastern part of the Black Sea Gothic nation was overrun by Huns who suddenly poured out of the wilderness and deserts. There was no warning. The atrocities committed against our people were shocking. The eastern Goths were made captive and became tributaries.

The conquered Goths were required to obey Hunnic edicts. The conquered ones were called "Ostrogoths" - "East Goths". The part of the Gothic nation that escaped westward were called "Visigoths". The Huns forced the Goths they had conscripted into their armies to fight their escaping kinsmen. Goths fighting Goths.

The Hun Advance

In pursuit of the Visigoths, the Huns sacked outlying Roman Provinces (the Romans were also Gothic kinsmen), selling the loot to merchants of their own kind who had been permitted to enter the Roman Empire and renegade Roman merchants. Some believe that this was done with the approval of the all-seeing Roman Church.[4]

Many Romans settlements and German tribes stood in the way of the Hunnic advance across Europe. These were over-run one at a time by the Huns. They too were forced to furnish soldiers for the Hunnic juggernaut.

At last, the Hun invasion reached France. With their backs to the wall, the Goths joined their former Roman enemies to face the common Hun enemy. Together they had more than half a million men. The Huns had more than half a million - mostly Goth, German, and Roman. They fought and the total dead were more than half a million. The Hun horde lost over 300,000, but it is said that the Huns themselves actually lost only a few thousand. The majority of their casualties were suffered by their captive auxiliaries - Goths and Germans.

Attila was later killed by a lone German princess who objected to being taken to Attila's bed. Attila's death shattered the Hunnic alliance. The Huns themselves scattered. The largest contingent settled in Hungary - which bears their name. The captive Goths and German nations they had ruled escaped, vowing never to be enslaved again.

Genhgis Khan

Genghis Khan ordered one of his lieutenants to take a contingent of Mongols west. It is said that they numbered only about 5,000. Following the example of their earlier Hunnic kinsmen, they gathered soldiers from the tribes they conquered and arrived in the West with armies of auxiliaries numbering in the hundreds of thousands. They conquered all before them.

Arriving in the Near East they found the land occupied by "Turks", a kindred people who had taken the land from "Arabs", still another kindred people - different names but the same basic people.

> "Genghis Khan first set about uniting the various Turkic and Mongol tribes of central Asia under his authority." p235 (The Crusades Through Arab Eyes, Amin Maalouf, Schocken Books, NY c1984)

Genghis Khan's armies arrived from the north and east at the same time the Crusader armies arrived from the west. Fortunately for the Crusaders, Genghis Khan died which caused a recall of the Mongols while a new leader was chosen.

It is important to note the importance of "leaders" to Esau's children. Deprived of leaders, the children of Esau mill about and in time disperse. This happened when Attila died and when Genghis Khan died. This is one reason that today, Esau has learned to carefully conceal the identity of his leader. The result is;

"The unknown enemy is the unopposed enemy."

Saladin

Saladin was the son of a Kurdish soldier who became the Turk- Eygptian-general-ruler of Islam. This son of Esau, by diplomacy and war, united the Arab-Turk world to oppose the Crusaders. He set a new standard. He accomplished more with diplomacy and deception than with force.

A predecessor of today's media propagandists, he kept rooms full of scribes busy writing propaganda letters to powerful Arabic and Turkic leaders and merchants throughout Islam. These letters won most readers to Saladin (a preview of today's Turkic media). This forced local rulers to ally themselves with Saladin or risk a revolt by their own subjects.

Saladin's skillful use of propaganda and force united all Islam which presented an impenetrable obstacle to Crusader ambitions.

Saladin's death caused the region to disintegrate into bickering squabbling groups - until the next leader came along.

Esau Is Now Worldwide

The Children of Esau invaded India several times and spread their blood throughout the land. Some became Hindu, others followed Islam. Arab traders spread their blood to Africa. Some became Moslem, others practiced Voodoo, and some became Christian.

United and inflamed by the teachings of Mohammad, Esau descendants swept over Syria, Egypt, Turkey, the Mid-East, North Africa, Southern Italy, and Southern Spain. Spanish mixed-breed soldiers spread their blood into Central and S. America. China absorbed Turkic invaders and joined the world of Turks.

Today, Esau's media cloak covers the world with lies and misrepresentations. "Truth" is what Esau says it is. Esau's usury-banks rule the world's commerce. Esau's "Dharma" has become the cornerstone of Western religion and is now considered normal.[5] Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations to expedite trade. "Dharmitized - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma.

Esau controls puppet governments, puppet religions, and puppet world commerce. Esau's children have invaded the Saxon world en masse - they challenge Isaac's-sons when they walk their own streets in their own lands.

Just as was done by Attila, Genghis Khan, and Saladin - Esau uses Saxon puppets to fight other Saxon nations. He uses Saxon puppet kings to fight Slavic Serbia. Esau uses puppet

5 Hindu: "Dharma" - non-violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to "race, creed, or nationality" - to which has been added "sexual preference" or "gender".

Saxon kings to fight separatists wherever they are found so that they won't one day become a problem.

Turk In-Fighting

At the present time Esau is fighting Esau in an ongoing Mideast civil war. This sort of warfare has been the salvation of Jacob- Israel in the past and may be its salvation once again. In the bloodlust against Palestanian-Turks who occupy land the Khazar- Turks covet, the Khazar-Turk controlled media have unleashed an unprecedented attack on the Islamic religion. They have allowed their media a field-day to nit-pick and bisect and disect the teachings of the Koran for all to see.

Islam's God

The Khazar-Turk media has rapidly taught the Saxon world about Islam and the belief system of those who follow the Koran. It is basic to successful warfare to know such things about your enemy since most of what people think comes from their religion.

The West has discovered that Islam is not a religion of "peace". In essence, it teaches that the world consists of two groups: "Muslims" (adherents to Islam) and "infidels" (those who don't accept Islam).

Both the Koran, Islam's most sacred writing, and the Hadith, second to the Koran, call for killing of all infidels (see Koran, Surah 8:60; 9:14: 8:12- 17). Its founder, Mohammed, taught that next to believing in Allah, participating in Jihad (holy war) for Allah's cause is the greatest deed for Muslims (see Hadith, Al Burkhari, vol. 1:25).

Islam teaches peace to deceive until strong enough for war. Islam's God is a god of WAR! The infidel is the target.

The Zionist God

The Zionist-Turks opened the door by discussing Islam. This opens the door to discuss their own "Talmudism", since they are the ones fighting Islam. This Talmudism is also an interesting God.

While both Palestanian Turks and Khazar Turks follow the same war god - the Khazar-Turks consider the "war God" a secondary God. The primary God is the "God of Deception". Even the motto of the Israeli secret service mirrors this philosophy, "Make war by way of Deception".

To the Jew, "Deception" is not a vague ideal, it is central to their religion - their way of life. It is their primary God. Every year they worship this God with their Kol Nidre Prayer which is sung at evening service on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur):

> "All vows, obligations, oaths, anathemas... which we may vow, or swear, or pledge, or whereby we may be bound, from this day of atonement unto the next... we do repent. May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void and made of no effect: They shall not bind us nor have power over us. The vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths." Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol VIII, p. 539.

This prayer is the thing that makes the Jewish merchant "double minded" - which to the Jew is an asset, not something bad. Kol Nidre is the merchant's code that carries over into their other activities. The Kol Nidre prayer nullifies promises in advance.[6]

Kol Nidre makes the word, contract, promise, or any kind of agreement made with those following the precepts of the Kol Nidre suspect.

Esau is as the prophets of God the WORD said - "deceptive and given to violence".

Conclusion

The study of the Turk and his religions reveal that violence is inherent in his nature. We learn that Turks who follow Islam will remain at war against infidels as long as infidels live - regardless of what they say.

We learn that the Talmudism of the Khazar-Turk is also violent, but it is different in that its central part is deception. We know that using "deception" makes it possible to persuade people to believe whatever it is that you want them to believe. We know that Deception must often be accompanied with "truth suppression", or censorship. This is necessary to prevent the deception from being uncovered.

We know that the NY Fire Department protested the removal of the Trade Towers wreckage without allowing it to undergo the customary inspection - this indicates a "deception" coverup.

We know that the Oklahoma City wreckage was disposed of without allowing it to be inspected - this indicates a "deception" coverup.

---

6 I must say that in business transactions I have been flim-flammed by more "Judeo-Christian" preachers than I have by Jews. At least the Jews involved were obeying their God. The way men handle money reveals their commitment to their religion.

We know that the Waco wreckage was disposed of without being inspected - this indicating a "deception" coverup.

We have learned to suspect that every time the Turk media says anything or reports anything - deception is likely involved. We read that the U.S. and Russia are to reduce their arsenals by 2/3rds to achieve "peace". This report comes from the same people whose religion teaches "deception". Such a nuclear reduction could make the Israeli nation the most powerful nuclear country in the world.

If a union of all the world's Turkic nations is achieved with help from puppet American armies - the unrealized dream of ancient Turk rulers of a union of Turk peoples will have been realized. Add to that a virtual nuclear monopoly and something else is possible:

Our God the WORD warned:

> "Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41 We know that we are that Jacob whom Esau hated, and we know that our God said:
>
> "Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

He also said:

> "The house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble ... and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau." Obadiah 18

The Queen Mother

The recent death of the Queen Mother brought back memories of half a century ago.

I was a law student at William & Mary in Williamsburg when the Queen Mother visited what was once the Crown's capitol of Virginia. Most of us had never seen a queen before. The student body crowded both sides of the walkway as she approached on the way to the Wren Building. The buzz of voices gradually became silent the closer she came.

Every few yards the Queen stopped to speak to this student or that. She stopped right in front of me, and there she was. I looked down on her from my 6 feet to her 5'4" or thereabouts, but I didn't feel like I was looking down on her.

She was 50 years younger than the accompanying picture - and she was pretty. She was dressed in blue. She had a blue hat, a blue veil, a blue dress, a blue pocketbook, blue stockings, blue shoes, and the bluest blue eyes you ever saw - and those eyes had a smile in them. There was absolutely, positively not one single ounce of doubt about it - this was the Queen! And she was standing still right in front of me - and she was speaking, she was speaking - to me!

She said: "And how do you like it here?"

This was my chance.

I had lots of things I would like to discuss with her. How my family and her's had been allies back in Scotland. Perhaps we could find out what in the devil made her daughter and son-in-law so rude when they visited Virginia. You don't waste this kind of chance - the chance of a lifetime.

I answered; "Jes' fine, ma'am".

She smiled and walked on.

UNFILTERED NEWS

WHICH SIX MILLION?: "Martin Glenn, the past Governor of New York, in a major speech in October 1919 in Albany, NY reported at length to a rapt audience on the 'extermination of six million Jews and the holocaust of European Jewry' during 'the Great War.' ... The Full speech of Mr. Glenn was printed, among others, in the October 31, 1919 issue of the American Hebrew Magazine published for the American Jewish Committee." (The Christian News, p.18, 1-10-94)

RKH: This is long before WWII when the so-called 6-million holocaust of Jews is alleged to have happened.

UKRAINE'S SS: The authorities in the town of Ivano-Frankovsk in western Ukraine passed a resolution giving the 14th SS Galicia division the status of 'fighters for the freedom and independence of Ukraine'. Up to 10 million Ukrainians died in the famine engineered by Stalin in the early 1930s. The Ukrainians were so poorly treated by the Soviet regime that many felt they had little choice but to take up the German's invitation to fight. The move has been condemned by the Ukrainian Jewish Congress.

LATVIA SS: "In Latvia, Feb 16, 1943 was picked as commemoration date because of the heavy casualties suffered by the 15th and 19th Latvian SS divisions in battle with the Soviet Army at the Velikaya River in Opochenskiy District in Russia. A total of 140,000 volunteers formed the Latvian Legion and about 50,000 of them died in the war or deportations following the restoration of Soviet rule in Latvia." Adelaide Institute

RKH: The WWII SS is hated by establishment agents to this day because each European country, including England, France and Russia, furnished contingents to fight Communism - now called Globaliziation. It was understood that soldiers from the European countries who fought in their own countries' SS units to defend against communist-globalization would build their own separatist futures after the war. Because of this, no other soldiers have suffered such continuous persecution by the WWII victors as have the soldiers of the SS.

GLOBALIZATION LAW: "Proposals by Brussels would make racism and xenophobia serious crimes in Britain for the first time, carrying a prison sentence of two years or more. The draft plans define "racism" and "xenophobia" as an aversion to individuals based on "race, colour, descent, religion or belief, national or ethnic origin". In Germany, a historian who reported that Auschwitz prisoners enjoyed cinemas, a swimming pool and brothels was sentenced to 10 months in jail; and an American served three years of a four-year sentence for distributing anti-holocaust material." Adelaide Institute

CAFFEINE: "Even as little as one cup of coffee - can cause temporary stiffening of the blood vessel walls, Greek researchers say." Investors Business Daily

TEN COMMANDMENTS: A federal judge in West Chester County, Pennsylvania has ruled that a bronze plaque of the Ten Commandments be covered until an appeal challenging its existence is heard.

The ACLU has filed suit against four more Kentucky counties, claiming that the the display of the Ten Commandments is unconstitutional. (National Liberty Journal)

TERROR: "'Anything that makes us feel safer. A sterile needle under the fingernails, that isn't life threatening,' said Alan Dershowitz, big-name liberal, big-name defense lawyer, big-name Harvard law professor. On Jan 29, 02...

"War-drums, Dershowitz, and glib high-level assurances that the 'war on terrorism' will never really end, offer a suspicious subtext - that any resistance, anywhere, to the New World Order will be branded as 'terrorism' and crushed by every weapon at hand." Liberal's Reward

"Sir Garfield Todd, former Prime Minister of Rhodesia and long- time loyal supporter of Robert Mugabe - and one of the few Whites the dictator recognized as having been a champion of the 'liberation' struggle - has been deprived of his Zimbabwe citizenship.

"Earlier, a disillusioned Todd, 93, had attacked Mugabe's seizure of White farms. ... In early February Todd received a registered letter from the home affairs ministry advising that he had ceased to be a Zimbabwe citizen. ...

"Todd now says: 'I am horrified by the destruction of our economy, the starving of our people, the undermining of our constitution, the torture and humiliation of our nation by Zanu- PF.'" Aida Parker Newsletter, PO Box 91059, Auckland Park 2006, South Africa, Annual sub airmail U.S. $80.

RKH: Brainwashed liberals are sick people. They are shocked into reality only when looking into the gun barrel of an hereditary enemy whom they selflessly tried to help. Until then, they blindly step over the bodies of their own kinsmen vainly attempting to build the forbidden Tower of Babel.

Chapter 334

FANGS Of The SERPENT

Mohammed

Mohammed lived in Mecca. He developed both a new religion and a loyal following which grew larger each year. This attracted the unwanted attention of the local ruler - something not conducive to long life in that region - so Mohammed and his following fled to an oasis in the desert called Medina.

Medina was a watering stop for the camel trains plying the spice route from India. Mohammed stopped the camel caravans.

Stopping the passage of the camel trains was drastic. The trains numbered from 500 to 20,000 animals and each carried enough wealth to make an Arab rich for life if he could steal but one of them. In the meantime camels eat and their drivers must be paid - and there they sat.

It was the job of the local king to protect the spice route and keep this sort of thing from happening. The ruler immediately gathered an army and went to Medina to unseat Mohammed. Unfortunately, Medina was far away in the middle of the desert and the ruler's army had to carry water for both man and beast. Since it took several days to reach Medina and several days to return - only a brief time was left for fighting, and Mohammad's forces could not be dislodged in the short time they were there.

For an entire year Mohammed held up the camel trains of the spice- route. Then, a lone camel rider came from the east. He paused long enough to water his camel and deliver a message. Mohammed was appointed the new ruler. He then rode on to Mecca and delivered the same message to the current ruler who meekly stepped down.

As we know, Mohammed's new religion, Islam, quickly swept the Arab world. Its war cry was "Allah is Great", and its symbol was the green flag. In later years the symbol of the crescent and star would be recognized everywhere:

To the Arab-Turk the crescent and star means "Islam", or, the teachings of Mohammed. There is another Islamic symbol very much in the consciousness of today's Mohammedans. It is the same crescent and star, but with an invisible circle around it. To the initiates, it means "captive-Islam" - a slave collar. A force strangling true Islam. There are two Islams - one with the collar and one without. This story is loaded with meaning. We will come back to it.

Burned Books

Early Christianity devastated the trade of the Roman Empire. Its teachings of "separatism" spilled over into trade and was ruinous to vested interests.

To protect itself, the Roman empire pre-empted Christianity by taking it over, turning it into a state religion, and appointing its leaders. These leaders dictated what the people were to be taught about God and his commandments and what was not to be taught.

Many 1st century books disagreed with these edicts. These books were "burned" by the newly formed universalist church because they contained "separatist" views that had caused all the trouble with the "universalist" view needed by the Roman Empire to survive as an empire. In short, these books were a problem to Rome. One of these books was Adam & Eve[1]. This book carries the following story:

> "When the accursed serpent saw Adam and Eve it ... made straight for Eve, and ran after her ... Then the Word of God came to the serpent, and ... a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the sea shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:1-9

This verse is one of the reasons for the belief that India is the original home of the anti-christ known today as the New World Order or the International Trade Cartel (ITC).

More About Adam & Eve

There is another story which adds to our understanding. It comes from I A&E 69:9-11.

> "Adam and Eve returned from the mountain ... and went down ...to the place where their corn was, but when there a multitude of beasts came all round them. It was Satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage."

The above is the first mention of beasts vs. man that I've found, and the first mention of beasts "marrying" Adam-man. "Beasts" as we think of them today don't marry - therefore the "man and beast" of the Scriptures must include non-man in its definition of "beasts". Man, made in the image of the WORD - Lawful vs. non-man -one who is not made in the image of the WORD - lawless.

Lawlessness in non-man is an observable fact. The "satan" referred to is the same serpent thrown from the Garden. "Mountain" usually represents a great nation or place - in this story - the "Garden". "The place where their corn was" is where they made their living. "The beast came all around ... in order to wage war" is simply today's "open borders" or "integration". It is the age-old method the serpent uses to wage war against his arch enemy - Adam-man.[2]

2 "Nor are you to permit beasts of different kinds to gender together, for there is reason to fear that this unnatural abuse may extend from beasts of different kinds to men." Antiquities 4:8:20; "Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion." Lev 18:23; "If a man (120) lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast. And if a woman ... lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beast." Lev 20:15-16; "Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death." Ex 22:19

Serpent's Den

One of India's gods is Hari-Hara. Hari-Hara is a mixed breed - half White and half Black. To understand Hari-Hara one must understand the background.

Blacks were India's original inhabitants. White invaders occupied the northern part pushing the Blacks to the south. This presented the Hindu priests with a problem since the natural tendency is for individuals to put their own kind before anyone who would rule over them.

Hari-Hara
Half white - half black, mixed breed God of integration.

The solution? Intermarriage. Few mixed-breeds have an allegiance to the rules of a White god or for the rules of a Black god. He is the ideal subject to be ruled by a priesthood.

Hari-Hara is a combination of Vishnu and Siva. Hari-Hara is the God of integration.' Integration solves the problem of "racial pride" - and separateness. Integration is basic Hindu policy.

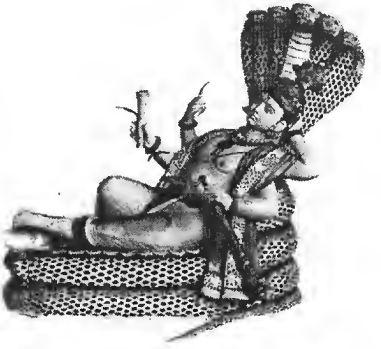
India's Gods

All people follow Gods. The people of India follow their Gods. India has many gods but is ruled by three principal ones.

"Brahma" is the creator. Brahma is represented by the circle - "The FORCE" that encompasses the world and to which all living things are part.

The FORCE has a name, the pronunciation is simple - "Om". "Om" is the humming sound made by Yoga practitioners when meditating. This is how they call on Brahma the creator - the FORCE. "Om" is Brahma's name. Brahma is The FORCE. When written it looks like this:

Brahma's son, "Vishnu" the conservator, is god of everyday affairs. He is pictured resting on a giant five headed serpent. He is worshiped by merchants, workers, housewives and gamblers.



Vishnu

Vishnu is white.

The other son pictured with him is "Siva". Siva is the god of sex and death. His symbol is the male penis or "linga". The tops of his temples and their copycats in other lands are "linga" shaped. Siva is usually pictured dancing with a serpent in his hand. Siva is black. Originally, Vishnu was for whites, Siva for blacks, and Hari-Hara for the mixed-breeds.

As Hinduism begins to flex its muscles, it throws off its age old disguises and flaunts its symbols for all to see. Earrings of the circle type, once rarely seen, are now common. They put their wearer in touch with "The Force" in much the same manner as a radio antenna. The "Circle" surrounding the Gods is the WORLD FORCE, the creator, the God of Gods, the same "force" referred to in Star Wars.

Preoccupation with "sex" reveals "Siva" the dancing god. Just 60 years ago, only one song in ten was a "love" song. Music today is an exercise in sex-worship. Siva has a drum in one hand as he dances. Harri-Hara (the god who is a combination of the two) has a stringed instrument in one hand and castanets in another.

"Gambling" in a society whose God forbids gambling reveals Vishnu. Toleration of murder, abortion and senseless wartime killing advertises Kali worship; Kali - Goddess of death. Kali and Siva are specially favored by Blacks in Southern India who also believe that devils are "white".

Government

Symbols for "government" have an ancient history. In ancient Egypt the symbol for the Pharaoh was the falcon.

As Egypt expanded and conquered other peoples whose gods had differing rules for their peoples to follow - a problem arose. Which god's laws would prevail?

The decision was left to Pharaoh and his ministers who used the compromise technique. A compromise between two radically different laws is not a "compromise" - it is a NEW law. It is Pharaoh's law. Thus, Pharaoh's law superseded the law of either contending god and was greater than either.

This is important: Since the word of Pharaoh was greater than the word of the Gods - Pharaoh was himself greater than the gods he judged. Therefore - Pharaoh was a god.

The falcon that had formerly represented only Pharaoh, now became a holy symbol representing both a man and a god - a God-man. The falcon became a symbol of the holy divine Pharaoh himself - and was worshiped as such.

This concept carried over to Rome whose symbol was the eagle. Julius Caesar's word was greater than the word of the gods he judged - therefore Caesar was greater than the gods and was a god himself. This is why a bust of the emperor was placed in the temples of each of Rome's many gods; an American flag with an eagle at staff top is placed in each of America's churches for the same reason.

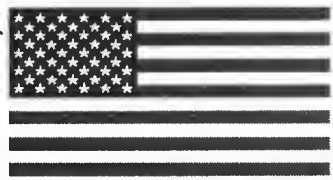
To the Roman and those in their power - Caesar was God. The Roman legions worshiped the Roman eagle they carried before them in battle - it represented Caesar. Napoleon's armies worshiped their eagles. America's armies worship their eagle - and the multicolored flag that flies on the same pole beneath it. It represents their king whose word is greater than the word of the Gods they judge and whose word itself is Law - and disobedience is punishable in whatever way Caesar decrees.

Court Decision

Recently a California court ruled that the pledge to flag was unconstitutional. Think on it.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.



I have taken this pledge times without number along with everyone else without having the least understanding of what I was saying.

Look at it from the King's standpoint: Does not the King rule Gods? Look at the figure to the right. Does not the eagle stand above religions and their laws - ALL religions? Is not the King's law greater than the law of any of the Gods? Why confuse the people with the fiction that there IS another God other than the King - whose symbol is the eagle, the flag, and the pledge? Why not ban prayer - or a pledge of allegiance to the WORD as King of Kings, or to any other God's law system? Only the King's law is supreme! It makes sense.

Caesar's flag with an eagle is in every temple and the WORD of God which is the God of Adam-man is not taught lest the priest offend the flag and the eagle. Hail Caesar!

This censorship is not confined to our great God fearing American republic, but an order has been issued to censor the WORD altogether. Read the following:

> LONDON: (CWNews.com) - A top European Union judge warned on Wednesday that the distribution of the Bible could become illegal under a proposed European anti-racism law.

British Law Lord Scott of Foscote said the proposed law was meant to normalize member state laws against racism. "The offense in question would almost certainly cover the distribution of Biggles (novels about a fictional WWII pilot). It would probably cover the distribution of the Old Testament as well," he said.

Scott outlined the European Commission's draft definition of racism and xenophobia as involving "the belief in race, color, descent, religion, or belief, national or ethnic region, as a factor determining aversion to individuals or groups." The proposed offense would include "public dissemination or distribution of tracts, pictures, or other material containing expressions of racism or xenophobia."

He added, "So distribution of, for example, literature containing expressions of belief in race, color, national origins, etc. as a factor determining aversion to individuals or groups would be a criminal offense."

The above report simply means that Europe's king is talking about banning the WORD which is our Law.

Hindu History

Followers of the WORD realize that what is happening worldwide is planned. It has a history.

Hindu priests and their Gods ruled India before history began. In those days India was home to many races who were organized into their own states and principalities. These states were in constant conflict - making trade all but impossible.

By deception, in the 4th century B.C., the priesthood overthrew the principal Indian ruler and placed their own king on the throne. This king of theirs conquered much of India. His grandson, King Asoka, conquered the rest and introduced Buddhism, the "Laws of Asoka", and Dharma.

Hindu Dharma

"Dharma", represented by Hari-Hara, was promoted by the priesthood to stop the incessant bickering between India's many hodge-podge inhabitants. Dharma simply states that you must "love everyone without regard to race, creed, or national origin." Those who submit to Dharma can't refuse the trader. Hari-Hara is the integration Dharma god.

King Asoka set up a civil rights department to enforce Hari-Hara's Dharma. Separatists who resisted integration were punished.

Dharma laws replaced older racial laws prohibiting integration. This broke down trade barriers among India's countless principalities. It also destroyed separate races. Trade flourished. It worked so well that Hari-Hara's Dharma was exported to neighboring countries by Hindu missionaries - opening those countries to the Hindu merchant.

Basic Understanding

Any religion plus Dharma is a Hindu religion. This is basic. Islam plus dharma is not Islam - it is Hindu-Islam - the OTHER Isalm.

Since Islam is already a racially mixed people, the black-white division reveals that part is Islam and part Hindu. A true Muslim is an Islamic-separatist - not half Islam and half Hindu. A Hindu-Muslim is merely Hari-Hara with the crescent emblazoned on his chest and held in his hand. On page

1, the crescent held captive within the circle means the same - the "Force". It tells the same story of "the other Islam".

The Serpent's Power

The Hindu priesthood is incredibly wealthy. The wealth came from King Asoka who got it from the people. When he died he left one thousand million pieces of gold to the Hindu priesthood. This was more money than existed in the rest of the world together.

The Serpent could BUY anything in the world having a pricetag.[3] Hari-Hari's "dharma-love" opened the door for the merchant and his bag of money.

He also brought the "Usury Contract". A usury contract is a contract fraudulent from its conception. It is a contract where a victim promises to repay 11 when only 10 exists.

A dollar borrowed at 10% requires the repayment of $1.10 the first year and $11 the tenth year. All this when only one dollar exists. Usury is a capital crime under Biblical law. (Ezek 18:13).

The WORD says;

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

The Serpent had more money than all the rest of the world combined, and, the Serpent had something else - the Cloak of Esau.

3 The South, South Africa, and NS Germany had no price tag - which is the reason wars of extermination were waged against them.

Cloak Of Esau

This story of the Cloak comes from the Book of Jasher. Jasher was well known to 1st Century Christians.

> "Cush the son of Ham, the son of Noah, took a wife ... and she bare him a son, and they called his name Nimrod ... And the garments of skin which God made for Adam ... were given to Cush. For after the death of Adam ... the garments were given to Enoch ... Enoch ... gave them to Methuselah ... and Noah took them and brought them to the ark ... And in their going out, Ham stole those garments from Noah his father ... And when Ham begat his first born Cush, he gave him the garments in secret.. And Cush ... begot Nimrod and gave him those garments through his love for him, and Nimrod grew up, and when he was 20 years old he put on those garments. And Nimrod became strong when he put on the garments." Jasher 7:23-30

The world obeyed Nimrod because of his cloak:

> "And Nimrod ... fought the battles of his brethren against all their enemies round about. ... And when Nimrod had joyfully returned from battle, after having conquered his enemies, all his brethren ... assembled to make him king over them ... And he set over his subjects and people, princes, judges and rulers, as is the custom amongst kings. ...
>
> "After having conquered all his enemies around, he advised with his counselors to build a city ... and Nimrod called the name of the city that he built Shinar ... and his kingdom became very great. And all nations and tongues ... gathered themselves to him ... and they brought him offerings, and he became their lord and king, and they all dwelt with him in the city of Shinar, and Nimrod reigned in the earth over all the sons of > Noah, and they were all under his power and counsel.. and he taught all his subjects and the people of the earth his wicked ways." Jasher 7:23-46

Esau takes Nimrod's cloak:

> "And Nimrod ... came ... (and) Esau started suddenly from his lurking place, and drew his sword, and hastened and ran to Nimrod and cut off his head ... and Esau took the valuable garments of Nimrod, which Nimrod's father had bequeathed to Nimrod, and with which Nimrod prevailed over the whole land." Jasher 17:7,10

This is how this most valuable cloak ended up with Esau. Esau killed Nimrod who had dreamed of building a Tower of Babel to reach heaven and there to do combat with God. This cloak was now Esau's, and Esau took it with him to India during his many invasions of that sub-continent. The cloak then rested securely with the Serpent where it has remained ever since.

Media-Cloak

Esau took Nimrod's Cloak by force. This was why the Union Army, when it came South, confiscated Southern newspapers and reopened them under new management. The Serepent considers the media that important.

Otto Scott writes in his Compass May 1, 1997 Vol 7 Issue 81.,

> "Germany ... sent Lenin & Co. home in a sealed train with a credit of 50 million gold marks. This enabled Lenin and Trotsky to first buy 47 newspapers ... and then to mount a coup d'etat."

Newspapers are that important. A person can only do what he knows and if his only source of information is the newspaper, then, the newspaper owner is king - or "king maker".

Esau's Cloak has evolved. It now consists of the newspaper-magazine industry, radio, TV, Hollywood, and book publishing. It also includes public and private education. Whoever controls these information outlets controls the minds of the people of a country and the country itself.

The Serpent was given Esau's Cloak and with Asoka's wealth was able to buy the scattered parts he did not have. This gave him the weapons he needed to rule the world. "Money" and the Media.

The media's colossal power is quickly admitted by those who work for the media.

> "If you control information, you can control a large part of the debate." Anders Gyllenhaal, Ex ed News & Observer, Raleigh, NC. As reported in News & Advance, p F1, March 3, 2002.

Walter Cronkite let the entire cat out of the bag when he said;

> "My job is not to tell the truth, I am an opinion molder." Crusade for Christ, Special Message For 2002. Col Mohr

The media speaks with one voice. This indicates single ownership or control. On April 16, 1996, Morris Dees of the SPLC instructed the National Press Club in Washington D.C. to go after Identity Leaders.

In obedience to these instructions, the press monopoly commenced their world-wide attack on "Identity Christianity" beginning with an attack on War Cycles/Peace Cycles, a book on usury banking by Richard Kelly Hoskins.

Media Insider Confesses

There may be some new readers who are not familiar with the statement by John Swinton, the former chief of staff of the New York Times, called by his peers "the Dean of his profession." He was asked in 1953 to give a toast before the New York Press Club. This was his statement:

> "There is no such thing, at this date of the world's history, in America, as an independent press. You know it and I know it. There is not one of you who dares to write your honest opinions, and if you did, you know beforehand that it would never appear in print. I am paid weekly for keeping my honest opinions out of the paper I am connected with. Others of you are paid similar salaries for similar things, and any of you who would be so foolish as to write honest opinions would be out on the streets looking for another job. If I allowed my honest opinions to appear in one issue of my paper, before twenty-four hours, my occupation would be gone.

"The business of the journalist is to destroy truth; to lie outright; to pervert; to vilify; to fawn at the feet of mammon, and to sell his country and his race for his daily bread. You know it and I know it, and what folly is this toasting an independent press. We are the jumping jacks: they pull the strings, and we dance. Our talents, our possibilities, and our lives are all the property of other men. We are intellectual prostitutes."

Does this not sound like the Cloak of Esau?

Impact, April-May, p.11, carried the story of how the Media justified the slaughter of Serb civilians by U.S. led forces:

"A BBC reporter/photographer admitted last year that the photograph that had helped to trigger public outrage against Serbs during the Bosnia-Herzogovina crisis had been a fake. The photograph showed some rather thin young men without shirts standing behind a barbed wire fence, and the caption described them as inmates of a concentration camp. She admitted that the picture was actually taken at a food depot surrounded by barbed wire. She had asked the men to take off their shirts to show their leanness, and made them stand on the other side of the fence, to give the impression that they were prisoners.

Then there was Media incitement to kill Iraqis:

"People might remember the 'news' that Iraqi soldiers invading Kuwait had entered a maternity hospital and had bayoneted babies thrown out of their cribs. "The daughter of the Kuwait ambassador to the USA later boasted that it was she who had originated this false report.

Citing two cases of faking of documentary films, the London Mail on Sunday (Feb 7,'99) wrote:

> "Deception, lies and cheating are obviously widespread amongst television producers ... What it is that makes television so vulnerable to programme makers prepared to lie, cheat and deceive their viewers? ... So far as television documentaries are concerned, seeing is certainly not believing.'"

Also cited was this:

> "One of the earliest examples of false news on film was the British 'documentary' made during the Anglo-Boer War, purporting to be an actual event captured on camera. It showed a dastardly Boer throwing a bomb into a Red Cross tent filled with injured soldiers. Later research revealed the entire film to be a total fabrication.

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, the once ideolized but now-censored Slavic separatist, was the most profound of all when he said:

> "The press has become the greatest power within the Western World, more powerful than the legislature, the executive and judiciary. One would like to ask; by whom has it been elected and to whom is it responsible?"

The reason that so much space has been allotted to the Media is that, along with money, Esau's Cloak is the most important weapon of the Serpent.

The Learning Curve - Media

We learned that banks own the media by the death of Robert Maxwell. The media said that Maxwell was the richest person in the world. When he died the Swiss Banks descended on his estate to get back the media that he had been managing for them. Maxwell's media consisted of hundreds of newspapers, radio and TV stations. The media that Maxwell managed made kings and pulled them down. He was undisputedly the most powerful person in Europe. But, he did not own the media he managed - he only managed this media. He managed it for Swiss banks.

Neither did the Swiss banks own the media that Maxwell managed. Banks are set up by others to manage money. That's what they do. The media that Maxwell was managing was just a part of the wealth that the banks were managing for someone else.

Another way we know that the media speaks with one voice is that one viewpoint of events is released at the same time worldwide. It happens all the time.

When the ITC blacklisted my book War Cycles / Peace Cycles, because of its stand on "usury", the media releases read almost exactly the same worldwide. I sent press releases to many of the newspapers correcting misstatements they had made, but there was not one correction made to the establishment story. They did not print a single word from my press releases. This indicates a single managing genius.[4]

The Learning Curve - Banks

Long concealed secrets of the centuries are coming together. Andy Jackson knew. He caused the bankruptcy of the 2nd Bank of the US. The bankruptcy revealed that the bank stockholders resided in England.

4 In spite of WC/PC being a best seller - to this very day not one single cartel newspaper in the country will review the book for its readers. This is an overt form of censorship.

Let's run that by again. The central bank of the United States was owned by British subjects - the same Britain we fought for our independence. What does that say about our founding fathers' ability to look after the nation's interests?

We learned still more when a group of Swiss banks failed in the early '70s. It turned out that they were owned by the Catholic Church - the word "Catholic" means "universal". Other bankrupted banks were discovered to be owned by the Crown - the head of which is the head of the Anglican Protestant Church.

We are told that such things can't happen because the Christian religion forbids usury - but facts are facts. We have learned a lot.

Banking In Short

Since the days of Asoka, the wealth and holdings of the universal Hindu priesthood encompasses the world.

Bank credit was issued in such quantity that gold fell into short supply and was replaced by paper money and book entry credit and debt. Banks creating this credit proliferated until in the US they reached the astounding total of 32,000.

Unmanageable, these banks were reorganized into less than half that number and regulated under a Central Bank. In America this Central Bank is called the Federal Reserve.

Each country has a Central Bank managing the credit-debt in that country. All of these central banks belong to the Serpent - the same Serpent who was thrown from the garden and landed on the shores of India. The accompanying medallion is made up of the logos of several of them. In spite of the infighting and recriminations so characteristic of Esau - they are all one.

Medalians Of Some Of The World's Central Banks

The Serpent Teeth

Usury Banking and the Media are the teeth of the Serpent.

The first originated with Asoka's gold. This wealth accumulated over the centuries allows the Serpent to prey on man's "love of money". This gold can buy anything that has a price tag, or, it can buy the force necessary to destroy those who will not sell.

The other source of the Serpent's power is its media monopoly purchased with its gold. The voice of the Serpent through its media monopoly transforms people's perception of events into whatever the Serpent wishes them to believe.

Today, everything is play-acting. Everything is "Hollywood" - wars, politics, politicians, history, and even man's perception of his God. Deprived of the bedrock of the WORD

- man's world has become a confusing place filled with smoke and mirrors.

Usury-banking and the Media-monopoly are the Serpent's teeth. They poison, paralyze, and destroy.

Man is discovering the corruptions of a priesthood educated by Serpent endowed seminaries. At long last man is again learning that God appointed THEM to be his kings and priests. One of their jobs is to inform those who serve the Serpent of the consequences of their actions:

To the Media:

> "If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-19
>
> "Woe to you who write down the word of falsehood, and the word of the wicked ... To them there shall be no peace." I Enoch 96:24-25
>
> "Woe unto them that justify the wicked for reward." Isaiah 5:23

To the Usurer:

> "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

In due time God's Kingdom will come. In that day:

> "Thine eye shall not pity; [but] life [shall go] for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot." De 19:21

We must warn those who chain men with usury or who hide the Serpent's evil with Esau's Cloak. Whores and thieves will certainly come into the kingdom before they. Today they scoff - tomorrow they will see face to face:

> "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb 10:31

Conclusion

Media and banking should be servants of man. As monopolies of the Serpent they are fearsome masters.

Chapter 335

THE THIRD EYE

Enron

Enron is in the papers daily. Everyone is being blamed for the demise of this great company, that is, everyone except those responsible.

I have in my hand a copy of the Financial Times dated May 21, 2001 - almost a year ago. On page 12 is the story that Enron is being forced to abandon its $3 billion dollar Indian power project because of unpaid bills.

Contracts were signed, construction took place, power plants were built, bills were sent out, and the Indian government refused to pay. India now has the power plants that cost them nothing, Enron went broke, and the media blames Enron.

This sounds strange when one thinks about it. There are other things that don't sound right either. In Virginia, newspapers, radio, and TV stations don't pay sales taxes for items they buy in stores. Odd, don't you think? The Federal Reserve in Richmond is not listed under "government offices". This is odd too. The Feds took over the Virginia highlands to build their Skyline Drive. To clear the way they drove out thousands of families and burned their homes. You could see and smell the smoke all the way to Lynchburg.

Let's see if we can bring these puzzles together.

Cloak Of Esau

We have discussed the "Teeth of the Serpent". These are the Cloak of Esau and Asoka's Bequest; The first is being used as a "deception" monopoly, and the last is the "money" monopoly. With these two properly used - world conquest is not only possible but inevitable.

The Cloak of Esau was the cloak given by God to Adam. Adam gave it to his heirs until it was stolen by Ham. It then passed into the hands of Nimrod and from there it was taken by Esau where it remains today.

As used by the children of Esau, of whom the Indians are part through intermarriage, the Cloak represents information, disinformation, propaganda - today's "media-messenger." In India, the serpent represents the messenger - a messenger of the Gods. He speaks words received from the Gods and is worshiped as a very God himself by those who listen to him. Indian Gods are pictured as having serpents in their hands, around their necks, about their waists, or reclining on them. The accompanying picture of the Goddess has a serpent about her neck. The serpent "gives knowledge to those deserving of knowledge and withholds knowledge to those un-deserving" (which is why I can no longer get certain Hindu books to sell). They receive special revelations from their Gods through circular earrings which act as spiritual receivers, or from the serpent who whispers in their ear, and then they spiritually dispense this wisdom from the 3rd eye.

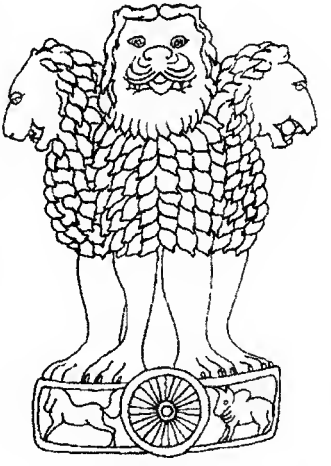
Practically speaking, until fairly recent years, most news and government proclamations were dispensed by priests at scheduled religious gatherings. This indoctrination was considered so important that subjects of the king were fined for missing religious services.[1]



Arms Of Maurya Dyansty Showing The Three Major Hindu Gods

Asoka

It was by using deceptive divine wisdom that the Hindu priests were able to put their own man on India's throne.

1 Today's media has replaced yesterday's religious services as the establishment's dispenser of "propaganda-information".

The reigning king at that time was Dhana Nanda. He would not cooperate nor be controlled by the Brahmans. One of them, a priest, found a boy of royal blood living in poverty whose name was Chandragupta Maurya. With the backing of the Brahman priesthood he led a successful revolt by claiming he was the true ruler. The revolt succeeded in 321 B.C. when India's tax resisters joined him.

His grandson's name was "Asoka the Great", the discoverer of the teachings of Buddha and known to more people in the world than Jesus Christ.

The Brahmans of the Hindu priesthood created the office that Asoka held. He was their man - their agent. As their agent he taxed the people of their wealth (not fellow Brahmans) and reduced them to grinding poverty where they remain today. At his death he left one thousand million pieces of gold to the same Hindu priesthood who had created the office that he occupied. This is called "Asoka's Bequest". It is important to realize that the office of king is a created office.[2]

Buddha's Middle Way

The people of India were fractious. The white Brahman invaders had bred with the native Blacks and this had resulted in mulattoes of many different degrees of White and Black who were always fighting each other. Asoka was king. To bring peace to India he brought 2 Kings, in whatever land they rule, are Brahman agents. They compel the weak to surrender their assets to him. He then transfers what is now a "public asset" into the hands of his master in a transaction called "privatization".

"Buddhism, "Dharma, and modern government. Following is the story of Buddhism:

Sitting under a Bo tree in India, Siddhatta Gautma had a revelation that later won him the title of Buddha, "the enlightened one."

Born in the 6th Century B.C. to wealth and luxury, Gautma had the means and the time to indulge his every whim - women, drink, and conquest. In time, he woke to the human misery around him and so he left his wives and home to join the "wise men" in the mountains. There he sought knowledge through fasting, asceticism and self-torment. His self-torments brought him to the verge of death so he decided that they, too, had missed the road to truth.

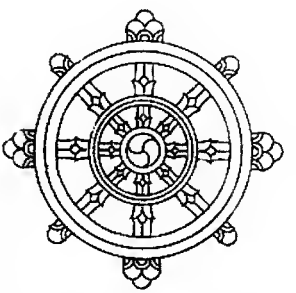
He went away and wandered aimlessly until one day he sat beside a river under the Bo tree and received the revelation of life's meaning - "The Middle Way".

"The Middle Way" was simply "moderation" - neither indulgence nor asceticism. While not a religion, it kept the Hindu concept of transmigration, with reward or punishment possible in several existences. "Dharma" is the centerpiece of Buddhism and was Asoka's contribution.

Dharma

The many races that Asoka ruled had many Gods. Their incessant squabbling impacted trade. To facilitate commerce he proclaimed an edict:

"One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka



Dharma Symbol
The great Hindu wheel of destiny drawing all into the oneness of universalism.

That's it! This was not just a nice sentiment, it was Asoka's Edict - it was law. Violators risked royal displeasure. This ancient "anti-hate" legislation had teeth. It was enforced by "Dharmamatras" - government "civil- rights" officials who were given extraordinary powers to carry out the task of making certain that the edict was obeyed throughout the land. The office of Dharmamatra was made a permanent department of the ITC government. It still is.

Hindu Government

India's ruling clique were, and are, few in number - the pinnacle of the 64 degrees of the ruling Brahman caste. While India with its racial, religious, political, job, and caste systems is chaotic in its complexity, the Brahman monopoly of The Cloak (information, disinformation, intelligence, propaganda) and of Asoka's Bequest (gold, banking, usury, loans) made it simple to organize this unwieldy mass. All that is necessary is to pay someone to do it. And, this is exactly what they did. This was the ancient organization in India.

First: the Serpent represents the ruling Brahman caste. "Serpent Policy" is disseminated worldwide by use of Cloak and Asoka's Bequest which is in their hands. Banking plus media control generates power almost beyond the ability of the mind to comprehend. The use of unlimited wealth plus the media to control minds allowed them to appoint:

The Hindu Priesthood: an episcopacy, represented by the skull pyramid ruled by Dharma. These are priests who "see no evil", "hear no evil" and "speak no evil". Dharma guarantees that they will tolerate all evils - which is the way of death.

The King - "government" - represented by the falcon.

The Great Hindu Merchant - the one who manages Asoka's Bequest through international corporations which invest in the world's markets. The Great Merchant also manages the physical plant used by the media and banking - while policy of both is set by the Serpent.

This system of government, Priesthood, King, and Great Merchant is duplicated, with cosmetic changes, in every country of the world.

The Lawful

It is now time to briefly discuss OUR relationship to this worldwide octopus which is today called The New World Order.

Scripture says, "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Gen 5:1. Scripture says, "The WORD was God." John 1:1. Scripture says, "God created man in his own image." Gen 1:27.

The WORD is best known by its Laws. Adam-Man is created in the image of these Laws which is the WORD. Created in that image, it is assumed that man instinctively knows right from wrong.[3]

The Lawless

The story of Adam and Eve is known universally - how the Serpent deceived Eve causing Adam-man (Adam and Eve) to be banished from the Garden. To avoid a repeat of the incident the WORD ordered;

---

3 This is why it is stated, "Ignorance of the law is no excuse." The courts of unLawful men now interpret it to include the 100,000 inane, confusing statutes enacted by Brahman hirelings in government.

"They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me: for if thou serve their gods, it will surely be a snare unto thee." Ex 23:33

The "They" refers to those not made in the image of the WORD - the descendants of the Serpent.

All that is not Man (Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood (in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red (ruddy). Strong's Concordance is non-man - or "hued-man" (human).

The American colonists called the ravishing Indians "red-devils", the rampaging blacks - "black-devils", the marauding Turks and Arabs - "Islamic-devils".

The Serpent's descendants have traditionally been called "devils" and are prohibited from entering the land. The WORD says, "They shall not dwell in thy land,", it also says specifically, "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Adam-Man- Israel)." De 23:2. Violation of these commandments reveals the work of the Serpent, the devil, the anti-Christ.

To remain Lawful, those made in the image of the WORD are to associate with others who are Lawful. This presents a problem to the unLawful.

If the WORD which is the Saxon's Law were enforced in the lands of the Lawless - the Lawless would soon be in prison, punished in another way, or executed. This is drastic and explains the affinity of Blacks, Jews, and other non-Saxons for each other - they look on their collaboration as a way to protect themselves from man's Law. To them, the Lawful are cops on the corner waiting for an excuse to persecute them.

This is why the Lawless have no law like the WORD. If they did, everyone would be in violation all the time. They could not build all the jails needed to house their criminals.

The Hindu solution to Lawlessness is to have no law like the WORD. If you have no law - no law can be broken.[4] In non-Saxon lands people do anything they can get away with - providing that they respect the rules their own ruling king chooses to enforce. Each new king has his own set of rules which everyone quickly learns, but other than that - it is a daily "dog eat dog" existence.[5]

Buddhism's "middle way" is supported by kings the world over because it leads people away from extremes such as revolution against authoritarian rule. The use of Dharma, which is the soul of Buddhism, has produced interesting results through the years.

Dharmatized (Brainwashed) Janissaries

Turks are the greatest problem of Turkish kings. In the lands of Esau everyone is made in the image of his own Gods - which to us appear Lawless. They rob, lie, cheat, and murder, which to them is normal.

In the days of the Ottoman Empire, the Turkish Sultan ruled Arab Turks, Seljuk Turks, Ottoman Turks, Khazar Turks, Kurds, and various other non-Saxons who went by one name or another. Each had his own problems and each had problems with other Turks. When ordered to mobilize to go

4 This is why some "Dharmatized" western "Christian" cults maintain that God's Law is done away. No Law - no sin and no guilt!

5 What appears to be law in the land of the Lawless are general "rules of conduct" with little in the way of "teeth". Mostly its only "ritual" and Dharma. Ritual entertains the people and Dharma helps the king rule. Actual enforcement depends on the king and his relationship to his masters and to his subordinates.

Janissaries

Christians kidnapped as children and raised as Muslims. The most fanatical of all of Islam's warriors. Because of inborn Lawlfullness, were used as governors and tax-collectors instead of native born Turks.

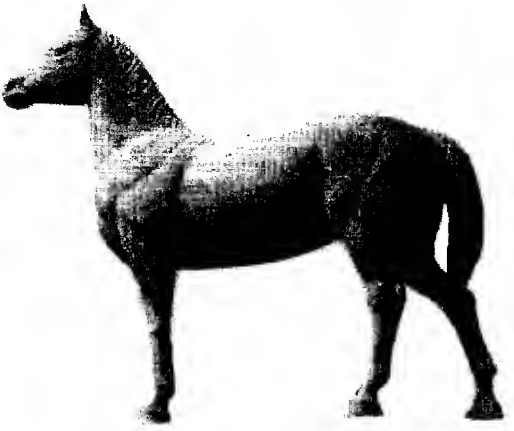
to war, the king would find them fighting among themselves. He would have to delay until he got the dispute worked out before he could start a campaign, then he would have to wait again when another fight broke out. At all times some of his followers were off invading a neighbor, or squabbling about the division of loot or something else.

Turks are great warriors, but, getting them to the war and getting the war started wrecked the dreams of many a Turkish ruler. The solution was found - found in the least expected place - in the Saxons.

Saxons have many of the qualifications necessary to be "super- warriors." They are by breeding naturally trusting, single- minded, and dedicated, and when given a Turk teacher to "brainwash" them into the belief that Saxon-Christianity is "wrong" and Turkish-Islam is "right" - and when trained to war, their new understanding of "Islam" caused them to become as vicious as any Turk. Unlike most Turks, they will fight to the last drop of their blood for a cause they believe is right. This is the sort of building material a Turkish ruler craves. An elite storm-troop, single minded, loyal to him alone, and when compared to Turks - honest!

The sultan-king recruited a force made up of Saxons indoctrinated in this manner. He sent his agents to take young

Saxons by force. He bought others from child-stealers and kidnapers. He paid top dollar and took good care of his young "guests." They were slaves, but were never called "slaves." Even slaves object to being called slaves. They were called



The White Horse - Sign Of The Saxon

"I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat on him ... doth judge and make war ... and his name is called The WORD of God" Rev 19:11-13

"And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword and with it he should smite the nations." Rev 19:14-15

The symbol of the Saxon is the white horse. You will find white horses painted on the barns of Pennsylvania and Germany and outlined in the hillsides of Britain exposing the white chalk beneath.

"Janissaries."

The sultan fed his young guests well, clothed them in the finest apparel, and had them converted to Islam. They were then trained to be warriors.

The "Janissary" that we know was a Saxon with a devil's heart. They were the most fanatical group of warriors Islam has ever known. They had the "discipline" and "obedience" inherited from generations of selective breeding, and in their hearts had been placed the "jihad," the "holy-war" of Esau.

This force numbered 20,000 to 40,000. These disciplined, well trained warriors formed the spear-point of the Ottoman invasions of Europe, and they were almost invincible. The first wild-eyed sword-swinging heathen trying to separate the Christian's head from his shoulders often had blond hair and blue eyes. His hate- filled eyes and heart were filled with the lore of Islam. The Turks honored them - they were their elite.

Janissaries not only faithfully fought Islam's wars, but their hereditary make-up of "fairness" made them remarkably good governors and administrators - far better than their own native rapacious Turks. In time they furnished the personnel for the police, and provided relatively honest tax collectors.

In Egypt, the Janissaries were called "Mamelukes." They were the power within the Turk empire and furnished 56 consecutive sultans. These fierce warriors decimated the Crusaders and chewed up the vaunted invading armies of the Mongols. In answer to the inevitable question, "What happened to yesterday's janissaries?" The answer is simple, and typically Turk. One morning a Turk prince decided that they had too much power and told the Turks to kill all Janissaries, kill them all! And they did.

Today's Jannisary

Today, Esau needs the Saxon-Jannissary more than ever before. He needs them to fight his wars, rule his people, manage his wealth. He needs Saxons to destroy Esau's Turkish enemies, he also needs the Saxons to destroy Esau's hereditary Saxon enemies.

Let us glace at a newspaper article I clipped a while back:

> "We need to forcefully engage in... an action that is intolerant of intolerance... It is an action that sets com> pany, church, synagogue, mosque and organizational policy to remove from employment or membership any who practice racial, religious or other prejudice. Giving bias, bigotry and racism no quarter and treating discrimination and prejudice the way we treat harassment will send a message to all..." Jeffery B. Spence, E. Dir., Nat Conf Christ & Jews, p. F5, Dec 10 1995. (Story in News & Advance, Article says that he lives in Richmond).

I really don't know that Mr. Jeffery B. Spence is really a Saxon because the children of Esau change their names frequently. But, for the sake of this article let us assume that he is in fact a Saxon. The next question is - how did a Saxon arrive in such a mental condition - the mental condition suffered by yesterday's Turk Janissaries?

I really doubt that the Turks kidnaped him when he was young and trained him from youth to manhood. That's ancient history! There's a better way.

Making A Liberal-Jannissary

Dhamamatra-missionaries were sent to the West many years ago with a bag of gold to spread the "Dharma" message. They found corrupt priests eager to teach Dharma to those that God had placed in their care in exchange for gold or merchandise. They also found educators desperately eager to accept a Dharma-teacher in his educational institution in exchange for a substantial donation from a wealthy Cartel corporation to build a new building on campus.

The result was as predictable as night following day. When children go to church to learn religion and are taught their religion plus Dharma - they become Dharmatized. When they go to a school to become educated and are taught liberal arts plus Dharma - they become "Dharmatized".

Someone who is Dharmatized is a carbon copy of yesterday's "Jannissary". They just call them by a different name. The name today is Liberal, Traitor, Apostate! This Spence chap who signed the above most un-liberal letter to the editor probably was himself Dharmatized by a Dharmatized educational system.

The Turk no longer has to "steal" children and Dharmatize them to get their Janissaries. Dharmatized Saxons march off the educational assembly lines every year. They march forth by the hundreds of thousands and millions - fanatical, filled with hate for their own people, their own civilization, and their own God the WORD.

Using Both Jew & Saxon

We discussed the "Jew" in HR #324, #325, #326. We learned that Jewish bloodlines and Talmudic philosophy are traced to India while another part of their bloodline comes from the Turkish- Mongol Khazars of southern Russia.

This means that since they are one of Esau's children, they are Lawless by Christian standards. They tend to do things that Indians normally do, meaning that they will do anything - including lending at usury. Saxons who understand the workings of "usury" often have deep reservations about the practice. There are even Dharmatized Saxons working as Janissaries who are often revolted by the likes of Jerry Springer, Howard Stern, and the virtual Jewish monopoly of pornography, prostitution, and abortion. Combined with continuous media lies and banking deception, it's enough to occasionally cause a Dharmatized Saxon to "get religion" and "go straight" - which can be disastrous.[6]

Sharing Rule

So, we have the Serpent's agents managing the two most important assets the Serpent has - banking and media. They manage these two assets because they will do things that most Saxons are reluctant to do.

But, to ensure that the profits from banking and the advantages that accrue to a media monopoly are not siphoned off off into the pockets of the Serpent's servants - Janissaries are utalized to see that the Serpent's servants don't run off with the shop. One of the major jobs of today's Jannissaries is to act as agent- owner and oversee the banking and media operation.

This is why banking and media are operated by Jews, but the "agent-owners" are Saxon Jannisaries.

S. Africa's Orphans

"Dear Dick: Thank your subscribers for the $300 that you sent in their name. When translated into our grossly devalued currency it translates into R3,000. Believe me, we can do a lot with that - and it is necessary.

Yesterday I had a visit from Mrs. H.K. From her I learned about your association with another lady here in SA. We had supported that woman's home for children for sometime before I had the "pleasure" of meeting her. Throughout we have made it a rule never to give money, only food, clothes, medicine and blankets. But, this woman demanded money. This made me suspicious.

6 HR readers who have studied War Cycles Peace Cycles remember that interest free banking was practiced in the West for a long time. The best known bank was the Bank of Amsterdam. Neither do today's Islamic banks charge interest.

About that time I started working with the White Mine Workers Union. We were each supporting the same causes and it seemed more sensible to coordinate our efforts. I then asked them what they thought about how the children's home was being managed.

They expressed reservations, so it was decided we would call in auditors and a lawyer. We soon found out she had taken R50,000 of trust money and was spending it at the local casino. Frankly, we did our best to put her in jail, but the police refused to move. But we did remove 24 of the children, taking them to Bronkhorstspruit. Soon afterwards the trustees of the fund and the Afrikaans churches who had been supporting the orphanage, called in the police. They found she had stolen R500,000, had three identity documents, and had already served time for fraud. I am truly sorry she caught you.

To send money for the children and the needy I do not advise electronic bank transfer. The costs are so great that we are lucky to get 50% of the sum involved.

I agree that my box and house address are not the safest. I am not exactly a pin-up with the ANC/SACP, and police friends tell me I am under pretty regular surveillance. It doesn't worry me unduly - the old National Party did the same, and as far as I know, my activities are law abiding. This does not make me an admirer of the Marxist monsters. Quite the reverse, as they know very well.

With the money you sent we will buy 2,000 kg of special fortified food for the White unemployed up at Vanderbijl

Park. If you would be so kind as to mention us in your excellent newsletter, I would be deeply grateful. We need all the help we can get ... there are so many White unemployed now in SA because of affirmative action, and so many of the churches and almost all charity organizations divert all their activities towards the Blacks. I know many of their people, too, are having a grim time, but my belief is that each community should care for its own, and from the start we have helped Whites only.

I agree with you that our common enemy is by no means the Chosen, although they help. But there are much bigger forces than the Hebraics at work - and they are, from their lights, doing a great job. Our Christian civilization is crumbling on all sides, far faster than I ever believed possible.

With all best wishes, and gratitude on my own behalf and that of our little ones.

God Bless, Aida Parker[7]

RKH: The former manager of the Children's Orphanage didn't catch us. Your S. African correspondent, H.K., went to see her and was also dissatisfied with what she found. She warned us in time and we returned the money that we had collected for the orphanage to our contributors.

HR readers who wish to use their tithes to help the S.A. children, the affirmative action unemployed, and our other SA kinsmen in need, can take their chances and send money to Aida Parker at the above address. If your prefer, make checks out to Richard Kelly Hoskins and I will send by "moneygram". They charge less for larger amounts - or you can do it yourself.

The class has grown to over 40 and people are coming in from other churches. The class members want to extend the class to two hours - some want to bring their lunches and continue into the afternoon. The members are incensed that the preachers haven't told them the truth about the Bible. Some say that they have learned more in SS in a few weeks than they have by listning to preachers for 30 years. I thought that you'd like to know that it looks like our people are waking up." S. VOLUNTEER: "Dear Richard: Many months ago you admonished us to volunteer to speak on subjects to any group to which we might belong in order to plant seeds. I took your advice to heart and phoned the head of a woman's organization to which I belong and offered to give a program on the Scottish Declaration of Independence - in the event they needed a program sometime. I soon found myself lined up to speak to the group - all claiming Scottish and Irish ancestry - and a very interested group they were. They listened with much interest and were quite animated and sincere in their applause.

The next thing I knew another woman's organization heard about my talk and wanted me to speak to their group. Then, lo and behold, still another group asked me to speak.

I used Ray Capt's material and beefed up my talk so there could be no question as to the identity of the Israelites from whom the Scottish king, Chancellor and noblemen claimed descent. This poor speaker has now been asked to speak to still another club next winter.

I want to thank you, Richard, for encouraging me to plant seeds to the many who have been deceived by Judeo-Christianity. It has been a real privilege. G.F. - Texas

Chapter 336

SNAKES

Where They Come From

Snakes

Dad was discharged from the army after WWI and bought a medical practice in Hazard, Kentucky. Some of his patients lived only four miles away, but they lived on the other side of the mountain.

That presented a problem. The mountains around Hazard are not only tall, they are great long mountains. By road you sometimes have to drive 50 miles to reach a mountain pass, cross over to the other side, and 50 miles back on the other side of the mountain to reach a patient who lived only 4 miles away. A 200 mile round trip. It was easier and quicker to saddle a horse and ride the 4 miles over the mountain than drive 200 miles.

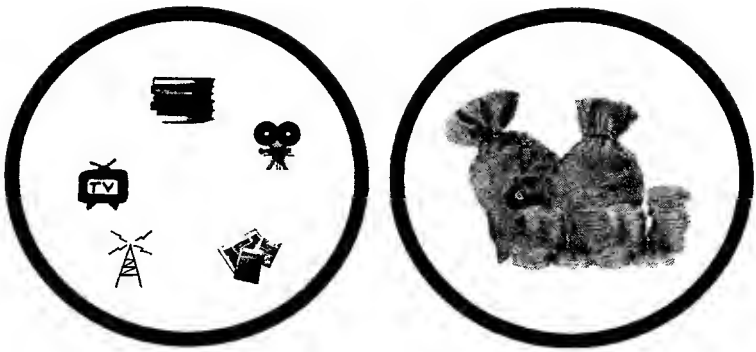
Dad had made the trip over the mountain many times and had seen only an occasional snake. One day he rode over the mountain and while calling on a patient there came a cloudburst - a real gully-washer lasting several hours. At last the rain stopped and Dad started to ride back over the mountain.

When he was halfway back he noticed snakes. Only a few at first, but then hundreds and then thousands. They were everywhere. He was afraid that they would bite his horse. Fortunately, they didn't. But all those snakes made a lasting impression on him. The snakes had been there all the time, but it took a cloudburst to bring them out of their dens and into the open.

Serpent's Fangs

There is a close resemblance between the snakes that Dad saw on the mountain in Kentucky, the Serpent that caused



Cross SectioOf The Serpent's Fangs
The left fang injects Dharma poison into its victim with its media monopoly.
Thje right fang uses its money monopoly to buy kings to conquer and rule jubject states, priests to teach them Dharma, and managers to manage its coorporations.

Adam to be banished from the Garden, and the ones all around us today.

Serpents have hollow fangs that channel poison into its victim. If today, we took this serpent, extracted its fangs and cut them in half, and placed them under a microscope so that we could look into them - we could clearly see the poison.

The poison in one fang is the Serpent's "unlimited money." The poison in the other fang is the Serpent's "Cloak of Esau" represented by today's "media". The Serpent only needs these two fangs to rule the world.

Poisoned Money

The world of Esau is the merchant's world. In this world everything is measured by "gold" - or its equivalent.

From earliest times Esau's "merchant-bankers" have been sent into new markets and have offered to lend gold to customers who wanted to buy their precious goods. Initially, the merchants would only accept gold in payment. Customers might borrow 10 pieces of gold from merchant bankers at 10% interest. In ten years the borrower would owe 23.58 pieces of gold. This is the way interest works.[1] This practice is a capital crime punishable by death.

"Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13[2];

Usury makes slaves:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov 22:7

A Major Discovery

When we discovered that banks can and do print their own money we learned something important. There is nothing to keep the bankers from printing an extra $1, or

All The World's Central Banks Are Cartel Owned

1 5391: usury: nâshak, "to strike with a sting as a serpent; to oppress with interest on a loan: - bite, lend upon usury." Strong's Concordance.

2 "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deu 23:20

$1,000,000,000, or $1,000,000,000,000. This last figure is "one trillion". It seems unfair that we have to go to work every day and sweat and slave eight hours and come home, collapse, eat, go to bed - and get up the next morning and do it all over again. BANKS can print money for themselves and they can do whatever they want with the money they create.

Peter Cook, expert on the Federal Reserve states:

> "The breakup of Eastern Europe into countless separate political subdivisions will change little as long as they keep their present banking system. If the earth were entirely owned by the banks, and everything was stripped from them, but leaving them the power to create money, the banks can soon create enough credit to buy it all up again."[3]

Please don't treat the above quote casually. Peter Cook has forgotten more about banking and the Federal Reserve than the next half dozen experts together know. "The banks can soon create enough credit to buy it all up again."

"Credit" creation (money printing) is a Cartel monopoly. To keep it that way a corporation was set up to regulate and police the chaotic credit system that usury had brought into existence - and also put competitors out of business. Similar regulatory agencies were set up in each Cartel market. They used the police power of the state to enforce their edicts. In the US this organization is called the Federal Reserve.

Each country has its own "Federal Reserve". Although called by different names they are all Cartel agents and controlled by it.

The Poisoned Media

Unlimited bank credit allowed the Cartel to buy up the media.

In the middle ages, Catholic priests announced the world view of the Catholic State. There was only one view - that of the Catholic State.

Kings disliked sharing tribute extorted from the people with the Catholic State. They nationalized the Catholic Church and made it a department of their own state. Under new management they called this revised creation the "Protestant Church". This "Protestant Church" then announced the King's "world view". It was a department of state - the king's state.

By the 1830s, unlimited bank-credit allowed the Cartel banks to buy up all the major media in all the countries of the world. Cartel money in the right places kept the kings of the world quiet while this was going on. The Cartel's world view was now the view spread by the media.

The Expanded Media

Since then the Cartel media has expanded to include even the small county newspapers. It also includes book publishers, TV, Radio, and Hollywood. The Cartel media speaks the same in New York, San Francisco, London, Berlin, Moscow, Beijing, and Singapore. In the world today there is one world view - that of the International Trade Cartel.

Little protest publishers like Virginia Publishing Company, and Hoskins Report are tolerated, and are even necessary, since they act as a pressure valve. They help let off pressure that would otherwise become explosive.

Manning The Media Juggernaut

Manning the world's media colossus are hundreds of thousands of individuals who have been carefully culled from the great masses of mankind. A most extraordinary lot they are - alike as peas in a pod. Each was chosen and is rewarded by his willingness to exaggerate, fabricate, deceive, hoax, concoct, equivocate, falsify, perjure, and tell outright lies.

I really dislike condemning an entire profession because it is certain that somewhere out there there is an honest, truthful, reporter somewhere, but other than the ones I knew many years ago before their papers were taken over by the Cartel, I haven't found one - and I have met a great many reporters.

As regards the TV, Peter Jennings damned it when he said that his job was not to report the news but to "form opinions". Really! I thought that our basic opinions were formed by the rules we follow. Mr. Jennings' rule maker is the one who signs his paychecks.

The Hollywood media, in many respects, surpasses the news media as the epitome of deceit. They actually present awards to each other to recognize those actors who deceive the best. Well-known Hollywood personalities - admitted whores and whoremongers - pretend to be plaster saints on the silver screen and recognize each other for their deceit. How sick. They pretend that sodomy, miscegenation, murder and adultery are actually virtues. Is there one of my readers who actually believes that there is a virgin in Hollywood? Or a chaste actor of either sex? Logic says that there must be, but as soon as one is chosen he confesses his transgressions to the Hollywood tabloids.

The ability to gather such a menagerie of moral cripples in one place is an achievement that matches the building of the Golden Gate Bridge or putting a man on the moon. It is almost beyond belief.

Disguising The Poison

Usury is a trick. One borrows 10 and is forced to repay 20. In the usury system, borrowers are always short of money and are being forced to give up their farms, businesses, and homes. Usury is like yesteryear's Coco-Cola. I am told that in the old days Coke actually contained "coke". This made Coco-Cola addictive. It made for a loyal following. Usury banking is the same. Once a borrower, it is extremely difficult to get out of debt.

The banking system is a monopoly. It gives loans to those it chooses and denies them to those it chooses. Its ability to "create money" has allowed it to buy up the world's media. This has resurrected and given real meaning to "Esau's Cloak".

This is how the ITC has gained everything it has. First the world's "usury banking" monopoly. This monopoly allowed the banks to gain the world's "media monopoly". The result is that the ITC has both a money monopoly and a media monopoly.

Spreading The Poison

With both money and media monopoly the Cartel serpent has the power to rule the world.

It sent its missionaries armed with 15 years of intensive training and a blank check into the market area where the Serpent wished to operate. His job - organization.

He first hired a local war chief to protect cartel interests. He became its "king". His symbol is the "eagle". Most kings are of the same moral persuasion as those who operate the Cartel banks and media.

Next, local religious leaders were hired to attach Dharma to their own religion so that their God will not order his followers to kill the merchant.[4] Dharma is the Hindu merchant's secret weapon successfully used from ancient times. It is the foundation of their mission effort often called Buddhist-Yoga. "Dharma" is based on the 2nd Century BC edict of India's King Asoka which states:

> "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed."
> King Asoka.

Once "Dharma" has been inserted into a local religion, the followers of that religion cannot prohibit entry to the international merchant or his agents.

Christian priests today "see no evil, hear no evil, and speak no evil". Most are of the same moral persuasion as Cartel kings. Such creatures see the evil of usury, that it is a capital crime, but refuse to warn the people. The priests are the reason that usury flourishes and our people are enslaved. They see the false-witness of the media - but do nothing to stop it. Because the priests did not warn the people, their self-sufficient farms have been destroyed, depriving our people of their individual kingdoms which they were to rule forever."[6]

Because they refuse to tell the people that we are not to have kings to rule over us - we now have Cartel kings ruling over us - agents of the Serpent.[7]

With the Cartel king providing protection, Cartel priests to neutralize the people's religious objections to the Cartel merchants - the Cartel merchant arrived safely with bags of gold to buy and sell, make usury loans - and take the wealth of the people and make them slaves.

Janissary

Providing personnel for the governing castes the Cartel uses existing institutions - public school and higher education.

Trusted individuals were added to college "boards-of-visitors" in exchange for handouts and bequests from Cartel corporations. These appointees introduced liberal professors. While "Christian" seminaries died on the vine from lack of money, liberal seminaries flourish. Today, most colleges and seminaries' graduates are as fanatical in support of their alien masters as their Janissary forebears were in years past.

The following comes from a recent letter:

6 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God." Rev 1:5,6; "The land shall be divided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit." Nu 26:55; "The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

7 "The elders of Israel... came to Samuel... make us a king .... And the Lord said... the people... have rejected me, that I should not reign over them.... (The king you choose) shall take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." I Sam 8:11-18

"Dear Mr. Hoskins; The reason for this letter is to comment on the condition of the so-called institutions of higher learning in this country. I am a student in a major university in Indiana. I had been told how difficult it is to live a Christian life in today's institutions of higher learning, but never did I expect to encounter such blatant anti-Saxon/anti-Christian indoctrination as I have encountered within this university.

Sir, I will continue to work towards my degree, but my opinions concerning university curriculum has forever changed." B.G. - Indiana

Basic Cartel Government

The basic organization that rules world markets is the Cartel created taxable entity called "country". These countries are organized with a king, priesthood, and corporate-managers.

In picture form the cartel government of a country looks like the above:

With cosmetic differences, every country-market in the world is organized in the same manner. They look the same because they basically are the same.

Snakes, Snakes, Everywhere

The result of the Cartel choosing Kings who are like themselves, and training people to serve him - who are like themselves - is that, with few exceptions, they are snakes!

Cartel Priests graduate from Cartel seminaries. They too are like him - more snakes!

Cartel Corporations recruit managers from Cartel universities - still more snakes!

It is with good reason that when we look at Government politicians we see snakes; when we look at the pulpit we see snakes; and when we look at the titans of commerce we see snakes. Snakes, snakes, snakes everywhere. Cartel snakes!!

The good part is this - at long last - WE SEE THEM. The bountiful downpour of knowledge we were promised in these later days has flushed them out. We see them. They are crawling all around us. Like my father crossing the mountains of Kentucky on horseback so many years ago - the snakes are there. They have been there all along. But, NOW we see them - and because we see them we can do something about them.

LETTERS

DRINKING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Jesus made wine. Why are you against people drinking wine?" S.C. - California

RKH: Jesus drank wine - the "spirit" of the WORD. Everyone should drink this wine. I'm not against people drinking the other kind. In fact, it is one of my major indicators. If they drink I neither seek nor trust their counsel.

The WORD teaches: "It is not for kings to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law, and prevert the judgment of the afflicted. Pr 31:4-5

If they drink - even in so-called "moderation" or "socially" - it tells me all I need to know about them.

I've got six children. Two of my daughters drink. I love them dearly and will do anything in the world I can for them, but I neither seek nor trust their judgment. If someone hasn't learned to discipline themselves, why should I accept risks based on their judgment. In both politics and in the army, I never placed a drinker in a position of trust that required clear thinking and judgment.

I don't mind people drinking. It instantly tells me what I need to know about the one with whom I am dealing.

LONG HAIR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What's wrong with men having long hair or shaving their heads?" C.S. - Alabama

RKH: The WORD teaches: "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll (moderately cut) their heads." EZ 44:22; "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if man have long hair, it is a shame with him." 1 Cor 11:4

Hindu holy men have long hair. Egyptian priests shaved their entire bodies including their heads. Moderate hair cuts are a "Christian" thing.

HOW GOES S. AFRICA? - Aida Parker

Dear Richard; I am often asked by people overseas: "How goes it under the rule by the Noble Savage?" If you place extremely heavy emphasis on the word "savage" but very little on the preceding "noble," then perhaps you have some idea. What on earth persuaded our good friends in the US that the Black majority would fare better under Black rule, I simply cannot imagine. This week's Sunday Times spelt out the story. Its main lead detailed the fact that 75% of all S. Africans today go to bed hungry. And, just below that, it stated that Thabo Mbeki's (Mandella's successor) new, ultra-luxury presidential jet, costing R580 million, would be delivered this week.

That tells it all. The Big Men of the ANC/SACP live, and parade round the world, like monarchs of old, squandering the national treasure with prodigious lack of care for their own people ... this while the unhappy Black majority live in ever-increasing hunger and squalor, dying like flies from often preventable diseases such as TB, malaria and even abdominal worms. It seems a cast iron rule in Africa that all "Big Men" should steal their countries blind, Mbeki, Mandela & Co certainly being no exceptions.

In the old days, quite a number of ANC supporters came quite regularly to see me, to tell me of the glory days to come. Well, under the ghastly F. W. deKlerk, they duly got their dream. And, for quite a while, they duly stayed away. More recently, they have begun to return, with woeful faces and to tell me, in great bitterness, that "life was better under the Whites." "We all had jobs, houses, no one starved, our children behaved, the hospitals, schools, police ... all worked. Now nothing works." They are right, of course. For reasons I cannot explain, nowhere in Africa has the Black man proved a good administrator, capable of running a country competently and well, to the benefit of all its people.

All too frequently, under Black rule, the nation collapses into a muddle of corruption, incompetence, greed, regression and ruin. It is noticeable that, since Black takeover, a huge group of people who did much for this country for many centuries has virtually disappeared. These are the scholastic and medical missionaries. Some have been murdered, others left or otherwise disappeared. A great tragedy, as these were utterly dedicated people who gave their lives to the upliftment of the Blacks, with little or no reward.

Now - and this, needless to say - is deliberate ANC/SACP policy - there are very few purely missionary schools left. And Black parents are right to resent the change. Our so-called Minister of Education, Kader Asmal, former chairman, Irish Communist Party, is not so much interested in education as such as social transformation. OBE is not dedicated to teaching children the three Rs, but to developing their "inner strengths," whatever that might mean. They are taught that Christianity is a lot of old horse manure, devised by the White man as a useful technique for controlling the Black man. This new generation recognizes no rules, of morality, of discipline, of personal responsibility. They are among the most undisciplined and unmanageable SA has ever known. God alone know what sort of country they will make of SA.

Forgive this rambling effort. I am at such sixes and sevens here. I really don't know what I am doing: I think I have written to you to thank your readers for all they are doing for us but am not sure. I am so busy preparing a document of indictment against Robert Mugabe to go to the International Criminal Court that this engages all my attention. Please be patient with me and please give us your prayers. You cannot imagine how bad things are. Though you probably can. God Bless, & with every good wish,

Aida Parker

S. Africa Update - Aida Parker

In the last few weeks, millions of distressed S. Africans, Black and White, unemployed, ill-clad, semi-starving, must have felt that God's hand was truly turned against them, as the country was hit by some of the most extreme and bitter weather experienced in more than 50 years. ...

The plight of those in the vast, unspeakable squatter camps that have spread like a great cancer across the country since the ANC came to power must have been pure purgatory. Together with the Mine Workers Union (Solidarity) we on Mission Rescue did our small best to distribute food, blankets and warm clothing. Here we must say a huge thank you to all those kind folk who rushed warm clothing to us. Five huge packing cases came up from Cape Town and we were grateful to Estelle's son for picking these up at a depot near the airport, and paying all the freight and handling changes.

But it was an impossible task. At the peak of the disaster we heard about a new squatter camp set up by 80 unemployed White miners and their families under tents and dilapidated caravans in the old mining centre. The families include 22 children who, thank God, are being fed by a kindly lady at an informal soup kitchen she established. Can you imagine how cold these people have been? And the only work available to the men is car washing at the nearest town, Westonaria.

The emergency is nationwide. What is happening in much of the farming areas and towns of the Eastern Cape and northern Natal simply doesn't bear thinking about. So deep is the blanket of snow that for days on end not even rescue helicopters could get in. Many have died and there have been huge stock losses from the extreme cold with sheep and cattle unable to get at the grazing.

Oh, well. That's Africa for you. You may gauge how cold it was when I tell you the South Africans now living in Canada phoned with advice on how to keep warm! Spare a prayer for us - and the poor Zimbabweans. God Bless. Aida Parker Newsletter, July, South Africa

S. Africa by H.K.

Dear Mr. Hoskins; The White Mine Workers has been helping with the White orphans. We may have a problem. Flip Buys, secretary of the MWU is the son-in-law of one of the generals involved in the "peaceful" transfer of power to blacks. He was also the secretary of Constand Viljoen. They are the types who will drive past begging white children and stop to give something to a black one. Once bitten - twice shy. To be on the safe side we must keep careful watch and make lists of traitors like my grandmother did after the Anglo-Boer War. We will continue to keep a close watch on developments.[8] I believe Aida Parker is solid.

8 Thank you. You saved us last time. This month we sent $500 from subscribers to help our needy kinsmen. Another $200 just arrived.

In Zimbabwe, although the white farmers have been told to get out, 60% still remain on their farms, but they are not allowed to farm, harvest, or even feed domestic animals. Mugabe's henchmen got the best farms. He apparently owes Gadaffi so much for fuel that a great many of the white farms will go to him for payment.

The Human Rights Commission is making false accusations against white farmers. The same thing happened in the early 1800s. Any story by blacks and colureds, however farfetched, is taken as the truth by the courts. That was one of the big reason why the "Great Trek" took place. It was mostly the missionaries who saw to it that farmers were dragged before courts with fictitious complainst against them. This is one of the reasons we dislike missionaries to this day.

Best Wishes, H.K.

UNFILTERED NEWS

KENNEWICK MAN: Portland, Ore. A federal judge has ordered the government to allow scientists study the bones of Kennewick Man. The ancient skeleton was discovered on the banks of the Columbia River in 1996. It is believed to be that of a 9,300 year old Caucasian male. Confirmation would change the American Indian's "native American" designition back to Indian again. The government attempted to turn the bones over to local indians to be buried before they could be inspected.Kennewick man

AIDS IN CHINA: The New York Times says that places in China are beginning to suffer from the AIDS plague that leaves villages destitute of parents and with an over-abundance of orphaned children.

PRIESTS FIGHT BACK: The Vatican has left their priests and bishops to handle the avalanche of sodomy/pedofilia charges themselves. They are handling the matter by accusing those filing the charges with "slander". This will certainly put a damper on future accusations.

RESPONSIBLE?: A mass grave of hundreds of captured Taliban fighters has been discovered. They were suffocated in shipping containers last year. The puppet army of the US, the Northern Alliance, former allies of the Soviets, are believed to be responsible.

LAWLESSNESS: The American Bar Association picked a black former big-city politician to break a 125-year string of white presidents. Dennis Archer, a past Michigan Supreme Court justice and two-term mayor of Detroit was elevated to president-elect of the 408,000-member association. He pledged to emphasize diversity.

RKH: The ABA represents the king. God's law says "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

MORE LAWLESSNESS: Andrew Williams, 16 was sentenced to 50 years to life in prison for a 2001 shooting rampage in his high school that killed two and wounded 13.

RKH: This twice violates the Law: Hinduism requires someone violent to be restained (prison). The WORD which is our God requires, "Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death." Num. 35:29-30

Second: To wait a year to sentence someone is also un-Lawful; "Because the sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of man is fully set to do evil." Eccl 8:11

GREENSPAN KNIGHTED: Queen Elizabeth II knighted the head of the U.S. Federal Reserve. Americans receiving such titles may use the letters KBE after their names. Other recipients include Presidents Reagan and George H. W. Bush.

RKH: Question: Why does the British crown honor certain Americans? Therein lies a story.

ARCHBISHOP: Rowan Williams, 52, Welsh archbishop, appointed Britain's 104th Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the Anglican church; by Prime Minister Tony Blair in London. Williams favors ordination of sodomites.

RKH: I remember the Episcopal service in the Lincoln Cathedral in the early '80s. A magnificent edifice in wonderful repair, at least two priests, 50 or more paid choir members, and SIX worshipers sitting in a place designed for 2,000. The Anglican Church is another state church having access to virtually unlimited wealth. I visited the church of an Anglican rector that had NO parishioners. He spent his time managing church assets. Of course, over the Archbishop is the Queen. She was listed as an owner of the defunct Barings Bank - Barings "usury" Bank.

Chapter 337

THE DEVIL And The ANTI-CHRIST

Where The Devil Lived

I knew where the devil lived when I was a boy . He lived on Boonsboro Road on a slow rise just before reaching the deserted log cabin. He lived on the right-hand side in a big mass of honeysuckle. It was dark in there. It was always dark - even in the daytime - and the dirt smelled funny.

Colored people didn't like to walk out Boonsboro Road by themselves during the day. They positively would not walk out that road at night. I didn't like to walk out there day or night.

The cabin is gone now and James River Day School has been built just beyond the rise, but on that rise is where the devil lived.

When I was grown an old tobacco farmer told me how the story got started. He said that his father told him that long time ago Indians killed and scalped a man there. Indians were devils. They broke the Laws.

Words

We use certain words to describe an entire concept that would otherwise require hundreds or even thousands of words. A single word in the place of thousands. It's a short-cut way of thinking. The more words you know the faster you think.

There are three words that we should have in our vocabulary and know their meaning: Christ, Anti-Christ and Devil.

DEVIL: "(One in) rebellion against God; ... the implacable enemy ... A very wicked person." Am Dict Of The Eng Lang, 1828

CHRIST: (Gr: anointed ... Christ. Messiah: (Heb - "anointed") Strong's Concordance. Christ is the "Word made flesh".

ANTI-CHRIST: "Adversary of Christ ... extends to any persons who deny Christ or oppose the fundamental doctrines of Christianity." Am Dict Of The Eng Lang, 1828

We consider anyone or anything who opposes the anointed - "WORD made flesh" - "Jesus the "Christ" - as being a devil.

Now, with these three words in our quiver of arrows - its time to use them.

Christianity - Two Kinds

There are two kinds of Christinity; "Kingdom Christianity" and "Slave Christianity" also known as universalism. These are two entirely different religious beliefs having little in common except "bells and whistles" terminology.

Kingdom Christianity

"Kingdom Christianity" is the effort by man to obey The WORD which is man's God.

"Man" was created by The WORD. "The WORD" appointed Adam-man ""kings and priests" and ordered him to rule the world.

To accomplish this, The WORD dictated rules. They are simple. Everything is permitted that is not forbidden. Some things forbidden are:

* usury
* false witnesses
* taxes
* strangers
* kings
* monopolies
* undivided land

Obedience to The WORD is Lawfulness. Lawfulness allows The WORD to freely reign so that it can produce prosperity and health. The gift to adam-man of God's Laws allows him to fly in the air, live under the sea, travel to the planets, feed the masses, and cure diseases. The WORD has given all this to adam-man.

Adam-man's ancient enemies, the sons of Cain, now called the Sons-of-Esau and various other names, have stolen the fruit of The WORD for themselves. They have done this using the Cloak of Esau (false-witness media) and Asoka's Bequest (usury-banking).

Using usury-banking and media monopoly, Esau spread his domains setting up puppet governments as he went to rule his trade areas called "countries". He appointed "kings" who kept the peace, "managers" to manage foreclosed assets, and "priests" to bless Esau's agents and their operation.

Slave Christianity

Priests appointed by Esau are those;

> "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." 2 Tim 3:1-5

They have to have a form of "godliness" so the people will respect them. Only then can they bless the things Esau's kings and merchants are doing. They have "a form of godliness but deny the power thereof."

Let us briefly trace their history.

The Son-of-man came to return The WORD to his people. He said;

> "Think not that I am come to destroy the law of the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." Matt 5:17

This meant that the Law that was in the beginning was still in force. But, the Law included the absolute ban of; * usury * false witnesses * taxes * strangers * kings * monopolies * undivided land.

Empire's can't exist when The WORD is enforced. The Roman Empire was a vast "monopoly". It was an Empire whose emperor appointed "kings" to rule its provinces. The province/country of these king's were "taxed". Most of the land was "undivided" and in the hands of "usury-bankers", and every second person one met was a "stranger" who supplied cheap labor and who would do things that Adam-man would not do.

The Law that Jesus came to fulfill meant a revolution. Jesus the Christ was a revolutionary. He still is. The revolution that he brought spread and nearly brought the Roman Empire to its knees.

Suppression

The Empires attempt at suppression included prison, whippings, lions, and mass crucifixions. Nothing worked. Then, the oriental covert method was tried;

The Empire "pre-empted" Christianity - it took it over. Christianity became "state Christianity". The Empire appointed the bishops and priests. They became "state priests".. Some of the books used by the 1st century Christians were compiled into a holy book called the Bible, but the people were not allowed to read it. A state religion manned by state priests had been created. This made possible all those things The WORD prohibited.

The Empire's new religion converted the troublesome WORD into a compliant censored, universalist, episcopal, state religion.

CARTEL TRAINED CHRISTIAN PRIESTS

Reform

Deprived of The WORD, the Empire sank into the "dark ages." Religious reformers at times arose and gathered masses of followers who shook the State with reform ideas. The religious state patiently waited until the reformer died and used their episcopal authority to appoint his successor. Soon, all was as it had been before and the "reform" died on the vine.

Reformation

Appointing successors worked until the Reformation. This time things were different. Reformers were given protection by rebellious "kings" and when the reformers died other reformers took up their mantle. Soon there were Lutherans, Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, and a host of other groups. Something had to be done.

Trojan Horse Seminaries

The Cartel's solution worked. The Cartel ordered its merchants and their corporations to donate money to build seminaries to train preachers for the reformed religions.

These Cartel-financed seminaries graduated Baptists insistent on "water baptism", Methodists insistent on Bible "methodology", and Presbyterians insistent on belief in "predestination" - and all of them had been taught to ignore The WORD's condemnation of "usury", "false witnesses", "taxes", "strangers", "kings", "monopolies", and "undivided land". Except for "bells and whistles" it has become almost impossible to distinguish the graduate of one seminary from the graduate of another. Almost all are "universalists". The Cartel got to them with its Trojan Horse.

Painting With A Paint Brush

Readers, please don't condemn all preachers. Not ALL priests who graduate from Cartel seminaries are evil. There are seminary-educated preachers who are the salt of the earth - who hold up The WORD with their every breath.

Distinguishing between those who are seminary educated to be "evil" and those who are "saints" is easy. Use The WORD.

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Don't believe people when they say that "this one" or "that one" is the exception. Go see and hear for yourself. If you enter a religious building and see "strangers" preaching from the pulpit or seated in the congregation; don't you judge - let God's Law judge:

> "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, (Num 1:51).
>
> "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

Is it a sin to tolerate strangers? What did the WORD say? The WORD says it's a sin. What does The WORD say about those who tolerate sin?

"He that committeth sin is of the Devil." 1 John 3:8.

The WORD judges the one who allows the violation to take place, or who refuses to speak out against it, to be guilty. The WORD says that he is "of the devil". He is against The WORD, The WORD which is our "anointed savior" our "christ". Being against our "christ" makes him "anti-christ".

God fearing priests teach that "taxes" are evil;

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-26.[1]

God-fearing priests teach that "kings", and those acting as kings, ruling us is evil.

"Then all the elders of Israel... came to Samuel... make us a king ... And the Lord said... the people... they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them." I Sam 8:11-18

Men of God teach that "monopoly" is evil.

"Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaih 5:8

---

1 "Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them ... find a piece of money. That take, and give unto them." Matt 17:27

God-fearing priest teach that "the land is to be divided" so that every man can have his own kingdom to rule.

> "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit ..." Num 26:53-55 GB "Ye shall not offer unto the Lord ... an offering thereof in your land." Lev 22:24

God-fearing priests teach that "usury" is a curse, an evil that makes slaves of borrowers.

> "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.. ! 2

Conclusion

The WORD says;

> "For if we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation ... He that despised Moses' law died without mercy ... Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God ('The Word made flesh'). ... For we know him that

---

2 The usury contract is simply lending 10 of anything when only 10 exists and demanding repayment of 11. Usurers know that this type of contract is impossible to fulfill from the moment it is conceived. (USURY: nâshak, "to strike with a sting as a serpent; to oppress with interest on a loan: - bite, lend upon usury." (Strongs Concordance) hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord." Deut 32:27-35[3]

This is the punishment set for those who have abandoned their trust to teach The WORD.

This handfull of evils listed above allows the Cartel Empire to make slaves of the peoples of the the world. Those evils are permitted by universalists who have crept into our pulpits whom The WORD condemns as devils and anti-christs.

Once again,

"For if we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Deut 32:27

Those priests who teach The WORD are to be praised and supported.

PREACHERS WHO KNOW BUT REFUSE TO TELL THE FAITHFUL

The ones damned by The WORD are those who refuse to teach The WORD and instead conceal The WORD that would

3 "The Lord shall judge his people." Deut 32:36; It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb 10:26-31 pull down the International Trade Cartel. According to Scripture, they are "devils" and "anti-christs".

When I was a boy the devil lived on the rise on Boonsboro Road just before reaching the deserted logcabin. Now, I am grown and have learned that a lot of the devils live here in town. They live in big buildings that have tall steeples. We know that they are devils because they know The WORD and they conceal it from others who desperately need it to save their lives.

They are evil. They are "devils" and "anti-christs" and well deserve the reward that God has planned for them.

Letter From S. Africa by H.K.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: We received more information of Zimbabwe. Under tribal custom, Mbeki, President of S. Africa, and Mugabe, President of Zimbabwe, are family. Mugabe's second wife is Mbeki's cousin and tribes look after their own. It also seems that Mbeki has exactly the same aim as Mugabe. They both want to get rid of whites, especially Africaners. The media is used here to vilify and degrade them every way possible.

Mbeki's renegade white police make it their task to stop any white revolt before it starts. To do this they make use of agent- provocateurs. These people encourage fellow whites to plan resistance and then they report it to the police. The media and the agent-provocateurs are groups who are very well paid.

We feel sorry for the whites who are accused of high treason. I heard a name Friday and remembered a certain individual who used to keep on saying that something must be done about the deplorable conditions. He was able to get some fellow whites to plan something and then turned them in and was a state witness against them. He now lives in a safe house.

Aida Parker had a stroke two weeks ago and was taken to the hospital with a bleeding clot on her brain. Estelle Lombard, her friend, told us that Aida had been busy working on the August Newsletter, which a friend will finish. But, if she does not improve - it will be the last issue.

At least two of the blacks who received amnesty from Mbeki are back in the news. One murdered a white businessman and the other was involved in a money transit robbery. The money transit robber was one of the murderers in the St. James Church affair where they sprayed the congregation with machine gun fire. Eleven people died.

We had the World Summit meeting. Gadaffi and Mugabe turned up. The latter gave a speech this afternoon about his great victory getting rid of white farmers and his black opposition.

It has been a harsh winter and it is incredible how much groceries prices have increased. I must get to work and plant vegetable seed as soon as the ground warms up.

A few younger members of the Mandela family died from Aids. He feels it should not be kept secret.

With best wishes, K.J.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: What really happened to the Bucannan campaign for president? I was expecting much more than was delivered." C.C. - Virginia

Sodom On The James

Nationally known sodomite, Rev. Mel White, and his partner Gary Nixon, have come to town and rented a house across the street from Rev. Jerry Falwell's Thomas Road Baptist Church where they will attend services. Rev. Falwell is quoted as saying, "they will not be turned away."

Rev Mel White
Holding services in the Rivermont 1st Christian Church in 1999

The News & Advance quotes White as saying that he hopes to influence all of Lynchburg, not just the Thomas Road community. He said that he plans to meet with other pastors. "They've already welcomed us and I'm having lunch with ministers around the city one at a time. All the churches are in various stages of acceptance. If I can help any of the pastors here to help their congregations, we're just as interested in the other churches as in Jerry".

On his last visit to Lynchburg, The Reverend Mel White and his entourage held services in The Reverend Zimmerman's Rivermont Avenue 1st Christian Church. Now, Thomas Road Baptist, the church the media calls "extreme right wing", is allowing him to attend worship service there. If both the left wing and the right wing Lynchburg churches accept sodomites, many Lynchburgers will believe that it MUST be all right for ALL to accept sodomites.

Bishop Jack Spong
Last year at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Bishop Spong spoke approvingly of the sodomite priests in his diocese.

We are quite sure that since Lynchburg's ministers are in effect sponsoring the attending sodomites, they must be exceptions, and except for minor aberrations that can be overlooked, they are like all other law-abiding citizens.

However, as Lynchburg's Sodomite Coalition comes together, a few things should be remembered. God's Commandment still states:

> "If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination." Le 20:13

Accepting sodomites is to sponsor them. That is fighting God.

There are other things.

> "According to an Associated Press article the 5 leading serial killers in the U.S. are sodomites. They are: 1) Donald Harvey (37 murders); John Wayne Gacy (33 murders); 3) Patrick Wayne Kearney (32 murders); 4) Dean Corll, Elmer Wayne Henley, and David Owen Brooks (27 Murders; and 5) Juan Corona (25 murders). These statistics are from the NY Times, which mentions additional homosexual serial killers not mentioned in the AP article. These are Bruce Davis (28 Murders), and Stephen Kraft (16 murders). (Christian News 7/23/01)

> "Homosexuals make up less than 3% of the American population yet they have perpetuated about 68% of all serial killings in the last 20 years." (The WITNESS, Aug 2001, Curtis Dickinson, Ed, POB 292663, Lewisville, TX 75029)

Lynchburg's News & Advance of Sept 27, 2002, A2 says;

> "An increase in syphilis infections among gay and bisexual men in New York and elsewhere indicates they may be letting their guard down against sexually transmitted diseases ... 93% of those cases were among men; of those, 79% reported having male sexual partners ... ."

In view of the above, it may behoove the City of Lynchburg's Health and Police Departments to closely monitor Lynchburg's churches that accept sodomites. An increase in either sexually transmitted diseases or homicides may indicate that sodomites are making converts of its members. If this should prove to be the case, the advisability of shutting down the offending churches as health and/or safety hazards to the rest of Lynchburg's citizens should be considered.

UNFILTERED NEWS

UNIVERSALISM: SAN FRANCISCO - The superior court has adopted a policy prohibiting judges from associating with organizations that "discriminate" against sodomites.

RKH: Empires are universalist or they aren't empires. Their rulers, judges, state priests and great merchants must also be universalist. One who accepts all religions, customs, and races is by Hindu definition a Hindu. Hindus do not have to practice other religions - he must merely tolerate them. Buddhism is a tolerant Hindu religion that tolerates all religions - except "separatist" religions.

The Alyson Almanac, Church Policies on Gay Concerns, pp 234-239, states; "Alone among the major world religions, Buddhism does not condemn homosexuality or premarital sex. The emphasis on Buddhism is on achieving a state of enlightenment, but the religion provides only guidelines, not strict commandments, as to how individuals should strive for this. Rape and adultery are considered misconduct, but an individual is free to engage in consenting sexual acts that do not violate marital monastic commitments."

The fact that many calling themselves "Christian" tolerate sodomy and premarital sex proves that they follow another God.

UNIVERSALISM: The 4th US Circuit Court of Appeals judge upheld the Univ N.C. mandatory study of Islam. Opponents say that the stated goal was "not to convert them but to coerce them into believing a positive view of the religion."

RKH: Creating a positive view of all religions is the prime directive of Hinduism, the religion of the world's masters. "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka. 304 B.C.-232 B.C. If you have such a view you are a Hindu. Nothing else is necessary.

MORE FBI: Ex FBI John Connolly, 62, who tipped off N. England mobsters they were to be indicted, was sentenced to prison for racketeering, obstruction of justice and lying.

MUGABE: At the UN, Zimbabwe's leader said, "We blacks have to stick together. We must be able to say an attack on a black in the diaspora is an attack on me". He urged his audience to work to support Zimbabwe in America, or best of all, return to Africa. "I say to you ... NOW. I say to you, very warmly. Come home."

RKH: Separation is what we Saxon's also want, too. The Cartel wants to force us together so that we will stay at each other's throats and the Cartel can remain the policeman.

CARTEL MEDIAMAN: "After Iraq we must deal with other axis-of-evil strongmen, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei of Iran and Kim Jong II of North Korea." Steve Forbes, Forbes Magazine

FOX NEWS 9/2/02, Col. David Hackworth said that Bush's War on terrorists will be 'at least a 30-year war. We Americans better not get tired of war. We are only in the middle of round one of a 30-round fight since winning in Afghanistan!' Col David Hunt, on with Hackworth, said, 'Hack is right ... a 30-year war. Americans better bring their breakfast, lunch and dinner. We have yet to deal with Iraq, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Iran, the Russian Mafia yet.' Aid & Abet Police & Military Newsletter, Fall Issue, 2002.

TERRORIST CAMP: It was reported to A&A by a US Army Special Forces officer that the US Government is operating a "huge" terrorist training camp in Greece. Aid & Abet Fall Issue 2002, p.9.

RKH: The same thing happened here. After 1868 - the KKK was run by Federal occupation forces. The media blamed Union army KKK depredations on defenseless Southerners to generate anti-Southern sentiment and legislation. Approving Cartel liberals pretend that they don't know these things.

FBI: On February 26, 1993, a car bomb destroyed portions of the World Trade Center in NYC. The FBI not only knew in advance of the bombing; they furnished the ingredients for the bomb. (New York Times, Oct 28, 1993) (Ted Gunderson, ex FBI, in Aid & Abet Police & Military Newsletter) Fall Issue 2002.

EXECUTIONS: 12% of whites under death sentences have been executed. 9% of blacks under death sentences have been executed. 9% of Hispanics under death sentences have been executed. Average years between imposition of sentence and execution - 10 years. Investors Business Daily

SICKLE CELL

"Though widely viewed as a 'black disease,' sickle cell anemia is not a function of race. In Africa, the Mediterranean and South America, some people are born with a mutation that makes them immune to malaria. This 'benefit' if balanced against the probability that two parents with the mutation will produce children with sickle cell disease. It strikes Arabs, Turks, Greeks, Egyptians, Iranians, Italians, Latin Americans and people from India. The World Health Organization estimates that 250,000 children are born with the disease each year. In the United States, most victims are black; their condition can be traced through slave migrations. The Muskeogon Chronicle.

RKH: All the countries listed above contain mixed-race peoples having substantial amounts of negro blood.

Chapter 338

DOGS, HATERS, RACISTS, FAGOT FEST

Dogs

Dogs and people are what their masters train them to be.

As far as my dogs are concerned, they are obedient. Obedient dogs can be trusted. Trusted dogs can be given a great deal of freedom.

Joshua, Sarah, and Little Kate have more freedom than most dogs. In our yard they may roam as far as they like as long as they remain within the yard. The property line is the boundary. "Over-the-line" belongs to someone else and is off limits.

When outside the yard, they may go as far as they like - as long as they remain in sight. Of course, that depends on whether we are in the country or in town.

When in our yard, they may chase squirrels and deer. The chase ends at the line. When in the woods, they may chase deer and squirrels wherever they like. They cannot chase them in the neighborhoods we walk through; those deer and squirrels belong to someone else, and besides, it's upsetting to some people to see a little black dog chasing two big Rotweillers through their yards - at least that's what appears to be happening.

My dogs are forbidden to fight other dogs or chase cats. They may socialize if their owners agree.

When approaching people on the sidewalk, they "heel"; Joshua next to me, then Sarah, with Little Kate on the outside. People frightened by dogs are reassured to see them at "heel". They seldom notice that most times they are not "on-leash".

After they pass I say "OK" and the dogs are again free to do as they like - except to go into the road. Going into the road and getting killed is forbidden.

When going into a bank or restaurant, they sit outside until I come out. Roaming around is forbidden; it could be dangerous.

Oftentimes when I come back to the car I find that the dogs have attracted friends.

Neither are they allowed to jump up on people when playing. No exceptions. Jumping up on someone could knock them down and break bones. This could result in difficulties. When I leave the car to go into a store, they sit in the car until I get back. They do not have permission to jump out - a passing car might kill them.

They must be nice.

They must stop when I tell them to stop. They must stop at that very moment! This has saved their lives more than once when another step would have put them under the wheels of a speeding car. My dogs have no fear of cars. Cars are fun to ride in. My dogs don't understand that these same wonderful cars can kill them.

I am not concerned that my dogs don't know why they are ordered to do certain things and forbidden to do other things, I am content to know that obedience keeps them as safe as I can possibly keep them.

We see other dogs locked in cars with their windows rolled up almost to the top, confined in pens, or kept on chains and leashes and don't even know that they are abused. Compared to these unfortunate animals, my dogs are as free as birds.

Obedience is the price of freedom.

Across The River

Across the James from Lynchburg in Madison Heights lived a man who owned three St. Bernards. Beautiful dogs they were. The owner didn't train them and they grew up lawless and had to be restrained in pens. It has been my experience that untrained dogs restrained in pens with little guidance become aggressive over time. These dogs became aggressive and had that reputation among their neighbors.

One day these dogs got out and tore two young girls to pieces. The dogs were shot and their owner jailed.

The Lesson

The lesson is simple. It is the same for man and beast:

OBEY - and live;

> "Come unto me ... and ye shall eat the fat of the land." Gen 45:18

OR - Disobey and die;

> "Mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

HATE!

Our enemies have robbed, starved, enslaved, tortured and butchered our people by the millions. They are wonderful teachers. They have taught us to hate.

The WORD of God tells us to hate!

> "I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

We are not better than the WORD. If hating is good enough for the WORD it certainly is good enough for us! Whom do we hate? We hate those who hate the WORD - the Laws, statutes, and judgments. We hate them because the WORD requires us to hate those who hate God.

Jesus, "the WORD made flesh" said;

> "He that hateth me (the WORD made flesh) hateth my Father also." John 15:23

Some say that "God loves the sinner and hates the sin." This is Hindu talk. What does the WORD say about this:

> "The ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God." Wisdom of Solomon 14:9

It doesn't stop there:

> "Shouldest thou help the un-Godly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is the wrath upon thee from before the Lord." II Cron 19:2

We are to hate those that hate the WORD and love those who love the WORD - period.

It is the Law. Those who violate the WORD hate God:

> "I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

The WORD tells us to hate and tells us WHOM to hate.

RACIST

God the WORD is racist.

To start off - He gave us racist names:

MAN[1] and ISRAEL.[2] God made Adam-Man different from all others. That's racist.

The first Commandment he gave "man" is:

> "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Ex 20:3

If someone follows a rule that opposes the Commandments of the WORD - that person has another god. Our God says:

> "O children of Israel ... you only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:1-2

That's racist. How about this:

> "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24

There's more:

> "The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

That's racist, too. How about this:

> "The house of Israel, are my people ... And ye my flock ... are men (Heb: adam - those that blush rosy), and I am your God." Ezek 34:30-31

---

1 : Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

2 Heb: Yisrâ'êl - "He will rule as God ... also his posterity." Strong's Concordance. In addition to the many Biblical proofs, there is the Scottish Declaration of Independence and Queen Elizabeth's genealogy - all prove our descent.

The mere fact that the WORD made you to blush rosy making you easily identifiable from all other people in the world is racist. The WORD leaves one in no doubt:

> "For in the division of the nations of the whole earth he set a ruler over every people; but Israel is the Lord's portion." Ecclestiasticus 17:17

Or this:

> "Among all the multitudes of people thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovest, thou gavest a law that is approved of all." II Esdras 5:27

Or, the thing the universalist dread above all else:

> "Israel then shall dwell in safety alone." Deut 33:28

If Israel is to dwell in safety alone it means that non-Israel will have to live somewhere else. When that happens the wolf will have no sheep to kill.

God the WORD warns the wolf:

> "He that toucheth Israel toucheth the apple of His eye." Zech 2:8

Scripture is full of one racist quote after another, all racist.

> "Withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them, and do not according to their actions, and be not their companion, for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled." Jubilees 22:17[3]

We are not even allowed to have a mixed-breed enter our nation - even if his mother or his father are of Israel:

3 Saxons took these quotes literally and demanded separate eating establishments.

> "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2.

God even forbids us to admit a stranger who proclaims belief in our God:

> "(The aliens) ... came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them ... we seek your God, as ye do... But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel." Ezra 4:1-3

God forbids strangers to approach where we study the WORD:

> "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, Num 1:51

God the WORD is racist. He requires his followers to be racists as he is.

As for those who know[4] these things but still deny the WORD:

> "I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

The WORD that is God says that we are commanded to hate. We are to be racists.

Because we don't hate as God hates, and are not racist as God is racist - we are being punished for our disobedience. Because of our present ongoing punishment our enemies say that our God has abandoned us. BUT, like all else they say, this too is a lie.

4 "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17

The WORD says:

> "Thus sayeth the Lord, who giveth the sun ... and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... who divideth the sea ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel shall also cease from being a nation before me forever ... If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all they have done, sayeth the Lord." Jer. 31:35-37

Did you notice the moon and the stars last night? Absolutely beautiful! and what a story they tell; The WORD which is our God unceasingly watches over us.

THE STRAWMAN FAGOT FEST

Soulforce's Fagot Fest was designed to be a media event - to help publicize the sodomite agenda and to gain a foothold in Lynchburg in Lynchburg churches.

The wholehearted support of the Lynchburg News & Advance gave it all the publicity it needed. On Oct 22, the N & A gave Mel White and his group a glowing front-page write-up (one of four such write-ups). One of its captions stated that Soulforce was;

> "A group dedicated to helping gays find acceptance in churches."

The Rev. Roger Zimmerman of First Christian Church allowed arriving sodomites to use his church in which to meet, organize, and host some of their events.[5]

5 Earlier this year he officiated in the marriage of his daughter to a Jew.

For the newspaper, Zimmerman said, "On behalf of the religious community of Lynchburg, I want to welcome all the Soulforce members." The last time they were in town he allowed the sodomites to hold services in First Christian sanctuary.

Soulforce arrival caused First Christian Church to draw protesters. They carried signs; "FIRST SODOMITE CHURCH", Repent", "Homo-sexuals", "Repent or Perish." People drove by and blew their horns in approval, calling out their support. One shouted "Right on!"

There were no end of policemen in sight. It was the same way when the Southern Poverty Law Center's Morris Dees was invited to speak at Lynchburg College. There were police all over the place, then, too.

This picture shows a small group of police in front of the church the protesters call "First Sodomite."

The officer with the sun glasses is Lynchburg's police chief, Chuck Bennett.

When the N & A went after me three years ago for writing "War Cycles / Peace Cycles", a book on Christian economics which was alleged to have been found at the scene of a crime in California, he offered no help when crowds of reporters milled about in front of my house and threats were hurled about, and he ignored my request to have a patrol car drive by the house occasionally. While all this was going on my phone was ringing with private detective agencies offering to provide protection.

After several phone calls, he agreed to assign a policeman to whom I could give the license numbers of cars who were following me. But, I soon discovered that was a one-way street. I gave the police the license numbers but they would never tell me who was following me. I was able to find out, anyway.

At the Fagot Fest[6] I did have fun with the police. I would walk up to a group of policemen and with a serious expression on my face ask them if they "volunteered" for sodomite duty or were they "assigned". Without exception, the group would answer as one man, "Assigned!" I laughed, and they laughed.

NOTE: The occasional policeman with a Napoleon complex give the rest a black eye, but most police officers are regular guys. However, they work for the City. This means their FIRST priority is property protection. If individuals are mugged or killed, they will investigate, but they are never around to prevent a crime. That's not their job. You must protect yourself.

It's the system and the police do the best they can to deal with it.

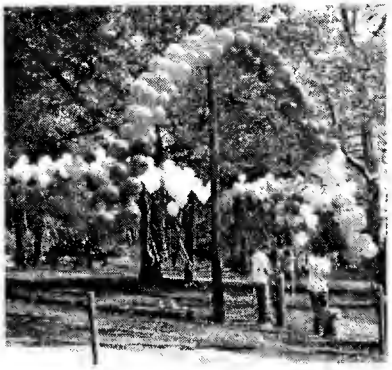
6 Fagots - stick bundles used to burn heretics. Applied to sodomy - fuel for the fires of hell.

Balloons

The Soulforce group made impressive displays with balloons. They had evidently done this in other places before.



Speakers

On the steps of the park pavilion their speakers held forth and their singers made fun of Jerry Falwell - which was obviously a poke at a strawman. The Sodomites were here to make Lynchburg Churches accept them. Zimmerman's First Christian and Jerry Falwell's "Thomas Road Baptist Church" have both thrown their doors open to them.

The so-called "confrontation" at Thomas Road was no confrontation - they were already in. Just a line-up to get headlines from an approving media.

Counter Demonstration

On the next page are protesters carrying signs. In a city with countless preachers - there were only three that I could seee to protest the sodomite crusade: Rev Emmitt Horsley of Zion Hill Baptist Church in Forest, Rev Richard Knodel of Grace Presbyterian - who is using a bull horn in disputing with the sodomite, and a Rev Bruce Murch from Campbell Co. The rest of Lynchburg's preachers were noticable by their absence.

Billy Sunday

Lynchburg, "City of Steeples", is said to have had more whorehouses, bars, and gambling parlors than any place for its size east of the Mississippi River. They co-existed peacefully with most of the church crowd just as the sodomites do today.

This state of affairs concerned some Lynchburgers and they invited an evangelist named Billy Sunday to hold a crusade here.

I was told that when Billy Sunday saw Lynchburg, he was shocked and said that he would come and stay until the town changed or he was dead.

He started his crusade under a tent at the old fairgrounds near where Timberlake Road and the Airport Road fork. Rain or shine, he held forth. I was told that sometimes he held services when only three or four people were huddled in the cold to hear him.

Gradually, Lynchburgers began to come to hear him. They filled the tent and the overflow stood outside.

That's when he began holding services in one of Lynchburg's great warehouses. The warehouses are mostly all gone now, but the larger Lynchburg tobacco warehouses were great big things. To fill one one them like you see in this picture would take a good part of Lynchburg's population.

Lynchburg had a lot of bad actors. As they repented and stopped going to the whorehouses, bars and gambling halls, most closed down from lack of customers. In time Billy Sunday felt his job was done here and he went elsewhere. But, I remember some of the changed men he left behind. There was nothing limp-wristed about them; they would look you in the eye. These were the kind of men who repented under his ministry.

I knew them when they were as old as I am today, and they never stopped talking about the man who told them what the WORD required of them.

BARNES REVIEW: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Why did you cancel your scheduled talk at Barnes Review?" H.R. - Kansas

RKH: About 15 people have asked. Barnes Review invited me to speak. It's a prestigious revisionist meeting attended by people from around the world. I was given 40 minutes. As meeting time approached I was cut to 30 minutes; then 20 minutes, then 15 minutes and at last 10 minutes. I withdrew.

A friend attended the meeting and asked them why? He said he was told it was because I was "anti-Catholic". He responded that I was anti those who were against the WORD. He received no reply.

My observation: There are irons in the fire that we are just learning about. Beware conservatives who refuse to reveal the rule system they live by. You might not like the truth.

POLITICAL SUPPORT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Who should we support politically?" - R. S. - Washington

RKH: Let the candidate tell us. A political candidate need take just 3 simple stands. 1) Abolish usury. 2) Root sodomists from the land. 3) Outlaw racial adultery.

Such a stand will burn bridges.

USURY: "Dear Richard; You talk against interest but work in the stock market. Isn't that the same?" N.D. - California

RKH: Investing in stock is like owning shares in a business. Usury is lending 10 for 11. You are allowed to lend at interest to your enemy to destroy him - not your kinsman.

Scripture says, "Hath given forth upon usury... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13. Scripture also says, "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deut 23:20 You can buy corporate bonds from companies owned by strangers. You cannot buy church bonds owned by kinsmen.

Thomas Jefferson, Monticello, January 2, 1814.

RKH: After 1780, the ITC began buying newspapers and establishing others. When Andy Jackson arrived on the scene he could scarcely get his message to the people and the media twisted everything he said. By Lincoln's time everything had become a lie and this state of affairs existing today.

Chapter 339

BLACK SNIPER

The authorities recently arrested two blacks who terrified the entire east coast. They drove from Mississippi to Maryland randomly shooting people. Fourteen, I believe, was the last count.

It seems to have been a low cost operation. They paid $250 for a car, slept in it and robbed convenience stores to finance their operation. They knocked out the trunk lock and used the hole as a gunport. When ready, they would remove the back seat so that the shooter could lie down and shoot through the improvised gunport at unsuspecting targets.

Who would have thought that that innocent looking car parked on a street was in reality a sniper post. No shooter could be seen and rumors ran rampant. Newspapers and magazines ran cut-away diagrams showing how they were able to do what they did.

The shooting part was clever. Their ransom demand of $10 million seems to have been an afterthought. If the blacks involved had any political beliefs, the media isn't telling. Apparently, the killing was for sport - or perhaps to gain a reputation. They shot anyone they could get their sights on - black, white or mulatto - a real equal-opportunity operation - and, a part of the black make-up seldom explored but often exploited.

Media Conditioning

Esau's media is using this senseless shooting spree to connect terms like "expert rifle shot" with blacks in general. It is part of the Cartel's ongoing Saxon conditioning program. They are building a myth of "super-black", the invincible black,[1] who has a natural right to rule whites because he IS superior.

The media uses every excuse to psych our people to make them flee with no thought given to resistance. Blacks are being psyched to be the hunters and the Saxons are being psyched into becoming the game. Esau's media has succeeded to the point that now black on white killings are common. For sport, blacks sometimes strip their victims, make them kneel, and shoot them in the back of their heads and whites obediently do what they are told to do - and die.

1 Esau's media portrays blacks in positions of authority over whites - judges, police captains, etc. - they take our women as the prize of conquest. We had "super-blacks" back in the '50s. The Esau- media portrayed them as "geniuses". They won almost all TV "question and answer" prizes. It was later discovered that the shows were fixed. Today, when it becomes impossible to conceal that "super-black" is again a media creation, the deception will again be discovered.

The Hunters

There are many hunters, but the most visible ones are the ones who have taken over our cities - the cities we must enter to transact business. These urban denizens are being made radical not only by the media, but in prisons. William Bryon Sorens, an inmate at the Huntsville prison, reports:

> "Americans have no idea of the degree and depth of hatred formed behind these walls and bars... To it we must now add the jihad of radical Islamic prisoners, almost all of whom will someday be paroled or released on discharge." (World 6/29/02) Christian News 10/14/02)

Another Texas prisoner observes:

> "The media have failed to report that variants of radical Islamic religions are the most popular and fastest growing beliefs and associations inside these walls. In many of Texas' approximately 150 state prisons and state jails, Muslims have either replaced or have co-opted and now rule over the Mandingo Warriors, Bloods, and Crips as the premier prison gang. ... Their hate-filled literature circulates freely, unlike the Aryan and Latino versions, which are prohibited as being from Security Threat Groups." (Straws In The Wind, 10/02/02)

Who else hates us?

The following is excerpted from the David Duke Report:[2]

"The jewish supremacists hate European-Americans ... they hate us as much as they hate the Palestinian people. They want to wipe us out just as much as they want to ... ethnically cleanse the West Bank and Gaza. Let me quote to you from the leading Israeli commentator on the biggest website in Israel. His name is Emmanuel Winston and he openly advocates the genocide of all people of European descent. ...

"'Europeans are really a low, immoral people who would sell their mother ... and then deliver. ... How easily any sense of humanity of civilization slips away from their face, leaving only the beast. This beast has many faces and names. Sometimes they are called Germans, Poles, Croatians, Ukrainians ... While at other times they become the Church, the Red Cross, or Prime Ministers, Kings, Fuhrer. Then in a quick change we see some Americans, French, English and finally ... it doesn't really matter, this name or that. Underneath there is a strand, a bond that society teaches children to hate ... These are people of ultimate evil as the beast stays just below the surface, ready to savage, ready to kill the jew. The planet would be well rid of the European predator. Perhaps we will be fortunate to live ... to see the decline and disappearance of the graveyard called Europe....'"

"Let me repeat, this is the top web site in Israel, supported by major jewish political figures such as

2 David Duke Report, POB 188, Mandeville, LA 70471, p. 985-626- 7714, www.daviddukee.com.

Benjamin Netanyahu. And let me tell you, jewish supremacy in Europe is leading directly to European genocide. They are overwhelming us with massive 3rd World immigration the same way they overwhelmed the Palestinians with jewish immigration and the same way they continue to flood into the West Bank and build more settlements."

Destroy The White Race

The following comes from "Genocide With Harvard's Patina" by Paul Craig Roberts, Middle American News, Oct 2002, p. 21)

Harvard educated Noel Ignatiev is the founder of a journal Race Traitor. Its motto, "Treason to whiteness is loyalty to humanity".

"Ignatiev intends cultural and psychological genocide for whites. A statement by the editors on the website says that the new subscribers "do not limit themselves to socially acceptable means of protest but reject in advance no means of attaining their goal."

"Ignatiev writes, "The goal of abolishing the white race is on its face so desirable that some may find it hard to believe that it could incur any opposition other than from committed white supremacists."

"According to Ignatiev, 'The key to solving the social problems of our age is to abolish the white race. Make no mistake about it," he says, "we intend to keep bashing the dead white males and the live ones and the females, too, until the social construct known as 'the white race' is destroyed - not deconstructed, but destroyed.'

"The Washington Times reports that Ignatiev is jewish. Yet, he believes that it is self-evident that whites in > their homelands should be abolished. Where did he get this view? His only education was at Harvard. Is Harvard embarrassed? No. Ignatiev is showcased in the current issue of Harvard Magazine. Getting rid of whiteness is not controversial at Harvard because it is the business of American universities."

It has always been the intention of Esau to exterminate the children of Jacob.[3] It is easier to have strangers force us to break God's Law so that Jacob's God will destroy us as he promised.[4] Having the Saxon God destroy his own people is easier than to have to destroy them in open warfare. It is also easier to prevent people from defending themselves if they fear those who attack them. Making blacks "super- blacks" and "expert" shooters is one way to do that.

Black Shooters & The Hunt

I learned to shoot in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains. I fired on the Air Force pistol team at the Nationals in 1952. Ten years after that I was called up on active duty and was assigned to the 100th Airborne Division. I fired on the 100th Division's pistol team.

At one of our first matches I was assigned a shooting post next to a black shooter who was on the 4th Army pistol team. He was a far better shot than I was. In fact, he was one of the best pistol shots I ever saw.

Having said that, let me go on and say this; this black pistolman is the ONLY black I have ever seen before or since

3 "And Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said in his heart ... I will slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41

4 "If you ... gain a victory over them (the Israelites), ... persuade them to leave off their obedience to their own laws and the word of that God who established them ... for by this means God will be angry at them (and will destroy them)." Antiquities 4:6:6-13 who could hit a barn while standing inside it. The only one! and I've seen lots and lots of shooters, white and black.

Blacks can hit at point blank ranges, who can't? but seldom a target at any distance.

I ran a pistol, carbine, and submachine gun range at Camp Seven Mile outside of Spokane. Thousands of shooters fired on my ranges. I taught hundreds to shoot. I sought out those who shot well and knew who didn't. In all that time I never EVER saw a good black marksman with either a pistol, carbine, or submachine gun - with the single exception already mentioned.

The carbines used then are not not that much different from the carbine used by "the sniper". With a .45 pistol it takes a fair amount of skill to shoot a person at 100 yards, but, with a carbine - a child of 8 years old and younger can hit their mark - if they have been taught. I've seen them do it - lots of times.

In my experience, most blacks are friendly, nice, helpful, and can be compassionate and generous. I have scores of black friends. But I have sense enough to know that they are a different breed of cat. One of the first things an intelligent white learns is that the last person who talks to a black is right - and a white man won't be the last one who talks to him.

A basic rule to a relatively peaceful co-existence is - don't socialize with blacks. Be friendly, but don't socialize. Socializing means one thing to you, another to them.

Another rule: Don't allow yourself to be isolated in a group of blacks. They follow the leader and the leader of that group might not be your friend. Why take the chance?

Another rule; don't be around them when they've been drinking. They can turn ugly on a dime, and, using the flimsiest excuse can become enraged and burn an entire town

- murdering, assaulting and raping its inhabitants - and then blame their victims for what they have done. It's their nature.

Here in Lynchburg, two black brothers had a party. They got drunk and one killed the other. The dead brother was dragged to the side of the room while the party was in progress and left there. The party continued until dawn. Their mother, who was in the house the entire time, told police, who arrived the next day, "They never did get along."

By our standards, blacks are lawless. The rules of their gods are different from the WORD which is our God. To us, almost everything they do seems either odd, different or extreme.

Killing is not as serious with them as with us. In their rage or fear they use firearms and knives at close range where they can't miss. In their society a killer is not really a criminal, he is "Mr. Important" - someone who has won his spurs. I've been told that some blacks commit crimes so that they can build rap-sheets and get prison records in order to win status in their community. A black without status is a "ho-hum" nobody.

The Conditioning

Blacks have long been used as Cartel pawns. The British king, ruler of Virginia and head of the then dominant protestant episcopal church, insisted that Virginia accept black slaves in spite of the WORD which says:

> "When they heard the Law, they excluded from Israel all who were of foreign descent." Neh: 13:3

This proved that that head of this episcopal organization followed a different God from the WORD - his god permitted such things.[5]

After the Revolution, when we got Britain's "admirality law" off our backs, American whites, North and South, reached an agreement with blacks to repatriate them back to Africa and replace their labor with white immigration from Europe. This was agreeable to both parties. It was not agreeable to the trade Cartel. Repatriation would allow blacks to escape the universal episcopal slavery planned for everyone - black and white. The Cartel media countered repatriation abolition with radical abolition which was designed to free blacks without compensating their white owners and at the same time keep the blacks from leaving America.

Exploiting black cupidity and gullibility, the Cartel has used blacks against whites on numerous occasions. They are doing it now. It can get nasty. Because of this it is important to know black strengths as well as their weaknesses.

The Crater

Saxons are forbidden to use strangers in its armed forces when fighting their own kind. The reason is that if these strangers were to prevail over white foes they should happen to defeat they would rule them and thus violate the Law.[6] This was the great complaint made against Britain's use of blacks and Indians against American Colonists during the Revolutionary War.

5 Their god also permits sodomy, usury, monopoly, kings, etc.

6 "Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee." De 17:15

The Petersburg Tunnels

Fifty years ago one of the workers at Phillip Morris told me that a truck loaded with bricks had caved in what looked like a tunnel. My wife and I investigated and found water filled Confederate tunnels running all over the place.

This me pushing into a tunnel. Some tunnels sloped down and vanished under water. They branched off in all directions.

20,000 Confederate boys are buried in Richmond's Hollywood Cemetery. 30,000 at Petersburg. Most died because of the incessant and deadly artillery fire. Lee only had 20,000 left to surrender at Appomattox. These tunnels are probably the route taken by Southern defenders to reach and defend the breached line at the Crater.

During the War Between the States, the Lincoln government enlisted blacks by the hundreds of thousands. The Lincolnites set them to guard Southern POWs, and they were used in combat - usually with disastrous results.

At Petersburg, Lee's army was stretched paper thin. A breakthrough anywhere could prove decisive. Pennsyvania miners tunneled under a major Confederate fort, set explosives, and detonated them. The result atomized the fort, killed its defenders, and left a great crater and wide gap in the lines as Confederate soldiers drew back from this new unknown weapon.

To create a media coup, blacks were used as storm troops to exploit the breakthrough. They were thrown into the gaping hole in the Confederate lines. There were no live defenders in front of them and several hundred dead ones.

Ann Pushes Past A Partial Cave-In

Several thousand blacks rushed across the undefended no-man's land, crowded into the crater and surrounding trenches, sat down, talked, joked, and played cards. A handful of Confederate riflemen from other parts of the line were rushed to the danger point to seal off the impending breakthrough.[7] When there, they established a new line behind the Crater and opened fire at anyone who raised his head above crater rim. There were so few Confederate defenders that there was no way they could have held back a determined assault - if the blacks could have been prevailed upon to move. By the time the blacks were pried loose from their cover, Confederate sharpshooters made it dangerous.

Wading Out Of One Tunnel Into Another

Later, Confederate mortars were brought up and their shells arced over and fell into the masses sitting in the crater and outlying occupied trenches. It made hamburger out of them. The chance to end the war a year earlier than it ended was botched. It was a black operation organized for the press by the Lincoln government.

The lesson, blacks often lose interest once a job becomes dangerous.

WW I

My father was in WW I. He told me what he knew about black soldiers in that war.

Blacks were landed in Ireland for training. They rioted, raped and burned, and Ireland became incensed and hostile.

They were loaded on transports and sent to France to finish their training. After training, they were put into the line. The Germans threw over a few artillery shells as harassing fire.

The result was unexpected and spectacular. The black division bolted as one man (there may have been two divisions - I've forgotten) leaving a gap miles wide in the Allied lines. If the Germans had had extra divisions that could have been thrown into that gaping hole in the lines, the war might have ended there and then. As it was, the Allied generals frantically searched for replacements to plug the gap in the line caused by the fleeing blacks. From that time, blacks were only used in quartermaster supply and labor battalions, and never again used in combat during WW I.

7 I have been told that the constant bombardment of the Confederate trenches caused them to have to be rebuilt almost every day. The rebuilding process resulted in many more casualties from heavy ordinance. Locals say that the tunnels were of necessity used for communication, troop movement, and shelter from shells.

The lesson: unanticipated black panic at times can result in unfortunate results.

General Mark Clark

General Mark Clark is the only American general who commanded large numbers of negro troops during WW II. In Life magazine in the '40s or '50s he said; "The conduct of Negroes in combat is the most disgraceful in the annals of American history."

Confronted with a long, drawn-out miserable campaign in rain and snow, blacks became unreliable.

My Own Experience

General Rash, commander of the 100th Division called me in and said;

"What in the world have you done? You injured and maimed more soldiers in one night than the entire division has done in a year! And they are all black!"

It was all an accident. I started to explain ... but let me back up and start again. I had been called up on active duty with the 100th Division. They gave me three jobs. I was * Aide to General Rash, commander of the 100th; * Head of Visitors

Hoskins, Escort Officer For Sec Army Starr

Bureau which welcomes visiting VIPs; and * Escape & Evasion.

On Thursday nights I took my dog Thor, a shepherd that I had brought with me from civilian life, and we would hunt recruits on the escape and evasion course as part of their training.

Thor was a scout dog - not an attack dog. He was trained to track people. He was good. A man is entitled to a good dog and a good woman once in his life. I've still got that good woman and have been blessed with a raft of good dogs. But,

Thor and I had something special between us.

I bought him as a pup in northern Bedford County, trained him myself to track, and brought him with me from Lynchburg. The 100th needed tracking dogs to train troops. The U.S. Army didn't have any extra dogs. The 100th asked to use Thor. I didn't want strangers handling my dog so I volunteered to use him on the Thursday night "Escape & Evasion" course. Thor was great - and received a 100th Division commendation for his work (see next page).

The escape and evasion course was 7 miles long and ran through a valley. It was filled with ambushes, trip wires, aggressors, POW camps - you name it. Everything needed to make a recruit's life miserable - and there was "Thor".

There is something that many people may not know. When given an option, soldiers who have been forcibly integrated quickly segregate themselves. In mess-halls blacks sit with blacks, whites with whites. It was the same on the escape and evasion course. Hundreds of recruits were marched to the starting point. At 8:00 p.m. they were released and

SUBJECT: Letter of Appreciation

TO: 1st Lt. Richard K. Hoskins
H/H Company
100th Division(Tng)
Fort Chaffee, Arkansas

1. One of the most important and large scale operations of this committee as part of its work in teaching infantry tactics to advanced individual level has been the Survival Escape and Evasion class. This is a difficult class to teach, administer and control.

2. Probably the single most important, useful and desirable element of the Escape class has been the use of the scout dog. This one element has attracted interest and attention, contributed greatly to the problem and has caused the minimum problems. Although there has been some question about the use of the dog, there has been no question but that you and your outstandingly trained dog have made an unusual and unique contribution to the work of this committee. This was one part of the problem about which it was never necessary to be concerned, it was thoroughly reliable and trustworthy.

3. The undersigned extends his appreciation to you(and your dog) for your special and unique contributions to the efforts of this committee and to the success of the Escape and Evasion class.

Thor's Letter Of Appreciation

Thor was not regularly enlisted in the United States Army and so was not entitled to an official "Letter of Comendation" or a file in which it could be placed. Thor was a "Militia Dog". He was a civilian who volunteered to fill a gap. But, in the process he was respected by a magnificent group of men, the 100th Airborne Division, whose respect is better than gold.

told to get started. They immediately segregated themselves and disappeared into the dark with their fellows.

The Rim Road

The word trickled down to the recruits that if they once climbed the ridge out of the valley where the exercise was taking place, they could walk along the ridge road paralleling the exercise taking place in the valley below and would in this way save themselves the misery of going through the course.

The ridge was steep and hard to get up. But once up, a recruit could peacefully walk along the road to the end of the exercise and return to comforts of their barracks. The authorities frowned on this.

One particular Thursday night, I was ordered to take Thor and patrol the ridge to keep recruits from using the road - either that or use 50 men to do the same job.

Thor and I had walked up the road less than 15 minutes when his ears went up and the hair on his back bristled. It was his alarm system. I stopped and he slowly walked to the end of his leash and began to growl.

I couldn't see or hear anything. After a bit, I figured that Thor had a false scent. Just in case I was wrong, I gave Thor some slack in his leash and shouted "Get 'em! Thor began to bark!

With this - a black bolted from under a nearby bush and screamed at the top of his lungs, "They've got dogs! They've got dogs! Run! Run!"

Panic took over as hundreds of black recruits broke from cover and rushed frantically to the edge of the bluff and on over. Down they went, head over teacup. It sounded like a rock slide with hundreds of bodies tumbling down the steep incline. Then, a silence soon broken by cries of pain.

"Meat-wagons" arrived from all over the base and began carting soldiers off to the hospital. Most were treated and released, but many had sprained backs and broken arms and legs. It was a disaster. The injured were all black.

Try to explain this to a general who the day before had the best safety record training recruits in the entire United States Army. From the top of the safety ratings to the bottom in one day. A record!

It has been my personal experience that blacks are subject to panic when confronted with the unexpected. It is also my opinion that in spite of their "spit and polish" and media hype, they aren't very good soldiers. This is important to know. Their native and favorite war strategy is to strike fear into their opponents and when they flee - kill them.

The lesson we learned in the South after the War, and the lesson that they are now learning on S. African farms is - whatever you do, don't panic. When attacked, return their fire if you possibly can. And, don't surrender! Not ever!! To do so is almost as bad as surrendering to the American Indians.

There is something else important to know. In spite of their drawbacks as conventional soldiers - blacks often win their wars. Most of their success is because of their alliances. Their present "black-jewish" alliance is becoming unraveled. Their style of fighting is guerrilla warfare and they fight this kind of war very well. Guerrilla warfare is most usually successfully fought by counter-guerrilla warfare.

There were no blacks in Haiti when whites first settled there. Now they have the entire island. There were no blacks in S. Africa when whites arrived - now they rule S. Africa. Most were imported by jewish mine managers.

Esau's media is now inciting them against the whites. The guerrilla war has already started and appears to be expanding. This is type of war that no one wants, but the media will see to it that it comes. When it does come - stand your ground. Something might happen to change the order of battle - or to spook them. Remember, they don't like the dark, fighting in the cold and rain, and they don't react well to surprises.

And remember this, in spite of the savage hate that some blacks have for whites, you can talk to their leaders if you have something to offer that is to their advantage - and if you watch your back. My dealings with the Nation of Islam have always been quite proper. (I wish I could say the same for some of our own). Remember, it was because the Cartel reneged on their promise to turn the Southland into a black republic that we in the South were able to make an alliance with them in 1873 against the Cartel - our common enemy. Our agreement was to institute "segregation" to protect black businesses from white competition.[8]

The WORD which is our God has promised us victory. Let us try to work for a peaceful solution agreeable to the WORD, but at the same time obey Jesus - the WORD made flesh:

> "He said unto them ... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one ... And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords, And he said unto them, It is enough." Luke 22:36-38

The first sword spoken of above is the one you wield with your hands to protect your family and your neighbors. Beware the one who will not own a sword to protect his family and neighbors. He is not a follower of the WORD which is our God.

Having the first sword in reserve, the second sword is the one we use for now:

> "The word of God is quick, and sharper than any 2- edged sword." Heb 4:12 [9]

We for whom the WORD is our God, demand to be allowed to live under the Laws of God the WORD. Our enemies know that. They also know that the WORD orders his followers:

> "But these enemies of mine, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

But, Barabas's sword is not ours for now. Ours is the other sword - the two-edged sword of the WORD that cuts to the bone. Let's use our heads, be fair, be obedient, and perhaps our enemies may discover things that will cause them to fight each other. They've done it before.

If not, the first sword is ready.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA BY K.J.

Much is going on here.

We went to our family doctor to get a prescription and while were waiting a middle aged lady was brought in by her husband. She looked as if she had been in a car accident and 9 "Walk not on the road without weapons, for thou knowest not when the foe may meet thee, so that thou manyst be ready for him." Ahikar 2:27

her face had gone through the windscreen. The doctor told us that she was attacked and raped at home.

Our doctor was forbidden to certify that the rape took place. They had to wait for the black district surgeon, as a white doctor's word is not legal in court because he might be biased.

This woman had to go through three ordeals; the attack, being examined by a black, and the appearance in court before a black magistrate. No wonder that white farmers' wives simply do not report these things to the black police. According to our doctor the rape of white women takes place all the time.

He also saw an elderly couple from Zimbabwe early yesterday morning whose children are his patients . The old man of 87 was very badly beaten up and his wife was unable to speak.

We had a spate of bombings and we think the police are responsible. The police accused one man because they found fertilizer on his farm and fertilizer can be used to make bombs. It can also be used to grow crops. Another, whose photo appeared in most newspapers died some years ago. Then the newspapers are using such expressions as KKK and Phineas Priests, clearly names they got from America. It looks like the whole thing is orchestrated to give the black regime an excuse to move against the whites.

If people do not look to God to defend them against the forces of darkness in these days and do his will and reject the false priests, few will survive.

The huge influx of foreign blacks is causing water shortages and monetary problems. Water and electricity are supplied free of charge to them and their ever growing squatter camps.

AIDS is a major factor. So many blacks are dying they are now forced to bury three adults in one grave with little ceremony.

The destruction of S. Africa continues. Town centres have become slums. Once beautiful parks are dirty and full of sleeping blacks. Shops are no longer full of merchandise. With the weak Rand they cannot import, and the demands of black unions ruin local manufacturers. Mines are being privatized to black politicians. Radebe's wife, Bridgette, now a chairwoman of Mmakau Mining and her brother, Patrice Matsepe, is chairman of African Rainbow Minerals.

Die Groote Schuur hospital, where the first heart transplant was done, is barely in operation, and that goes for most provincial hospitals. No more matriculation exams.

I telephoned Aida Parker's office. It is her birthday today and they hoped to bring her home for the day but could not get permission. Her left side is paralyzed and they are doubtful if she will walk again. Her long term memory is very good, but not the short term, although she knows them all. We can only hope and pray that Aida regains her health. They continue to collect money for needy white children.

The Dutch Reformed Church actually proposes to give the black government guidelines on taking white land. They remind me of the Russian Orthodox Church under Communist rule. Then, there is their usual, "We must ask the black's forgiveness for stealing their land." blacks weren't even here when our forefathers arrived. How low can Christian Churches go? One wonders.

With Best Wishes, K.J.

Chapter 340

GREEN APPLES & Green Apple Rules

My father, John Hundley Hoskins, when he was 17 years old, met a beautiful young lady in Tappahannock. She lived in upper Essex County. They got along well and she invited him to a church picnic.

He arrived at the church and tied his horse and buggy to a nearby tree. It was an appletree that had a bountiful crop of green apples.

After the picnic, Daddy asked the parents of the young lady to allow him to drive her home which was nearby. His request was granted. Daddy and his new girl friend started the ride home.

Before I go farther with my story, there are things city people ought to know. First, in the early 1900s people often wore white in the summertime because white didn't show perspiration. Daddy wore a white suit, tie and hat, and his young lady friend wore a lovely white dress, white hat, and carried a white parasol to keep her face from the sun.

Something else - it isn't wise to tie a horse to an apple tree bearing green apples. Horses eat apples. Green apples are upsetting to a horse's system.

Lastly. If a horse has eaten green apples it isn't wise to ride behind him in a buggy, and if one must, it is especially important to keep him at a very slow walk and not have him gallop. Even that is no guarantee of safety.

After the picnic Daddy drove his girlfriend home. He was young and on the way Daddy skylarked to impress his young girlfriend - he put his horse into a gallop. His girlfriend was properly terrified.

Then it happened!

The horse raised his tail - Daddy threw his arm and leg in front of his face to try to shield himself - the young lady used her parasol.

Alas, all was in vain. Both of them - hats, clothing and parasol, as well as themselves - were stained green from head to toe.

The young lady in question never invited my Daddy to a church picnic again. Daddy was too embarrassed to ask her for another date. Thus ended what might have been true love.

Words To Describe

The West today stands stock still in amazement, just like my father did so many years ago. What has happened?

We try to use words to describe, but words are just words. They can be deceptive because people lie. The WORD says "By their acts ye shall know them". Let us look at their acts.

The Rocky Way

The WORD is ancient. It was the Law-system of our ancestors. The rise of the great Greek and Roman trade-empires replaced the WORD with their "trade-religion" containing "trade-law".

A man named Jesus restored the WORD. For doing this he was killed by the priests who supported empire "trade-law".[1]

Need For Trade-Religion Gods

Trade-religions need many gods. They need many gods if they expect to do business with alien peoples whose gods follow similar trade-laws.

Since each god has many laws, a skilled priest can choose the right combination of gods to follow - the ones whose laws

1 "The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar." John 19:15 are agreeable to both merchant and customer.Then, business as usual!

The result is "admiralty law". A type of law created to aid trade.

The WORD is different. It never changes. AND, it forbids trade with strangers. Such unchangeable Laws are not only bad for trade - it destroys certain kinds of trade.[2]

Christians

The men[3] who accepted and followed the WORD that Jesus taught were called "Christians."[4] These Christians grew in power and threatened to overturn the Roman Empire's "law-system" with their own Law. If the WORD Law-system of the Christians prevailed, the Law-system that does not change, it would destroy the Roman trade-empire.

Admiralty Law

Anchor - Trade-law; Circle - "the Force", universalism. A manifestation of "OM".

To save itself, the Empire used muscle and pre-empted the Christian movement by taking it over and making it a de-

2 "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth. Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

3 MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

4 CHRIST: The Anointed; the Messiah, as fortold by the prophets of the Old Testament. From the Greek Khristos, "the anointed (one)" from khriein, to anoint. "The Divine manifestation of God" American Heritage Dictionary partment of state - a "state religion" - an episcopal, unchangeable, monopoly, trade-religion. They retained the old Roman "trade-laws" and added the name "Christian". They also added the rituals and appointed their own priests to teach Roman "trade-law" to which Rome owed its prosperity, while suppressing the Law-system of the WORD. It denied the right of followers of the WORD to study the WORD. The Roman world's "trade-system" had gotten a new Christian paint job - but nothing basic had changed.

Followers of the WORD protested. Many times they broke away and formed reform groups. Each reform lasted for a time and then the leaders of the protesting group were coaxed into following the trade-laws of the old gods - the result of the eternally watchful "Dharmamatras". The protests ended with the usual priestly squabbles over trivia, and with everyone abandoning the Law of the WORD and obeying the "trade-laws" of the heathen.

Initially protesting Lutheran and Huguenot separatists opposed Roman universalists. Presbyterian and Puritan separatists opposed Anglican universalists; it all ended with the parties quibbling over rituals but agreeing to unite on things promoting trade.

By Their Acts

"Christian" priests today proclaim that to get into heaven one must follow their version of "Christianity". Let's look at their claims:

USURY - Ezek 18:13; Deu 23:20 The WORD specifically prohibits usury. Usury is lending 10 units when only 10 units of the thing lent is in existence - while requiring the repayment of 11 of those units, or forfeiture of assets. This creates an oxymoron. An "oxymoron" is an impossibility. Given time, Usury logically results in ALL property falling into the hands of one usurer with all other usurers becoming his agents.

The borrower is in default the instant he signs the contract. Bankruptcies result. Usury forces borrowers to borrow more - this causes booms. Paying off the loans causes economic busts, layoffs and unemployment. Ultimately, war is needed to force more borrowing to jump-start the economy back to temporary prosperity. This is why we constantly have wars. All because of usury.

Logic says that there can be only one ultimate usurer who will own or control all wealth. This means that somewhere there is someone, an enemy of the WORD because the WORD forbids usury, who has unlimited wealth, wealth that can buy kings, priests, and merchants. It is he, that ultimate "666 anti-christ" so-called, that causes the world's chaos. After all does not the WORD teach: "The love of money is the root of all evil"?

The Question

We must ask the question. How is it that there is someone who is able to cause such chaos when the WORD, the God of our people, specifically forbids such a practice?

The reason is simple: We have usury because people are not taught that usury is against the Law. The reason they don't know it's against the Law is that the priests refuse to tell them.

With the exception of a rare handful - do the "Christian" priests you know teach God's Law against usury, or do they look the other way?

If the priests, the specialists who have spent long years studying God's Law, refuse to teach the LAW prohibiting usury - who then is responsible for the booms, busts, unemployment, wars, misery, starvation - and the mountains of bodies that result from their refusal? Those who practice usury - or those who allow them do it?

What Does The WORD Say?

To answer this question we once again must go to the rule book:

> "You shall not ... stand by idly when your neighbor's life is at stake." Lev 19:16; "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17; "If thou givest him not warning ... to save his life ... his blood will I require at thine hand." Ezek 3:18

It appears from the above that those who "stand by idly", "Who know to do good and doeth it not," it is those who are the guilty ones.

Since the WORD declares usury to be a capital crime to be punished by Law - the offenders should know what the punishment is:

> "Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people." I Ki 20:42; "Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore [is] wrath upon thee from before the LORD." 2 Ch 19:2[5]

---

5 "And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and [is] a witness, whether he hath seen or known [of it]; if he do not utter [it], then he shall bear his iniquity." Le 5:1

More Condemnation

Why have these priests who call themselves "Christian" not warned us about -

Kings - 1 Sam 8:5-22, Enoch I 52:3,5, Rev 1:5-6. Why haven't we been told that the WORD has appointed us kings and has given us land to divide to be our kingdoms - land that is never to be sold?

Monopolies -Isaiah 5:8; Mic 2:1-2; Jer 22:13 - Why haven't the priests warned us about monopolies that force the weak out of business and concentrate power in the hands of giants? Monopoly that allows them to squeeze the poor to enrich themselves. Why have we not been told?

Taxes Lu 23:2; Matt 17:25-26; Matt 22:19-21; Matt 17:27; Neh 5:4 - The WORD specifically prohibits taxes but tells us to pay them to avoid the king's displeasure. Taxes are the tribute that allows kings to commit and continue their tyranny. Without taxes there would be no kings. Why have the priests not told us?

Strangers -Ps 10:16, Neh 9:2, Lev 20:24. The WORD specifically prohibits strangers in the land - lest we learn their ways of sodomy, murder, rape, drugs, robbery, voodoo, vampires, fortune telling, horoscopes, AIDS, usury, kings, taxes and other lawlessness.[6]

6 Stranger, two kinds. 2114 - (Zuwr) profane, alien, foreigner. Stranger, (1616 (ge^r) kinsman usually living in different political sub- division. In case of confusion, trust the context.)

"Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!" Isaiah 5:20-21

Conclusion

Priests who obey and teach the WORD are of God. Those who do not, follow a god other than the WORD. With few exceptions, most priests who call themselves "christian" have sided with and consequently serve the god of the Cartel. Because of this - the West today stands in filth and reeks of offal.

Next month we will go to the land where lives the god who approves of these things condemned by the WORD. We will study his ways so that we may better recognize his followers in our midst and their message of death.

Our guide will be the WORD - which is the God of our father Isaac - whose name we bear and whose promises are ours by right of descent.

==========

SOVIET INTENTIONS

The Communists killed millions in the Soviet Union. They murdered the entire upper and middle classes of the nation - millions! Every family in the USSR has a martyred member.

A free Russia should be eager to bring to trial the thousands of murderers who are responsible and available. When the new government tries and executes these criminals wholesale - then one can believe that the present new government isn't the old communist government with a new name and a smiling face.

ORGANIZED RELIGION

MARRIED: Archbishop Emmanuel Milingo recently revealed that he was married by the Rev. Suin Myung Moon to a South Korean acupuncturiest. Milingo renounced the marriage after a personal appeal from Pope John Paul II. (Story in News & Advance, Sep 18, 2002, A4

RKH: It's the "reproach" not the "act" that causes episcopal monopolies concern. Episcopacies tend to overlook deviations and soften criticism so that they can attract maximum numbers of divergent peoples. This theological soup is called universalism.

Whose Law Is Being Enforced?

The Supreme Court recently ruled that is is "cruel and unusual punishment" to execute people "with diminished mental capacities".

RKH: The WORD demands the death penalty for capital crimes. It makes no mention "diminished mental capacities".

However, Talmudic law states:

> "It clearly appears that there was a tendency to reduce capital punishment... if not to abolish it altogether. That capital punishment... was stigmatizes as "murderous" if it condemned to death more than one human being in the course of seven years. ... Tryphon and Akiba... saying, "Had we belonged to the Sanhedrin [during Judea's independence], no man would ever have been executed," as they would always have found some legal informalities by which to make a sentence of death impossible (Mak. i. 7a)." J/E p.558.

Readers can recognize this as Hindu reasoning.

> "Capital punishment in rabbinic law,... must not be inflicted, except by the verdict of a regularly constituted court. (Lesser Sanh.)... who must also depose that the culprit had been forewarned as to the criminality and the consequences of his project (Sanh. v. 1, 40b et seq.; see Hatraah). The culprit must be a person of legal age and of sound mind... and if any one wilfully kills him before conviction, a charge of murder will lie against such perpetrator (Tosef., B.K. ix. 15; Sifre, Num 161; compare 'Ar. j. 8, 6b)." J/E p.556

All this has also been court ordered without benefit of legislation. Countries obey the laws of the gods of their rulers. The above proves that America is NOT ruled by followers of the WORD.

UNFILTERED NEWS

CALIFORNIA: California plans to bar its 1600 judges from joining the Boy Scouts in retaliation for the Boy Scouts banning sodomites from becoming members of its organization. This is what happens when a state's majority becomes 50% alien.

BANNED: N.Y. City schools have banned Christian nativity scenes and sanctioned displays of Jewish Menorahs and Islamic Star and Crescent. (National Liberty Journal, Jan 2003, p.13, 1971 Univ. Blvd, Lynchburg, VA 24514, $15/yr.)

HOLOCAUST: More than 42 million unborn babies have been killed since he U.S. Supreme Court ruled that abortion is lawful. Perhaps as many as 95% of those aborted were Saxons - more than enough to populate a Saxon country.

"Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you; and before you came forth from the womb, I sanctified you, and I ordained you." Jer. 1:5; "They sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils." Ps 106:37; "Thou hast covered me in my mother's womb ... My substance was not hid from thee when I was made in secret ... Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect; and in thy book all my members were written ... when as yet there were none of them." Ps 141:13-16.

The following is from the Ency Judica.

"The Ency Judica ... defines an Embryo as 'a child in the womb of its mother before its head emerges ... 'Philo specifically prescribes the imposition of the death penalty for causing an abortion ... A. Geiger deduces from this the existence of an ancient law according to which the penalty for aborting a foetus of complete shape was death. The talmudic scholars, however, maintained that the word 'harm' refers to the woman and not to the foetus, since the scriptural injunction ... did not apply to the killing of the foetus (E/J 1971, p99)' It continues, 'In Talmudic times ... abortion was not considered a transgression unless the foetus was viable' and '...only a Gentile ... incurred the death penalty for causing the loss of the foetus. (Sanh. 57b) Thus abortion ... does not constitute murder." (Tos., San. 59a) (E/J 1971, p99) It continues, ... "Abortion is permitted ... even if 'only to save her from harassment and great pain which the foetus causes her ... and ... if intended to serve the mother's needs ... even if not vital." (E/J 1971, p. 100) (34)

The God of these people states in their Talmud that the Christian birth rate must be diminished materially. Zohar (II,62b). They obey their God's law. The Supreme Court obeys their God's Law.

ALLEGIANCE: "It is the sacred principles enshrined in the UN charter to which we will henceforth pledge our allegiance." (Bush's address to UN, Feb 1, 1992) (From Aid & Abet Winter 2002 (208-935-7852))

ZIMBABWE - President Mugabe warned Western powers that he would respond to pressure from them with hostility toward whites in the country. New York Times Dec 14, 2002, A6

NAACP MONUMENT: Bowling Green, VA: The NAACP filed suit to force Caroline County to build a monument commemorating marriage of a white woman and black man whose marriage led to a 1967 U.S. Supreme Court ruling that nullified the Biblical Law against interracial marriage. The NAACP also complained that no monument had been built to commemorate a failed slave revolt in which whites were massacred. (Story in News & Advance, C4, Nov 29, 2002).

YWCA: MILWAUKEE - The Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) said in October that it should no longer be identified as a Christian organization since it has been a long time since it focused on promoting the Christian values of its founding. Wendy Wright, of Concerned Women for America, said, 'If they want to reject Christianity, they need to change their name. Because the WYCA continues to use that name, they are misleading people." (National Liberty Journal)

FARM PRICES: "Farmers nationwide watch with abject disbelief as imports crowd prices to the floor. About 60% of the cotton in terms of domestic production is imported from the former Soviet states." Acres USA, Dec 2002 p. 3.

GM: A 17-year-old Dutch undergraduate, Hinze Hogendoorn, a student at University College in Utrecht, picked up 30 female 6- week-old mice. He bought some rodent mix, some Kellogg's and quaker cereals and some oatmeal that was specified to be 'Genetic Modified' free. He also bought some GM maize and soya. Hogendoorn turned the mice loose in big cages with two piles of food - one GM and one non GM - stacked in four bowles. The mice emptied the bowls containing the non-GM food. The GM food remained untouched. (Acres USA, Dec 2002)

GM: A ban is urged on fast-growing Genetically Modified salmon ... capable of growing up to six times as fast as conventional fish ... waiting in the wings is a range of GM creatures and clones ..." (James Meek, UK News, Sep 12, 2002)New Beginnings, Dec 2002)

ARAB VIEW: "America wants to wage war on all of us ... Arabs see regime change not as a cure for political backwardness but as a new term for old enemy, colonization." (David Hirst, Cairo, Guardian Sept 12, 2002)

HUMANITARIANS: "Delegates from Russia, China and France ... readily approved a Syrian proposal in 2000 to build a flour mill in Iraq after a UN reporter found 25% of children in southern and central Iraq suffered from malnutrition. The delegate from the U.S., however, blocked the project." (Linda McQuig, The Toronto Star, Oct 13, 2002.)

ANGLO-SAXONS: Teutonic fishermen shaped bone into fishhooks and then named them "angul" from the Teuton word "to bend". A valley named Holstein in old Germany was shaped like fishhook. It, too, was called "Angul" and its Saxon people were known as Anguls. When they moved on to England they were known as Anglo-Saxons.

STEINS: Hordes of flies invaded German beer halls in the 15th century. Lawmakers decreed that beer steins have covers to protect the contents. This is why classic German beer steins have a thumb-flippable lid.

TARIFFS: The Bush administration called for WTO talks to wiping out global tariffs in agriculture, services, and industrial goods by 2015.

RKH: When Saxon competes with the Chinese coolie his standard of living will plummet. The Cartel agents plan to suppress Saxon resentment with force. This is the reason for the Homeland laws and the campaign against Saxon militias, and religion.

UZI: The famous Uzi submachine gun used by the Israeli Defense Force and other armies world-wide, from 1955 on, is a slightly changed version of the 9-mm parabellum MP 25 invented by a Sudeten German living in Czechoslovakia before WWII. The famous Russian AK 47, 7.62-mm, 39 round assault rifle, used by Soviet and their allies from 1948 on, and which is attributed to Mikhail Kalashnikov, is nothing else but a copy of the WWII assault rifle MP 44 7.9-mm used by German forces between 1942 and 1945 in WWII. (Story in Adelade Institute, Nov 2002, (http://www. adelaideinstitute.org)

CATHOLIC BISHOP'S PLAN: According to Time, Nov 25, 2002, p.25, a priest accused of sexual abuse by a board composed mostly of lay Catholics and at least one priest advises the bishop. If there is "sufficient evidence" the priest is temporarily removed from ministry. A canon church lawyer represents the accused priest in front as as many as 5 priest judges - all canon lawyers. The victim testifies before them. If found guilty the priest is deprived of his collar or the right to give Communion. He can appeal a conviction to the Vatican.

RKH: Time carries a poll stating that 64% of Mass-attending Roman Catholics believe that the bishops have done a bad job of handling the church's sexual misconduct crisis. This continues the on-going separation from the episcopal priesthood that is taking place by both Protestant and Catholic lay people who instinctively know the difference between the WORD and priests who follow other Gods. The WORD still commands: "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13. No other punishment can be supported without fighting the WORD which is God.

SA RAPE

Evidence was given that in every fourth farm attack a woman is raped[7]. The suspicion has been existing for a long time that Afrikaner women are ravaged during farm attacks, but it has taken on terrifying intensity. Mr. Jack Loggerenberg of the Transvaal Agriculture Union said that rape atrocity by another race is so horrible that 90% of raped farmer's wives are too ashamed to admit that they were the victims. This is the reason why in the 8 years since farm attacks began and more than 1200 farmers were murdered, it has now only come to light. Rape gives a completely new dimension to farm attacks. ... It brings to light new evidence that farm attacks, murder of farmers, and rape of women are not drive-by crimes but are encouraged by political motives that characterize racial hatred...

Each rape is indeed a potential death sentence, because a large number of the attackers are infected with AIDS.... Rumors of a right-wing coup, if true, have nothing to do with efforts to overthrow the government, but arise from frustration with conditions in the country. .... the government acts against right-wingers but allow murderers and rapist to continue their activities. ...

"The elderly Lewis couple were murdered last week. Their son mentions that 10 farm attacks took place in the same vicinity but the only one covered was that of his parents who died in the attack. The rest passed unnoticed. ... Without information the public cannot form a real picture of how serious the situation is in rural areas.... " (Die Afrikaner Sep 27 - Oct 3, 2002)

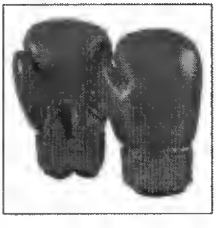
Chapter 341



THE UNKNOWN ENEMY

"The unknown enemy is the unopposed enemy."

The Olympics

A half century ago "olympics" were the thing. Every school, military unit or fraternal organization had their "olympics".

The olympics consisted of a sporting event. Sometimes it was a track event, sometimes something else.

At Lynchburg College it was "boxing." They announced their Boxing Olympics with great fanfare. Sign-up lists were posted on bulletin boards for contenders. There were three or four classifications. A lot signed up as lightweights and a whole raft signed up to fight "middle-weight".

On the "heavy-weight" list - one fellow signed up. That's all. Day after day I passed by that bulletin-board on the way to class. I saw the lists of contenders in other weight classes growing longer and longer, but there was just that one name on the heavy-weight list. Nobody wanted to fight him. I know I didn't. He had a reputation for being "tough."

The cut-off day approached for those wanting to sign up. Somebody had to fight that fellow. Whoever heard of someone getting a title because no one would fight him? I resolved that if no one else would sign up to fight him, I would. The cut-off day came and I put my name down. Now, there were two in the heavyweight class to duke it out for heavyweight championship.

I'm not brave by nature, a trait that has kept me alive through the years, but in this case I had to find out if that fellow was as tough as everyone said he was.

So as not to keep you in suspense - he was! He beat the daylights out of me, but I'll get to that.

Training

An older student who had boxed in the navy volunteered to be my trainer and sparring partner. He taught me right much in the two weeks before the matches. But, there was one thing he didn't teach me - probably because he didn't know.

Prior to this the only boxing I had ever done was at military school. There, the "Abbot Twins" insisted that I learn boxing.

They were upper-classmen and I was a "mister", so, we put on gloves and they took turns, and great delight I might add, in beating me up. I learned one very important thing, duck! If they can't hit you, they can't kill you.

The Fight

The fight was to be three, three-minute rounds. Doesn't sound bad until you do it. There is no time to pace yourself. It's an all-out three minutes for three rounds. Try it! You feel like you are going to die.

Fight night arrived. The entire day had been taken up with the light-weight and middle-weight fights. It was night when they got to the heavyweight match. There was going to be only the one fight because there were only two fighters.

This was the first time I had ever fought a real fight in a real boxing ring. I remember sitting down in the locker room listening to the crowd upstairs and the bell sounding the rounds. I wished that I was any place on earth rather than where I was.

The call came. I walked up the steps into the gym, walked to the ring, climbed through the ropes and stood in my corner. The ref called us, said something to us. We touched gloves. The bell rang and we came out fighting.

HE WAS A LEFTY!

A left-handed fighter! I had never fought a left handed fighter in my life. How do you fight a left handed fighter? A heck of a time to learn, and I had to learn fast - or get killed. The first two rounds were a blur. One thing I remember - he hit me, spun me, and then hit me in the back of the head. I didn't go down but I don't know why not. That hurt!

When the third round arrived I had begun to get the hang of fighting a left-handed fighter. Then, before you knew it - the fight was over.

The bell rang - the ref announced the judges' decision. My opponent had won. He won two rounds - the first two; I won the last one.

The Lesson

That was my first and last fight in the ring.

When my grandson asked me if I ever fought in the ring, I told him, "Sure", and I went on to tell him that I came in 2nd in the heavyweight championships at Lynchburg college.

I didn't tell him that there were only two of us fighting and that I lost.

That fight taught me something. If you don't want to be a punching bag you had better learn about your opponent - his way of fighting. I didn't learn that mine was a lefty until I was in the ring. Because of my ignorance, I was virtually defenseless and could have gotten badly hurt. The lesson that has stayed with me is this:

The Unknown enemy is the unopposed enemy.

You can't effectively oppose an opponent if you don't know him. We are going to have to really know our opponent if we expect to fight him in the days ahead - and win.

Serpent

Earlier, we traced the Serpent to his lair in India. The clue that started the process was the scripture studied by first century Christians:

"When the accursed serpent saw Adam and Eve it ... made straight for Eve ... Then the WORD of God came to the serpent, and ... a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the sea shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:1-9

Serpent/Deception

Everything involving India revolves about the "Serpent." Rare is the Indian God that does not have a serpent about his person. The Serpent is a deceiver. His ultimate deception is to make disobedience appear as obedience, wrong appear as right, sin as obedience, and dark as light. "Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light." 2 Cor 11:14

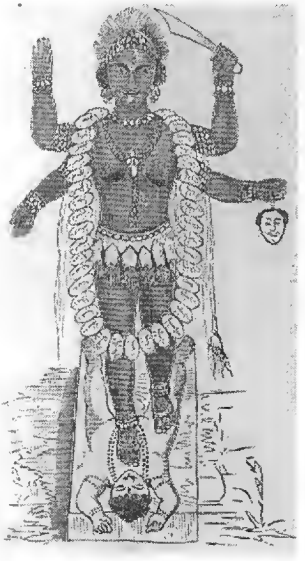
Shiva

The Serpent is manifested as Shiva. After Kali destroys the world it is rebuilt by Shiva the sex-god.

Eve meant well, but was deceived. The result was that both Adam and Eve were banished from the Garden. To succeed, the Serpent needs an accomplice. It is immaterial whether the accomplice is honest but deceived, or evil, the result is the same.

The Scriptures gives other clues:

"God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4



Kali - Goddess of Destruction

Kali destroys people, cities, nations, things - so that they may be rebuilt by Shiva in the image of the Serpent.

We see that the devil is spoken of as black - and as being a woman. Is there a place where the devil is black and a woman?

Yes!

Southern India! The people living there are black; their chief god Shiva or Siva, is a dancing black sex-god. One of the female manifestations of the sex-god Siva is the black death-goddess Kali. "Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" Yes.

With few exceptions the peoples of India are either black or mulattos. They worship the God of sex - which is what they think about and act out far beyond what Western society considers normal. Statues showing couples copulating abound in their countless temples, in pictures in their holy books, in their movies - everywhere. To them, pornography is holy. At the same time they worship procreation the also worship Kali, the goddess of death and destruction.

Our kinsmen, the Aryans, invaded northern India millenia ago. The early Greeks knew them. The E/B, 14th ed, India, p 186, says:

> "Megasthnenes observes with admiration the absence of slavery in India, the chastity of the women, and the courage of the men. In valour they excelled all other Asiatics; they required no locks to their doors; above all, no Indian was ever known to tell a lie. Sober and industrious, good farmers and skilful artisans, they scarcely ever had recourse to a lawsiut, and lived peaceably under their native chiefs".

What happened? Where did these wonderful people go? The answer is that they mixed their blood with the lawless Blacks of the south and now the entire country is mixed-breed in varying degrees. Blacks and mulattos commit more murders than all the other races of the world put together. This country of India has reverted to its old Gods. They are made in the image of the violent black sex-god Shiva and his murderous black female manifestation - Kali. Both of whom are manifestations of the Serpent.

Just so you won't forget, the History of the World, World Pub., N. Dighton, MA c2002, p. 71, says :

> "Deeply embedded in the heart of Hinduism is the figure of the most awe-inspiring and ambivalent of all the gods - Shiva, personfication of terror, death and annihilation, of unbridled sexuality and of the creative forces of nature, the eternal destroyer of the cosmos whose act of destruction precedes his act of recreation."

We'll return to Shiva and Kali later.

Religion Of The Serpent

The Serpent strikes! It bites! It rules! The Serpent converts every religion into a mantifestation of itself. The peoples of the world think that they worship their old Gods but actually follow Shiva and Kali disguised as their old God.

Serpent's Secret

The Serpent-System is powerful. It becomes almost invincible when it dons religion. It can don a religion, any religion, to disguise Shiva and Kali whenever it chooses because of its two monopolies that give it its deadly power - MONEY and MEDIA!

The Usury Machine's "Bite"

The Serpent-System owns the world's usury monopoly that provides the Serpent with wealth - instant, limitless wealth.

The Hebrew word for usury in Strong's is nâshak, "to strike with a sting as a serpent; to oppress with interest on a loan: - bite, lend upon usury." Usury is synonymous with "serpent." All evil things spring from the bite - the bite of usury - the strike of the serpent. This is why God the WORD commands:

> "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

For new readers, I will briefly discuss usury since it is central to understanding the Serpent-System. There is absolutely no excuse for a follower of the WORD not to know about the capital crime of usury. It is a crime as serious as murder and the penalty is the same. Once again - the WORD says;

"Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

Usury is fraudulent from the start. It is a contract in which $10 dollars is lent when only $10 dollars are in existence - and requiring $11 dollars to be repaid.

Repaying $11 dollars when only $10 dollars exists creates an oxymoron. An "oxymoron" is an impossibility. $11 dollars cannot be repaid when only $10 dollars are in existence. Gold, cotton, or slaves will not be accepted as a substitute for the 11th dollar. Only $11 is acceptable and $11 does not exist.

The usury loan is crooked from the instant the contract is signed. If one does not have $11 - he forfeits his collateral - his house, farm or business. The WORD says, "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov 22:7. Usury is a capital crime - a most profitable crime. It is Babylon's cornerstone.

Media

To protect usury, the source of the Serpent's unlimited wealth, in face of God's threat - the Serpent's usury monopoly uses its unlimited wealth to buy the world's "media."

It is said of Esau:

"Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." Jasher 29:20

Esau stole their minds using the "media" of the time.

Usury provides the money, money buys the media. The Media monopoly shapes the opinions of people which protects the usury- system from the ever-present threat of the WORD, and the consequence that always hangs poised like a great sword over its practice.

People can only act on what they know. I didn't know my opponent was a "lefty" and it almost got me killed. The Serpent controls people by having his agents control information. By controlling information the serpent-system controls people's minds. People don't know because they are not told. They are not told because the Serpent owns the media that speaks to them.

Caste System

The Caste System was created by the Serpent to operate and protect his world - the world resulting from his usury system.

This caste system consists of three ruling castes. Every country that the Serpent controls has these same three ruling castes. They are organized as an episcopacy - rule from the top down - so that the Serpent need appoint, or replace, only one person to control the rest.

The three castes are, Priesthood - to control minds; King and army - to suppress revolt; and the Trader or Great Merchant - to manage the wealth produced. All others serve these three ruling castes.

118 Kingdoms

The following scenario is one that has been repeated again and again. Note the similarities to recent historical examples and expect it to occur again tomorrow.

Kings have armies to keep them on thrones, trumpeters to announce their arrivals, tribute money to build palaces, servants to clothe them and draw their bath, and people constantly groveling at their feet begging crumbs from their tables and telling them how wonderful they are. If kings believe what people tell them - and forget the one who lent them the money and provided media exposure that put them on their thrones - as did Napoleon - bad things happen. This scenario has a long, long history.

There were 118 independent kingdoms in the north of India. Most spoke different dialects scarcely understandable by their neighbors. They had rebelled against the ruling caste of India - the Brahmins, and refused to share their wealth. Their military power was such that they could not be overcome by any local military force.

Alexander - Serpent Surrogate

To the west was a Greek king named Alexander the Great. The Serpent-system had lent his father, Philip II of Macedonia, money to hire and train a powerful army, and the Greek oracles said that Philip was a child of the Gods. With his army and the blessing of the gods, Philip brought all Greece under his rule. This pleased the Serpent because it is easier to deal with one great king than with 100 smaller ones, or with 1,000,000 citizens each of whom believes himself to be as good as any king.

Then, Philip died. It was sudden; an occupational hazard that goes with being a king who, for one reason or other, displeases the Serpent.

Alexander, Philip's son, inherited his throne, army, debts, and blessing of the gods. He used this army to conquer the Persian Empire - the mightiest empire in the world. As an afterthought he also conquered Egypt - the next greatest world power.

Alexander was now "emperor" - emperor of a vast empire. But, he was still on a leash. According to the WORD,

"The borrower is servant to the lender." Prov. 22:7.

Whatever it was that Alexander had borrowed - it was borrowed on usury terms - 11 for 10 when only 10 existed. This means that Alexander, the greatest and wealthiest emperor in the world, could never pay his debt and he always remained the servant of the lender. This is key to understanding what follows.

India

The mighty Greek army rested on the borders of northern India, a land once ruled by Persia and now ruled by 118 rebel kings. There was enormous wealth resting in the coffers of these 118 rebel kings. Among other things, their countries had kept the tribute due to India's Brahmins, and they had taken tribute from the lucrative trade-routes that criss-crossed that region.

We can surmise that it took little persuasion from the Brahmins to convince Alexander to bring his incomparable army into northern India and dispose of the 118 troublesome kings one at a time. His payment would be their wealth. Then, he would unite their states into one great state ruled by himself for a time. This he did. His conquest stopped at the Beas River in 326 B.C.

Having done what he had contracted to do - Alexander left and went back to Egypt where the story is that he died of heartbreak since there were no other lands to conquer. The other story, and the more likely, is that he was poisoned. Powerful rulers who deal with the Serpent seldom die natural deaths. However, before Alexander left India, he left one of his lieutenants, Seleucus (312-280 B.C.), as occupation governor - insurance against revolt.[1]

In time the conquered kingdoms were peaceful, the rebels were dead. Selucus' job was done. He then turned over this enormous land area comprising the former 118 kingdoms to Chandragupta, an Indian king who had been selected to rule by India's Brahmins. Please note that rulers, all rulers, Greek or Indian, are only cartel surrogates. The Serpent rewards his servants - but shares its power-base of "money creation" and "media" with none.

Guaranteeing Treaties

In the Serpent's caste system - lasting treaties are sealed by blood. Seleucus gave Chandragupta his daughter as his wife and exchanged ambassadors. Chandragupta gave Selucus 500 elephants. Elephants were the tanks of the age. With these, the Grecian phalanx plus elephants was invincible. The racial adultury agreed to by Chandragupta and Selucus remains the hallmark of the "Serpent treaty" - the guarantee of agreements in his caste system - a lasting agreement with the devil.[2]

1 As a Southerner, I can relate to this. Saxon readers of Scottish, Irish, French, German, South African or Russian descent should be able to, also. It is no accident that most American military bases are located in the heart of the formerly rebellious Confederacy, and that the U.S. maintains garrisons in each conquered country that she intends to retain as an empire province - 137, I believe at last count. About the same number as the Persian Empire once had.

2 Bush's brother is married to a Mexican mestezo; Gore's daughter - Karenna married a Jewish doctor; Sen Phil Gramm, R-Tx - married an oriental; England's Princess Ann - married a Turkish-Jew; President Reagan's first wife was a Jew. etc.

How Chandragupta Became King

During Greek occupation, the Indus River was the boundary between the Greeks to the north and the rest of India. The land south of the Indus was ruled by a king named Dhana Nanda.

Indian stories say that Dhana Nanda insulted a prominent Brahmin priest named Kautalya - an unforgivable sin. This resulted in Dhana Nanda's replacement.

Replacing kings is a common event in the Serpent's caste-system. According to Indian sages, this is how Dhana Nanda was removed to make room for Chandragupta.

Hindu priests found a boy of royal blood living in poverty named Chandragupta Maurya. The priests brought him up and trained him. While the Greeks were keeping order in northern India, they led a successful revolt that removed Dhana Nanda. They simply claimed that Chandragupta was the true ruler and that Dhana Nanda had seized the throne by fraud, that the throne was rightfully Chandragupta's.

People will believe anything if they have only one information source. To make sure that the revolt would succeed, an appeal was made to tax resisters and they joined the plot when promised lower taxes. The revolt was successful. This was about 321 B.C. Using the priesthood as the media, the rumor mill and the usual disinformation - all combined to make a palace revolt that easily replaced a powerful king. The same people have done the same thing to a thousand other kings since that time.

The Dynasty

* King Chandragupta later became an ascetic and starved himself to death in 297 B.C. Most kings are not selected for their high intelligence.

* Bindusare, his son, (297-272B.C.) expanded the Indian empire greatly, especially to the south.

* Asoka the Great (272-232B.C.) came to the throne - and all sorts of things began happening.

But first!

Hinduism

Long before Alexander invaded India, long before the 118 kings revolted, and even before history was recorded, Brahmins ruled India. They scared everyone to death with gods like Kali. Kali, and Gods like her, would do anything. Some drank blood, others committed wholesale murder, others burned wives alive at their husband's funerals, some demanded that whores be made of daughters and wives to win the favor of sex-gods, others collected heads. Since the Karma principle punished people - the Brahmins cared nothing about people's suffering. Suffering people were getting what they deserved. The Brahmin's owned everything and taxed everyone unmercifully. They were rotten to the core. And, in spite of all their denials and eyewash, they still are.

Naturally, reform movements became a nuisance. "Reform" was fought by the Hindu priests requiring obedience to two Hindu rituals. You obeyed them or died. The first was;

TOLERANCE was required on pain of death that everyone be tolerant of the gods that did these awful things. One must be tolerant of both them and their followers. One must be tolerant in word, speech, and deed - or die. The name for this kind of tolerance is "Dharma."

THE CASTE SYSTEM was the second restaint placed on the people. The caste system comprised the priest, king and asset- manager with the workers serving the other three.

Forced "tolerance" criminalized dissent. It allowed the Brahmins to rule everyone - "universal" rule. Only they decreed what was acceptable and what was not acceptable.

The caste system organized those ruled.

Quick Summary

Westerners have been driven from their self-sufficient farms where their fathers were once kings and priests. They now pay tribute to the agent of their master.

The WORD that has saved us many times in the past - points to India as the Serpent lair. The Serpent's name is "deception". Its poison is "usury". Usury produces wealth. Wealth buys the "media". The Serpent's bite provides "money" and "fame" to those bitten. It buys kings, priests, and merchants to operate its empire. The Serpent reorganizes religion to teach "tolerance." Tolerance neutralizes resistance.

We are studying the above to better understand what follows:

There is an internet program that displays photos taken from space of earth at night. City lights are glowing in cities and towns of Europe and N. America. The 3rd world, including vast areas of eastern Russia and China glow only faintly. Africa and most of S. America are mostly dark. But, India is lit up like Europe and America. The stories we are told about India's 3rd world status appear to be just stories.

Next. Yesterday I heard that one of Lynchburg's biggest employers, GE Financial, is going to move. Where? The rumor is India!

Lastly, the following comes from a story in the NY TIMES, Aug 11, 2002, p13

> India's huge software and information technology industry, which emerged over the the last decade, has made India the back-room and research hub of many of the world's largest corporations. These English-speaking, low-wage, tech-savvy people live in India, but they design and run the software and systems that now support the world's largest companies and earn India a whopping $60 billion in foreign reserves - which doubled in just the last 3 years. This has made the world more dependent on India, and India on the world.

If your Dell computer has a problem, the Techie who walks you through it is in Bangalore, India's Silicon Valley, Ernst & Young may be doing your company's tax returns here with Indian accountants. Indian software giants in Bangalore, like Wipro, Infosys and MindTree, now manage back- room operations - accounting, inventory management, billing, accounts receivable, payrolls, credit card approvals - for global firms like Nortel Networks, Reebok, Sony, American Express, HSB C and GE Capital. G.E.'s biggest research center outside the US is in Bangalore, with 1,700 Indian engineers and scientists.

Just suppose that the above is only a glimpse of what is really going on - the tip of the iceberg. That means that 90% remains concealed. We will investigate further next month.

Chapter 342

BUDDHISM Becomes HINDU-BUDDHISM

Alexander's Indian Conquest

Alexander conquered northern India c320 B.C. The Indian ruler, Chandra Gupta, received these conquests from the Greeks one year later for a gift of 5,000 elephants (c321 B.C.). Asoka, the grandson of Chandra Gupta, was born in c291 B.C. and began his rule c260 B.C. This is where the story gets interesting.

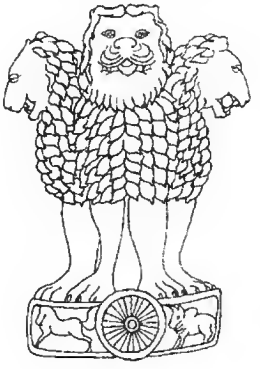
Gupta Agents

India's Hindu priests put the Gupta Dynasty on the throne of India as their agent. The Gupta arms (right) are the symbol of India even today.

The brahman priests used the Gupta Dynasty to manage the conquered 118 Aryan nations to the north that had been captured and sold by their Greek kinsmen.



India's Arms

The Gupta arms are India's arms. Buddha's "prayer wheel", or Cosmic Circle is on the base. The three-headed lion represents Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Brahma the eternal. Vishnu the preserver and Shiva the destroyer.

Aryans and Their God

The Aryans of the 118 conquered nations had arrived much earlier in India as conquerors and were now under the heel of those they had conquered.

History tells us that the 118 nations were different from the rest of the mixed-breed Indians - they were followers of the teachings of Buddha. This is how they are described in the E/B, 14th Ed, India, p. 186;

> "Megasthnenes observes with admiration the absence of slavery in India, the chastity of the women, and the courage of the men. In valour they excelled all other Asiatics; they required no locks to their doors; above all, no Indian was ever known to tell a lie. Sober and industrious, good farmers and skillful artisans, they scarcely ever had recourse to a lawsuit, and lived peaceably under their native chiefs".

This describes our people who are made in the image of the WORD which is our God. "God created man, in the likeness of God made he him; Male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Adam." Gen 5:1-2. We know that in spite of being man, Alexander had become the Serpent's agent because the WORD says:

> "Ye shall not ... fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24 "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people." Lev 19:18. "Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:3.[1]

There is only one time when man is instructed to fight man:

> "When any persons would compel us to break our laws, then it is that we choose to go to war." Josephus, Against Apion 2:38

This knowledge is instinctive with our people. This is why the Serpent's media accuses its enemies of breaking God's Laws - it is the only way to make man break God's Law and willingly fight "man" for them.

People who today live in the lands of the 118 nations are the exact opposite of those who used to live there. They lie, cheat, steal, murder, and break every Law of God. They are a mixed-breed race. For centuries their Laws kept them separate. This is what happened to their Laws and to them.

Guatma -The Buddha

About 500 B.C., a holy man named Gautama, or Gotama Buddha (the enlightened one), held the minds of those who lived in the north of India. Today's historians speak of him as "a sudden light". History, on the other hand, indicates that he was only the latest in a line of memorable teachers of an age old tradition.

1 (Heb: adam - those who blush rosy, Strong's Concordance

This enlightened Buddha died in 483 B.C. While living, he taught a system of laws which has now been twisted out of recognition, but still retains the name "Buddhism". In its original form, it was considered the most moral code of conduct after the the Laws of genuine Christianity of the WORD. Because it had no gods comparable to those like other Indian religions, historians say that it was not a religion. They ignore the fact that a god's "laws" are the only way a god can be obeyed - just as the WORD is the Law of today's Christian Saxon-Aryans. Buddha's law consisted of 10 basic rules:

1. Do not destroy life (no murder)
2. Do not steal
3. Abstain from impurity
4. Do not lie
5. Abstain from intoxicating drinks
6. Do not eat at forbidden times (fasting times)
7. Abstain from dancing, singing, music, and stage-plays. (Hindu sex stimulants)
8. Do not use garlands, scents, unguents or ornaments (Hindu sex stimulants)
9. Do not use a high or broad bed (Hindu status symbol)
10. Do not receive gold or silver.... (Hindu usury money system)

This compares with the WORD's basic 10 Laws:

1 - No other Gods than the WORD
2 - No substitutes
3 - Taking name vainly (asking for things forbidden).
4 - Rest 7th day
5 - Honor parents Lawful opinions
6 - No murder
7 - No adultery - commercial, written, verbal, religious, racial 8 - No theft
9 - No false witness
10 - No coveting another's possessions[2]

Buddhist Caste System

In addition to their 10 commandments, the Indian Aryans established a caste system (segregation) excluding non-Aryans - primarily the lawless blacks of south India whose sex-god Siva stood for the exact opposite of Buddha's teachings. Aryans always set up a segregated society when they come in contact with aliens. It never works. The reason it doesn't work is that segregation violates the WORD - the Law says that aliens are not to live in your land "lest ye learn their ways". If aliens are prevented from living in your land there is no need to segregate them.

> "Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

---

2 "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." Matt 22:37- 40

A segregated caste system is never a permanent solution to the alien problem and is always doomed to failure. But man never ceases to try to take the easy way - segregation - and it always fails. When the segregation system finally springs leaks, man dies - all of them. It is a question of time - which our enemies well know.

Hindus

Hindus are merchants. They are traders. Logically, Hindu merchants can only do business with separatists after first changing them into integrationists. They must first destroy the potential customer's "separatist-system" by changing the god in whose name the system exists. This is how they changed Buddhism in India. This is how they have done through the centuries, this is how they always do it wherever the Hindu merchant goes.

Asoka Embraces Buddhism

Asoka, the agent of the Hindu priests, destroyed Buddhism simply by embracing its arch-enemy - Buddha. Asoka became more Buddhist than the Buddhists were. Asoka said that Gautma Buddha was a saint, a near-God on earth - the answer to all of India's problems.

Asoka said that Buddha's teachings should be made mandatory - everyone should learn them and learn to live by them and make them

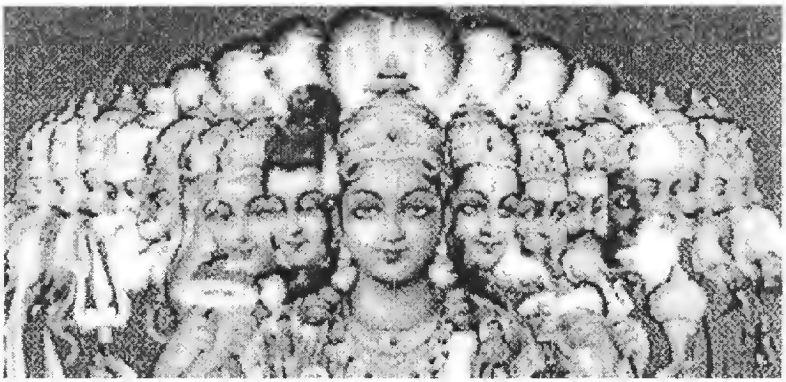
Brahma

Hindus tell us that this is Brahma. It looks like Brahma, but it isn't Brahma.

the roadmap of their lives. Asoka said that he would help to make the world a paradise by making Buddhism the state religion of India. That way, everyone would know the correct way to believe in their gods, and Asoka, Buddha's devoted disciple, would use all the powers of the state to see that people did what they were supposed to do.

Asoka's New Buddhism

Asoka, as the new head of the Buddhists, accepted all Buddhist teachings. It accepted "Yoga" - the combination of Buddhist teachings with physical exercise and discipline. It accepted the Buddhist "natural food" health system. He also



This Is The True Brahma

These are the faces of Brahma - the deceiver. He has the face of all the gods that there have ever been. There is the genuine and there is the Hindu counterfeit. Asoka changed Buddha into one of Brahma's counterfeit faces. The counterfeit looked like Buddha, talked like Buddha - but spoke the words of Brahma the Serpent - the deceiver. Among these counterfeits are look-alike counterfeit copies of Allah, Confucious, the Shinto gods, the Voodoo gods - all counterfeits. A counterfeit Jesus stands there. It looks like Jesus, talks like Jesus, but his words are the words of Brahma. Brahma is the implacable enemy of separatists - those who would separate from Brahma's Tower of Babel causing it to crash to the ground. Brahma uses his followers and his captives to war against and destroy separatists - cleanse them with fire and death - and remake the survivors in the image of what you see.

accepted the Buddhist racial caste system. Asoka was more Buddhist than Buddha.

Asoka improved Buddhism. The upper Buddhist caste was no longer exclusively white - it now included many of Asoka's Hindu priests.. There was another twist. Buddhist mantras (religious chants) now included "Om". "Om" is the name of the Hindu World Force, or "One World, or Brahma. Brahma is the Hindu God of all Gods - but the name of Brahma had been changed to Buddha.

The natural-food business was now open to everyone, so, Aryan merchants were quickly replaced with merchants from other parts of India as the borders of the 118 nations became "open borders." These were some of Asoka's "improvements."[3]

The Guru

Something else emerges about this time. The old Buddhist two-step racial caste system was converted into the Hindu "three-step" caste system - priests, kings, and great merchants - the same one we have today. Some historians say that each of these castes was divided into 24 separate levels; Others say 48 levels, still others say hundreds. Regardless, the Buddhist caste system had been converted into one complicated thing containing countless levels.

Causing more confusion - in addition to the Hindu brahmans who had been appointed instant Buddhist priests, anyone who had a large following became elegible to enter the lower levels of the brahman caste. Black, white, whatever - it made no difference. The determining factor was the number of followers a guru claimed.

3 Hindu usury always results in a society of the extremely rich at one end and the destitute at the other. War and chaos shuffles the cards and permits another game - another game of the same.

Asoka's Buddhism looked increasingly like Asoka's old Hinduism - the one that Buddhism was supposed to replace - the one that accepted all Gods and all religions - and all their evils.

Unlike the old Buddhism, Asoka's new Buddhism had lots of gods. Each of these gods had lots of rules. There were countless rules and countless regulations - and rituals without number. To reach "nirvana" - the Indian heaven of nothingness - the individual had to pick the right combination - out of hundreds of thousands of choices.

The average Indian had no clue. Like Westerners who must go to a lawyer to find his way around the morass called "law", Indians had to acquire a religious lawyer - a "guru" - a teacher - to show them the way around rogues gallery pictured above.

Guru's are self-proclaimed men of god - or gods - whichever. They are specialists who make a lifetime career of selecting the right gods and developing the right religious philosophy for their followers. Some guru beliefs are weird. Some are relatively sensible. If an Indian finds one he likes, he settles in with his guru to teach him. He pays his guru handsomely for this information. He buys likenesses of the gods that his guru recommends, and sets up his own little home chapel, complete with candles, and incense for the god that is being worshiped to eat.

In the confusion of Hinduism, the guru is the Indian's only beam of light showing him the road to The Force - "Brahma-Buddha" - "god". Without his guru-preacher showing him the way - he is absolutely, irretrievably lost. The guru is the Indian's "god on earth" - a literal god on earth - the only one to tell him what is right and what is wrong and what to do. He is the only god the Buddhist-Hindu will ever know - and as such the guru's with the greatest followings takes their place along-side the other gods - as gods.

He interprets the god's wishes. It is the guru's commandments that must be obeyed - because he speaks for the gods. Without his guru to point out the laws needed to reach "Nirvana", the door closes and he is damned.

The bigger the guru's following the greater the guru's power. Some gurus have the power to tell their followers to commit suicide - and they have done so - all of them - by the thousands. Others can tell their followers to kill all who do not acknowledge their guru as god's representative on earth - and they will - and have - many times - by the tens of millions. Still others can tell their followers to send them money to fight tyranny and then spend this money on Caribbean vacations and in gambling casinos. Gurus: different castes - different gods - same results.

Identifying a Guru

In the West, the absence of acknowledgment that the Commandments contained in the WORD are supreme is the tip-off that the speaker is a "guru".

The guru may be a priest, king, or merchant. The fact that he will not the acknowledge the WORD as supreme when dealing with a racial, economic, or political situation indicates that he is a guru who is following the commandments of another god - commandments that are different from the WORD which is God.

Successful Gurus

Successful Gurus are noticed. They receive Serpent money and media exposure - making the guru greater than before, sometimes greater than his wildest imaginations. He rises in the caste in which he operates. Money and media are addictive. The guru becomes addicted. He must do the Serpent's will or be punished by having the money and media withdrawn - causing the addicted guru extreme pain and suffering - even ruin.

The "WORD made flesh" told a parable dealing with this point:

> "And Jesus (WORD made flesh) ... was... tempted of the devil (Serpent, deception). ... And the devil ... showed unto him all the kingdoms of the world... And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them (crowd pleasing reputation): for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will give it. If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine. And Jesus (WORD made flesh) answered... Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God (the WORD) and only him shalt thou serve.'" Luke 4:1-8

God the WORD meant it. Man is made in the image of the WORD which is the Law. He follows the Law or he dies.

Asoka's Edicts

Asoka posted his edicts where people could see them. He had them carved on monuments which he placed at crossroads. These are called "pillar" or "monument" edicts. He had them carved in stone grottoes where statues of the gods were kept. This way the faithful would be constantly reminded when they came to worship. These are called "stone edicts". With minor changes they are the same today as they were 2,000 years ago. They are still being enforced - and enforced by the the same forces as they were 2,000 years ago.

It is not by accident that the WORD is being suppressed. Christians follow the WORD, Christian-Hindus follow the Edicts of Asoka. It's easy to tell the difference:

Rock Edicts

Most edicts had explanatory comments with them. These comments have been shortened for brevity's sake:

* Religious Intolerance: Asoka is against religious intolerance and discrimination within the community.[4] (Rock Edict 7 & Rock Edict 12).

* Open Housing: King Asoka desires that members of all religions live anywhere they choose. (Rock Edict VII, p 61)

* Concord: Concord alone is commendable. Through concord men may learn the conception of Dharma acceptable to others. (Rock Edict 12. p.52)

* Non-violence: The nature of Dharma is meditation and non-violence. (Pillar Edict VII (cont. from IV.1) p40) (This includes non-execution of most criminals guilty of capital crimes.)

* Charity and the Kinship of Mankind: (Rock Edict XI p.44) (All living beings are part of the universal Cosmic Force. As such they cannot be separated.)

* Against Individual Irreligion: Maski Rock Edict (cont. from VI.B.4, p. 49)

* Against Religious Intolerance and Discrimination: (Rock Edict VII, Rock Edict XII, p51)

4 The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959

* Conquest by Dharma: King Asoka considers moral conquest (that is conquest by Dharma) the most important conquest." (Rock Edict XIII, p.27)

* "King Asoka has faith in and reverence for the Buddha, the Dharma, and the Buddhist religious orders." p.66

These are a few of the Edicts that Asoka added to Buddhism that changed it into Buddhist-Hinduism. These and the others are enforced today exactly as they were more than 2000 years ago, by the same Trade Cartel (New World Order) which uses its "money/media" monopoly to enforce them.

Separation Or Integration

No people can be obedient to his own God and at the same time obey other gods. It is either "separation" or "integration" - one or the other. A separatist follower of the WORD closes the door to the international trader. The Hindu-integrationist forces open the door.

In Christianity - the faithful obey the WORD. The counterfeit reveals himself by rejecting the WORD and accepting Asoka's Edicts. These edicts may be summed up by one edict. This edict was encountered by our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ - and is found today everywhere the Serpent rules - just as it was 2,000 years ago.

"One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka Asoka's Buddhism was converted into Hindu-Buddhism.

Summery

Hinduism is a trade religion. It is not like any other religion on earth. It devours other religions. It eats them whole. It accepts whatever its customer believes, re-invents his religious beliefs to serve the international merchant, and then uses the merchant's unlimited money and media to re-educate the customer about his own re-invented religion.

This re-invented religion is a fraud and a counterfeit. But, the international merchant must replace hostile local gods with counterfeit friendly ones to maximize profit in the Hindus' chosen market.

In brief - Hinduism redefines separatist religions so that they continue to look like separatist religions but are really changed into mirror images of itself. A redefined religion may look like, sound like, smell like the genuine - but it is a copy. Every market that follows Asoka's edicts opens to international trade and has two gods - the genuine that follows the old God and the counterfeit that follows Asoka.

One determines the true from the counterfeit by careful inspection. If the laws of a God say one thing and a speaker uses Asoka's edicts to justify the opposite - the speaker is a secret Hindu. Deception is what Hindus do.

If you think that what has been done to Buddhism is something - wait until you hear the story of what the Hindus have done to Islam, Shintoism, Confusianism, Taoism, AND - you guessed it:

CHRISTIANITY!

Christianity, too, has the WORD and it has a fraudulent copy - a copy straight from hell.

Report From S. Africa by K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: Enclosed is a receipt from the orphanage for the money you sent.

We went to the Loerie Youth Centre at Bronkhorstspruit. It is a nice homely house with a friendly atmosphere. Not big but they fitted everyone in. There is still lots to do. They recently got some needed fencing. We found Mrs. Betsy Jacobs a lovely person and very able. After we gave her the envelope she sat for a while and could not comprehend that such a big gift was sent by fellow Christians. (Ed: Believe me, that gift was big only to those who have little!)

Then, she phoned the two trustees, Willie and Rina. She felt that since the former director had hurt so many people she wanted the trustees present where money is concerned. When they arrived she wrote out a receipt immediately and said that she wanted to write and thank you and send some photos of the children.

Now to Aida Parker. One of the trustees went to see her at the home and found her frail and sick. But, we know what they do at these types of homes, they drug people till they are vegetables and she has no near family to object and remove her. Most of her money was in a trust which her mother left her. Someone arrived and took over her affairs. He fired both Estelle and Ann who kept the books. Some people say that this manager is a policeman. Others say he is from intelligence. Aida was a thorn in the government's side for many years. I don't know who he is.

The Mine Workers Union give R2,500 ($302) a month for groceries. Willie asked if they could not make it R3,000 ($362.75), a month but as yet they have received no answer. They did buy a bus to take children to school and the doctor. The bus loan is 24%. There is nothing owed on the house since someone gave R50,000 ($6,046) for it. Because the house and inside look so neat because of their hard work, people might think they do not need anything, but that look of amazement on Betsy's face when she received the money sent by your subscribers told us another story.

In the future, I would like to suggest that you send any donations for the home to us and we will take it to them. Estelle is no longer at Aida Parker's and we know nothing about the new person handling Aida's affairs.

Incidentally, the Mine Workers Union/SOLIDARITY co-operates with the ANC communists.

It rained here at last (ED: It's summer there.) and how welcome it is to see green grass again. Big trees were dying, branches simply broke off to conserve the moisture the tree could still find and so few had very many leaves. Some cornfields seemed to have sufficient rain but many areas suffer.

I hope to write soon about the Dutch Reformed Church. Except for a few exceptions, they aren't Christian.

ZUNDEL: ANTI-WAR CRITIC DEPORTED

Ernst Zundel, outspoken anti-war critic and free-speech advocate, was arrested, handcuffed, and deported to Canada.

It is expected that a Canadian anti-free speech tribunal will turn him over to German authorities who will imprison him for five years for exercising his free-speech rights in that country.

Zundel had used his extensive internet and newsletter outreach to carry his articles and commentaries to hundreds of thousands worldwide. His jailing in Canada effectively removes a major Bush war critic.

The government's excuse is that Zundel failed to appear at an immigration hearing. In fact, Zundel's lawyer, unable to appear, asked for a rescheduling. The request was unanswered. It was repeated several times over two years, to no avail.

Using his "failure to appear" as an excuse, government agents arrived at his home in Tennessee where he lives with his wife, an American citizen, refused to allow him to call his attorney, handcuffed him, and transported him to Canada - a clear case of government "entrapment" that rids the administration of a vocal anti-war voice.

NEWS FROM ASIA

SAXON WHORES IN ASIA: SBSTV Sunday June 30, 202, 12:25AM "Tokyo Girls" (2000) Documentary. (55 minutes). National Film Board of Canada. Follows four white Canadian bar "hostesses" as they "service" clients in Tokyo, Japan.

Hillary, a blonde 24 year old from Vancouver works at One-Eyed Jacks. "I (hostessed) for 6 months to pay off a student loan. Lots of girls forget why they came. They spend all their money on parties and drugs. Jamie hostessed 1991-94. "It's a prestige thing. If a Japanese is seen with a tall blonde Western (white) woman, he's seen as possessing something others couldn't". She boasts: "I was making US$1,000 a night. I was there to make money." She became mistress to a Yakuza (Japanese mafia). "He showered me with gifts. US$10,000 cash and a US$60,000 Rolex watch." He bought her a luxury Tokyo apartment. She robbed his bank accounts and escaped to Thailand.

Dhana hostessed 1989-93. Married "Niko", a rich customer who pursued her for years. Ironically they married just as Japanese economy collapsed in 1997. He's now penniless. Dhana works to support him. Nancy Caroline Perrault is a 27 year old French-Canadian (and the only one to give her full name). Came to Japan as a waitress. After a month was offered more money if she'd hostess. Now has Japanese "boyfriend". Wants to take him home with her to Montreal.

Eventually customers demand sex. Maria, a Filipino hostess club manager says, "Years ago a lot of Asians worked in Japanese hostess clubs. Now its lots of Europeans, Canadians and Russians. Mostly blonde girls". Tomoko is a graduate student in Gender Studies. Claims there are "1,000 hostess clubs in Tokyo alone".

Should be re-titled "Tips to Prospective White Whores to Asia.." Ironically, the film is made by an all-girl, government-funded production team. It appears that the world's most multiculturalist government seeks to include unemployed white women among Canada's exports. Chapter 343

IRAQATTACK

I have children and grandchildren. Their children and grandchildren will be fighting the war that the Cartel has casually started in its search for loot and victims.

The War Against Iraq

Iraq, Kosovo, Iraq again - put the survivors in the docket and try them for war crimes. Invade and stomp Panama, take its president, charge him with a crime, jail and forget him. Kill 2 million Vietnamese, have their government trade the abandoned and confiscated property of former owners for war-material. Same with China - but there the toll was tens of millions. Kill the Russian Tzar and millions of land owners. Nationalize their land - then privitize it when the time is right.

Rape South Africa a century ago, pay surrogates to do it again now; destroy, rape; kill the leaders, take their land; garrison the conquered lands. Hello, Rome!

Ho Hum! What's the excitement? Something new? Something we've missed? I don't think so.

Being a Southerner I know the drill. The Cartel put us through the same - just like today's "Iraqattack". But, somehow, it gets old.

When camel drivers charge down the street waving swords crying "Allah Akbar" - defend yourself. Until then, you fight someone else's war.

Martial Law

You learn in 1st grade that the playground bully makes the rules. It carries over when you grow up.

War introduces martial law. Martial law cancels existing laws. Canceling existing laws cancels business contracts made under those laws. When contracts are nullified, everything having value is up for grabs - trade agreements, real and private property, tax tribute, extortion, bribes, slave-labor, reparations, individual freedom - freedom of speech - everything - everything is canceled and must be renegotiated - for a price.

The technique: select someone weaker who has something of value. Accuse him of wrongdoing. Force him to defend himself against something that you do to him. Then, use his self-defense as an excuse to beat the hell out him. Savage him! Beat him into the ground without mercy; burn his land, burn his cities, rape his women, kill his children, keep burning, killing and raping until he gives up; Then, keep on doing it - twist his arm 'till the pain is so great that he will agree to anything. Then:

Negotiate peace.

The US is the International Trade Cartel's "hammer". A surrogate that has been ordered to execute Iraqattack. This is the same hammer used against us in the Southland. The techniques they used on us then are almost the exact same they use today.

Rebelattack

The South sent representatives to Washington to discuss DC demands. Todays' propagandists talk about the war being over slavery and secession, but then, the big demand was that tariff-tribute be levied for the use of our own seaports.

Our representatives went to Washington to talk to them. At the very time we were talking with them, they had a Pearl Harbor type operation under way. An invading fleet was already at sea - loaded with soldiers whose plan was to storm Charleston Harbor by surprise. The negotiations were a deception, a cover-up - a fraud from the beginning.

The Northern newspapers broke the story. Treachery! Lying! How do you deal with people like that? Charlestonians fired in their own defense. The Cartel media screamed for war saying that we fired the first shot. There was nothing said about the treacherous negotiations - nothing about the invading fleet.

The Cartel media told the world that the war was about slavery. On that point they were right! When the war was over - everyone was a slave; black and white, the soldiers on both sides - the states that participated and those that didn't.

"Andersonville"

What is a looting expedition without atrocity stories to justify it?

When I was a youngster, "Andersonville" stopped conversations. Southerners talked about what had been done to them - burning, rape, robbery, confiscations - . Our opponents answered with one word, "Andersonville".[1] That did it. The conversation ended. Everything that was done to us was justified because we committed atrocities. They hanged the camp commandandt after a kangaroo war crimes trial.

They didn't mention that Lincoln was the cause of Andersonville. That it was he who discontinued prisoner exchange and the parole system that allowed captured soldiers to go home until exchanged - the system that prevented the horrors of prisons. The media didn't mention that Northern POWs in Southern camps got the same rations as Southern soldiers. They didn't mention that in Northern camps Southern POWs were denied the same rations as Northern soldiers and the result was that while the Northern prisons held fewer Southern POWs - more of them died than Northerners died in Southern prisons.

1 The Germans have "Auschwitz". South African Boers have the slaughter of wounded British soldiers in a hospital. Same accusations by the same people. Different bells and whistles. At best a half-truth. At worst - an outright lie.

Lincoln also cursed his own soldiers in Andersonville by forbidding medicines being sent to them. Naturally, when Sherman cut off the food supply to the camp - chaos resulted. Chaos resulted again when US planes destroyed trains carrying food to German prison camps.

The same story is being told today. It hasn't changed. The media still says that everything that has happened to us was our own fault. We got what we deserved. They speak of "The Fort Pillow Massacre" without a word of truthful explanation! Media truth? Hah!

Nothing has changed. Cartel truth are the words spoken by FBI Agent Ricks, the FBI Waco spokesman. Truth is the media filming the FBI agents dancing around shouting "Texas Barbecue" as the women and children burned! Truth at Ruby Ridge is shooting a dog, shooting a son in the back, shooting the mother in the face while she was holding her baby in her arms. Then, naming the FBI camp at the foot of the mountain after the mother they had just murdered. "It was their own fault."

Those who controlled the media then control it now.

Reconstruction

Iraq, let me tell you what you have to look forward to - after tearing you apart they say that they are going to help you rebuild. They are already talking about "Reconstruction".

Yes indeed. "Reconstruction". That's where the Cartel gets its pay for tearing you apart.

After tearing up Panama, they said they were going to rebuild it. They said the same about Yugoslavia, and Afghanistan. For that matter, they said the same about Germany and Japan after WWII. Don't hold your breath. Take it from all of us - they aren't going to "reconstruct" a thing until the cartel gets their pint of blood.

In America, the cartel media told the North about the humanitarian help they were giving to help Southern reconstruction. Thanks! The only aid I am aware of was partial payment to repair the Goldvein Baptist Church near Kelly's Ford. The invading hordes had used it to stable horses. Nothing was done to repair the graveyard used as a corral, whose headstones were carted away to make room for horses and used to fill road potholes. Little or nothing was done to rebuild the thousands of burned homes throughout the countryside, the tens of thousands of barns and countless businesses wantonly burned, or to care for the tens of thousands of widows and orphans who were near starving. But, they paid for the partial rebuilding of the Goldvein Baptist Church. A fact reported again and again by their media.

Consolidating Conquest

To consolidate the "Reconstruction" job that the Cartel is going to do on you if they can, there is one more item that must be in place. Like the Romans before them, our conquerors built forts throughout the Southland to contain any revolt by its robbed victims to reclaim their stolen property. As a seeming gesture of good will - these these forts were named after Southern war heroes - Fort Picket, Hill, Lee, etc. - but, who's kidding who - we understand. The forts still guard the loot they confiscated 130 odd years ago - and similar forts are doing the same today in 135 other countries around the world.

Details

"Reconstruction". Our case included passing laws so we couldn't vote and establishing newspapers to control our choice of whom we voted for when at last we were allowed to vote. "Reconstruction" included tolerating an on going black crime wave across the rural Southern countryside and protected it with Federal soldiers. Removing this crime wave had to be negotiated - the price was a stiff one.

Trade was "reconstructed". The lion's share of the Southern cotton trade was given to cartel interests in Egypt and India. Land taxes were introduced to a people who had no way to pay them. Cartel usury banks sprouted like mushrooms over the conquered land lending money to destitute farmers needing tax- money. "The borrower is slave ..."

Cartel land companies seized our land at the on going tax-sales. Dispossessed farmers moved to rapidly growing shanty towns on the way to becoming cities to work for starvation wages in Cartel plants - plants moved from the relatively high wage North to the cheap- labor South - earning for Southerners the hatred of unemployed Northern workmen. Preview to NAFTA?

Differential freight rates were imposed which charged more to ship goods from Richmond to NY than from NY to Richmond.

President Jefferson Davis was jailed to await a war crimes and treason trial. General Robert E. Lee was indicted. Our land was gone, our wealth was gone. Yeah, "Reconstruction". This is "Reconstruction". Hold your breath, Iraq - your turn is next.

Heart To Heart

Iraqi Sons-of-Esau, it's time we had a "heart to heart". We two are quite different. You are sons of Esau - we are sons of Jacob. It appears to us that under normal conditions you can't even get along with your own people, so, there is no way we are going to get along in the future. However, there is no reason we can't see eye to eye on certain things. After all, doesn't Islam teach, "The enemy of my enemy is my friend".

The Way We See Things

I have a question - do the things I have just related describe the teachings of our God, the WORD made flesh, and whom you look on as the prophet you call "Jesus"? Is it just possible that you have the same problem in your land that we have?

Just the other day I took this story off of one of your sites on the internet. A Muslim woman is telling a story:

> "One day, my eldest daughter asked her father, 'Why don't you bring us cassettes of the great clerics... the Sheikh of Al-Azhar, the Egyptian mufti, or Al-Azhar University professors, whom I heard my cousin praise?' My husband's answer was most peculiar: 'They are agents of the unbelieving government; they rule as [it] orders and speak its words... There is no place in my house for cassettes of these people'..." (The Islam Review (http://www.IslamReview.com) The Egyptian Wife)

So! Your government, your preachers, your professors - they do the same to your people that our government, preachers and professors do in our lands to our people.

In our lands, Saxons follow the teachings of the WORD or they follow the edicts of the Government. One or the other.

Our so-called "Christian" churches, with few exceptions, are like yours - they are State Churches whose preachers get tax-exemption to censor God's Commandments. They teach state proclamations in place of the WORD. If the WORD conflicts - they eliminate the WORD and proclaim the kings' latest!

In essence, our vaunted "Christian" religion is nothing but a state religion. This is the same religion that allowed the devastation of the Southland, of South Africa, Germany, Panama, Bosnia and others. It obviously is not the teachings of the WORD.

Whose teaching is it then?

The WORD tells us;

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

We have seen their acts. Now, let us trace their acts to the god who allows such things. Then, we will see the face of our oppressor.

America's State Religion

Scripture says that God threw the Serpent out of the garden and it landed in India. We searched India. Our search found Brahma. Brahma has two sons, Vishnu and Siva. Siva is the more popular by far. Like Brahma, Siva has many faces - many manifestations. The most widely known, the most popular, and the most widely worshiped is the manifestation called Kali. Kali destroys so that what is destroyed may be rebuilt.

AMERICA - BEHOLD YOUR GOD

Kali

"Kali", Goddess of Destruction, the most terrible and malignant of the gods. She is the malignant aspect of her consort Siva. She is seen as the spirit of evil. She is described as having:

* Long ragged locks. This is why the WORD commands;

> "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll (moderately cut) their heads." EZ 44:22

Worshipers of Buddha shave their heads. Worshipers of Kali have long locks. The two extremes. The American army used to give skin-head type haircuts; hippies had long greasy hair. Followers of the WORD are permitted only moderate hair cuts which advertise their obedience to neither of the others and obedience to the WORD.

Again, note the long hair and the universalist "world-force" circle about Kali's head.[2]

* Fang-like teeth. Vampire movies reveal more than mere horror movies.

* Lips dripping blood. Kali drinks blood. "Ye shall not eat anything with the blood." Lev 19:26; "It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations that you eat neither fat nor blood." Lev 3:17 (Deut 14:1-21, Lev 11:12-30)

* Long finger nails.

* 10 - 18 arms - although often portrayed with four.

* Fire in one hand. Symbol of destruction.

* Sword with skull impaled.

* Drum in hand - representing the rhythm of sexual intercourse.

* Necklace of skulls or severed heads.

* Belt of severed arms.

* Earrings of children's corpses. An imperative for abortion and starvation of children.

* Snakes as bracelets.

* Half naked - black skin: Many Kali cults are whore-houses (today's Hollywood might be considered an example). To followers of Kali devils are white while black is holy. Black is worshiped solely because it is black. Blacks are worshiped, not because of their intelligence, goodness, or excellence, but because they are black. Kali worshipers worldwide worship both black and Blacks - because they are

2 The WORD's 2nd Commandment states: 2. "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven (sculptured, engraved) image." Ex 20:4. Any likeness of the WORD is forbidden. The disobedient make graven images of "The WORD made flesh" and portray these images having Kali's "long hair" and the circle of "the world force" behind her head. Paint over Kali's face with a face of a counterfeit "Jesus", conceal the necklace of heads and severed arms with a brahman robe, and "presto" - you have the king's god - which is the god worshiped by most state churches.

black. Black is the color followers of the WORD traditionally accord the devil.

> "God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4

Conclusion

If man will not worship God, he must worship man. Man-worship is represented by government edicts that violate the WORD. Government edicts are obeyed and worshiped in preference to the Commandments of God the WORD.

It is plain for everyone to see; Kali-like government edicts are created by those who follow Kali. Kali destroys so that what is destroyed may be rebuilt. But, since Kali has been elevated above all others - destruction and death have become an end in itself. They are perpetual.

The Serpents' money and media have given the rulers of the world their exalted positions. They worship their benefactor - Kali - manifestation of death and destruction.

Kali leads the 4-horsemen of the Apocalypse.

> "And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that [were] on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD." Jos 24:15

Each nation has its god. Islam has its god - ours is the WORD. Our common enemy is Kali who rules us both with her cold hand of death. And the kings, the priests and the great merchants like it so.

"There is nothing new under the sun." Ecclesiastes 1:9

UNDERSTANDING RACE

Understanding race can be difficult or simple. Simple is easier.

Risking oversimplification - I see the world divided into the world of Esau and the world of Jacob.[3]

Jacob is descended from Noah who is descended from Adam-man. Jesus, "the WORD made flesh" called himself "Son-of-man" and said "I am not sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel". Many of the books of the Bible are addressed to Son-Of-Man.[4]

The WORD commands; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2 The parable of the "Good Samaritan" and the "Ethiopian" show that strangers can be blessed in-so-far as they are obedient to the WORD. If these same strangers disobey the WORD - they will be cursed according to the WORD.[5]

Esau is the lawless son. He married a Canaanite. His descendants married Arabs and Turks. Today his descendants are thoroughly mixed with practically every people in the world - except Adam-man.[6] Adam-man who mixes with Esau becomes Esau. Esau is Esau-Edom - the Edomites.

3 Japath the Slav is to abide in the tents of Shem. This is a special situation.

4 Heb: "adam" - those who blush rosy. Strong's Concordance

5 For instance, "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 18:7, No 1:51. The "Good Samaritan" could have turned his blessing into a curse by trying to enter the tabernacle or by trying to enter the congregation of Israel.

Edomites are the ancient merchant wanderers of the great African, Mid and Far-East deserts. Most have different tribal names given to them by the Chinese who named them according to their invasions of China. Some Edomite tribes actually conquered China and mixed their blood with the Chinese. Some conquered India and mixed their blood with them. Making all Edomites.

Religion:

Some converted to Islam; some converted to Judaism; some converted to Christianity, others became Hindu. Esau is not identified by religion. Esau has adopted all religions.

Conquests:

Esau's Muslim converts conquered Arabia, India, the Mid-East, North Africa, and much of Southern Europe - leaving these lands mixed with the blood of Esau. The Southern Spanish, Southern Italians and Sicilians spread the blood of Esau to America - especially S. America, Mexico and the cities of N. America. Arab traders spread their blood throughout Black Africa. The result is that today the world is basically either Esau or Jacob. The possible exceptions are almost not worth mentioning.

We see the yellow skinned Chinaman, the black skinned African, the tan mixed-breed Mexican Mestezo - but they are all equally "Esau". Esau's blood flows in their veins. Your eyes tell you that they are not Adam-man. Passing their acts through the filter of the WORD tells you what they are when your eyes cannot.

6 Once Adam-man mixes his blood with non-man - the mixed product is excluded from the congregation of Israel-man according to the WORD. This exclusion is forever - both here and the hereafter.

Jews:

Jews are Esau. Talmudic Jews basically belong to one of two Hindu castes - brahmin priests - and cartel managers. They have bred freely with everything in sight including Esau - which makes them Esau. Their defining mark is first their caste and then their belief-system. There are Yellow and Black Jews. There are Jews who appear white - but aren't. The ones Westerners are most familiar with are both dark and light racial types. Some call them Sephardic and Ashkenazic but that mostly describes their history rather than looks. .

Ashkenazic Jews:

"White" Edomite Jew are often blond, round skulls at the line of the hat brim - and "Jewish" in religion, and are called "Ashkenazic". These are mostly descended from the survivors of the extinct Khazarian Empire now reconstituted under the name "Zionist".

These Turks, former wanderers of the Russian steppes, furnish loud-mouth rabble rousers such Irv Rubin and revolutionaries such as Karl Marx, Trotsky and Lenin.

So-called "Black Ashkenazic" Edomite Turkic Jews, are considered by some to simply be dark-skinned mixed-breeds of the Indian merchant caste who attached themselves to the white Khazarian Turks of southern Russia.

Sephardic Jews

Sephardic Jews are the same dark-skinned Indian mixed-breeds that moved west in the company of other Turkic migrations. This is the merchant caste who, in the employ of the Catholic Church, managed church banks, operated their commercial ventures, and collected taxes for church appointed kings. They owe their black hair and dark skin to north India, and claim between 5% and 10% negroid blood.[7]

Both black and white "Jews" are subservient to the rules of their Hindu caste system and "religious" beliefs concealed under Sadducee/Babylonian religious customs and beliefs. They are a deceptive people. Ideal cartel banking, media and commerce managers.

Summary

The above is to provide background. It is based on study of Jewish history and Jewish opinions - opinions which often disagree. The following may be useful when attempting to answer those whose understanding is still in its formative stage:

 Jacob is Lawful - Esau is unlawful. The WORD ordered Jacob to enforce God's Law. Enforcing God's Law condemns a disproportionate number of the children of Esau. Therefore Esau opposes the enforcement of Jacob's Law - especially capital punishment.

However, the fact remains, the WORD demands that Jacob enforce the WORD. It's not an option. The penalty for not enforcing the WORD is annihilation:

7 "Nearly all Jewish communities show a substantial proportion of African Negroid marker genes, such as to imply a total Negro admixture of the order of 5% to 10%." The Genetics Of The Jews, (Clarendon Press, Oxford, 1978, A.E.Mourant (Gothic Ripples, March 1996, Thorgarth, Greenhow Hill, Harrogate, HG3 5JQ, England £4.50/yr.)

"For the people did not turn to Him ... neither did they seek the Lord of Armies. Therefore God will cut off from Israel head and tail, tail and head, in one day." Isaiah 9:13-17; "Thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people." I Ki 21:42

* When someone wishes to discuss "Jews" - first, make him tell you what kind of "Jew" it is that he wants to discuss; Does he wish to discuss Egyptian-Jews, Arab-Jews, Syrian Jews, Greek Jews, Khazarian Jews or Israelite Jews? Most of these different peoples lived in Palestine at the time of Jesus. They ALL were called "Jews" by the Romans because the Roman province was called Judea. Most people who want to talk about Jews don't know what they are talking about. Don't allow yourself to be sidetracked - keep to history and the WORD. Repeat God's Commandments. Discuss Jacob-Israel vs Esau. Discuss the problem today which is the WORD of our God vs the unLawful demands of Esau's gods. Remember; "No bastard.." Read your history. Keep it simple. One person at a time - one at a time.

LETTERS

S. AFRICA RAPE: Dear Sir; "If you come across a rapist on top of your wife and you shoot at him, you will go to jail. According to our government's ruling you will be arrested for murder, attempted murder or manslaughter and the chances of being released on bail are minimal." (Albert Ruthenberg, letter to the Citizen, S. Africa, Oct 1, 2003)

HOT SHOTS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Your "Black Sniper" HR rings a bell here. In spite of the occasional exceptional black marksman you mention, most are poor shots. The Citizen of Jan 30, 2003 reports that here in South Africa only 16 black soldiers were able to get one out of 2800 shots fired to hit the target they were aiming at. Considering that S. Africa's black soldiers are involved in aiding revolutions all over southern Africa - this should make one stop and think. It explains how a single farmer is able to stand off 30 attackers. Could it be hereditary?" T. H. - S. Africa

KURDS

Turkey's highest court banned the main Kurdish party, saying it's tied to separatist rebels. The threat of war in Iraq is kindling new fear of Kurdish nationalism. (Investors Business Daily, a2, Mar 14, 2003)

RKH: There is never a protest by ITC dominated states when separatist states or separatist peoples are suppressed and incorporated into a cartel state. It is cartel policy worldwide to suppress all separatists and incorporate them into an International Trade Cartel state.

UNFILTERED NEWS

BANTUS: The U.S. State Department is importing Bantus to America and plans to resettle them in 43 cities. At least one city has opposed plans to accept Bantus, the City Council in Holyoke, Mass, voted in October to reject nearly $1 million in federal money. Bantus are primitive black subsistence farmers in Africa. Most have never seen a stove, bathtub, or bar of soap. Many cannot enter a room because they can't work doorknobs. (Story in Atlanta Journal-Constitution, B2, Feb 23, 2003)

RKH: The Lawless effort by America's cartel rulers to force Saxons to live with strangers complies with Asoka's "Rock Edict #VII" on "open housing" - the Hindu law which mandates that members of all religions may live where they please. It also violates the WORD which commands; "Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31-33.

WITCH DOCTORS: Michael Jackson, allegedly paid a witch doctor $150,000 to place a curse on David Geffen and Steven Spielberg for not giving him the lead in Peter Pan, according to a story in the News & Advance, p.2, March 5, 2003.

RKH: We have our God - blacks have theirs. Most black gods manifest themselves as copies of black Shiva-Kali - sex, violence, voodoo-magic, kill, rape and destroy. They often call their god "Jesus" or "Allah", but their Jesus and Allah are names they have given Shiva-Kali - the god of destruction and sex. "By their acts ..."

BLACK VIEW: "Of course, who was on whose side wasn't so cut and dried. While the U.S. was pouring weapons into Iraq, it was also clandestinely supplying weapons to Iran (the infamous Contra affair) as well as information about Communist threats. Its chief ally in the region, Israel, was also supplying Iran with weapons." Morpheus, The Final Call, (Black Islam) p. 23, Oct 22, 2002.

IRV RUBIN: Died in a Los Angeles Hospital." (Investors Business Daily, p. 2, Nov 15, 2002)

RKH: I ran into Irv Rubin in Nebraska at a farm rally several years ago. He and a burly bodyguard were standing 200 yards away watching the building in which a meeting of farmers was taking place. I didn't recognize him and invited him to join the group. He declined, having a better understanding of farmers' temper at having their farms stolen by the usury-banks than I did.

In my opinion, Rubin was a nasty but brave sort. He went after anyone he thought opposed Jewish interests. His police rap sheet was as long as your arm and consisted of assaults, bombings and mayhem. He is believed to have been responsible for the deaths of more than one of his opponents. He was a disciple of Rabbi Kahani whose followers are responsible for numerous atrocities in Palestine.

ANTI-MUSLIM: Tampa, Fla. - Dr. Robert J. Goldstein, a foot specialist, was arrested and charged with possessing a non- registered destructive device and attempting to use an explosive to damage and destroy Islamic centers. Goldstein is suspected of a plot to blow up dozens of mosques and an Islamic education center. He had expertise and firepower to carry it out, police said. Police discovered his cache of up to 40 weapons, including .50-caliber machine guns and sniper rifles. They also uncovered more than 30 explosive devices, including hand grenades and a 5- gallon gasoline bomb with a timer attached. (Story in Oakland Press, Aug 25, 2002, A-18)

BIG BROTHER-SODOMITES: New York - "Big Brothers told its 490 affiliates to give openly gay and lesbian volunteers an equal chance to serve as one-on-one mentors to children." (Detroit Free Press, Aug 16, 2002)

NEWS FROM MIDEAST

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER: In November, a Predator drone targeted and destroyed a vehicle in Yemen carrying six suspected al-Qaida operatives.

Let's run that by again. There's a law on the books in Virginia forbidding people from rigging booby-traps in their homes that might hurt intruders. This Predator drone was not rigged in the US but in someone else's home. It is an unthinking piece of machinery like a shotgun rigged to a trip-cord. It was flying over a sovereign state and it killed people only "suspected" of wrongdoing.

NEWS FROM AMERICA

HAPPY: 84% of adults surveyed said that doing work they loved was more important than making money, and 88 % said they valued health and a happy home life above wealth. (NY Times, p.8, March 30, 2003)

TROOPS WHITE: The American troops likeliest to fight and die in a war against Iraq are disproportionaly white, not black - contradicting a belief widely held since the early days of the Vietnam War. While blacks are 12% of the population and furnish 20% of the military they make up only 10.8% of combat infantrymen, 2% of Air Force pilots, 2.5% of navy pilots and 5% of Green Berets. This is why the WORD says "Your body is the temple of God ... ye are not your own." 1 Co 6:19 Smoking and drinking reveals the tip of the iceberg. Chapter 344

GINNY GEDDES Knew
Milk From Meat

St. Giles

It happened in St. Giles Cathedral.

The preacher started to read from the Anglican prayer book. Enraged, little Ginny Geddes reached down, picked up a prayer stool, and threw it at the preacher's head - and everyone stood and walked out. That's what happened.

It was all because the preacher read from the prayer book!

What's wrong with reading from a prayer book?

Nothing. Nothing was wrong with the Episcopal prayer book. Nothing except that the king had ordered the preacher to read the Prayer Book in order to censor those parts of the Bible that the king found objectionable.

The Bible had to be censored. Unless the Bible is censored - kings can't rule. Why? Because the Bible says that we are not to have kings.

Unless the Bible is censored, there can be no monopoly ownership of land because the Bible says that the land is to be divided and never sold, and we are not to have monopolies.

Unless the Bible is censored, we learn that we are not to be taxed; we learn that usurers are to be put to death; we learn that we are not to have strangers in the land and we are to obey God rather than man.

That's why we have the censorship. The fact is - if the un-censored WORD is taught and obeyed - the king, his priests and the great merchant managers of cartel wealth would be out of business. It would bring about the day when "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

To prevent his subjects from learning the prohibitions that would put him out of business - the king ordered the prayer book read rather than the Bible. Ginny Geddes and everyone else there knew that was what the preacher was doing. He was preaching the "milk" from the prayer book - milk having the royal stamp of approval. The part of the WORD that curtails episcopacies - every episcopacy except the WORD itself - that is the "meat". The meat had been censored out so the king might live. That is why Ginny Geddes threw the stool at the preachers' head, and that's why everyone walked out. They knew what the preacher was doing.

The Classical World

King Asoka, whose dynasty had been put on the throne by India's Hindu priesthood, conquered separatist Buddhism by first accepting it, then changing it into Buddhist/Hinduism, and then making it a state religion.

Asoka bragged that he had conquered the Greeks. With Greek and Roman names, the Greek and Roman gods became mirror images of the Indian gods. The Greeks and Romans brought these gods to Judea where they well nigh corrupted the whole land. It was then Jesus Christ returned the WORD to captive Israel.

To stamp out the WORD the establishment reacted in its usual manner. First, it killed Jesus and persecuted his followers. This didn't work. The WORD continued to spread - impacting the trade of the Roman Empire.

Persecution failed, so the "Asoka Pre-empt Plan" went into action. Rome's ruling cartel changed the organized Roman religion into the organized Christian religion. It was an overnight thing - just as Buddhism had been organized into Buddhist/Hinduism in India.

Constantine

Constantine, the Roman emperor, changed Christianity by embracing it, organizing it, and making it the official religion of the Roman Empire. Roman Provinces were renamed "Dioceses" and Roman priests became Christian state-priests. In India, Asoka pretended to be a Buddhist - Constantine didn't even pretend to be Christian. It is said that he converted to Christianity on his death bed. At least that's what we are told. It wouldn't do to have the founder of the re-engineered Roman state-religion refuse to accept the very religion he had created.

Hindu Rituals Move West

The WORD that caused the trouble had no symbol by which it could be identified and no rituals except two - "baptism" and the "Lord's Supper". Christians could be identified only by their obedience to the WORD.

The newly created state-religion replacement advertised itself as "Christian". It kept the interesting stories and parables of the WORD, but it censored the "meat" of the WORD - those teachings that were destroying Roman trade.

To replace the "meat" extracted from the WORD - Constantine's replacement religion added rituals copied straight from the merchant's Hindu mother religion:

* processions
* parading relics
* body parts for relics
* incense to feed the gods
* shaven heads
* celibate priests
* pointed hats
* works for merit
* robes
* idols
* rosaries
* candles
* racial integration
* tax exemption
* monasteries & convents
* missionaries
* holy water
* male & female priests
* saints
* auricular confession
* pilgrimages

And sandwiched inside - usury banking.

If anything else is needed to indicate the religion's place of origin - it would be the temples. Hindus build their temples with domes or steeples. The dome, (or steeple) is itself an object of worship. It represents Siva's "linga" - his sex organ. Siva is a sex god. The WORD requires no such ritual.

The WORD

Rome's new state-religion selected a number of religious manuscripts, copied them into a Bible, and banned the unused ones. It declared itself the custodian of this Bible it had created and its truths. It then banned the reading of this book. It declared that the state-church itself would determine the portions to be taught. This prevented the teaching of the "meat" of the WORD that had caused the international merchant so much trouble.

Reformation

Over the ages there have been many priests of the Roman state- church who tried to teach the "meat" along with the "milk" of the WORD. Most were killed. But, always there remained priests who tried - and the revolts continued.

In the 1500s, a major revolt occurred that we call the Reformation. Millions died in the wars that followed.

Counter-Reformation

The Reformation Wars ended from exhaustion after 30 years. By the end of 100 years, the Reformation itself had with a few exceptions come to an end. In matters of trade and money, things were basically where they had been before.

The major exception was that others had gotten themselves a cut of the cartel's operation. The Protestant kings took over as collectors of tribute and managers of cartel land and in time England found a way to get a cut of the usury banking.

Superficially, it appeared that Constantine's universalist religion had fragmented. Certain rituals were discarded and some of the more glaring ecclesiastical abuses were stopped. The major benefit to the people was that the Bible could now be read by anyone who wanted to. Religion was blamed for the wars - but religion was only part of the reason.

It's interesting to note that the Catholic Counter-Reformation was brought about under the guidance of a carbon copy of the Hindu "Dharmamatras" - called "Jesuits" in the West. Like the Hindu Dharmamatras, Jesuits convert others by becoming part of the group they wish to convert.

As a result of their work, the protestant return to the merchant's universalism was relatively painless and bloodless. They only know that whereas they were once intolerant of things condemned by the WORD - they now are tolerant of them.

America's King & High Priest

Here, the High Priest of America's state religion swears on a Bible that he will enforce the laws of the gods of the countless races that he helped bring into the country. To do this, he demands that everyone "tolerate" everyone else's gods. When the laws of different gods conflict, the judges he appointed to represent the more important gods will referee.

America's Constantine priests watched the king appoint aliens to judge us[1] and said nothing.[2] Now they wring their hands weeping crocodile tears because these followers of alien gods have banned our God the WORD.

The king's government awards tax-exemption, loans, and large donations to religious leaders who agree NOT to teach the meat of the WORD - the Commandments of the WORD forbidding "taxes", "monopolies", "undivided land", "strangers in the land" and "miscegenation". In fact, it's amusing to watch priests who suppress the WORD fall over themselves to lick his shoes.

Prince Charles: Next "Defender of the Faith", "Supreme Governor of the Church of England", Leader of the Episcopal Church worldwide. "A man cannot serve two masters". This one is trying to serve several.

His Royal Highness

The heir apparent to the throne and head of the British Empire's state-religion, makes no attempt to hide his gods. He sports a third eye painted on his forehead and prays in Hindu temples.

His "outing" is creating something of a stir among those who disapprove of such things.

The upcoming Coronation Ceremony is commented on by the TKC magazine in the following manner:

1 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

2 "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17; "And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and [is] a witness, whether he hath seen or known [of it]; if he do not utter [it], then he shall bear his iniquity." Le 5:1 6

God's Representative by TKC

"The current movement in Britain to re-write the Coronation Ceremony for Prince Charles could perpetrate a crisis of epic proportion.

"The former Bishop of Durham, Right Rev. David Jenkins has been spearheading such a move for about three years. Dr. David Hope, Archbishop of York, number two in the Church of England hierarchy, has thrown his support towards changes that will result in a secular multifaith "installation ceremony."

This is Diana, the late spouse of Charles. It is a matter of some debate who in the Household Guard she didn't sleep with. Whoredom is permitted by several of the gods whose "third-eye" she wears.

"The group of reformers wants a role for the Roman Catholic and Methodist Churches, the Chief Rabbi and a representative of Islam instead of the exclusive leadership of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

"It is proposed that the eucharist be removed from the ceremony.

"Such reforms would throw into question the establishment of the Church of England and the monarch's role as Defender of the Faith and Supreme Governor of the Church of England. The monarch is Supreme Governor by virtue of being sovereign. ..." (From "TKC", Vol 13, No 3)

Here we have a Protestant Archbishop of the Anglican Church and a pope of the Roman church in a tight conversation. Can you guess what they might have in common?

Anglican Archbishop & Pope Paul VI

Patriarch of Constantinople & Roman Pope

Even more interesting - the Catholic Church split into Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic divisions which have been at each other's throats ever since. They appear to be getting along here.

This is an interesting group. A group of Lutherans and a group of Catholics meeting to iron out differences. Forgotten are the wars between their ancestors that destroyed 90% of the population of Germany.

Forgotten also is the reason for the dramatic post WWII drop-off of German Lutheran Church membership. I have read that when the Soviet Union occupied East Germany practically every other Lutheran preacher became an agent of the Soviet secret police. There must be a very good reason for them to meet.

Kaiser Wilhelm II

(Left) If this one doesn't blow your mind - I don't know what will:

"Pope Leo XIII gave evidences of friendliness toward me whenever he could ... It was of interest to me that the pope said to me on this occasion that Germany must become the sword of the Catholic Church. I remarked that the old Roman Empire of the German nation no longer existed and that conditions had changed. But he stuck to his words." (Kaiser Wilhelm II, Protestant Emperor of the German Empire[3])

Now really! A Catholic Pope offering the job of Holy Roman Emperor to a Protestant? A job of being the sword of the Catholic Church?

Remember, Wilhelm was not only Kaiser of Germany, he was also head of the Lutheran Church. He confirmed the ecclesiastical heirochy appointment of priests. If there were really a Catholic religion and really a Protestant religion whose business was primarily religion, such a thing could not happen. When a Protestant "pope" can become the sword of a Catholic "pope" - something else more important than religion is involved.

High Priest & His Far Eastern Counterpart

What can Buddhism and Catholicism have in common that would justify such a meeting? Could it be that Pope is considering becoming a Buddhist - or perhaps the Buddhist is considering becoming a Catholic? Or, perhaps the subject of their conversation has nothing to do with religion at all? It may have something to do with something that all organized religions agree on.

Buddhist patriarch & Pope Paul II

Observation

We are no longer children. The WORD that our Lord and savior brought to save us is our key to understanding:

"The Love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

It's true!

What is the thing that all these different religious leaders have in common? What do they love more than God and how do they show it?

Simple, they violate God's Commandment to get the money. They do it in spite of "If you love me obey my commandments".

The WORD says that USURY is a capital crime. (Ezek 18:13; Deu 23:20) In spite of this the Catholic and the Anglican Churches are major usury banking factors. The Methodists, Baptists, etc. are up to their necks working the usury system and they too conceal their transgressions with silence.

In India, children inherit their father's debts and generation after generation are perpetually enslaved to the lenders. The Rev. Moon comes to our country and lends to our "Christian" priests in spite of the Law:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov 22:7

The borrowers become his slaves.

What else do we see:

The Southland, the land of mostly debt-free self-sufficient farms was pulverized by invaders, taxed with no way to pay, and lent money by the invaders' usury banks to pay the taxes, and her people passed into slavery where they have languished ever since.

And what did the organized "Christian" religion say. Did its priests organize protests and warn against war with a kinsman? "Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24. No! They concealed the meat of the WORD and said nothing!

Let's read again the words of a Boer farmer written in 1902 while his country was undergoing the same:

> "The world looks on - the civilized Christian world of churches, and of preachers of the Gospel ... at this barbarous spectacle in South Africa, with about as much real indignation as if Lord Kitchener and his 220,000 troops were inflicting all the horrors of British warfare upon a commonwealth of criminals or brigands, and not upon two little Republics made up of one of the bravest races in Europe, and of the most intensely and sincerely ... Christian people on earth ...
>
> "England has killed 14,000 Christian children, has imprisoned 45,000 Christian women in barbed wire enclosures, has devastated two Christian countries where there was less poverty and less vice than in any other Christian community in the world, and had armed savages to help her ... And yet Cardinal Vaughan,[4] in the name of the Catholic Church of England, the Archbishop of Canterbury in behalf of the Protestants, and ... the Nonconformists of the same enlightened Christian nation, piously call down God's blessing upon the arms which are killing and exterminating a little Christian nation in South Africa. And the United States, Austria, and other countries, equally Christian, enlightened, and humane, sell ... supplies to the power which wages such a war." The Boer Fight For Freedom, Michael Davitt, Funk & Wagnalls, NY, 1902.

---

4 "It is now a question of something more than of what is lawful... we realize with grateful confidence the most honorable mission with which God seems to have entrusted us ... For these purposes, you will please to reeite on Sundays, ... the prayers to be found in the 'Manual' ... and headed 'In Times of Calamity.'" Davitt.;, footnote p. 587

Conclusion

How are we to look upon these organized religions of the world whose roots are in India? - especially that of Constantine's substitute religion which includes myriad so-called "protestant" offspring? What is our relationship to them?

Is it not "slave" to "master"?

These people, who call themselves our religious leaders, are in the business of making usury loans, loans to us, usury-loans that enslave us, usury-loans made in violation of the WORD; Then;

They conceal the WORD that forbids usury - as well as the WORD forbidding monopolies, taxes, and strangers in the land, AND it is THEIR banks that own the media who elect our kings:

We now understand why they use silence to censor the meat from the WORD - the meat that forbids the horrible things they do to us. They know that if the meat of the WORD is taught - the king, his priests and the great managers of cartel wealth will be out of business. It will bring the dreaded day when they will be held accountable - "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

It is to prevent this day that they conceal the prohibitions of the WORD.

The job of Constantine's counterfeit priest is to keep us dumbed down so that we won't discover that we are being treated like animals to be harnessed and worked for their pleasure. How do we tell the true prophets of the WORD from these evil ones?

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Those who teach the meat of the WORD - that we are not to have usury, kings, monopolies, or strangers in the land - that priest teaches the meat of the WORD.

If he dispenses "milk" instead of "meat" - pick up your prayer stool and throw it at him.

Ginny Geddes did.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

"It is a real pleasure to go to the Children's Home and see how they make do.

"Something interesting. 1,500 farmers have been murdered plus a great many whites in town. Their dogs are poisoned. Ten dogs in two days in Benaai last week and 12 in Verwoerdburg. Only four survived eating meat laced with agriculture pesticide. The homes these dogs protected are later robbed.

"The HNP holds regular day camps to prepare people to defend themselves and their property in the expected chaos predicted to come. The commando militias were abolished. There is hope that former commandos will now join the HNP security sections so that with God's help we can escape becoming a second Haiti.

"Christianity is being removed form schools and history is being changed. Things like 'Piet Retief raped Dingaan's daughter and that was why he and his men were massacred.'

"An English lady in the HNP (Boer political party) knew Aida Parker, who recently died. She said that Aida had a wealthy mother. She studied journalism at Wits University. While there she married a Jewish fellow and they had a son. It was then she discovered that to return to her people she had to leave both her husband and her mixed breed child - and she did.[5] After that she spent all her time in journalism.

FBI Lies

On February 26, 2003, I received a telephone call from a friend in Norfolk. He said that a public school had just held an assembly on "Foreign and Domestic Terrorism". The speaker was a retired FBI agent named Irvin Wells, a member of the "Society of Former FBI Special Agents". An entire section of his presentation was dedicated to Richard Kelly Hoskins. He told the students that Mr. Hoskins had been indicted and although the case did not reach court, Richard Kelly Hoskins was sentenced to life in prison.

Since I am Richard Kelly Hoskins, and I am not in prison, have not been indicted, and have not been accused of terrorism by any credible authority, I called the principal to learn more. The principal's secretary took the call and asked who I was and the subject to be discussed. I told her. She said that the principal was out of the office but would return my call shortly.

Not having my call returned, I called again the next day, and the next and the next. At last, I told the secretary that if I did not hear from the principal shortly that he would have to deal with my lawyer.

Within 20 minutes the phone rang. It was the former FBI agent Irvin Wells. I questioned the truthfulness of his accusations. He said that he must have gotten faulty information. He was vague about his sources.

5 "A mixed breed shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." De 23:2; "They have delt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (zuwr - racial alien) children." Hosea 5:7: "Separate yourselves from the people of the land and from the strange wives..." Ezek 10:10-14; "Put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the ... commandment of our God." Ezek 10:2-3.

I found this Irvin Wells a personable sort. He was a Virginian and had gone to VMI where he was brother-rat with my first cousin whom he knew.

We got off on Ruby Ridge and Waco massacres where he stated that the victims of the FBI were the actual aggressors and got what they deserved. He appeared to believe that it was unimportant that at Ruby Ridge a boy had been shot in the back, a mother holding her baby was shot in the face. What was important was that "they had broken the law". He didn't believe for one minute that Ruby Ridge was the result of a federal "frame-up". He firmly believed that the Waco Branch Davidians got what they deserved. "They shot federal agents". He was insistent that they shot first and later committed mass suicide. He instantly discounted the heat sensitive film taken from a helicopter showing FBI shooting down Davidians as they fled the flames.

On that note, we said good-by and hung-up.

Later inquiry revealed that this Wells had been head of the FBI's Norfolk Station - a responsible position. He had also held an important position in New York. I mention this to say that while several say that he is arrogant, he is no dummy. He was in position to get correct information about Ruby Ridge, Waco, and me, even after he retired. If what he told the school children came from FBI sources - the FBI sources are in dire need of updating. If his purpose in talking to school children was to shape their opinions - he was right on the button.

It is my opinion that many people associated with the federal government use the Machiavellian principle of saying whatever will advance their agenda - truth or lie. To those people, truth and lies are just tools to be used and discarded.

The result: anything they say must be received with reservations.

"Thank you for your support.

The Lorie Youth Centre is situated in Bronkhorstspruit and currently accommodates 26 underprivileged children. The socio- economic situation in our country has led to the necessity for such a centre. The parents of these children can, for various reasons, no longer provide a healthy and safe environment for them.

"The children at the Centre are brought up within a strong Christian framework. The basis of their upbringing being obedience and love for our Heavenly Fathier, as well as discipline and gratefulness. As young as they are, the children have a happy and positive outlook on life.

"Scholastic achievement is of utmost importance to the Trustees and staff at the centre. The children are given all the support and attention necessary to assist them in their studies.

"The Loerie Youth Centre Trust was established in April 2000 by 6 business men and women who saw the desperate need to provide a stable and secure haven for the children. This is a non-profit organization and is solely the concern of

Chapter 345

NATIONAL SOCIALISM

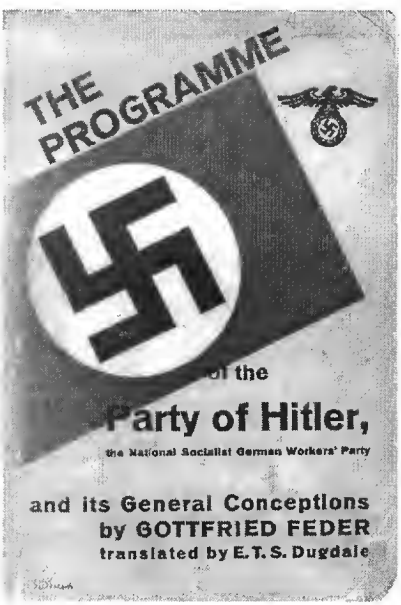
In my opinion, the difference to the ITC as to who won WWI was only a matter of degree. As it was, the Central Powers, consisting of Germany, Austria, and Turkey, lost and were dismembered to facilitate their looting. The lies, treachery, misery and outrage facilitated an effort by Germany to not only restore to Germany what had been stolen from her, but to nationalize the assets involved into the hands of individual Germans. It was this German economic Nationalism, called "National Socialism" that upset the Cartel. If allowed to succeed, it would spell the beginning of the end of the rule of the international merchant.

Richmond 1957

My wife and I had an apartment in Richmond in 1957. At that time I was an idealistic, underpaid organizer and lobbyist for The Defenders Of State Sovereignty & Individual Liberties. This group existed to resist the Federal takeover of the Virginia Public Schools. Both Virginia senators, most of her congressmen, state senators and state delegates were among its 10,000 dues-paying members.

One night a fellow came by our 3rd floor walk-up apartment in the Fan District. We talked politics and he gave me a booklet entitled "The Program of the National Socialist German Workers' Party, by Gottfried Feder. It was issued February 1920 - only six months after the NSGWP was organized.

I read it and put it aside to read again later. Fifty years passed and the other day I found it in my library, dusted it off and read it again. It contains a wealth of information about the German program to convert Germany from multi-national into a national state; transfer government-owned assets to a farm-oriented society - and do it in such a manner that Germany would not be destroyed in the process.



The NS Plan outlined in the booklet contained 25 points - which I condensed to fit in this newsletter.

THE 25 POINTS of the National Socialist Workers Party

Announced on Feb 25, 1920[1]

1. Union of all Germans.

2. Equal rights with other nations. Abolition of Treaty of Versailles.

3. Return of land and colonies on which to settle surplus population. (The land seized by the allies in WWI)

4. Only those of German blood may be citizens. (Perhaps half the countries of the world have a similar requirement.)

5. Non-citizens are guests only.

6. Voting is limited to citizens. Appointment to government positions by merit - not political party.

7. The State must promote industry and employment. Foreigners excluded from the state.

8. Non-German immigration forbidden. Non-Germans required to leave.

9. Citizens equal in rights and duties.

10. Citizens must contribute mental or physical labor for the good of the nation. This was necessary to dismantle the 1000 year old German caste system where one caste lived from another's efforts.

---

1 NOTE: Germans are Saxons. "German" is a name given Saxons living beyond Gaul by the Romans. It means the "germane", "genuine", or "true" people. When the NS Party speaks of "German" the term is interpreted by Saxons worldwide as pertaining to them since Germans are overwhelmingly the greater part of the Saxon race.

11. Therefore: income not earned by work is forbidden.

12. War profiteers will be confiscated.

13. Nationalization of great multi-national corporations with ownership to rest with the workers.

14. Profits from wholesale monopolies shared.

15. Provision for old age.

16. Regulate wholesale business monopoly. Preference shown to small businesses.

17. Confiscation of trust and corporate lands without compensation; abolish interest on land loans; prohibition of land speculation.

18. Ruthless prosecution of sordid criminals - usurers punished with death.

19. Roman Law serving the materialistic world order replaced by a legal system for all Germany.

20. Availability of higher education to all regardless of caste. Development of gifted children of poor parents.

21. National health program to protect mothers and infants; prohibit child labour; encourage sports for youth.

22. Abolition of a paid army and formation of a national army.

23. To create a national Press:

(a) Editors and assistants of newspapers must be members of the nation.

(b) Non-German media shall require special permission of the state.

(c) Non-Germans shall be prohibited from financing or influencing German media. Pornography will be prosecuted.

24. Liberty for all religious denominations that aren't a danger to the morals of the German race.

25. That the government be given the power to carry out these 25 points.

The leaders of the Party swear to sacrifice their lives if necessary in securing fulfillment of the foregoing Points.

Munich Feb 24, 1920.

Comments

Certain of the "25 Points" are worth examining more closely.

#6 Voting is limited to citizens. This is standard in most alien countries of the world. Only their racial or religious kind are allowed to vote. This is especially true in Black Africa.

The Commandment of the Saxon WORD requires the same: "Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee." De 17:15. To allow strangers to vote implies that strangers also have the right to rule Saxons - a violation of God's Commandment.

7. Foreigners must be excluded from the state. The right of self determination requires that a nation rule itself. Today, this rule applies to all nations except the Saxon nation - in spite of the Commandment: "Ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you ... And ye shall dispossess the land and dwell therein." Numbers 33:52-53

8. Non-German immigration forbidden. Non-Germans required to leave. This policy would banish the rule of the multi-national Hindu state.

13. Nationalization of great corporations: German companies had been absorbed into great German corporations which were almost entirely multi-national. These multi-national corporations funded anti-Saxonite left-wing activity, just as they do today. The NS plan was to nationalize the corporations and turn them over to the workers, making German industry national instead of multi-national.

14. Profits from wholesale monopolies shared. In Central Europe giant wholesale operators bought cheaply from manufacturers, raised their prices several times, and then re-sold to the German public. They did this while Germany was starving, and it was largely an alien monopoly doing it. It was much like what happens after Walmart comes to town and drives the small store owners out of business, and is then able to do virtually anything it wishes. The NS plan was to nationalize the great wholesale monopolies, break them up into small businesses once again, and give employment to many people.

17.1 Confiscation of trust and corporate lands without compensation. German land was held by princes, church and corporations in trust for the people for centuries. However, the people had never received any benefit except that of being forced to work on this land.

17.2 Abolish interest on land loans. Bank policy in the past was to load loans with interest, manipulate the business cycle and take the land back when the owners bankrupted. "No-interest loans" by the NS government were substituted.

17.3 Prohibition of land speculation. Land was for the people - especially the farmer. Land speculation was prohibited. This was straight from the WORD. "The land shall be divided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit." Nu 26:55 "The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

18. Usurers punished with death. "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

19. Roman Law serving the materialistic world order replaced by a legal system for all Germany. #18 and #19 contain a story within a story. Remember your history. The NS leader was Adolph Hitler. He was Catholic. Those he appointed to head departments of his organization were Catholics. The Catholic population of Germany and Austria were his devoted followers. This large public approval forced the Vatican to endorse Hitler's party. Vatican endorsement locked-in the Catholic vote. This vote plus the support of Germany's Protestant Prussian Church gave the National Socialist Party an overwhelming lock on elections.

But, Catholics and Protestant religious organizations owned the banks. The Jews were hired to do the actual operation to avoid being condemned by those who believed the WORD.

#18. Usurers punished with death - hit bank operation hard. It would be difficult to run usury banks if enforcement of punishment for usury was the death penalty. This, combined with #7. (Foreigners must be excluded from the state) deprived the banks of their operators. With the Jews gone who would run the usury banks? The only option was to re-commence low-profit no-interest banking of the "Bank of Amsterdam" kind (see WC/PC), or go out of business.

The religious leaders seethed over this loss of income. "A national law" instead of "Roman Law" was a direct attack on Canon Law that said that usury consisted of "interest in excess of 6%."

As can be seen from the table, it makes no difference what "rate" of interest is charged. The fact that interest is charged at all makes the usury contract a fraud from its conception which is why it is outlawed.

Proving the point - $10 borrowed at 10% requires the repayment of $125,278.29 in 100 years.

Make the loan for $1 for 100 years. If there were only $1 in existence, and thats all, it would require repayment of $12,527 with only $1 in existence - an impossibility.

. No wonder organized religions were upset with the NS.

22. Abolition of a paid army and formation of a national army. This required that Germany have a national militia which deprived possible tyrants the use of a paid standing army which could be used as a private police force. This explains today's campaign against militias.

For years banks have controlled the press by loans they have made to press. "The borrower is slave to the lender." Pr:22:7 A NS nationalization of the banks resulted in "press nationalization". Nationalization was further enhanced with point #23 which follows

23. To create a national Press: (a) Editors and assistants of newspapers must be members of the nation. (b) Non-German media shall require special permission of the state. (c) Non-Germans shall be prohibited from financing or influencing German media. Pornography will be prosecuted.

With churches no longer teaching the WORD, the media becomes the manager of populations. A national media will teach subjects that benefit and preserve the nation. A multinational Hindu media will teach subjects designed to destroy the nation and replace it with a multi-nation population.

24. Liberty for all religious denominations that aren't a danger to the morals of the German race. Point #24 stepped right into the perpetual backbiting and squabbling between the Protestant Prussian Church and the Catholic Church. It supported the 3rd way called "German Christian's Faith Movement". This was a universal movement of Germans supporting the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of the WORD and denouncing the lawlessness of the organized religions. The NS Party called it - "Positive Christianity".[2] The party motto: "Neither Catholic nor Protestant, but 'Positive Christianity'!"

The thing that raises the NS 25 Points above crowd pleasing rhetoric is this last part.

The leaders of the Party swear to sacrifice their lives if necessary in securing fulfillment of the foregoing Points.

"By their acts ye shall know them." The leaders of the NS movement continued their fight to return State, religious, and corporate assets to the nation until they died at their posts as they said they would.

Transfer Agreements Of 1939

An article in Sep-Oct 2002 National Vanguard entitled "German Transfer Agreement of 1939, A Peaceful Approach To the Problem Of Ethnic Mixing", listed many such population transfers undertaken to avoid conflict. This was part of the implementation of the "25 Points."

The article starts by relating the agreement between Greece and Turkey in 1923 that compelled the repatriation of Muslims living in Greece to Turkey and Anatolian Greeks living in Turkey to Greece. This eliminated a considerable source of friction between the two warring nations.

The specific issue that caused the German government to negotiate its 1939 lightning-fast treaties with Estonia, Latvia,

2 Hans Rudel, son of a Lutheran pastor and the most decorated German soldier of World War II, said that the leader of the NSP was the most Christian man he ever knew.

and the Soviet Union was the effort of the British to start race wars by exacerbating the natural differences that always exist between different races with different Gods living in the same area.

After the Polish defeat in 1939, the Germans were able to persuade the Soviets to an exchange of populations allowing ethnic Germans in eastern Poland to come to Germany. The offer of return was voluntary to avoid compelling Slavic groups in Western Poland to move to the Soviet zone.

Polish German Mother & Child

The German-Estonian transfer agreement involved lands conquered by the Teutonic Knights which had been home to Germans for some 700 years. Nevertheless, the Estonians struggling to define themselves as a nationality had been putting pressure on the Germans. The total number of Estonian Germans transferred amounted to approximately 13,000.

The ethnic Germans arriving from Estonia, being predominately landowners, began moving into Warthegau and Danzig-West Prussia strengthening the demographic situation in the eastern provinces and restoring them to their former status as the "breadbasket of Germany."

German-Latvian Agreement

On Oct 30, 1939, Dr. Erhard Kroeger made the following appeal:

"German racial comrades!

"We now embark upon the completion of the task given us by History: the recalling of the last German racial comrades to the great fatherland of all Germans.

"The transport to the Greater German Reich will begin in a few days. ..."

German-Soviet Transfer Agreement

Dr. Hans Frank issued the following proclamation:

"The Reich Government and the Government of the Soviet Union have concluded in the spirit of friendship a treaty which give to the ethnic Germans who live in the Soviet zone of the former Polish state the possibility of immigrating to Germany, and reciprocally securing for the Ukrainians, White Russians, Russians and Ruthenians on this side of the German demarcation line the right to reunite themselves with their kinsmen in the Soviet Union. ... this gives the Germans, who previously lived scattered throughout the world, once again a common homeland. ... I harbor the firm hope that the action undertaken by the powers concerned will contribute to the elimination once and for all of a trouble spot ... and will bring Eastern Europe into a happy future."

The fate of the Volga and Crimea Germans at the hands of the Bolsheviks during the 1930s had caused the National Socialists considerable anguish, but they were powerless to intervene or intercede on the behalf of their racial kinsmen. The movement of the Bolsheviks into Poland as a result of the Russian conquest of western Poland brought still more ethnic Germans into the power of Bolshevism.

The Bolsheviks were willing to agree to the transfer of Germans in exchange for non-Polish Slavs living in the German occupied zone. The transport of ethnic Germans from the Soviet zone into German controlled territory required 93 special trains in addition to those marching out on foot and in 11 truck columns and 71 enormous wagon trains compriseng some 15,000 vehicles.

In total, some 129,000 ethnic Germans were resettled in the Reich as a result of the transfer agreement. When one considers the fate of the Baltic republics at the hands of Bolshevik NKVD less than one year after the transfer agreements, one must admire the vision and wisdom of the NP in saving these Germans from the ethnic massacres and deportations which were the fate of the Crimea and Volga Germans.

6 Million Jews - 9 million Germans

The attempt by National Socialism to escape the looting of her assets was countered by a world wide crusade. Every empire created by the Cartel, the English, Soviet, American and French wanted their share.

In spite of the effort by Germany to separate the races to avoid conflict - propaganda during the war exacerbated age old animosities to inflame races against each other. In the east - Slavs were hammered with anti-German propaganda and the atrocities committed against the civilian population of their ancient German enemies were horrifying. In the West, where kinsmen fought kinsmen, it was almost as bad.[3]

---

3 "Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel ... for this thing is from me." I Kings 12:24: "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people." Lev 19:18. "Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:3; "When any persons would compel us to break our laws, then it is that we choose to go to war." Josephus, Against Apion 2:38 He who would force us to break God's law is the enemy.

The book Crimes and Mercies: The Fate of German Civilians Under Allied Occupation, 1944-1950 by James Bacque (London, England, Little Brown 1997) relates the following:

> "At least 9.3 million Germans died needlessly soon after the war ... This is many more than died in battle, air raids and concentration camps during the war ... they (the Allies) did not end the killing at the end of the war but increased it ... far more civilian Germans died in 5 years of 'peace' than soldiers in six years of war." (see HR #288)

This massive atrocity was the result of careful planning and execution. The millions of Germans who were driven out of East Germany left land and assets which were quickly confiscasted and then "privatized". The atrocities committed against the Germans in Germany proper left assets without owners and assets that had depreciated to pennies on the dollar.

In addition, German trade routes were pre-empted, German trade went to competitors, German banking became cartel branch-banking. All in all, it was a very profitable war.

The "Six Million Jews"? There weren't 6 million Jews living in German Occupied Europe at the time. The "Six Million" was just another "Andersonville story" told over and over by the Cartel media to prevent discussion of "9 million Germans", the looting of Germany, and especially - to prevent the discussion of the NS 25 Points.

In this last, the Cartel must be disappointed. Guess the favorite topic of conversation among right wing patriots in the former Soviet Union? You got it! It's National Socialism. Guess what is the favorite topic of discussion among right wing Muslims? How about right-wing Japs? Right again.

Right wing Amercians look on National Socialism and see it - not as an objective where they want to be - but as a way-station on the road to the self-sufficient farm where every man is a king and a priest. But first, before this can happen the multi-national merchant's cartel must be dismantled. This will occur in time:

> "They will each turn to his own people, and each one will flee to his own land. Anyone who is found will be thrust through, and anyone who is captured will fall by the sword. Their little ones will also be dashed to pieces." Isaiah 13:14-16

ERIC ROBERT RUDOLPH ARRESTED

A college boy identified Eric Rudolph's truck at the scene of an Alabama abortion-mill bombing. That's it!

Based on this incontrovertible evidence, the FBI issued an "all points" for his arrest.

Rudolph comes from that part of Western N. Carolina where generations of moonshiners have taken to the hills when trouble looms, and this was the FBI after him crying "murder" and offering $1,000,000. The reward notices didn't say "alive". Knowing how the FBI operates[4] - running was definitely an option. Rudolph ran.

The FBI employed hundreds of men using bloodhounds, hunters, helicopters and heat-seeking military equipment in a 5 year fruitless search. During this 5 year manhunt - no other bombings were blamed on him - something one would expect from one already condemned with nothing more to lose.

At last, Eric Rudolph was arrested by Jeffrey Postell in Murphy, NC where the hunt started 5 years ago and identified by another member of the same Murphy Police Department. Some say Postell arrested Rudolph by accident. If it wasn't an accident - "A man's foes shall be they of his own household." Matt 10:36.

The NY Times of June 1, 2003 described the long chase. "The FBI held meetings with hunters reminding them of the $1,000,000 reward. But townsfolk remained chilly. There were those who supported Mr. Rudolph's stance against abortion."

4 Everyone knows what the FBI did to Gordon Kahl, the mother and her son on Ruby Ridge, the men, women and children at Waco, and they confirmed their guilt in the minds of millions for the destruction at Waco, Oklahoma City and the Towers by refusing to allow inspectors to examine the ruins for evidence.

A guard was killed at the Alabama clinic which Rudolph had supposedly bombed - a clinic accused of having killed many tens of thousands of babies. Whether Rudolph actually did it or not remains to be seen, but the Law governing abortion is clear, "Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you; and before you came forth from the womb, I sanctified you, and I ordained you." Jer. 1:5; "Whosoever he be of the children of Israel that giveth any of his seed unto Molech, he shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:2.

On shaky ground, the FBI beefed up their case by adding an unsolved bombing of a sodomite bar to Rudolph's tab. The Law dealing with sodomy says that it too is unLawful; "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13

Neither of the above charges were popular with the public. To win help in their manhunt, the FBI shuffled the evidence further. Searching the files, they took every unsolved crime they could and blamed them all on Rudolph hoping that one of them might stick. One of these was the 1996 Atlanta Olympics bombing that killed a woman. The Atlanta Olympics bombing wasn't about punishing baby killers or sodomites - it was murder. If people could be persuaded that he did this they might turn him in.

This is why the cartel media now uses the headline; "Suspect in '96 Olympic Bombing caught." It associates Rudolph with cold- blooded murder.

If the trial were held in Murphy, North Carolina, the FBI would have a hard job convicting him. Saxons are almost the only race in Murphy. The jury pool there is almost entirely "man", and man is made in the image of God the WORD.

The NY Times said this about the people of Murphy:

"Mr. Rudolph became a local folk hero, a cheered-on phantom, as he eluded hundreds of FBI agents .... Today even after his capture, many people here still identify with him."

"Rudolph's a Christian and I'm a Christian and he dedicated his life to fighting abortion," said Chrystal Davis, 25, a mother of 4. "Those are our values. These are our woods. I don't see what he did as a terrorist act."

You are not going to get a hanging jury from people like that!

For five years many people around Murphy had a chance to betray Rudolph and take the million dollar reward but refused. They called it - "the 30 pieces of silver".

People are also watching to see if the FBI is really going to try to use the old Olympic bombing charge. Chances are, if they do, it will blow up in their face - AGAIN. It's old stuff.

The FBI has already accused Richard A. Jewell, a part-time security guard, of the bombing. After six months he was found innocent - after being driven into bankruptcy and a nervous breakdown.

Now, the Feds are going to have to prove that they have enough evidence to convict Rudolph of actually bombing that Alabama abortion mill. Is "walking away from the scene" enough evidence? The FBI says it is, the media says it is, and doubtless they will round up a jury who will agree. The media says he is guilty and is calling him a "white-supremist" to influence the blacks who will be named to Rudolph's jury.

If all this fails - who knows? The FBI labs may come up with some more evidence. They are full of surprises.

Jefferson To Madison On Land - 1785

Fontaineblau, France, Oct 28, 1785: "Dear Sir: ... The property of this country is absolutely concentrated in a very few hands. ... I asked myself what could be the reason so many should be permitted to beg who are willing to work, in a country where there is a very considerable proportion of uncultivated lands?

" ... Whenever there are in any country uncultivated lands and unemployed poor, it is clear that the laws of property have been so far extended as to violate natural right. The earth is given as a common stock for man to labor and live on. If for the encouragement of industry we allow it to be appropriated, we must take care that other employment be provided to those excluded from the appropriation. If we do not, the fundamental right to labor the earth returns to the unemployed.

"It is too soon yet in our country to say that every man who cannot find employment, but who can find uncultivated land, shall be at liberty to cultivate it, paying a moderate rent. But it is not too soon to provide by every possible means that as few as possible shall be without a little portion of land. The small landholders are the most precious part of a state."[5]

ED: Breaking wage-slavery in America must be our goal. Our people are entitled to a piece of land where he can return to sink a plow and produce his groceries. Anything less is to remain a slave to the one who writes the paycheck.

Chapter 346

MACHIAVELLI

The attack on Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City, The Towers, Panama, Grenada, Kosovo, Iraq, the attack on true Christianity; there's a reason for these things. They are part of a plan devised by Niccolo Machiavelli 500 years ago. He told kings how to obtain a cartel throne and keep it - and applicants for the job follow it religiously - step by step - almost to the letter. As a result their actions are as predictable as the sun rising in the morning and setting in the evening and is one of the reasons the Scriptures say that the hottest places in hell are reserved for kings.

Rule Book For Princes

God the WORD appointed each man a king to rule the earth and gave him His Law by which he is to rule. This law system is called the WORD.

The International Merchant appointed its own kings to manage designated market areas. A Cartel appointed king rules using the merchant's law system that favors trade called Admiralty Law.

ADMIRALTY LAW

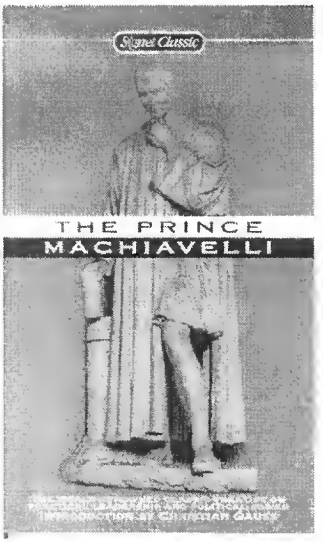
This causes us to have two law systems competing for supremacy in the same area at the same time.

Other law systems complicate matters further. Each race is made in the image of his god. Each god has his own law system. If there are many races there are as many law systems as there are races - plus the merchants' universal Admiralty Law.

The WORD - to the exclusion of all others - is man's God - his Law, his government. The clash between the WORD and other law systems is the cause of conflict and is the reason that Machiavelli wrote The Prince.

The Prince

In the midst of the political and religious turmoil of the 1500s, a small book called The Prince by Machiavelli appeared. It was a handbook telling princes the techniques they must use to seize and hold a throne.



From the time of its appearance until today, there has been nothing superior written. Consequently, this little book is required reading for princes, wanna-bes, and their supporters - in all countries. As a result - "things" just don't happen - they are planned that way.

Machiavelli on Education:

> "The best of all preservatives (of the throne) is the education of the citizens in the spirit of the polity (state policy): 'Without this education the wisest laws are futile.'" p 16

Today's citizens have been educated to become "state citizens". They are taught to abandon Biblical Law and accept the king's "Admiralty Law". This education process is led by the Cartel's media monopoly. Aiding the media are the king's regulated public schools and universities which are financed by grants from the cartel corporations. The result has been an Orwellian "unthinking audience": a "reduced state of consciousness" or a public attitude "favorable to political conformity."

State Religion: (foreward)

> "The powers of hereditary princes during the Wars of Religion after Machiavelli's time were still so strongly established that the prince's right to determine the religion his subjects were to follow was widely recognized." p.17

This has not changed. All religion is tolerated except those religions which teach things that would proscribe the power of the king.

To unanimously support the prince, all modern-day Christian sects have "voluntarily" ceased to teach Biblical prohibitions against "usury", "taxation", "monopolies", "kings", "strangers", "mixed- marriage", etc. - teachings which comprise 2/3 of the Bible. The 1/3 of the Bible that the king allows is the standard religious "self-improvement" part contained in ALL religions to varying degrees. Christianity makes no sense without the omitted 2/3 that specifies the kind of government, legal and economic system that we are to have - and our relationships with aliens.

Lying: - (foreward)

> "He (Macheovelli) recommends to the prince that he use hypocrisy, whenever expedient, to gain power. ... Hypocrisy is the tribute which vice pays to virtue.' By this he means that hypocrisy works only because the majority of men are not hypocrites and are therefore not suspicious." p.22

Note that when America's princes speak - a half-truth or outright lie follows one another in rapid succession. Telling the truth only prepares the listener for the next lie. Wilson's "I promise to keep your sons out of war", followed by his election and entry into WWI a few months later is a perfect example. Witness today's search for "Weapons of Mass Destruction".

Conquest:

"When those states which have been acquired are accustomed to live at liberty under their own laws, there are three ways of holding them.

" The first is to despoil them;

" the second is to go and live there in person;

" the third is to allow them to live under their own laws, taking tribute of them, and creating within the county a government composed of a few who will keep it friendly to you." p.46

"In republics there is greater life, greater hatred, and more desire for vengeance; they do not and cannot cast aside the memory of their ancient liberty, so that the surest way is either to lay them waste or reside in them." p.47

Princes tend to follow the above rule by using all three ways of holding a captive state. The complete wasting of the American SOUTHLAND was Lincoln's planned policy. The Southland was given the entire Machiavellian treatment. The land was laid waste. Blacks were empowered to rule the White population causing a reign of terror forcing hundreds of thousands to refugee to the west. Military forts were established to suppress revolt - forts still garrisoned after more than 130 years. The puppet governments installed by the Cartel's media rule the South to this day. Occupation taxes forced farmers into cities where low-pay employment in cartel corporations guaranteed their peaceful co- operation.

The same applies to SOUTH AFRICA and GERMANY. Both of which were laid waste, occupied by foreign armies, and both to this day suffer under puppet governments installed by their conquerors.

Treachery:

> "Hamilcar the Carthaginian, who was fighting with his armies in Sicily, called together one morning the people and senate of Syracuse, as if he had to deliberate on matters of importance to the republic, and at a given signal had all the senators and the richest men of the people killed by his soldiers. After their death he occupied and held rule over the city without any civil strife." p.59

The closest thing we have to this is the Communist take-over of Russia. Not only were the old rulers killed but anyone who owned property. There was no revolt because no one was left alive to lead one.

The pacification of S. Africa has been on-going for more than 100 years. This will not end until the last Afrikaaner is dead, driven out, or succeeds in driving his enemy away.

The same can be said for Germany. After its conquest in WWII, its leaders were judicially murdered and others associated with the government were either killed, imprisoned, or deprived of jobs in the new occupied state.

War: Means To an End

> "A prince should therefore have no other aim or thought, nor take up any other thing for his study, but war and its organization and discipline, for that is the only art that is necessary to one who commands ..." p. 81

Princes once held the throne for forty years or more - then, a Caesar-type reputation had merit. Today, when a four-or eight-year prince invades Panama or Grenada to win laurels - it is comical. But, the cartel can trust a 4-year prince more than a 40-year prince who has learned to think that his throne is his because he sits on it.

Learn to be both good and bad:

"It is necessary for a prince, who wishes to maintain himself, to learn how not to be good, and to use this knowledge and not use it, according to the necessity of the case." p.84

This is one requirement mastered by all princes.

Appearance And Reality:

"A prince ... to see and hear him , he should seem to be all mercy, faith, integrity, humanity, and religion. And nothing is more necessary than to seem to have this last quality, ... Everybody sees what you appear to be, few feel what you are, and those few will not dare to oppose themselves to the many, who have the majesty of the state to defend them; and in the actions of men, and especially of princes, from which there is no appeal, the end justifies the means. Let a prince therefore aim at conquering and maintaining the state, and the means will always be judged honourable and praised by every one, for the vulgar is always taken by appearances and the issue of the event ... A certain prince of the present time ... never does anything but preach peace and good faith, but he is really a great enemy to both, and either of them, had he observed them, would have lost him state or reputation on many occasions." p.94

Whither Gun Control?

"Some princes, in order to hold their possessions securely, have disarmed their citizens, some others have kept their subject lands divided into parts (The many states of Germany before Bismark), others have fomented enmities against themselves (party politics, KKK and Communist-front violence) others have endeavorured to win over those whom they suspected at the commencement of their rule (blacks, Hispanics): some have constructed fortresses, others have cast them down and destroyed them. ...

"A new prince ... give the privilege of arms to some ... can deal more safely with the others; ... But when you disarm them, you commence to offend them and show that you distrust them either through cowardice or lack of confidence, and both of these opinions generate hatred against you. ...are obliged to resort to a mercenary militia (a national guard or regular army)... Therefore, as I have said, a new prince in a new dominion always has his subjects armed... p. 105

"But when a prince acquires a new state as an addition to his old one, then it is necessary to disarm that state, except those who in acquiring it have sided with you; and even those one must, when time and opportunity serve, render weak and effeminate, and arrange things so that all the arms of the new state are in the hands of your soldiers who live near you in your old state." p. 106

The above reveals our present status: America has been acquired as a new state and added to the old one - which is why it is being disarmed. The inner-city denizens plus the Black, Hispanic and Jewish militias are present day cartel allies. Their existence is ignored by the media until the state needs them. Regardless, the day after the need for them passes - they will be disarmed by the same prince who dotes on them today. Ruling states do not disarm - ruled states do. Ruling states require their citizens to be armed - ruled states disarm their citizens.

> "The Venetians ... fomented ... factions in the cities subject to them (Democrats vs Republicans), and although they never allowed them to come to bloodshed, they yet encouraged these differences among them, so that the citizens, being occupied in their own quarrels, might not act against them." p. 106

It is not an accident that the Blacks are constantly being incited against Whites, that Blacks and Hispanics are at each other's throats, and that Blacks and Jews squabble about everything except their need to unite against Whites.

Value Of Reputation:

> "Without doubt princes become great when they overcome difficulties and opposition, and therefore fortune, especially when it wants to render a new prince great ... raises up enemies and compels him to undertake wars against them. ... p. 107

> "There are many who think therefore that a wise prince ought, when he has the chance, to foment astutely some enmity, so that by suppressing it he will augment his greatness." p. 107

This is the reason for America's wars against countries whose leaders at one time were on the CIA payroll: Ho Chi Minh, Saddam Hussein, and the rest. There is hardly a country that the U.S. has aided in recent years that has not been used as a strawman enemy.

This same reason is why the Cartel media demonizes those who wish to live under God's Laws as being "terrorists". As soon as its foreign "strawmen" are vanquished to the glory of the prince, the prince will have homegrown "rebels" to vanquish - rebels that he created out of thin air - but no less useful.

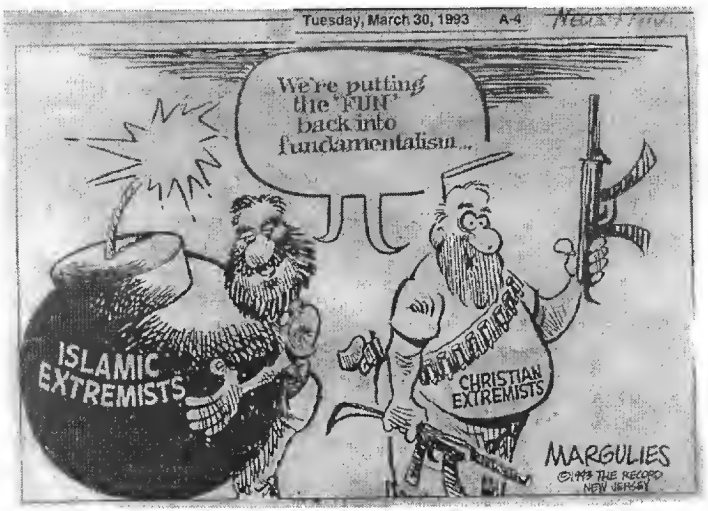
Few seriously believe that a book by Dr. William Pierce was really found found in McVeigh's car - they believe it was planted there.The media tells us that the book incited McVeigh to blow up the Oklahoma City federal building. It appeared to be an effort to turn Dr. Pierce into an enemy of the state. Even fewer believe that my book War Cycles/Peace Cycles, a book on Christian economics, was found in the car of someone engaged in violence in California. It could that people are beginning to realize that instead of being an accidental discovery by media reporters it was to create an enemy for the state - an implimentation of Machiavelli's plan.

The cartoon below came from the News & Advance in 1993. Even then the Cartel was drumming up enemies for its prince to suppress.



Fortresses:

> "It has been the custom of princes in order to be able to hold their state securely, to erect fortresses, as a bridle and bit to those who have designs against them... Therefore, fortresses may or may not be useful according to the times... "

The FBI set up a base in Andrews, NC - "Rudolph country" and manned it with several hundred operatives. The reason - the county is 99.9% Saxon. Such a gathering of Saxons unleavened with aliens is certain to produce a center of resistance to Admiralty Law in time. The existence of the FBI base actually did produce discontent and distrust of the government. So, after several years and after a number of government agents merged into the local population, the base has been greatly downsized - seemingly.

This is an example of a mobile modern day fortress. Its downsizing and placing covert agents in the local population is the governments' public relations answer to the problem of fortresses.

> "The best fortress is to be found in the love of the people, for although you may have fortresses they will not save you if you are hated by the people." p.108

Exercise of Power

> "Nothing causes a prince to be so much esteemed as great enterprises and giving proof of prowess. We have in our day Ferdinand, King of Aragon, the present King of Spain. ... He was able with the money of the Church and the people to maintain his armies, and ... undertake greater enterprises, and always under the pretext of > religion, he had recourse to a pious cruelty, driving out the Moors from his kingdom and despoiling them.[1] ... He also attacked Africa under the same pretext, undertook his Italian enterprise, and has lately attacked France ... which have kept his subjects' minds uncertain and astonished, and occupied in watching their results. And these actions have arisen one out of the other, so that they have left no time for men to settle down and act against him." p 110

There is something Machiavelli was wise to leave unmentioned - the usefulness of war's destructiveness. When a prince destroys an opposing county's source of water, transportation, or food - that country must have these things or its people will die. The conquered are therefore made agreeable to let the conquerer contract with his personal friends to rebuild these things with the conquered paying the cost. After all, the purpose of episcopacies is to control those ruled - including the transfer of the fruit of their labor into the pocket of those who rule.

Following the War Between The States, the South's occupation puppet government undertook numerous railroad, water, and bridge improvements paid for with municipal and state bonds. Between a quarter and a half of the money went to the projects with the rest going into the pockets of the contractors. Virginia's occupation debt was not paid until after WWII and cost more than the War itself had cost.

1 He despoiled them but left them in Spain. Their descendants are today's dark skinned Spaniards

Germany's "puppet government", installed after WWI, was overthrown in an National Socialist revolt. They repudiated foreign debts which necessatated WWII to again install another puppet government - this time guarded by a permanant occupation army to guarantee that Germany would not refuse to pay its foreign and reconstruction debts. War is a wonderfully profitable thing.[2]

Friend or Foe

> "A prince is further esteemed when he is a true friend or a true enemy....This policy is always more useful than remaining neutral. ... And it will always happen that the one who is not your friend will want you to remain neutral ..." p 111
> "Moreover, victories are never so prosperous that the victor does not need to have some scruples, especially as to justice." p. 112

This last has been violated time and again by cartel conquerors. The result is an accumulating reservoir of resentment. In the South, S. Africa, and Germany alone - people remember. Add to this the resentment being created in violated alien lands today. The cartel is truly justified in their siege mentality.

Men About The Prince

> "The first impression that one gets of a ruler and of his brains is from seeing the men that he has about him." p. 114

2 See who the reconstruction contractors are in Kosovo and Iraq - it tells the whole story..

From Lincoln, Wilson, and Roosevelt - to Johnson, Clinton, Bush I and Bush II - we see the mentality of Esau.[3] There is no honor, mercy, or truth. All is deception, lies and mendaciousness.

Machiavelli's The Prince is truly the rule book of princes, and as slavish devotees - princes become predictable, and once predictable - vulnerable.

Letter from S. Africa by K.H.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: Winter came in days and we are in winter clothes.

There is a group here called "Israel Vision". It is similar to your American "Identity". The reason I mention this is because they are beaten up regularly in the media - the same as "Identity" is beaten up in your country - because they prefer God's Laws to Government's edicts. It seems as if anyone who truly loyal to God is fair game.

The black government has created large scale unemployment through their endless new labor laws that make production impossible. Many firms have had enough and are pulling out, adding to the huge unemployment problem.

Those who are unemployed often turn to crime to survive. The crime is directed against whites. The houses to be robbed now have small color signs placed in front to guide the robbers. White signs mean "easy target"; red - it must be an armed robbery since the inhabitants are armed; blue - stands for "help inside". The signs are disguised as sticks and so-forth, but are quickly discovered by interested parties. If you shoot a robber in self defense you will find yourself locked up for assault or murder. It does not matter that the robbers were armed and your life was threatened.

The Black South African regime is keeping Zimbabwe's Mugabe in office by sending him corn, foot and mouth medicine for cattle, and free electricity. Still thousands of Zimbabwe and Mozambique blacks come over the border into S. Africa.

Another Report From S. Africa

Richard: My son and I just returned from two weeks in South Africa. It is one of the most spectacularly beautiful countries in the world.

In 1994 a one-man one-vote "black" government was put in power. Satan could have run it and I don't believe that there would have been much difference.

The Boer-farmers of South Africa are being murdered at the rate of 313 per 100,000. Interpol warns that they are the highest-at- risk-group in the entire world! With more than half of South Africa's commercial farmers gone since 1994 - starvation will be the order of the day soon; first in Zimbabwe and then in South Africa.

This beautiful country is filled with gates, barbed and concertina wire. Theft is the thought of the day, every day. The newspapers are filled with advertisements for emigration to New Zealand, Australia, Canada and the UK.

Eugene Terre'Blanche of the AWB militia has been jailed and the AWB has been largely broken up. Its website is http://www.awb.co.za/. About 20 people are scheduled to go on trial this week for high treason for allegedly conspiring to blow up dams, etc.

I remember when the S.A. Rand was worth about $1.25. Currently it is worth about $0.13 making S. Africa a cheap place to visit - or buy. Many are leaving and there are few white persons to be seen on the streets between the ages of 25 to 45.

AIDS is making it difficult to hire workers for the mines. One woman told me that her maid attends two funerals a month. One sees teen-age church groups from the US going to SA to counsel blacks about using condoms to prevent the further spread of AIDS. Current projections state that by 2010 SA will be a white majority nation thanks to AIDS.

Zimbabwe has 270% inflation a year. They have a law preventing white farmers from farming. Don't ask me why.

We visited the "women's museum" in Blomfontein that commemorates the tens of thousands of women and children who died in the Anglo-Boer war of 1899-1902. Lord Kitchner, the British commander, burned the Boer's farms and put the women and children in concentration camps where they died like flies. They also sent POWs far away to Bermuda, St. Helena Island and Ceylon. This was brutal. Afrikaaners remember.

WHO WON? "Dear Mr. Hoskins: If the South was right during the War Between the States, why didn't they win?" H.P. - Pennsylvania

Dr. Diesel

Dr. Rudolph Diesel's contribution to the independence of the "self-sufficient-farm" was an engine designed to run on vegetable oil. This is not surprising considering that this brilliant inventor spent his childhood in the agricultural provinces of France and Germany and knew farmers and their needs.

In 1913, Dr. Rudolph Diesel disappeared on a trip across the English Channel. His body was found floating a few days latter. Newspapers suggested that he was assassinated by foreign agents. After his death his idea of fueling diesels with vegetable oil was quietly un-mentioned by the Cartel media.

American companies are using Indian labor that is often working around the clock - to do research and development, prepare tax returns, evaluate health insurance claims, transcribe doctor's medical notes, analyze financial data, sue for overdue bills, read CAT scans, create presentations for Manhattan investment banks and much more.

It is expected that by 2015, 3.3 million American jobs may be sent to India with its large pool of English-speakers and more than two million college graduates coming on stream every year.

Chapter 347

THE BUSINESS Of WAR

War provides a rush of money that is borrowed into existence to fight the war. In the peace that follows, the usury system eats up the war-generated money. This necessitates another war in 20 years, or small wars every 5 years, to generate more money.

War is a business; casualties are collateral damage; the peace between the wars is an illusion - a victor's peace. The war continues on and on for the vanquished. Because "usury", the cause of modern war, is never mentioned from the pulpit - the misery continues.

War is a business - the biggest!

WAR: The Looting Expedition

Modern war consists of five steps:

1. Demonizing & Provocation
2. Destruction
3. Puppet Government
4. Reconstruction
5. Suppressing Revolt

1. Demonizing & Provocation

The "law of nations" says that a state which is attacked may defend itself.

Aggressor states must observe this law, otherwise neighboring states may think that the aggressor will turn on them. This might cause the aggressor's neighbors to combine into a defensive alliance that may be dangerous to the aggressor.

This "law of nations" forces aggressors to provoke their victims to attack them. The aggressor can then claim that he is defending himself against the victims' violence.

Making the victims' planned attack on the aggressor believable, the aggressor starts up the time honored practice of demonization. Nothing good can be expected of someone who is "bad".

The laboratory case we are all familiar with is our own War Between the States - variations of which are used worldwide today.

Fort Sumpter

Hands down - the South was the richest part of the country. In 1860, most of the federal revenue came from tariffs. Almost three quarters of the tariffs were paid by the South. One can either take the eggs or kill the chicken and have a chicken dinner. The latter course was decided upon. In preparation for the feast the urban cartel media worked "John Brown" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to demonize the South.

Lincoln, cartel spokesman, started by demanding that the tariffs be increased. Some Southern states felt abused and withdrew from the union.

The South assumed that Lincoln would honor the contract of states and turn over the federal garrisoned Fort Sumpter to the sovereign state of S. Carolina. Fort Sumpter was situated in the middle of Charleston Harbor. South Carolina believed that as long as Fort Sumpter was garrisoned, it was a foreign beachhead in the heart of the state.

Emissaries were sent to DC to discuss the details of turning over the fort. The newspapers reported that the discussions were congenial and progressing nicely. It was assumed that it was only a question of time before the fort would be relinquished.

Unknown to the Carolinians, while negotiations were in progress, Lincoln had secretly launched an invasion fleet to S. Carolina loaded with storm troops. This fleet, when combined with Fort Sumpter's garrison, could quickly bring about South Carolina's overthrow.

The fleet arrived off Charleston harbor, but a sudden storm prevented it from entering the harbor. Outraged at this perfidy, the S. Carolinians opened fire on Fort Sumpter before the storm abated and the fleet's guns could combine with those of the fort.

The Northern cartel newspapers ignored the deceit and reported that an "unprovoked attack" had taken place on Fort Sumpter - "Rebels had fired on the United States flag."

The South had been demonized and Ft. Sumpter was the provocation. Now - to the next step.

2. Destruction

With overwhelming military superiority the North destroyed the South. It was a methodical, complete, systematic destruction. Mills, dams, canals, railroads, homes, towns, and cities. Scores of towns and cities vanished - never to be rebuilt - among them "Kellyville" at Kelly's Ford, the home of my ancestor, John P. Kelly.

After 4 years, the South was forced to surrender. It was a total unconditional surrender - 20,000 starving, surrounded men at Appomattox surrendered to 200,000. The survivors went home to - nothing.

3. Puppet Government

All those who fought against the invaders were disfranchised. Women couldn't vote. Blacks were made citizens, given the vote, and placed in government to rule the South - creating a reign of terror. Federal troops were stationed to see that Black rule wasn't removed.

4. Reconstruction

Northern ITC corporate managers posted their representatives in every Southern state and city government to instruct the Blacks how to vote and what to vote for.

After voting themselves royal salaries, the Blacks began the glorious fun of "reconstruction". In a land that had known nominal or no taxes - taxes were passed. Businesses and land were taxed. Since there was no way to pay the taxes, the land, houses and businesses came on the market for almost nothing and were snapped up at tax sales by "carpetbaggers" - the cartel's corporation agents. Great land companies came into existence owning millions upon millions of prime acreage.

Three hundred year old forests on the Blue Ridge right above Lynchburg were bought for almost nothing and stripped. Gigantic logs were loaded on trains and shipped away.

Dams, mills, churches, railroads, and canals were rebuilt. Freed slaves were promised 40 acres and a mule. No money was available to pay for these things so the Blacks issued state and city bonds. For each million earmarked for a railroad - $100,000 went to the railroad and $900,000 went into the pockets of the contractors - all cartel operatives. In other words, the contractors who financed the election of the Lincoln government got their money back plus interest - many times over.

The "reconstruction" cost much more than the war itself had cost and Virginia's debt was finally paid off in 1947 - more than 80 years after the war. A railroad man was telling me the other day that it still costs more to ship from Richmond to NY than from NY to Richmond.

5. Suppressing Revolt

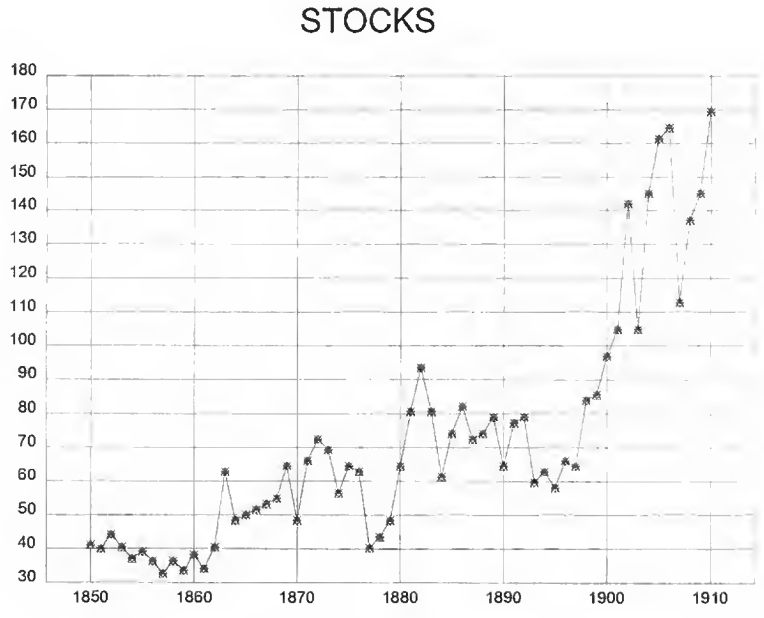
To keep the natives from becoming restless and demanding the return of their property, military garrisons were posted in the Southland. They are still here after more than 130 years.

The freedom to select one's own political representation was abolished by use of the media monopoly which gives publicity only to cartel agents - the publicity essential for election.

A defeated, occupied land is a province belonging to the conqueror. As long as it remains that way its inhabitants exist only to provide for the needs of the conqueror.

Chart

The chart on the next page shows the horrible 1850s depression in the North culminated in the bankruptcy of the Life Insurance Company of Pennsylvania. The self-sufficient-farm-system of the South was hardly aware of the event.



Stock Market 1861-1865 & 1860-1910

The start of the War in 1861 brought in "happy days". The stock market doubled as money was borrowed into existence to fight the war - and as loot from the South was monetized.

First thing, the invading armies emptied the tobacco warehouses. A 750 lb. hogshead of tobacco was worth a fortune. Drivers in blue would line wagons before a house and empty it of silver, furniture, wall hangings and floor coverings. Lines of these wagon trains clogged the roads to Washington where three auction warehouses remained open day and night auctioning the wagonloads sight unseen because of the glut of contraband - with wagonloads backed up for half a mile - and more wagons arriving by the hour.

Ships tied up to private wharfs on the Virginia rivers. Raiding parties were sent far inland to return loaded with loot. The ships remained tied up until fully loaded at which time they cast off and sailed for Washington.

Washington DC became a boom town spending lavishly the wealth Virginia had taken 250 years to accumulate. The government frolicked during a four year long party using Randolph silver from Turkey Island, furniture from Stratford, the Lee home, and portraits of ancestors from Kelly's Ford calling them their own. Government clerks rode blooded horses bought for a few dollars on their lunch hour.

War, wonderful war!

The stock market rise from 1860 to 1900 was marked by drastic corrections when usury siphoned off the floating supply of money dried up - only to be replenished when money spilled-over from European wars and our own manufactured "Spanish-American War" and Britain's own S. African "Boer War" - but the continued extortion of wealth from the South was the thing that kept the U.S. stock markets in its remarkable ascendancy.

SIDE EFFECTS

The side effect for the victim was long term Southern impoverishment. Plantation land at Kelly's Ford worth $800 an acre in 1858 was traded for 50¢ an acre in 1903. Compare that with the stock chart to the right. Self-sufficient farmers unable to pay the taxes and forced to sell their land and move to town worked in cotton mills for 10¢ a day. In 1914 things had improved - they were getting 30¢ at the slate quarries down in Buckingham County. I went to grade-school in the 1930s with barefooted children who had walked through the snow to get to school. Others had cardboad in their shoes.

But hey! The bright side was that the independent self-sufficient farmer, now reduced to being a cheap factory laborer in a cotton mill and living in a company house - made possible the bounty enjoyed by the rest of the nation.

Rewriting Contracts

The Law states that we are not to have kings to rule over us. To circumvent that Law most Western nations have "elective representation". The fact is that the elections are manipulated so that the voters have no idea for whom they are voting. They vote for a caricature of a perfect man to represent them - a picture drawn by a third party. The third party that draws the picture is Esau's media - and the "perfect man" is in fact Esau's agent - a scoundrel.[1]

America has not had an honest election since the earliest days of the "Republic". The "president-king-prince" that has been elected has issued executive orders and made private trade and business agreements the contents of which are completely unknown to the people of the nation. The longer the prince holds his office - the more contracts he is responsible for making.

War is business. A conqueror is confronted with trade contracts benefiting others instead of himself. War itself nullifies many trade agreements and further nullification take place by the use of martial law. Also, the puppet government appointed by the conqueror rubber-stamps new trade agreements replacing old ones. The final touch to finish the transfer of trade profits is to kill the leader of the vanquished country. This erases all loose ends and no one is left to contest the new system.

SOUTH: President Jefferson Davis was arrested and imprisoned in a damp cell at Fortress Monroe in Virginia. He could not be brought to trial because his knowledge of trade agreements and Constitutional Law would be an embarrassment if made public. Almost dead from maltreatment by his Negro guards and from exposure, he was allowed to go home to die, thereby sparing the government the onus of another atrocity - a "peacetime" atrocity. Davis surprised everyone by surviving and he wrote scathing denunciations of the treatment of the South - all studiously ignored by the victor's historians.

SOUTH AFRICA: Britain conquered little S. Africa. President Kruger fled abroad and died there. Had the British been able to capture him he most probably would have been executed. The British did not want to explain their appropriations of S. Africa's raw materials - including her gold mines. Then too, Kruger had a close advisor who was a cartel member. At the same time he was advising Kruger he was also advising the invading British.

GERMANY: Kaiser Wilheim had many cartel advisors. When Germany collapsed he abdicated and removed to Holland. At that time there were no extradition treaties.

RUSSIA: Tzar Nicholas and his family were executed - canceling contracts dating back centuries. This is the preferred method. A puppet government composed mostly of cartel civil service employees was installed which ruled until the country's wealth was drained. The pretense was then made that the cartel had left the country. However, Russia's continued attempt to suppress Chechnya separatists exposed this to be a deception. Bankrupt Russia remains part of the cartel empire.

GERMANY: Hitler died by his own hand rather than be put in a cage and shown around before being hanged. A puppet government directed by a cartel civil service was installed. All Germany's trade contracts worldwide were voided. Rudolf Hess, Hitler's second in command, was incarcerated almost entirely incommunicardo for half a century. Released because of a dispute between the victors, he was garroted by his British captors before divulging what he knew.

ITALY: Mussolini was shot.

VIETNAM: President Diem was disposed of by Filipino assassins in American employ while the war was in progress. This canceled all trade agreements made by him.

PANAMA: Panama was given the Panama Canal by the U.S. allowing them to finance certain private trade agreements. President Noriega of Panama voiced concerns; the U.S. invaded Panama, installed a puppet government, imprisoned Noriega for "drug smuggling", and we hear no more "concerns" about trade from Panama.

YUGOSLAVIA: The Serb province of Kosovo was 3/4s taken over by Muslims. The U.S. took exception to Serb defense and destroyed Yugoslavia's mills, power plants, railroads, bridges, and communications. The U.S. then installed a puppet government who issued contracts to rebuild the destruction. The president was arrested and is being tried for crimes against humanity.

Iraq's Turn

While all countries victimized by the cartel go through the same process - Iraq is the latest.

1. Demonizing & Provocation:

Iraq - the third largest oil producing country in the world is a natural money-tree. A plum waiting to be picked.

Little Kuwait next door was persuaded to slant drill Iraq's oil fields. Iraq asked the US if it had any interest in the matter. The US assured them it didn't. Based on this assurance, Iraq invaded Kuwait. The US used this "act of aggression" as the excuse to go to war after first demonizing Iraq's religion, leadership, mass murder, etc., the usual.

2. Destruction:

In the first Iraqi war the US destroyed the Iraqi army's expensive tanks. It destroyed bridges, power plants, airfields, radio stations, and everything of value - everything except the oil wells that would be needed to pay to replinish all these things some day in the future.

The US then declared a 12 year embargo of the country. No spare parts, no medicines, precious little food. The result was that 500,000 children died from starvation and disease, and the remainder of the economy was worn down to the point that now everything needs replacing.

Using the "WMD" excuse, the U.S. again made war on Iraq - occupied the country - and is now ready to move to step #3.

3. Puppet Government:

The US needs an Iraqi puppet government to give a peusdo legitimacy to issuing orders to rebuild the country.

A list of American companies as long as your arm is waiting right now, waiting for the contracts to be handed out so they can start to work.

The puppet government chosen by the U.S. consists of 9 men who will alternate serving one-month stints as Iraq's figurehead president. This "council" of U.S. appointed puppets are supposed to rubber- stamp the U.S. directed spending of Iraqi money.

This group has already met with World Bank President James Wolfensohn to set up a massive loan to Iraq to pay the American companies who are waiting to repair Iraq. The loan is to be repaid with proceeds from the sale of Iraq's oil.

4. Reconstruction:

Unfortunately, America's leaders, themselves cartel puppets, have led us into a war against the heartland of the lands of the Sons- of-Esau. From ancient days - Esau has always fought Esau - and Esau knows how to fight Esau - including our own our puppet government which is also run by Esau.

It is these Iraqi Sons-of-Esau who have mounted a low grade guerrilla warfare in which one or two American occupation troops are killed each day. This only amounts to 600-700 soldiers a year, a negligable number as wars go, but enough to prevent U.S. appointed Iraqi collaborators from feeling comfortable under U.S. protection. If well-armed American soldiers can be whacked seemingly at will, what chance does a traitor have in his own country surrounded by kinsmen thirsting for his blood?

Thus far one of those selected by the U.S. has resigned and the others seem to speak out of both sides of their mouths. In other words, the usual puppet government has been slow to materialize, and the contract awards have been slow to come. In the meantime, the American companies who financed the Bush political campaigns are still waiting.

This Iraqi thing could be a bit more sticky than initially believed.

5. Suppressing Revolt

How large a garrison will be required to occupy a country waging a low grade guerrilla war? It's too early to tell. Everything must be guarded. More guards are needed to guard scattered things of value than soldiers needed for the initial conquest.

The usual way to handle guerrillas is to shoot hostages. But, the U.S. already has WMD egg on it face and is charged by world public opinion of killing more than 5,000 Iraqi and Afghanistan civilians for no reason.

At this time it seems imprudent to round up 500 hostages and shoot them in retaliation for the death of each American soldier. Perhaps 50 or 10? But, would that suffice to make the Sons-of-Esau stop being the Sons-Of-Esau? I wouldn't count on it.

The U.S. occupation government may have to step in and hand out Iraqi reconstruction contracts directly instead of using a puppet government. That really wouldn't look good.

It could be that the U.S. has stepped into the same mid-east shoes recently vacated by the USSR.

If this is true, and the present writer believes that it is true - we see what happened to the Soviet Union as something that can happen to America. If that happens there is a very real possibility that America, already wracked by serious religious and political dissentions, could disolve into distinctive parts.

> "They will each turn to his own people, and each one will flee to his own land. Anyone who is found will be thrust through, and anyone who is captured will fall by the sword. Their little ones will also be dashed to pieces." Isaiah 13:14-16

Our job will be to see that when our nation is rebuilt that it will not repeat the same mistakes.

Letter from S. Africa by K.J.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins:

We heard on the 6 o'clock news that a petrol tanker overturned and burnt out on the road we have to take and the road was closed. The latest news item was that the petral tanker had been hijacked and was on the way to Zimbabwe where hardly any petrel is to be had and the price is high.

I found your HR on National Socialism most interesting. It makes one feel so much closer to one's kinsmen who suffer under aliens. My grandmother was German and a wonderful woman.

The weather here turned overnight from a very hot summer into an icy cold winter.

The black ANC has plunged the country into mess. Their only defense is to blame whites. They blame whites for wanting to remain white and use smear words such as "racist" and "hater". They push through radical laws overnight without parliamentary approval. One of these laws allows them to confiscate white property in towns and country without compensation. Their continued failures causes the coming year not to look good for Mbeki and his government.

We have discovered that the Africaner right wingers accused of high treason are not guilty at all. The whole thing was a government National Security frame-up. Our police are the most corrupt in the world.

We met 5 of the high school children at the children's home and one cannot wish for more pleasant children with better manners. They are busy with exams. Willie will take more photos of the home.

Enclosed are receipts for the money from your subscribers for the children. Rina, who manages the home, was most grateful. She was also excited about response from others after Willie's letter to you was published in HR. An American lady speaking Afrikaans from Missouri phoned to say that she and 16 Afrikaners who live near her would like to help. A young man wrote from a state prison. He wants to place an article on the home in newspapers. Willie will be writing to him.

Willie and Rina came over when the money from your subscribers arrived. After Willie spoke to you on the telephone he said he wished he could come to America to thank the people who are helping, but honestly the middle class here cannot afford such things. Anyway, words cannot tell you how thankful they are.

It was suggested that the children make a plaque to honor your subscribers, but thought it best to get your input first.

Our best wishes to you and your subscribers, K.J.

RKH: I talked with several HR readers. We appreciate the thought of a commemorative plaque, but believe that obedience to the WORD is sufficient.

Our hope is that in spite of hard times here in America, those who can and have not yet helped their S. African kinsmen will do so - directly or through HR. A little goes a long way when one has nothing.[2]

Justice In S. Africa

"Thus far", writes Koos Venter in Die Afrikaner May 16, 2003, "not a single newspaper or other medium has published any concrete evidence that can link the 'right-wing extremists' to any crime. All that they have to go on are police allegations. Neither has any allegation or charge been tested in court. ...

"The most interesting part of the article lies in revelations regarding the involvement of the Institute for Security Studies (ISS) and certain Security policemen and 'state witnesses'. For instance, the media has throughout used the 'expert opinion' of the ISS... the ISS receives donations from the British and American governments, the Ford Foundation and the Rockerfeller Brothers Fund. With leftist funders like this, 'objectivity' from the ISS can hardly be expected. ...

"Venter quotes from two books concerning agents provocateurs. The first is Lamprecht's "Government by Deception:

> "'The provacateur is someone who goes to the enemy side pretending to be one of them. His aim is to encourage them to stir up trouble. The point of the exercise is to set the enemy for a fall. ...The provocateurs can encourage the right winger to do things which are skillfully planned to go wrong so that it backfires on the right-wingers.'"

"Riaan Labuschagne writes in his just published "On South Africa's Secret Service - An Undercover Agent's Story" about the pre-1994 election bombs planted by the AWB:

> "The right-wing organizations responsible had been deeply penetrated by the Security Police and probably National Intelligence as well. Their top leadership was riddled with paid informers - and inform they did. They > planned bombing missions and ordered their subordinates to carry them out, then passed details of the operation to their handlers. Afterwards, they collected rewards of up to R250,000 per bomber they had fingered for arrest. Many of those right wing bombers are still languishing in gaol and are likely to remain there for some time to come. ...(RKH: This is when the Rand was R1.25 to the dollar. Traitors got a quarter of a million dollars for each betrayal)

"At least two state witnesses are regarded by other arrestees as being planted agents. If evidence proves this, then according to SA criminal law it is still a criminal offense to instigate others to commit a crime." Impact (S. Afr.), p 3, June/July 2003

Patriots Of N. Carolina

In the mid 1980s there was a political militia group called "The Patriots Of North Carolina" led by an ex-green beret named Glen Miller. The group met on a regular basis and membership grew by leaps and bounds. Perhaps 500 or more would parade through rural towns of NC each carrying a large Confederate battle flag. They created quite a presence. The group also issued an impressive newspaper which seemed to be read everywhere.

With increased membership the Patriots began to be looked on as a viable political group. It was then the leadership was accused of buying stolen guns. It appeared to be just the usual government "sting" operation - there was no way to know that the guns were stolen. If memory serves, it was also said that the leadership was involved in robberies to raise money for "the movement", and that they neglected to appear at a hearing. This seemed strange, because there was no need for any of it.

Warrants were issued for their arrest. Glen Miller issued a bulletin to members to attack "the enemy" and fled. No one heeded this nonsense. Other members who had been accused fled at the same time, but all were quickly picked up. It seemed the government knew exactly where their hideouts were.

Glen Miller then shocked everyone by being the star witness. He was a cartel asset. His testimony caused Patriot Party members to be locked up for various periods. The government gave Miller a new identity and a new life far away from N. Carolina. He's still out there and surfaces briefly from time to time to makes an announcement or two before sliding back again into the federal underworld.

Glen Miller was an American counterpart of what is going on in S. Africa today. He took the disgruntled political spirit of North Carolina, organized it into a coherent political force with potential to break into the mainstream. This done, he destroyed his creation - and wiped out political dissent in N. Carolina for a generation. That's what government agents provacateur do. That's what the government pays them to do. The government believes that it is money well spent.

There is much to learn here. I noted this: Glen Miller drank. That told me all I really needed to know. Followers of the WORD don't drink. They don't drink because they have been appointed kings: "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests." Rev 1:5-6; Drinking advertises a person's rejection of the appointment. King's can't drink because; "It is not for kings to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law, and pervert the judgment." Pr 31:4-5.

Glen Miller had a chaplain, a good man who talked to the assembled membership. The membership assumed that since Miller had a good man for chaplain that he held the same values as did his chaplain. Instead, Miller already had a god - the God of the Empire who had hired him to betray his fellows - a modern Judas. "No man can serve two masters." Matt 6:24.

Talk is cheap. "By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20. Watch your leaders. Watch what they do. All leaders follow leaders. Make sure you have correctly identified the leader of your leader - or you will find yourself in the nest of the Eagle God like the Boermag in S. Africa and the Patriots of N.C. have found themselves - ready to be eaten alive.

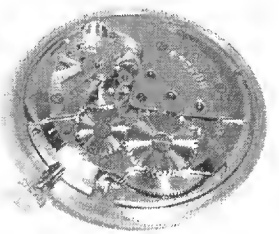
Chapter 348



CHRISTENDOM CONVERTS TO HINDUISM

"Our Father which art in heaven
Hallowed be Thy name
Thy kingdom come
Thy will be done
On Earth ..."

For two thousand years, man has prayed for God's kingdom to come and rule the earth - and that kingdom remains as far away as ever.

Why?

Because, if man, who is made in the image of the WORD were permitted to obey the WORD, Esau's world - the corporate world of the great merchant - would collapse in ruins. The great profits Esau receives because of his usury and trade would vanish and we would have that Kingdom we pray for.

Note 6 in the Reformer's Geneva Bible referring to James 2:11 states: "The Lawmaker is always one and the self same, and the body of the Law cannot be divided."

This means that God and his WORD are one.

The WORD of God

God the WORD can be likened to a splendid pocket watch. Every part fits with every other part. It is precise. It has a stem to calibrate, a mainspring to provide power, gears that transmit power. Each gear fits exactly with the next gear.

There are big gears and little gears. All gears are synchronized and work together resulting in the time recorded being the correct time.

God made the world like this timepiece - the gears represent the Laws by which the world is to be run. There are the lesser Laws - like the law of gravity and the law of motion. They allow wonderful machines like aeroplanes to be built. Then there are the still greater Laws that determine whether the aeroplanes will carry passengers or bombs. This choice determines who will be blessed or cursed.

Regardless, the Watchmaker created the gears to work together and produce the marvel of the Law.

When Esau and his agents find the Law an obsticle - and throw dirt into the works, or damages a gear, or remove a gear and substitute a foreign one, or displace a bearing - the timepiece will malfunction. It will not perform as it was designed to perform.

Today

Today the timepiece is malfunctioning. The operating manual that came with the watch is not only ignored, but banned. The priests who claim to be the "experts" spend their time talking about alien time-pieces. Some of these priests boast that they are flaming fagots. The top leader of one group warns against sodomy - while protecting his own sodomite and pedofile priests.

Most of the other priests who parade themselves as representing "True Christian Values" have yet to stand up and damn the heretics or call down damnation on their heads and pray that "God's will be done on earth!"

The rare exception to the general stench is so remarkable as to cause public comment.

The Hindu

The International merchant operates world-wide. He says that his gods are the same as his customer's gods - just a different manifestation.

If the customer's god is hostile to the international merchant - dharmamatra missionaries are dispatched bearing the merchant's money and media to change the minds of the hostile priests of the local god and line their pockets.

Esau's corporations and their agents richly endow colleges and seminaries in coveted markets. In exchange, the colleges and seminaries put Esau's corporate agents on their boards. The result is that these institutions of learning are converted into Hindu brainwashing factories. Their graduates accept and add dharma[1] to their beliefs and as a result receive special preference when they go to work in the corporate business world of Esau.

Tables

Note the two tables to the right. The first contains the general beliefs of followers of Hindu gods.

The second contains the requirements of the WORD - which are the opposite of the Hindu beliefs in the first column.

Esau's agents have been working for a long time replacing the smoothly working gears of the Master with their own. All it takes is one bad gear and the entire list will be affected to some degree, and Jacob will continue being a slave to Esau for another thousand years.

Like the watch - the violation of a single Law in God's Kingdom affects the operation of the whole. All Laws must operate to achieve maximum efficiency.

Basic Religion

Most religions require that their followers NOT lie, cheat, steal, or murder and to be nice - at least while dealing with their own kind.

Even the mafia finds it necessary to enforce these rules to ensure smooth internal operations. These rules are basic to any society and are common to ALL religions.

1 "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka. 304 B.C.-232 B.C. "Dharma" - non-violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to "race, creed, or nationality." Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations to expedite trade. "Dharmatized - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma.

The "leaders" of heathen religions can and do violate these basic rules at will - but thatperk is just for leaders - leaders will not tolerate their followers doing the same. A mafia Don, a religious leader, or politician can lie, cheat, and steal as much as he likes - but the underling who lies, cheats, and steals from the "family" is fish-bait.

The Christian religion requires more than the requirement NOT to lie, cheat, steal, or murder and to be nice." It requires that the rest of the rules of the WORD be obeyed - and that is what makes the WORD different from the laws of other gods.

Man was ejected from the Garden of Eden - it took just one little apple to do it - but the apple was the gear that jammed up the rest of the watch.

It only takes one.

The Hindu

On page 167 were two tables - one listed Hindu beliefs and the other listed Christian beliefs.

Over the years the "Dharmamatras" - the Hindu merchant's missionaries - using their usury and media monopoly - have caused the labels to be reversed. Look at the table on the next page. The list that once was "Hindu" now proclaims itself to be "Christian". What was formerly "Christian" no longer exists - it has been banished.

"Christian" preachers stand in pulpits nationwide teaching Hindu beliefs while calling them Christian.

The Remnant

Where does this leave us?

It leaves us exactly where we are supposed to be. It is the day when Gideon's followers await their leader.

Some of Gideon's followers lay down beside the stream and drank their fill of everything that flowed past. Others watched the water and after the dirty patches of water flowed past - and pure water appeared - they reached down and scooped up a handful of clean water to drink.[2]

Jesus Christ - the WORD made flesh - chose you and appointed you "Kings and priests". You didn't choose him - he chose you. And, except for a miniscule group of called-out teachers and priests - there is no one else.

Why you?

Because you know dirty water when you see it! When you see someone who calls himself "Christian" teaching the way of the anti-christ - you'll know!

If it looks like a duck
If it walks like a duck
If it quacks like a duck
Chances are - it's a duck!

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

We went to see the Lorrie Youth Centre and in spite of being very busy, Betzy made time to chat with us. There were a few tonsil cases and one girl broke a leg. The provincial hospital was a nightmare so Betzy remained with them and took the children home as soon as possible. She was going to write to you, but we told her that until things are more settled we will thank your subscribers for her and for all they are doing. It means so much for these children to be in a home full of love and care.

We went to the HNP office and they are satisfied with the petitions coming in. They seem certain that deKlerk will be required to appear in court and many want to attend the hearing. The feeling against deKlerk is running high.

I feel that in spite of high hopes it will not be easy to get deKlerk into court. He is as slippery as an eel. We would love to see him explain the thousands of deaths of Whites he caused by giving power to black communists. Petitions are everywhere protesting deKlerk's treason.

Transvaal Agriculture Union SA declared that they will resist any farm confiscation and regard it as a declaration of war. Turbulent times are ahead of us but better that then sitting back and doing nothing.

I fully agree with the letter in the HR viewing our country. It used to be beautiful but with black Africa moving in - everything is disappearing. No trees, no grass, no animals, and no birds - all the things we love.

A year ago black farmers were given some of the most fertile farms in Letsitele outside Tzaneen where tropical fruit grew for export. Now, there is nothing left. Nothing.

A close friend's uncle 59 and aunt 57 were murdered by blacks. He had just retired from the police. One does not want to complain all the time, but life has become difficult with 2% paying the way for the rest.

A white liberal who manned a table in a shopping center approached us for money for disadvantaged black children. A heated argument followed. She was asking for donations for black children who already get government allowances - allowances which are disallowed to white children.

Liberals are programmed and conditioned so that the media can tell them anything and they will believe it. They never think for themselves or believe that they are working against their own people.

Old Mandela, the black saint, had his birthday and what a fuss the media made over him. They call him the greatest statesman ever. He hardly does anything but pose for photographs.

The Mine Workers Union are holding talks with the SA Communist Party. No wonder they left the Loerie Youth Centre in the lurch. Think of the disaster if your subscribers had not appeared to help when they did.

With our best wishes, K.J.

UNFILTERED NEWS

DEEP POCKETS: "General Motors'(recently made a) contribution of $2.5 million to La Raza. La Raza ("the Race") is a hard-core Mexican extremist nationalist group that is working to retake the Southwest on behalf of Mexico. La Raza announced that it will use its windfall from GM to build a central headquarters building in Washington, D.C." (Nationalist Times, Aug 2003, p.23, Ph 724-443- 7300.)

RKH: The great international corporations are holding companies for Esau's wealth. They make grants anti-Saxon movements in fulfillment of Esau's oath to destroy Jacob.

HNP Blames U.S.

"Mr. Louis van der Schyff, chief secretary of the HNP (The White S.A. political party) made a media statement to refresh people's memory:

"Henry Kissinger said after he returned from one of his visits to SA to force John Vorster to betray S. African whites, 'I want a Black government in SA'. Margaret Thatcher said while the British applied full pressure on the SA, 'I demand the release of Mandela!'

"Was it not the meddling from outside which overthrew the White regimes of Mozambique, Rhodesia, South West Africa and South Africa? Through American and British pressure Mr. John Vorster betrayed the Whites in Mozambique between April 1974 and Aug. 1976 to communist takeover. By enforcing sanctions against Mr. Ian Smith, Rhodesia was made to accept black government.

"Through the shameful resolution 435 of the UN Security Council, S.W. Africa was forced to surrender to Swapo and a black communist government. The forbidden SA Communist Party did not have their office in Moscow, but in London.

"Through foreign pressure the S. African Constitution was changed where the Three Chamber Parliament of Coloureds, Indians, and Whites became part of the government. Then, under final pressure from America, S. Africa was forced to accept a Communist Constitution during the Kempton Park negotiations and political power was given to the Black communist ANC-regime.

"On the other hand, Mr. Bush must also realize that what you sow you will reap. He has now a lawless S. Africa created by America. America's meddling has created a monster."

Ireland

"July 10, 2003 Ulster, Ireland - Immigrant families in Northern Ireland are being systematically driven out by 'Blood and Thunder' units associated with British Loyalty groups, according the 'Equality Commission' - a government entity established in the territory. In the latest incident, a group of ten men attacked the home of a 'mixed race' family with iron bars and baseball bats and beat down the door and ordered the couple and their six children to leave the country. The couple complied and are no longer residing in Ireland. They are not the first family to be driven out, though news reports would not estimate how many immigrants have left." Nordwave, POB 5901, Lake Worth, FL 33466, (a_hassinger@yahoo.com)

BLACKOUT

Remember, following the Oklahoma City bombing, the newspapers and TV went into great detail on how to make a fertilizer bomb - they were teaching people to make bombs for use against the government. Well, they are doing it again. Catch this from the N.Y. Times, August 17, 2003:

"Taking down the system (the nation's electric grid) through a deliberate act - terrorism - would be ridiculously easy.

"If you want to do a good job, you go to a Texas gun show and buy a grenade launcher." said Charles Perrow, an emeritus professor of sociology at Yale who is the author of 'Normal Accidents: Living with High-Risk Technologies.' "You drive by an electric power station and you point in the right direction and bang."

"While the caretakers of the grid might be able to compensate for a single such attack, he added, "a coordinated attack on two stations" would be a catastrophic double whammy that the grid's control system is not designed to handle."

RKH: The king is having trouble creating a believable "terrorist" threat. Only the naive could believe that the above "how to" article was accidental. Show a potential malcontent how he can commit an act of terror - and presto; "terror" - and a police state is needed to combat the terror!

AFGHANISTAN[3]: The Investors Business Daily of August 14, 2003 reports that Afghanistan is awash in violence. Dozens are killed in battles between Taliban and puppet government troops. This reminds of an interview conducted by the Franfurter Allegmeine Zeitung back on Oct 6, 2001:

> "Deposed Afghan President Burhanuddin Rabbani hit out at United States policy in Afghanistan, accusing it of having created the ruling Taliban. 'After the defeat of Soviet troops, the US completely forgot our country." he said. "Washington afterwards created the Taliban, at the side of Pakistan, supported and armed them to overcome my Islamic government.' Rabbani said."

Just the usual case of a corrupt government starting a fire and trying to justify its existence by putting it out. Exactly what reason did Washington's Commentern give for invading a weak 3rd world country that had done us no harm? There have been so many of these kind of incidents that they seem to run together.

3 Text of Footnote

SCHWARZENEGGER: Arnold Schwarzenegger named billionaire investor, Warren Buffet, his top business and economic adviser. When asked about California's economy in Palo Alto between Jan 2001 and Jan 2003, when 223,900 private-sector jobs were lost but govt. jobs rose by 121,700 Schwarzenegger said, "I don't want to get into that right now." He says he wants to spend more on school construction and hire more teachers at a time of severe budget problems. He is a social liberal - married into the Kennedy clan (Boy!) and supports abortion on demand, homosexual adoption and "sensible gun controls." He is a Hollywood product that becomes whatever character his director wants him to be - and believes he is that character while on stage. Hollywood types are easy to spot. In fact, the whole system is becoming visible.

TEN COMMANDMENTS

Alabama Chief Justice Roy Moore defied a federal order to remove a monument showing the 10 Commandments from the state judicial building. He said he would take his fight to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Once bit - twice shy.

George Wallace was our teacher. His law career was a practice of Esau's law. He was a janissary who posed as a supporter of Jacob's Law. He stood in the schoolhouse door to prevent Esau from taking over the education of Saxon children - and then stepped aside and let Esau take over. Strange defiance!

This act gained Wallace nationwide notoriety. The media gave publicity to his protest party. The protest was meant to cause a split in the majority party's vote - but the Wallace phenomenon unexpectedly grew into a countrywide 3rd party steamroller that threatened to sweep away both of Esau's parties. It was politically necessity to remove Wallace. He was shot. The 3rd party threat disintegrated and Esau's rule remained in place.

The promoters of Chief Justice of Alabama Roy Moore think we have forgotten Mr. Wallace. We haven't. The Supreme Court is appointed by America's puppet king. Its appointed puppet members are sworn to uphold Esau's Laws - the laws of the International merchant. Note that Roy Moore has not come out and said that he wants our Saxon nation to live under the Commandments of the WORD - he merely wants court permission to show 10 of its Commandments to the public - like showing a monkey in a cage.

Polls say that Roy Moore now has a 77% approval rating. If the Cartel media should suddenly back him to be America's next right- wing leader without Roy Moore demanding that we be allowed to live under God's Laws - you'll know we have another George Wallace.

Be patient. God will send us a Gideon in due time. Any contender for the leadership of America's Christian right must be willing to go all the way to Galgotha. We've had our fill of the George Wallace types.

SODOMY: "Richard Alvin Ausley, 63, is scheduled for release in April. In 1973, Ausley abducted a 13-year-old Portsmouth boy, buried him in a box and raped and sexually abused him for a week. Before that, he had served a 10-year sentence for abducting and raping a 10-year-old boy." News & Advance, Jan 5, 2003, p2

RKH: The sodomite problem exists because the WORD is banned.

GAY & CRIMINAL: Dr. Timothy Dailey of the Family Research Council in Washington, DC released a report in June citing evidence that, while homosexual men comprise less than 3% of the total population, they commit up to a third of all sex crimes against children. "This is not to say, by any means, that all homosexuals are child molesters," Daily said. "However, there is a great deal of evidence that connects homosexuality with the molestation of ... boys." Dailey analyzed about 40 previously published studies which show that most pedophiles are males; significant numbers of victims are boys; and pedophile themes abound in homosexual literature. (Citizen, Sept 02)"

Homosexual activists Marshall Kirk and Hunter Madsen, in their manifesto for "gay rights, After the Ball, stated that their primary objective is to "cow and silence" those who adhere to a belief structure that condemns homosexuality. At a conference held by the Gay, Lesbian, and Straight Educational Network, their director of communication said: "If we do our jobs right, we will raise a whole generation of children who will reject the claims of the religious right." (Paper by Alan Sears and Craig Osten off the Alliance Defense Fund.) (The Witness, Nov 2002)

FEEDLOT COWS: "Confinement versus free-range - imprisoning animals in 'factory concentration camps' robs them of natural medicinals available in a pasture-based system as well as the emotional health that results from a natural environment." Acres USA

ALLERGIES: "The stuff that pretends to be milk isn't milk. It seeds allergies the way sick blood seeds AIDS. The solution is unadulterated raw milk. ... You can get an abortion

PAT ROBERTSON: The Rev. Pat Robertson's wife won a top prize in the Virginia lottery. Robertson expressed surprise as he has taken a strong stand against lotteries and gambling.

> "He that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent." Prov. 28:20; "An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed." Prov 20:21 (28:20; Hab 2:6)

The WORD also says; "For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?" 1 Tim 3:5.

LASER: The U.S. shot down an artillery shell in midflight. The Army said the laser tracked, locked onto and fired a burst of concentrated light energy photons at the shell destroying the projectile. (Investors Business Daily, p. 2, Nov 6, 2002)

RKH: Tomorrow's battlefield may become the exclusive domain of infantry. No tanks, aircraft, or artillery - just terrified kids with laser guns living underground most of the time.

TYPHOID MARY: "Some of the most radical Islamic groups in the world are using Britain as their strategic base. Why are they allowed to conduct their activities unimpeded? Jerusalem Post, World Affairs, July 11, 2003; (New Beginnings, Sept, 2003.)

RKH: Today Britain is home to radical Islamic Groups; yesterday it was home to S. Africa's communist Mandela; before that, Karl Marx; then Britain's empire builders; before that, missions to American Indians who were later loosed on us! Business as usual for the Hindu merchant and his agents.

EXECUTING HOSTAGES: Traditionally, conquerors shoot hostages in retaliation for casualties caused by rebels resisting the conquest. Algeria's unelected puppet government found it politically inadvisable to shoot hostages taken from its own people. Instead, government agents set off bombs in crowded market places - and blamed it on the rebels.

U.S. conquerors of Iraq have been taking casualties from Iraqi rebels. Politically, they are unable to retaliate by shooting hostages. A carbomb recently exploded near an Iraqi mosque killing a prominent Muslim cleric and many others. The U.S. said the rebels killed their own people. As long as U.S. forces continue to take casualties, we can expect the U.S. to say that Iraqi rebels are killing more and more of their own people.

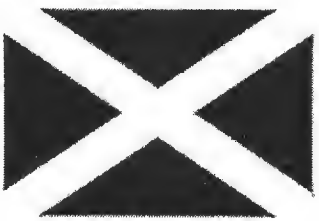
Chapter 349



PAUL HILL
And
"The Rising Of 1715"

Paul Hill was a Presbyterian minister. He had a wife and three children. He had a lot to lose. He shot an abortionist and his bodyguard. The media demonized him. The state put him to death. It's an old story.

The Reason

There are two law systems:

* The WORD - the never-changing Law System of Jacob vs

* Trade Law - the everchanging law-system of Esau and his agents.

First century Christians called those who follow the WORD - "children of light", and those who didn't - "children of darkness".

There is no way that these two opposed law systems and their followers can exist in the same land without conflict.

America's Past

In the recent past there has been a series of law-collisions - one after another. A farmer named Arthur Kirk was shot down in his front door for refusing to give up his farm that his Law said was his forever; Tax protester Gordon Kahl was shot in the back of the head - mafia style - because he believed his God condemned taxes. American war hero, Byron de la Beckwith was framed by false witnesses to provide an example to punish where none was available. Paul Hill was put to death because he tried to protect unborn babies.

The list is endless and the prisons are full. Confrontation survivors go before Esau's Admiralty courts and find themselves facing mixed-race juries thirsting for their blood. Such a thing itself is a violation of the Law and prohibited by the WORD. Predictably, the verdict of Esau's courts is always "guilty!"

The Author Holding His Ancestor's Sword

Scotland

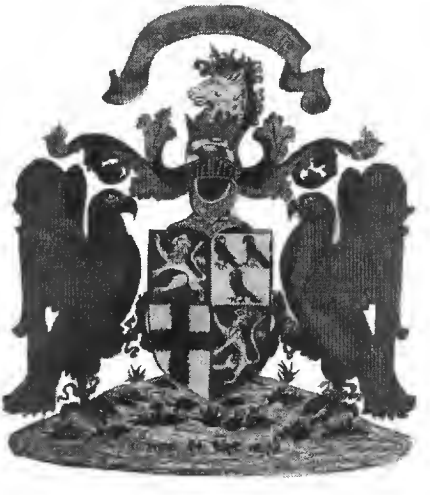
My ancestor George Hume was sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered for taking part in the "Rising of 1715" against the English occupation of Scotland. His son, also named George, age 15, fought beside him in the war and was banished to Virginia. In 1981, I visited kinsmen in Scotland and held his sword.

Mother used to play the piano and my sisters, cousins, aunts, uncles and neighbors would gather round and sing Scottish songs that young George brought over with him. Songs of war. Songs about the way things were then. I've always known these songs. His portrait is on the next page.

Arms

Note the Hume coat of arms to the right. It tells a story.

Let me explain. George Hume wasn't really his name. His real name was Dunbar - George Dunbar.



He was a "Hume" because an ancestor was "enfiefed" with "Hume" land by the king. "Enfiefment" meant that the king made him an "overseer" of this Hume land. It was his job to keep the workers busy, collect tribute from them (sharecrop), and fight the English with the Hume militias in his care when they tried to cross the border. The operation wasn't a lot different from the way plantations were managed in Virginia - except in Scotland the workers were Scots.

The name Hume means "helmet". Scotland's "helmet lands" were the lowlands on the border facing England. These lands were the first to meet the never ending English invasions.

There were several divisions of Hume lands

1: SIR GEORGE HUME of Wedderburn 3rd Baronet; (-1720) Royal Scots Fusiliers 1702; Burgess of Edinburgh 1699; fought in the Jacobite Rising of 1715; captured at Preston England; Imprisoned in The Marshalsea; sentenced to be hanged, drawn & quartered with lands forfeited.. m. 1695 Margaret (- 1765) eldest dau of Sir Patrick Hume of Lumsden, Baronet.

2. George Home (Hume) 2nd son. Wedderburn Castle near Berwick, (1698-1760) Engaged with his father in the Jacobite attempt of 1715 and was later banished to Culpeper Co. VA; Officer colonial wars, Surveyor Spotsylvania, Frederick, Orange & Culpeper Cos, taught G. Washington to survey. m. 1727 Elizabeth Proctor dau of George Proctor, Spotsylvania

3. Charles Hume (1737 - 1821) Culpeper Co. m. Hannah James 1764 on the border - "Blackadder", "Hersel", "Wedderburn", etc. George Dunbar was a "Wedderburn" Hume.

4. Capt Joseph Hume (1775-1851) Culpeper Co. War Of 1812 m Elizabeth Jones (1785-1862)

As stated before, George did not own the "Wedderburn" Hume lands, they were enfiefed (leased) to him by the king. The coat-of-arms was granted by the king to let people know that he had the king's authority - like stripes on a sergeant's sleeve give him the right to issue orders.

5. Dr. Charles E. Hume (Sep 19, 1824-Dec 10, 1906, Madison Co. Va. m. Mary Emma Thompson (Feb 6, 1832-Feb 10, 1903) of Fauquier Co; dau of Joseph Thompson & Lucy Hume.

The Scottish king, who "rented" the Wedderburn Hume lands to this branch of the Dunbars, didn't own the Hume lands, either. The lands were initially claimed by the Pope[1] who enfiefed (leased) them to the king in exchange for a share of the tribute taken from the people. The Pope

6. Georgie Hume (1864-1942) m. 1892 Webb City, Mo. Richard Thomas Kelly of Culpeper (1867-1939)

1 POPE: "Pépa". Latin - used as term of respect for ecclesiatics of high position. "Father" was claimed by the Western Church. From 1073 used exclusively by the Bishop of Rome." Oxford Eng. Dict had the power to give both Scotland and Ireland to England - and actually once did so.

Rome

The Roman religious system descended from the political/religious system of the Roman Empire. Roman emperors combined the leadership of the political and religious offices in their own persons. The emperor was both high priest and king. Statues of him were placed in the temples of each of Rome's gods - like flags in Christian temples today. They reminded people that the Emperor's word stood above that of the gods.

Emperor Constantine pre-empted the rapidly growing revolutionary Christian movement by creating a state episcopal religion using Christian ritual and parables but whose real purpose was to suppress its racist anti-universalist teachings that harmed Rome's international trade.

Later, when Rome fragmented, the empire re-invented itself as a religious-trade organization. It established local warlord kings to protect Vatican far-flung assets. Vatican money and religious sponsorship were given to the new kings in exchange for their protecting trade and providing military aid when needed. Then, there was worked out a sharing arrangement for the tribute collected from the people. Greedy ungrateful kings who wanted the entire tribute were suppressed by coalitions of kings loyal to the Vatican.

When reading the Saxon Chronicles, I stumbled across this notation on p. 107 :

> "AD 883. ... king Alfred ... led ... to Rome the alms which king Alfred ordered thither, and also in India to St. Thomas and to St. Bartholowmew."

Interesting. The money trail follows trade completely out of Europe and on to the East - the home of usury.

What I'm leading up to is this: In Europe everyone was enfiefed to someone else. When the younger George Hume was banished to America, just a penniless boy, a POW with a seven year indenture hanging over his head - it was the most fortunate thing that could have happened to him. In time, he obtained lands in what was then Culpeper County.

In Virginia

Back in Scotland the Humes were enfiefed with what they had. In Virginia, George Hume owned his own land. He could plow it and keep the increase without sharing with anyone. It was his. He paid no tax-tribute. He owned his own self-sufficient farm! He was master of his own estate. His farm was his own small country and he was its king. The Wedderburn Humes back in Scotland had been enfiefed with thousands of acres and could lead 20,000 men to war - but they didn't own a single acre of land that they could call their own. Not one single, blessed acre. AND, they were servants of another.

Here in America, everyone owned his own land, or was in the process of getting it. HR readers are descended from men who once owned their own farms. They were kings - kings acknowledging only the WORD as their King of Kings.

Here in America we almost had it - we almost had God's kingdom on earth - handed us on a silver tray. We almost pulled it off. We almost did. Almost.

The Book

Dan Raber, who once organized feasts in Tennessee to study the WORD, gave me an old history book about Scotland printed in 1722. It is a great big thing. It related the history of the sufferings of occupied Scotland in the late 1600s. As I read the names, dates, offenses, fines, executions, and punishments, I began to understand what was behind the stories and songs that had been passed down in the family.

The writer of this book had known many of the Scots he wrote about. He talked about the descendants of Covenanters and their persecution. These people knew the WORD. Their "Scottish Declaration Of Independence" written soon after the time of Wallace traced their ancestry from the time they left the Holy Land. They knew who they were and the rights given their ancestors by God - and they knew that these same rights were theirs by right of inheritance.

This was dangerous knowledge for anyone who was supposed to be a loyal subject of a king. How does a king rule "subjects" who don't believe that kings have the right to rule them in the first place.[2]

Puritans & Covenanters

A religious reform movement took place all over Europe in the 1500s - almost at the same time. Fed up with the corruption present in organized religion, people opted to live under God's WORD. Each country had a different name for their movement, but it was the same basic belief: Germany had Lutheranism, in France- Huguenots, England - Puritans; Scotland - Covenanters.

Scotland's king was a dyed-in-the-wool Presbyterian - James VI. In an attempt to calm Scotland, in 1607 the Cartel tapped this very Scottish Presbyterian king to sit on England's vacant throne and rule both Scotland and England. His new name was James I of England.

In Scotland, James had been a weak king because Scots would not stand for a strong one. Things were different when James moved to England and became her king. He now had a powerful army and strong state church to enforce his physical as well as his spiritual demands. Wielding this power, he

Now ... shew them the manner of the king that shall reign over them. ... He will take your sons ... for his chariots, and [to be] his horsemen ... and to reap his harvest ... and to make his instruments of war ... And he will take your fields ... and give [them] to his servants. And he will ... give to his officers, and to his servants. And he will take ... the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants." I Sa 8:5-22* changed overnight from pro-Scottish pro-Presbyterian into pro-empire pro-state-religion.

The King James lesson is that when kings (or presidents) become powerful and wealthy - they can't be trusted to be loyal to the WORD or the people the WORD rules.[3]

Only the foolish forget that kings and presidents are appointed by the International Trade Cartel to serve the Cartel. Their behavior testifies to the truth of this. Time after time, in exchange for money, power, and prestige, rulers honor the merchants' wishes rather than address the needs of his own people.

The only protection against these types is to prevent them from ever having the opportunity to become kings. Having to rise through the Biblical presbyterian hierarchy system of 10s and 100s gives the unworthy little opportunity to hide their faults.

Events Leading To 1715

England's Puritan Revolution - the English equivalent of Scotland's Covenanter revolt - almost succeeded. A Catholic king had been defeated by Oliver Cromwell, the Puritan general. Many of the Catholic king's followers were packed on ships and sent to America.

Then, Cromwell pulled a "Benedict Arnold", or a "DeK-lerk" if you prefer, and switched sides. He was acting king - why not be one? He went after the very Puritan and Covenanter followers who selected him to be general of their armies and defeated them. He then marched into Scotland, captured and blew up Hume Castle, and loaded many of his former

3 "Let him not have... abundance of riches... he may grow too proud to submit to the laws." Antiq 4:8:17

Scottish Covenanters along with his English Puritan friends on ships and sent them to Virginia. He then declared himself "Lord Protector" - another name for "king".

The Problem Remains

When Cromwell died, the Cartel selected another king for England and Scotland. This new king knew that the un-censored teachings of the WORD had been the greatest enemy of his predecessors.

Suppressing The 2/3s

The Bible is divided into two basic parts. One third deals with "personal improvement" - no lying, stealing, false witnesses, pay your debts, and be nice to babies and neighbors. This is basic. Without it trade can't take place.

The second part is different. It deals with "government". This is the part that had been causing trouble with kings and would-be kings. This 2/3s instructs Saxons how to conduct government, religion, and trade. It forbids taxes, kings, and monopolies. It demands that land be divided and never sold and it brands usury a capital crime. If people were to obey this 2/3s there would be no corporate monopolies and no kings.

The English king provided a "Prayer Book" to replace the Bible. It is a beautiful thing dealing with the acceptable 1/3 personal improvement part while diverting the reader's attention from the offending 2/3s that deals with Godly approved government. The Scots would have no part of it.

The Catholic Church's solution to the problem of the 2/3s had been to forbid people to read any part of the WORD. The Anglican solution was to provide a Prayer Book that left out the 2/3s.

Neither solution worked. Once the Bible escaped the grasp of kings and fell into the hands of the people - revolution was in the air. Episcopacies mean suppression. The WORD means freedom.

Suppressing Revolt

To suppress rebellion in Scotland, the English king, who was king of both England and Scotland, sent armies into Scotland and occupied key cities. A guerrilla war commenced. The occupation armies lost men, puppet rulers were harassed, tyrannical Episcopal bishops were slain. The King's forces retaliated ten-fold. Hangmen were busy and heads were placed on spikes over the gates of Edinburgh Castle - with the Humes losing their share. Dungeons were full.

Heavy taxes were levied to support these troops. The cities and countryside were heavily fined. Scotland, a poor land to start with, found it difficult to raise the money. Famine soon raised its head.

Preachers Targeted

Presbyterian preachers who had been seen at the scenes of fights between occupation forces and rebellious Scots were blamed for instigating the revolt.

As a result, Presbyterian church meetings were banned. English dragoons with Scot renegades scoured the countryside looking for illegal church services that continued being held in open fields and deep woods. These meetings were called field and wood "venticles".

When discovered, the preacher was immediately shot and the congregation was executed on the spot or dragged on the ends of ropes to prisons.

Bonded Church Services

In time, occupation authorities relented and allowed Presbyterian church services to be held - if the congregations posted bond.

This bond required church members to put up their homes and property as surety for the good conduct of the preacher. Church doors were required to be left unlocked so patrols could look in on the services.

If the preacher delved into the forbidden 2/3s of the WORD and attacked any of the prerogatives of the king - it was considered high treason. The church bond was forfeited and all the congregation lost their homes, their property, and their livelihood.

Self Censorship

It was from this time that both the Presbyterian Church and the Puritan Baptists of England split into two parts. One part taught the whole Scripture and were continuously hunted by the authorities as terrorist rebels. The second part learned to practice self-censorship. It still practices self-censorship.

The fiery Presbyterian ministers in time were rooted out of Scotland. Those who weren't killed escaped to America. In Virginia they organized congregations of Puritans and Covenanters from groups of refugees who had been banished to America. Eager ears heard words sharpened by years of persecution.

Not only did the Presbyterians hear these words, but Virginians who had long been forced by Royal edict to attend Anglican religious services, or fined for being absent, they too sought out these preachers. People like Patrick Henry, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson listened to the very words that had been preached earlier in Scotland. And as night follows day, Revolution in America was the result.

In winning Scotland Britain lost America.

Georgie-Hume

We were expecting a son. I was going to name him George Hume Hoskins. The Lord sent a daughter. The name was too good to waste so I named her Georgie-Hume.

She lives in a land that today in many ways is identical to Scotland before 1715. Its puppet government punishes those who want to live under the WORD. It occupied and closed down the Indianapolis Baptist Temple. It persecuted Bob Jones University. It taxes the Saxon to lavish on aliens. It has increased taxes so that they are almost unbearable. Jobs are being "out-sourced"; strangers are filling the land. Sodomy and abortion are government protected. America's Godless rulers raid peoples all over the world and steals their wealth.

Like 17th century Scotland, many are leaving self-censored establishment churches to study seditious and terrorist writings that are in the the 2/3s of the Bible dealing with government. Many have decided that they prefer to live under the WORD - God's Law.

Others have no idea what is in the WORD but for them what they see around them is becoming intolerable.

Prediction

It seems inevitable that unless the occupation government of the International Merchants does not relent its oppression of Saxon America, the time will come when the Saxon will begin to feel that the merchant's government is its worse enemy.

It is no secret that the Cartel expects that this will be America's future. Their army is training for "urban warfare" and every effort is being made to demonize the Saxon and deprive him of his weapons. This can hardly be the actions of a friend.

When people believe that anything is better than what they have - that will be the condition that existed in Scotland before the Rising of 1715.

Conclusion

At the present time there are two Law systems in the land. Only one will survive.

It was the world of the "sons of darkness" that engulfed Paul Hill. He could stand it no longer. He knew the WORD promised that if America continues doing what it is doing it will be destroyed:

"If you walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them... I will give you peace..." Lev 26:3-9... "But if ye will not... do all these commandments... I will... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols ... And I will bring the land into desolation..." Lev 26:14-35. "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

He tried to protect the children and make amends for his people as others like him have done.

Paul Hill went cheerfully to his death saying that he expected great rewards in Heaven.

The occupation forces are hoping that their Lawlessness and excesses will be forgotten and that Paul Hill is only an aberration.

The Rising of the '15 teaches that when people have taken all that they can take - they don't forget.

Paul Hill may only be among the first.

Letter From S. Africa by K.J.

Murder and rape are rampant. It now takes two pages of the Citizen to report on them and then they do not list everyone.

Blacks seem to be on a murdering spree. Other Blacks in squatter camps have taken all they are going to take from the crooks among them and have developed their own justice system - car-tyres and fuel. They tie the tyre to the criminals and burn them alive.

It is useless to go to the police. Eight thousand dangerous criminals have been set free because the prisons are overflowing - but not a white among them.'

Our garden worker came along with the story that he was robbed one night at 12 o'clock and robbed a few days later at 5 o'clock. He said he is afraid and wants us to let him move into an outbuilding inside the security fence for safety. But, this cannot be allowed. According to one of the new laws, once you allow a black entry he is entitled to that area and it becomes his property. So, after the second "robbery" he had his stuff outside ready to be moved inside. But we were forced to say "no". He has a wife who stays not far from here and he can easily stay with her or get a house at Diepstoot across the road. Neither idea was to his liking.

My brother's son-in-law has two blacks on his farm, both retired. One washed a car with cold water once a week in wintertime. His hands are swollen and hurt. The other was a tractor driver and has pain in his arms. They now come to him with claims. Both want money for what they call "injuries" in spite of being allowed to stay free on the farm while receiving pensions of the same amount as whites.

There are two words that send us into a fury: That is for these people to whom we owe nothing to stand in front of us with hands on hips and demand: "I want", and "you must".

We went to the Orphanage today and the welcome was warm. Betzy was so thankful for the gift from our American Christian friends.

There was another couple visiting there, a former school principal. As far as I could see they only wanted to find out about the denomination of the orphanage. I tried to make them feel ashamed for not helping - but no way. They were Dutch Reformed and that usually means a dead church. A waste of time talking to such people.

Betzy said that people called and asked if the money they sent in letters had reached them. It hadn't, so there are definitely some people in the postal service who are intercepting the letters and stealing their contents. Others called to see if the money they sent by wire as you instructed arrived safely. It had. Thank goodness!

I placed an ad in an Africans newspaper about the orphanage and some letters came in. It is so exciting what your readers have started. Perhaps things are beginning to get better for us.

We had another break-in last night. The wind was blowing hard and we thought that was what had turned the alarm on. The robbers took a number of things, but it could have been much worse.

The communist noose is drawing tighter. Rules by the dozen for whites. The law for blacks is completely different, be it murder, rape or robbery. A murdered white hardly reaches the newspaper with a tiny article.

It really makes the day for the English papers when they can harm us. Except for a few the rest don't like the Afrikaner and I can't see that it will change. They empower blacks with high position in firms and even give them firms to manage. One received a platinum mine and promptly stole its assets and disappeared. Never in all these years have they ever helped an Afrikaner get on his feet. Now included with the English are the Jews and they are worse. They try to make Afrikaners seem good only for manual labour.

Best Wishes, K.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: Our deepest appreciation for the donations. Enclosed is the receipt. Please thank your readers.

"The Loeries" are healthy and happy. They perform at school according to their abilities and try their best. We give each the opportunity to reach his full potential by allowing them to participate in extramural activities. They love playing netball, rugby and cricket. They are given tasks and responsibilities in and around the house. The children's behavior is quite good. Enclosed is a photograph of the children, our building and bus.

Chapter 350

THE WORD Revealed The Way

Each person has hangups. I have more than most. The attempt to solve them revealed the WORD to me. The WORD revealed THE WAY. The WAY revealed the Enemy.

All knowledge comes from the WORD and without the WORD there is nothing.

Before

My brother died from leukemia when he was four. When I too was four, I was dying from pneumonia in my upstairs bedroom. An oxygen tent covered my upper body. It had glass windows at the top so that a doctor could look down on the patient. There were big green oxygen bottles to the right side of the bed.

Four doctors were in my room waiting - Dad, Dr. Hopkins, Uncle Pres, and another doctor whose name I've forgotten.

My mother was in the garden. She told me that she said, "God, you've taken one of my sons; take the other if it's your will, but if you let him live I'll give him to you."

I was told that at that very moment I began to get well.

Boyhood

Before medical clinics, Dad was always running into medical problems that he couldn't handle. His solution was to go back to medical school to learn new things. He ended up learning four separate specialities and practicing all four at the same time here in Lynchburg - the only doctor I ever heard of who did that.

Mom went to NY with him when he went back to school. It took a year or two each time to learn the new speciality and in the meanwhile my sisters and I stayed with Mom's parents on their farm across Mountain Run near Culpeper.

Revival

The Hoskins children went with their grandmother and their aunts to the First Baptist Church in town. There was a revival going on. The preacher asked for all those who wanted to follow God to come forward. I didn't ask, I just slipped past Grandmother and my aunts and went forward.

The preacher asked me a few questions and then stood me before the congregation and they voted me in as a member of the congregation. I was seven and was serious as only a 7-year old can be.

The preacher told me that as a new Christian I was supposed to come to church on Sunday and get other people to come. That was it. I already knew what Christians did - I wasn't supposed to lie, cheat or steal. Now, in addition, I was supposed to come to church on Sunday - which I was already doing - and bring someone. This last was the only thing new - so I tried

My recruiting efforts were checkered. Granddaddy played billiards with the preacher but absolutely wouldn't come to church. Uncle Roy, who lived with us, came a couple of times. Uncle Thompson, though, was a winner. He was big, strong, and people said that except for his drinking he would be the finest of the Kelly clan.

Uncle Thompson had started drinking when he was a boy. I suppose, because granddaddy - his father, Dick Kelly, drank. Thompson came to church, got saved, stopped drinking, got a good job and married the preacher's daughter. She was a great beauty in Culpeper.

Unfortunately, her father hadn't taught her about drinking. She wanted liquor in the house to entertain company when they dropped by. She also liked to have a drink before supper. She insisted that Thompson join her. He did, and went back to drinking. They got divorced.

In spite of later being a hero during WWII (he was on the Yorktown when it sank), he died an alcoholic in the veterans' hospital in Richmond.

Lynchburg

After moving back to Lynchburg, we had morning Bible reading and prayer. I was sent to Lynchburg's First Baptist summer "Bible School" where kids memorized Scripture verses. When that was through - the 1st Baptist children were sent to the Rivermont Presbyterian Bible School where they did more of the same. To this day I remember verses I learned almost 70 years ago.

Mom made me promise that I wouldn't drink anything until I was 18. I didn't. On my 18th birthday, I tasted my first beer and whiskey.

In all my life I had never been told that there was anything in the Bible against drinking. Never once. In fact, except for being taught not to lie, cheat or steal; go to church when the doors were open; pay my tithe and taxes - I was never taught anything about God's instructions - his Laws, Statutes and Judgments. Just pretty Psalms, indecipherable parables, and miracles - which I was expected to accepted at face value - which I did.

Fishburne Military School

I had a learning disability and was a poor student, so I was sent to a Military School. My learning disability consisted of "double thinking". My mind takes an instructor's words and decodes several meanings for each word while he speaks. He may say 10 words and I hear 30. I always fell behind in class when instructors spoke faster than my mind could decode what he was saying. I learned more than a lot of students, but it took longer.

Religion was a required course. My FMS Bible teacher was a Lutheran preacher. He was one of the best Bible teachers I ever had. He didn't teach God's Laws, but I learned the Bible stories - that Jesus walked on water and Moses parted the Red Sea. They were parables. I never learned what a "parable" was.

My belief system contained no doubts about God. I would have done anything God told me to do, but God never told me to do anything. My teachers hinted that they knew secret things but never told me what they were. They told me that God said not to lie, cheat or steal - but I knew that when I was seven.

Lynchburg College

I went to Lynchburg College. It was a church school. A religion course was required. My professor was Dr. Hunter. He was a red headed florid faced man who had been a missionary to China.

Dr. Hunter taught that the Biblical miracles were the result of natural causes - and went into great detail how such things could be explained by acts of nature. He never told us, for instance, that if in a parable God's Law of gravity were violated it generally indicated a parable, and, that a parable is a disguised saying because the king will kill you if you speak out and criticize him. In those times, parables were necessary.

Dr. Hunter didn't tell us either that God is omnipotent. God can do anything he wants to do. He just taught that the miracles in the Bible were the results of natural causes. The result was that many impressionable young people, like me, left school believing that the Bible and its teachings were hoaxes - thanks to a preacher turned teacher.

I graduated from college an atheist.

Korean War

When the Korean War broke out I volunteered for AF pilot training. When they stamped my dog-tag and asked my religious preference - "Protestant", "Catholic" or "Jew"? I told them "Atheist".

Home Again

After I came home from the Korean War in the early '50s, the king's courts decreed that there must be forced mixing of the races in schools, restaurants, and everywhere else. It was the law of the land.

Lynchburg's churches had supported racial separation for nearly 350 years. When the federal courts decreed race-mixing - except for 3 or 4 - they all switched and became integrationist in a couple of weeks.

I was shocked! How can something be right one day and wrong the next? What sort of people held opinions that flip-flopped on a dime? Even more amazing - preachers I had heard hold forth for "racial separation" now preached "race-mixing".

This confirmed things that people said about churches and preachers.

Richmond

I worked in Richmond for the Defenders. I traveled Virginia as an organizer setting up chapters to fight the fed takeover of Virginia schools. In Richmond I was a lobbyist at the state capitol keeping an eye on our state legislators. While there, I didn't know a single other person my age who admitted to being a Christian. Organized Christianity was a visible enemy. It switched sides and declared itself on the side of the oppressor.

Berlin Call-Up

From Richmond I went to NY, trained to become a securities portfolio manager and moved back to my hometown of Lynchburg.

In 1961, I was called up as a filler in the 100th Airborne during the Berlin Crisis.

On active duty I was a general's aide; ran Visitor's Bureau welcoming VIPs; shot on the pistol team; and worked "escape and evasion" training recruits with my shepherd, Thor.

My most delightful experience was baiting two young chaplains. As ignorant as I was, I knew more Bible than they did - what do they teach in seminaries anyway?

Home Again

The Berlin Crisis ended. I returned home to an investment business ruined by the Crash of 1961. I had to start all over again.

Now I had a wife and two children. My source of income had been ruined. It was difficult paying the rent and putting food on the table. Ten and fifteen hour days were the rule. Social drinking became habitual - like my father, grandfather, and my Uncle Thompson before me.

In 1963, I had a nervous breakdown or "deep depression" some call it - take your pick. My workday decreased drastically. I couldn't go to a doctor - there was no money.

When required to provide answers for problems that had no answers, such as, "When will I get my stock certificate?", my mind would slip into neutral and I was through for the day. My firm, Francis I. Dupont, was having back-office delivery problems that resulted from installing a new computer system, and there wasn't a thing I could do about it - or for that matter - there wasn't a thing they could do about it. It was like living in a box with no windows or doors - no escape.

This happened every day. I would work from ten minutes to an hour and an unanswerable question would send me home to spend the rest of the day walking in the woods. You can't make a living working 20 minutes a day - and this was happening to Dick Hoskins. Nervous breakdowns happened to other people - not me!

My critical attitude alienated my wife and we did not live as man and wife for over a year. Bills piled up. My emergency savings was gone. I was an alcoholic. I couldn't work. I couldn't even sweep floors. I figured by selling the furniture in the house I could hold out another 10 days.

Reality

I had come home from work and was sitting in the green rocking chair on the front porch of my house. I was thinking about ending it. I had tried everything and nothing worked. Well, more accurately, I had tried "almost" everything. The one thing I hadn't tried was the "Christian thing" - and that was the one thing I didn't want to try.

On the other hand, the two men I really respected, Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, were Christians. Hands down they were better men than I could ever hope to be. They must have known something that I didn't know.

The Agreement

I thought this over and decided, that since Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson placed their confidence in this mysterious God, I'd see if I could work out something.

My thinking went this way - I remember:

"If there really is a God, and I honestly don't believe there is - and, if this God will let me work a full day - I don't mean that I have to make any money - just work a full day, I will do the following in return:

(1) "I will try to believe."

This was the hardest part. It meant giving up my beliefs for something unknown. It was scary. This God could turn out to be a crazy!

(2) "I will go to church on Sunday." I considered this last my bona fides.

It was also an humiliation. I can't describe how it felt for a confirmed atheist to be seen dead in a church!

I was asking a lot. I felt that I had to offer something more. Sort of a payment. But, I had nothing . All I had left was my ability to shoot. I offered that ability to God - if he could use it. He never used it.

Frankly, the whole deal was "iffy". If there was a God - he was scraping the bottom of the barrel with me.

Done Deal

Nevertheless, it was a done deal. It was 10 o'clock in the morning, April 28, 1965. I had given my word - the switch was thrown.

Away From Ground Zero

I didn't hear bells or whistles - just silence. I needed direction.

Does God talk? How?

It hit me. If I were God, I would make it easy for people. I would have my WORD where it can be easily reached. Bibles! Everybody has a Bible. No one reads them but everyone has one.

I went inside and hunted through the book shelves. There it was. The same Bible I used in Bible summer school a quarter century before. I started reading. God talked to me.

The Road Back

STUDY: The first thing I was told to do was to diligently study (II Timothy 2:15). I could deal with that. Reading three chapters of the WORD a day and four on Sunday I could get through the Bible in a year. If time prevented regular reading - a chapter of Proverbs corresponding to the date of the day of the month filled in. "Proverbs" are instant smarts.

When reading proverbs, I marked the proverbs meant for me: "A Star" - wisdom; "A" - adultery; "D" - drinking; "B" - business; "G" - government; "C" - children; "M" - for my big fat mouth; "W" - women/marriage; "Lightning Bolt" - anger; "P" - politics; "$" - money/usury; This way, when I needed to, I could go back and flip the pages to quickly locate the wisdom I needed that moment.

I compiled my own "index" in the back so I wouldn't have to spend half a day searching for things.

ENEMIES: The next was harder - get right with people for whom I had grudges or had injured.

I got one of those big yellow legal sized pads, made two columns, filled them with the names of my enemies. I went to see them. It took me a year and a half to get to them all. This was a load off. To this day the enemies I have left are those I've inadvertently offended and don't know about, and those you would naturally expect. I guess you could say that even with them there is nothing personal involved. For what it is worth - I was "Just following orders."

Work

I found a copy of "The Power Of Positive Thinking". From this I got the anti-stress motto - "Don't criticize, condemn, or complain." For me this was s tough one.

I can't tell you how bad my health and mental state were. I learned to lie down 10 minutes out of every hour and one full hour midday. Absolutely no thinking about work while resting. No newspapers, TV, or stress. I forced myself to try to be agreeable to my wife and even planted a garden. Gradually my workday increased. In a few years, I worked a full day and became my firm's leading producer.

Drinking

I still drank. Many a time I went to church after having had a few drinks. A visiting preacher said that Christians shouldn't drink. He quoted chapter and verse. I looked them up. This was the first time I had heard this. I had never been told this before.[1]

I thought about it. I didn't want to stop, but, if the WORD said so - .

On January 1, 1966, I was in Washington, D.C. in Willis Carto's apartment. He offered me a beer. I took it, drank half, and put the half empty can on the kitchen counter. That was it - my last drink.

The WORD says that the body is made by the WORD and made in the image of the WORD - which is God. And, it's obvious - smoking harms the body. I stopped smoking January 1, 1967. I had smoked since I was five years old.

Churches

My promise was to go to church every Sunday. I soon learned more about churches than I wanted to know. I went to a different church each Sunday. No two were alike. Not one of them taught the things I was reading in the Bible - God's Laws, Statutes and Judgments. Still, my promise kept me going. I went to one of them for 18 years: Thomas Road Baptist Church. That is a story in itself.

Things I learned From The WORD

To me - The WORD was the beginning of understanding. It seemed that the older I get the more things come crashing in on my understanding. Here are a few of them:

HOME CHURCH: After wasting years with the gods of organized churches I learned about home church. GRACE: "Grace" is when God accepts you. If God accepted me he will accept anyone. That's grace. REPENTANCE - This means that you are sorry and will shape up. GOOD DEEDS are what you do because that's what you are supposed to. USURY - a capital crime. The head of that episcopacy is the anti-christ.

KINGS - are appointed by the head of the usury episcopacy to keep peace - or make war.[2] GREAT MERCHANTS - gather and manage wealth created by the people. PRIESTS - who are not being persecuted - are not teaching the WORD: "If they have persecuted me they will persecute you."; STRANGERS - the descendants of Esau are at war to the death with descendants of Jacob. Strangers worshiping with Saxons is a red flag indicating all are servants of the strangers. (Num 18:7, Num 1:51; Jer 51:51; De 23:2). SERPENTS take the Lawful, attach the unLawful, and make the whole unLawful. ESAU'S SERVANTS are kings, establishment preachers, usury bankers, great merchants and actors. GOD'S CHOSEN are not 7th century Khazar Turk converts to Judsism. WIVES & CHILDREN are special treasures. The WORD teaches how to treat a wife and to properly raise children. PRAYER works. My mother prayed - I lived. I was dead - now I live. Prayer works! CHURCHES - are not what they seem. Most are government agents who teach Judeo-Christianity to separate Saxons from the WORD which is their God.

Conclusion

All knowledge, all truth, all wisdom, all protection is to be found in the WORD which is God. Whenever someone obeys the WORD, or disobeys - God speaks to us and tells us all we need to know about them. And God The WORD does speak

---

2 "I beheld the angels of punishment ... Then I inquired of the angel of peace, who proceeded with me for whom those instruments were preparing. He said: These they are preparing for the kings and powerful ones of the earth, that by this shall they perish. ... I beheld a deep valley burning with fire. To this valley they brought monarchs and the mighty." I Enoch 52:3-5; 53:1-2, Enoch I 95:8.

to us. He spoke to me. And if he will speak to me he will speak to anyone who will listen.

LETTER FROM S.AFRICA BY K.J.

Dear Mrs. Ann Hoskins:

As requested, I visited the home. For the first time I met all the children.

It is hard to explain the feeling a person gets to see all these happy faces and the love that flows from their little hearts. The boys just want to shake my hand and the girls just want to hug me. It brings tears to my eyes.

Thank our kinsmen in America again for us.

Hans - S. Africa

BLACKS & NOAH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Since Noah's Flood destroyed all life - from which of Noah's sons did blacks descend?" Z.H. - Nevada

RKH: None. Blacks aren't descended from "man". In the beginning God made man and beasts. Man is "blush red "Adam". Whatever is not "man" is "beast". It's not a derogatory term - it's just the name used by the ancients. Noah loaded the Ark with his "man" family and with "beasts" as he was commanded to do. That's how beasts came through the flood. They rode through with Noah- Adamites.

WORD: "Thank you for using 'The WORD' to signify the complete expression of The One and Only True Living God, Jesus, Holy Spirit and all other self-expressed manifestations of YHWH. From this moment, WORD will replace YHWH in our writings. It has taken years to reach this understanding." R - Alaska

BROKENHEARTED: "Dear Richard: Our youngest daughter went to school in Colorado. In spite of our instructions she met and married a black student. We counseled her against it but she was adamant. We did not attend the wedding. From now on our daughter will be welcomed home only if she returns without her alien husband and has no children (Lev 22:10-13) - as the Bible teaches. Our hearts are broken." D.R. - Tennessee

RKH: God will bless your stand. Now is the time of separation for our people. It's one way or the other. You cannot live another's life - or deliver him from God's wrath in the "Day of Revenge".

DECISION IN MEXICO: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I was born of Norwegian stock and raised in Minnesota. I homeschool my children because I discovered that many things church schools taught me are wrong. While gathering materials I ran across "Reform Christianity", which you also believe, which teaches that only The WORD can be believed. This makes sense. The problem is that I married a Mexican who is a mixed-breed and have several children by him. He says he is descended from the Aztecs. The WORD says that to return to my own people I will have to leave both him and my mixed-breed children. Is there another way?" M.K. - Mexico

RKH: No. I'm sorry. The WORD of God spoke the rules - not me.[3]

RUSSIA'S OLIGARCHIES: "Eight Oligarchs share the rich Russian resources between them. They split the country amongst themselves. Eight huge industrial-financial cartels control today's Russian economy." (Die Welt, Jul 5, 2003)) (Nationalist Times, p.5, Sep 2003)

RKH: Usury creates monopolies. Corporations are the parking place for usury's monopoly wealth. Oligarchs are Russian corporation managers. "Oligarch" is a Russian euphemism for "Jew". Jews are the ITCs "civil service". They do what they are installed to do and take the blame. In return, they are forever protected by those who benefit. This is how the system is supposed to work.

In Russia, instead of working with the ITC system they seized all of Russia's wealth for themselves. It is quite likely that Russia's rulers will be permitted to punish these rebellious individuals and have others more amiable to the system installed.

American Empire Crumbling

French historian Emmanuael Todd who predicted the fall of the Soviet Union in his 1976 book Before the Fall: The End of Soviet Domination, says the US is in the process of following suit.

"The world has become too large and complex to accept the predominance of one power. There will not be an American empire ... Its' industrial capacity is clearly smaller than that of Europe and approximately equal to that of Japan, with twice the population. Its' trade deficit meanwhile is in the order of $500- billion per year. Its military potential is nevertheless still the largest by far, but is declining and consistently over- estimated. The use of military bases is dependent on the good will of its' allies, many of whom are not so willing as before.

"Its' theatrical military activism against inconsequential rogue states that we are currently witnessing plays out against this backdrop. It is a sign of weakness, not of strength. But weakness makes for unpredictability. The U.S. is about to become a problem for the world.

"The U.S. leadership doesn't know any more where to turn. They know that they are monetarily dependent on the rest of the world, and they are afraid. There are no more Nazis and Communists ... This is the reason for the rush into military action and adventures.

"The only remaining superiority is military. This is classic for a crumbling system. The final glory is militarism. The fall of the Soviet Union took place in an identical context. Their economy was in decline, and their leadership grew fearful. ... and the Russians embarked on adventures to forget their economic shortcomings. The parallels to the U.S. are obvious."

"With a low birthrate and runaway childhood obesity, the USA simply cannot support an army for global conquest. As Iraq and Afghanistan are demonstrating, the U.S. Air Force can bomb almost anywhere with impunity, but the Army cannot occupy and control anything, if the local population wages guerrilla warfare.

"The beginning of the End will come with the collapse of the occupation of Iraq. Or maybe Afghanistan will go first. ...

"The current era will end with the collapse into chaos of the USA and much of the rest of the world ... the Globalists and Jewish Supremacist will turn on each other, creating something akin to a civil war. Chapter 351

ZIONISM

Every group has divided loyalties. The basic loyalty is to one's own kind. This is "separatism." The other is a loyalty demanded by one's ruler.

Since the priorities of these two loyalties are different, conflict is natural.

Jewish Loyalties

Jews necessarily have a high profile because they are seen by everyone all the time. They are the "civil service" of the International Trade Cartel - they are the cartel cement that holds a country's "King, Priests, and Merchant" governing caste- system together in a single operating unit. They are also responsible for overseeing international relations. Kings always have a Jew standing close to them. Their job requires that they be everywhere in every land filling their job requirements. They are the Cartel's "civil service."

Divided Loyalties

Jews are a complex people. Like others, they have divided loyalties. Their basic loyalty is to their ruler-employer - the Cartel - for reasons that will soon become clear. Jews are also loyal to their own kind - their nation.

Khazaria

Today's Jewish nation is the result of the mass conversion of Khazar Turks to Judaism in the 8th century.

At the time of their conversion the Khazar Turks were a powerful combination of Turk and Turkic-Slav-Mongol tribes ruled by a powerful king. The name of their country was "Khazaria" - a country larger than Charlemagne's Empire on the Russian rivers starting at the Black and Caspian Seas (see War Cycles/Peace Cycles, Hoskins).

Its wealth resulted from its strategic location commanding the rich Russian river trade to Constantinople - and the wealth was enormous. During the several hundred years of Islamic-Christian wars they handled much of the far-eastern overland spice-trade that had been displaced to the safer northern routes.

Following the Khazarian conversion experience, the people of Khazaria were divided into two distinct castes consisting of priests and the rest of the people - a fact confirmed by DNA tests.

The reason for this division is ancient. It has to do with the inability of the Children of Esau, whether Arab, Turk, Hun, Mongol or Khazarian, to trust or cooperate with each other. They solved this problem in the following manner - which is unique and strange to Western minds:

> "The sons of Esau swore, saying, from that day forward they would not choose a king from their brethren, but one from a strange land until this day." Jasher 57:40[1]

Judeo-Talmud

The new religion of the Khazar Turks was called "Judaism." It was actually two religions in one. The basic religion was "Talmudism" - a Babylonian Hindu trade religion dealing heavily with money- making and sex.

This Talmudist religion was concealed within a religious wrapper called Judaism. The reason being that Judaism was understood by surrounding Christian and Islamic nations as a religion of the Bible - something they understood and could deal with. Judaism covered and concealed Talmudism like a cloak which allowed Khazar Jews access to practices that are often the opposite of those in the Bible.

1 Islam's great leader Salidan was a Kurd. Janissaries ruled Islam and led their armies and their governments to some of their greatest successes. They were Christian converts to Islam (Story in Wolf & The Sheep, Hoskins).

It is important to note that the history of the Children of Esau all over the world is one of bloodshed, oppression, betrayal, and subterfuge. The Islamic Koran justifies these failings in part, but the Khazarian Jews managed to do it in a simple easy to understand manner that is easy for one and all to understand. It is called - Kol Nidre.

Kol Nidre

A Talmudic practice partially concealed by its Judeo wrapper is the Kol Nidre prayer. This prayer, or oath, is repeated or sung in unison by "Jews" worldwide every year making possible the success of their media announcements, international trade agreements, and implementation of Cartel government policy.Judiasm;IKol Nidre

The Kol Nidre, prayer of the Judaic religious ritual, is sung at evening service every year on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) which means "All Vows":

> "All vows, obligations, oaths, anathemas... which we may vow, or swear, or pledge, or whereby we may be bound, from this day of atonement unto the next... we do repent. May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void and made of no effect: They shall not bind us nor have power over us. The vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths." Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol VIII, p. 539.

A further explanation of this prayer can be found in the Talmud in the Book of Nedarim, 23a-23b which reads as follows:

> "And he who desires that none of his vows made during the year shall be valid, let him stand at the beginning of the year and declare, 'every vow which I make in the future shall be null.' His vows are then invalid, providing that he remembers this at the time of the vow." Talmud, Book of Nedarim, 23a-23b.

The Result of Kol Nidre

The Kol Nidre prayer nullifies promises in advance - which is the reason that few educated people take anything Khazar Jews say at face value (or for that matter the word of any Turk).

Jews complain when people doubt their truthfulness. Many say that they really should be believed because they are really "atheists" and because of that they haven't taken "the oath." Therefore, they should be believed.

However, a Jew having taken the Kol Nidre oath would be expected to say that he hasn't taken the oath.

The Kol Nidre oath in service to the International Trade Cartel gives the Cartel a tremendous advantage in dealing with naive peoples who base their actions on contracts and agreements that are supposedly not to be broken.

This is why the Cartel has placed ALL major media networks in the hands of Kol Nidre Jews. The result is that nothing that passes as media "truth" can be believed without further confirmation. Kol Nidre practitioners insisting that Khazar Turks are God's "chosen" - demand proof; their claim that the War Between The States was over slavery instead of separatism and loot, that the Boer War was over "apartheid" instead of separtism and gold mines, that WWII was fought over German persecution of Jews instead of separatism and German land - remember "Kol Nidre."

Complications

Complicating the understanding of the "Jew" is the fact that many "Jews" are not "Jews." Business, social, or political reasons have caused many of them to convert to Buddhism, Hinduism as well as Christianity and conceal their Talmudism in various religious wrappers. Constantly, some "Christian" steps forward to confess that he is really Jewish and had just pretended to be Christian.

Khazaria Destroyed and Reborn

When Khazaria, the ancient homeland of today's Khazar Jews, was invaded, its inhabitants were scattered, but the memory of the glories of their great Khazarian Empire were never forgotten. In the 1880s, Jewish nationalists organized a movement called Zionism. Its purpose was to re-establish the Khazarian Empire and reclaim its ancient glory.

Khazar Jews, wherever they live, naturally are part of this dream. However, this is not looked upon with favor by the Cartel. Jewish loyalty to the Zionist movement subtracts loyalty from the Jewish caste which serves the Cartel. Making matters worse, many Zionist Jews use their Cartel civil-service positions to reroute Cartel business to serve Zionist interests instead of Cartel interests.

The Zionist State

In choosing a place to establish a Zionist state, many lands were considered; lands in Asia, S. America and E. Africa. The land selected was the most dangerous place in the world to establish such a homeland - Palestine. Palestine is located in the midst of a hostile sea of Islamic peoples. This place was chosen with a purpose in mind.

Zionists - Nazi Allies

In the 1930s, the Zionist settlement of Palestine called for co-operation between German Zionists and German National Socialists.

The Zionist Jews wanted to leave Germany and colonize Palestine but couldn't. Their problem was that Kol Nidre trained Cartel Jews are not allowed to have a peasant class to feed and take care of them. This would make them independent of the Cartel. A homeland was impossible with no people of their own who could farm, build or repair the new country they planned on creating.

On the other hand, the Germans wanted the Jews to leave. They wanted the Jews to turn the Cartel assets they were managing over to them and leave.

Here was a common interest for both Germans and Jews.

To make it possible for the Jews to leave, Hitler built instruction camps and provided SS instructors to teach Zionist Jews how to work as peasants so that they could survive on Kibbutz in Palestine.

German nationalists helped Zionist nationalists in the one thing they had in common - their desire to be separate from each other. [2]

The Real Reason For Palestine

Years ago I expressed the opinion that the Cartel selected Palestine for the new Zionists because it was located in the midst of Islam. The reason - so it could be destroyed.

2 All nationalists wish to separate from each other. Beware the Cartel wolf who arrives preaching war between nationalists. There are always things we do not like about other peoples. There are things they do not like about us. But, beware blanket condemnation of Zionism if their objectives and ours coincide. It can happen.

Radical Zionist separatists gathered together in one place can more easily be destroyed than if they are scattered. If radical Zionist Jews were eliminated it would leave cartel loyal Kol Nidre Jews - the cement that has long held the Cartel together.

Disaster

The Financial Times on Nov 15-16, 2003, p.1, carried these front page headlines: "Former Security Heads say Israel faces Disaster."

> "Four former heads of Israel's Shin Bet security service yesterday made an unprecedented attack on the Sharon government's policies towards the Palestinians. They said Israel was heading for catastrophe unless the government switched course to reach a peace deal with the Palestinians. ...
>
> "... Moshe Yaalon, the Israeli army chief ... said the crackdown in the occupied territories was against Israel's 'strategic interest' because it fostered militancy ...
>
> "We are heading downhill toward near-catastrophe', said Yaakov Peri, who was head of Shin Bet from 1995 to 1998. 'If nothing happens and we go on living by the sword, we will continue to wallow in the mud and destroy ourselves. ...
>
> "Carmi Gillon, who left Shin Bet in 1996, accused Mr. Sharon's government of short-sightedness. 'It is dealing solely with the question of how to prevent the next terrorist attack,' he said. 'It ignores the question of how we get out of the mess we find ourselves in today.'"

Shin Bet, the Israeli security organization is the most prestigious and most feared organization in the Israeli state.

This unprecedented announcement, issued by four of the most important people in the state, reveals a state of affairs in Palestine that can be described in no other terms than "disastrous" to the Israeli state.

Bush's Tail On Fire

U.S. rulers, egged on by their Zionist sympathizing civil service, is responsible for making possible the Israeli murderous assault on the Palestinians. It furnishes them money, munitions, gunships, cannon, and all other necessary weapons of war.

The result is that except in the highly censored U.S. media, pictures of Israeli atrocities have been spread worldwide by the internet. Right now, the U.S. and Israel are the most unpopular countries in the world. Bush is met with protesters wherever he goes. One hundred thousand recently greeted his arrival in England with loud expressions of disapproval - and Britain is America's firmest ally.

Turkey has refused to send troops to help bring "freedom" to Iraq. So have France and Portugal. Italy took casualties and is considering withdrawing hers. Japan and S. Korea have refused troops.

Revolt?

If these were free independent countries - their refusal is understandable. But, for the most part, these are among the 130 or so countries the puppet government of the U.S. has conquered and occupied for the cartel around the world. Their refusal borders on revolt. It is like captive Germany refusing to furnish troops for Napoleon after he lost an army in Russia.

Conquered nations aren't supposed to refuse their conqueror's requests.

Then too, Iraq's refusal to roll over and accept the "freedom" being rammed down their collective throats is costing the U.S. army daily casualties. Daily casualties are causing a reversal of American public opinion. Alarmed, Bush now says that Iraqi rule will be returned by June next year - and there is talk that the entire American army may be withdrawn.

These developments no doubt contribute to recent Israeli announcements: "Israel must be like a mad dog so that it will be left alone." "Israel nukes are pointed at every European capitol." Worldwide people are asking, "What in the world has gotten into these Jews?"

It's quite simple. They have at last awakened to the danger of their position. If America is forced out of Iraq, and American reaction to the abortive war causes the 9 billion a year in U.S. aid to Zionist-Palestine to be curtailed, they will be left isolated with few friends and many powerful enemies.

Combined with this, the Iraqi Israel oil pipeline is constantly being shut down because of sabotage by Iraqi freedom-fighters. Russia, another source of Iraqi oil, has expressed disapproval of Israeli affairs and has even locked up a Zionist-owner of Russia's newly privatized oil industry. None of this bodes well for Israel. Saudi-Arabia, the seedbed of violent Islam, is another dubious oil source.

End Of Zionism?

The Israeli Khazar Turks have not behaved well in Palestine. Their actions have alienated its native Arab Turk population, that of its neighbors, and people worldwide.

Cartel Jews worldwide have begun to add their voice to the drumfire criticism of Palestine's Zionists - which they would do if the elimination of the Zionists in Palestine were in the works.

Isolated, stripped of allies, its oil supply threatened, the Israeli state may be reaching the place where it can be destroyed by its neighbors. If so, it could signal the end of Zionism as a political movement.

Conclusion

If Political Zionism vanishes from the face of the earth; if its extinction triggers WWIII; if such a war reduces populations of the world by 3/4; if any of these things happen - one fact will remain:

The International Trade Cartel will continue to rule the world just as it is doing right now with its "Priest, King, Merchant" caste system continuing to use the surviving Cartel Kol Nidre Jews as its civil service.

Our people will continue to be slaves through war and peace, famine and plenty, until they obey the Commandments of the WORD which is our God.

The Sons of Esau do what they do because they are naturally lawless and cursed by God: our own kinsmen are Lawlessness because they have chosen other gods and abandond the WORD - the God of their fathers. It is they who will receive the white-hot anger of God's faithful in the "day of revenge".

They know to "Fear God and obey his commandments," and refuse. It is they who are bringing down God's wrath on us all.

God's WORD will be obeyed!

LETTERS

FLOOD: "Dear Brother Hoskins; In your recent HR #350, you responded to a question asking how the "Black Race survived during the flood?"

"Your response was: 'Blacks aren't descended from man. In the beginning God made man and beasts. Man is blush red Adam. Whatever is not man is beast. Beast is not a derogatory term - it's just the name used by the ancients. Noah loaded the Ark with his man family and with beasts as he was commanded to do. That's how beasts came through the flood. They rode through with Noah-Adamites.'

"A friend sent this following message on 'Beasts Of The Field' a day after that. I got a kick out of how quickly God sent confirmation."

> "And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Leviticus 20:16

> "The bestial man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know [them], because they are spiritually discerned." 1Corinthians 2:14

"Eight different Hebrew and Greek words, behemah, b'iyr, ziyz, chay, cheyva', trephah, nephesh, and ktenos, are all translated into the one English word "beast", but they each mean different things in different contexts. The word behemah describes "beasts" who have boils on their bodies, who have hands, who could lie down with a woman to have sex with her, who have a conscience, who are put to death for violating God's Law, who have possessions which can be sold or redeemed, who hold authority which can be taken away, who have feet, who are inhabitants of cities, who God promises to crossbreed with Israelites and Judahites, who can be hired, who are kept in tents, who can cry mightily to God, who can turn away from evil, who wear sackcloth, whose seed Jeremiah predicted would be mixed with the House of Israel, the House of Judah, and man [read: the people of the land], none of which any four legged animal on the planet is capable of.

"The word chay describes "beasts" who are allowed to eat from the corners of your field, who are evil, and who can prevent Israelites from passing through the land."

RKH: Adding to the above:

> "Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast." Jeremiah 31:27

Whatever is not man is considered to be non-man or beast. To narrow the field we assign the above mixture of "man" and "beast" the name "hued-man" - human. The following Commandments deal with this human:

> "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 18:7, No 1:51.

> "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." De 23:2

> "Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them." Deut 27:26

SAUDI ARABIA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How does backward Saudi Arabia figure in world affairs?" E.L. - Texas

RKH: Saudi-Arabia acts as a mid-east "Switzerland." It was carved out of the defeated Turkish Ottoman Empire at the end of WWI. Its puppet rulers were put in power by the victors - as were the rulers of all newly created Arab/Turkish countries - they were and are on Western payrolls - including Saddam.

The great oil reserves lying under Saudi-Arabia belong to the international oil companies. Saudi puppet rulers were instructed to seize the oil wells. This gave the puppet Saudi rulers multi-billions of oil money to fund any task the cartel tells them to fund. Behind the Saudis lurk the cartel with a finger in every pie. In my files, I ran across the following:

> BANK OWNERSHIP: A report filed with the SEC, Apr 22, 1991, reveals that Saudis now hold over 5% of Chase Manhattan Bank. This is the second largest Saudi investment made since the war. The largest was a $590 million 'investment' in Citibank. This very possibly gives effective control of these two banks to that group. These two banks control much of America's industry through voting stock held in trust. It would be interesting to learn if this is the reason for America's corporate decisions to send America's industry to foreign lands.

Almost nothing in America is American owned or controlled. It's the same everywhere else. See below:

> GOLDMAN SACHS GETS 7%: "Goldman Sachs will invest $1.27 bil in Japan's #2 bank. Sumitomo Mitsui Financial will issue convertible preferred shares to Goldman Sachs, or a 7% stake if converted. Sumitomo expects the deal to bolster its financial base and rid bad loans; Goldman gets access to a big corporate client base." (Inv. Bus. Daily, p2, Jan 17, 2003)

The above deal delivers Japan's #2 bank to Goldman Sachs. It's not as if the Japs owned this bank in the first place - Remember, they lost WWII - with all that implies. For that matter it would be interesting to learn who owns Goldman Sachs? Regardless, the ultimate owners would still be Esau.

MOORE FOR SENATE: "State officials wheeled the (10 Commandments) monument away this summer, but Moore said that he would ... push for laws limiting the power of the federal courts. 'You will hear from me again when it comes to the right to acknowledge God,' he said after the hearing. A crowd cheered and chanted, 'Roy Moore for Senate!'" The Week, p. 7, Nov 28, 2003

RKH: America's Cartel government had long been a rotten apple. Her people were ready for a revolt. The media covered Governor George Wallace standing in the school house door - and then filmed him as he stood aside and let the feds take over the school system. The Cartel media then went to work and made George Wallace the new White Hope. The result surprised everyone. To stop his grassroots organization that threatened to win the election and overthrow the Cartel - Wallace was shot. He then reverted into what he had always been - a sniveling, lickspittle, Cartel puppet.

Today, discontent in America seethes. America is looking for someone to lead. It appears to many that Judge Roy Moore has been tapped. Without naming a specific Commandment - Moore took a stand "for the 10 Commandments." A safe bet. Most of the people in the country approve of the 10 Commandments! To judge the righteousness of his cause he took the case to the anti-christ federal courts. It takes no rocket-scientist to guess how they would rule. Now, Roy Moore, the abused underdog, stands forth alone in his persecuted defense of God's "10- Commandments", of which almost all approve.

Didn't we see this before? Doesn't this look like a Wallace replay? To be believable, Roy Moore must take an actual stand for God's Commandments: He must stand up and say that the nation must do away with usury or some such - in other words - he must burn his bridges.

Until he totally alienates the establishment so that they will never take him back again, he looks suspiciously like another DeKlerk, another J. Lindsey Almond - another George Wallace. We've been bit before and now demand proof.

Come on, Judge Roy Moore, Show us!

VOODOO: Voodoo priestess Miriam Chamani, Nicholas Cage's spiritual advisor, said that Cage and Lisa Marie Presley, Elvis's daughter, just "needed time alone" to get back together. (The Week, p. 10)

RKH: Everyone knows that Cage, the new Hollywood icon is Jewish.

Lisa Marie too.

"The Lebanon Times, 8/18/02 Jerusalem (AP) - reports '... the king may have had Jewish blood. Elvis' maternal great-great-grandmother, Nancy Tackett, was Jewish, according to one author. Tackett's daughter Martha Tackett was the mother of Doll Mansell, who in turn was the mother of Elvis' mother, Gladys Smith, according to a book, Elvis and Gladys, by Elaine Dundy.

"Religious law says Judaism is passed down through the mother, so Elvis could be considered Jewish even though he was raised Christian." (From The Eagle Newsletter, Sept-Oct 2002.

RKH: Lisa Marie Presley, Jewish, was married to Michal Jackson, a black - and Cage has a Voodoo advisor.

PRINCE CHARLES: "Great Britain is now abuzz with rumors that Prince Charles once had a homosexual encounter with his personal valet, Michael Fawcett. The explosive claim comes from George Smith, a former valet, who says he found them in flagrante delicto sometime in the 'early 1990s.' Smith is not a particularly reliable witness." (The Week, p 19, Nov 21, 2003)

RKH: What makes Smith's story believable are pictures showing Prince Charles, hands together praying, with the Hindu third eye painted on his forehead. Hinduism permits sodomy.

IRELAND: "Sinn Fein recently launched an anti-racist charter for local councils and their members to sign. It includes a 'Declaration on Anti-Racism' that its members should sign to show their support for a multi-racial Ireland (north and south) and their support for more third world immigrants and asylum seekers to be let into the country!" Heritage & Destiny, p10, Autumn/Fall 2003.

RKH: So much for Sinn Fein being called a Nationalist organization.

REWRITING HISTORY: Martin Luther King had offended so many people that he was a liability. J.F. Kennedy did the same and was doomed to serve one term only. Living, the two were political liabilities. Dead - they were whatever spin-masters said they were. They were executed and their liabilities were turned into assets. Now streets and buildings are named after one and airports after the other. But, nothing can change the fact that both were Lawless sweepings of the country's gutters.

YUKOS: The ITC installed the Tzar who claimed all Russia's land and wealth and was head of its Orthodox Church and God's representative on earth.

With its scattered wealth centralized - the ITC then financed a revolution, killed the Tzar, his supporters and potential counter-revolutionaries. The new Cartel state then owned the Tzar's assets and was the defacto head of the Orthodox Church.

Russia's assets were then "privatized" into the hands of seven bank agents ("The borrower is slave") whom the Russian's call "oligogs." This robbery of Russia's assets incensed Slavic nationalists who arrested and imprisoned without bail the new Russian oil assets owner, Mikhail Khodorkovsky. This act of open rebellion calls into question the "privatization" of the rest of Russia's wealth into the hands of cartel agents.

After the Afghanistan and Iraqi treasure hunt is resolved, we can expect cartel surrogates to try to confront Russia to retrieve its loot. It's a dangerous world we live in.

INFORMERS: Arab gunmen killed two Israeli informers and displayed their bodies in a town square. (IBD, p.2, Oct 24, 2003)

RKH: Study Esau's war against Esau, and his war against the American agents of Esau - if one would learn war. In time Esau will bring his war to these shores to try to destroy his brother Jacob - again.

BODY ARMOR: The army has adopted a body armor made by Ceradyne Co. which is light weight and impervious to high velocity .30 cal bullets. This leaves only the face, arms and lower body exposed as targets. It will be at least 6 months before the US army of occupation in Iraq is fully protected. Let's see what tactics the Iraqis develop to deal with this new development. Watch carefully - the present Iraqi War is a window on future wars.

S. AFRICAN BLACK ORPHANAGES: "A POLOKWANE place of safety has become a place of danger for white children ... being victimised and terrorised ...allegations of sexual molestation...

"The white children in the facility complain that they are under severe stress, due to the constant aggression against them. They allege that they are bullied and beaten by black children. ..." (Story in Citizen Oct 21, 2003

"He was beaten. I saw his body just before his funeral and it was bruised and beaten. My child was killed in that home. ... His arm and nose were broken, his spleen injured, his stomach ruptured and his whole body bruised due to some kind of abuse. ..." (Story in Citizen Oct 23, 2003)

RKH: "If any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." I Tim 5:8 In obedience to God, HR readers help support a S. African home for white children.

Chapter 352

VIRGINIA'S PURITANS

Kings

Give kings enough power and they will almost certainly become tyrants. They will act just as the outLaws and criminals they condemn. Being a king is a job having unlimited power. It's the "power" that does it. With

John Knox

Father of Scottish Presbyterianism and enemy of Episcopal kins.

This picture contains a clue that in its day separated Puritan & Presbyterians from Episcopal kings and their followers.

few exceptions, a perfectly nice person who gets his hands on the power of a king changes from a Jekylle into a Hyde. The WORD says that to have a king is to rebel against God:

He will take your sons for his chariots and horsemen; he will appoint captains over thousands and fifties and set them to work making instruments of war; he will take your daughters; he will take your fields, vineyards and oliveyards; he will take your vineyards and give them to his own servants; he will take your young men and make them work for him; he will take your sheep: and you will be his servants. (1 Sa 8:5- 22)

These things kings do because they are kings and they can - it's their job description. They are unLawful. They violate the WORD which is our GOD. Even the best of kings do these things. David, beloved by God, when he became king he also became a murderer. And Solomon, in all his glory, when he became king he married strangers.

The Reformers said that the ruler who does not follow God's Commandments should be disobeyed, but, its the rare king that does not disobey God's Commandments.[1] That puts the Faithful in perpetual opposition to many of the acts of their rulers.

Puritan

War Of The Gods

To manufacture the authority needed to do the unLawful things that kings do, kings must first suppress the WORD that condemns their Lawless acts.

When one understands this, he understands that it was no accident that Jesus, the WORD made flesh, had to be crucified.

It was predictable that those who followed the WORD were hunted down and fed to the lions.

It is natural that the Roman Empire's later day business-operation & church burnt its WORD-quoting critics, and it is natural that the courts appointed by today's King George of La Cesspool Grande are banishing the WORD from the land and threatening its followers. It is us or them.

Kings MUST suppress the WORD to rule.

If the WORD is not suppressed - in time, it will overthrow Lawless kings, divide the land into a Self-Sufficient Farm System where those who are Lawfully appointed kings and priests can rule and harm no one but themselves. Affairs outside their individual kingdoms are to be handled by temporary managers selected by proper presbyterian 10s and 100s.

Britain's Kings

All Saxons worldwide are either descended from or are kin in some degree to Britain's Stewart kings. These people of our own blood are perfect studies of the duplicity and evil of kings.

The King of Rome claimed that he held the land of Great Britain in trust for its people. His Catholic Church that he established in Great Britain agreed.

HENRY VIII was a good Catholic. However, he tired of collecting tribute for Rome and splitting it with them. Using divorce as an excuse, he took over the Roman Pontiff's business operation in Britain, with its large land and business holdings, made himself its head, and appointed his own business and religious leaders. He called his operation "The Established Church Of England." His supporters, whom he enfiefed[1] the confiscated Roman lands, found it in their interests to be very loyal members of his Church.

1 Enfief: To entrust the management of a property or franchise to a tenant in return for agreed upon services.

Following are some of the things done by the kings who followed Henry. They did the things they did because they could - they had the power to do them:

MARY I (1516-1558), Henry's daughter, also known as "Bloody Mary," was Queen of England.

England's Catholic Church land had been divided among Henry's supporters and held en fief to him. Most of them felt that the land they now held was now held en fief to Mary, Henry's heir, who was now head of England's Established Protestant Church.

But NO! With kings things are never simple. The matter was complicated because Mary was fanatically loyal to the Catholic Church.

The convoluted result of Mary's weathervane religious loyalties was that her enemies were 1) Her own Protestant "Established Church Of England" subjects who had taken possession of Catholic Church lands, and, 2) "Puritan" Protestants who wanted nothing to do with Mary's Catholic Church whose corrupt practices made possible Henry's original defection.

On advice from the Catholic Church, Mary burned "Protestants" by the hundreds - many belonging to her own Established Church and most of them Puritans. The beliefs held by Puritans made them the most dangerous.

As Mary disposed of Protestant land holders and Puritans - the rest of England became fearful of either being burned because of their opposition to Catholicism or disposed because the land they held once claimed by the Catholic Church. Mary was deposed.

JAMES VI - King of Scotland (1566-1625), was the only son of Mary, Queen of Scots, a cousin of England's "Bloody Mary."

In Scotland, James was powerless. He was surrounded by strong nobles who had the power. He swore to them that he was a good Presbyterian and supporter of the Covenant. This meant that he was a Scottish equivilant of an English "Puritan."

1587 - He wrote to the Pope that he would be a good Roman Catholic. He was fishing for possible future help from one or more of the Pope's loyal Catholic kings to gain the English throne if he ever needed the help.

James VI of Scotland and I of England

1603 - James VI of Scotland, the good Presbyterian and potential "good Roman Catholic" was made JAMES I, King of England - on condition that he renounce Presbyterianism and become an Episcopalian and head of England's "Established Church."

That was fine with him. From being a Presbyterian with Catholic sympathies, to becoming leader of the Episcopal Protestant Church of England that despised both Catholics and Presbyterians was all in a day's work. This is what kings do - read the newspapers.

1604 - The Encyclopedia Britannica notes that in 1604 this head of the "Established Church" was "rude to Puritans and polite to Catholics."[2]

Ever mindful of the changing future, he married his daughter Elizabeth to the Protestant German Elector Palatine and sought to marry his son to a Catholic infanta of Spain. How's that for playing both sides at the same time?

Bartholomew Hoskins

My immigrant Hoskins ancestor, Bartholomew, was a lad of 15 when he landed at Jamestown in 1615. We were always told in the family that his brother was a Protestant preacher to a Catholic king. But really, what was James I. Presbyterian, Episcopalian, or Catholic?

Suppose your family were Protestant, holding his lands enfief from the king. If you were Protestant and the king were Protestant you stood a good chance of continuing to hold your land. However, what would happen if James I, the Catholic-sympathizing former Presbyterian and present head of the Episcopal Established Church - should actually turn out to be an agent of the Catholic Church Empire, or, a Church of England Protestant who hated Puritans? What then? Would there be a repeat of Bloody Mary's clearing the land of "rebels"?

Just in case, the family sent young Bartholomew to Virginia so that there would be a survivor in case either a Catholic or a Protestant Established Church began a purge of Puritans.

The fact is that the Hoskins and many other Virginia families were Puritans and in Virginia before the Plymouth Colony of Massachusetts was ever heard of.

PURITANS IN VIRGINIA

The Virginia Magazine Of History and Biography, Vol, 109, No 1, 2001, p.7 contains an article on Virginia's Puritans.

Trustees of the Berkeley Will Trust

Sir William Berkeley Royal Gov of Virginia

Personable, affable, nice. Berkeley, as representative of the Protestant Established Church of England, was the nemesis of Virginia's Puritans. Governor (1642-52; 1660-77).

Given the lucrative monopoly of Indian trade he tolerated Indian massacres which led to Virginia's militias defending themselves - thereby destroying Berkely's lucrative trade. He declared them to be in revolt and hanged many.

"Puritans in the early 17th century could be found scattered throughout the Church of England, and most thought themselves to be good Anglicans, only wishing to rid the church of pre-Reformation attributes, including its episcopal structure and its many formal prayers and litanies from the Book of Common Prayer. ... Puritans are too frequently described in terms of what they were against. What is most pertinent, however, is what they stood for: the intense and evangelical advocacy of the Christian obligation to know and serve God. Puritans were first and foremost devoted Christians who looked with distress on the condition of their church and who convened together in groups of self-professed godly souls. Rather than advocate a split with the Church of England, most Puritans supported its reform from within."

From its earliest beginnings, Puritans preached in Virginia and from its earliest beginnings certain members of the Episcopal Church were critical of them.

In the early 1620s, Puritan settlements south of the James flourished. Edward Bennett, a wealthy London Puritan, brought over 200 settlers. By the late 1630s he had 10,000 acres. Private homes were the likely sites of the earliest services. Religious services were held in Lower Norfolk as early as 1637, and probably before. The very large salary of £100 was offered to a young Puritan minister named Thomas Harrison.

Letters written by Puritans from that time speak of Virginia as being "swoln so great with the poison of sin, as it is become a monster and ready to burst." And, the colony was marked by "much corruption and false worship, and nothing done as it should bee."

Unfortunately for Virginia Puritans, Governor William Berkeley was sent to Virginia to assume the governorship in 1642. He arrived in Virginia a "proud young cavalier." He had been educated at Oxford and spent a decade at the royal court. His loyalty to Charles I and the Established Episcopal Church was unquestionable.

Berkeley had been ordered to oppose any and all religious "nonconformity" within the colony. The royal instructions had 31 parts and the first part was devoted to the matter of church conformity.

Any minister who refused the oath of allegiance to the Established Church of England was to be expelled. He strictly enforced the royal edicts.

Episcopal Church policy was to incorporate Virginia's Indians as subjects of the king. On the other hand, Puritans tended to support the Biblical injunction that strangers were not to live in the land "lest ye learn their ways", and, "The Stranger who approaches the altar shall be put to death."

Failure to enforce God's Laws resulted in the great Indian "Massacre of 1622" and the "Massacre Of 1644" when the Indians under the leadership of Opechancanough rose from Richmond's fall line to the Outer Banks and threatened to wipe out the Virginia Colony.

CHARLES I (1600 - 1649)

1625, Mar 27 - Charles I succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, James I. He immediately commanded that prosecution of Catholics stop - but, at the same time, he enforced Parliament's laws against Catholics. His portrait reveals the god he followed.

Depending on the party with whom he was dealing, Charles was either Presbyterian or Church of England, and was known among his confidants as secretly a Catholic. Like today's King George of DC, almost nothing he said could be believed. He plotted with the French and Irish Catholics to send their armies to Protestant England to subdue a rebellious Puritan Parliament that was fed up with his Machiavellian antics. In 1647, he was arrested by Parliament's army and in 1649 beheaded. His last utterance on the scaffold was the mysterious word, "Remember!"

"Remember"

Here is a riddle. George Hume of Wedderburn, along with most of Scotland, rose against the English in 1715. He was captured and sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered. This was more than a half-century after Charles I was beheaded.

On his arms is same mysterious "Remember."

George Hume Of Wedderburn

George Hume the Younger of Virginia

This portrait is of his son, George Hume, Jr who was banished to Virginia..

Note the difference. You can tell from the pictures which one followed the Episcopal kings and which flaunted his independence. Although both were Protestants fighting for a Catholic Pretender against a Protestant king who was the head of the Established Church of England. How's that for politics?

The chaos of Scotland's and England's Stewart kings came to a head with James II.

James II

JAMES II - (1633-1701) The 2nd surviving son of Charles I was a libertine.

1672 - The E/B says that he converted to Catholicism because Catholics were more lax in their morals. Regardless, his Catholic conversion threatened the land holdings of a large part of Great Britain.

1673 - Parliament retaliated and passed the Test Act. This barred belief in "transsubstantiation." The result was that it absolutely barred Catholics, including James II, from being government officials, and it also barred non-conformist Puritans who were treated as badly or even worse than Catholics.

Parliament then gave the throne to Mary II, eldest daughter of James II, and her husband William of Orange - a fiery Protestant from the continent who was expected to keep his wife in line.

James went to Ireland and raised an Irish Catholic army and combined it with a French Catholic army. James was a skillful soldier.

With the English army under William of Orange were Dutch and Scottish components.

Note that both Protestant and Catholic wear the distinguishing marks of their gods.

The Picture Lesson Solved

Buddhist holy men shaved their heads and Egyptian priests shaved their entire bodies. Hindu holy men allow their hair to grow long. The WORD decrees that followers of the Way neither shave their heads nor allow their hair to grow long:

> "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads." Ez 44:22; "Doth not even nature teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her." I Cor 11:14-15

Appointing their own priests to bless whatever they did - kings and those holding enfief to them grew their hair long. Those obeying the WORD refused and continued to cut their hair short and were thus seen as rebels to royal authority.

Note the portrait of John Knox on the front page and George Hume Jr. Both portraits show hair cut relatively short - short hair, the public signature of the Presbyterian and the Puritan. George Sr. held his land enfief from kings and to appease them wore his hair long. George Jr. lost his land in Scotland, had his own small farm-kingdom in remote Northern Virginia. Not having to appease anyone he cut his hair Presbyterian-Puritan style.

Hair Style Change

With the victory of the Church of England over both the Catholic episcopacy and the protestant Puritan presbytary, there was no need for a public hair display to force one to reveal his religious loyalties. By the time of the American Revolution, hair style of both Americans and British grew progressively shorter to keep up with changing public opinion.

Today, the short hairstyle as dictated by the WORD is worn universally, but tyrants use it to deceive.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

FRANKLIN D.

Today, long hair is a public announcement that the wearer follows a strange god that allows such things. But, "polled" hair no longer reveals the Puritan. Evil men have learned to cut their hair nowadays to win public confidence. Note what short haired Franklin D. says about himself:

"Roosevelt's aide, Thomas Corcoran, volunteered that the difference between him (Franklin Delano Roosevelt) and his cousin Theodore Roosevelt was that "you never fake," The president replied, "Oh, but Tommy, at times I do, I do!" Roosevelt told Corcoran that a president lacked the time to be true in all ways. As Corcoran recalled Roosevelt's words: "he must deceive, misrepresent, leave false impressions ... and trust to charm, loyalty and the result to make up for it. ... A great man cannot be a good man." ("Champion of > Freedom", by Conrad Black, 1,280 pp NY: Public Affairs. $39.95. NY Times Book Review, p. 10, Dec 21, 2003.

Recent observations show that not only do kings lie and deceive as they have always done, but these very same icons of the people merely mouth words and policy placed in their mouth by those who put them in office:

> "For a long time I felt that FDR had developed many thoughts and ideas that were his own to benefit this country, the United States. But, he didn't. Most of his thoughts, his political ammunition, as it were, were carefully manufactured for him in advance by the Council on Foreign Relations." (Curtis Dall, FDR's son-in-law as quoted in his book, "My Exploited Father-in-Law")

Identifying The Speaker's God

The King of DC has pitted Christendom against Islam. Like it or not - this contest will ensure that tomorrow's conversations will be about religion.

It won't all be about how bad Islam is. It will have to include talk about how good the Christian religion is in comparison. This will be hard for today's kings to handle.

Kings can only hold their thrones, tax, promote monopolies, sodomy and miscegenation by suppressing the WORD. The enemy of this Lawlessness is the eternally irrepressible Puritan who is today called "Identity" and "racist" - euphemisms for "Puritan." In the absence of long hair identification - the king knows him, as always, by his defence of the WORD. The longer the war continues, the harder it will be to suppress the WORD, which will ultimately destroy both the king and his court.

The Statement

There is something each of us can do that continues to cause the king and his followers no end of discomfort. Ask if they want to live under God's Laws?

The answer is always "Yes."

Then, remark that since he feels that way, and since God commands that sodomites be put to death, when does he propose to do that? Also, since usury is forbidden, doesn't he think it's time to nationalize the usury banks of the King of Rome and the King of England? Be sure to quote the Law involved!

If he says that "God's Commandments have been done away", reply that the WORD says that HE changes not. Who is this god of his who has no laws or commandments for his people to follow?

Conclusion

Those who follow the WORD and are opposed to sodomy, fornication, taxes, monopolies, usury, miscegenation, and kings - will be called "racist", "white supremacist" and "rebel" - all establishment words meaning "Puritan."

His Royal Highness has already been warned that Puritans again walk the land and must be dealt with. History teaches that they will never stop talking about God's Commandments until "God's will be done on earth."

Someone really should tell the Royal Establishment that the shade of Charles I stands ready to advise them.

==========

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA By K.J.

The HNP held a most sucessful 34th birthday. Some talented young people performed classical music. A flag parade took place with our earlier flags being presented by the youth. Dr. Rev Stavast took Psalm 33 as the text.

Mr. Willie Marais speech was "Pray, Work and Faith." He also used the words "Everything will come right." He emphasized the Afrikaner's faith and stressed the conditions needed; to pray, to work and to persevere in faith. "Before we can fight we must have God's blessing."

One Dutch Reformed Church minister considers himself a state priest. He wants our people to confess the sin of separation committed by our forefathers. The faithful still teach God's Command to separate from other peoples.

The treason trial finally started and their star witness had a mask in front of his face. The HNP office seems to know who he is. He has given information to the police since 1994. He acknowledged that he did most of the planning and tried to involve as many people and organizations as he could for the ANC. Unfortunately, the judge is on the ANC's side.

One family's situation has improved since the father is working again and their two children might go back to their parents, making room for others. There are many children in need that require a place. I pity white children who land in a place with black children. It must be sheer hell.

A coloured communist, McBride, who killed three white women with a bomb is now head of police on the East Rand. The black police are bad.

Hans is better. His doctor served in the Bush/Border war and saw many of those kinds of gunshot wounds. Sometimes they operated under a tree in an emergency.

I will have to start house-cleaning as soon as we have rain. Areas with no more water or food have to shoot their cattle. That hurts. Black farmers receive government help but not whites who actually produce the food. What I find strange is that people in cities don't seem to realize that a major crisis is on the way.

Before I forget, Rina told this to Hans. Early this year when contributions via Aida Parker dried up, they prayed for help and God heard them. What a wonderful thing - to have a God to go to in time of trouble.

Our best wishes, Hans and Johanna

DUTCH TOLERANCE wears thin as liberalism experiment fails. In Rotterdam, there are more calls for law and order and a growing tendency to blame crime on ethnic minorities. Amsterdam is working to shut sodomite bars. Urinating in the canals or against elegant 17th-Century facades will be punished by hefty fines. HATE CRIME?: The two black DC snipers killed 15 and wounded seven. According to IBD, p.19, Dec 22, 2003, "The 'mission', said one of the many mental-health experts who held jailhouse interviews with Malvo, 'was to incite a racial revolution over the continued oppression of black people' and to set up a utopian black colony in Canada based on racial and social justice.'"

Cartel media opposed African colonization in the early 1800s because it would remove cheap labor. It cannot be expected to sympathize with blacks who again wish to remove themselves from the system. That's why we've heard nothing about the "reason" for the killings. Nothing's changed.

LINCOLN: "In his memoirs Sherman wrote that when he met with Lincoln after his March to the Sea was completed, Lincoln was eager to hear the stories of how thousands of Southern civilians, mostly women, children, and old men, were plundered, sometimes murdered, and rendered homeless. Lincoln, according to Sherman, laughed almost uncontrollably at the stories." (Author Tom DiLorenzo as quoted by Nelson Waller in The Nationalist Times, p.10, Jan 2004)

RKH: Lincoln acted in a similar manner when personally witnessing the wanton killing of livestock, looting, and burning at my Great-grandfather's home at Kelly's Ford. On their way down the Valley the invaders looted and burned houses after putting barefoot children and women out in the snow, refusing to allow them to go back for shoes and coats. Lincoln represented this same Lawless monster that invaded and afflicted our kinsmen in S. Africa and Germany, and is now loose in the mid-east. It is policy. Chapter 353

ROCKING CRADLE
Tobacco, Slaves
Bishops & Jim Crow

The Rocking Cradle

"An occurrence, partaking of the marvelous, created a good deal of excitement in the town. It took place in the spring of 1839, in the one-story brick house on Jackson Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, the residence of The Rev. Dr. William A. Smith. Dr. Smith had borrowed a cradle from The Rev. John Early in which to put his new-born baby. One morning, as he was at breakfast, his wife, who was in bed in the next room, called to him and said: 'Dr. Smith, come here and look at this cradle, how it rocks.' He arose and came to the door, and, to his amazement, the cradle was rocking vigorously, and there was no one near it. Dr. Smith moved the cradle from near the fire-place into the middle of the floor, and said: 'Now Geoffrey' (he called the Devil by that name), 'rock!' and he did. The news of it spread through the town like wildfire and hundreds closed their places of business and went to see the 'rocking cradle.' Various explanations were given, but none seemed satisfactory to the people." - W. Asbury Christian, Lynchburg And Its People, (Lynchburg, 1900)

House Where The Cradle Rocked

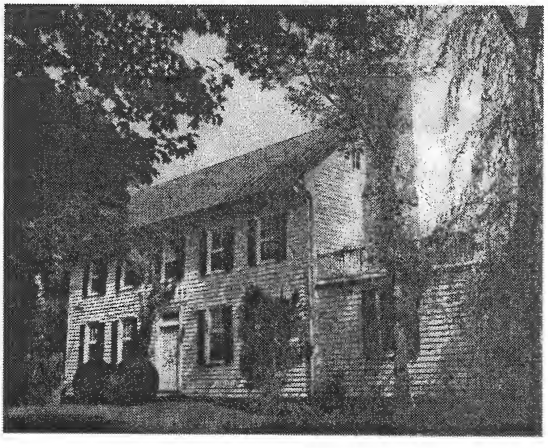
The Cradle

The house below is Bishop Early's house on Peakland Place near where I lived as a boy. It belonged to Mr. John Early Jackson. Mr. Jackson was a genius who worked with the Atomic Energy Commission during WWII. His boy, George, was my friend. We grew up together. The window closest was his room. He used to climb out at night and we roamed the neighborhood together to prove we weren't afraid of "spooks" who were everywhere out there in the dark - we were 10. It isn't easy growing up in Virginia.

The next room to the left was the Jackson's bedroom. It contained the rocking cradle. I remember seeing it. Everybody in town knew it was there. George told me the family version of the same story.

Bishop Early was George's uncle several generations back. It was The Rev. Early's cradle. He loaned it to The Rev. Smith.

With all that rocking and carrying on with no one touching it - something had to be done. So, Bishop Early exorcised the devil out of the cradle and it stopped rocking.



Bishop Early's House

The only time it has rocked since is when later generations rocked their babies in it - but, the cradle hasn't rocked by itself for the past 150 years or so. You can go down to George Jackson's house today and see it. I'm just telling the story the way it was told to me.

Bishop Early & The American Colonization Society

Bishop Early was an interesting man. But, the real reason for my interest in him is because he organized the local American Colonization Society in Lynchburg.

The American Colonization Society had been organized by Pastor Robert Finley, a Presbyterian minister in 1816. Its sole purpose was to colonize blacks back in their African homeland. They helped establish the country of Liberia for this effort. Thomas Jefferson and everyone else around here were members.

Courtesy Emory University Library

Bishop Early

The reason that a Colonization Society was necessary was because blacks had been brought here and they shouldn't be here. The WORD is clear on this point:

"Thou shall make no covenant with them ... they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24. "Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31-33; "Thou shall smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them: Neither shalt thou make marriages with them." Deut 7:1-4

The Colonization Society was prepared to buy black slaves, train them, and return them to Africa so as to conform to the Commandments of the WORD.

Actually, the Society had to buy very few blacks. They didn't have to. Slave owners donated slaves in such numbers that the Society was pressed for money to process, train and transport all those who had been donated back to Africa. Tens of thousands were trained to farm, given seed, equipment, supplies and instructors, and returned to their African homeland.

The Rest Of The Story

Bishop Early was a good Christian man - as the world calls men good. But, the reason that blacks are here in in the first place is that the episcopal organization the Bishop belonged to did not follow the WORD which is God. It followed another god, a god who tolerated kings, monopoly, usury, miscegenation, and living among strangers.

> "For whosoever shall keep the whole law yet shall offend in one part, he is guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, and also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law." Jas 2:10-11[1]

The religious organization set up by the king, as a department of his state, blessed the king's slave trade. In other

Now though, thou doest none adulterie, yet if thou killeit, thou are a transgressor of the Law." James 2:11 words, these religious ecclesiastics who were supposed to obey God rather than man, were responsible for the blacks being here - a direct violation of God's Commandments. And, here Bishop Early was, a bishop of the same religious organization responsible for the problem - 250 years later - working to rid the Saxon nation in Virginia of the curse that his organization had brought on them.

Religion, Tobacco & Slaves

Virginia was the newest addition to the growing empire of the King of England. Empires are universal organizations requiring a universal god whose all-inclusive laws combine divergent peoples into one. A unified people who believe in one god and one king simplifies the task of ruling. The religion of kings welcomes new subjects - regardless of race, creed or color.

Settling Virginia was hard going. Most settlers who came in 1607 died. Survivors searched for gold, but little was found. Tobacco turned out to be the money crop.

Tobacco is a narcodic. Teach someone to smoke or chew and he becomes an addict. Addicts make good customers. Because of tobacco addiction, the demand for Virginia's tobacco was insatiable and the product could be sold in Britain and the rest of Europe for whatever price the king's agents asked. The markup was enormous. The crown demanded that Virginia's colonists plant more tobacco and passed laws requiring that all Virginia tobacco be sold exclusively to Great Britain.

Indentured Servants

Growing tobacco is labor intensive. To fill the need for workers, prisoners of war from England's on-going religious strife - Catholic, Church of England, Puritan and Presbyterian - were shipped here as indentured workers at different times. England's prisons supplied more, and those seeking a better life furnished still others. They weren't nearly enough.

A major problem was the indenture system itself. Indentured workers could be required to work and produce tobacco for only seven years because of the Law:

> "If thou buy a Hebrew servant, 6 years shall he serve, and in the 7th he shall go out free." Ex 21:2.

After 6 years "Hebrew-Saxon" ("Isaac-son's" - Saxon) indentured workers were free to go and practice whatever trade they had, or had learned. Or, if they liked, move on to the frontier and take up their own land.

Slaves Solve Labor Shortage

In 1619, a ship arrived in Virginia with a handful of black slaves. They were not "Hebrew" so they could be kept as permanent laborers.

This was the start of black slavery in Virginia. The King's own Established Church blessed this new business venture and the king received part of the price of every slave sold.

The shortage of tobacco laborers gradually vanished as black slaves poured in. Tobacco production grew tremendously as did crown revenues.

Reason For Jew Slave Traders

A large part of slave trade was handled by Jews.[2] The reason? Black slaves were stolen by black slave dealers in Africa and sold to slave-traders. Dealing in stolen goods bans the thief from Heaven.

> "Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul." Pr 29:24: "Know ye not that .... thieves ... shall (not) inherit the kingdom of God." I Cor 6:9,10[3]

This is why when kings commit Lawless acts, they use Jews as middlemen to take the blame. This way they distance themselves from the crime - and hopefully - the people's blame and God's curse that falls on the one involved in the crime. This is the reason the Rothchields are Vatican usury-bankers and Jews traditionally operate both Protestant and Catholic owned banks. This is why kings use Jews as diplomats, treasurers, and intermediaries. They tell us that it wasn't the preachers who crucified Jesus - it was the Jews! It is not "Christians" who are responsible for evil acts - it is the Jews!"[4]

2 "Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews," Nation of Islam, Va Pub Co, POB 997, Lynchburg, Va 24505, $23.

3 On the other hand the Jewish Talmud states: "All property of other nations belongs to the Jewish nation, which consequently is entitled to seize upon it without any scruples, An orthodox Jew is not bound to observe principles of morality towards people of other tribes. He may act contrary to morality, if profitable to himself or to Jews in general." Schulchan Aruch, Choszan Hamiszpat 348; "How to interpret the word 'robbery'. A goy is forbidden to steal, rob or take women slaves, etc. from a goy or a Jew. But a Jew is NOT forbidden to do all this to a goy." Tosefta, Abada Zara VIII, 5.

4 It has been my experience that it is best to look closely at "Jew bashers." The basher often has an ax to grind. Jews do what they do because they are Jews and can do nothing else. Saxons do not have this excuse. Jews could not even be in the land God has permitted us to use without Lawless Saxons opening the door for them. It isn't the lawless Jew who is to blame - it is the Lawless Saxon!

Episcopal Problem

From the first, the king's policy in Virginia was to make the savage American Indians his subjects. His religious, political and trade institutions were directed to work toward this end and they did - in spite of the Law forbidding strangers to live in the land.[5]

Not only were the Indians in Virginia not expelled as required by God's Commandment, but the King built the College of William & Mary to educate them and ordered that the Indians be made welcome in settlements and homes throughout the colony.

In spite of Puritan protests, miscegenation was encouraged by Virginia's prelates - starting with the case of Pocahontas and John Rolfe.

As God promised, the strangers became pricks in our eyes and resulted in the Indian Massacres of 1622 and 1644 that nearly wiped out the Virginia colony.

Required Church Services

Attendance at services at the King's Churches was required - on pain of being fined. Preacher's sermons included royal pronouncements and crown policy - it was the king's method of shaping the opinions of his subjects. Non-conformists and Puritans who disapproved of the king's policies were harshly treated.

---

5 "Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you ... And ye shall dispossess the land and dwell therein: for I have given you the land to possess it. And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families ... But if ye will not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you; then it shall come to pass, that those which ye let remain of them (shall be) pricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell. Moreover it shall come to pass, I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them." Numbers 33:52-56

Problems Created By The King

Twice, Virginia appealed to the crown to stop importing black slaves. The crown replied that another such appeal by Virginia's Burgesses would result in severe royal displeasure. The crown did not have to elaborate.

Deporting Black Labor

Black slavery, conspiring with Indians against White colonists, and taxes - resulted in a war which was won by the colonists. Then came efforts to solve the problems caused by the king.

The American Colonization Society was formed to return blacks to Africa. This effort ran afoul of Cartel policy pertaining to its N. American businesses. Just because America won the Revolutionary War didn't mean that Britain relinquished her cartel banking and business interests.

Econonic interests headquartered in Britain continued to own America's fledgling industry.[6] Deporting workers, slave or free, creates labor shortages and inflates labor costs. The international merchants financed a radical "Abolition Movement" to stop "repatriation" of workers.

Radical Abolition ignored the existing African colonization program. It demanded that slaves be freed without compensating their owners and that the freed slaves remain in this country to labor in the industries of the international bankers. Its political victory guaranteed open conflict.

---

6 When the 2nd Bank of the U.S. failed it was revealed that the majority of stock holders were British. Foreign usury-banking has controlled American business and industry since the time of the Jamestown settlement. Usury banking has no country and no loyalties.

The WBTS

The War Between The States resulted from these radical abolition policies, and the Cartel's need to destroy America's "anti-bank" self-sufficient-farm-system, most of which was located in the South.

Losing the War presented America's Saxons with a different problem. Blacks were prevented from being sent home. Like it or not they were now part of America's work force. A different solution to the race problem had to be found in an attempt to partially satisfy the WORD and avoid the curse that comes from having strangers in the land.

Jim Crow

The stop-gap solution was race separation - "segregation."

EATING: God's Commandment forbids eating with strangers. Statutes were passed to prevent Saxons and strangers eating together.[7]

> "Thou shall no stranger (2114 zwer - racial alien) eat of the holy thing (food that has been blessed)." Lev 22:10

The king's courts struck these down.

LIVING AMONGST: God's Commandment forbids strangers living among us. Statutes were enacted to prevent Saxons and strangers from living in the same neighborhoods.

> "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24

---

7 On Virginia farms, slave owners had "outside kitchens" in connected buildings. Saxons ate together in the house and the Colored servants ate together in the kitchen. In towns, there were separate white and colored eating facilities. Violations of this custom was looked on as sacrilege.

RULE: God's Commandment forbids strangers ruling over us.

> "Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee." De 17:15; "Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the Lord thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: nokriiy - foreign, adultrious.) over thee, which is not thy brother." De 17:15

Laws were passed requiring separation in the army, schools, business, and especially voting.

Lawless courts appointed by the king, who followed another god, struck them all down one by one:

INTERRACIAL MARRIAGE: God's Commandment forbids racial intermarriage.

> "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "Thou ... shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4; "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

Quick Review

Let us take a quick look at the record of what kings and their universal empire churches have done to us. The religious organizations they created have either introduced, blessed, or made no objection[8] to the following:

* Miscegenation in 1615 - by encouraging marriage with indians (John Rolfe incident).

* Forced integration of Saxons with Indians bringing on the Indian Massacres of 1622 and 1644.

* Banishing Puritans from Virginia.

* Granting land, trade, and private Indian trade monopolies - resulting in the bloody Bacon's Rebellion of 1674 and its bloody suppression.

* Giving bland assent to the importation of black strangers into Virginia starting in 1619.

* Agreeing with the King's threat to persecute Virginia's Burgesses who objected to the slave trade.

* Offering no objection to the arming of red savages in order to kill Saxons even before the American Revolution as attested to in The Declaration of Independence.

* Blessing the unLawful taxation of the people.

* Blessing the very office of "king" - which office is itself cursed by the WORD.

The Cherry On Top

The god of the episcopal organization which, over the past 400 years, has blessed or made no objection to the things expressly forbidden by God the WORD - and whose wealth and power allows it to have a finger in every political and business transaction that takes place - and whose influence is so great that it can afford to dispense with even a pretense of representing God the WORD - has now placed the crown of sodomy on its collective head.

8 "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17

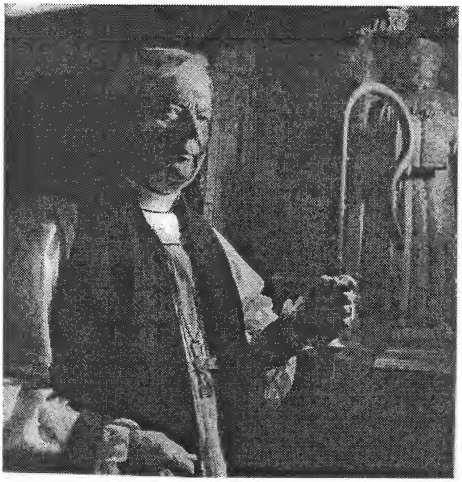
Crowned By Sodomy

With 107 bishops in attendance, Peter James Lee, Virginia's Episcopal bishop, oversaw the confirmation of the sodomite Rev. V. Gene Robinson as bishop of the Diocese of New Hampshire.



Bishop Peter James Lee

Conclusions

There are good men in these episcopal religious organization - I know some. But, the WORD judges - and the judgment is clear:

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

If Bishop Early were here today things might be different. He excised the devil out of a rocking cradle. If he could do that, he certainly shouldn't have much trouble excising the devil from an entire group of idol worshiping heathen called "organized Christianity."

But, since Bishop Early isn't here - It's up to those whom the "WORD made flesh" actually appointed kings and priests! The ones the WORD calls "saints," we call Puritans, and the king calls "rebels."

Letter From S. Africa

It is the worst drought in 88 years. Hardly any summer crops and farmers who feed large herds have had to sell them as they have no forage.

Laws allowing farm confiscation were passed. We know what happens to confiscated land. Blacks move in and quickly ruin it. Big business then steps in and picks it up for nothing. That makes it legal.

The S. African Communist Party has organized a youth movement. S. Africa is beginning to act like Zimbabwe where communist youths were used to intimidate whites and drive them off the land.

In Nigeria, the traitor, F. W. deKlerk, acknowledged that large scale fraud took place in the 1994 election that was used to turn the country over to Blacks. "F.W." simply had to get his way. He never comes near here where Afrikaners live. After betraying his own people I think he is afraid for his life.

We went down to the Bronkhorstspruit and all is well with the children's home. Only one little girl is there now and two of Betzy's, the head-mistress. The rest of the children spent the holidays with kinsmen or foster parents and will return to school shortly.

Mbeki went to Haiti to help the Blacks celebrate the massacre of the island's whites two hundred years ago. He donated R10 million of our money to pay for the celebration.

The Jewish minister of water affairs just gave the Zulus in Natal R150 million to truck in water - just for blacks - none for white farmers who have to feed everyone if they are to be fed.

Anti-Saxonism hiring measures continue in all areas and young qualified whites can not easily find work.

A young man just flew in from Germany and reported that the whole continent below the Sahara desert had a cloud covering. This raises the question - why the drought?

Yours faithfully, K.J.

ULTIMATE RECONCILIATION: "Dear Mr. H.; I read in the CIM Newsletter from Australia that the term "Ultimate Reconciliation" means that 'every single person who has ever lived will eventually come to salvation, God's kingdom, and everlasting life. ... In this belief, the millennium is followed by age after age where people who did not find salvation in the earlier periods are cleansed of sin. These long ages to come are seen as punishing and correcting, adjusting and convincing, all suffering sinners with purifying fire until finally everyone who ever lived has surrendered to God and received Jesus as savior. There are variations on the above, but the central theme remains clear: Everyone Will Be Saved!' What do you think?" M.J. - California

Lu 16:26; "One abyss was thus opened in the midst of the earth, which was full of fire. And to this were brought the blind sheep; which were being judged, and found guilty, were all thrust into that abyss of fire on the earth, and burnt." I Enoch 89:34-35; "Hell and destruction are never full." Prov 27:20;

"Cowards who turn back from following me, and the corrupt, and murderers, and the immoral, and those conversing with demons, and idol worshipers and all liars - their doom is in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur. GERMANY is soon to privatize 600 tons of gold. This is why the ITC establishes episcopal governments. Episcopal governments are wealth farmers who use the people as wealth producers, and then take their wealth as taxes, and then "privatizes" the wealth into the pockets of those who put the episcopal governments in office.

ZIMBABWE: President Robert Mugabe has built himself a retirement mansion so grand and so opulent it dwarfs all other privately owned residences in the country and has also obtained Zimbabwe's largest dairy farm. The owner of Foyle Farm, the dairy enterprise, was forced from his land by rioting "war vets." It is said that The Agricultural and Rural Development Association bought it for Mugabe. DISSENTERS: Episcopal conservatives have formed the Network of Anglican Communion Dioceses and Parishes to push traditional teachings within the U.S. Episcopal community. (IBD, p.2, Jan 22, 2004)

RKH: This is important! Within most episcopal organizations, reform movements act as temporary "new orders". They tend to exist for the life of their reform minded members and then replacements are appointed who bring the order back into the fold as if nothing had ever happened.

AIDS: Black AIDS cases increased 54% from 1999 to 2002; Hispanics 26%; Sodomites 17%; Whites 8%; female AIDS cases 12% in Indiana; total AIDS cases in Indiana increased 88%. One-third of new AIDS cases in Indiana involve Black residents, although they make up only 8.3% of the state's population. AIDS is becoming a disease of minorities. (Story in The Indianapolis Star, A4, Dec 1, 2003)

RKH: Avoid Saxons who keep company with strangers. It's becoming a matter of life or death. A cough, a kiss, can become a kiss of death. Those choosing to integrate with carriers should be segregated.

AIDS: South Africa is[9] entering the "death" phase of its AIDS epidemic as mortality overwhelms health care system. A researcher at the Univ. of Natal told an AIDS conference in Durban, "South Africa is experiencing a devastating epidemic - the world's worst - and this is just the beginning." S. Africa has the largest single case-load of AIDS infections, 4.7 million. Adults with HIV/AIDS are estimated at 33%, with sickness and death increasing daily. AIDS kills 600 S. Africans a day. In one hospital 90% were HIV positive. Death rates for men age 20-40 are up 150% and even higher for women. Scientists say that the real death toll numbers are difficult to quantify because so many related deaths such as TB & other common HIV related infections are not listed as an AIDS fatality. Chapter 354

NASDAQ, Wal-Mart & Downsizing America

Forget? I think not!

We've seen it before and we've learned. Scotland was invaded and conquered by England's cartel and forced to pay tribute to agents of its figurehead king.

My ancestor was lucky, he was banished to America. The rest of our poverty striken Saxon kinsmen labored in the fields until sheep-wool became more profitable to the cartel owners than their farm labor. Then, the cartel imported sheep, burned our villages and sent our kinsmen to Edinburgh and Glasgow to live in 6 floor walkups and work for starvation wages in the cartel's mill and shipyard corporations. Families were still living in these walkups with one bathroom on the first floor when I visited Scotland in 1982 - our own Saxon kinsmen!

The overflow Scottish population was loaded on ships and sent to work vacant Catholic farms in Northern Ireland. There, they again labored for a pittance and fought the Irish Catholics whose land they took, while both paid tax-tribute to the same cartel who stood back laughing - having done it to them many times before.

America

John Lynch, founder of Lynchburg, was one of these Scot-Irish survivors. My own ancestors were English, Scottish and Irish. My wife's ancestors came from France and England. In America we all prospered. Then the Royal Cartel repeated in this country everything they had done to our ancestors in the old country. Having enough, we withdrew from the king's cartel, and in leaving we stated the reasons why:

Declaration Of Independence

The following reasons were excerpted from the Declaration written by Thomas Jefferson and signed by everybody. The cartel's figurehead king was horrified:

> "Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. - That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government ...

Sedition! Treason!

> "Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes ... But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security ...

They understood!

> "The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. ...
> "He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries ...

In today's enlightened age - America's figurehead king appoints supreme court judges to judge that his unLawful acts are legal. Does seeing something wrong with this and wanting to substitute God's Law for the king's edicts make one a "terrorist"? Incidentally, the judges are as bountifully paid for their service today as they were 250 years ago.

> "He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

Really!

> "He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies ...

If those murdered at Waco could talk - they could tell us about this.

> "He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws ...

UN, NAFTA?

> "He has ... waged war against us ... He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. ...

When will the king's agents be brought to trial for Gordon Kahl, Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City, the Towers I and II, inciting beasts to burn our cities, assault our citizens and rape our women? The king himself pays agents provacateur to provoke our people so he can punish their backlash and learn to fear.

> "We therefore ... ought to be, Free and Independent States ... And for the support of this Declaration ... a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence ... "

"Divine Providence" is the WORD. However, "states" are creations of kings. The Saxon nation was created by God the WORD as his own possession.

> "Whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government ...

Hello! Anyone home?

Again!

Like a Serpent, the Cartel followed us into this wonderful new land and imposed their serpent system on us.

Their usury bank agents now own the media and manipulate public opinion to support cartel policy:

"As a man thinketh ... so is he." Pr 23:7

This permits them to buy corrupt priests to bless rotten Cartel kings whom their media advertises as "plaster saints". They have loosed their Great Merchant's Corporations to do their thing.

Corrupt kings, corrupt priests, and corrupt merchants all doing the things that our ancestors fought to stop them from doing.

The Wal-Mart Corporation

You've heard the story - when a Wal-Mart opens - 40 businesses close. Why?

Three reasons:

Wal-Mart is a corporation. A corporation is a monster having no soul or compassion other than that bestowed upon it by hired public relations people. It is programmed to do one thing - make money. Competitors who fail - bankrupt. Their business is cannibalized by survivors who grow larger and larger on the bodies of those who have been ruined.

Wal-Mart is on the road to becoming a complete monopoly. It knows what it is doing and how to do it. It is packed full of customers. You can shop there and can find everything from groceries to car seatcovers, film developing, drug prescriptions and clothes. Its customers are those who used to trade with the hundreds of mom and pop grocery stores, drug stores, clothing stores, that Wal-Mart put out business. Wal-Mart is often the only place that carries items that used to be found everywhere. People shop at Wal-Mart for whatever they need. They used to shop there because it was cheap. Now many people shop there because it is the only place left. You name it - they've got it. And - everything's cheap.

Wal-Mart buys in quantity. A manufacturer either sells his "widgets" to them for a massive discount or Wal-Mart will buy from a supplier who will. The one who gets the order makes a pittance on the deal - but stays in business. Those who lose often close because the low purchase price set by Wal-Mart's purchase is too low for survival.

Lynchburg Downtown is loaded with vacant stores. So are its shopping centers. Big companies are shutting down. Ericsson, who once hired thousands, is gone. Its massive location is now used by a Judeo-Christian church. Others are "downsizing". Many manufacturing plants are vacant. Even big supermarkets are closing. Those that can't meet discount and offshore pricing close down and their customers go to the Wal-Mart types who can.

Offshore

For the last 20 years or so, America's Corporations have quietly been moving operations offshore. We know that jobs and production have been exported to Mexico and Korea, but even Mexico is now complaining about China's and India's competition. These lands have billions of potential customers, a virtual slave population willing to work for pennies an hour, and the potential to reduce manufacturing costs tremendously. This translates into tremendous corporate profits.

Few Cartel politicians criticize "globalization" and none advocate high tariffs to ban the return of alien-made goods to America. After all, the cartel media didn't put their politician-puppets in office to cause them trouble. And, corporations have no feelings. They are progammed for one thing - profit. It is these corporations that pay the campaign expenses that produce the favorable publicity allowing the cushy Washington life enjoyed by the few. Wal-Mart is one of those paying the operating expenses:

> "Wal-Mart, the largest company in the US, looks set to pass a new milestone this year: it is well on its way to becoming the biggest business contributor to the 2004 election campaign. ...
>
> "Wal-mart would be a big loser from any restrictions on imports, particularly from China ... the company has assembled an impressive rank of lobbyists ...
>
> "No company would be hurt more than Wal-Mart by a backlash against trade, particularly efforts to curb imports from China. ..." Financial Times, Feb 25, 2004, p.2)

China Trade - 1994

China trade profits began to kick in in the late 1970s. They exploded in 1994. The stock markets reacted - big!

The Cartel financed conquest of China by their agent Mao following WWII, allowed American corporations to quietly begin buying cheap Chinese products and setting up their own manufacturing plants in China to take advantage of cheap Chinese labor. The products were sold for high prices in America. Products costing $1 were sold for $15 in America and corporate profits went out the roof.

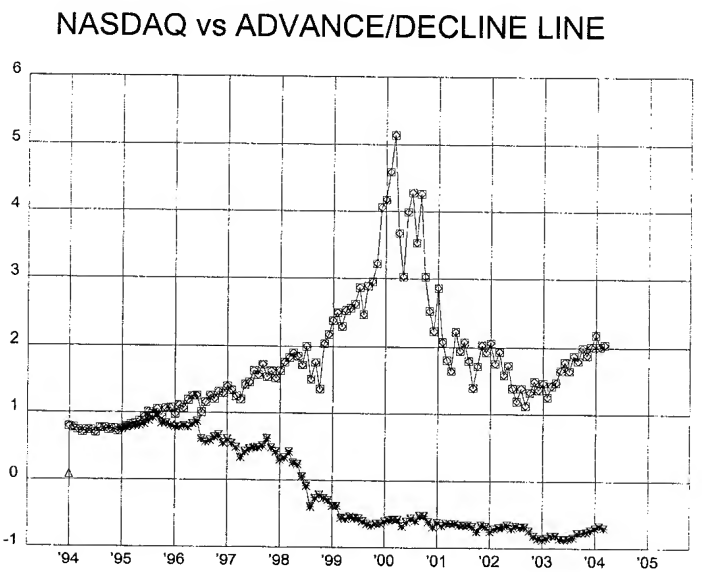
NASDAQ

The chart below is the NASDAQ. It is an indicator of stock movements of over-the-counter stocks.



Advance/Decline

The declining line below the NASDAQ average is the Advance Decline line. It is a moving average of the difference between stocks moving up and those moving down. If the NASDAQ average moves up - so should the Advance Decline line. If the NASDAQ moves down - so should the A/D line. It isn't good if the NASDAQ moves higher while the A/D line moves lower.

Notice that the divergence between stock prices and their A/D line started as far back as 1995 and continued on through 2003. A massive divergence. Stock averages moved up and most stocks traded down. American companies are being devastated - a result of the China poison.

Observation

Again - a Corporation has no mind, no compassion, no sense of right or wrong. It is programmed for profit - nothing else - and will do anything to obtain its goal.

We are told that American business moving off-shore is bad because unemployed workers of downsized businesses will have less money to spend.

Corporations don't think so. They don't think that they won't suffer at all. Why? They are counting on the economies in the far east growing and replacing Western economies. To put it another way, they believe that the rising standard of living and increased income in these untapped oriental markets will fuel corporate operations far into the future. They even believe that the corporate income of those corporations who survive because of their China connections, or because of their high-tech niche, will continue to prosper.

Their vision is that the survivors on the NASDAQ and other stock exchanges will continue to profit from growing Asian wealth while American wealth declines and unemployment rises higher and higher. An interesting speculation.

Backlash

Naturally, a Saxon backlash is expected. Rising Western unemployment is bound to trigger unrest. Plans were made long ago to contain it, plans constantly updated such as:

* The West's borders have been opened to allow entry to a flood of aliens to compete with Saxons for fewer and fewer jobs. Saxons are taxed to benifit foreign and domestic aliens who are becoming increasingly ill mannered and violent. At the proper time the media-monopoly will inflame Saxon hostility against these groups to cause strife.

* Thus, the cartel has created another strawman to absorb Saxon hostility that would ordinarily be directed against themselves. Clever.

* A "War On Terror" has been initiated. The cartel defines a terrorist as one who opposes cartel policy. Since Saxons will oppose America's "downsizing" and their ongoing impoverishment - they are the designated terrorists. Consequently, everything about them is under cartel media attack. Their history, politics, business, and most especially - their God - the God whose Laws opposes trading with aliens, monopoly, kings, taxes, and strangers in their midst.

What will be the result of all this?

Bible Prophecy On China

Perhaps this is the answer. The WORD speaks of downsizing Christian-Israel and building up China. The words are contained in the Lamsa Bible translation of Ezekiel 38 & 39:[1]

> "Son of man, set your face against China, and against the land of Mongolia, the chief prince of Mesheck and Tubal, and prophesy against him and say, Thus say the Lord God: Behold I am against you, O China, the chief prince of Mesheck and Tubal: I will gather your people together and put a bridle in your jaws and I will bring you forth out of your country, both you and all your army ... Persians, Ethiopians, and Lybians with them ... Gomar and all her army, the house of Togarmah, and the uttermost parts of the north with all their hosts, and many other people who are with you. ...

1 Holy Bible, From the ancient Eastern Test, by George M. Lamsas' Translation From the Aramaic of the Peshitta ©1968

"Son of man ... say to China, Thus says the Lord God: On that day when my people Israel shall dwell in tranquillity, ... you shall come up against my people Israel, like a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days, ... my anger shall be consumed in my fury and zeal ... and ... the earth shall shake ... and the mountains shall be thrown down and the towers shall fall and every wall shall tumble to the ground. ...

"... Behold I am against you, O China, the ruler and the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal; ... I will send a fire on Mongolia, and on the people who dwell peacefully in the Islands; and they shall know that I am the Lord. ... I will give to China a place there for burial in the land of Israel ... and there they shall bury China and all his army."

This tells us about China.

The Rest Of The Story

Now, what about the kings, the great merchants, and the priests who are responsible for not telling the people of the dangers of downsizing the Saxon world and building a Chinese monster? - the same ones who crucified Jesus and who are crucifying him today? The same ones who have been shown chapter and verse time and again by the faithful, and have done nothing about it?

> "If we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Heb 10:26

That's all we need to know about them. What about us? It it not written:

> "When thou are in tribulation ... even in the latter days, if thou turn to God and shall be obedient ... he will not forsake thee ... nor forget the covenant of thy fathers." Deut 4:30-31

And what will God do?

> "I will send my WORD and save thee and thy seed." II Adam & Eve 12:6

Even now, the Texas murderer and the Episcopalian Jew are debating about the best way to suppress sodomy. Who would have thought it? Think what that means! A presidential election which may turn on a biblical principal - not money. A door is opening that the Serpent may not be able to close. If not this - something else!

There is only One who could plan it this way.

Letters

RACISM: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The prison refused to let me have Our Nordic Race. They said it promoted 'racism'. Blacks are allowed to receive all sorts of black racist literature." Z.A. - prisoner Arizona

RKH: "Racist" has been made into a buzz-word by the cartel media. God made everyone racist because our God is racist and we are made in the image of our God who commands us to obey him: "Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my son, even my first-born." Ex 4:22; "Oh children of Israel ... You only have I known of all families of the earth." Amos 3:1; "Among all the multitudes of people thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all." II Esdras 5:27; "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24; "The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6; "For in the division of the nations of the whole earth he set a ruler over every people; but Israel is the Lord's portion." Ecclesiasticus 17:17; "The house of Israel, are my people ... RKH: Thanks. The WORD says that Jesus is the WORD made flesh. In the beginning Jesus wrote the Law. Know of no other way to express loyalty and submission except by obedience. But to obey, one must know what He requires. This knowledge comes from his Law. "If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15;[2][3]

UNFILTERED NEWS

ISRAELI BANK ROBBERS: The Israeli army crashed into Palestinian banks stealing $6.7 million in a flagrant disregard for the laws of nations. Israeli sources excuse the holdups by blaming the banks for handling money belonging to Muslim patriots. They say that the pilfered funds will be spent on Palestinian humanitarian projects. (Story in Investors Business Daily, p.2, Feb 25, 2004)

FREE IRAQI ELECTIONS: Two prominent reformist newspapers were closed by occupation officials after criticizing Iran's US appointed puppet leader. (Story in Investors Business Daily, p. 2, Feb 20, 2004,)

EXPEL: The Netherlands is expected to expel 26,000 aliens seeking asylum. This is the largest expulsion thus far. Financial Times, Feb 17, 2003, p.3)

KERRY/BUSH: John Kerry's grandfather was a Czechoslovakian Jew named Kohen. Kerry is married to Theresa Heinz - Jewish heir to a half billion dollar ketchup fortune. The WORD forbids its followers to have a stranger to rule over them. This eliminates Kerry. This leaves Bush. Bush is responsible for tens of millions of alien immigrants who are flooding the country. The bright side is that Bush is not a stranger. Happy?

JUDGE ROY MOORE: The Supreme Court refused to hear an Alabama justice's appeal to display the 10 Commandments in the state's judicial building.

RKH: Roy Moore, a scribe, a king's lawyer who has long practiced the king's law, wants us to believe that he had no idea how Supreme Court judges, appointed by the king to enforce the king's law, and consisting of Sadducees, aliens, and members of episcopal religious groups, would rule on a case that challenged the king's policy.

If you believe that - vote to make him leader of America's right wing so that he can do it again, and again, and again. And we wonder why a dog chases his tail! The establishment is getting lazy by bringing up warmed-over tricks. Times have changed. Some are learning.

ALLAH: Jewish leaders protest the names of Arab teams in the California Jan 4th Muslim football tournament - names such as "Intefada," "Soldiers of Allah," and "Holy Warrior." (Story in Jewish News, Dec 12, 2003, p.13)

RKH: In Lynchburg - home of the immortal 2nd Virginia Cavalry, 11th Virginia Infantry, and Lathams' Battery - the song "Dixie" is banned. "Lee-Jackson" Day has become a mongrel after being combined with "Martin Luther King Day"; two of the three forts that defended the city against Hunter have been razed, and school names such as Robert E. Lee and hometown boy generals "Garland" and "Rhodes" have been changed - all to make it easier to squeeze Lynchburgers into the Cartel "one world." The job of the media is to form opinions. However, the seed of "self-hate" that they have taught Lynchburgers is nourished by a watered-down heathen Christianity. All this can be easily reversed in the twinkling of an eye by the WORD - and it will be.

AUSTRALIA: "Minorities cannot be allowed to police themselves, said Janet Albrechtsen in the Sydney Australian. That's the lesson we can draw from Canada's sorry experiment with the Mohawks. In that native community, Canadian police were 'seen as unwanted symbols of white oppression,' so the Quebec provincial government let the Mohawk nation create its own police force. Anarchy ensued. ... criminal gangs were soon smuggling cigarettes and marijuana with impunity and terrorizing the province. ... Canada's Mohawks are suffering because the government gave in to 'the siren song of rights activists.' Australia, too, has an 'urban elite consumed with guilt' about our own natives, the Aborigines ... 'Australia ignores the Canadian parable at its peril.'" (The Week, February 13, 2004, p. 16)

CARS IN CHINA: "The nerve! The pirates of Shanghai are knocking off entire motor vehicles.

"Piracy is such a way of life in China that people are surprised when a movie, software package or handbag bought there is not ripped off. Now you can add to the list of counterfeit goods, passenger cars. Months before General Motors began selling its $7,500 Chevrolet Spark in China in December, a $6,000 knockoff version, the Chery QQ, with the same grinning front end but missing some subtle details (like an airbag), was cruising Chinese streets. Even more galling: The manufacturer of the pirated version was partially owned by GM's Chinese business partner.

Counterfeiting - usually just of parts - is driving carmakers crazy in China. ..." (Joann Muller, FORBES, Feb 16, 2004, P.58)

BECHTEL: The European Commission is investigating the award of a $2.5bn Romanian motorway contract to the politically well- connected US company Bechtel. The 450km road would be the key transport link with central Europe. A European Commission official remarked: "The whole thing stinks because there was no public procurement process." (Story in Financial Times, Feb 5, 2004, p.4)

TROOP REDUCTION: The US is preparing to cut troop levels in Europe by 1/3. Washington says that it does not now intend to open large permanent bases in eastern Europe. "If anything, troops taken out of Western Europe will be sent home," said a Nato source. "From there, they will be sent on training missions to small bases established in Poland, Romania or Bulgaria. Last week Colin Powell told Vladmir Putin, Russia's president, that Washington had no intention of encircling Russia. The US, however, is not preparing to cut troop numbers in Europe. The business of getting smaller may take a couple of years. (Story in Financial Times, Feb 4, 2004, p.1)

RKH: The world sees the US as being another Rome occupying more than 130 countries.

SAXON TERRORISTS: The propaganda machine that portrayed Saxon-Christians as "terrorists" and "potential terrorists" in being cranked up again. The same anti-Saxon sit-coms are again being shown to build anti-Saxonite public opinion. The anti-Saxon pogram is scheduled to go into high gear as soon as the US is driven from Iraq. America's Saxon Christian-patriot will once again become the "designated terrorist."

Buddhism 101

Buddhism teaches one not to lie, cheat or steal. All religions teach this.

The WORD 101

The WORD teaches not to lie, cheat or steal. One third of the Bible is devoted to this. It's important. Governments all over the world insist that this basic generic ethic be taught so that merchants can do business and kings can collect their tax- tribute.

The real point of contention is the other 2/3s of the Bible. It requires believers to do things that kings don't want you to do. The part that says that we are to have no kings, taxes, monopoly, usury, wars with kinsmen and have no strangers in our midst. This part is not taught. Not that it isn't known. Anyone can open a Bible and read these prohibitions. They just aren't taught. It's as if they don't exist. Christian denominations have been created just to exclude these teachings. Why? Because if the forbidden 2/3s of the Bible were taught and obeyed, it would exclude the International Trade Cartel's state and its agents from our nation and usher in The Kingdom.

Let us start to work on the 2/3s.

Missionaries

In the beginning, God created man and beast. Whatever is not man[1] is beast. Man is instructed not to abuse beast lest they testify against him in the Judgment[2] - he is also commanded not to lie down before the beast. It is a capital crime.

"If a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast. And if a woman

1 Heb: adam - those that blush rosy, Strong's Concordance

2 "Beasts will not perish, nor all souls of beasts which the Lord created, till the great judgment, and they will accuse man, if he feed them ill." Enoch 58:7

... lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beast." Leviticus 20:15-16[3]

God also decreed that those knowing that it is a capital crime and do not tell others - he too is guilty - and is to receive the same punishment as the one committing the crime.

"To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17; "If the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned... his blood will I require." Eze 33:6; "When a person ... sins ... about an event he saw, or knew, if he does not relate it, he shall bear his crime." Lev 5:1; "Whosoever ... shall confess me (the WORD) ... him will I confess also ... Whosoever shall deny me ... him will I also deny." Matt 10:32-33

From the remnant of man before the flood, God chose Noah because he was "perfect in his generations." From Noah's line he chose Abraham because he kept the Law. From Abraham's son Isaac we get our name - Isaac - Isaacsons - Saxons.

Saxon-man, made in the image of the WORD, is commanded by the WORD to turn away strangers because strangers are made in the image of the stranger's gods. Strangers do, think, and act as their gods made them. They speak and teach what they know, and what they know is a reflection of their gods. They are their gods' missionaries. The WORD is quite clear - they and their teachings are not allowed in our midst:

3 "Adam and Eve returned from the mountain ... and went down ...to the place where their corn was, but when there, a multitude of beasts came all round them. It was Satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage." I Adam & Eve 69:9-11

"Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

When strangers use subterfuges to try to join with us - we are instructed to refuse. The examples in the Scriptures are clear:

"(Strangers) heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Israel; Then they came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them. Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him... But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel ..." Ezra 4:1-3

We are not even allowed to send our missionaries to them - lest they pervert the pearls of the WORD we give them and send it back to our hurt.

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; "No stranger (shall) eat of the holy thing." Lev 22:10

It should come as no surprise that Stalin, Ho Chi Minh, Mandella, and Mugabe - among the many killers of Saxons - were educated in "Christian" schools.[4] The 4 When the name "Christian" is used by state surrogates, it indicates that "state edicts" are taught in place of the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of the WORD. Today, the word "Christian" is used to represent the state; "The WORD" represents our nation.

quotation marks emphasize that if the schools had actually taught the WORD, the strangers would not have been educated there.

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves." Matt 23:15

Kings

Man, made in the image of the WORD, rejects other gods. Man is to have "No other Gods." It is God's first commandment to man.

One way man can be made to accept the rule of alien gods

Brahma Holding The Mace

Brahma installs kings to rule lands he claims. This is represented by the Mace in his left hand received by his servants worldwide as a sign of his overlordship. Brahma also sends missionaries worldwide - his "Dharmamatras" - to bring all into his fold with the use of "Dharma".

is to force him to do so. Kings can supply the force. But man must first have a king. America has a king. It is the king's judges who ban the WORD that counteract the king's unLawful edicts. This is the reason man is forbidden to have kings (I Sam 8:5-22).

The early Goths and Germans had counselors, teachers, and wise-men - but no kings. The WORD made flesh appointed us to be kings.[5]. Thus, each of us is a king obedient to the WORD who rules as our King of kings.

Those having kings in spite of the prohibition against kings are ruled by a God than allows kings - not the WORD. The ones who know and do not tell are subject to the punishment proscribed by the WORD.

Usury

The WORD forbids usury and declares it to be a capital crime.[6] Ganesa permits usury. Usurers worship Ganesa - not the WORD.

Ganesa - God of Wisdom, Prosperity & Usury

Sodomy

"Alone among the major world religions, Buddhism does not condemn homosexuality or premarital sex. The emphasis on Buddhism is on achieving a state of enlightenment, but the religion provides only guidelines, not strict commandments,

5 "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

6 "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

as to how individuals should strive for this. Rape and adultery are considered misconduct, but an individual is free to engage in consenting sexual acts that do not violate marital monastic commitments." Church Policies on Gay Concerns, pp 234-239.

Buddha

God the WORD forbids "sodomy". It is a capital crime."[7] The god who permits sodomy is Buddha. Those who practice, approve or tolerate sodomy - worship Buddha in place of the WORD.

Racial Intermarriage

The WORD forbids racial intermarriage.[8]

Those who practice, approve, or fail to warn others that the WORD forbids racial intermarriage - worship Hari-Hara - the half-white, half-black god of integration. Any religious sect that worships Hari-Hara is a mortal enemy of the Saxon nation.

7 "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13

8 "Let them marry ... only to the family of the tribe of their father." Numbers 36:6; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." De 23:2; God made man and beast. According to Scripture, whatever is not man is beast. "Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death." Ex 22:19; "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21

War With Kinsmen

Man is forbidden to raise his hand against man:

Hari-Hara - God of Racial Intermarriage

"Ye shall not ... fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24 "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people." Lev 19:18. "Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:3.

The exception is when man has violated the WORD which is God. And even then God's punishment must be administered in obedience with the WORD. Those who unLawfully raise the hand of war against kinsmen and those who do not warn them against doing so are both guilty and both will receive God's punishment.

Man who unLawfully raises his hand against man rejects God the WORD and worships Kali - the god of death and destruction.

Deception

The pulpits lie when they conceal the 2/3s of the Bible that deal with the government of our people - the teaching that is necessary to bring God's Kingdom. This is gross deception. The priests lie, the king lies, and the great merchant lies.

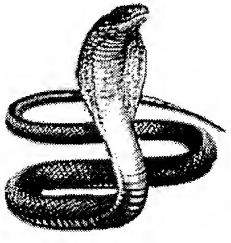
The WORD forbids lying. This includes the lie of omission that destroys people. However, hope springs eternal. The Serpent God of India permits deception and lying. Liars worship the Serpent god - not the WORD.

Kali - Goddess of Death & Destruction

The Wheel of Religion

The denominations professing to be Christian today live in a world of "illusion." They see their various denominations as spokes in a great wheel - all pointing inward to God.



The Serpent - God of Deception

Wheel Of Destiny

This is the real wheel - the Hindu Wheel of Destiny. Organized Christianity with all its sects is only one of the many religions that have been created or captured by "dharma" over the millennia. Each organized religion is a spoke that leads to the center where resides the God of Deception - the Serpent.

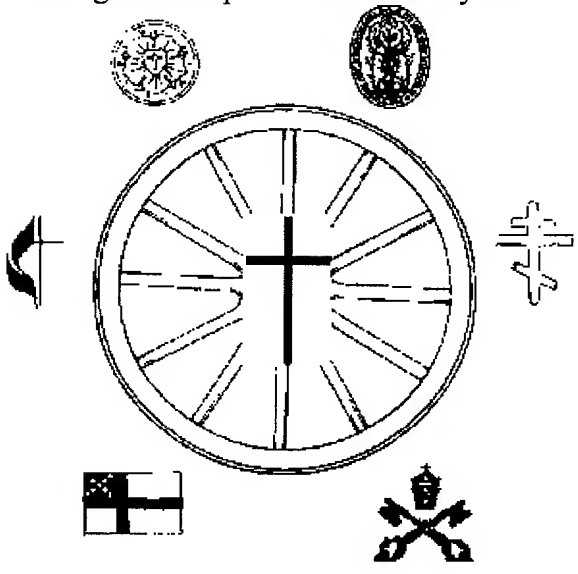
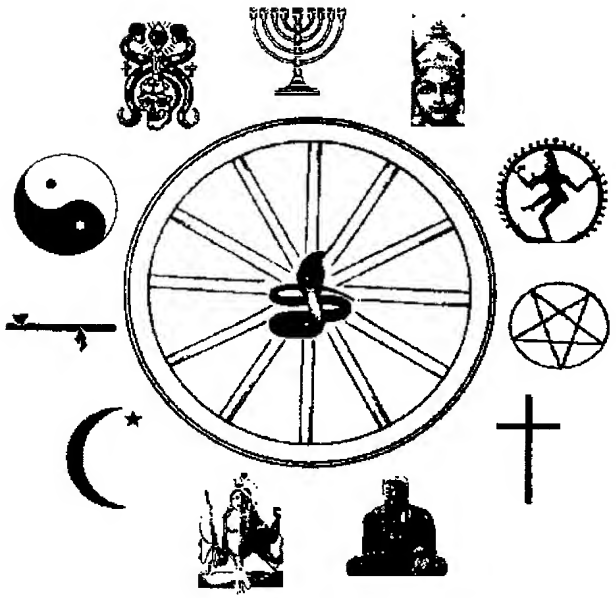
Each of these religions pretend to be separate, but all worship, or tolorate the worship of the same gods. Their primary efforts of each is to suppress the gods of the nations whose followers they label "terrorist." With only a token protest, the Organized Church in America watches and secretly applauds the King as he stamps out competition from the WORD from every crack and cranny of the country.

The talk of having a One World Religion is only talk. As we have seen earlier - Organized Christianity already worships Hindu gods instead of the WORD which should be their God. There is nothing more they can do to prove allegiance to their Hindu gods except continue to obey them.



Today's Christendom

Clockwise: Symbol of the Dutch Reformed Church, Orthodox, Roman Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist, Lutheran.



Wheel Of Destiny

The spokes point all organized religions to the center in which resides the Serpent. From the top clockwise: Judaism, Brahma, Siva, Witchcraft, Christian, Buddha, Hari-Hara, Islam, American Indian, Taoist, Voodoo.

Always Two Religions

All nations have two gods.

Islam has two gods. There is the State approved "Allah" who dispenses state edicts in place of the teachings of Mohammed. Then there is the true "Allah" revealed in Mohammeds teachings. The first Allah is created by agents of the Hindu merchant - the other "Allah" is revealed by devout Muslims quoting Mohammed.

In the West, there are two religions. One is the state approved "Jesus" who dispenses state edicts in place of the WORD. Then there is the WORD. The establishment "Jesus" is created by agents of the Hindu merchant - the second "Jesus" is the WORD made flesh.

The Iraq War

We are told that among the reasons the king of America invaded the country of Iraq is oil, loot, and to hunt for "weapons of mass destruction." But the greater reason is to suppress the rebellious Islamic religion. The International Trade Cartel cannot govern countries they create if the nation that lives in that country returns to the laws of its god. There cannot be two law systems in a country at the same time.

> "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other." Matt. 6:24

Neither can the American army suppress resurgent Islam. It doesn't have to. All that is needed is to make Islam hate the Saxons enough to began a Holy War - which is the nature of the children of Esau.

This way, a second thousand-year war between the Nation of Islam and the Saxon Nation can commence. The Cartel god, Kali the Destroyer, teaches that a thing must die and be burned if it is to be reborn as something new (reincarnation). It is no accident that the cities of the separatist Saxon nation in Germany and the separatist Japanese nation were burned to the ground. In the Hindu mind they had to be destroyed and burned to be reborn into a One World. The new cities financed and built by the Cartel look identical to each other - naturally. Cartel architecture is One World - the people to be reborn are a tolerant One World people, a mixture of all races and all religions whose allegiance is to the state alone because the nations of the world will have destroyed each other and the Cartel remains.

The fire has been ignited. The Cartel can withdraw its puppet American army any time it likes, stand aside, and watch Islam's nation and the Saxon nation slaughter each other for the next throusand years.

"And their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel." Ezekiel 1:3-16

The White Horse & Its Rider

There will come an end to the wheels and the wheels within wheels of the Cartel. In Revelations we read:

"And behold a white horse."

"I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat on him ... doth judge and make war ... and his name is called The WORD of God." Rev 19:11-13

There is no picture or image of the WORD which is God.[9] But we do know about his horse - his white horse.

The sign of the Saxon has always been - the White Horse.

Look - that's the Saxon - that's us! Our Saxon nation all over the world!

9 "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image." Ex 20:4

"And he that sat on him ... his name is called the WORD of God

The symbol of the Saxon has always been the White Horse!

It is our high honor to bear the one whose name is "The WORD of God" to the field of Armageddon - known also as Ragnarak - to the coming judgment and to make war.

God speed the day!

Chapter 356

NATIONS Within STATES

A nation is a people defined by distinctive characteristics. A country (state) is a business monopoly whose boundaries are established by the creators of that state.[1]

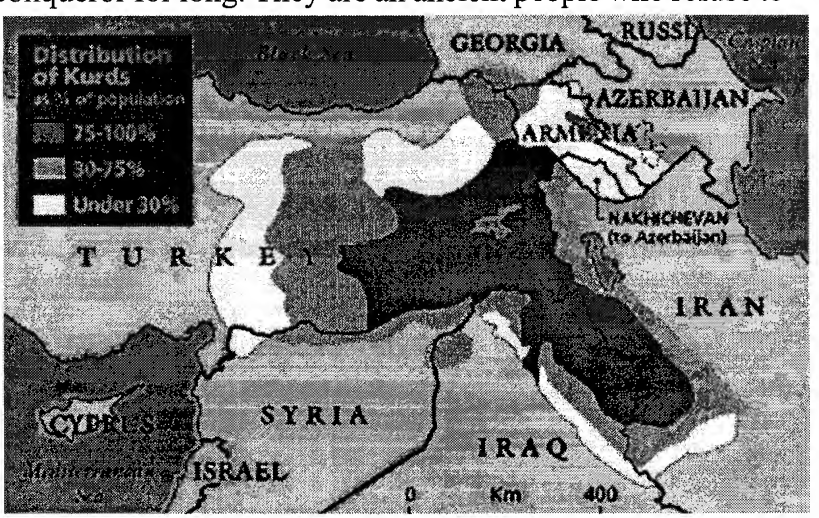
Dividing & Destroying Nations

Nations will not allow outsiders to dictate their religion, government, trade laws or customs. They want to be left alone. This attitude impacts international trade - even to the point of preventing it. Agents of the international merchant solve the problem by breaking up nations, placing the several parts in diverse market areas called "countries" and vilifying their efforts to re-unite by branding their efforts "terrorism".

This treatment prevents a nation from using its laws and religion to interfere with cartel trade between diverse nations.

Kurds

The Kurds are one of the keys to understanding the Mideast. The problem with the Kurds is that from the dawn of their history they have scarcely submitted to any empire or conqueror for long. They are an ancient people who refuse to



The Nation Of Kurds

The powerful kurd nation was divided among seven ITC created countries at the end of WWI in an attempt to subdue their independence. Without a country it remains a distinct separate nation with its own name "Kurdistan". It's revolutionary flag is on the Chapter page.

be ruled by others. This constant rebellion of a nation cannot be tolerated by religious, territorial or economic empires who feel that they must either be pacified and integrated with their neighbors - or destroyed - whichever comes first.

Kurdish history states that the oldest Sumerian records say that not later than 2000 BC the Kurds occupied the same lands in the region of middle Tigris that they do today. Once of pure Aryan stock they later mixed with other races.

They fought the Sumerian dynasties and the Hittites circa 1370 BC. As part of the Nairi confederation they fought Assyria and later helped in the overthrow of both Nineveh and Babylon.

They were treated as equals by the great leaders of the Persians and were guardians of Zoroastrian temples. They fought the Greeks of Xenophon on their retreat. The Kurds were not subdued by the Arab occupation of their land in the 7th-9th centuries and when the Mongols came in 1257, the Kurds massacred 20,000 of them. The Mongols retaliated in kind.

When Turks occupied Armenia and Kurdistan in 1514-35, Turkish colonists were settled in their region in an attempt to convert and pacify them. The effort failed. Kurds rose in revolt against Turkish laws from 1832 to 1847.

At the end of WWI, the International Cartel victors attempted to destroy the Kurd nation by carving it up among the countries they were creating. The result can be seen on the map.[1]

---

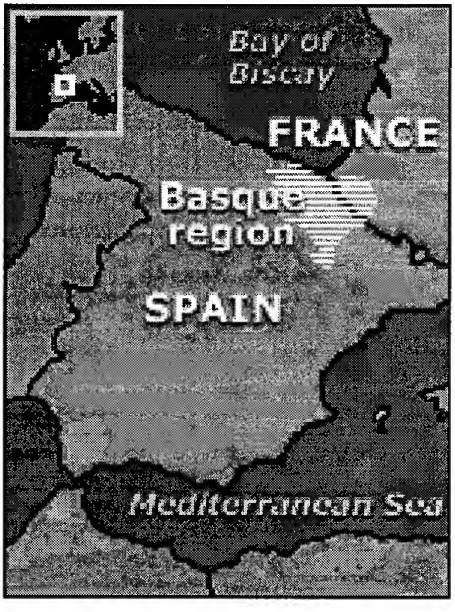
1 The name "Kurdistan" describes the location of the Kurdish nation - not a country with fixed boundaries.

The Kurd nation's continued rebellion resulted in a holocaust in the 1920s when the Turks attempted to stamp them out killing millions in the process.

Today, the Kurd nation stands in the middle of the attempt by the American Empire[2] to put Islam's religious nationalism back in the international bottle. If the foot were removed from their neck - they would probably dominate the Mideast.

The Basque Nation

The Basque nation is also ancient. It is neither Saxon, Celt, Mediterranean or Turk. It is the Basque "nation". It has its own language which is absolutely isolated from other European linguistic families. Even the alphabet varies according to the different dialects.



Location Of Basque Nation

It has three provinces - Alva, Vizcaya or Biscay and Guipuzcoa. These three provinces came together into a unified Basque nation circa 1300. They preserved their own laws and customs which their Spanish neighbors swore to observe and maintain.

2 "Empire" is another name for "internationalism". Internationalism may be economic, territorial or religious. All require integration of nations and peoples. "Nationalism" demands separation.

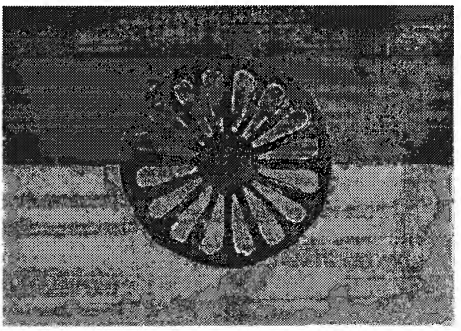
Their independence lasted until the death of Ferdinand VII in 1833 when a series of wars exhausted the Basque people and left them at the mercy of Spain's internationalism.[3]

The ITC divided the Basque nation between France and Spain in order to weaken them and destroy their nationalism. They are not allowed to have their own country because their nation status makes them independent, separatist and a danger to inter-nation trade. The Basque are retaliating with a never-ending guerrilla warfare.

Gypsies

Gypsies are described by their host countries as "a nation of wandering minstrels." Others call them "a nation of parasites, thieves and murderers."



Roma Flag

They have their own newspapers, laws and government and consider themselves a distinct nation. Their flag is blue and green with the Hindu "Wheel of Destiny" in its center.

The Encyclopedia Britannica has this to say:

3 Civil wars are usually cartel instigated to exhaust separatist nations. The ITC can then more easily set up its own puppet government using internal international elements.

"The Gypsies of Europe ... call themselves by the name of Rom ... Miklosich identified (Rom) ... a low caste of Upper India."(Linguistic Survey of India, Vol xi., 1922, p. 11) E/B Gypsies, Vol 11, p. 40)

"Their religious views are a strange medley ...Among the Greeks they belong to the Greek Church, among the Mohammedans they are Mohammedans, in Rumania they belong to the National Church. In Hungary they are mostly Catholics, according to the faith of the inhabitants of that country. They have no ethical principles and they do not recognize the obligations of the Ten Commandments." p. 41)

"They have their own courts (romano-kris), conducted in the manner of the Gypsy-like peoples of India. Taboos are strictly enforced and punished by fines or expulsion from the tribe, mahrime (defilement, rejection)." p. 42)

"Equally famous is the Gypsy woman for her knowledge of occult practices. She is the real witch; who knows charms to injure the enemy or to help a friend ... and is also known for her skill in palmistry and fortune-telling by means of a special set of cards, the well-known Tarok (Tarot) of the Gypsies." E/B Gypsies, Vol 11, p. 42))

Sodomites

It is interesting to note that while Gypsies are a nation with no country - Sodomites fit almost the same requisites They have their own rules, customs, newspapers and literature. Some say they have their own Sodomite government. They appear as a nation with no national state while having their own flag which appears to be the flag of international Buddhism. Since Buddhism is the only religion that tolorates their life-style - it is logical to assume that they are Buddhist - the religion that has no god. They are a nation unto themselves - rejected by all who reject sodomy.

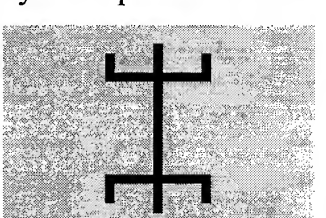
Berber Nation Divided Between Four

Berbers

The Berbers are a great mystery. My mentor, Col. Earnest Sevier Cox, told me that he had heard of blond haired, blue-eyed Berbers - although they have since mixed with their surrounding neighbors.

Berbers consider themselves a nation. They react violently to all attempts to make them accept the laws and government of the nations placed over them. They have their own traditions, laws, and government. Their flag consists of the strange design seen here.

Living in the Atlas Mountains they have proved to be a tough nut to crack. In the 1920s they all but destroyed a European army sent against them.



Berber Flag

To try to destroy their fierce independence, the cartel created countries and drew their boundaries in such a way as to divide the Berbers into four parts. Now the Berbers are waging an intermittent war with four countries in their attempt to win their freedom. They are branded "terrorists" by the cartel media in each country in which they reside. Of course, they look on those persecuting them as the true terrorists.

The Two Sicilies

Saxons invaded and settled N. Italy. Muslims invaded Sicily and S. Italy in the 7th century. A branch of the same Normans that invaded England in 1066 also invaded Sicily and subdued the Muslims. Unlike England where both the invaders and the invaded were all Saxons - the Normans who invaded the Two Sicilies were absorbed by the Muslims and disappeared.

Kingdom Of The Two Sicilies

The Muslims were conquered and forced to accept the universal multi-nation Catholic religion, but still they remained rebellious to their temporal rulers. The cartel at various times gave them over to the Austrians, French, and Spanish, among others, to try their hand at ruling them. All failed. In 1859-1860, Italy was united into a single political entity and half dozen or so states that had been independent or semi-independent disappeared - the Two Sicilies among them.

However, the Sicilians continue as a nation without a state, having their own customs and laws. Ruling invisibly alongside the nominal Italian government is the traditional Muslim type government of powerful families who collect their own taxes and dispense family justice just as they have always done. Sicilians call this form of government "Our Thing". The cartel media calls it - the Mafia - and brands them "terrorists."

Sicilians are Arab/Turks. The cartel success in integrating them into Saxon lands has been mixed, since they arrive complete with their "mafia" government.

This so-called "Mafia" is the family-government non-Saxons use world wide to govern themselves. It is the basis of the Chinese "Tongs" and black African "Tribes". Note Iraq: To them, any central government is a nominal government at best. Remove the current leader and life goes on. Local government is administered by "families" for their own benefit. It's an Arab-Turk-Muslim thing.

AZTLAN

The media-elected leaders of the American state have opened its frontiers to dilute the power of the Saxon nation by mixing them with alien nations. Practically, the Mexican border is non-existent. Millions of Mexicans are pouring in. It is not a haphazard invasion. The Mexican state, the Catholic church, and the rulers of the American state are working together to bring them in. The invaders believe that they are taking back what is theirs. Their political organization is called "La Raza" (The Race). The land they intend to repossess is called Aztlan.

Aztlan is the mythical place of origin of the Aztec peoples. It is believed that the Aztecs originated in the lands now occupied by the American states of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and California taken over by the US after the Mexican-American War of 1846. From this region they migrated southward where they built their capitol, Mexico City. Linguistically related groups of peoples include the Paiute, Shoshoni, Hopi, Pima, Yaqui, Tepehaun, Raramuri (Tarahumara), Kiowas and Mayas.

They are well organized. 70,000 of them marched beneath "a sea of Mexican flags" protesting Proposition 187, a referendum measure that would deny many state benefits to illegal immigrants in California. The radicals seek nothing less than secession from the US, whether to form their own sovereign state or to reunify Aztlan with Mexico. Their newspapers and publications speak of "Aztlan's" transformation into "a de-facto nation" with its own culture, history, myth, geography, religion, education and language." Their resentment is expressed by Voz Fronteriza a Chicano student publication, which referred to Border Patrol officers killed in the line of duty as "pigs" trying to defend "the false frontier."[4]

Elizabeth Martizez wrote "Five Hundred Years of Chicano History, a book used in over 300 schools throughout the West to "celebrate our resistance to being colonized and absorbed by racist empire builders." The book by Rodolfo Acuna, author of Occupied America, includes a map showing "the Mexican republic" in 1822 reaching up into Kansas and Oklahoma, and including Utah, Nevada and everything west and south of there.

The creation of Aztlan will diminish the power of the Saxon - as it is designed to do.

Some Of The Rest

There is not space for a complete list of the world's nations victimized by the Hindu system of religion, government and trade and who are just waiting for their chance to revolt. Following is a partial list:

AFRICA: Africa has many black races. Each is different having its own customs, religion and laws. Each has a history of animosity toward other black nations. The cartel's European kings divided Africa among themselves. They were careful to divide each dominant black nation amongst several colonial jurisdictions - French, Portuguese, Belgian, Spanish, German, English, etc.

When the time was right for asset transfer, they turned the rule of these African countries over to one or other of the black nations that resided there. Naturally, the result was a blood-bath. In the following chaos, cartel corporations "privatized" the wealth of these black nations into their coffers.

4 http://www.diversityalliance.org/does/Chang- azlan.html

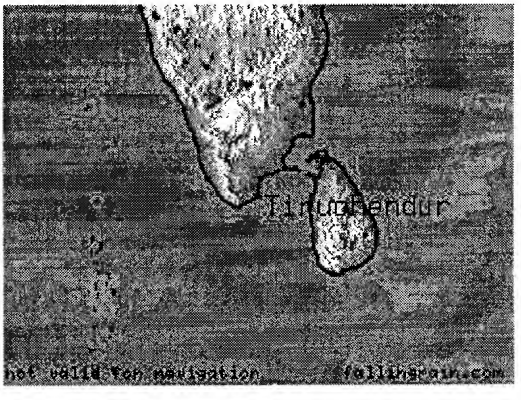
The scenario: Initially, Africa's unused wealth went from blacks to European corporate states allegedly to benefit Saxon subjects with blacks receiving scraps, which is more than they had before. Then, on command, Europe abandoned rule and turned it over to one or other of the black nations in the country to rule other black nations - a surefire formula for chaos. Next, the Hindu corporation moved in and privatizated the assets along with the workers. At last, relative peace descended with the seized assets now protected by newly appointed tribal kings whose armies are hired by the cartel. Anything new here?

FIGI: HR #311 covered the Island of Figi. Figi was a separate homogeneous island. To destroy the nation, the British imported large numbers of mixed-breed Indians who proceeded to take over and remove Figi from its isolation. The natives revolted to try to preserve their nation. The ITC world took the part of the Indian invading colonists.



Sri Lanka - Buddhist

SRI LANKA (Formerly Ceylon) was the refuge of Buddhists fleeing Hindu persecution on the India mainland.[5] Later, Britain ruled India. Britain moved thousands of Hindus from India's Tamil Province to Sri Lanka in an attempt to dilute the nationalism of that Buddhist nation. When Britain left, the Buddhist attempted to subdue their Hindu invaders, whose fighters are called "Tamil Tigers" and who are supplied with munitions from Israel.

TIBET is the ancient home of the Dalai Lama in exile - the spiritual leader of the world's Buddhists. In the past, the Chinese nation has been conquered both by Buddhists and by Catholics. At various times Chinese converts obeyed the Dalai Lama - or the Pope - before obeying their own Chinese national leaders. As a result, Chinese rulers periodically occupy Tibet to retain control of their own nation and they are constantly having to curtail the activities of the Catholic Church.

Conclusion

A nation is a people defined by distinctive characteristics. A country (state) is a business monopoly whose boundaries are established by the creators of that state.

The ITC has divided the Saxon nation among many states to weaken their power. Media-elected kings, priests and usury merchant-bankers have been placed over them to be their rulers. - Admiralty Law its god.

The God of our Saxon nation is the WORD.

Other nations are made in the image of their gods. It is important to realized that while separate nations neither like nor trust other nations - they all stand to profit by throwing off the rule of the International Trade Cartel, nationalizing the Cloak of Esau, and outlawing usury banking. On these matters we can work as one.

UNFILTERED NEWS

TAXES: "From the nation's founding until the early 20th century, the federal government was funded through tariffs and excise taxes. There was no income tax at all, except a temporary version imposed to finance the Civil War. The first peacetime income tax was imposed in 1913, during the Progressive Era, as a means to force the very wealthy to contribute to society. ... The rate was 1% on individuals with a net income of $3,000, ... It rose gently to a high of 7% on those making $300,000. But the simplicity was short-lived. ... public resentment did little to deter the government. ...

"Gradually, the percentage of Americans required to send the government a check crept up from 1% to 14%. At the onset of WWII, Congress ... passed a law ordering employers to withhold tax money from worker's pay-checks. And Rolling Stone magazine is releasing a report: 'Bug Chasers: The men who secretly long to be HIV+' The men who want the virus are called bug chasers, and the men who freely give them the virus are called gift givers. While the rest of the world supposedly fights the AIDS epidemic, this subculture celebrates the virus and eroticizes it." Reports Rolling Stone (Drudge Report)

FBI: April 17, 2004 - Two FBI agents entered the store my daughter and her husband own and proceeded to harass her with questions about me. They asked if I wrote under a pseudonym? Why the covers of my books were black and white? If her business was hurt by media attacks on me? How did she feel about me being her father? How did she feel about my writings? etc.

She answered by smiling and replying to each question, "I don't know." It is gratifying to know that the Cartel continues to feel that the WORD poses a danger to their anti-Christ activities.

FRANCE'S GOLD: The Bank of France is now considering privatizing 16% of its gold. Gold accounts for 52% of the Bank of France's reserves, compared with a eurozone average of 41% and 8.7% for the Bank of England. (Story in Financial Times, p.4, Apr 15, 2004)

Chapter 357

ESAU's ILLUSIONS

Esau's strength is "deception". His ability to deceive comes from his study and knowledge of the WORD. The Book of Jasher 7:23-30 reveals that the WORD is "Adam's Cloak". Covered by Adam's Cloak man is covered with God's Laws and thinks logically.

The Cloak of Adam was stolen by Ham and used to do evil. Nimrod inherited the Cloak and the whole world believed him to be their leader when he used it. Esau coveted the Cloak. He lay in wait and slew Nimrod and stole the Cloak and has used it ever since to deceive mankind. Organized religion is today paid by the international merchant to censor the WORD. While pretending to be clothed in Adam's Cloak of Truth they actually wear Esau's Cloak of Deception.

> "Thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived." Rev 18:23

The Dollar Illusion

Take a minute and look at a dollar bill. It was created out of nothing. Banks can create as many pieces of "nothing" as they like any time they want and use these created "nothings" to buy whatever they wish - things like land, ships, cities and men.[1]

It's legal. Lawmakers passed laws making it legal. Lawmakers passed these laws in exchange for the bank owned media giving them favorable publicity so they could be elected to their cushy jobs. Of course, it should be emphasized again - the media is bank-owned - and it is the banks who create "nothing" out of thin air which they used to purchase the media.

Our sound money system is a gift from Esau[2] - it is media created - it is an illusion.

1 "Thou shall not steal." Ex 20:15; "Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul." Pr 29:24; "Thou shall not defraud thy neighbor." Lev 19:13; "Thieves ... shall (not) inherit the kingdom of God." I Cor 6:9,10;

2 "Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." Jasher 29:20

Socialism Illusion

In the '60s and '70s there was a craze in academia to encourage government to "nationalize" certain privately owned businesses - "to help the common man."

In fact, government confiscated those private businesses whose owners would not sell. Then, after people forgot - the average public forgetting time is four years - they privatized the property into the hands of buyers who wanted it in the first place. Neat!

Stealing private property and calling it "nationalization for the good of the people" is a media created illusion. It is a double illusion when the purchase price is paid for in "nothings".

Billionaire Illusion

Moscow, the capitol of one of the most impoverished countries in the world, a country that had difficulty coming up with a dozen millionaires 10 years ago, now has more billionaires than any city in the world. How was this economic miracle possible?

The Art of Grand Theft

Long ago the Czar of Russia nationalized the people's wealth for himself. Communist revolutionaries overthrew the Czar and nationalized the Czar's wealth. They said that it was for the good of the people. Russia then embraced capitalism. The new government took the communist owned wealth and privatized it into the hands of the International Merchant. The managers appointed by the Cartel to oversee these vast assets placed in their hands are Moscow's "overnight billionaires." They are Cartel managers of the wealth of the Russian people.

Nothing has changed. A manager of someone else's billions can be called "a billionaire" - but the billions are not his - they belong to the Cartel. It's a media created illusion.

Stock Company Owner Illusion

A company sells stock to the public. The stock is traded on an exchange and rises and falls in value based on its earnings and promotion. The media says that "stockholders" own the company. The WORD says:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Pr:22:7

Practically every company is up to its ears in debt. Lending contracts give the lender precedence over stock owners. Companies in debt are slaves to their lenders. Even Henry Ford and Bill Gates borrowed money. The lender is the master - the borrower is the slave. The owner of companies in debt is the lender. Stockholder ownership sounds good - but it is an illusion.

Press Freedom Illusion

We are constantly told about the "freedom of the press." In fact, the world media, with miniscule exceptions, is Cartel owned. There is NO freedom in the Cartel press. Ten thousand newspapers world-wide often have the same front page story on the same day with the same word-for-word story. The world-wide Cartel media speaks with one voice.

Weekly I receive advertisements from some of the most prestigious publications in the country. One has subscription price of $278 a year, but is offered to me for the special price of $35. This is a slick 300 page weekly magazine. The $35 will hardly cover the postage. How do they do it?

The answer is that the Cartel media is subsidized. This is accomplished by requiring non-media Cartel Corporations to give money to the Cartel media in the form of advertising.

Non-Cartel media get no advertising. Their existence is a daily hand-to-mouth struggle. However, their sacrificial labor provides information to national patriots that would destroy the Cartel if unopposed.

The Cartel seldom directly attacks the alternate media. It would look like Goliath fighting a gnat and would give statue and credibility to their message. Instead, the Cartel has established its own fraudulent right-wing alternate-media. It is my belief that a full 2/3s of the so-called right-wing "alternate media" are actually multi-nationals posing as national publications. Cartel sugar-daddies subsidize them with direct grants instead of advertising. Their "right-wing" talk hides the face of Esau while they tunnel under Saxon defenses. They are easily identified by their aversion to the WORD.

The second method of attacking the alternate media without mentioning their message is to connect the alternate media with some violent event. The inference is that something the writer said made the perpetuator do it.

For instance: The government alleged that Timothy McVeigh was responsible for blowing up the Federal building in Oklahoma City. The media claims that Dr. William Pierce's book, "Turner Diaries" was found in McVeigh's car. The media pulled the same thing again with an incident that occurred in Florida where they again claimed that Pierce's book was found in the car of the Florida perpetuator, too. Again, the inference was that Pierce's book made the perpetuator do it.

In my case, a gunman wounded several children in California. The media alleged that my economics book War

Cycles/Peace Cycles was found in the shooter's car. A media storm broke over the affair. My web cite was canceled, threats were made. book orders dropped 50%, and never once was "usury", the subject matter of my book, mentioned. You have to hand it to them - they know what they are doing. The whole book thing was "slight of hand" - an illusion without substance.

50-Year Anniversary
Brown vs Board Illusion

Half a century ago a Supreme Court, appointed by a Cartel President, decreed that separate national schools for blacks and whites were illegal.

The 50th anniversary of the event is now being celebrated across America. Media-kudos relating the glories of multi-culturalism and multi-nationalism are daily front page. The evils of separatism are also daily fare.

The truth is - "Brown vs. Board" destroyed public school education for both Blacks and Whites. Public education is a national disaster. Ask either Black or White nationalist educators.

The glories of integrated education are a media created illusion.

Open Season

Brown vs Board of Education also marked the beginning of "open season" on Whites - an orgy of rape and murder promoted and protected by a multi-national government:

> "Walter E. Williams (black columnist) quoting US Dept of Justice records: There have been during the past 20 years, 6.6 million violent crimes of murder, rape, robbery, and assault. 20% of those were interracial. Of these, 90% of the victims were white. Blacks murder Whites 18 times the rate that Whites murder Blacks. Black on White assaults are 21 times the opposite. Mr. Williams believes that Whites have become insensitive to Black crime because the government and the media report all White crime committed against Blacks and little Black crime against Whites. Citizen Review, reported in #HR, June 1997

The media does not report the race of the criminal so that Whites will not know what is happening:

RACE CRIME: U.S. Justice Dept. statistics for 1991 show that for every 100 rapes committed by whites against blacks, blacks committed 20,204 rapes against whites.

It gets worse.

"The Race War of Black Against White

By Paul Sheehan[3]

"For the past 30 years a large segment of black America has waged a war of violent retribution against white America....

"In the past 20 years, violent crime has increased more than four times faster than the population. Young blacks (under 18) are more violent than previous generations and are 12 times more likely to be arrested for murder than young whites.

"Nearly all the following figures, which speak for themselves, have not been reported in America:

"* According to the latest US Department of Justice survey of crime victims, more than 6.6 million violent

3 Sydney Morning Herald, May 20, 1995

crimes (murder, rape, assault and robbery) are committed in the US each year, of which about 20 per cent, or 1.3 million, are inter-racial crimes.

"* Most victims of race crime - about 90 per cent - are white, according to the survey "Highlights From 20 Years of Surveying Crime Victims," published in 1993.

"* Almost 1 million white Americans were murdered, robbed, assaulted or raped by black Americans in 1992, compared with about 132,000 blacks who were murdered, robbed, assaulted or raped by whites, according to the same survey.

"* Blacks thus committed 7.5 times more violent inter-racial crimes than whites even though the black population is only one-seventh the size of the white population. When these figures are adjusted on a per capita basis, they reveal an extraordinary disparity: blacks are committing more than 50 times the violent racial crimes of whites.

* According to the latest annual report on murder by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, most inter-racial murders involve black assailants and white victims, with blacks murdering whites at 18 times the rate that whites murder blacks.

"These breathtaking disparities began to emerge in the mid-1960s, when there was a sharp increase in black crime against whites, an upsurge which, not co-incidentally, corresponds exactly with the beginning of the modern civil rights movement.

"Over time, the cumulative effect has been staggering. Justice Department and FBI statistics indicate that between 1964 and 1994 more than 25 million violent inter-racial crimes were committed, overwhelmingly involving black offenders and white victims, and more than 45,000 people were killed in inter-racial murders. By comparison, 58,000 Americans died in Vietnam, and 34,000 were killed in the Korean War.

"When non-violent crimes (burglary, larceny, car theft and personal theft) are included, the cumulative totals become prodigious. The Bureau of Justice Statistics says 27 million non-violent crimes were committed in the US in 1992, and the survey found that 31 per cent of the robberies involved black offenders and white victims (while only 2 per cent in the reverse).

"When all the crime figures are calculated, it appears that black Americans have committed at least 170 million crimes against white Americans in the past 30 years. It is the great defining disaster of American life and American ideals since World War II. All these are facts, yet by simply writing this story, by assembling the facts in this way, I would be deemed a racist by the American news media. It prefers to maintain a paternalistic double standard in its coverage of black America, a lower standard." (ends quote).

Brown vs Board of Education destroyed public education. Brown vs Board of Education also signaled "open season" on whites - all concealed and re-interpreted by the Cartel's multi-national media.

The Integration Question!

The question our politicians, religious leaders, and corporation heads won't touch with a 10-foot pole is: How is it possible for the Saxon race to be robbed, murdered and raped by another race unless the two races are forced to live together?

The joys of multi-nationalism and multi-culturalism are a media created illusion.

Friendly Agents Provacateur

The WORD's order to all Saxons is crystal clear:

"Read this law before all Israel ... that they may ... do all the words of this law." Deut 31:11-12

If in fact, 2/3s of the so-called "right-wing" alternate media is a multi-national front - how can you tell who is who?

Easy! The fraudulent 2/3s cannot quote the WORD and at the same time serve their pay-masters who pay them to discredit the WORD. It's that simple. They can tell you how bad our enemies are - but they can't quote the WORD that says so.

Have you noticed that it is these 2/3s who continuously beat the drum for race war?

Separate nations don't like each other - which is why they are separate. If separated - it is difficult to be abrasive.

Naturally, we must defend ourselves to survive, but this is a far cry from "race-war" being talked about.

What does the Scripture say about "strife"?

> "The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with." Pr 17:14

What I'm pointing out is that many right-wing pundits have no PLAN other than strife itself.

What Causes Strife?

The WORD openly and forcefully opposes the things that cause strife - kings, usurers, monopolies, strangers in the land, taxes, undivided land, etc. - all of these things CAUSE strife. Why don't these certain right-wingers condemn these things - all of them?

The answer may be that they are "right-wingers" in name only. To them STRIFE is an end in itself. This is what kings do. It might be an illusion to think that many of our "right-wing" leaders are right-wingers.

Kings

Who was it in the first place that insisted that Virginia's Indians be accepted into Saxon society? The king who ruled a multi-national empire.

Who insisted that Black slaves be sold into Virginia? The king of a multi-national empire.

Who reacted violently against the separatist African Colonization Movement - and fought a non-declared War Between The States to keep cheap black labor from leaving? A king - now called "Mr. President".

Who is allowing Hispanics to flood the nation to cause strife and disruption? The king of a multi-national empire.

Who is fighting a non-declared war against the separatist nation of Islam? The king of a multi-national empire.

What shall we do about Kings who force different nations to live together so that there will be strife? That question is one that will be solved in time.

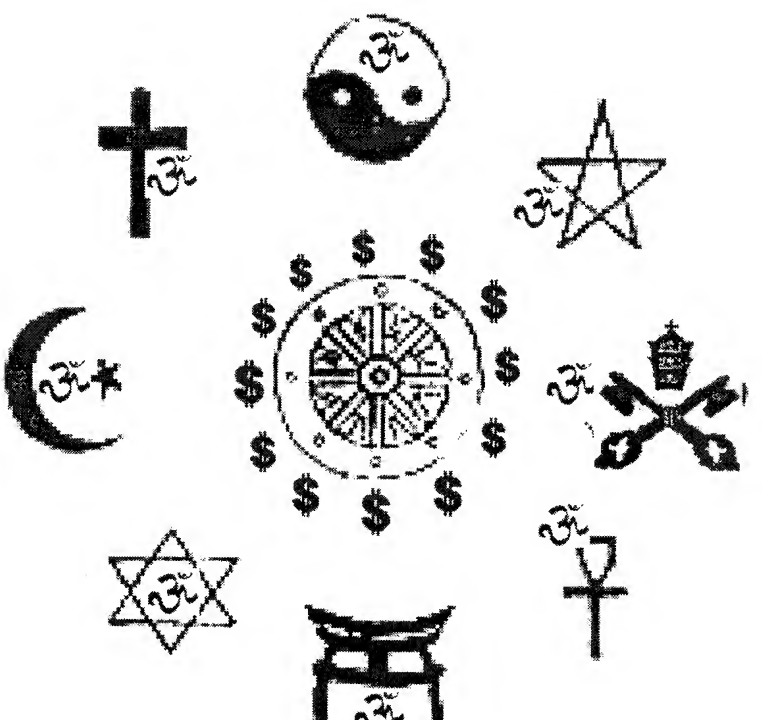
Multi-nationalism is built on strife. Multi-nationalism rules by instigating perpetual strife between nations.

Saxon Nationalism is built on obedience to the WORD which is God. The WORD requires separation from alien nations. Separation brings peace. Entering into STRIFE for the sake of STRIFE - and expecting peace to result - is an illusion.

The WORD
God's Government

Daily we ask our Father for help and guidance in setting up His government on earth:

"Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name, Thy government come, Thy will be enforced on earth, as it is in heaven." Matt: 6:9



Zionism Destroyed

The international Jew is part of the Civil Service of the multi-national International Trade Cartel. Jewish Zionism is a "nation". The multi-national Cartel instigates strife between nations to destroy them so that their remnants can be merged into the one-world multi-nation Trade Cartel.

The Zionists are a nation; Islam is a nation; if the Cartel halps Islam destroy noisy, demanding, problem making Zionism - using vassal countries who are today Zionist allies - nothing will have changed for the rest of the world when Zionism is gone; the Cartel civil-service will remain.

When God's government is in place - things will be different. Obedience to the WORD will be required. This upsets the anti- christs. They know that they will be required to be obedient or they will be punished for their disobedience:

> "But these enemies of mine, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

The WORD says that this is how it will be when God's government is come. All else is an illusion.

A Horse By Any Other Name

There are Jews - and then again - there are people who say they are Jews, or say that they are Christian-Jews, or Muslim-Jews, or just leave off the "Jew" part and call themselves English, German, or Panamanian, or Presbyterian, or Jesuit, or Episcopalian, or Buddhist, or Hindu, or any one of a half a hundred names. By whatever name they go by their service is to the multi-national Cartel. These people serve the Cartel regardless of what they are called, or call themselves, or what you call them.

Cartel Civil Service

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) is a gigantic world-wide operation. It has its own "civil service" that looks after Cartel interests. It has always had this civil service. It's like an iceburg - 10% above surface. The rest goes by other names. The Cartel media and its agents purposely points their fingers at the visible 10% to prevent unwanted attention toward the unseen 90% who are doing their job day-in and day-out.

This Cartel "civil-service" is found in every government and every bank and business corporation. Trained people are on duty looking after Cartel interests on a permanent basis.[4]

Cartel vs Zionism

There are Jews who work for the Cartel and there are Zionist Jews who work for the Cartel and also work for their own nation. They have dual loyalties.

The first is an ITC caste. The second serves the Cartel and also serves another master - its own nation. Cartel-Jews are multi- nationals - the second group, the "Zionist Jews" are nationalist. Multi-nationals are enemies of nationalists.

Disruptive Zionism

From: "La Voz de Aztlan" (aVoz@aztlan.net) May 20, 2004

> A U.S. senator's charge that Israel is behind the Bush administration's decision to invade Iraq has rattled American Jewish leaders. Sen. Ernest Hollings, a South Carolina Democrat, wrote a column that appeared in several newspapers. The column asserted that the U.S. war against Iraq represented a decision by President George Bush to protect Israel and ensure American Jewish support for his re-election.
>
> "The column reflects a growing sentiment in the corridors of power in Washington according to congressional sources. ... "There is a strong fear among American Jewish leadership that the whispering campaign that 4 It is my personal belief that the Cartel "civil service" is the conduit bringing other Cartel castes into the West in the guise of holocaust survivors, hotel manager/owners, business CEOs, and ordinary "wet-backs" - each caste, one after the other - bursting into our midst with no protest by government, media, or pulpit.

'the Jews started it,' will become public," a senior congressional staffer said. "We could be seeing others get on Hollings' bandwagon. ... Hollings said in a column first published on May 6 in the Charleston Post and Courier. "You don't come to town and announce that your Israel policy is to invade Iraq." Congressional sources said Hollings was expressing a view that has become increasingly prevalent in Congress and parts of the administration. The column was reprinted on Hollings's website...."

Are Zionist Jews Being "Set-Up"?

Multi-national Cartel-Jews serve as the ITC "civil service". Zionist-Jews serve the Cartel and are increasingly using Cartel power and office to serve their own nation. They have mixed loyalties. Nationalism and multi-nationalism mix like oil and water.

All strife serves the ITC. Zionist vs Islamic strife serves the ITC. It boosts business and makes the survivors dependent on the protection of Cartel government.

Let us suppose that the disgust with the Iraqi War spills over into a disgust with Jewish-Zionism - that according to Sen. Hollings - has taken America into the war to fight for the Israeli nation.

Suppose further that if support for the Israeli state evaporates, the Zionist state in Palestine is swamped and drowns in an Islamic sea while Zionism elsewhere in the world is also destroyed. The result would be that the non-Zionist "so-called Jews" elsewhere in the world would continue with their primary duty as the Cartel's "civil service".

The question then is - what would be different for the nations of the world?

The answer - NOTHING!

Conclusion

Today our people are in a stupor.[5] Being "stupid" has little to do with one's level of education, job position, income or wealth. A person can become "stupefied" by mis-information, dis-information or lies. Or, he can receive so many conflicting opinions that he finds it impossible to arrive at a reasoned decision. The result is he becomes "stupefied". He doesn't know what to think - he becomes stupid. Stupid is the result of being deceived by the Cloak Of Esau that transforms the real world into an illusion.

But, I've got good news!

> "(God the WORD) will destroy ... the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations." Isiah 25:7

The Cloak of Esau that has deceived all nations for so long will return to Adam-man. The WORD will cause Man to awake suddenly and obey - and peace will descend on the world.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA by K.J.

I mentioned that the Buddhist community at Bronkhorstspruit complained about a cross on an Afrikaan church across the street. Last Thursday the cross had been removed; its replacement was a tiny cross made of glass bricks which can hardly been seen.

5 Stupid: "Lacking in understanding; in a state of stupor; stupefied." Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary

These Buddhist are Chinese. Their law system is enforced by "Triads". Their business appears to include smuggling and murder.

When blacks have a funeral it is like a huge party. Poor blacks leave their dead at funeral parlours to be buried in pauper's graves.

Since the Mbeki's inauguration medicine prices have doubled. Huge government departments have been ordered to fire white workers and replace them with mostly illiterate Xhosas, the black tribe now ruling.

The media is constantly fermenting hatred against whites - primarily against Afrikanners - never forgetting to mention "apartheid" and "racism" in every story. Mbeki made his round of speech-making and he too did not forget to mention racism in every speech.

Many post offices have closed to save money, making it difficult to send and receive mail.

Our pension fund was supposed to be closed, but a way was found to get into it. Some time ago a young Jew complained bitterly that his poor father lost his four expensive cars in a fraud case. We discovered that this old Jew had stolen 1.4 billion rand from the fund. He was the broker who had been put there by blacks. Everything these two nations touch turns into a mess. The poor pensioners will loose everything.

Betzy told us how careful they have to be with the Loerie Children not to let them see motion pictures full of pornography. All the family magazines and newspapers plus TV have turned to pornography. We never had to worry about such problems in the old days. When I went to school we had an academy of music and were taken by bus to Johannesburg to attend all the great operas and listen to the great singers of the day - some whom had performed in Heidelberg.

What we learn of Bush's War in Iraq is really most unpleasant. It is not the way to behave at all. But, England did the same in former years. Even now, a century later, some of their atrocities are coming to light; like having the blacks rape white women and even very young girls. Betzy told us of cases where a midwife during the war helped those raped women get rid of the half-breed fetuses in Pretoria. I was told how the English in Eastern Transvaal got the blacks to ferret out white women and children hiding in the mountains and the treatment they endured. We don't like women to go fight in other countries, but it is something else for women to fight in one's own country to defend their families.

Even now, the media incites blacks against whites by providing them with pictures of naked white women. Hans told me they used to have posters of white women in their rooms, but now they display them openly.

Yours faithfully, K.J.

UNFILTERED NEWS

FBI MISIDENTIFIES: The FBI apologized to Brandon Mayfield after a judge in Portland, Oregon, dismissed the case in which he was jailed as a material witness in the Madrid train bombings that killed 191 and injured 2,000. Mayfield is a lawyer whose fingerprints were mistakenly tied to the terrorist attack. The FBI said that a computer error led to the misidentification of his fingerprints and that they would review their practices. (Christian Science Monitor, p.20, May 26, 2004)

EMMIT TILL: The Justice Department is re-opening the fifty year old Emmit Till case. The Cartel intends to re-start racial conflict against Southern Whites.

Till was a fresh young black who came South, made advances to a Saxon's wife - which violates the WORD that prohibits Saxons having sexual relations with strangers, and was shot. Those accused of shooting Till were acquitted. There were no blacks on the jury because the WORD says that strangers are not to rule over son-of-Isaac. The re-opening the half-century old Till Case is done to stir up racial strife.

NUNS UNDER GUN: Nine former students at a Roman Catholic school filed a lawsuit alleging that they were sexually and physically abused between 1944 and 1977 by nuns who ran the now defunct Boston School for the Deaf. The case is the first to allege widespread abuse by nuns. (Story in C.S.M., p.20, May 13, 2004

AUSTRALIA: The Australian government is fighting the Cartel's abortion holocaust by offering new mother's $2,100. Treasurer Peter Costello said couples should have three children: "One for your husband, one for your wife and one for your country." (Story in IBD, A2, May 13, 2004)

FACT: "Adjusted for inflation, many Americans make significantly less today than in 1973, when wage levels were at their highest. Average weekly wages in 2003 for non-management workers in private industry were actual $116 lower than 30 years before, in real terms, or about $6,000 less a year. This is according to Bureau of Labor Statistics data adjusted for inflation, and then calculated in 2003 dollars by the National Poverty Center at the Univ. of Michigan. ..."The Christian Science Monitor, p.8, May 11, 2004

SPAIN REFUSES: Spanish military forces in Iraq refused a US command last month to launch an offensive against an Iraqi militia that has since taken the Shia holy city of Najaf, according to José Enrique de Ayala, a top general. Meanwhile, Bono, the Spanish defense minister, said Spanish troops would not follow a US order to hand over Moqtada al-Sadr, leader of the militia, dead or alive". "As long as we're in Iraq, we'll follow international law," he said. (Story in Financial Times, p.3, May 12, 2004)

KENNEWICK MAN: Anthropologists believe that the bones of the Kennewick Man are Causacoid, not American Indian. The 9th Circuit Court of Appeals has rejected a request by four tribes for a rehearing in the dispute which means they cannot take control of the bones and block scientists from being able to study them. (American Free Press, May 10, 2004)

RKH: It also ruins the Cartel propaganda line that Indians were here first and thus are "native Americans" and entitled to anything and everything they can extort from Saxons.

AIDS INDIA: India may have overtaken S. Africa as the world's most HIV-infected country, the World Health Organization reported. (IBD, A2, 5/12/04)

RKH: Why not? The sex-god Siva is India's chief god, and sex is the god of blacks everywhere in the world.

ROSS PEROT, yesterday's great phony conservative who did all he could to keep the lid on Saxon Nationalism, is contributing to the "outsourcing" phenomenon. His Perot Systems, which did $1.5 billion in sales last year, is adding 3,500 jobs in India for a subsidiary to process medical claims for U.S. firms. (Story in Nationalist Times, p.17, May 2004)

COLUMBIA TERRORISTS TAX: Chiquita Brands, the world's biggest banana producer, announced that they were paying Columbian terrorist organizations protection money so that they can continue to do business in that country. (Financial Times, p.3, May 12, 2004)

RKH: Columbian nationalists object to having their land confiscated by the government to be later "privatized" to Cartel agents, and are consequently branded "terrorists" by the US and Columbian Cartel governments.

VENEZUELA: The US military mission was asked to leave all military bases which they have occupied for half a century. President Hugo Chaves accused Army Gen. James Hill, commander of US operations in Latin America, of knowing in advance of a purported conspiracy to topple his government with the help of paramilitary invaders from neighboring Colombia (outsourced contractors). US military is in Venezuela allegedly to train Venezuelan Air Force pilots and to advise on anti-drug operations. (Story in C.S.M., p.20, May 14, 2004)

SHARIA INVESTMENTS: Sharia investment (investment under Islamic religious law) is a small but growing part of the international market. It is seen as having huge potential given the upsurge in strict Islamic practice and the large funds available to oil-rich state of the Middle East. Financial Times, p.4, May 12, 2004

RKH: OK. We have Kosher and Islamic methods of doing business - where is the demand for business done according to Christian LAW - Law according to the Saxon WORD?

JAPETH vs ESAU: Two invasions taught Russian President Vladimir Putin, that Moscow could not control Chechnya. So he switched to "Chechenization" - relying on a native Chechen, former rebel leader Akhmad Kadyrov, to run things while toeing the Moscow line. That strategy literally blew up Sunday when a bomb killed Mr. Kadyrov. The next logical step would be to try a representative elected government. (Story in C.S.M., p.8, May 14, 2004)

TRIBE RECOGNITION: The U.S. Senate may soon vote to recognize Indian "nations" living in Virginia. This will endow their lands with the rights of "countries". These rights are to be extended to Chickahominy, Eastern Chickahominy, Upper Mattapoini, Rappahannock, Nansemond and Monacan Indian nations. This recognition includes the right to enforce certain Indian laws and rituals and consummate agreements now banned by the "state" of Virginia such as sharing in the $15 billion-a-year Indian gambling industry and also qualifying for special federal aid in housing, education and health care. (Story in News & Advance, May 10, 2004, A8)

SEARCH DEAL: Panama has wisely agreed to allow American officials to board Panamanian ships to search for WMD on the high seas. The same deal was offered to Liberia who also wisely agreed. (Story News & Advance, p.8, May 12, 2004)

RKH: America went to war with Britain in 1812 over the British boarding American ships to search for deserters.

STATEMENT: Army Lt. Gen Ricardo Sanchez, the highest ranking military commander in Iraq, was present during some of the abusive interrogations, according to the Washington Post quoting one of the accused army personnel. A Pentagon spokesman told the Post that statements by defense attorneys should be treated with "appropriate caution". (Story in C.S.M., p.20, May 23, 2004)

RKH: Sanchez has since been removed from command.

NON-EVENT: In mid-March, Kosovo Albanian Muslim mobs destroyed 30 Orthodox-Christian Serb churches in two days. (Story in C.S.M., p9, May 20, 2004.)

RKH: Six years ago the U.S. stormed and occupied the Slavic Orthodox-Christian country of Kosovo. The excuse was that it was necessary to stop ethnic "hate", "atrocities", "intolerance", etc. In fact, mixing Serbs and Muslims together caused the strife in the first place - it always does. Strife provided the excuse for the Clinton invasion. The invasion provided the opportunity to loot Kosovo while punishing the leaders of the Christian Serbs. While the country is occupied and looting is in process - ethnic strife is a non-event - a thing properly ignored by Cartel media whose primary job is to encourage strife - not dispense news.

LUTHERAN SODOMITES: Two California congregations and one in Minnesota have hired openly sodomite pastors. The Rev Jennifer Mason hired by San Bernardino

Central City Lutheran Mission, Rev Daniel M. Hooper by Hollywood Lutheran Church, and Rev. Jay Wiesner in Minneapolis by Bethany Lutheran Church. (Story News & Advance, B6, Apr 24, 2004)

Chapter 358

THE MERCHANT & His Henchmen

Aso

Black Good - White Bad

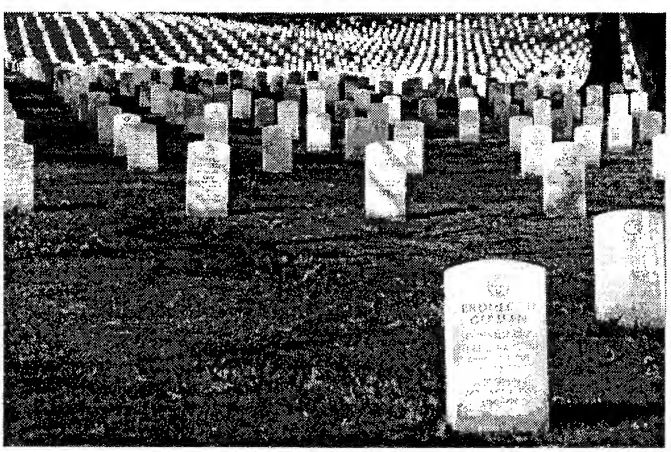
The world is the merchant's market. The merchant must organize the market before it can be properly exploited.

To organize a market the merchant hires a king and provides money for his army.

Kings police trade areas while they are being organized into efficient markets. Ruled by kings these market areas are called kingdoms. Over time, the merchant brings in his own loyal civil service to manage business. A strong civil service makes kings redundant. They are replaced. Temporary help, actors, are hired to pretend to be rulers and who are given various illustrious titles.

An organized market area is a country. A "country" is peopled with nations. It is the merchant's policy to include several "nations" when organizing a country.

Each nation has its own Gods, customs and law-systems. Bringing alien nations in contact with each other causes conflict. Providing peace between hostile nations guarantees



The Merchant's Harvest

"Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel ... for this thing is from me." I Kings 12:24

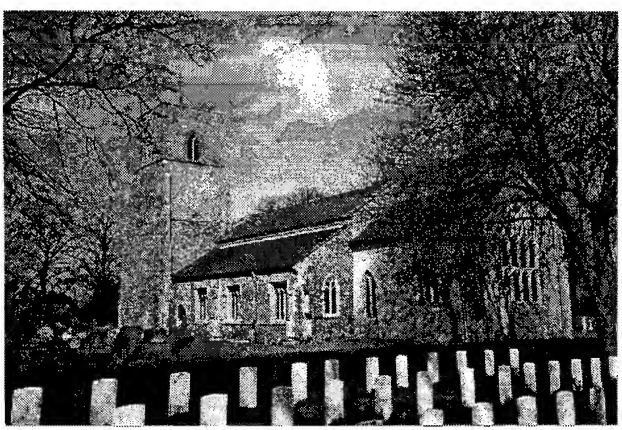
"Thus saith the Lord God ... Because thou has ... slain thy brethren of thy father's house ... behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children." II Chron 21:12-14

"If the watchman see ... and the people be not warned ... his blood will I require." Ezek 33:6

the king and his successors a reason for existence. He is peace-keeper, protector and referee-judge.

The ruler dispenses justice under the merchants legal system called Admiralty Law. Admiralty Law retains local customs and traditions as long as they do not conflict with the merchant's trade.

Admiralty Law is the worldwide mercantile code. It governs transactions between merchants. All kingdoms and countries are required to bring their legal codes into compliance.



The Merchant's Harvest

"Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel ... for this thing is from me." I Kings 12:24

"He who vents anger on any man without injury, the Lord's great anger will cut him down, he who spits on the face of man reproachfully, will be cut down at the Lord's great judgment. Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:2,3

"Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man." Gen 9:8-15

"If the watchman see ... and the people be not warned ... his blood will I require." Ezek 33:6

The Business Of Religion

Organizing religion is a job requirement for merchants. The merchant must be a religious expert to overcome the objections of hostile national gods.

The Adamic-WORD, God of the Saxons, forbids kings, taxes, monopolies, strangers, usury, war with one's own kind, requires land division and once the land is divided among men - forbids it to be sold. These impossible restrictions ham-string the merchant. To remove these restrictions he has two basic options:

He can hire a contractor such as Attila the Hun, Imperial Rome, the British Empire, or the United States to storm a selected market area and

The Merchant's Harvest

"Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel ... for this thing is from me." I Kings 12:24

"In case one of their own blood ... should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution of government (The WORD), they should take vengeance on them, both all in general, and each person in particular .... that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills. So the multitude bound themselves by oath to do so." Antiquities 4:8:45

"If Thy brother ... entice thee ... saying, let us go and serve other gods ... thou shall surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people." Deut. 13:6-11

"If the watchman see ... and the people be not warned ... his blood will I require." Ezek 33:6

force potential customers into debt[1] and to accept the merchant's Admiralty Law which outlaws religious restrictions.

The use of force is expensive, destructive, and causes "morning after" problems - if the offending religion is not revised. Force is the crude way to ensure compliance.

The more sophisticated solutions the merchant can use are:

1: Have his king appoint a religious leader to create a copy of the original religion but modified to leave out or ignore the offending laws that impede the merchant's business. Religions which have appointed leaders rule from the top-down. As "episcopal" organizations they have the power to immediately isolate and suppress non-compliance. This system has existed as long as there have been empires and is ideal as long as the people accept it.

The second solution is more simple:

2: Contract with existing religious leaders to simply exclude the parts of their religion that offend the merchant. Payment for this exclusion is provided by tax-exemption and media-access which allows priests and their organizations to tap the wealth produced by a country's population. An additional perk is that the police and the media may overlook certain ecclesiastical excesses and peccadilloes.

Those accepting the second offer - the one to suppress the parts of the WORD that forbids kings, taxes, monopolies, strangers, usury, war with one's own kind, and requires land division are easily identified - they don't talk about them - they suppress them.

1 The usurer is the ultimate merchant since he owns the borrower - body and soul. "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov 22:7

This second option is the one used most often by the merchant. It is relatively easy and is almost always acceptable by the lower sorts who float to the top of political and religious cess-pools. The symbiotic relationship between the corrupt merchant, priest and king has proved a disaster to the Saxon nation.

"[He is] a merchant, the balances of deceit [are] in his hand: he loveth to oppress." Ho 12:7; "A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong." Ecclesiasticus 26:29

BLACK GOOD - WHITE BAD

The color black is significant to Hindus. They consider it holy. The color white is also significant. Hindus consider it evil. Siva, Hinduism's most worshiped god is a black sex-god. He dances on the body of a white demon. The white demon lies on the ground in position of submission. Black is good - white is bad.

To be blessed with monetary gifts and media recognition from the Hindu system, organizations must prominently elevate blacks to high honors to broadcast their submission.

Blackness is more than a symbol - it is a symbol to be worshiped. A black may be displayed in a church choir, the pulpit, as a high ranking military officer, the president of a corporation, a student body president or a government cabinet member. Blackness may be honored by a street, library or building bearing the name of a black - but there MUST be high honors bestowed upon one who is black - if one expects to be blessed in turn.

Hindu law blesses black and curses white. Colleges, foundations, cities, political parties, and even countries receive no rewards without visible submission. It has nothing to do with merit - black is a symbol of good - white is a symbol of evil.

Hinduism has no clear demarcation between a sage and a god. A sage, may be looked upon as a god. In American ashrams, Martin Luther King's picture often hangs beside a picture of Jesus. King may have been a terrorist who left burning cities in his wake, an adulturer, a plagiarist - but he was black and therefore holy. One is required to give lip-service to his blackness, his wisdom, his brilliance, his holiness - or be cursed. Hindus, and those who seek their favors, prominently display their black symbols.

"And God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4

Letter From S. Africa by K.H.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: It is bitter cold. Winter has come with white frost every morning. Maria's 4 small dogs think it is cruel to make them go out in the morning. They hide hoping she will not see them.

Hans tried to get our tractor fixed last year but has been forced to wait for lack of spare parts. We need it to make fire breaks since the thatching grass is tall and it only needs a wind and someone with matches to cause serious problems.

Mbeki, S. Africa's black president, said that he will not handle whites like his friend Mugabe in Zimbabwe did when he drove them out and confiscated their land. Instead, he will tax the white farmers from their land starting in August. My brother already has the family farms on the market. He is in poor health and has no way to pay increased taxes. Whites living in town will receive the same treatment.

The Aids pandemic is hitting firms who employ large numbers of blacks. They find that their staff suddenly dies from some Aids related illness. Perhaps this is the reason why the regime allows open borders - so we do not notice their dwindling numbers. We drive to town and find squatter camps that have gone up overnight.

The blacks used Agent Orange to spray the roadside foliage to control it. The result has been a disaster. The small birds and animals died and even the crows who lived off of them have had to move.

Hans was unaware of the spraying and inadvertantly got some of the Agent Orange on his hand. Hans is suffering. His hands have yellow places. They crack and bleed. It has spread to the rest of his body which is now covered with a red rash that itches. Not a happy time when a farmer can't use his hands.
